OSCAR STROM SUDDENLY DIES IN MINNEAPOLIS

Pioneer Resident of Escanaba Expires While Paying Visit to His Daughter

A telegram received at midnight by Mrs. Frank W. Arson of this city announced the sudden death of her father Oscar Strom at Minneapolis, Minn., at ten o'clock Monday evening. The announcement of the death of Mr. Strom came as a great surprise in shock. He left Escanaba only a few days ago to visit with his daughter, Mrs. Victor Nylund, and at that time was apparently in perfect health. Heart trouble evidently caused his death.

The deceased was about sixty years of age and had resided in Escanaba for thirty-three years. He was well known and highly esteemed by all the city's older residents. He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Frank W. Arson of this city, Mrs. Victor Nylund of Minneapolis and one son, Herman Strom of Erie, Pa. Mr. and Mrs. Arson will leave tonight for Minneapolis where funeral services will be held on Thursday.

REV. LINDIN DELIVERS HIS FAREWELL SERMON

Pastor of Swedish Methodist Church Says His "Good Bye" to Members of Swedish Methodist Church

Rev. William Lindin, pastor of the Swedish Methodist church preached his farewell sermon last evening and the church was crowded to the doors. During the two years that Rev. Lindin has been serving the people of the Swedish Methodist church here has endeavored himself to all. He labored unceasingly for the uplift of the members of his congregation and gave to them his all. He left today for Lindstrom, Minn. to attend the annual conference and he expects to secure the assignment to the Bark River church. He has purchased a farm and will combine agriculture with his pastoral duties. Baltimore reports brick scarcity, delaying paving operations.

HIGH HEELED SLIPPER

By BELLE MANIATES.

Allene was indulging in the afternoon peace of the big broad veranda when her next door neighbor, Billy, came up the steps. Billy had been her comforter and confidant since their kindergarten days.

"Oh, Billy! We must have all the fun and rag time we can! It will be all shut off for two weeks!"

"How did I know?" she exclaimed, equally mystified. "How did you know? Papa just got word that some business friend of his, a Mr. Reeves—Phillip Reeves—is coming here to accept one of papa's repeated invitations to visit. Papa has been giving me all sorts of advice and lessons in deportment. He describes this stupid man as thirty-five, dignified, scholarly, et cetera. That sounds well to papa, but it is the description of a bore and a prig to me."

The next morning when she saw Billy going to the station with his mother, she almost wept. "I didn't know I was so fond of Billy!" she wailed.

She had no buoyant spirits to quench when the guest arrived. She was so quiet and dejected during dinner that Phillip Reeves finally abandoned his attempts to converse with her.

Three wretched days passed in which Allene managed to maintain a demeanor that satisfied her father's ideas of decorum, although she felt horribly unnatural. Then came the reaction. Her father received an urgent summons to a neighboring town on business. With his departure, Allene's strained dignity vanished.

"Where's Mr. Reeves?" she asked of the maid as she came into the house from a drive. "He went to the factory," was the reply.

Free and alone! She hadn't felt so untrammelled since her childhood days. She flew to the piano and the room rang with the maddest music in her repertoire. Then her voice burst forth in gay, little snatches of song that revealed her exuberance of spirit.

At last, when she paused for breath, a voice behind her said: "Why haven't you played and sung like that before?"

She wheeled about quickly on the piano bench. "How long have you been in here?" she asked faintly.

"I came at the first sound of the music. It is just the kind I like. I am not educated up to classical music."

"Oh, I feel so much better. Really, I can't live up to papa's program any longer."

"What do you mean?" he demanded. Then impetuously and impulsively she told him the deplorable her father had prescribed, and the heroic efforts she had made to live up to it.

A most delightful week of pleasure followed. Saddle horses, automobiles and mountain wagon were brought in to use for various excursions and picnics. Allene found in Phillip a man as companionable as was Billy.

Crossing the lawn one day when the weather had suddenly turned too cold to permit of driving comfortably, Allene stepped on a stone, and stumbled.

"It's those absurd French-heeled slippers!" exclaimed Phillip indignantly. "There ought to be a law against their manufacture!"

Therefore when Allene came down stairs that evening, out of sheer perverseness, she chose her very most extreme-heeled slippers.

On the sixth stair from the bottom, she turned her foot tripped, and landed in a heap on the hall floor.

When she opened her eyes, she was in Phillip's arms as he sat before the grate fire in the library. She was so very comfortable, she decided to close her eyes again and postpone her "coming to." Then she felt him removing her slippers.

"He thinks my ankle is broken or sprained!" she reflected, and was glad she had put on her silken hose. She half opened her eyes, and to her horror saw him calmly committing her slippers to the flames.

She gave a little shriek of indignation and sat bolt upright. "How dare you! My beautiful slippers!"

Authoritative Styles Fitted to You

THE preeminent distinction of Redfern Corsets is that they are absolutely suited both, to dress fashions and to your figure. They cannot be otherwise.

When you wear a Redfern Corset, you are wearing the product of designers who have the resources and opportunities to know the changing dress fashions and their influence on the corset-designers who are the acknowledged leaders in developing the corset art. Consequently Redfern styles are authoritative.

There is a Redfern especially designed for every type of form, and wherever a Redfern is sold it is fitted by an expert corsetiere who will select your particular model and adapt it to your figure.

ROYAL TO-NIGHT
 Three Reel special Feature
The Tiger Lily
 The principal character in this three-reel special is a Parisian actress, the "Tiger Lily." She is a woman of powerfully emotional temperament, capable of raising to the greatest heights, or sinking to the lowest depths, a creature of vindictive jealousy and tigerish hate, utterly without scruples in the gratification of her inclinations. It is difficult to imagine a photoplay containing more thrills and powerful situations than the "Tiger Lily." The frequent and always startling introduction of a full-grown Bengal tiger supplies a large share of the excitement.

Chestnut Leaves in Cigars.
 Cigars are being made out of chestnut leaves over in England now days. So far, it appears, the custom has not been introduced into this country. Many men were employed in gathering up the dead leaves in the chestnut groves of several big London parks. The leaves are enclosed in wrappers of real tobacco.

While it is declared that smokers are unable to detect the spurious tobacco no attempt is made to get fancy prices for the cigars. They sell for one and two cents a piece.

ESCANABA MAN FINED FOR RUNNING FLOATING SALOON

Taken into Custody at Washington Island for Selling Liquor in "Dry" Territory

The following item, under a Martine date line appeared in today's issue of the Milwaukee Sentinel:

"Converting territory marked 'dry' on the prohibition map into territory that might easily have been marked "moist" proved costly business for George Fitzpatrick of Escanaba, Mich., the owner of a gasoline power boat which made a cruise to dry towns in Door county until the outfit came to grief at Washington Island.

Fitzpatrick with seven other men landed at Jackson harbor, Detroit harbor and finally at Washington Island. It became noised around among the "wise ones" that liquor was being sold from the boat. Warrants were sworn out and Louis W. Hanson of Sturgeon Bay swore in six deputies, not knowing but what the members of the piratical boat might make a fight. The deputies armed themselves with revolvers, shotguns and rifles, but they had no trouble in boarding the craft. Fitzpatrick and his helper, John Lindquist, admitted their guilt and were fined $100 and costs each, while nothing could be proved against the other six men and they were released."

FLAT ROCK HOLDS ITS PREMIER CELEBRATION

Great Crowd Enjoyed Festivities Held in the Grove There on Labor Day

The residents of Flat Rock together with a large number of Escanaba and Gladstone residents enjoyed a big time at the park near the settlement yesterday, the Labor Day celebration there being one of the most enjoyable ever held under the auspices of the Holy Family church.

The weather was ideal and consequently the crowd was of such size as to fill the big grove. The harvest dinner and supper were the big features of the day, about three hundred being served at each repast.

Athletic contests were held during the afternoon and horse races, both running and sulky races, helped to make the program an interesting one.

The young people enjoyed dancing afternoon and evening with Blank's orchestra furnishing the music.

Several visiting priests were present and assisted Father Beauchene in making the occasion an enjoyable one for all concerned.

DEATH CLAIMS MRS. HANNAH MCCARTHY

Mrs. Hannah McCarthy, who for thirty years had been a resident of Escanaba, died last night at her home 413 South Fannie street at 11:30 o'clock, after an illness of over ten months.

On March 4 last she underwent an operation for tumor and had never regained her strength.

She was born in Ireland fifty seven years ago and came to this country when but seventeen years of age. She was united in marriage to Bartholomew McCarthy shortly after coming to this country and while living in Calumet. The couple moved to this city thirty years ago and Mr. McCarthy died nineteen years ago.

She is survived by five daughters, Anna, Margaret, Kathryn, Jewel and Agnes, and one son Jeremiah, all at home. Thomas O'Leary of Butte, Montana, is a brother of the deceased.

Mrs. McCarthy was a member of the Catholic Order of Foresters and was a devout member of St. Patrick's catholic church. A good mother, a kind and considerate neighbor her death is widely mourned.

Funeral services will be held Thursday morning at nine o'clock in St. Patrick's church. Father Barth will officiate.

MINNEAPOLIS BREWING CO'S. CUSTOMERS TO TAKE A TRIP

Frank W. Aronson, agent for the Minneapolis Brewing company, wishes to announce that owing to the death of his father-in-law he will be compelled to leave for Minneapolis this evening. He was to have joined his customers in a trip to Minneapolis tomorrow evening. He will however meet them at the station in Minneapolis or at the brewing company's office in that city.

FIRE HORSE MAY HAVE TO BE SHOT

"Scotty" of Engine House No. 3 Breaks His Leg During the Night

"Scotty" one of the team of black horses at Engine House No. 3, North Escanaba, will have to be shot as the result of an accident which the animal suffered in its stall last night.

This morning one of the firemen went into the stall to feed the horse and found it lying down. It made no effort to get up and an examination showed that its left front leg was broken sharp off above the fetlock. Just how the animal happened to break its leg is not known.

The horse was one of the best looking and most valuable animals owned by the city. The firemen are protesting against shooting "Scotty" and an effort may be made to save him.

INDIANS HOLD POW WOW

Big Time on the Hannahville Mission Held on Sunday

The Indians of the Hannahville Mission held a big Pow Wow on Sunday at the mission four miles south of Harris. Not only were practically the Indians in this section in attendance but many others were attracted to the scene by the novelty of the event.

Indian games of all sorts were enjoyed, athletic contests were held and exciting pony races were staged. A number of dances featured the big day.

HOUSE PARTY AT AN END

Guests of the Misses Greenhoot Leave For Their Homes

The young people who have been the guests of the Misses Madeline and Marguerite Greenhoot the past ten days have departed for their homes and a most enjoyable protracted social function has come to a close.

The Misses Greenhoot provided every entertainment for their guests during their stay here and the city's young people left no stone unturned to make the visitors' stay here an enjoyable one.

Rev. O. C. Dahlager, John Rodvick, H. Johnson, Jens Jensen, Ingvald Iversen and Ellen Siverson have returned from Hancock where they attended the annual sessions of the Norwegian Lutheran church of this district.

Rev. Dahlager took a prominent part in the program that ended the several sessions.

PARENTS OF VANNER STARRINE ARE HOME

Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Starrine, Peter Wicklund and William Wicklund returned to Escanaba yesterday after an extended visit at their former homes in Sweden.

Both Mr and Mrs. Starrine had been formerly apprised of the death of their son Vanner, who was killed in a wreck of ore trains in the Northwestern yards only a short time after his parents left for Sweden.

It was thought best at the time not to notify the parents of the death of their boy but in some way Mr. Starrine learned of the accident while he was yet in Sweden. Not until after they had arrived in New York and were bound homeward by train did Mr. Starrine tell his wife of their son's death.

THE LABOR DAY BALLS ESCANABA TAKES FINAL OF THREE GAME SERIES

Held Last Night in the Clark and North Star Halls—Big Crowds Attend

The Labor Day ball of last night was divided into two sections to accommodate crowds, that despite the heat, packed the North Star and the Clark hall.

Although the crowds at both halls were a trifle large for comfortable dancing, those who attended apparently had the time of their lives. Excellent music was furnished for both dances.

EDWARD FRICKSON HOME

Returns to Escanaba After an Extended Trip Through the New England States

Edward Erickson Sr. has returned from an extended trip through the New England states, where he visited many of the famous summer resorts and spent some time as the guest of Frank Anthony, who is well known to many local people. Mrs. Erickson accompanied Mr. Erickson east, but did not return with him. She is visiting friends and relatives in the lower part of the state and will not be home for a couple of weeks. A portion of the time in the east was spent by Mr. Erickson buying goods in New York.
