

ATTENDANCE RECORDS ARE BROKEN ON ESCANABA DAY

Over Ten Thousand People in Fair Grounds on Escanaba's Day of the Big Exhibition

MAJORITY OF STORES CLOSE

Stock, Poultry, Farm and Garden Produce Judged Yesterday Afternoon and This Afternoon

SCHOOL EXHIBITS JUDGED

It was Escanaba's day at the Northern Michigan fair and Escanaba did itself proud. Almost with the opening of the gates this morning the crowd began to swarm into the fair grounds and at three o'clock this afternoon the largest crowd that ever assembled in the fair grounds here was in evidence, crowd variously estimated at from fifteen to twenty thousand persons.

The fairest of fair weather prevailed and Escanaba folks turned out in thousands.

Chilly, even chillier than yesterday, fair and Escanaba folks evidently did not mind the chill as long as Old Man was on the job and they went by wholesale.

Stores Closed in Afternoon

The closing of the stores this afternoon by practically all the merchants in the city, the closing of offices and a day off for the employes of many of the manufacturing plants, doubtless was responsible in a large measure for the size of today's crowd. The shops were closed for the day as was court house and city hall. In Escanaba proper it seemed a very quiet day-out at the fair grounds Escanaba folks, with great numbers from Gladstone and the surrounding territory, were having the times of their lives.

Exhibits Are Judged

Yesterday afternoon the judges stepped upon the grains, fruits, garden farm products of all kinds and made the expression of one of the judges, "It was some job." Apples, colored and bigger than an ordinary sized pumpkin, pears, peaches, plums, well everything is here and it's all of the best. Pumpkins that weigh forty pounds and as big as a man (a short man), squashes are bigger than anything you saw (except the pumpkins afore-mentioned), sun flowers, twice as big as hat, if you wear a big hat and the times as big as yours if it's a small one. The oats, the wheat, the garden produce of every description—well the judges have "some job." And there is a lot of strawberries on exhibition too. The miss the strawberries. Grown in Michigan and just off the vine. Everybody deserved a first prize on anything that he or she exhibited of course, they didn't all capture first and the list of those who did probably not be compiled for at least a week. There will be a thousand or so first and a thousand or so second and you may well believe the list is going to take some time to compile.

ST OF SERIES OF EXCELLENT LECTURES

E. N. Law Spoke Last Evening at Swedish Mission Church—May Return

E. N. Law delivered the last series of lectures last evening at Swedish Mission church and an audience turned out to hear her. Law is without doubt one of the most interesting talkers it has been the pleasure of local people and many are urging her to return for another series of lectures. She left this morning for Crystal Lake and it is possible that after doing a series of lectures there she will decide to return to Escanaba.

SEN. BURTON ATTACKS PENDING CURRENCY BILL

Condemns Regional Reserve Bank Plan But Aims Chief Criticism at Federal Reserve Board

(By Associated Press.) Richmond, Va., September 18.—Senator Theodor Burton attacked the Democratic currency bill, now pending in congress, in addressing the American Bankers Institute this morning.

He condemned the regional reserve bank plan but aimed his criticism for the major part, at the authorization of a federal reserve board for the control and issuance of currency.

TRAGEDY AT MARQUETTE

FORMER GLADSTONE WOMAN DIES OF INJURIES WHEN STRUCK BY AUTOMOBILE

BECAME A MOTHER YESTERDAY

Son of Deceased Buried Just an Hour Previous to the Time of Her Death

Mrs. George Johnson, a former well known resident of Gladstone, died at her home in Marquette yesterday afternoon at three o'clock shortly after she had given birth to a child and less than an hour after the last rites had been said over the body of her thirteen months old son. Both deaths were due to injuries received when an automobile collided with a buggy in which Mrs. Johnson and her son were riding.

Four weeks ago Mrs. Johnson and her son were driving in Marquette when an automobile, driven by Mrs. Howard Hall of Marquette, struck the buggy. Both Mrs. Johnson and her infant son were thrown beneath the automobile. The child died of its injuries on Tuesday and was buried yesterday.

Yesterday morning Mrs. Johnson became a mother and in the afternoon death claimed her.

The deceased was twenty-seven years of age and is survived by her husband and the son that was born yesterday.

A civil suit for $15,000 damages has been instituted against Howard Hall by Mr. Johnson.

SAM SMALL TO LECTURE HERE NEXT SATURDAY

Will Appear in the First M. E. Church Admission will be Free

Sam Small of Georgia, a lecturer of note, known from Portland, Maine, to Portland, Oregon, and from the lakes to the gulf, as "The Great and Only Sam," is going to lecture in the First M. E. church on next Saturday evening.

The subject of the lecture will be "His Majesty, The Devil" and the admission will be free. The lecture will start promptly at eight o'clock.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR WILL HOLD ANNUAL CONCLAVE

Escanaba Commandery Will Assemble Here on Thursday, October 2

The regular conclave of the Escanaba Commandery No. 47 Knights Templar, will be held on Thursday evening, October 2.

After the business of the conclave a smoker and general good time will follow.

FAIR OPEN ON FRIDAY EVE?

DEFINITE ACTION NOT TAKEN BY DIRECTORS BUT GROUNDS WILL LIKELY BE OPEN

MAY BE OPEN UNTIL 11 P. M. FRIDAY

Directors Not Fully Decided as to Whether Fair Shall be Continued Saturday

Although the fair directors have not yet taken definite action the fair grounds will, in all probability, be kept open tomorrow (Friday) evening until eleven o'clock. If this action is taken by the directors, as it probably will be, the Escanaba band will give a concert during the evening hours as well as in the afternoon and morning and a big time and big crowd is assured.

Whether the fair will be continued over Saturday will not be determined by the directors until tomorrow afternoon and announcement will be made in tomorrow evening's issue of The Mirror.

AUTO BANDITS OPERATE IN WEST TOLEDO, OHIO

Rob Party of Five of $2,000—Steal Automobile—One Caught by Sheriff

(By Associated Press.) Toledo, Ohio, September 18.—Herman V. Luytjes and a party of five were held up by auto bandits while motoring through West Toledo and robbed of money and jewelry to the value of $2,000. The bandits compelled the party to alight from their car and then drove away with both autos, leaving their victims in the road. The sheriff was secured and the auto tracks followed into a farmyard, where the bandits were found. They had run out of gasoline. Sheriff Weinland was wounded in a pistol battle that ensued and one of the bandits was caught.

MURDER IN MILWAUKEE

Night Watchman Kills Engineer Whom He Says Was Unfair to Him

(By Associated Press.) Milwaukee, September 18.—"Now I've got you, you dog," exclaimed John Grabowski, a night watchman, as he shot and killed George Arnold, chief engineer of a hosiery company. Arnold, who was seated at his desk when the fatal shot was fired, staggered into the engine room and told the men that he had been shot. Grabowski sat in a chair and waited for the police. He justified his action by the statement that Arnold had been unfair to him.

BASEBALL PLAYERS HERE

Steiny Arnsen and R. Baum Return to Escanaba From Cadillac

Steiny Arnsen and R. Baum have returned to Escanaba from Cadillac where they were prominent factors in the Southern Michigan league. Arnsen held down the third sack and captained the aggregation while Baum played the fag end of the season in the outfield. Arnsen has been sold to the Terre Haute team in the Central league.

CREDIT DUE J. A. ALLO

Responsible in a Great Measure for Fine Appearance of Band When on Parade

J. A. Allo, who has given his services as drum major to the Escanaba Military band, is responsible in no small measure for the fine appearance and impression the band has made. Mr. Allo thoroughly understands band marching tactics and attired in his natty uniform of either white or blue adds considerable to the appearance of the organization when on parade.

FRIDAY AT THE FAIR

DELTA HOTEL OPEN IV. 15

MANAGER MERRILL TAKES AUTO TRIP FROM FOND DU LAC AND THINKS EVENING IN RACINE

FURNISHINGS ARE PURCHASED

Will Move to Escanaba Early in October to Superintendent Furnishing of Hotel

A. N. Merritt of Fond du Lac, a member of the Wisconsin Hotel company firm conducting the Palmer house in Fond du Lac and who has been chosen as manager of the new Delta hotel now in process of erection in this city, has returned to Fond du Lac after spending a few days in the city. He was accompanied here by Mrs. Merritt and by Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Sargent. They made the trip by automobile.

Mr. Merritt, after looking over the new hotel, was unable to state the precise time of its opening but said that it would probably be on November 15.

Mr. Merritt will move to Escanaba from Fond du Lac the first part of the coming month and will personally superintend the furnishing of the hotel. All the furnishings have been purchased and a considerable quantity of the goods have been delivered here. As far as possible the manager made his purchases through local merchants.

The hotel is speedily nearing completion. The partitions have been erected on all floors, the plumbing is actually completed and barring delays the opening should occur on November 15.

HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING EMPTIED IN ONE MINUTE

Fire Drill Held This Morning and Students Get Out of Building in Record Time

Fire drill was held this morning in the high school, the first held this year.

At the sound of the gong the students arose and marched out in orderly fashion and although some of the classes marched from the third story of the building it was cleared in a little less than a minute's time.

The state law requires that fire drill be held monthly in all schools. This was the first to be held this school year.

SIX SPEEDERS ARE ARRESTED

SIX ALLEGED SPEED-LAW-BREAKERS WILL BE ARRAIGNED BEFORE JUDGE MCEWEN TOMORROW

ALL SIX DENY THEIR GUILT

Motorcycle Cop Gets Busy and Autos Enroute to and From Fair Are Nabbed

As a result of the activities of Motorcycle Cop Carney, six automobile drivers will, tomorrow morning at nine o'clock, have to answer charges of exceeding the speed limit within the corporate limits of the city of Escanaba.

Yesterday morning the police were notified that the automobiles on Stephenson and Hartnett avenue, enroute to and from the fair grounds, were "burning up the road." In the afternoon Carney mounted his Thor and kept tab on the autoists.

When a car passed him that seemed to be exceeding the fifteen mile limit speed after them, caught up and ran along in the rear for a distance. By watching the speedometer on his own machine he ascertained the speed of the auto in front and where twenty miles an hour had been exceeded Carney caused warrants to be issued for the arrest of the alleged speeder.

As a result six warrants were issued and the drivers will appear before Judge McEwen tomorrow morning at nine o'clock.

The alleged speed law fracturers are:

Marc Pepin, William Ritcher, Theodore Olson, Walter Ritcher, William users and Thomas Ritcher.

All of the six deny that they were exceeding the limit prescribed by the ordinance, ten miles on Ludington street and fifteen miles on "other thoroughfares. On the other hand policeman Carney maintains that he used warrants to be issued for those who exceeded twenty miles an hour.

DR. MURET HAS A NUMBER OF ALIASES

Associate of Hans Schmidt May Have Been a London White Slaver

(By Associated Press.) London, September 18.—Scotland Yard has no record of Dr. Muret but they have an entry of Dr. Ernest, who is thought to be Muret. He was held for connection with a white slave publication and for publishing indecent literature.

Chicago—Detectives here are unable to trace the woman known as "Helen Green" and believed to have been the companion of Dr. Muret and Hans Schmidt. The latter was known here as Dr. Heid.

REPORTS LOSS OF $65

Well Known Flat Rock Farmer is Out Considerable Sum of Money

Ambrose Theoret, a well known farmer of Flat Rock, reports the loss of a roll of bills containing $65. Mr. Theoret does not believe that his pocket was picked and has offered a liberal reward for the return of the money. The money was lost on the road to North Escanaba or in the fair grounds.

CYCLE COP CARNEY AUTOIST ANOTHER ARDENT AUTOIST

Shortly before three o'clock this afternoon Motorcycle Cop Carney added another to his list of speeders. The autoist was informed that he had travelled faster than the limit and he will probably be summoned to appear before Judge McEwen tomorrow with the other six.

CURRENCY BILL PASSES HOUSE

(By Associated Press.) Washington, D. C., September 18.—The currency bill passed the house this afternoon by a vote of 286 to 84.

MADE SUICIDE SURE

Thief River Falls Farmer Shoots Himself and Then Burns House Over His Head

(By Associated Press.)

Thief River Falls, Minn., Claus A. Hedeon, a well known farmer, made suicide sure last night when he shot himself and then poured five gallons of gasoline on a log house, applied a match and burned to death. He was unmarried and probably insane.

AN APPEAL TO THE VOTERS

DELTA COUNTY AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY PRESENTS BOND ISSUE PROPOSITION.

"A NECESSARY INSTITUTION"

Whether or not County Shall Own Fair Grounds Will be Decided at Spring Election.

The members of the Delta County Agricultural society have begun their campaign for the bonding of the county to raise a sufficient sum to buy and fully equip the county fair grounds, which project will doubtless come before the voters at the spring election. The appeal is made directly to the voter by President Strom who says, "You will no doubt be asked to vote upon the question of bonding the county to raise funds to buy and fully equip the county grounds at the next election.

"We believe that in three fairs, which have been conducted by our society, we have conclusively proved that a successful, broadminded and honestly conducted county fair, based upon the right principles of development and encouragement of agriculture, is not only a good but a necessary institution in this county. We believe that the county should take over the fair society's property and own its own grounds so that it can make permanent improvements upon them. The county could permit our society or any other agricultural society in the county to use the grounds and equipment for these fairs. In this way we could give fairs that are complete in every detail, and the management and conduct of the fair would be directly under the control of the people's officials, and successful, honest and satisfactory expositions could be held.

"If you believe our work has been along the right lines, and that the fair is a good thing for the county and its citizens and should be made a permanent institution, which it can be made only through the assistance of the county in furnishing site and buildings, we urge and request you to vote in favor of the proposition when it is submitted to the electors of the county."

Chicago—Detectives here are unable to trace the woman known as "Helen Green" and believed to have been the companion of Dr. Muret and Hans Schmidt. The latter was known here as Dr. Heid.

GATE KEEPERS HARD WORKERS

Fred Rankin and Nell Bartley Deserve Great Credit for the Maner in Which They are Handling the Crowd.

One of the hard jobs at the county fair grounds is tending the north gate through which all the automobiles pass in and out of the grounds. The gate has been in charge of Nell Bartley and Fred Rankin and they deserve credit for the way in which they are handling the work. It is some work, too, for great care must be exercised in getting the cars in and out without a collision.

SHOPS CLOSE FOR DAY

Employees of Northwestern Attended Fair This Afternoon

The employees of the Northwestern shops are this afternoon attending the fair. The shops were closed at the noon hour and remained closed throughout the afternoon. Yesterday afternoon the St. Paul dockmen attended the fair, all operations being suspended there.

CITY'S BEST AUTO PARADE

SEVENTY-SIX AUTOMOBILES AND THIRTY MOTORCYCLES WERE IN LINE LAST NIGHT

BAND GAVE EXCELLENT CONCERT

Street, Store and Motor Vehicle Lights Served to Make Scene a Brilliant One

The festivities on the street last evening proved a fitting close to the big day's program at the Northern Michigan state fair. An automobile parade had been freely advertised and the residents of the city turned out expecting to see perhaps twenty or thirty automobiles in line. They were agreeably surprised when at 8:30 the biggest automobile parade the city has ever seen moved west on Ludington street.

Seventy-six automobiles and thirty motorcycles were in line and the brilliant lights born by the autos and motorcycles with the string lights that overhangs Ludington street, and the light from the stores, combined to make the scene one of brilliancy and beauty. East on Ludington street the motor vehicles proceeded, circled the square about the Richter brewery back to Ludington street and east to the Ludington hotel. Around the square the automobiles and motorcycles formed in twos and again they proceeded west on Ludington street in that formation.

The band appeared on the streets prior to the parade and gave a most enjoyable concert.

PRIZES FOR CAKE AND BREAD AWARDED

Escanaba Women Capture First Prizes in Cooking Exhibits

The exhibit of bread, cake, pies, etc., at the fair is one of which the women of Delta county should be and doubtless are proud. A more tempting array of foodstuffs was never placed under one roof before and the judges who passed upon the major portion of the display yesterday afternoon had a task on their hands.

The judging of all the exhibits in this department has not yet taken place. The following winners were announced this morning:

White bread—Miss Veda Ludfeldt of 519 Elmoro street.

Doughnuts—Mrs. B. Leighton of Ogden avenue.

Rye Bread—Mrs. Joseph St. Louis of 513 Wells avenue.

Graham bread—Mrs. Ben. Burdick of Third street.

Sponge cake—Mrs. John Leach of Mary street.

Chocolate cake—Miss Alice French, daughter of Leslie French.

SALVATION ARMY OFFICERS

Colonel Marshall and Major Boyd Arrived From Minneapolis to Conduct Special Services

Col. Stephen Marshall and Major Boyd of Minneapolis arrived here this morning and tonight will conduct special services in the Salvation Army hall.

The services will begin at eight o'clock and everyone is urged to attend. Both men have attained prominence in Salvation Army circles and will be worth hearing.

BUT ONE ARREST MADE

Noisy Individual is Removed From Orpheum Theatre, Locked Up and Fined

Twenty deputies and six policemen are doing police duty in the city during the progress of the fair. The fact that but one arrest was made yesterday is flattering to the city. Last evening a noisy individual was removed from the Orpheum theatre and locked up. This morning he was assessed $5 and costs.

THINK REMAINS REVEAL MURDER OF A WOODSMAN

Bones First Thought Those of Oconto Man Now Believed to Be Those of Woodsman.

At Rhinelander it is not believed that the bones of a man found at Gagen, not far from Rhinelander last week, were those of Alex El Silger, a former Marinette and Oconto man, who disappeared about eight years ago. It was the opinion of John Nelson, a well known Marinette lumberman, that the remains were those of El Silger.

The bones were found near where El Silger disappeared and El Silger was carrying an ax when he disappeared. An ax was found beside the remains. The Rhinelander News in speaking of the finding of the remains says it may be a case of murder. The

News says:

Skull Smashed.
"The charred bones of an unknown man were discovered about one-half mile north of Gagen Saturday by James Antone, an Indian, who was working in that vicinity.

"The bones when discovered were partly burnt and covered by two or three half burnt logs.
"The skull was smashed on one side and an ax found nearby gave evidence that the man was victim of foul play. Part of a vest was found underneath the bones and fifteen cents in one of the pockets also a piece of a shirt or 'jumper' usually worn by lumberjacks.

"The bones were discovered about thirty rods off the highway, and from their decomposed condition it is the opinion of Coroner Decanter that they have been there about four years.

Leaves With a Stranger.
"About four years ago a woodsman named John Lund, who was working at Gagen mysteriously disappeared and the bones are believed to be his. One night when under the influence of liquor, Lund made a threat of going back to Michigan, his former home, and squealing on a gang there, saying that if he told the authorities what he knew the whole bunch would go to jail. Some two weeks later a stranger appeared in camp and persuaded Lund to go to Crandon to work with him. They left camp and since then nothing has been heard of either. Lund's particular employment was in getting out cedar. In this employment a special ax is used, and the ax found near the bones is the same as that used and carried by Lund. He also had a month's wages coming at the camp when he left that were never called for, an unusual thing for men of his employment to do.

No Clue to Guilty One.
"District Attorney A. J. O'Mella, Sheriff Chas. Amsundson and Coroner Chas. Decanter made a trip to Gagen Sunday and a short inquest was held. The bones are being held by Coroner Decanter, pending an investigation.

"The authorities are without a clue as to any relatives of Lund or where he lived previous to his coming to Gagen."

FAIR PROGRAM FOLLOWED OUT IN ITS ENTIRETY

Escanaba Military Band Figures Prominently in the Day's Festivities

The fair program was carried out in its entirety today. At nine o'clock the Escanaba Military band marched to the fair grounds and in its wake followed a large number.

At 11:30 the Delzarros gave their excellent free aerial attraction. At twelve o'clock the band returned to the city and marched to the fair ground again at 1:15. At two o'clock the band paraded about the fair grounds and at 2:30 o'clock DeVitt and DeVitt gave their free act, followed by the slack wire artists.

Self-Improvement.
Be at war with your vices, at peace with your neighbors, and let every new year find you a better man—Franklin.

CHILDREN TO COMPETE

Athletes Will Compete For Prizes Offered by Merchants of the City

Tomorrow is children's day at the fair and a special program of athletic events to begin at 1:45 o'clock in the afternoon and will continue until five.

The program as printed in yesterday's issue of The Mirror will be carried out in full. It includes a greased pole and a dozen other novelties. Substantial prizes are offered by the merchants of the city.

Zulu Girls Do Not Work.
The girls in Zululand are, not allowed to work until they marry, because the stronger they are the more their husbands will pay for them, so until after they are sixteen they have a good time. After marriage they do all the work for their husbands, who sit about and watch them.

And So Get Nowhere.
The reason some people never put their best foot forward is because they reserve it exclusively for kicking purposes.

REMINGTON UMC

AUTOLOADING SHOTGUNS

ANY way you look at it, the Auto-loader is the highest development in modern shotgun design. It puts five loads at your disposal by merely pressing the trigger. It puts the recoil to useful use—to eject the empty and slip in the fresh shell. It saves the gunner's shoulder—rids his sport of annoyances—increases his shooting average.

Your danger is that in your enthusiasm over the auto-loading principle, you may forget to insist on getting the finest embodiment of that principle—the Remington-UMC Auto-loading Shotgun.

The peculiar advantages of the Remington-UMC are too many to detail here. What you want to do is get one of the Remington-UMC dealers in this section to demonstrate them to you on the gun itself.

THE ISLAND OF THE STAIRS

A True Account of Certain Strange and Wonderful Adventures of Master John Hampdon, Captain, and Mistress Lucy Wilberforce, Gentlewoman, In the Great South Seas.

By RUS TOWNSEND BRADY

Sept. 1912, by Cyrus Townsend Brady

SYNOPSIS

Body of Sir Geoffrey Wilberforce, gambler and suicide, is found by a sailor. Hampdon quarrels with Duke of Arcester.

Duke breaks the news to Lucy Wilberforce and delivers a letter found on her body.

Lucy already has the other half of the directions for finding the treasure.

Hampdon punishes the duke for insult. Hampdon and Lucy start in a search for the Island of the Stairs.

Lucy steals a kiss, and Lucy has a vision of a cabin. Desperate she demands the map of the island.

Hampdon demands the map of the island. Hampdon demands possession of Lucy.

Hampdon has respect and offers to help her from the mutineers. The pair escape to the Island of the Stairs.

Mutineers become intoxicated, and Lucy and Lucy leave the ship for the island.

Lucy is carried over a coral reef to the island where she finds the treasure and escapes the staircase of stone.

Mutineers pursue them, but are repulsed by the reef, and Hampdon and Lucy search for the hidden treasure.

CHAPTER XI. Landed on the Wondrous Shore.

HOUGH our progress in the water laden boat was slow, it didn't take us long to reach the shore, which was there more than a strip of sand a hundred yards across at the point. It was as bare of any palm of my hand. I stepped on it after we had backed and hastened to disengage the precious cargo. The invalid and shot had been kept in flasks in air tight lockers and aft and were undamaged. After her landing had been in the boat a short time to be much was all water soaked. After an hour's exposure in the sun on the dry sand would make it as new. Spreading all out on the beach, I pulled the plug from the boat, the water from her and hauled her well on to the sand.

I glanced assured me that the coral formation, jagged sea with many a crevice and After we had made every shape I suggested to Mistress that we start at once. I proposed that we follow the sandy strip and see if we not some break in the cliffs we could get to the top and that was within the wall. And being ourselves and taking with provisions, for we might have around the island, we pressed out.

Very easy in my mind regarding the peril from the ship, for I had no boat she possessed could be as I had done, and even if I had another like the dinghy I found that there was no man that had the strength and anything of the courage, to through. If there were any wild beasts to be feared we must safe for the time being.

"You, Master Hampdon," said Mistress, "this is the island of ancestor wrote?"

"Are of it," I replied.

"I referred to it, if I remember the 'Island of the Stairs,' did as my answer. "You remembered a stairway about the island."

"If we are to get to the top of the wall it must be by stairs of and not be difficult to climb. "For a man, that is, he thing."

"At that?"

"Innacies of rock are as sharp it would be like climbing a. The climber would be cut before he had gone half way."

"We find no stairs we are in," she said thoughtfully, eyes towering wall.

"Must be stairs," I answered. "Let me be a way. The altitude must agree with your ascension and I make no doubt chance upon them."

I jumped along, searching the sea and finding nothing. After an hour's monotonous we had traversed about the distance of the island, and a projection of the cliff before us rose the stairs! I saw a gigantic stairway, but made of huge rough hewn stone, not coral harder stone of firmer texture, like granite almost. I was not familiar with the stone either. There was no symmetry about it, some of the stones rose perhaps three feet and others not more than as many inches, but stairs they certainly were and they surely had been made by man, and the stones were most carefully fitted, being laid up without mortar, the surfaces so close that I could scarce thrust a knife blade between. The huge blocks were of monstrous size, too, much too great in bulk and weight to be handled by any primitive mechanical means. I thought I never could conceive how natives or primitive men could have shaped them, moved them and finally laid them up in the form of stairs.

Nor did the stairs alone awaken our amazement and quicken our curiosity. They ended in a circling belt of sand. Here a little wider than elsewhere. At the bottom on either side, two gigantic statues or busts of stone had been erected. Their bases were buried in the sand, and they rose to quite twice my height above and I am good six feet and more tall. These stones were carved into the rough yet not unreal likenesses of human faces.

Why we had not discovered these stairs from seaward was because they didn't come squarely down to the water's edge at right angles to the wall, but lay, as it were, parallel to a niche within the wall so that they were somewhat sheltered from observation from the sea.

We broke upon them suddenly, therefore. Mistress Lucy clutched my arm. "The giant stairway!" she cried in amazement.

"It is indeed," I said, "just as it was set forth in the parchment."

"And the great stone faces," she added in a voice in which there was a touch of awe.

"Let us go nearer and ascend the stairs," I said, taking her hand and leading the way, and she was so preoccupied that she did not notice.

I observed as we approached the stairs that the rock had been worn smooth by the wind and weather, or maybe by the passing of many feet and were quite practicable for ascent. The angle at which they rose was steep too.

The ascent was easy enough for me, but hard for her, and several times I made bold to lift her up the higher steps, which she suffered without complaining. She told me long afterward that my manner toward her then and thereafter had been perfect.

When we at last reached the top before us lay a broad pathway rudely paved with the same hard stone. This road led straight into the interior of the island of which we could see as yet nothing, because the wall hereabouts was covered with dense, luxuriant vegetation. Progress was difficult even in the pathway. It would have been impossible in some places but for my heavy cutlass with which I cut a path where the place had become overgrown by trees and bushes which had forced their way through the cracks, overturning and breaking the heavy flagstones and blocking up the path, which it was evident had not been traversed for generations, perhaps not since the old buccaneer himself had walked along it beneath the spreading trees.

For perhaps a mile we pursued our journey across the top of the wall, winding in and out among the trees through the jungle, the path evidently seeking the most level direction, for the top of the wall was very much broken and irregular.

At last we came to an open spot on the inner edge overlooking the whole island, and before us lay such a picture as few eyes, at least of our race, had ever looked upon. The wall ended abruptly and fell on the inner or landward side as precipitously as it rose outwardly and to seaward. Before us lay a most entrancing valley, perhaps three or four miles across and maybe half as long again in the other direction and which was walled about on every hand. It was sunk beneath this wall crest for perhaps 100 feet or more.

In the center of the valley the land rose a little higher than the island wall in a very considerable hill, tree crowned on the slopes, but largely bare on the crest. Through the valley ran a brook, which ended in a little lake, which I suspected had some subterranean connection with the ocean. As far as we could see—and the whole circuit of the island was now clearly visible to us—the inclosing wall was unbroken. The valley was filled with clusters of trees and alternating stretches of grassy meadow.

We should have been hard put to it to descend the wall to the valley were it not for the fact that the same people who built the stairs that gave access to the wall from the sea had built a similar flight which led to the valley. Before we essayed the descent of the stairs we drank our fill of the beauty and mysterious charm of it all. Indeed, there was no sound that came to us except the twittering of the birds, of which there were many, brilliantly plumaged, flitting in the trees. All else was still, lonely, deserted, oppressively so in fact.

"What think you of this?" My lady broke the silence. "Is it not like the crater of a volcano?"

"No," said I; "these are coral rocks, and there is no sign of lava about them, yet it has somewhat of the appearance, especially that flattened hill-like in the center."

I have since talked with many men and studied the writings of the most learned geologists. They have fancied that perhaps the rocky projection in the middle of the valley, where we saw the great altar of sacrifice with its attendant idols later on, was the original island, which was once surrounded by a coral reef, which was now become a wall, and that some great upheaval had lifted the whole up out of the water in ages gone by and that the barrier reef over which we had passed was the second attempt of the busy little insects to surround the island again.

"What is to be done now?" asked my little mistress.

"I hardly know," I answered. "What is exercising me most now is, first of all, what is going on in that same mutinous ship, and, next, how we shall finally get away from here."

"You are impatient," returned my lady, smiling.

"Impatient for you, madam," I interrupted, checking myself from further self revealing speech just in time.

"One thing at a time," she continued. "By the favor of God we have escaped from the murderers and mutineers. We shall not starve upon this island, and I have no doubt that sooner or later you will devise some means of our escape."

It was past noon by this time. I made sure of it by looking at the sun and confirming it by my watch, which I most carefully kept running during all our sojourn on the island, which indicated close on two bells, 1 o'clock. Our talk of the ship recalled me to myself.

"I think," said I, "that we had better postpone the exploration of the island until another day and go back to our landing place. If I know the men on that ship they will guess that we have escaped to this island and they will bring her round to this side, where we may have them under view and they us."

"Think you that they can come at us?" she asked, in sudden alarm.

"I think not," I answered confidently, "but still to make sure I should like to have them under observation."

Well, to make a long story short, we retraced our steps over the broken path until we reached the stairs on the other side. The descent of them was much easier than the ascent, and by 2 of the clock we stepped on the sand again. There before us in the offing was the ship. We saw them quite plainly, and I doubt not they caught sight of us immediately also. They were scarcely a quarter of a mile away from the reef, perilously near, I thought, and we could mark them crowding the rail and staring landward. We could see them brandishing their weapons and we could imagine the yells which must have arisen from the decks when they caught sight of us.

The ruffians aboard the ship did not content themselves with simply staring at us, for presently they assembled on the port quarter—the ship was under all plain sail on the starboard tack at the time, the wind having fallen to a gentle breeze during the day—and clambered into the cutter, swinging at the davits. As she was lowered into the water, fully manned, Mistress Lucy drew closer to my side, seizing my arm with both hands.

"Let us fly! They are coming to take us!"

"Let us fly! They are coming to take us!" she cried in great alarm.

"But they are on a vain errand," I reassured her.

"But why? How can you know that? Oh, Master Hampdon, let us hasten away!"

"We have a protector," I answered confidently enough.

"God?" asked she.

"His handiwork," I replied as I indicated with a gesture the barrier reef over which the waves were breaking.

"But we passed it."

"Yes, in a tight dinghy, and you remember the difficulty and danger. They will never surmount it in the heavy cutter. They will not attempt it, trust me."

"But if there should be an opening?"

"I don't believe there is one," was my reassuring reply. "I have no fear that they can get at us."

"And we can't get to them," she answered more composedly.

"I have no wish to do," I laughed.

"You don't understand me," she persisted. "What keeps them out keeps us in."

"Yes," I admitted, "that is true, but for the present I don't mind being kept in so long as they are kept out."

She looked at me quickly and confessed afterward that my words begot some quick suspicion which she admitted was unworthy of her and unwarranted by any act of mine, but I looked so placid that it soon passed from her mind. As a matter of fact, I had not appreciated the significance of my words. I should have been perfectly willing, I should be still, to pass the rest of my life alone on that island or anywhere else with my little mistress only. I was happy then. I had got her to myself; she must look to me for everything. The naughty little queen of the quarterdeck was now the humble servant of my side.

WOMAN PHYSICIANS.

The status of a woman physician was discussed at the final session of the International Congress of Medicine, held in London, and attention called to the superior opportunities for women in the medical profession of America. One fact, however, has evidently escaped our colleagues of London and Berlin, that with the increase of these opportunities in the past 20 years the number of women attracted to the profession remains relatively the same, says the New York Times. There are no statistical data which show the actual number of woman practitioners in the United States; conclusions must be drawn from the census of the medical schools and the proportion of students, greater in the case of women than of men, who fall by the wayside after graduation, discounted from the number. These figures show if anything, a slight decrease within the past 10 years in the number of women studying medicine, a fact which is hardly to be reconciled with the opportunities afforded them for study at any of the medical institutions of the country on an equal footing with men students, and with such influences as the increased attention to children's diseases. On the other hand, taking up at random a report of the recent proceedings of the Royal Society of London, we note a woman physician's name prominent in the table of contents. Reflecting likewise at random, we can think of no woman physician in this country as noteworthy, for instance, as Dr. Maria Montessori, better known with us as an educator, but first recognized in her own country as an able psychiatrist.

Extravagance, oddly enough, is not a habit of the rich so much as it is of the poor. The Midases and Croesuses in every neighborhood are pretty careful of the dime. They have a thrifty habit of squeezing a dollar till the eagle screams—and not so much as it through miserliness as through the habit of conserving, saving. With wealth comes the instinct to save. Millionaires use the street cars, or probably walk. People with slender purses loiter about in taxicabs. Only the very rich and the very poor can afford to dress badly, is the saying. Who are the people who dine with such reckless extravagance after the theater in the cities? Among them are there many millionaires? Not many. They are more likely to be having crackers and milk at home.

An English historian has finally decided on the loneliest spot on the earth. Tristan a Acuma it is called, and it is an island hundreds and hundreds of miles away from its nearest neighbors. A tiny oasis in a boundless ocean, no matter which way you go. It is rocky, with a solitary mountain one thousand feet high. A shepherd community lives there, farmers, cattle raisers, etc. In the valley of the island are fertile fields where potatoes are grown, and the food of the people consists of beef, fowls and fish. The island formerly produced many fruits and vegetables, but they can no longer be grown there for the island is overtopped by rats, which escaped from a ship, and the people have never been able to rid themselves wholly of them.

Piracy on the high seas is now almost unknown and taxicab rates are being regulated, too.

DEFENDING THE AMERICA'S CUP

Syndicates Completed to Finance Building of Yachts.

HERRESHOFF IS EMPLOYED.

Veteran Rhode Island Ship Maker to Erect Two Contestants For Honor of Meeting Liptons Shamrock IV, Challenger Limited to Seventy-five Feet on Water Line.

Now that the conditions to govern the America's cup have been agreed on by the challenging and defending clubs, preparations for the defense of the cup will proceed. The syndicates that have been tentatively arranged will be completed and work on the building of the yachts begin. At Herreshoff's two defenders are to be built. Captain Nat Herreshoff at first wished to build only one, but he has been prevailed upon to undertake two yachts. One will be for a syndicate of members of the New York Yacht club and the other for another small syndicate headed by G. M. Pynchon.

William Gardner has designed a cup defender, and it is very probable that this will be built by Wood at City Island, N. Y. A Loring Swazey of Boston has been working to form a syndicate of eastern yachtsmen and has so far been fairly successful, but beyond remarking that there will in all probability be a Boston defender in the trial races Mr. Swazey does not care to say anything.

It is certain that this yacht, if built, will not be designed by a syndicate of four designers. That idea was promoted by a prominent member of the Eastern Yacht club of Marblehead, Mass., and the designers selected were George Owen, Starling Burgess, John Alden and R. B. Crowninshield. It would be some undertaking to get four men (naval architects) to agree on a design, and one yachtsman recently remarked, "The design might possibly be ready by the time the first race was sailed, but they never would agree on construction."

Limited to Seventy-five Feet.

The challenger is limited to seventy-five feet on the water line. The defender is not limited, and while the New York Yacht club declined to satisfy Sir Thomas Lipton that the defender would be about the same size as the challenger, that club will not take advantage of the deed of gift, but will build a defender about the same size as the challenger.

It is a disputed question with naval architects whether under the present rules and time allowance scale a large boat would have any advantage over a smaller one. It would have to allow time, and in the usual weather conditions of the American yachting season, it is not often that a big powered yacht can save its time over a smaller one. This has been shown many times this year. In the runs of the New York Yacht club the thirty footers often defeated the larger yachts.

The conditions give designers lots of latitude. According to the measurement rule, length is measured, but this length is taken in such a way as to limit overhangs, and should that length be greater than the rule allows the excess is penalized. Draft is limited to 16 per cent of the load water line plus 1.75, so that the limit of draft for a yacht seventy-five feet on the water line is 13.75 feet. Any excess is added to length. Then to find the rating after the length has been determined, length is multiplied by the square root of the sail area, and this product is divided by the cube root of the displacement.

As to Displacement.

The larger the displacement consequently the larger the sail area that can be carried, and the designer decides just how big a yacht he wants to build, making its form as easy as possible, and then figures out the driving power. In home races each new yacht has to rate at what is termed the top of the class. A yacht seventy-five feet on the water line will rate in the class between sixty-five and seventy-six rating. The designer consequently makes it rate as nearly as possible seventy-six, but in the international races this rule does not apply, and the challenger and defenders do not rate in any particular class. The designer can put on all the sail he thinks the hull can carry, and it is measured and the yacht rated for time allowance.

It has been figured that the average defender will measure about 102 feet over all, 14 feet draft and spread 7,400 square feet of canvas. If several are built these figures will vary, and the battle will be one not only of handling, as in the one design classes, but in model and sail carried.

Boston Releases Veteran Seymour. Bentley (Cy) Seymour, a veteran out-seider, has been given his unconditional release by Manager George Stallings of the Boston Nationals. Seymour, who was formerly a member of the New York Nationals, joined the team last spring, but had played only a few games.

"BIG ED" WALSH NOW IN THE OUTFIELD FOR CHICAGO

"BIG ED" WALSH, once the star pitcher of the Chicago Americans, has shown up splendidly as an outfielder on the team and is now playing regularly back of the diamond. And Ed is batting well too.

Like Cy Seymour of old, Ed demonstrates that a pitcher can make good in another position when his artillery wing goes back on him.

Walsh was the most consistent winner the Chicago Americans had in recent years, and his loss from the twirling mound proved a severe handicap to the White Sox. "Lefty" Russell, however, has now proved worthy successor to the western giant.

"Big Ed" says he likes the outfield work and hopes to continue in it for many years.

"I WAS DRUNK" SAYS PELKEY

Pleads He Was Under Influence of Liquor When He Spoke of Burns Deal.

Calgary, Alta., Sept. 18.—After a lengthy conference with Tommy Burns, his manager, Arthur Pelkey, heavyweight boxer and the second man in the ring when Luther McCarty was killed here several months ago, Sunday night issued a statement in which he retracted a "confession" recently made at Portland, Ore., in which he had declared that Burns and he had "faked" a match at Calgary last spring and that Burns did not owe him money. Pelkey declared that he was under the influence of liquor when he signed the Portland statement.

The statement issued by Pelkey "to the sporting world," said in part: "My story from Portland, Ore., saying that my contest with Burns was a fake; that he treated me mean and cheated me out of money is entirely false. Burns has been my best friend since I have been in the fighting game."

Pelkey declared that he signed such a statement at Portland under the direction of the sports editor of a Portland paper who dictated the letter. "I had just come from the hospital in Los Angeles and was sick," the statement says. "When I took the boat to Portland I was advised to take some brandy while aboard, and as I had not been in the habit of taking liquor, it put me in a state I never was in before. I was influenced to do so by would-be-friends, under conditions in which I would have done almost anything."

"In conclusion let me say Burns has settled everything satisfactory with me and does not owe me a cent. Burns and I are still together and will be until the end."

MRS. LOCKE NOW PART PHILLY OWNER

Philadelphia, Sept. 18.—Mrs. Blanch W. Locke, widow of the late Wm. H. Locke, has become a part owner of the Philadelphia National league baseball club of which her husband was president, at the time of his death, Aug. 14.

The will of the late Mr. Locke was probated yesterday, and it leaves his entire estate to the widow, who is also named as executrix. The estate is valued at 28,500, but it is said these figures are merely approximated. The will was written in July, 1910, when Mr. Locke was secretary of the Pittsburg club.

JACK COOMBS OUT OF GAMES

Philadelphia, Sept. 18.—"Jack" Coombs, a pitcher of the Athletic baseball club, hero of two world's series and until two weeks ago counted upon by Connie Mack to assist in winning this year's championship series, is in the University hospital and may not even be a spectator at the blue ribbon event of the major league Muscles of the pitcher's back, weakened by a recent attack of typhoid fever, were unable to stand the strain put upon them in his attempt to work into condition, and he will be placed in a plaster cast for several weeks.

Coombs contracted typhoid on the spring training trip but did not acknowledge his illness until the league season had opened. For a month following he was at the point of death.

VIA BALL TICKETS SENATOR SOLIDIFIES SELF WITH PAGES

Washington, Sept. 18.—Senator William E. Chilton today awoke to find his title of "Fairy godfather of the senate" firmly established by a unanimous vote of the senate pages. Early in the present session, the senator sent the youngsters to the circus, providing them with peanuts, pink lemonade and tickets to the side shows. Yesterday he was host to the lads at the American league baseball game. Today a riot could easily be started on Capitol hill were any aspersions or criticism levelled at the West Virginia solon with hearing of the boys.

"Gee!" said one of them today, ain't he fine! He's the finest man in the world!" "We-I," another considered very thoughtfully, with memories of the game still vivid, "he's fine, but Walter Johnson—as a pitcher—"

The two were prided apart by their juvenile colleagues. That indicated how strongly entrenched was Senator Chilton in the affections of the Washington youth.

Everybody's friend—Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, the great household remedy for toothache, earache, sore throat, cuts, bruises, scalds. Sold at all drug stores, 25c and 50c.

BASEBALL TOPICS OF THE MOMENT

Giants' Pitching Staff Stronger Than That of Athletics.

MACK'S BATTERS ARE BEST.

Third Baseman Shafer, Mainstay of the New Yorkers With the Stick, Two Boston Teams to Play For Hub Title—Connie Mack's Opinion of World's Series.

The batsmen and pitchers of the New York Giants and the Philadelphia Athletics are now being compared critically by the fans in anticipation of the world's series.

The Mackmen have made a better showing in the American league list of percentages than the Giants have in the National. Tilly Shafer, third baseman, is the surest hitter of the New Yorkers, while Baker, third baseman, is the best of the Quaker sluggers. The Athletics have an advantage over the McGrawites in batting, but the latter's pitching staff is probably the more reliable now that Jack Coomb's services are lost to Mack. Coombs will be unable to play a single game this year, as his attack of typhoid fever has sapped his strength.

Mathewson, Marquard, Demaree, Tesreau and Froume will, if they keep in good shape, prove a quintet that will give any team confidence on entering a series of battles for the world's title.

TILLY SHAFER, THE GIANTS' SLUGGER.

Looking at each team from all sides, however, the Giants and the Athletics are very evenly balanced, and the coming world's series should prove the closest and most exciting that has ever occurred.

"The coming championship games will be the hardest fought world's series that the country has ever seen," says Manager Connie Mack of the Athletics. "I have some youngsters who will give the Giants a tussle, and they are Brown, Shawkey, Houck and Bush. Now, mind you, I am going to have in this world's series two old-timers in Plank and Bender. These veterans took part in the first battle that I had with McGraw, also the second, and they are going to be featured in this series, providing McGraw and I win out."

"I realize that McGraw's club is stronger than it was in 1911, and I can see that my men have a battle ahead of them. No, I won't say that the Athletics will out-hit New York. I suppose a good deal will depend upon the break of luck. Neither Danny Murphy nor Harry Davis will get into the coming series, but they will be on hand with timely advice. My club fought the Giants in a disabled condition in the 1905 battle. They were right in 1911, and, although it is doubtful whether Coombs can come back, I will have a well conditioned team on the field this year. McGraw's club looks so much better than it did in 1911 that if I were a betting man I should say it was an even wager between these two clubs."

That baseball is the most uncertain of games was never better exemplified than by the announcement that the Boston Red Sox, present world champions, are to meet the Boston Nationals, who were hopeless tailenders of the league race last year, in a seven game series for the championship of Boston, starting Oct. 7.

Manager George Stallings has wrought such improvement in the Braves since he took charge this spring and the American leaguers have slumped so badly that the Hub fans have been clamoring for the arrangement of this series for some time.

All details were arranged and an agreement signed at a meeting between General Charles H. Taylor and President James J. McAber, representing the Sox, and President James E. Gaffney and Manager Stallings, representing the Braves.

ST. PAUL ADVERTISES CLOVERLAND FARMS

Attractive Booklet issued by Railway Tells of Advantages of Cloverland Farms

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway has just issued an attractive booklet entitled "Counties in Cloverland." It will be widely circulated and will undoubtedly be of great value to the district advertised and to northwestern Wisconsin.

Many of the views of the booklet are scenes on Menominee county farms. Among them are scenes on the Carpenter Cook farms and the splendid farm of M. Nelson not far from Menominee. Nelson's farm has one of the finest apple orchards in the Northwest, and views of it are shown. Scenes are also shown from the Roycroft farm at Sidnaw owned by Walter Prickett, a Marinette man.

The St. Paul road at the time has men at work preparing similar booklet advertising the county exclusively. This booklet will contain splendid advertisements for the county.

Any information other than in the booklets may be had from George B. Haynes, general passenger agent of the St. Paul, at Chicago.

ST. PAUL'S REPORT FOR FISCAL YEAR OF 1913

Operating Revenue Sums $94,084,054
an increase of $14,828,699
Over 1912.

The directors of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway on Monday submitted to the stockholders the report for the fiscal year ending on June 30, 1913.

The statement shows the operating expenses for the year to have been $62,883,967.60 and the operating revenue $94,084.63, an increase of $14,828,699.33, leaving the net revenue $31,200,087.03. The net revenue, outside operations, was $174,748.06. Taxes were $3,825,832.52, leaving the operating income $27,551,002.63.

The net corporate income was $18,140,744.95.

Carry Many Passengers.
The total number of passengers carried was 16,123,475, an increase of 1,233,538 or 8.28 per cent.

At the close of the fiscal year the funded debt was $268,367,154.66.

Work on the construction of automatic block signals and elimination of grade crossings is rapidly nearing completion.

Elevation of tracks in Milwaukee is in progress at an estimated cost of $2,000,000. When completed fourteen grade crossings will have been eliminated. Elevation of tracks is also under way in Bloomington and Chicago. This work is also estimated at $2,000,000 and will when completed, have eliminated thirty-five grade crossings. The tracks in Minneapolis are being depressed.

199 More Locomotives.
During the year 199 locomotives and 6,927 cars of various classes were purchased or built, including 7 gas-electric motors, 25 sleeping cars, 500 auto carriage cars, 4,487 box cars, 1,000 ballast cars and 20 passenger cars. Fifty-nine locomotives and 1,365 cars of various classes were destroyed by fire or wreck or sold or taken down on account of small capacity.

The entire property, investment, including road and equipment as shown by the report, sums $217,215,499.58. The purchase of the Chicago, Milwaukee and Puget Sound railway on May 24, 1912, necessitated an investment of large sums of money.

Statistics Sum Results.
Among the transportation statistics brought out are: Miles run by freight trains, 22,280,056; miles run by passenger trains, 17,389,993; average amount received per ton of revenue freight $1.9527; average number of empty freight cars per train, 7.462; average revenue per passenger per mile, 2.141 cents, as against 2.094 cents in 1912; average distance traveled by each passenger, 73.48 miles; average amount received per passenger $1.1447.

Manufacturers lead in tonnage in commodities carried with 34,805,491 tons. Products of mines were second with 9,047,802 tons.

FINANCIERS TO MEET

Michigan State Poultrymen's Association Selects Menominee for Convention.

Menominee, Sept. 18.—The Michigan State Poultry Fanciers' association will hold its annual convention and exhibit in Menominee February 10 to 15. F. E. Harrison, the well-known Menominee poultry fancier and exhibit judge, has just been advised by the committee designated to select the convention city that it had named Menominee.

Mr. Harrison went to the meeting of the committee in Detroit several weeks ago armed with papers from the Commercial club and extended a pressing invitation in behalf of Menominee. Grand Rapids, Sault Ste. Marie, Saginaw and other cities were in the field for the selection but Menominee's representative put up the strongest fight and won.

The Commercial club will furnish the association with a hall for its exhibits and also for its meetings and in other ways Menominee will show the visitors that it is glad to have them here.

Several Hundred Coming.
There will be several hundred of the state's leading fanciers present and the best poultry specimens in Michigan will be on exhibition. There will be prizes in the various classes and altogether the meet will be one of considerable importance. The fanciers will be here five days.

It is expected that Upper Peninsula poultrymen will be especially well represented and that they will endeavor to make exhibits that will compare with those coming from Lower Peninsula. Michigan is famed as a poultry-growing state and Menominee will see the finest and largest display in this line that has ever been brought here.

HOUSE ABLAZE DURING EARLY MORNING HOURS

Home of Mrs. Marian Thorsen on Escanaba Avenue Was Near Destruction by Fire

The home of Mrs. Marian Thorsen, 1019 Escanaba avenue, was threatened with destruction early this morning and the members of the family had a narrow escape from possible death when fire broke out early this morning.

When the family retired one of the members mentioned that they smelled smoke. An investigation revealed nothing and they retired. About three o'clock this morning one of the children awakened his mother, crying that the house was full of smoke. The members of the family hastily arose and found every room of the house filled with dense smoke. Mrs. Thorsen hurried to the kitchen to find the floor burning and the flames licking the walls.

A number of well directed buckets of water soon extinguished the flames.

ATTENDANCE RECORDS BROKEN ON ESCANABA

etc., were judged this morning and again the judges had a task on their hands. The I. Stephenson company and the National Pole company are both showing a number of cattle and horses but there are a number of other exhibitors of horses and cattle and although there are possibly not more than fifty heads of horses and cattle shown, a finer display could not have been made had the Upper Peninsula been fine tooth combed for the kings and queens of the equine and bovine world. A three months old calf and an immense stallion are the chief attractions, although none of the mare are slighted. Exhibition of swine is bigger and better than ever and there is one exceptionally fine pen of sheep.

Chantiers at His Best
The members of the feathered tribe are there in all their feathered finery, chickens of every degree and every size, sort and shape, turkeys, guinea fowls, ducks, geese and if there is any other fowl that hangs around the barnyard it's there too. The poultry were judged yesterday afternoon.

Judgment was also passed upon the dogs yesterday. A collie, a pair of wire chested, undershot bulls, so ugly that they are good looking, a pair of tiny poodles, several rat terriers, a French bull or two and several other canine bluebloods. Rabbits are there in profusion and a big black sleepy eyed cat, a beauty nevertheless, captured all the prizes in the feline classes, it is the only cat there. A woodchuck is entered in the special class and was awarded a special prize.

Fancy Work Without End
The fine arts judges began their work last night and completed it this morning. In this department there are nearly two thousand exhibits and the judges were not besought by anyone for their jobs. So far does the fine arts exhibits surpass that of former years that there is no comparison. Delta county housewives have outdone themselves in the weaving of rugs, piecing of crazy quilts, embroidering center pieces, table cloths, dresses and what not. The handiwork of an Escanaba woman Mrs. Bonson of Charlotte street, who is seventy-five years of age, attracted especial attention. She has on exhibition a rug, oval shaped, six feet in length and four feet wide, that she wove herself. The rug is of finest weave and was purchased the opening day of the fair.

School Exhibits Passed Upon
The judges especially appointed for the school exhibits, completed their work last night. The school exhibits can only be spoken of in the superlatives that one must use to describe any and every part of the fair.

A Good Natured Crowd
The big crowd was a good natured one. They jostled, pushed and scrambled but everyone smiled as he or she showed their way through the crowd and no one seemed to mind the impact of a foot, even though it found a pet corn. The Iron-Jawed man, the "cane you ring is the cane you get," the shooting gallery, the candy wheel, the Teddy bear wheel and the gypsy queen divided favor with the myriad of refreshment booths on the outside of the exhibition building.

On the inside the booths that were giving souvenirs were of course, the most popular ones. At the fair store booth a soloist and at the Columbia music store a quartette found much favor.

STATE VALUES LIFE AT $7,000

State Accident Board Gives Definite Figures On Value of Toilers' Lives.

Lansing, Mich., Sept. 18.—The Michigan compensation act places upon human life a value which is something more than theoretical.

Under this act seventy-three fatalities during the closing quarter of the industrial accident board's first fiscal year cost Michigan industry $168,304. Never before has it been possible to obtain even an estimate of the cost of fatal accidents to Michigan employers.

It has generally been understood that it was considerable, but even when reduced to cold figures, there can remain no doubt, according to the members of the commission, that this tax is too great to be borne without making an effort to remedy conditions which are responsible for it.

Each Life Cost $2,000.

The average human life which was sacrificed during the months of June, July and August cost $2,305.53. In addition to this direct charge primarily, and ultimately come out of the consumer, there is the loss to the community which is estimated at $5,000.

Therefore, it costs in the final analysis $7,305.52 for the death of a Michigan workman.

Mines Heaviest Losers.
The mining industry in the iron, copper and coal mines of Michigan cost the operators $41,523, which would have paid the average wages of 2,528 mine workers for a period of one week, of which would have been sufficient to continue the wages of those seventeen men, had they lived and remained in active production, for a period of 150 weeks or practically three years.

Steam Roads Pay $33,000.
Fifteen fatal accidents cost the electrical and steam roads of Michigan during the three months covered $39,081, or $2,791.50 per accident.

In view of the present interest in the rate of wages paid in the upper peninsula mines, it is interesting to note that the average miner's dependents receive as compensation $3,442.63, while the dependents of the average railroad man receive $2,791.50, dependents of those engaged in the electrical industry $2,540.57; dependents of paper mill workers $1,751.25; dependents of employes in building trades, $2,296.42; of employes of lumber industry, $2,494.00; and of nineteen miscellaneous industries, $2,102.67.

Loss Could Pay 1,860 Men.
The steam and electric lines with the money which they must pay out for compensation could, had the lives of these workers been spared, engaged for the same price 1,806 men for one week's productive work, or they could have paid the wages of those fourteen who died for a period of 150 weeks and have profited from their labor.

The electrical industries of Michi-

EDGAR R. TIBBALS DIED TUESDAY

Well Known Resident Succumbs Following Operation for Appendicitis

Edgar R. Tibbals, who had been a resident of Escanaba the past four years died Tuesday evening following an operation for appendicitis performed several days ago.

The deceased was forty-three years of age and is survived by his wife and three small children. Previous to coming to this city he resided in Gladstone for two years.

He had been employed by the Escanaba Granite and Marble company as a marble cutter and was highly esteemed both by his employes and all his acquaintances.

The body was taken to Marlette, Mich., Wednesday morning for burial Thursday afternoon.

ANOTHER ESCANABA CASE

It Proves That There's a Way Out for Many Suffering Escanaba Folks.

Just another report of a case in Escanaba. Another typical case. Kidney ailments relieved in Escanaba with Doan's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. Peter Burby, 112 Wolcott St. Escanaba, Mich., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills did a world of good in my family and I gladly recommend them. One of the household had weak kidneys, the principal symptom being backache and pains across the kidneys. He used Doan's Kidney Pills and they made him feel better in every way." (Statement given August 18, 1910.)

When Mrs. Burby was interviewed on November 9, 1911 she said: "The public statement I gave in favor of Doan's Kidney Pills still holds good. I recommend this remedy as highly as ever. The cure has been permanent."

COOK BOOK IN DEMAND
 "Cloverland Cook Book" Selling Speedily at the Northern Michigan Fair

"The Cloverland Cook Book" edited by the Young Woman's Auxiliary and on sale at their booth at the County fair is in great demand. Scores of copies were sold yesterday and many orders have been left at the booth. The Cook book contains hundreds of tried recipes of the best cooks of the Upper Peninsula. Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, wife of the president has contributed a recipe. Without doubt this undertaking will meet with marked success in every way. The young women in charge have been greatly pleased with the interest shown in their new work and are pleased to show the book to everyone. Today marked the biggest sale of the fair and several hundred volumes will be on hand tomorrow to supply the trade. Every woman in the county should procure one of these books for they are of more worth practically than a score of untried books of a similar kind.

CREAM CITY DEFEATS CHICAGO IN SHIPPING
 The Far Greater Tonnage of the Wisconsin Metropolis is Recognized by Federal Authorities.

Washington, D. C. Sept. 18.—While Chicago is a much larger city than Milwaukee and makes the proud boast that in time it will surpass even greater New York, it has remained for Edwin F. Sweet, assistant secretary of commerce, and G. R. Putnam, commissioner of lighthouses, to announce to the country that the Wisconsin city is of greater importance as a large port. This is not news to persons familiar with shipping on the Great Lakes, but it was a surprise to official Washington and doubtless somewhat of a jar to Chicago folks.

However, the figures speak for themselves. The tonnage of the port of Milwaukee approximates 16,157,478 annually, while that of Chicago is 8,477,772. The fact is that the port at Milwaukee is always open while the Chicago port is closed by ice for months every winter.

LADIES! LOOK YOUNG DARKEN GRAY HAIR
 Use Grandmother's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and Nobody Can Tell. Brush it Through Hair.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold. Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the tonic at home or get from any drug store a 50 cents bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully and removes dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair; besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.
