PETITION TO REDUCE RATES

Impeding Subscribers to Formally Protest to Telephone Company Against Present High Rates.

Ishpeming, July 30.—The number of complaints heard in the city against the poor service rendered by the Michigan State Telephone company will take a concrete form within a few days when a petition signed by a majority of the Ishpeming subscribers will be presented to K. S. Baker, the district manager, asking that the telephone rates be reduced until the service has been improved. A number of business men, who are responsible for the action, yesterday started the petition in circulation among the business men of the city and practically all who read it unhesitatingly affixed their signatures. Those connected with the origin of the matter are confident that fully 90 per cent of the subscribers to whose attention the petition will be called will sign it.

It is the general belief that the telephone company should make a rate that is fair according to the kind of service that is received. As soon as the Bell took over the County, the rates were raised and this is held to be an injustice. Subscribers in both Ishpeming and Negaunee have been protesting strenuously ever since the telephone service in the country came under the control of a single company, as they expected that with the increase in rates the efficiency of the service would be better. A long time has now passed since the Marquette County company ceased to exist, and yet the forthcoming improved service is far from being fulfilled according to promise. The signers of the petition request that a rebate in rates be given until the system has been reconstructed, as it will have to be, according to the company if the service is to be improved.

When asked his opinion as to what action the company will probably take on this matter, Mr. Ludlow, superintendent for the company, replied that it would be impossible for them to reduce the present rates, as they have a fixed schedule and make it their policy never to deviate from it under any circumstances. When reminded that the business men were determined in this matter and that they proposed to have something done speedily to remedy the injustice to which they are forced to submit daily, he only answered that they would have to wait and rest assured that when once the company completed the improvement work as contemplated, they will receive a standard service. Mr. Ludlow said that the trouble was that the subscribers did not realize the magnitude and complexity of the work the company faces in entirely reconstructing the telephone system here. He said they would bear with the company more patiently if they understood this fact.

G. & N. W. OFFICIALS SPEND DAY IN MARQUETTE

Northwestern South Shore Railway Men and Enjoyed Whitefish Dinner

C. E. Heimer, of Escanaba, assistant superintendent of the Peninsula division; H. C. Cheney, of Chicago, assistant general freight agent; G. B. Wilas, of Chicago, assistant general superintendent of the entire system; H. C. Howe, of Chicago, claim agent, and C. E. Webb, general agent at Houghton, all officials of the Northwestern, arrived in Ishpeming yesterday morning on a visit to the officials of the South Shore, and spent the greater part of the day in Marquette, leaving in the afternoon for Houghton. James Maney, general passenger agent of the South Shore, was down from Houghton yesterday to meet them. The Northwestern officials make a trip to the upper peninsula about once every six months. Early in the spring these same men came up from Chicago by special train. At noon yesterday the visitors were treated to a complimentary planked whitefish dinner, served at Hotel Marquette. The guests expressed themselves as greatly pleased with this feature of the visit.

The latter is a bricklayer and has been in Escanaba but a short time. The proceedings against Makerson were dismissed this morning.

PETITION TO STOP COMING OF CARNIVAL

Will be Presented to Council—Carnival Will Probably Come if Management Desires to Make Escanaba

A movement has been launched to prevent the Great Southern Carnival company from coming to Escanaba on August 15 for a week's stay. Petitions are being circulated that will be presented to council in a few days and these petitions bear the names of several hundred persons. What council can do in the matter is the occasion of much conjecture. The ordinance gives a carnival company the rights of the street providing the required license is paid. If the company is willing to pay and charges of immorality or something of the order are not made and sustained how will council keep the company out? If the ordinance were repealed tonight the repeal would not go into effect for twenty days. It is perfectly proper for the merchants to register their objections and but what end will be gained it is difficult to imagine. It looks now as though it were entirely up to the

CORNELL WANTS ANOTHER GAME WITH FLAT ROCK

The baseball fans of Cornell are evidently angry. A recent game with Flat Rock has brought out the dissatisfaction and there is no indication that it will end until a second or perhaps a third game has been played.

Cornell says the "Umpire did it," which allegation Flat Rock denies. What's the answer?

KILL TO PLEASE SWEETHEART

One Way for an Abyssinian Youth to Win a Young Woman's Favor

"In Abyssinia the natives kill white men in order to please their sweethearts," declared Frank Mover, formerly Consul General to Adis Abeba.

"It is never dangerous for a white man to travel in Abyssinia provided he is accompanied by a native escort, because those who compose such an escort are always trustworthy, but a man takes his life in his hands if he goes around alone."

"Among all the 10,000,000 of population in the entire area equal to New York, Pennsylvania, Virginia and New England there are but few white women in Abyssinia. They are the wives of two consular officials. Strange to say, the national game is hockey but Caucasians cannot play it very much because of the climate. The natives work but little and eat raw meat. They kill an elk, peel off the skin as you would peel off a banana, drain off the blood and proceed with the feast. Every Abyssinian is a good butcher."

RUSSIAN SOLDIERS TEETH

Third Molar Found to Be the Most Often Affected

The German dental specialist, Dr. Franzius, made an examination recently of the teeth of 650 soldiers in Russia. It appeared that 258, or nearly 40 per cent, had dental caries. He finds that of all the teeth the third molar is most often affected, such cases making up one half of all the cases.

The teeth were affected in a certain successive order. First, the lower third molar is affected; then the upper; then the lower fourth molar, and so on. The incisors and canine teeth of the lower jaw stand last in the list. The durability of the upper teeth stands to that of the lower as three to two. The teeth in persons of fair complexion are less durable than those of large complexion and hair—about 40 per cent.

Stature has a manifest influence on the durability of the teeth, which decreases with increase of height, and vice versa. Dr. Franzius seeks the explanation of this curious fact in a less perfect water circulation in tall men than in short ones.

The right teeth show a greater vitality than the left. The conditions of the soldiers' life do not show any marked influence on the state of the teeth.

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

Constipation. Prunes washed and eaten raw are very good for this trouble. Eat six or eight a day as many days as necessary. Dates are also good, eaten in the same way. An apple at bedtime is a great help. Eat bran muffins every day. These are simple remedies and require time and patience. What helps one person has no effect upon another. The best way to regulate this trouble is by diet instead of medicine. A cupful of hot water taken half an hour before breakfast is also good, and, above and before all, regular habits.

HAD AN EYE TO BUSINESS.

American Picture Dealers Now Have Europe at Their Mercy. The United States is now selling European pictures at a great profit and is no longer buying in our market. These words of Berthelm, a former picture dealer, sum up the present condition of the picture market, where, in as dozens of sales this year have shown, there has been a slight falling off in prices. For several decades the Americans have been cleaning up all the European sale rooms, sometimes paying a price which brought them ridicule from collectors and dealers on this side. Now it is apparent, however, that the Americans hold a commanding position in the world's picture market, and the European dealers are glad to go to the United States to buy back works of art at a price yielding handsome profits to the American purchasers.

The impression all along has been that these European purchases were made with the object of forming magnificent private art collections in the United States and that the higher prices sometimes paid for coveted pictures merely reflected the keenness of American connoisseurs to take the best Europe had to offer. It is now felt, however, that many of these purchases were made as a business investment by the shrewdest business men in the world who are now giving Europe an opportunity to reacquire the canvases at prices yielding a considerable profit to the Americans.—Paris Cor. Philadelphia Ledger.

SLEEPING IN DOSES.

Short Slumbers Said to Be Better Than Long Ones for Invalids. French physicians are claiming wonders for the benefits, which result from sleeping in doses. Too long continued sleep has a tendency to stupefy rather than to strengthen, while a shorter sleep, repeated at intervals through the twenty-four hours, has a much more stimulating effect. Experiments have been made on patients in the free hospitals and clinics who were suffering from mental depression and physical exhaustion. They were allowed to sleep for three hours and then stay awake for four, again sleep for three and then awake for four, and so on through the twenty-four hours, and their recovery was found to be far more rapid and satisfactory than that of those who slept for long periods and then were awake for correspondingly greater lengths of time. If this fact becomes universally recognized and established as a truth there is no prophesying what strange results may occur, for if all people decide to sleep in such spasmodic snatches there will have to be considerable change in all business arrangements.—Chicago Tribune.

Natural Bridge in the Philippines.

A remarkable natural bridge in the Philippines was recently discovered by Mr. Paul R. Fauning. Although only about thirty miles south of Manila, it is believed never to have been visited before by white men, and it is the first large natural bridge reported in the Philippines. It is on the Lucuhim stream, a couple of miles west of Silang. The stream runs through a canyon, and the space beneath the bridge forms a tunnel, about thirty-five feet broad and some 250 feet long. The floor of the bridge, now about 130 feet above the stream, bears evidence of having once been the bed of the latter.—Philippine Journal of Science.

Want the Lions Spared.

Though the natives rejoice whenever a lion is killed, the intelligent African farmer does not take the same view of the matter, protesting that the lion is really a great help to him, killing, as he does, other animals which prey on the plighted crops. In one season it is claimed that 350 lions were slain, and this number, it is estimated, would have been responsible for probably 20,000 zebras and antelopes, which destroy valuable crops as fast as the farmer can plant and grow them. The agriculturists declare that if the lions are left unslighted for a few years they will so reduce the crop destroyers that farming will yield large profits.

Artificial Meat.

Artificial meat that closely resembles butcher's meat in taste, but has greater food value, is claimed to have been produced by a Belgian chemist. The artificial meat is made from malt grains which are washed, pressed and treated with sulphuric acid and lime. The mass is then filtered and dried until it has the appearance of a paste and has the flavor of real flesh.—Popular Mechanics.
