Waiters in restaurants in Rome have been warned against carrying money to the cashier and change to guests on plates. "because investigation has shown that on all paper money there are disease germs." Commenting on the fact under the headline "Unclean Money," the Paris Martin says that, with a view to ascertaining whether coins were also unclean, scientific examinations were instituted and these results obtained: "On a ten-centime piece bacteria to the extent of 750,000 were found, with three per cent. mold; on a 20-centime nickel 140,000 and two per cent. mold; on a silver two-franc piece, 160,000 bacteria and one per cent. mold, and on a 20-franc gold piece, 220,000 bacteria and no mold." A 20-franc 20-franc note housed 2,000,000.

It appears that the Filipino women are not up with the march of progress. The question of dress there reveals the conflict of the old and new ideas. Perhaps it was the fault of the insular government in trying, though cautiously, to influence the customs and costumes of the female natives, but anyhow, the eternal feminine seems to have got the better of the first exchange of shots. The government paternally, though very tentatively, suggested that if the native ladies would consent to curtail a few inches of the trains which end their voluminous skirts, they would sweep fewer germs into their households. But the recipients of this advice, womanlike, refuse to see any distinction between skirts that just clear the ground and the hobble fashion, of which they seem to be fully informed. They scented in this proposal a scheme to put them into hobble skirts and indignantly rejected the idea.

A New York woman has dared to declare herself surprised that there are American girls worrying because they are so fat. She says their adiposity is due to lack of exercise. When they are going for a swim, she observes, they wait for their young man to come in his automobile and take them to the sea. When they go to the beach they do not enter the water, but recline on the sand. It is exercise that keeps superfluous embonpoint at a distance. The girl that will not exercise and loses her figure has no one to blame but herself—and the same thing is true as to individuals of the opposite sex.

A West Virginia man claims to have discovered that by treating the common firefly or lightning bug with a secret chemical preparation he can procure a light not inferior to that supplied by the tungsten incandescent lamp. His home, it is reported, is illuminated with the new light, the insects, captured by hundreds and chemically treated, being hung up in globes. Wouldn't he be a benefactor if he could discover a chemical that would get some good out of the mosquito?

Tramp clad in silk hose killed in freight wreck. Just another proof of the old adage: "Fine clothes lead to misfortune."

They are going to put phonographs in street cars in St. Louis. Why don't they use movies and have everybody riding?

D voice courts are still kept far too busy.

A $18 steer is said to cost the farmer $50. Men are given steers occasionally that eventually cost them more than that.

Jacksonville, Fla., announces a movement in favor of more clothes for women, but nothing has been heard from Yuma, Ariz.

It is fortunate that all the best poetry of love and practically all the best romances were written before eugenics became a fad.

It pays to keep the public amused. A popular novelist is just back from a long tour of Europe with his family, bringing with him 90 trunks.

Now that the navy has abolished "starboard" and "port" for "right" and "left," cannot somebody relieve the clash between "interstate" and "intra-state"?

A Philadelphia man says he has discovered a way to burn water. That's nothing new. We saw a man burning up a river in a motor boat last summer.

The man who has been furnishing motive power for a pen all winter is just making his annual discovery that rowing a boat is not as easy as it looks.

An expert advises blondes to wear colored glasses when they go into the sunlight. Which shows how much some experts really know about blondes.

The prince of Wales is said to make both ends meet by betting against his father's race horses. Still, that isn't as bad as betting against the home team.

That California man 107 years old who boasts of his bachelorhood should not crow too soon. Some woman may choose to marry him just to show that it can be done.

The mosquitoes and flies which were not swatted last summer in the annual war of extermination, are now singing psalms of victory over their survival with biting refrains.

The man who has written a great many words in a very small space has bobbed up again. This time he used a postal card and wrote 7,109 words on it when he might have been doing something useful.

New York has made the truly astounding discovery that the people prefer to pay for their own amusements rather than take advantage of those the city offers free. If this were not so, we should feel inclined to despair for the independent spirit that was once thought typical of Americans.

OFTEN SO

"Mr. Chatters is a pleasant man to talk to."
"Yes, if you can manage to do it."

How White an Insect Destroyer. Columbia county farmers, headed by M. Y. Kellar and Charles Dildine of Orangeville, are now busy organizing a quail protective association. They believe that the little Bob White is one of the best aids among the insect destroying birds that the farmer has. Experts claim that the quail consumes an average of one-half ounce of weed seed daily from September 1 to April 1. From June 1 to September the bird also destroys millions of insects.

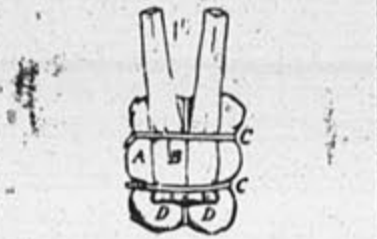

A CAPTAIN OF INDUSTRY.

"Is John prospering in the city?"
"Yes, he's just started a coöperage."
"On a large scale?"
"Now. He's begun with a bucket shop."

Unique Pack Harness.

When carrying a pack I had always been troubled with sore shoulders, because the straps were hard and sharp. To get around this unpleasant feature I hit upon the following simple plan, as shown in the drawing: Roll up pack (A), lay the extra pair of trousers (B) on the pack, fasten them with straps (CC), turn trousers legs down to (DD), and pin with horse blanket safety pins below lower strap (C). The trousers are soft and wide, and do not cut the shoulders as a leather pack harness does, and are handy for a change if you get wet. Use the pins in camp to pin a towel or a dish cloth to a limb to dry, and you will know it won't blow down. -Grant Thompson, Missoula, Mont.

Oil Fuel in the Congo.

Preparation are being made for supplying the Congo Railway and the various steamboats on the Congo River and its tributaries with petroleum for fuel, in spite of the fact that an almost unbroken forest covers the hundreds of thousands of square miles of this territory. A company is laying a pipe line along the old Congo Railway from Matadi to Leopoldville, and storage tanks have already been erected. The change of the locomotives to oil burners has begun. -Railway Age Gazette.

Mexican Plague of Field Mice.

Manzanillo reports that a plague of mice has visited the fields in that section of Colima, and almost destroyed the corn and rice crops. The rodents have gnawed away at a rate that alarmed the farmers and they have appealed to the authorities for some means to exterminate them. Whole fields of corn have been mowed down and the farmers are at a loss how to check the advance of the mice to prevent further loss. -Mexican Herald.

The Three Chinese Dragons.

There are three kinds of Chinese dragons—the lung of the sea, the dragon of the land, and the dragon of the air. The lung is the favorite kind, however, and has "the head of a cat, the horns of a deer, the eyes of a rabbit, the ears of a cow, neck of a snake, body of a frog, scales of a dragon, claws of a hawk and palm of a tiger." His special office is to guard and support the mansions of the god, and he is the peculiar symbol of the emperor.

A Japanese Coal Mine.

What is perhaps the most extraordinary coal mine in the world as well as the smallest, is situated on a tiny island in the Japan Sea, near Nagasaki, and has just sufficient room upon its surface for the shafts and the hoisting machinery. The workings, which are very extensive, extend in all directions under the sea.—Wide World.

Record of a Maine Stage Horse.

In his harness for 2,180 consecutive days and traveling 39,676 miles is the record of Lee, the stage horse of Moose River. Lee is owned by Jonas Holden, who transports mail between Moose River plantation and the railroad station, and in the past six years there has not been a day when he has not been in harness.—Portland Press.

English Riflemen.

Great plans are being laid in England to make the young men of that island good rifle shots. Many shooting clubs are being organized. In this connection the mayor of Westminster employs one of the best equipped miniature rifle ranges in London. The range is in the vaults under St. Martin's Church.

The Easy Way.

Commuter—The president road is one of those old-fashioned railroads. He began as a man. Instead of riding over to a private car to inspect it he over it.
"I don't blame him," declared a man who was making his first trip on the road. -Cleveland Press.

FACT

Local Evidence.
Evidence that can be verified.
Fact is what we want.
Opinion is not enough.
Opinions differ.
Here's an Escanaba fact.
You can test it.

Mrs. P. H. Connell, 327 S. Campbell St., Escanaba, Mich., says: "I had dizzy and nervous spells and headaches. My back ached and my kidneys were weak. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they did me a world of good. Others of the household, who suffered from backache, used Doan's Kidney Pills and were cured."

Re-endorsement.
The above statement was given August 18, 1910, when Mrs. Connell was interviewed on November 9, 1911, she said: "I have had no reason to change my high opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills. I cheerfully confirm the public statement I gave in their favor some time ago."

No Wonder He Fell.
Johnny Payne tells of an American tourist hailing from the West who was out sightseeing in London. They took him aboard the old battleship Victory, which was Lord Nelson's flagship in several of his most famous naval triumphs. An English sailor escorted the American over the vessel, and, coming to a raised brass tablet on the deck he said, as he reverently removed his hat:

"Ere, sir, is the spot where Lord Nelson fell."

"Oh, is it?" replied the American blankly. "Well, that ain't nothin'. I nearly tripped on the blame thing myself."

FROZEN FRUIT PUDDING. Beat well together the yolks of three eggs and one cupful and a half of granulated sugar. Scald one pint of milk, pour gradually over the egg mixture then return to the double boiler and stir and cook until thickened enough to mask the back of a spoon. Strain and cool, then freeze. In the meantime blanch and grate four ounces of almonds, shred very fine two ounces of citron and two ounces of candied pineapple; soak for two hours a half cupful of sultana raisins in sufficient sherry to cover, then drain. Add all these ingredients together with one teaspoonful of vanilla, one tablespoonful of brandy and the grated rind of an orange to the frozen cream. Work well together, pack in the can after dasher is removed, and stand over night, stand away for two hours to ripen.

THE REAL THING.
Great—See here, waiter, you don't want to tell me this stuff is mock turtle soup, do you?
Waiter—That's what it is, sah. It's lost done here do tell you k turtles for an in de market with de 'Jat's' er fact.

THE REAL THING.
"I asked her to marry me and she gave me a supreme court answer."
"What kind of an answer is that."
"Said she would give me six months to readjust myself so as to be acceptable."—Puck.

Lacrosse in the West.
The spread of lacrosse through the United States as an autumn sport is one of the most remarkable developments of late years," said H. I. Danmoeck of St. Joseph, Mo.

"The sport has taken firm hold of the people and is played as an acceptable substitute for football in many States. It has not been generally introduced in the colleges, although the Rugby or English style of football is gaining headway. But it is quietly being played by thousands of semi-professional and amateur teams which do not figure much in the public prints but are a vital factor in the sports of the middle West.

"The American style of football is bound to go, and when the Eastern colleges reform it will lose prestige everywhere. It will be followed by Rugby football and lacrosse in the middle West."

School Punishment in Denmark.
Flogging in the schools of Denmark was stopped, because of the following letter which King Christian found in his mail one morning:

"Dear King—We are four boys at Flakka'jerb School and the master whips us daily with a piece of steel rope he found in the harbor. If he doesn't stop there will be a fire."

The King visited the school, dismissed the teacher and had the boys treated to cakes and chocolates at his expense. Then he warned all teachers to avoid corporal punishment, saying that they must not make ruffians of the boys by ruffianly treatment.

Some More Beauty Hints

Sometime ago this department issued a bulletin dealing with various beauty remedies which could be prepared at home and which were running in various Michigan newspapers. Mrs. Mae Martyn. Mrs. Martyn purported to answer mythical correspondence in regard to their alleged needs for improving their styles of beauty both physically and mentally. Since the issuance of that bulletin Mrs. Mae Martyn seems to have dropped off the map so far as Michigan newspapers are concerned and the field is now being occupied by the "Home Beauty Parlors" of Betty Dean. We are not privileged to have the acquaintance of Betty but from looking over her effusions of home made beauties, they sound just like the same ones that Mrs. Mae Martyn was putting over on us. There is Spurrax, Canthrox and Getrox and all the other various lines. Perhaps Mrs. Martyn after using the superlative toilet articles was able to marry some sardine and thus change her name. At any event in the language of the Bible "While the hands are the hands of Esau, the voice is the voice of Jacob."

A correspondent who signs herself "Mayme" complains to Betty that she is rapidly getting as big as a balloon and the same shape and she wants something to bring her down to her normal weight. Betty has the something and advises her to put 4 ounces of parnotis in one and one-half pints of water and take a tablespoon before meals. She assures her that this will bring her avoirdupois down to the exact weight she wants it without any dieting or undue exercises. Parnotis, of course, has to be obtained at the drug store. It costs you fifty cents under that name but if you will get three ounces of baking soda and one ounce of sodium sulphate and mix and dissolve, you will have parnotis at the cost of about five cents which will cost you fifty cents if obtained at the drug store.

Another correspondent is troubled with falling eyesight. She complains that her eyes are dull and dim and she wants something to brighten them up. Betty has the something that will make the eyes bright and shining and relieve all soreness of the same. Absolutely "safe and inexpensive." All you have to do is to get an ounce of "crystos" and dissolve it in a pint of water and apply two or three drops daily. The result is supposed to make your eyes as bright as Henry Waterson's star-eyed Goddess of Reform. Crystos is to be obtained at the drug store for fifty cents. It is composed of boric acid sixty per cent, common salt 20 per cent and borax twenty per cent. For less than ten cents you can get a sufficient amount to make you "bright eyes" for forty years, providing the stuff works. We trust Betty will not change her name again after this bulletin appears because it keeps us guessing to recognize her under her various non de plumes.

James W. Helms,
State Dairy and Food Comm'r.
