

TWO THOUSAND PEOPLE OF BLACK RIVER FALLS ARE WITHOUT FOOD OR SHELTER; SPEND NIGHT IN HILLS WATCHING FLOOD

All Telegraph Communication With The Town Cut off By Deluge--LaCrosse Assists

CITY BLOTTED FROM WISCONSIN'S MAP

(By Associated Press.)
La Crosse, Wis., Oct. 7.—Two thousand people of Black River Falls are today without food or shelter, after spending the night on the hills watching the water of Black River overrun the town. All the wires were down and it was only by sending a man up a telegraph pole on the edge of the town that word could be sent out. Assistance has been asked from this city and is being sent out.
Spend Night in Pitiless Rain.
The deluge came so rapidly yesterday that it was impossible for the people to provide themselves with extra clothing or food supplies and the suffering in the pitiless rain was intense.
From Black River Falls.
Black River Falls, Wis., Oct. 7.—(Special Messenger)—This city is practically blotted from the map of Wisconsin. Only a few of the 61 business blocks have escaped the flood and those that are left are doomed. What is known as the lower part of the town, west of the river was a place of misery and suffering. It is in this section that the majority of the residents live. Many of the homes were demolished and it is not infrequent to see several families partaking of a quantity of food that would not be enough to supply one workman. Every grocery and meat market has disappeared.

Water Reaches Record Mark.
Wausau, Wis., Oct. 7.—The water in the Wisconsin river has reached 8 1/2 feet above normal and is the highest since 1881. Since this morning the water has been receding. No trains have come in over the St. Paul road since last night and there will probably be none today as the tracks are under water.

OTHER CITIES FEEL EFFECTS OF RAIN

ESCANABA NOT ALONE SUFFERER FROM GREAT PRECIPITATION OF PAST DAYS.

Even though Escanaba was flooded with water from the rains of yesterday and Thursday night, the cities to the south of here were much more affected. The precipitation recorded here was unusual. At Neenah and Menasha parts of the city are under six feet of water and the sewers cannot carry away the flood. At Appleton hundreds of basements are flooded from the recent rains and this same condition prevails in Escanaba. Although the main street are dry some of the back streets are wet and muddy from the rains, and the sewers found to be inadequate as was said by the council committee that investigated some time ago.

The boat will be completely ironed on the hull to put her in condition for the winter trips when ice will be met frequently in the bay. The boat will spend several days in Sturgeon bay, probably returning Tuesday or Wednesday.

Nearly the entire body of Tripoli's police officers have entered the Italian service. The town is again becoming animated with public services restored. It was learned today that Italians are occupying Derna and Bombah gulf, 500 miles east of Tripoli.

EXPERTS TESTIFY IN MURDER TRIAL

CHICAGO PHYSICIANS PAID $100 PER DAY AS RAUE CASE WITNESSES.

(Special to The Mirror.)
Marinette, Oct. 7.—The big event in the Charles F. Raue murder case yesterday was the testimony of Dr. Ludwig Hektoen of Chicago, one of the two experts for the state. Dr. Hektoen sworn positively that to his knowledge the spots on Raue's clothing are blood.
State Has Two Experts.
The other expert the state will introduce this afternoon. He is Dr. Walter S. Haines of Rush Medical college, and is of equal prominence, and in some lines is regarded as even a greater scientist, than Dr. Hektoen.
Dr. Hektoen, for the most part in simple English, that every member of the jury could readily understand, explained every blood test that was made and showed exactly how it was determined that the spots were blood, and how it was found that they were from human blood. The testimony is considered the strongest that the state has introduced as yet against the defendant.
Professor in Two Colleges.
Dr. Hektoen said that he is 48 years of age. He said he is professor of pathology in the Rush Medical college and the university of Chicago, that he assisted in writing "The American Textbook of Pathology" and had written articles on his work in blood tests. For four years, he said, he was connected with the coroner's office of Cook county, Illinois, and performed such post mortem operations as were ordered.
Under questioning he said he had been subpoenaed as a blood expert in other cases, but had never testified as an expert on other subjects in a number of famous trials, however.
Testified in Hyde Case.
It developed on examination that he had testified as an expert on poison, and its effect on the human body, for the state in the famous Dr. Hyde murder case at Kansas City a year ago last May. He said he also testified as a poison expert in the Johann Hoch case at Chicago. This will be recalled as the case in which Hoch was alleged to have had thirteen wives.
Before the witness began to testify

BOYS PLAY BALL ON STREET; COATS GONE

POLICEMAN HAPPENS ALONG AND CONFISCATES APPAREL OF SEVERAL YOUNGSTERS.

An atrocious crime was perpetrated this afternoon and the culprits are bound to be found out and will suffer all the penalty that the crime carries with it. This was a nice afternoon. The sun was bright and the air pleasant. Some small boys, chafing under the restraint of five days of school and bad weather in the bargain, started to have a friendly ball game on Harrison avenue. Ignorance of the law does not excuse anyone, the law says, and they did not know what a terrible crime it is to play ball on the public thoroughfare. A member of the police force appeared on the scene, however and made a run for some of them. They got away from him but left their coats which were gathered up by the officer and taken to the police station where the boys will have to call and settle for disorderly conduct. The police officer was only fulfilling his duty, as they have been handed out to him. He is not to blame. Escanaba must have laws and these laws must be enforced. This is a good town for the only law that was broken today seems to be by the boys who played ball on one of the side streets and a street that is not used much at that

GLADSTONE EDITOR RETURNS FROM EAST

Carl Mason, editor of the Gladstone Delta arrived in this city last evening from the east where he has spent the past month on a tour of the principal cities. He spent much time in New York city. Stops were made at Niagara Falls, Philadelphia, Pittsburg and other principal cities and points of interest in the eastern part of the country. Mr. Mason was favorably impressed with the great commercial points of that section.

SCHOOL BOARD TO PUNISH OFFENDERS

JEFFERSON SCHOOL YOUNGSTERS DESTROY DISCIPLINE AT THAT INSTITUTION.

Unless several of the boys of the higher grades at the Jefferson school remedy their methods, the school board will look into the cases and take action. The boys will be thrown out of the school and perhaps, sent to a place where the rules are more rigidly enforced than in the public schools. This was decided at the meeting of the school board held last evening at the office of Dr. LeMire, secretary.
Complaints have reached the body of a group of boys who persist in violating the rules of the school and destroying discipline at every opportunity. This will not be allowed to continue the board members say, and if the parents of the youngsters do not warn them to refrain from the practice, the board will step in and see that they are expelled from the school.
The names of four or five ring-leaders have been secured and an attempt will be made to curb them in their efforts to overthrow the discipline of the institution. Failing in this, stringent action will be taken and the officials of the board of education will have them expelled or sent to a state institution.
The teachers have been bothered to a great extent by the frequent breach of the rules by the boys, and nothing further is to occur or a move will be made to remedy it—and quickly. The authorities will countenance nothing further. They warn the parents of the boys to try to teach their offspring better behavior. Some of the ring-leaders have been in the juvenile court before and treated leniently.
The board voted to authorize the president and secretary to float a loan of $10,000 to carry on the school work for a time.
Bills against the schools to the amount of over $1,200 were approved and ordered paid at the meeting.

LIVELY SESSION OF BOARD EXPECTED

CONTEST FOR CHAIRMANSHIP AND COUNTY PHYSICIANS POSITIONS TO OCCUR.

A warm contest for the county physicianships is expected to be waged at the meeting of the Delta County Board of supervisors which gathers in annual session at the court house next Monday morning.
Beyond that fight will be the selection of a new chairman to replace Hon. C. D. Mason of Gladstone who has removed to Cleveland, O., because of business interests. R. E. McLean of Wells township and Wesley Gray of Garden have been spoken of as prospective candidates. Whether or not they will make the run when the time provides is unknown, as both are non-committal.
Those who are now county physicians are Dr. W. A. Cotton, Dr. W. A. LeMire and Dr. M. P. Fenelon. Several other physicians have been mentioned for the positions. The present incumbents have given satisfaction cut as is the general custom, a fight will be made for the offices. At the opening session the supervisors will probably adopt a date for the disposition of the appointments.

H. S. FOOTBALL TEAM PLAYS TODAY

LOCAL SQUAD DEPARTS FOR GLADSTONE TO MEET ELEVEN OF THAT PLACE.

The High school football team went to Gladstone today to play the team of that city in the first meeting of the teams this year. The locals are confident of winning over the upper bay city eleven, but the team of that city has acquired a bunch of weighty members. The local team has been under signal practice and scrimmage work for the past week and in good condition for the coming game. The Gladstone team has played one game this year, with the alumni, and has also spent much time at signal practice and scrimmage. Many fans accompanied the team to that city.

WELLINGTONS PLAY ESCANABA AGAIN

GAME WILL OCCUR AT REGULAR GROUNDS TOMORROW AFTERNOON.

Perhaps one of the last baseball games of the year will be the contest arranged this morning between the Escanaba team and the Wellingtons, a return game. The Wellingtons was strengthened by the addition of several Gladstone and Rapid River players and will undoubtedly be in a better position to give the locals a hard rub than last Sunday.
Cole will probably go to First for the locals and a substitute put in to catch. Scanlon will do the flinging and the left handed manager says that he was never in better condition.
Monte Olmsted went down to Menominee last night and may throw there today, thus getting away for tomorrow's game here. He is expected to perform with the Wellingtons but in his absence Jack O'Donnell will fling. This will probably be the last time to see the Escanaba league team in action this year.

MRS. EIS SETTLED WITH BY MEMONINEE

(Special to The Mirror.)

Menominee, Oct. 7.—The case of Mrs. Francis Eis, who demanded damages from the city for injuries received to her hip from a fall on a defective sidewalk on Stephenson avenue, was settled late yesterday afternoon by the Chicago & North Western railroad company's claim agent, Peter Valley, complying with the city abutting property ordinance, after a thorough investigation in company with City Attorney Cuddy, for the sum of $300. Mr. and Mrs. Eis signing a release which released the city and railroad from all further claims for damages.
Wanted Larger Amount.
Since Mrs. Eis was injured by stepping on a loose board about two months ago, she has made repeated efforts to collect damages from the city. She asked for a larger amount, but the city council did not see where the city was responsible for the injury, resulting from a sidewalk abutting upon the property of a railroad or any concern.
The case was discussed in an executive session of the council at Monday night's meeting and as a result the claim was referred to W. B. Lindley, claim adjuster of the Chicago North-Western Railroad company. The railroad company was advised that the city would look to it for a re-imbursment for money the city might be compelled to pay under the city ordinance making the owner of abutting property liable for injuries sustained on a defective sidewalk.
The Ordinance.
This was done in pursuance of the

WATER PLANT LIKED BY U. S. PHYSICIAN

DR. M'LAUGHLIN OF WASHINGTON, D. C., PLEASSED WITH LOCAL PLANT.

That the Escanaba water plant is now in excellent condition is the opinion of Dr. M. C. McLaughlin, a special agent of the United States health department, who inspected the plant. Dr. McLaughlin has left the city.
He complimented Superintendent W. J. Hutton and Chemical Engineer Christy on the upkeep of the plant and said that it compared favorably with any in the country. He has been sent out to investigate all water plants in the middle west, with a view toward ascertaining the purity of the water furnished the patrons. He was favorably impressed with the conditions in this city and expressed his satisfaction to the officials. He consulted with Health Officer Long while here.

MANAGER OF DEVELOPMENT BUREAU GREATLY IMPRESSED WITH EVENT HERE.

"BOOSTER" IS OPTIMISTIC.

Takes Many of Exhibits to Display at Chicago Land Show—Meeting of Executive Committee of Development Bureau to Occur Here Soon. Now at Manistique.
Theodore E. Quinby, manager of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau left Menominee at 2:30 o'clock this morning for Manistique where he will attend to some business affairs, afterwards coming to Escanaba. The executive committee of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau will hold a meeting here soon.
County Represented.
Mr. Quinby received a telegram advising him of the meeting yesterday. It is possible that the arrangements for exhibits which are to be shown in Chicago this month has something to do with the meeting. Nearly every section of the upper peninsula will contribute to this great exhibition. Mr. Quinby's office has been piled with products from the Escanaba fair and several others. He recently sent almost a carload of exhibits to Chicago.
A Great Exhibit.
"The upper peninsula display at the Chicago Land Show will be one of the greatest and most interesting agriculture exhibits ever seen in the great northwest," said Mr. Quinby last night. "It is worth anybody's time and expense to visit Chicago during the show. There will be an opportunity of seeing the best in agriculture from several parts of the country and it is well to attend these exhibitions and compare the products of your own state with those of others.
Mr. Quinby says that he has not seen all of the produce from the upper peninsula which is to be shown in Chicago but that most of it will be disposed of within the next ten days. He is much interested in seeing the upper peninsula well represented at this big show and has made a great effort to accomplish this.

MAKES ADDRESSES.

Mr. Quinby and Mr. G. W. McCormick attended the Northern Fair at Escanaba last week and both made addresses to the great crowds of people. Mr. Quinby talked about the upper peninsula and his address was met with much pleasure and he received congratulations on every side. Mr. McCormick explained the best proposition. He told the farmers how they could profit by growing sugar beets and the manner in which to start the culture. Both men were well received by the people at the fair and were entertained royally.
Describes Fair.
"They had one of the finest fairs I have ever seen," said Mr. Quinby. "I don't believe I ever saw an exposition that was so enthusiastically supported by all the people in surrounding counties. Everybody seemed to be taking a special interest in the progress of the fair. The agricultural display was the greatest I have ever seen. Everything on the grounds was worth looking at and the other features of the fair were extra good."

MENOMINEE COMES HERE TO PLAY OCT. 14

GAME OF FOOTBALL WITH LOWER STATE SCHOOL WILL OCCUR IN ESCANABA.

The Menominee High school football team will come to this city on October 14 to play the local High school team in the first game for the Upper Peninsula championship. Menominee has an unusually strong team this year and today is playing the Green Bay team on the former's grounds. On next Saturday the inter-scholastic series of the upper peninsula will begin and will be played in this city instead of at Menominee as was planned. The St. Joseph's team and the High school second eleven will intersperse the halves with their games.

There are two varieties of gas plant. One is a manufacturing establishment where coal is converted into gas for illuminating and heating purposes. The other variety is a real growing plant called the fraxinella. Few know why the fraxinella is called the "gas plant." This is because at certain times it releases a volatile oil that actually ignites if allowed to come in contact with a lighted match. The fraxinella is also noted for its fragrance and longevity if not disturbed. One plant in a New England garden is doing its best to outlive a third generation, and elsewhere a clump is still flourishing after no less than thirty-seven years on a grave—one of the most difficult of places for a perennial to keep up a long struggle for existence, let alone a normal life—New York World

MRS. EIS SETTLED

Investigates Claim.
Peter Valley of Chicago, claim agent of the Chicago & North Western Railroad company, came to the city yesterday and, acting under instructions from Mr. Lindsey the claim adjuster went with City Attorney Cuddy and investigated the situation and the claim. As a result of these efforts the claim was settled with Mrs. Eis for $300, which the Chicago & North-Western Railroad company willingly paid.

Mr. and Mrs. Eis immediately signed a release which releases both the railroad and the city of Menominee from all damages.

First Sidewalk Case.
This is the first sidewalk case settled in Menominee for a number of years and the fact that the Chicago & North-Western Railroad company held itself liable should be a warning to property owners who might get into a like plight by neglecting the sidewalks abutting on their property.

Taylor Favored Settlement.
Alderman Taylor had been in favor of a settlement with Mrs. Eis at all times and talked strongly for a quick settlement in the council meetings. Mrs. Eis' daughter wrote a letter a few weeks ago to Alderman Taylor which was read before the council, stating that owing to the fact that Mrs. Eis had been severely injured and that Mr. Eis was too old to obtain work, her mother would hold out for a large sum. At this time Alderman Taylor addressed the council, saying that he believed the claim could be settled that night for $300. However, nothing was done and the matter was referred to the Chicago & North Western Railroad company on a motion by Alderman Huebel, who averred that on account of the sidewalk being abutting property the railroad company must be responsible and liable for damages for injuries received by any person on said property.

Major League Notes

According to the revived reports about Miller Huggins, he is to be transferred to the Cincinnati team during the Cardinals' stay in Redland this week. He is to be turned over to Garry Hermann's aggregation to act as manager, succeeding Clark Griffith, according to the report.

A man close to the powers that be at League park says it is practically cut and dried for Huggins' transfer. In exchange for the midget infielder, he says, Bresnahan will obtain Outfielder Mitchell, Catcher Severold and a pitcher or an infielder.

Coincident with the intended departure for home of Grover Cleveland Alexander, phenomenal pitcher of the Phillies, a persistent rumor finds much credence to the effect that the young twirler after all has not availed himself of the opportunity so widely heralded of "signing a three-year contract with a major league team."

It is understood that he has been offered $5,200 but that he has declined to affix his signature to a contract until he sees more money coming. It is said that he wishes $7,000 for next year's labor on the mound.

Ty Cobb played his last game of the season here yesterday, having been excused from the St. Louis trip by Manager Jennings. Cobb has captured the American league records for base stealing and run getting, having 85 stolen bases and 149 runs to his credit this season. He leads the league in batting with .417 and his 247 hits this season breaks the major league record held since 1897 by Willie Keeler with 243 hits.

With The Fighters

Tom Jones, manager of Ad Wolgast; Dan Morgan, manager of Knock-out Brown, and several club managers gathered yesterday in New York and discussed the arranging of another battle between Wolgast and Brown. The opening skirmish ended with an even break. Several purses of from $12,000 to $15,000 were offered, but Jones held out for a guarantee of $12,000 for Wolgast's end.

Johnny Kilbane, the crack Cleveland feather weight, who knocked out Joe Rivers and bested Frankie Conroy in two hard fights in Los Angeles recently, was in Chicago yesterday with Manager Jimmy Dunn on the way to his home in Ohio. Kilbane said his next match probably would be with Attell, if he could induce Abe to go twenty rounds with him on the coast.

Hugh D. McIntosh of Australia has cabled T. S. Andrews of this city, authorizing him to sign a lightweight, middle weight, and heavy weight to go to Australia in November to engage in five contests each. Packey McFarland, who is matched to meet Grover Hayes over the six-round route at St. Louis on October 9, is training every day at O'Connell's. Packey is certain he will meet Matt Wells at Madison Square garden on October 19.

With the report that two more had been killed and kai kai'd (eaten) by the hospitable bushmen. The seventh man was still at large and was said to be working along the coast on the lookout to steal a canoe and get away to his own island.

Ylaburi brought two lighted lanterns to the white man for inspection. He glanced at them and saw that they were burning brightly with clear, broad flames, and nodded his head.

He rolled back on his couch with a sigh of relief. The day's work was done. A rifle lay on the couch beside him. His revolver was within reach of his hand. An hour passed, during which he did not move.

The house, raised a dozen feet above the ground, shook on its pile foundations to the rush of retreating footsteps.

"They're getting bold," he muttered. "Something will have to be done."

The full moon rose over Malaita and shone down on Berande. Nothing stirred in the windless air. From the hospital still proceeded the moaning of the sick.

CHAPTER II. SOMETHING IS DONE.

IN the morning David Sheldon decided that he was worse. That he was appreciably weaker there was no doubt, and there were other symptoms that were unfavorable. He began his rounds looking for trouble.

He returned to the house disappointed. No opportunity had presented itself of making an example of insolence or insubordination—such as had occurred on every other day since the sickness smote Berande.

The bell had hardly rung, sending the laborers into the fields, when Sheldon had a visitor. Forty men, armed with spears, bows and arrows and war clubs, gathered outside the gate of the compound, but only one entered.

They knew the law of Berande, as every native knew the law of every white man's compound in all the thousand miles of the far flung Solomons.

Seelee was more intelligent than the average of his kind, but his intelligence only emphasized the lowness of that kind. His eyes, close together and small, advertised cruelty and craftiness.

As he talked, or listened, he made grimaces like a monkey. He said yes by dropping his eyelids and thrusting

Six pounds that fella Arunga pay. All same one year more that fella Arunga work Berande. All right. Now he catch ten fella whip three times. You fella Billy catch whip, give that fella Arunga ten fella three times. All fella boys look see, all fella Marys (women) look see; bime bye, they like run away they think strong fella too much, no run away. Billy, strong fella too much ten fella three times.

The house boy extended the whip to him, but Billy did not take it. Sheldon waited quietly. The eyes of all the cannibals were fixed upon him in doubt and fear and eagerness. It was the moment of test, whereby the lone white man was to live or be lost. "Ten fella three times, Billy," Sheldon said encouragingly, though there was a certain metallic rasp in his voice.

Unfortunately, he was ignorant of the ways of white men. This particular white man educated him by arriving at his grass house in the gray of dawn. In the first moment he had felt amused. He was so perfectly safe in the midst of his village. But the next moment, and before he could cry out, a pair of handcuffs on the white man's knuckles had landed on his mouth, knocking the cry of alarm back down his throat.

It was the law, and Sheldon knew it. But he wanted to live this day and the next day and not to die waiting for the law to operate the next week or the week after.

"To much talk along you," he cried angrily. "What name, eh? What name?"

"Me sarvee law," the savage repeated stubbornly.

Another man stepped forward in almost a sprightly way and glanced insolently up. Sheldon was selecting the worst characters for the lesson.

"You fella Astoa, you fella Narada. Tie up that fella Billy alongside other fella same fella way."

"Strong fella tie," he cautioned them. "You fella Astoa take that fella whip. Plenty strong big fella too much ten fella three times. Sarvee?"

Sheldon picked up the rifle that had teared against the rail, and cocked it. "I know you, Astoa," he said calmly. "You work along Queensland six years."

"Me fella missionary," the black interrupted with deliberate insolence. "Queensland you stop jail one fella year. White fella master fool no hang you. You too much bad fella. Queensland you stop jail six months two fella time. Two fella time you steal. All right, you missionary. You sarvee one fella prayer?"

"Yes, me sarvee prayer," was the reply.

"All right, then you pray now, short time little bit. You say one fella prayer quick, then me kill you."

Sheldon held the rifle on him and waited. The black glanced around at his fellows, but none moved to aid him. They were intent upon the coming spectacle, staring fascinated at the white man with death in his hands who stood alone on the great veranda.

"Astoa," Sheldon said, seizing the "psychological moment," "I count three fella time. Then I shoot you fella dead, good by, all finish you."

And Sheldon knew that when he had counted three he would drop him in his tracks. The black knew it, too. That was why Sheldon did not have to do it for when he had counted one, Astoa reached out his hand and took the whip. And right well Astoa laid on the whip, angered at his fellows for not supporting him, and venting his anger with every stroke.

When the last of the gang, including the two howling culprits, had passed out through the compound gate, Sheldon sank down half fainting on his couch.

"You're a sick man," he groaned. "A sick man." "But you can sleep at ease tonight," he added, half an hour later.

TWO days passed, and Sheldon felt that he could not grow any weaker and live, much less make his four daily rounds of the hospital. The deaths were averaging four a day, and there were more new cases than recoveries.

With the whipping in the compound discipline had improved. They cringed under the iron hand of the white man. They gave their scowls or malignant looks with averted faces or when his back was turned.

Secret Baseball Signals. "Perhaps you never realized that there is a vast science in coaching and signaling," says Hugh S. Fullerton, writing in the secret tricks of baseball coaching in the American Magazine. "That the two men out there near first and third bases, who seem to be making fools of themselves or trying to annoy the majestic man in blue serge, are the wigwag men signaling to runners or batters just what the general sitting on the bench wants them to do. Sometimes the general is on the lines himself, looking just as foolish as the wigwag men or more so, but somewhere, hidden in his meaningless or hackneyed phrases or his wild gestures, there is a meaning. He is telling the batter not to hit the next ball or to bunt it or informing him that the next will be a straight fast ball and at the same time informing the base runner that the batter intends to hit and that he must start at top speed when the pitcher starts to wind up."

Daily Helps to Health and Happiness By GEORGE F. BUTLER, A. M., M. D.

Many people could be rendered perfectly happy with the happiness which is lost in the world. We lose happiness because we often despise calm, quiet pleasures, and take interest and delight in nothing but that which excites, or we make the fatal mistake of thinking that happiness lies only in sensational events, instead of in the small, trifling incidents of daily life.

VIEW OF THE BROKEN DAM THAT RESULTED IN THE WIPING OUT OF AUSTIN, PA.

An eyewitness of the breaking of the dam on that fateful Saturday afternoon says he first noticed the water pouring through fissures in the wall of concrete. This was followed by a sudden roar as one whole section gave way and crashed down the valley, followed by a leaping wall of water. The dam was 530 feet long, 32 feet wide at the base and rose to a height of 49 feet. It was estimated that there were more than 400,000,000 gallons of water in the reservoir behind it. A break had occurred once before, but this had been repaired. Recently four feet was added to the top of the dam, and this had filled with water the very day the structure gave way.

MURDER TRIAL ON

specifically as to the spots on Ratic's clothing Judge Quinlan for the defense said he desired to cross examine the witness as to his competency.

Gets $100 Per Day.
Among the questions asked on this cross examination was how much Dr. Hektoen is receiving for his services for the state. Prosecutor Morgan objected, but the court overruled the objection. Dr. Hektoen testified that he is receiving $100 per day for time actually spent in the work. He said he had already received $150 for a day and a half of work, that he has about another day to charge besides his time in court today. He said he would also receive his expenses from Chicago and return.

ALL THAT WAS LEFT OF AUSTIN, PA., AFTER THE FLOOD.

On the afternoon of Saturday, Sept. 30, Austin, Pa., was a peaceful and happy village. An election was in progress, and crowds were about the streets. In one moment a wall of water twenty-five feet high with a jam of pulp wood in front swept down the valley, and the bursting natural gas mains added fire to the destruction. This panorama shows Austin after the catastrophe. One house is seen standing on the hillside, this and a few others like it being all that was left of the village of a few moments before. The property loss is estimated at $6,000,000. Fortunately most of the people were able to flee to the hillside, yet the loss of life was appalling.

The Gift.
Fate gave a child these letters four
With which his lot to spell:
O-H-E-R, no less, no more,
The mystic letters fell.
The boy received them with a frown,
"Give me that hoe," he said,
"Fate dooms me for a drudging clown!"
For H-O-E-R he read.
"Fate's fault!" they cried. Fate smiled serene,
"Why blame me for his hoe?
With wiser eyes he might have seen
And spelled H-E-R-O!"

TIGERS IN GREAT PLAY

Charlie O'Leary and "Germany" Schaefer Were Stars.

"Impossible" Double Play is Made by Two Detroiters During Sensational Series With the Philadelphia Athletics.

(By EDGAR WILLETT.)
If I live to be as old as Sam Thompson there is one series of games I never will forget. And when I forget that series there will be one play still left in my mind. The series is the one that the Tigers and Athletics played late in that season when we fought them out to the finish away from home and won by a nose the right to play Chicago for the world's championship.

For exciting situations and desperate playing, I believe that series is the greatest ever played. The nine-inning game in which we beat them is only a part of it. But the play that I never can forget was one by which Charlie O'Leary and Hermann Schaefer saved one of the games for us. Just how O'Leary ever managed to make that play I can't guess. It was one of those impossible plays that a game player sometimes makes simply because he has to make it.

The situation, as I recall it, was this: Detroit was one run to the good late in the game, and it looked as if that one run was about enough to win on, until, with one out either in the seventh or eighth inning, two sharp hits put Athletic runners on first and third and made it look bad for the Tigers. The next batter up—I have forgotten who it was, but think it was Harry Davis—hit the ball straight through the box and as clean across the top of second base as a hit ever went.

Both men on the bases were running when the ball was hit and it looked bad. The ball got over second base, with Schaefer diving at it; but he couldn't reach, and then, ten feet or more back of the bag, O'Leary came from nowhere, and while going as fast as he could run scooped that ball with one hand almost on the ground. It seemed as if he caught the ball and threw backward with the runner who was coming down from same motion, and the ball went to Schaefer at second base, forcing the first. Germany's back was toward first base. He didn't turn or try to turn, but threw backward across his Pitcher Ed Willett, body to Rossman, straight as a ... and doubled the fellow who had hit the ball.

I think that was the greatest play I ever saw, and as it turned out it saved the game for Detroit.

GOSSIP OF SPORTDOM

As Stagg grows more pessimistic the rooters get more optimistic.
Football really isn't football unless played in mud or on frozen ground.
It's too bad the boxing game is judged by its worst representatives.
Soccer is a great game—if one knows what they are running around for.
Golf is one sport which will forever resist attempts at blood and thunder novels.
One always can tell Maroon football prospects by believing the opposite of how Stagg feels.
If Georgia comes out strong for Ty Cobb for vice president will Boston make Tris Speaker? Somehow or other, "Peace" does not seem singularly appropriate for a golf club—especially a driver.

The debating championship also ought to go to the team winning the high school football honors.
Football material in the west this year, according to the coaches, seems as scarce as drinking water on Salt Lake.

MILLERS TO HAVE NEW PARK

If Negotiations Prove Successful Minneapolis Will Have Modern Grandstand in Two Years.

Minneapolis followers of the national pastime took notice the other day when the story leaked out that the Cantillons have in mind the making of a new baseball park within easy walking distance of the center of the business district, to have a seating capacity double that of Collet park.
The Cantillons, it is stated, are dickering for covered property, and the building of the new park hinges wholly upon their ability to close the deal.
Even if the negotiations are successful, it is stated, it is unlikely that the park will be ready for occupancy next season. In the event of purchase the building of a modern grandstand, the bleachers and the diamond will be timed so that the 1913 season will find the Minneapolis team of the American association in a new and superb home.

Winning Team for Washington.
Manager James McAleer has concluded that the only way to produce a winning team to represent Washington is to weed out the oldsters and supplant them with young bloods. It looks now as if Elberfeld, Conroy, Schaefer and other vets will not wear Senatorial uniforms after this season. McAleer has picked up several promising youngsters and is on the lookout for others.
