REALIZE ON TRUNK ROAD

WILL RECEIVE $1,000 PER MILE FOR EVERY MILE OF STATE REWARD ROAD BUILT

THE REWARD WILL BE DOUBLED

To Realize Handsomely on the Trunk Line Between This City and Calumet

Delta county will realize an additional $1,000 for every mile of state reward road constructed on the line of the new trunk line from Escanaba, Negaunee and L'Anse to Calumet, according to the provisions of the new bill which was passed at the last session of the legislature.

The provisions of the new state trunk line road bill are given in a recent issue of the Michigan Roads and Forests as follows:

Scheme of Trunk Highways

"In a substitute bill reported out by the house committee on roads and bridges and later passed by the Michigan legislature, the Allswede bill providing for state built trunk highways has been discarded for a system which provides for a double award from the state. The substitute measure is based on the idea that where counties construct state reward roads along the line of the trunk line highway system outlined in the Allswede bill, they will be entitled to double the award that would be paid for ordinary state reward road work. In this way development of the trunk lines is stimulated. In the original bill the automobile tax was to be divided and half to repay a bond issue which was to be authorized for the trunk line highway building. Under the substitute bill, any county that builds two miles or more on the trunk line plan will be entitled to double award. In cases where three or more miles are built by the county, the state will pay half the expenses of erecting bridges and all bridges and culverts are to be designed by the highway department. Old state reward roads on the trunk lines are to be entitled to one-half additional state reward if kept in good repair and such roads widened surfaced will be entitled to additional reward to bring the total to an amount equal to the double reward for new roads. All must be inspected and approved by the highway commissioner."

"The trunk line roads must be kept in repair to entitle any county to the double award for additional road. Provision is made for the establishment of trunk line highway districts by contiguous counties, and the highway commissioner is authorized to survey the trunk line through these districts and give estimates of cost."

The Calumet and Chassell roads will share in the double rewards because they fall in the line of the following trunk road designation which is a part of the bill:

"Beginning at Escanaba, running north through Marquette, Negaunee, Ishpeming, Michigamme, L'Anse and Baraga to Calumet."

IN SYMPATHY WITH THE U. S.

PALL MALL GAZETTE SAYS COLO- NIES WOULD BE WITH UNCLE SAM IN EVENT OF WAR WITH JAPAN

EXPECT A MEXICAN PROTEST

Believes That Possibilities of War Between Big Powers is Under-estimated

(By Associated Press.) London, England, May 17.—"Should war break out between the United States and Japan the sympathies of Australia, New Zealand and western Canada would be violently on the side of the United States says the Pall Mall Gazette in discussing the alien land bill. Newspapers here consider the possibility of a conflict as underestimated and believe that there are several reasons why Japan is forcing this issue at the present moment. The most obvious they believe, is the opening of the Panama canal. Washington—The passage of the Arizona alien land law bill does not seriously complicate the negotiations with Japan owing to the absence of a direct bar against the Japanese. The Mexicans are, however, affected and a protest is expected from that quarter. Both governments are awaiting Johnson's final action and are hoping that he will refer the bill to the people.

SCANLON WINS GAME AGAINST MILWAUKEE

POLLS OPEN FROM 4 UNTIL 8 P. M. MON.

Charter Commissioners to be Nominated—Elected on May 26

The various polling places will be from 4 until 8 o'clock on Monday for those who wish to register their choice for the nominations for seven charter commissioners-at-large in the party conventions to be held Monday and Tuesday evening.

It is generally felt that the non-partisan parties have made careful and wise choices in naming the choice of the three parties and no opposition is anticipated.

GLADSTONE AND KIPLING RESIDENTS ARE TO WED

Marriage licenses were today issued to John Bensina and Miss Antonia Bensina both of Kipling and to Fred Kinkele and Miss Barbara Frankovic, both of Gladstone.

CANDIDATES SUGGESTED

CHAIRMEN OF NON-PARTISAN PARTIES MEET AND AGREE UPON HARMONY PRIMARY TICKET

JOHNSON FROM SEVENTH WARD

Suggest List That Should Meet With Approval of Every Citizen of Escanaba

C. C. Stephenson, chairman of the Citizens party, R. L. Cantlin, chairman of the Independent Progressives party and Thomas Riley, chairman of the ward committees of the three parties, held a harmony meeting last night in the city hall and tactically agreed upon the nominees for charter commissioners and unless changes occur at the meeting to be held tonight the following names will be presented as the choice of the three parties for charter commissioners:

First ward, Peter Jensen; second John P. McColl; third, Paul Jaeger; fourth, J. A. Allo; fifth, Charles Ford; sixth, A. J. Valentine; seventh, Carl G. Johnson.

Delegates to the conventions to be held Monday and Tuesday evenings of next week will be named at the primary on Monday, May 19 and last night's conference of the non partisan parties members agreed upon the following as being the most desirable for commissioners-at-large, B. J. MacKillop, T. E. Strom and George P. McKewen. Unless unforeseen opposition arises these men will probably be named as the candidates of all three non partisan parties when the conventions are held by the delegates to be chosen Monday.

The candidates as agreed upon at last night's session include the flower of the city's citizenship, men who could be depended upon to draw up a charter that would meet the approval of all.

This is not an arbitrary movement on the part of the chairmen of the various parties. They have carefully considered the city's best interests but should any citizen wish to become a candidate space will be provided on the official ballots in which his name may be written. The charter commission will meet the first Tuesday after the special election which is to be held on Monday May 26. Ninety days after that date the charter must be completed. No members of the charter commission shall receive compensation in excess of fifty dollars for his services.

MOTHER ANXIOUS TO LOCATE HER SON

James Plankey of Escanaba has not been Heard From Since January 1—Probably in Lumber Camp

Mrs. Frank Plankey of Escanaba is anxious to ascertain the whereabouts of her son James Plankey, who left this city over a year ago and the mother has heard nothing from him since New Year's. On that day the young man sent a letter containing a postal card picture of himself. He was then employed by the Tula Lumber company in a camp near Tula, Michigan.

Plankey is nineteen years of age, of medium height and will weigh about 135 pounds. He has black hair and brown eyes, wears his hair exceptionally long in front. He will in all probability be found in a lumber camp somewhere in the state. His mother is dependent upon the support of a younger son and is anxious to learn the whereabouts of her first born. ## TO CONTEST FOR PRIZES

COUNTRY SCHOOLS ARE SHOWING LIVE INTEREST IN THE SCHOOL GARDEN PROJECT

LOCAL STUDENTS GET BUSY

Cornell School the First to Enroll—Individuals Seek the Awards

The country schools are taking a live interest in the school garden project. The list of prizes offered and the conditions governing the school garden contests was recently mailed by the committee to the various schools throughout this section. This morning responses were received from two of the schools and it is expected that a number of others will enroll in the contest during the coming week. The Cornell school, Miss Ida M. Rousseau, teacher, is the first to enroll. Miss Rousseau states that the school will have a garden and that the following pupils will contest for the prizes offered: Harvey Strahl, Antoine Holmes, Frank Donovan, Alma Verbyden, Hilma Backlund, Clara LaBine, Beulah Way.

The District No. 3 school of Ford River township, Miss Helen McKenzie, teacher, will not maintain a school garden but the following pupils of that school, all residents of Bark River will enter in the contests: Arthur Nelson, August Ekstrom, Atwood Eddy, Peter Petersen, Frank Ekstrom, Martha Larson.

Three hundred students of the Escanaba public schools gathered on the south shore yesterday afternoon and prepared the school garden plots for seeding.

The ground was given a thorough working yesterday and will be treated to several more before the seeding is done. Vegetables and flowers are to be planted and each school will care for a separate plot. A horseshoe found in one of the plots is regarded as a good omen for that particular garden and the horseshoe will be placed on a stick at the end of the plot and zealously guarded throughout the summer.

PASSENGER EQUIPMENT INCLUDED

Twenty-Five Locomotives Included in the Order—Outlay of Over $3,500,000

The Soo line will add 2,295 cars to its equipment in addition to twenty-five locomotives at a total cost of $3,743,059, an assured increase in traffic due to prospective heavy crop movements and an increase in business all along the lines necessitating the great outlay of money.

General Manager George R. Huntington gave out the figures showing what the equipment, order of the road for 1913 will mean. The total follows:

- Twenty-five locomotives.
- Fifteen hundred forty-ton box cars.
- Two hundred forty-ton ballast cars.
- Three hundred fifty-ton steel ore cars.
- Two hundred forty-ton flat cars.
- Twenty eight-wheel cabooses.
- Fifty coaches, sleeping cars, dining or buffet cars, observation cars or other cars for passenger service.
- "We expect to need all the additional equipment," said President Edmund Pennington. "Conditions preliminary to the start of the new crop season are good."

LOCAL MAN BATTLES WITH MIGHTY BEAR

James Gaynor Slays Bruin That Attacked Him Near Kates—Was Caught in Beaver Trap

Mrs. James Gaynor has just returned from Kates where she visited her husband, who is employed as a fireman on the E. and L. S. railway. Mrs. Gaynor says that her husband recently had a battle with a bear that came close to resulting disastrously for him and did culminate rather unpleasantly for Bruin.

Mr. Gaynor has several beaver traps set in a stream near Kates and one morning last week when not on duty went to lift them. Over the bank of the stream to the first trap he vaulted almost on the back of the biggest, blackest, beastly bruin he had ever encountered. Bruin reared and then lunged. Gaynor turned and then fell. Mr. Bear swung a powerful right; Gaynor rolled out of the way and managed to remove his revolver from his holster. With the muzzle almost against the breast of the rearing, snarling beast he fired seven shots, and when the smoke had cleared away the bear was a dead one. The animal had been caught in the beaver trap and had evidently been a prisoner for some hours.

The black bear is naturally inclined to be peaceful but this one had been slightly peevish by its imprisonment and Mr. Gaynor is congratulating himself on his lucky escape, also upon the possession of a first class hide, the biggest one seen in that section in many moons.

WOMAN GUILTY OF ASSAULT AND BATTERY

LA BRANCH NEWS ITEMS.

Joseph Martinek of our city, left for Escanaba last Wednesday and will not return till the last part of the week. In a very short time he is intending to leave the Michigan country for good, as he is going to Los Angeles, Calif. Good luck to him and his wife as she will accompany him to the beautiful country.

Kasper Bartosz of Chicago, came here on his farm yesterday and intends to start farming as he likes the country life better than the city. He owns an eighty acre farm just a mile and a quarter from the village. Miss Josephine Gronowski will leave for Los Angeles, Calif., in the near future. She intends to make her home out there.

Trout season is here and the water in the river is high, but very little trout this year. Last Sunday S. E. Gronowski was out fishing but only caught two nice trout, measuring 14 and 16 1-2 inches. That's going some. A car jumped off the track at 15 1-2 at the Oliver Mining company landfill and the wreck caused the Northwestern lots of labor to have it put in order again, as seven rail rings were torn out.

SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER I—Cowboys of the Flying Heart ranch are heartbroken over the loss of their much-prized photograph by the defeat of their champion in a foot-race with the cook of the Centepede ranch. A house party is on at the Flying Heart. J. Wallingford Speed, cheer leader at Yale, and Covington, intercollegiate champion runner, are expected.

CHAPTER II—Helen Blake, Speed's sweetheart, suggests to Jean Chapin, sister of the owner of the ranch, that she induce Covington, her lover, to win back the photograph. Helen declares that if Covington won't run, Speed will. She tells Stover, the foreman, that the photograph will be won back.

CHAPTER III—Stover's announcement that they have a new foot-runner causes great joy among the cowboys. Speed and his valet, Larry Glass, trainer at Yale, arrive.

CHAPTER IV—Helen Blake asks Speed, who has posed to her as an athlete, to race against the Centepede man. The cowboys join in the appeal to Wally, and fearing that Helen will find him out, he consents. He insists, however, that he shall be entered as an unknown, fearing that Covington will arrive in time to take his place.

CHAPTER V—Speed begins training under Glass' direction.

CHAPTER VI—The ladies fix up training quarters for Speed.

CHAPTER VII.

BERKELEY FRESNO was devoting himself to Miss Blake.

"What do you think of our decorations?" she inquired.

"They are more or less athletic," he declared, "Was it Mr. Speed's idea?"

"Yes. He wanted training quarters." "It's a joke, isn't it?"

"I don't think so. Mr. Fresno, why do you dislike Mr. Speed?"

Fresno bent a warm glance upon the questioner. "Don't you know?"

Helen shook her head with bland innocence. "Then you do dislike him?"

"No, indeed! I like him—he makes me laugh." Helen bridled loyally. "Did you see those medals he wore yesterday?" the young man queried.

"Of course, and I thought them beautiful."

"How were they inscribed? He wouldn't let me examine them."

"Naturally. If I had trophies like that I would guard them too."

Fresno nodded, musingly. "I gave mine away."

"Oh, are you an athlete?"

"No, but I timed a foot-race once. They gave me a beautiful nearly-bronze emblem so that I could get into the infield."

"And did you win?"

"No! no! I didn't run! Don't you understand? I was an official." Fresno was vexed at the girl's lack of perception. "I'm not an athlete, Miss Blake. I'm just an ordinary sort of chap."

He led her to a seat, while Jean enlisted the aid of Larry Glass and completed the finishing touches to the decorations. "Athletics don't do a fellow any good after he leaves college. I'm going into business this fall. Have you ever been to California?" Miss Blake admitted that she had never been so far, and Fresno launched himself upon a glowing description of his native state; but before he could shape the conversation to a point where his hearer might perchance express a desire to see its wonders, still Bill Stover thrust his head cautiously through the door to the bunk-house, and allowed an admiring eye to rove over the transformation.

"Looks like a bazaar!" he exclaimed. "What the idea?"

"Trainin' quarters," said Glass.

"Mr. Speed goin' to live here?" inquired the foreman, bringing the remainder of his lanky body into view.

"No, indeed," Jean corrected, "he will merely use this room to train in."

"How do you train in a room?" Stover asked her.

"Why, you—just train! I suppose," Miss Chapin turned to Glass. "How does a person train in a room?"

"Why, he—just trains, that's all. A guy can't train without trainin' quarters, can he?"

"We thought it would make a nice gymnasium," offered Miss Blake.

"Looks like business," Stover's admiration was keen. "I rode over to Gallagher's place last night and laid our bets."

"How much have you wagered?" asked Fresno.

"More'n we can afford to lose."

"But you aren't going to lose," Miss Blake said, enthusiastically.

"I got Gallagher to play some records for me."

"Silas on Fifth Avenue?"

"Sure! And 'The Holy City,' too! Willie stayed out by the bar-wire fence; he didn't dare to go in. When I come out I found him ready to cry. That desperado has sure got the heart of a woman. I reckon he'd commit murder for that photograph—he's so full of sentiment."

Fresno spoke sympathetically.

"It's a fortunate thing for you fellows that Speed came when he did."

"I'm anxious for him to beat this cook, and I hate to see him so careless with his training."

"Careless!" cried Helen.

"What's he done?" inquired Stover.

"Nothing, so far. That's the trouble. He's sure he can win, but—Fresno shook his head, doubtfully—"there's such a thing as overconfidence. No matter how good a man may be, he should take care of himself."

"What's wrong with his trainin'?" demanded Glass.

"I think he ought to have more rest. It's too noisy around the house; he can't get enough sleep."

"Nor anybody else," agreed Glass, meaningly; "there's too much singin'."

"That's funny," said Stover. "Music soothes me, no matter how bad it is. Last night when we come back from the Centepede Mr. Fresno was singin' 'Dearie,' but I dozed right off in the middle of it. An' it's the same way with cattle. They like it. It's part of a man's duty when he's night-ridin' a herd to pizen the atmosphere with melody."

"We can't afford to spoil Speed's chances," argued the young man. "There is too much at stake. Am I right, Mr. Glass?"

Now, like most fat men, Lawrence Glass was fond of his rest, and since his arrival at the Flying Heart his sleeping-hours had been shortened considerably, so for once he agreed with the Californian.

"No question about it," said he.

"Mr. Speed Goin' to Live Here?" Inquired the Foreman.

"And I'll sleep here with him if you'll put a couple of cots in the place."

"But suppose Mr. Speed won't do it?" questioned Miss Blake.

"You ask him, and he won't refuse," said Jean.

"We don't want to see him defeated," urged Helen's other suitor; at which the girl rose, saying doubtfully: "Of course I'll do my best, if you think it's really important."

"Thank you," said Stover gratefully, while Fresno congratulated himself upon an easy victory.

The two girls took Speed's trainer with them, and went forth in search of the young man.

"It's up to you fellows to see that he gets to bed early," said Fresno, when he and Stover were alone.

"Leave it to us. And as for gettin' up, we turn out at daylight. I don't reckon he could sleep none after that if he tried." Stover pointed to the striped elastic coils of the exerciser against the wall. "I didn't want to speak about it while they was here," said he, "but one of them young ladies lost her garters."

"That's not a pair of garters, that's a chest-weight."

"Jest wait for what?"

"Chest-weight—chest-developer."

"Oh!" Stover examined the device curiously. "I thought a chest-developer came in a bottle."

Fresno explained the operation of the apparatus, at which the cowman remarked, admiringly:

"That young feller is all right, ain't he?"

"Think so?"

"Sure! Don't you?"

Fresno explained his doubts by a

"Ain't He No Champeen?"

crafty lift of his brows and a shrug. "I thought so—at first."

Stover wheeled upon him abruptly. "What's wrong?"

"Oh, nothing."

After a pause the foreman remarked, vaguely: "He's the intercollegit champion of Yale."

"Oh, no, hardly that, or I would have heard of him."

"Ain't he no champeen?"

"Champion of the running broad smile and the half-mile talk perhaps."

"Ain't he a foot-runner?"

"Perhaps. I've never seen him run, but I have my doubts."

"Good Lord!" moaned Stover, weakly.

without sustenance."

"Without what?"

"Sustenance—something to eat."

"Well, we've got plenty for him to eat," said the mystified foreman.

"You don't understand. However, time will tell."

"But we ain't got no time. We've made this race 'pay or play,' a week from Saturday, and the bets are down. We was afraid the Centepede would walah when they seen who we had, so we framed it that way. What's to be done?"

Again Fresno displayed an artistic restraint that was admirable. "It's none of my business," said he, with a careless shrug.

"I—I guess I'll tell Willie and the boys," vouchsafed Bill apprehensively.

"No! no! Don't breathe a word I've said to you. He may be a cracker-jack, and I wouldn't do him an injustice for the world. All the same, I wish he hadn't broken my stop-watch."

"D'you think he broke it a-purpose?"

"What do you think?"

Stover mopped the sweat from his brow.

"Can't we time him with an ordinary watch?"

"Sure. We can take yours. It won't be exact, but—"

"I ain't got no watch. I bet mine last night at the Centepede. Willie's got one, though."

"Mind you, he may be all right," Fresno repeated, reassuringly; then hearing the object of their discussion approaching with his trainer, the two strolled out through the bunkroom. Stover a prey to a new-born suspicion, Fresno musing to himself that diplomacy was not a lost art.

"You're a fine friend, you are!" Speed exploded, when he and Glass were inside the gymnasium. "What made you say 'yes'?"

"I had to."

"Rot, Larry! You played into Fresno's hands deliberately! Now I've got to spend my evenings in bed while he sits in the hammock and sings 'Dearie.' He shook his head gloomily. "Who knows what may happen?"

"It will do you good to get some sleep, Wally."

"But I don't want to sleep!" cried the exasperated suitor. "I want to make love. Do you think I came all the way from New York to sleep? I can do that at Yale."

"Take it from me, Bo, you've got plenty of time to win that dame. Eight hours is a workin' day anywhere."

Glass chuckled. "The whole thing is a hit. Look at this joint, for instance. He took in their surroundings with a comprehensive gesture. "It looks about as much like a gymnasium as I look like a contortionist. Why don't you get a Morris chair and a mandolin?"

"There are two reasons," said Speed, facetiously. "First, it takes an athlete to get out of a Morris chair; and, second, a mandolin has proved to be many a young man's ruin."

Glass examined the bow of ribbon upon the lonesome piece of exercising apparatus.

"It looks like the trainin'-stable for the Colonial Dames. What a yelp this place would be to Covington or any other athlete."

"It is not an athletic gymnasium," Speed smiled as he lighted a cigarette. "It is a romantic gymnasium. As Socrates once observed—"

"Socrates! I'm hep to him," Glass interrupted, quickly. "I trained a Greek professor once and got wised up on all that stuff. Socrates was in the Hemlock Kid."

"Exactly! As Socrates, the Hemlock Kid, deftly put it, 'in hoc signa-ture vintage.'"

"I don't get you."

"That is archaic Scandinavian, and, translated, means, 'Love cannot thrive without her bower.'"

"No answer to that telegram yet, eh?"

"Hardly time."

"Better wire Covington again, hadn't you? Mebbe he didn't get it?"

"I promised Mrs. Keap that I would, but— Speed lost himself abruptly in speculation, for he did not know exactly how to manage this unexpected complication. Of one thing only was he certain; it would require some thought.

"Say, Wally, suppose Covington don't come?"

"Then I shall sprain my ankle," said the other. "Hello! What in the world—"

Still Bill Stover and Willie came into the room carrying an armful of lumber. Behind them followed Carara with a huge wooden tub, and Cloudy rolling a kerosene barrel.

"Where do you want it, gents?" inquired the foreman.

"Where do we want what?"

"The shower-bath."

"Shower— I didn't order a shower-bath!"

"No; but we aim to make it as pleasant for you as we can."

"If there is anything I abhor, it's a shower-bath!" exclaimed the athlete.

"You just got to have one. Mr. Fresno said all this gymnasium lacked was a shower-bath, a pair of scales, and a bulletin board. He said you'd sure need a bath after workin' that chest-developer. We ain't got no scales, nor no board, but we'll toggle up some sort of a bath for you. The blacksmith's makin' a squirt'er to go on the bar!"

"Very well, put it wherever you wish. I sha'n't use it."

"I wouldn't overlook nothin', if I was you," said Willie, in even milder tones that Stover had used.

"You overhelm me with these little attentions," retorted St. Speed.

"Where you goin' to run today?" inquired the first speaker.

"I don't know. Why?"

"We thought you might do a hundred yards agin time."

"Nix!" interposed Glass, hurriedly. "I can't let him overdo at the start. Besides, we ain't got no stop-watch."

"I got a reg'lar watch," said Willie, "and I can catch you pretty close. We'd admire to see you travel some, Mr. Speed."

But Glass vowed that he was in charge of his protegee's health, and would not permit it. Once outside, however, he exclaimed: "That's more of Fresno's work, Wally! I tell you, he's Jerry. He'll rib them prates to clock you, and if they do—well, you'd better keep runnin', that's all."

"You can do me a favor," said Speed. "Buy that watch."

"There's other watches on the farm."

"Buy them all, and bring me the bill."

Before setting out on his daily grind, Speed announced to his trainer that he had decided to take him along for company, and when that corpulent gentleman rebelled on the ground that the day was too sultry, his employer would have none of it, so together they trotted away later in the morning, Speed in his silken suit, Glass running flat-footed and with great effort. But once safely hidden from view, they dropped into a walk, and selecting a favorable resting place, paused. Speed lighted a cigarette, Glass produced a deck of cards from his pocket, and they played seven-up. Having covered five miles in this exhausting fashion, they returned to the ranch in time for luncheon. Both ate heartily, for the exercise had agreed with them.

At the morning preaching meeting, held at 10:30, the pastor will preach from the topic, "Another Man who was Unafraid," along the same line as the sermon of last Sunday morning.

Mrs. Lint will sing "Love Me, O God" by Randegger, and the Choir "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name" by Galbraith.

INCREASING THE CROPS.

Vast as are our American crops, the immense bulk gathered from their extension can be almost indefinitely enlarged by careful selection of the seeds. Despite the fact that figures estimating the annual yield cannot be properly realized, we are but just beginning to understand the intensive and residual force stored up in the material handled.

THAT SHUTOUT MARK.

Chicago, Ill., May 17.—J. M. Howe, official statistician of the American league, gave out figures today showing that "Doc" White of the Chicago White Sox does not hold the record for consecutive scoreless innings, as had been published recently.

August 7, 1641.—Soon after dinner my woman and I did fall out, ill-favouredly, and so we both continued sullen, till worthily I did acknowledge the error to be mine, when all became well againe and we to supper and bedd.—London Athenaeum.

A pin broke the other when a high officer in a big corporation was trying to put several papers together.

He picked the little sticker up, found that it served his purpose just as well, although an eighth of an inch of it was gone. A little rapid figuring, a call to the pin manufacturers, and soon it was found that several hundred dollars a year would be saved if that concern used pins a little bit shorter than those it had been using.

A town in Connecticut has found it necessary to forbid any spooling on stone walls, fences, church or house steps, or curbs and gutters within the town limits.

Cupid must have started an epidemic in that drastic and unseasonable town, where even such desperate opportunities as stone walls of-fer are called down.

EVERS CALLS UMPIRE; IS SUSPENDED 3 DAYS

Manager of Cubs is Gore and So is President Murphy.

New York, May 17.—Of all sad words of tongue or pen, the saddest are these: "I'm canned again." At least Manager John J. Evers of the Cubs holds this belief.

Evers admits his actions were not strictly according to Hoyle, but denies using any unseemly language. The Cub boss did inform Umpire Orth that he was "yellow," but Evers doesn't think this should be classed as obscene.

President Murphy was infuriated over the vacation handed his manager, but refrained from making any statement.

O'CONNOR THREATENS TO SUE WHOLE LEAGUE

Deposed Manager of Browns Claims There Was Discrimination.

St. Louis, Mo., May 17.—Horace L. Dyer, attorney for Jack O'Connor, deposed manager of the Browns, who won his suit for $5,000 against the St. Louis club in Judge Hitchcock's court, said that he was considering the advisability of entering suit against the eight clubs of the American league for preventing O'Connor from obtaining employment in that association after his discharge by President Hedges of the Browns.

Dyer contends that President B. B. Johnson of the American league told President Hedges that O'Connor was "no manager," and for that reason to get rid of him.

Johnson's deposition, which was not admitted as testimony at the O'Connor trial, according to Dyer, said that he had written a letter to Hedges telling him that O'Connor could not work in that organization.

official statistician of the American league, gave out figures today showing that "Doc" White of the Chicago White Sox does not hold the record for consecutive scoreless innings, as had been published recently.

Cleveland, May 16.—Batting Gregg hard, Philadelphia overcame Cleveland's early lead today and won the game. In the seventh, with the bases full, Philadelphia made a triple play in which eight of the Athletics participated.

Detroit, May 16.—Detroit did not waste a base hit today and defeated Washington. The Tigers hit safely in all but three innings. Bush was put out of the game in the first inning by the umpire for disputing a decision.

Chicago, May 16.—Benz of Chicago

held New York at his mercy today and allowed the team but three scattered hits. Chicago batted McConnell opportunely.

TIGERS COME UNDER COMPENSATION LAW

Act Will Also Protect Umpires in Case They Are Injured.

Lansing, Mich., May 17.—Should any of the players belonging to President Navin of the Detroit Tigers be killed or hurt in the present scramble, they or their heirs will receive compensation.

This was arranged by the Tiger president the other day when he signified his desire to the industrial accident board to have his team come under the workingmen's compensation law.

The act also will protect the umpires, and in case of an injury they will receive half pay during the time they are laid up. If hurt outside of the state of Michigan, however, the law will not protect the Tigers.

Art or Service

A leader of a chamber-music quartet used to say that he was never sure when he approached a private house whether he would be let in with the caterer's men at the back or with the honored guests at the front.

Nature Note.

Little Dorothy had never before visited her grandfather, who lived in the country. The chickens occupied her undivided attention for half her first day at the farm. Finally she sought her grandfather and shyly asked: "Grandpa, do all hens eat with their noses?"

Chicago, May 16.—Toney's delivery was easy for Philadelphia today and the home team defeated Chicago. Evers was spiked in the fifth and his place was taken by Pielan, who in three times at bat made a home run, a triple and a single. Paskert was put off the field for disputing a decision by the umpire.

New York, May 16.—Hard hitting by the home team and loose fielding by Pittsburgh gave New York today's game. The Giants played sensational ball behind Mathewson.

Brooklyn, May 26.—St. Louis got an early lead of three runs on Brooklyn today, but the home team came back in the next five innings and batted its way to victory.

St. Louis, May 16.—Benz of Chicago

held New York at his mercy today and allowed the team but three scattered hits. Chicago batted McConnell opportunely.

A Simple Idea Behind a Simple Starter

IT is not strange that the ideal self starter grew out of a simple thing.

For many years a great corporation had been making motor generators to attach to the axles of railroad cars for lighting purposes.

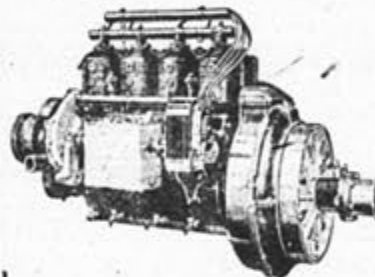

The application was direct and the light generating capacity positive. One day a man attached a similar motor generator to a gasoline engine and by a simple arrangement made it serve as a fly wheel.

The great Corliss and Allis power generators are directly connected in much the same way.

This is not a new untried experiment, but an old principle simply applied to a new use.

You have already ridden thousands of miles in Pullman cars and each mile demonstrated that the fundamental principle of the U. S. L. starting and lighting system is right.

Little weight is added. There are no bearings, chains or gears. Think what that means. Silence and efficiency—of course—are the results.

The Cross Country Gasoline Engine is built integrally with the U. S. L. Electric Motor Generator.

Service and Security

We use these two words so often in our talks to the public that we are prompted to say a few words about their importance to us and to those who bank with us.

When we refer to the Security the First National Bank offers patrons, we desire to convey to your mind every safeguard of financial strength, of laws complied with, careful methods, sound judgment and the personal integrity of the men who have charge of the bank's affairs.

When we extend the benefits of the bank's Service, we mean to include every service that department, facilities or individual in the bank can place at your convenience.

By this, you will see that Security and Service are the two greatest features of our business—greatest, because we have made them so and because they represent the genuine attitude of this bank toward the people it serves.

TEN A WEEK FOR COBB

Lansing, Mich., May 17.—Should Ty Cobb, world's champion batsman and star player of the Detroit baseball team, be injured while under contract with President Navin of the Tigers, he would be entitled to only $10 a week compensation, according to information received here. President Navin has notified the industrial board of his intention to place all his players under the provisions of the state workmen's compensation law. Cobb is supposed to draw a salary of about $2,000 a month or $500 a week. If injured he ordinarily would receive his full salary while on the bench. But under the state law Cobb's salary must be paid "an amount equal to one half his weekly wages, not to exceed $10 a week."

NAVAL RESERVES WILL COMPETE FOR POSITION

Crews Will Race Against Each Other for Places in Racing Boat—Sunday Outing.

Members of the local division of Naval Reserves are planning extensive boat drills for the summer months. The two whale boats received last fall, well adapted to either rowing or sailing, are being fitted out complete with all necessary paraphernalia.

It is probable that different crews will be chosen, these will compete with each other for places in the racing crews that will compete with the crews of other ships during the maneuvers in August.

Next Sunday two crews will be taken out for practice. Members wishing to participate should be at the armory next Sunday morning at 8:30 o'clock in white uniform. The boys plan on a day's outing, taking lunch along and going across the bay to either Stoughton or Maywood. Target practice will be one of the features of the outing.

STOP THE TRANSFER OF PLAYERS AT LOW SALARIES

New York, May 17.—David L. Fultz, president of the Baseball Players' Fraternity, addressed a letter today to the national commission at Cincinnati, requesting it to abolish the practice of transferring players from one club to another at reductions in salary. Many such transfers, Mr. Fultz states, are made, notwithstanding contracts calling for a larger salary. The letter says:

"The Baseball Players' Fraternity requests the national commission take such action as shall be necessary to assure to the player his salary set forth in the original contract or his unconditional release. You will appreciate the fact that if a contract is to have any force it must be binding on both parties, and also that the present form of contract prescribed by you calls for a stated salary or the player's unconditional release. It is, therefore, difficult to see why the player is compelled to go to a team which arbitrarily cuts his salary in absolute disregard of the contract signed by him.

"It is needless to call to your attention the fact that this practice has caused much dissatisfaction among the players and that many of them have quit the game on this account."

MILITANTS CHANGE PLAN OF CAMPAIGN

Fire Tenanted House at Cambridge—Bomb Found in Station at Boxmore

(By Associated Press.)

London England, May 17.—The militant suffragettes slightly changed their plan of campaign today when they fired a tenanted residence at Cambridge. The house was badly damaged as was one of the university laboratories adjoining. A bomb of gunpowder and slugs was found this morning in the Boxmore station in Hertfordshire.

"FIRST" STRAW HAT HAPPENED WEEK AGO

Brampton Resident Entitled to all Honors That go With the Season's First Showing

The Mirror's morning contemporary devoted about twenty lines this morning to the "first" straw hat of the season. "Harbinger of spring," etc. This "first" straw hat, the article maintains was seen on the streets yesterday. If "yesterday" could by any means translate to mean "last Monday" the "first straw hat" dissertation would go as it stands.

On Monday, May 12 a Brampton resident wended his way to Escanaba and upon his head he wore a straw lid of last year's vintage. He paraded the streets all day and seeming enjoyed the comments passed upon his "sky piece." It didn't however, mean that spring was at hand, as witness one of the coldest May weeks in years.

The W. C. O. F., Ste. Ann's Court, will give an ice cream social Tuesday evening, May 20th, in St. Ann's hall, for the benefit of the church. A musical program will be rendered. All are invited to attend. 1435-140.
