OPERATORS CLAIM WESTERN FEDERATION HAS BEEN ROUTED

2 THOUSAND MINERS WENT TO WORK LAST NIGHT AND HUNDREDS SIGNIFY WILLINGNESS

STRIKE FOR HIGHER WAGES, EIGHT HOUR DAY, ABOLISHMENT OF ONE MAN DRILL AND RECOGNITION OF THE UNION REPORTED PRACTICALLY LOST

MAY RAISE WAGES AFTER STRIKE'S CLOSE

(By Associated Press.)
Calumet, August 9.—The copper mine operators claim the complete route of the Western Federation of Miners in the strike for higher wages, eight hour day, the abolishment of the one man drill and the recognition of the union. Over a thousand workers have returned and more than a thousand others have signified their willingness to go back to work if given the proper protection. Two thousand were working last night.

It is reported that the company may raise the wages of the men and declare an eight hour day after the strike is entirely closed.

Many underground employees of the Calumet & Hecla Mining Co. are calling at the Washington school hall to enroll their names on the registration book opened yesterday afternoon to all those who wish to return to work under protection. Several hundred have already signed the list and as many others has signified their intention to register, it was announced today that registration at the Washington school hall also will continue all tomorrow. Other lists for signatures are being circulated.

Sheriff Cruse has placed a force of deputies at the school to prevent any possible interference with the loyal employees or disorder. No trouble was experienced, but one arrest was made of the man named Gabriel Pawovitch, charged with intimidation, his alleged offenses covering a period of several days. It is claimed he has been active in stopping men going to work.

1,200 Men Already Signed.
It was estimated last evening that between 1,200 and 1,300 men had signed the lists, including those being circulated among the employees as well as the one at the Washington school hall. Only underground men are registering at the Washington school hall, but the other lists in circulation are being signed by both underground and surface men.

No mining operations have yet been attempted, the men now at work underground being engaged in pumping and other preparations for the resumption of mining.

Mining Soon to be Returned.

As the result of the "back to work" movement, it is believed the company will within a short time re-open several shafts for mining. The committee appointed at yesterday morning's second meeting of employees to confer with the management is expected to report at a meeting of the miners to be held within a few days. This committee will ask only for the protection of the men who return to work, and it is understood the company will give every assurance that full protection will be afforded and co-operate in the movement. The men will make no other demands as they were not in favor of the strike in the first place and are willing to return under the old terms. These men take the position that they are not on a strike and are still employees of the company.

Quincy Miners Active.
Quincy non-strikers have joined enthusiastically in the back to work movement. About sixty men gathered at a meeting held yesterday afternoon to consider plans for resuming work.

KNUCKLES TO JAPAN

(By Associated Press.)
Amoy, China, August 9.—Chinese officials have assented to the demands of the Japanese government and have ordered the execution of three Tungshan tribesmen. They will also pay an indemnity for the destruction of property and for killing and wounding a number of forerosans in the recent fighting.

HORSEWHIP DOCTOR

Militant Suffragettes Attack Physician of Holloway Jail

(By Associated Press.)
London, England, August 9.—Militant suffragettes, armed with horsewhips, attacked Dr. Allan Campbell, the physician at the Holloway jail, this morning. The attack was made as a protest against the treatment of Miss May Richardson, who was sentenced for breaking windows. It is claimed that the authorities would have to confine them in lunatic asylums.

PREPARE FOR CELEBRATION

ATTORNEY H. J. RUSHTON HAS CONSENTED TO DELIVER THE LABOR DAY ORATION

TWO DANCES IN THE EVENING

Services of Ishpeming Band Have Been Secured by Trades and Labor Council

The arrangements for the big celebration here on Labor day are partially completed and the members of the committee in charge state that the day will be celebrated in Escanaba on a more elaborate scale than ever before.

City Attorney H. J. Rushton has been asked to deliver the Labor day oration and he has consented. Two more speakers, yet to be chosen, will be on the program.

The services of the Ishpeming band have been secured for the big day. This band is recognized as one of the best in the Upper Peninsula and the committee is to be congratulated upon having secured it.

It was the intention of the Trades and Labor council to secure the services of the Escanaba Military band for Labor day and a committee waited on Director Sourwine with that object in view. Mr. Sourwine stated, however, that the local band would not be ready to make its first public appearance by that time.

Two dancing parties will take place during the evening as part of the celebration. One will be held in the Clark hall and the second in the North Star hall.

A full program of athletic events and games is being arranged. The Escanaba baseball team will probably have an out of town team here on that date.

MAILING FAIR PREMIUMS

Work Will Have Been Completed in Few Days—More Premiums Than Any Other Fair

The county fair premium lists are being distributed as speedily as a large mailing force can get them out and it's expected that the distribution will have been completed within the next few days.

The local secretary has received premium lists from associations throughout Wisconsin and Michigan but in none of them are more than half the premiums offered that appear in the local list. Also the lists received cannot begin to compare as far as appearance goes with the one compiled and printed in the Mirror office.

CROPS BURN IN THE FIELD

WORST DROUGHT IN YEARS IN MISSOURI, KANSAS AND OKLAHOMA—CROPS ARE RUINED

SHIPPING WATER TO SMALL TOWNS

Mercury has Ranged Around the One Hundred Mark for Six Days—Not a Drop of Rain

(By Associated Press.)
Kansas City, Mo., August 9.—Missouri, Kansas, and Oklahoma are suffering from the worst drought in many years. The crops are reported ruined and the cities are harassed for water. Water is being shipped into the smaller towns by freight. The low wells and the lack of water everywhere has caused the spread of disease.

All the farmers are lamenting the burnt crops and from all sections come notices that nothing is left in the fields. It is impossible to get winter food for the live stock. This is the sixth consecutive day on which the temperature has ranged around the 100 mark.

Typhoid fever is reported from some of the cities. Six new horse fountains have been installed in Kansas City after the water department had been notified that the streets are blocked all day about the old fountains. The number of fires in this city has doubled during the past week.

SMITH ENDS FIGHT IN FIFTH SESSION

Referee Stops Scrap After Flynn is Knocked Down Four Times

New York, Aug. 8.—When "Fireman Jim" Flynn had been knocked down four times in the fifth round in Madison Square garden tonight Referee William Joh stopped proceeding and "Gunboat" Smith of California was the winner by a knockout.

Flynn and Smith fought desperately from the first clang of the gong, and although the battle was devoid of real cleverness it pleased the crowd that packed the building. Flynn employed his usual tactics. He rushed incessantly, with practically no defense, his purpose being to land one or two terrific punches on a vital spot. In this he was unsuccessful for the reason that Smith always was on the alert, blocking at close quarters and beating Flynn to the punch at long range.

Battle Crude to Experts.
To such skilled veterans of the ring as Jim Corbett, Joe Choynski, and Tom Sharkey, the battle probably seemed crude. In view of the incessant rushing and slugging, also the roughing in the clinches, the admiring spectators got a run for their money. On several occasions Smith seemed both tired and worried but his handlers kept him cool headed and showed him where and how he could do the most damage.

FUNERAL HELD TODAY

Funeral services in memory of Mrs. Jennie DesGardins, who died yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock, were held this morning at 8:30 o'clock in St. Anne's church. Burial was made in the St. Anne's cemetery.

A large number of the friends of the deceased were in attendance.

THIRTY-TWO ARE DEAD

(By Associated Press.)
Binghamton, New York, August 9.—Mrs. May Layton is dead from the injuries received during the fire of the Binghamton Clothing company's plant two weeks ago. She jumped from the fourth floor.
This makes a total of thirty-two dead as a result of the fire and it is feared that at least three more will die.

SHIP ARMS TO MEXICO

THREE RAPID FIRE GUNS SENT TO MEXICO CITY LIGHT PLANT TO PROTECT PROPERTY

LIND WILL LAND THIS EVENING

Steamer Monterey on Way to Mexico With 145 Cases of Arms and Much Ammunition

(By Associated Press.)
Washington D. C., August 9.—Last night the water supply of Mexico City was damaged thus injuring the foreigners President Wilson has permitted the shipment of three rapid fire guns and fifty thousand rounds of ammunition to the Mexican Light and Power company.

The steam Monterey is carrying from New York 145 cases of carbines to the Huerta government. Last week six hundred cases of ammunition and more than one hundred cases of arms were shipped. Under the June permit the Huerta government can receive ten thousand rifles and five million cartridges. The permits are now denied.

Vera Cruz—No opposition to the landing of John Lind is planned according to the port authorities. He will arrive today. The trip is so slow that it has given the Mexicans time to think over the visit.

The public discusses his coming languidly and with no resentment. Washington—Another threatened outburst over the Mexican situation in the senate was averted today by the emphatic disapproval of the republicans and a few democrats who declared that the senate should lend to the intensity of feeling against Mexico by discussions.

Senator Smith of Michigan declared that the constitutionalist Junta here has the ear of the state department and influenced the resignation of Ambassador Wilson. Williams of Mississippi replied saying that "an organized syndicated effort is being made to bring war in Mexico." He said that money and not all Mexican money was behind it. Smith yielded to the expressions of disapproval against giving the findings of the Mexican border investigation committee to the senate. It will be filed with the foreign relations committee. Crawford and Kenyon, republicans, expressed their faith in Wilson and the state department to successfully handle the situation.

ENLARGE THE BATH HOUSE

PARK COMMISSIONERS FAVOR CONSTRUCTION OF ADDITION TO PRESENT STRUCTURE

TEACH THE YOUNGSTERS TO SWIM

Erection and Equipment of a Bath-House by City Being Considered

The park commissioners have in mind two notable improvements that will be broached to council perhaps sometime within the year, possibly not for a year or more, namely the enlargement of the public bath house and the building of a boathouse and the purchase of a sufficient number of boats to meet at least a portion of the popular demand.

Those who do not frequent the lake front do not, perhaps, realize the fact that the public bathing beach is one of Escanaba's first institutions hardly taking second place to the public schools. One of the first because it affords to hundreds of children and adults an innocent diversion, an opportunity to find real pleasure at a insignificant cost and at the same time master him or herself in the art of swimming which should be as much a part of the education of a child living in city located as is Escanaba, as the remedial branches. One can at least live without being able to read or write and who can tell at what time a little knowledge of swimming or even the confidence gained from attempts to learn might preserve life. In Escanaba the school children should be taught to swim and classes conducted daily during the summer season. There are hundreds of persons (Continued on page six)

BOY SCOUTS CAMP MONDAY

THIRTY BOYS WILL LEAVE ON CHARTERED BOAT FOR MAYWOOD EARLY MONDAY MORNING

CAMP TO BE SELF-GOVERNING

Will Spend Week Near Resort—Rev. King D. Beach Will be in Charge

The Boy Scouts completed their arrangements last evening for their camping expedition, on which they will leave Monday morning, returning the following Saturday. They will camp near Maywood, and have chartered a boat to take them to the place.

The Camp will not be a large one, for several of the Scouts will be unable to go. Thirty boys will, however, make a pretty lively camp. Rev. King D. Beach and Rev. Alfred Wood will be at the camp during the entire time, and Mr. Davidson, of the High School, part of the time. The outing will be in true camp style, with tents, balsam beds, camp fires, and night watches. Each patrol, under its patrol officers will prepare its own food, scout fashion, but the troupe will eat en masse. The Scouts is not a semi-military organization; each boy is rather to learn to care for himself in the open, and the camp will be carried out in scout rather than military fashion.

The organization is largely self-governing, and entirely self-sustaining. The boys have adopted camp rules, any violation of which comes before the Court of Honor, and punishment is suggested by the boys of that Court. They have also adopted a schedule of activities, which will fill each day full of wholesome and helpful pleasures. They know also that they can have as much fun in attending to camp duties, or in winning the honor banner for their patrol by the condition of the tent and the mess, as they can in the most hilarious games. And they will have the games too.

DISCUSS MEXICAN SITUATION TONIGHT

Entire Foreign Relations Committee to Meet Tonight

(By Associated Press.)
Washington D. C., August 9.—President Wilson will meet the entire committee on bright relations tonight for a conference on the Mexican situation. Every member has been asked to be present and it is believed that the results of the conference will determine the future attitude of the United States toward Mexico.

Paris—News dispatches from Washington say that the rupture between the United States and Mexico is near. The papers believe that the situation of America is difficult. The peace policies of Bryan and Wilson are likely to disappear in the presence of relatives.

MANY WILL GO BY AUTOMOBILE

Escanaba will be well represented at the Green Bay home coming and Perry centennial celebration which opens in the lower bay city tomorrow and will continue throughout the week. C. E. Andrews, A. H. Grosbeck, R. E. McLean, all members of the Escanaba reception committee will leave Tuesday morning.

C. W. Kates and wife will motor to Green Bay, probably leaving Sunday. James Hanrahan and O. T. Mantley, also members of the committee will leave this evening.

The following left last night and this morning to take in the festivities: Mrs. P. G. Tonne and children, Joseph Kinnard, Mrs. C. Burke, Michael Bink, Mrs. Cusson, Miss Genevieve Clifford, George Shipman, Mrs. Main, Mrs. Sharp, Mrs. W. J. Taylor, Mrs. P. J. Flannigan, Miss Anna Curran.

Miss Lillian Stromberg Entertains Friends at Japanese Lawn Party

A Japanese lawn party, was given last night by Miss Lillian Stromberg at her home at the corner of Oak and Ludington street in honor of Miss Johnson, who is visiting friends here. The lawn was prettily decorated and Japanese lanterns hung about in profusion. The thirty guests enjoyed a delicious luncheon, games and music.

M'PHERSON RALLIES

Robert McPherson, who was injured Sunday near Rapid River and who is a patient at the Laing hospital, is still alive but remains unconscious. It was thought during the early part of last night that he was dying but he rallied this morning and is now resting easier than he has since the accident.

The attending physicians still despair of his life but say that there is a slight chance of his recovery.

BONDS COVER THE SHORTAGE

HEAD CAMP OF MODERN WOODMEN OF AMERICA CARRIES BLANKET BOND FOR ALL CLERKS

JOURNAL ERROR IS CORRECTED

Blanks Had Been Forwarded to Local Trustees From the Bonding Company

Blanks have been received by the local camp of the Modern Woodmen of America from the surety company which carries the blanket bond for all the clerks and bankers of the Woodmen throughout the country.

The trustees of the local camp were fully aware that Clerk Cantlin was bonded by the general blanket bond for which the head camp pays but they were in doubt as to whether or not a specified sum had been fixed at the last convention of the Woodmen. The blanks will be forwarded to the surety company at once and no trouble is apprehended in securing the full amount of the shortage. It may be several weeks before the exact shortage is known. It is expected that the surety company will make every endeavor to locate Mr. Cantlin.

The Escanaba Journal made a statement in a recent issue which the trustees of the Woodmen camp here desire to have corrected. It was to the effect that L. A. Rose, one of the trustees had made a report showing Mr. Cantlin's shortage to be about $500. Mr. Rose made no report on the shortage and the meeting was called to determine as far as possible from the receipts of the members just what the shortage amounted to.

MISS HATTIE FOURNIER SCORES HIT AT ORPHEUM

Local Girl Delights Big Crowds With Her Singing—Entire Bill Top Notch

Miss Hattie Fournier of this city is appearing at the Orpheum theatre this half-week and the large crowds that are filling the popular playhouse thrice daily are experiencing not only a treat but also a big surprise.

Not many persons in the city were aware that Miss Fournier was possessed of a voice of such remarkable range and sweetness. She sings without apparent effort. Her every note is true and her voice easily fills the theatre. At each performance she is compelled to answer several encores. Those who have not heard the local girl sing should not miss this opportunity. She is possessed of a voice that is doubtless the envy of everyone who hears her.

The aerobic trio appearing this week at the Orpheum is one of the best acts that has visited Escanaba in many moons. The entire bill is top notch.

BALL PLAYERS MAKE GOOD

Former Ishpeming, Negaunee and Marquette Players Doing Well in Other Leagues.

Marquette, Aug. 9.—Letters from members of last year's Marquette county league baseball teams who are now playing in the lower peninsula and other minor leagues to friends in both Ishpeming and Negaunee convey the impression that they were used better in the Marquette County league than they are on the teams they are playing with this season. The spirit of rivalry between the fans of the Marquette county cities was intense, and as a rule the players received greater encouragement than they have ever been given in any place they had played.

"Our little league in Marquette county was a crackerjack, and we all wish we were playing there again this season," is the way one of the players writes to a friend here. "We are being treated all right, and we are satisfied, inasmuch as we cannot better ourselves, but we would all be better satisfied if we could return to Marquette county. We are hoping that the fans will do something next season; if teams are organized, I assure you that all the boys will gladly go back. I have heard several of them say they would rather play in Marquette county for less money than they are getting here."

All of the former players of the Ishpeming, Negaunee and Marquette teams are making good this season. In fact, several of them are counted among the stars in the leagues in which they are playing. Joe Bell, the former star fielder of the Negaunee team, is heading the Northern Minnesota league in batting, with an average of .300. Bell is playing with the Superior team. Cullis, also of Negaunee is making good with the same team. He won a number of games by his timely hitting, but his batting average is not nearly as high as Bell's. Cullis has been playing a fine fielding game all season.

Bill Clark and Ed Scott are among the stars of the Flint nine, and it will surprise their friends here if they do not get better berths next season. Scott is said to be one of the strongest twirlers in the league, while Clark is fielding in the same form that he did here, and he is also near the top of the column in batting and base running.

"Zeke" Tallon, formerly of the Negaunee team is playing a great game with the Manistique nine. In a game last week against Cadillac, with Rosevear on the mound for Cadillac, Tallon batted out two doubles, each time with two bases occupied. His first drive was in the sixth inning, with the score 4 to 1 in favor of Cadillac, and in the ninth he repeated the performance, his team winning by a score of 5 to 4. Rosevear has had hard luck in the games he has pitched up to this time. He has won three and lost three. He has been called to the box several times to relieve pitchers who were being hit hard, placing him at a disadvantage. He writes friends that he has not been playing up to his usual form since joining the Cadillac team.

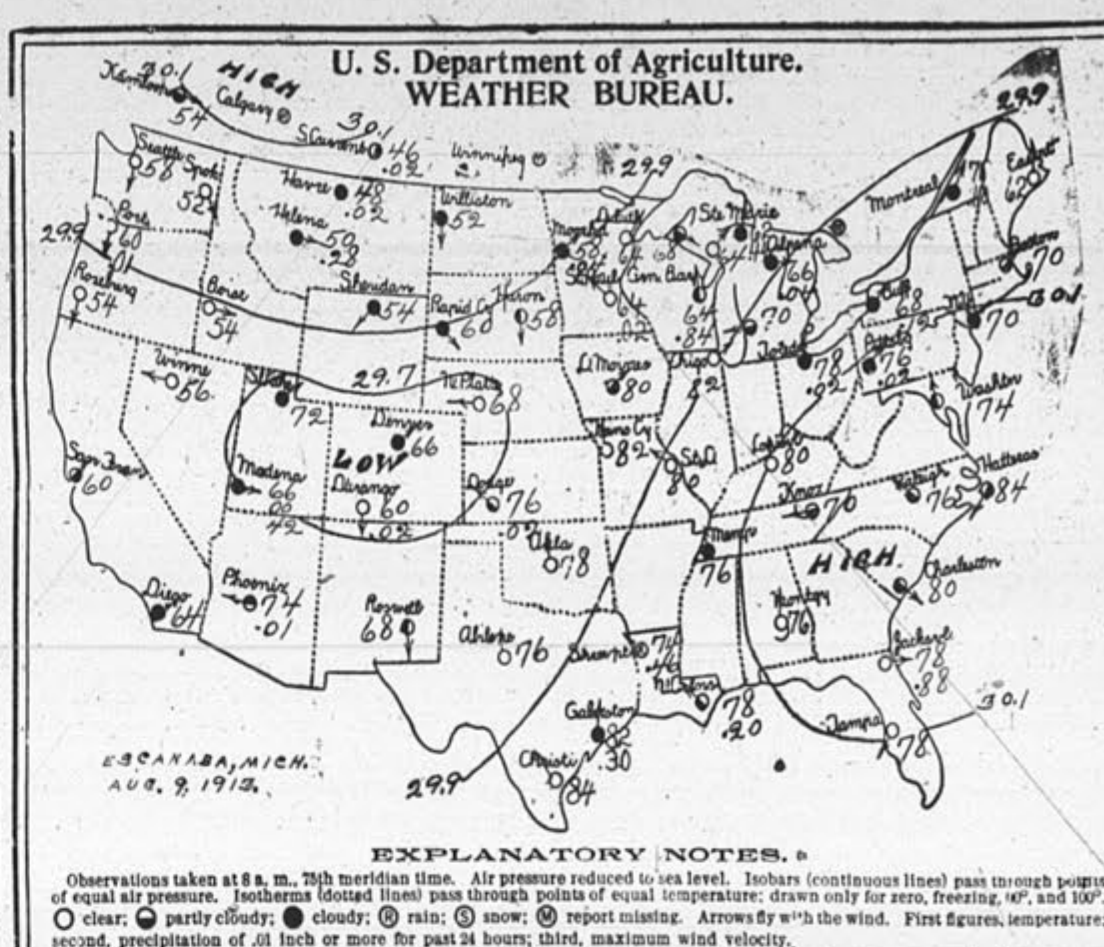

With Aronson, Swick, Young, Day, Ryan and Rosevear playing on the Cadillac nine, the aggregation is largely made up of former Marquette and Negaunee players.

Goodrow Rodgers, who caught for the Negaunee team last season, is now wearing the mask for the St. Louis Americans, having joined the squad a short time ago. Rodgers fractured an ankle in a game early in the season, when he was catching for the Michigan University team, and although he is not yet able to run bases in his old-time form he is catching a fine game. Rodgers closed negotiations for a berth with the St. Louis team last summer, while he was playing with Negaunee.

The Ishpeming amateur nine has dropped out of the Marquette county league. The games have been so poorly patronized that it reached a point where the players were obliged to put up their own money to pay their transportation and other expenses. With the fans taking no interest in the game, the players concluded that it was time to quit. The Negaunee, Marquette and Gwinn nines probably will finish out the season.

The Rexall nine, of Negaunee, desires to take Ishpeming's place, and if the other three teams conclude to play out the schedule the second Negaunee team will likely be taken in. The Rexalls have won most of the games played this season, and are capable of giving the other league nines stiff opposition.

STRIKE UNJUSTIFIED, COL. GRANT WRITES

Western Federation's Conduct in Copper District Arraigned by Detroit.

The following is a copy of a letter written by Col. C. B. Grant of Detroit to the editor of the Detroit Free Press and published in that paper Monday.

It will be read with considerable local interest because of the high standing of Judge Grant in the opinion of the people of the state and the people of the copper country, where he lived for so many years.

The people of this state and of the entire country owe a big debt of gratitude to Governor Ferris for sending state troops to Houghton county to protect lives and property.

I lived among the copper mines for ten years, and for 30 years more have been a frequent visitor there. I am, therefore quite familiar with conditions there and the relations which have existed between the employers and their employees. I went there to reside in 1873.

I do not hesitate to say that nowhere in the United States have laborers been better paid, more humanely treated, better and more cleanly housed and better guarded against accident than have the copper miners. No place can be found in America where facilities for the education of the children of laborers are superior to those furnished in the copper country of Michigan, and this mainly at the expense of the mining companies.

School House Models. Their school houses are models and are furnished regardless of cost.

The Calumet & Hecla Mining company is noted the world over for its liberal and humane treatment of its employees. For more than 30 years it has contributed yearly the same amount that the miners contributed to an insurance fund, the income of which has been used to take care of miners and their families in cases of sickness, injury or death.

The company has managed this fund with scrupulous honesty and without expense. For 40 years peace, contentment and prosperity prevailed. And now the managers of the Western Federation of Miners have appeared and discontent, hatred, violence, brutal assaults and threats to kill are rampant.

Blames Federation. And for what? Simply to compel the employers to recognize this federation and submit to the dictation of its leaders, who come from foreign states. In other words, the anarchist leaders of the federation say to the mine owners of Michigan, "You must deal with us notwithstanding you have always been and still are ready to meet your employees individually or collectively or by committees, to listen to any complaints and consult over any differences."

Naturally and very properly the employers refuse to have any dealings with these strangers and then they organize the strike. They have poisoned the minds of enough of the employees and induced a sufficient number to join their organization to call the strike. The members of this anarchist organization lay down their tools and walk out. This every employe has the right to do at the end of his term of employment.

Demand Even More. But these leaders and their followers were not content with this exercise of their legal right. They insisted that the employers not only shut down their works, but must stop the pumps, thereby causing a wanton destruction of property. Violence

Why do these hypocritical interlopers from other states lie to Lansing with their attorneys, to enter protest to the governor?

Believe People Satisfied. If they desired to keep the peace and observe the law the soldiers would not have prevented but would have assisted them in doing so. They know perfectly well that violence will follow if the employers attempt to deprive their constitutional right to protect their properties from destruction.

Their sole object in protesting against a recall of the troops to promote intimidation and acts of violence in order that they may secure the recognition of their lawless organization. The governor, by his action, deserves the approval and support of every honest, patriotic law-abiding citizen.

The people of the United States led President Cleveland for his action in the Chicago strike. For the same reason they will admire and love Governor Ferris.

Now the eugenic idea in marriage to produce a perfect race is being opposed, as all theories which gain such prominence in the public eye are bound to be. A scientific expert declares that what the race needs is brain more than brawn, and that the giants of intellect may be physical weaklings. He decries the Spartans as modern models in an age where force is not the ruling factor in human affairs. And even his opponents will be compelled to admit that he has method in his madness in opposing present pet reforms.

Who says college education is a failure? Of seven hundred members of a dishwashers' union in San Francisco, one hundred are college graduates. One of the officials of the union formerly taught mathematics in a college, but found more benefit to himself and more service to society in dish-washing. For so does the higher education encourage the philosophic spirit.

A social reformer asserts that no one can be religious on one dollar per day. He does not seem to have heard that the essential part of religion is "without money and without price." There seems to be more foundation to the view that on that income a man cannot be much of anything else.

There is nothing more annoying than to sit in a theater directly in front of a person whose only adjective is "some." Hear him or her say "That's some artist!" and then die.

A Chicago preacher says that one of the greatest needs of the American people is wholesome amusements. But the tired business men don't want em that way.

A Philadelphia judge has enjoined an obnoxious toaster from crowing. Again has the law manifested its superiority over mere nature and its instincts.

Some day, some judge is going to surprise the world and shock the legal profession by giving a perfectly clear, self-interpreting decision in about 20 words.

There's one mighty good thing about the hot and sticky season: You never hear anything about doing your Christmas shopping early.

A Chicago physician declares that walking is not beneficial. Obviously good practice among automobilists is something worth having.

Type of Dangerous Slide Which Managers Would Abolish

PRATT OF ST. LOUIS BROWNS SLIDING TO THIRD.

SEVERAL major league baseball managers are recommending that the system of sliding feet first be abandoned and the old style of sliding to bases head first be revived, providing that the base runners are supplied with rubber sliding gloves to prevent spiking.

So many men are injured each year in sliding that serious losses result to the game. While many men are disabled in hands and arms under the old system, those injuries did not keep them out of the game necessarily. But now the most frequent accidents from sliding are wrenched and sprained knees and ankles.

Manager Connie Mack of the Philadelphia Athletics says: "Something radical must be done to prevent injuries to players in sliding. The present method is almost a form of suicide."

LEARNING TO SWIM IS EASY

Begin With Breast Stroke and Then Take Up Overarm.

PROPER BREATHING AN AID.

Aquatic Expert Gives Hints That Will Enable Any One to Master the Rudiments of Propelling Oneself in Water—Trudgeon Best All Around Stroke.

In learning to swim the breast stroke should be used, because it provides the easiest method of keeping afloat. After it is mastered it should be discarded entirely and never used except for resting. The single and double overarm (trudgeon) strokes and possibly the fast Australian "crawl" stroke should then be developed.

Do not expect to learn even the breast stroke without assistance. The beginner should always have an experienced swimmer on hand to correct faults. To learn this stroke stand in water about waist high. Stretch the hands straight out in front, palms downward. Take a deep breath and bend forward. As the water covers the breast and shoulders bend the wrists, thumbs downward; so that the palms present a flat surface to the water on either side, and with a slow, full arm sweep bring your arms around through the water until they come to your sides. Bend your elbows up and draw your hands forward under your stomach "dog paddle" fashion. Straighten out your arms and repeat. Do not pay much attention to your feet at the start. Let them drag in the water. Learn the arm stroke first.

Repeat the arm stroke until you have accustomed yourself to taking SLOW MOVEMENTS. Beginners always err in thinking that they have to take short, swift strokes in order to keep afloat. Breathe once with every arm stroke at the start. The air helps keep you afloat. And don't be afraid to let your mouth or your entire head go beneath the water between breaths. THE LOWER YOUR HEAD IS THE BETTER progress you will make.

The Leg Movements. Now for the leg stroke. Much of the propelling power in swimming comes from the closing movements of the legs. Imitate as near as you can the movements of a bullfrog. He swims absolutely correctly, and no one else has ever been adaptable to the long distance races. The leg movements are different in the overarm strokes from the breast stroke. The legs are opened up like scissors when the swimmer is on his side, and the feet are brought together with a powerful snap while the arm stroke is being completed.

Carry the head low in the water in this stroke under it, in fact when you have learned the action thoroughly, breathing as the arm is taken out of the water and carried forward. Keep your head on its side in the water in the overarm stroke inclining the mouth upward and out of the water to breathe as the overarm movement and kick are executed.

MOTORBOAT RACES.

England and France Agree to Postpone Harmsworth Contest.

The French Motorboat club, which with the Motorboat Club of America, challenged for the International motorboat trophy, generally known as the Harmsworth cup, having given its consent, the Royal Motor Yacht club has agreed to postpone the races for the International trophy one month, to Sept. 10, as requested by the Motorboat Club of America. The first race of the series was to have been held on Aug. 1 over a course laid out between Ryde and Cowes, in Osborne bay, Isle of Wight.

The postponement asked for by the American club in a cable dispatch was desired on account of engine trouble met with by the American boats during trial races on Huntington bay, New York, recently.

The delay clears the way for Ankle Deep to go abroad as representing this country. Neptune IV, owned by L. D. Buhl of Detroit, probably will be ready to demonstrate her speed within the next few weeks, and there are several other candidates whose chances are greatly improved by the additional time granted.

OVERHEAD SERVE.

English Writer Calls it a Trick as McLaughlin Used It.

A letter signed "Anglo-American Athlete," printed in a London paper, declares that the American tennis team won the Davis cup by a trick.

The letter first calls attention to concentration as the American secret of success in all games, from billiards and polo to lawn tennis, and then says:

"The English lawn tennis team was better than America's, but the latter won because McLaughlin concentrated on a smashing service, which was brought to a high state of perfection." The writer then calls for rules to bar a service like McLaughlin's and adds: "Having watched the games at Wimbledon, I assert that the Davis cup was won by a trick—a perfectly legitimate trick and within the rules as they stand, but one which will not further the best interests of lawn tennis."

"The overhead smash service was doomed by this contest. If not, lawn tennis is within a measurable distance of death."

Diamond in a Cigar.

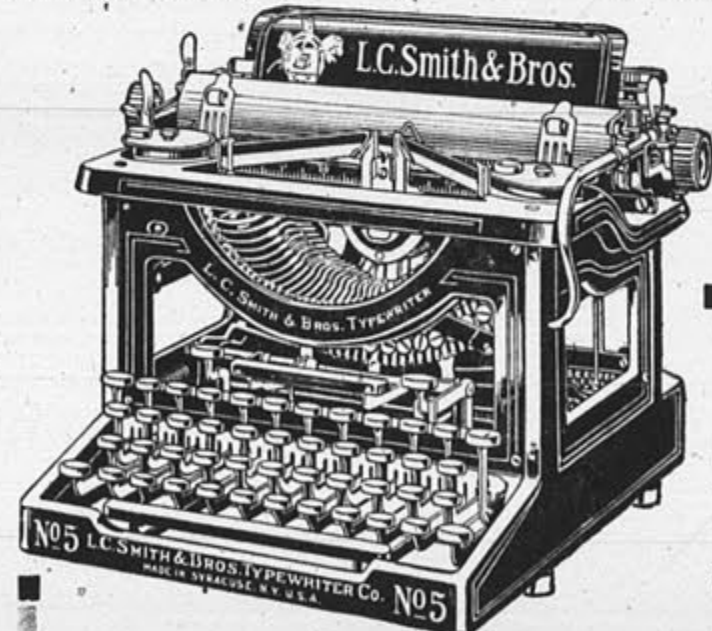

Clarence H. Hubert, stopping at a local hotel, was attending District Court, when a strange story of suddenly acquired wealth, told him a few days ago, brought a cigar from a dealer at that place. The cigar, giving poor service on account of some impediment in the wrapper, an examination was made with a pocket knife and a diamond was found. The sparkler is valued at $225.

Heart of London.

The city of London proper has in the heart of Greater London a living population of 1,000,000 by night, although 300,000 persons there by day, who are currents of British life pass its portals. Here is the largest empire, with its population 400,000,000, and its area of 29 square miles, or more than that of the population and area of a globe.—Scribner's.

Newton and Gravita

Sir Isaac Newton, the great philosopher of his day, was very frank in his statement as follows: "I do not know of any man who has done more for the world than I have done. I have done nothing of any account, the cause of my failure, I believe, is that I am a true and physical scientist in a true and physical sense. In contrast, when I speak of a philosopher, or scientist, I mean a philosopher or scientist who is not a philosopher or scientist."

SMITH ENDS FIGHT IN FIFTH SESSION

(Continued from page 1) The short armblovs that were intended for the neck and jaw. Smith broke ground and finally clinched. Then the gunner stood off and peppered Flynn with several light jabs until the fireman rushed for all he was worth with the same result.

Forces Smith Into Clinch. Smith landed several long jabs and hooks that carried no power and Flynn tearing in once more forced Smith to hang on in a clinch. Flynn forced it with great determination to the bell and had the round on work.

Flynn opened the second round with the inevitable. Smith stood to toe and exchanged heavy short arm blows. Smith held Flynn off with the left and shot the right over to the ear, following it with a double swing on the head. Flynn mixed it, but Smith shook him with a left hook and a straight right hand punch that swelled the left eye. Flynn kept coming and Smith whaled away with both hands until he seemed surprised that the greman didn't flop. Flynn, bored in some more, put a hard right on the jaw, but Smith punched him to the ropes just before time was up and had the round.

As the third round began Flynn rushed wildly. Smith caught him on the jaw with left and right rapidly delivered and the fireman staggered. Smith repeated these wallops, but still the Pueblo man tore into him. A hot left drew the blood from Flynn's nose, but he got Smith in a corner and rocked him with a desperate uppercut.

Man Gains Coast Margin Then the gunner cut loose. He rained the blows of Flynn's face, neck, and body with such rapidity that nobody could count them. Flynn reeled about unsteadily, but still kept banging away with both hands. Suddenly Flynn reached the jaw with a fierce hook, and as Smith wavered the fireman fought him to a hard clinch. Smith had the round by a small margin.

Both were tired, apparently, when they answered the bell for the fourth round. Smith blocked a rush. They mixed it hotly in the middle of the ring and both had bleeding noses. Smith lasted better and because he landed five blows to one for Flynn he took the round with much in his favor. Flynn did all the fighting for the first few minutes of the fifth round. Then he suddenly let up as if weary. Smith pumped all kinds of short hurtful blows into his face until it was covered with claret. At close quarters Smith finally landed a heavy right hook on the jaw and Flynn dropped for a count of nine.

Flynn Knocked Down Again When he got up Smith waited a moment or two before going after him. Flynn tried to rally, but he was weak and groggy and a volley of quick upper cuts and swings put him on the floor again for a count of five.

Arising, Flynn was a mark, and Smith toppled him for the third time. The referee had counted three when Flynn gamely struggled up, only to be lattered to a corner, where he fell on his face. That was the end, for the referee stopped the battle and the crowd cheered the winner as he left the ring.

residing here, who can't swim and most of them are ashamed to admit it.

A trip to the bathing beach along about five o'clock each evening will convince you that at least a portion of the city's population appreciates what the city is offering practically free. The one hundred suits, owned by the city and rented out at ten cents per suit with five cents extra for towels, are insufficient in number to fill the demand. The bath house itself does not begin to accommodate the big crowds that flock to the beach on a warm evening and a bath house of three times the present capacity would be overcrowded at times.

The beach itself cannot be excelled anywhere in the land. A hard sandy bottom devoid of stones, etc., gradually deepening to a depth of seven or eight feet and then growing shallow again to the top of the bar, almost amle from shore. Nature designed it as a bathing beach and couldn't have done a better job. This year an appreciation of the privileges made possible by the city by the building of the bath house, has begun. Next year it is pretty safe to assume that the interest will grow and with a bath house of sufficient size to accommodate the crowds it will soon become a source of revenue to the city. How many times have you wished to rent a boat for a quiet row on the bay? How often have you wondered why you and your neighbors didn't take more advantage of the best asset Escanaba can claim—its water? A boat house erected and equipped boats for hire at a nominal cost be a good stroke of business for the city. It is a safe bet that the first summer season would balance on the credit side of the this in addition to making Escanaba a much more pleasant place to live. The town boosters could not on "We have the water," but in actual use it. A bigger bath house and city for hire. The park commission favor it and neither one will be in coming.
