FAIR GROUNDS OPEN TONIGHT

NORTHERN MICHIGAN FAIR WILL BE BROUGHT TO A CLOSE AT ELEVEN O'CLOCK TONIGHT

JUDGING COMPLETED THIS MORNING
Children's Day at the Fair Brings Thousands of Youngsters Out

At eleven o'clock tonight the Northern Michigan State fair will come to a close but the memory of the biggest and best fair the Upper Peninsula has ever known will linger until it is equalled or eclipsed by another.

After a consultation of the directors last evening it was decided to keep the exhibition building open until eleven o'clock tonight. The project of extending the fair until Saturday evening was abandoned.

Children's Day.
This was Children's day at the fair and the youngsters were there in great numbers. The students in the city schools enjoyed a holiday and they made the most of it. When the gates opened this morning there were at least five hundred youngsters waiting to swarm through and at four o'clock this afternoon there were full three thousand children on the grounds.

Athletic Contests Spirited
The athletic contests held this afternoon were so contested. Owing to slight delays they were still in progress at five o'clock.

The program as given in last evening's issue of The Mirror was carried out in full. The free exhibitions met with great favor and expressions of surprise at the quality and size of the various exhibits were heard on every side.

Stock Parade
At four o'clock yesterday afternoon a stock parade was held. Headed by the band the owners marched their cattle and horses once around the grounds.

Judging Concluded Today
Such was the quantity of the exhibits that it was not until noon today that the judging was completed. The officials have started to compile a list of the winners and it will probably be several days before it is ready for the press.

Tonight at the Fair
There will be plenty doing tonight at the fair. The Escanaba band will give a concert throughout the evening and all the exhibits will be kept open until after the gates close at eleven o'clock. The street program tonight will be abandoned.

Southern Farmer Praised
An Illinois farmer, who is visiting his vicinity, in speaking to a representative of the Mirror last night said: "I have attended all the state county fairs in Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin and I never saw farm garden products of the quality here on an exhibition here. We farmers down in Illinois have fallen into the habit of thinking that the best produce had placed all the choice soil of the best farmers within the limits of commonwealth. After I had a look at the produce at the fair here morning, I was willing to concede Delta county hadn't been neglected in the way of farms or farmers."

Record Crowds Attended
A crowd today was almost as large as that of yesterday and the attendance for the week so far exceeds that of either 1911 or 1912. The paid admissions today numbered close to

CHILDREN TO FAIR

Children Under Sixteen Years of Age Will Be Admitted to Fair Grounds Tonight Without Parents or Guardian

Children attending the fair after dark tonight will have to be accompanied by their parents or guardians. No child under sixteen years of age will be admitted to the grounds without being accompanied. The exhibition building will be kept open until eleven o'clock.

MADERO'S MURDERERS ARE FOUND NOT GUILTY

Military Court Decides That Former Mexican President's Death Was Not Murder

(By Associated Press.)
Mexico City, September 19.—The deaths of Francisco Madero and Jose Pino Suarez, late president and vice president of Mexico, were not brought about by punishable crime according to the decision of the military court. The investigation has been in progress six months. Mrs. Madero claimed that the men were murdered, not killed, when they were being escorted from the place to the penitentiary.

SOLDIER SHOT FROM AMBUSH

RANDOLPH HARVEY OF KALAMAZOO SHOT DOWN AS HE DOES PICKET DUTY IN COPPER COUNTRY

SHOT CAME FROM THE WOODS
Demonstration Planned For Sunday—Quincy Company Importing Strikebreakers

(By Associated Press.)
Calumet, September 19.—Randolph Harvey, picket at the Isle Royale mine, private in Company "A" of Kalamazoo, was seriously wounded when he was shot from ambush late last night.

A general alarm was sounded and the soldiers scoured the woods but found no trace of the assassin. The bullet entered Harvey's right arm and passing throughout lodged against his ribs. The wound is serious but it is not thought fatal.

A big demonstration is planned for Sunday next when John Walker, president of the Illinois Mine Workers will speak.

The Quincy Mining company is preparing to import strikebreakers. Thirty are expected to arrive there this evening and more will probably follow.

BODY OF WM. GAYNOR ARRIVES ON LUSITANIA

Taken to Home in Brooklyn—Will Lie in State in the City Hall

(By Associated Press.)
New York, September 19.—The body of William Gaynor was carried from the Lusitania to the Brooklyn home this morning. The funeral cortege passed the city hall and over Brooklyn bridge. Twelve honorary pallbearers, headed by William Taft, stood at the entrance of the home.

Private funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon. The body will then be taken to the city hall where it will lie in state until Monday morning. Funeral services will be held in Trinity church.

Rufus Gaynor, who was with his father when death came, is under a physician's care.

WILL HOLD INQUEST

Coroner Will Fix Responsibility for Death of Former Gladstone Woman

After investigation in Marquette yesterday afternoon, Coroner Prin, of Ishpeming, impaneled a jury to investigate the cause of the deaths of George Melvin Johnson, thirteen-month-old son of George Johnson, of North Third street and Mrs. Johnson. The jury viewed the remains of Mrs. Johnson and adjourned until 11 o'clock Monday morning, when the inquest will be held at Hager's undertaking parlors.

Mrs. Johnson died Wednesday, shortly after the funeral of her little son. Both she and the child had been thrown from a carriage in which they were riding on Monday. When an automobile, driven by Mrs. Howard Hall struck the vehicle from the rear.

TWO MORE ON SPEEDER LIST

MOTORCYCLE POLICEMAN CARNEY ADDS TWO MORE TO THE LIST—EIGHT WILL HAVE HEARINGS

JURY TRIAL TOMORROW MORNING
Alleged Speeders Will Fight Cases—All Plead "Not Guilty"

Two autoists were added to the list of alleged speeders yesterday afternoon when Motorcycle Policeman Carney served notice upon Nicholas Walsh and Chas. Brandenburg to the effect that they had fractured the ordinance limiting speed of autos in city to fifteen miles an hour. Eight drivers will now answer for their alleged speeding before Judge McEwen.

Seven of the autoists appeared before Judge McEwen this morning and pleaded not guilty. William Sauer was represented by counsel and demanded a jury trial. The trial is set for tomorrow morning at nine o'clock. A jury has been selected.

Marc Pepin's hearing is set for September 26, Charles Brandenburg will be heard September 25, William Richer, September 26; Theodore Olson September 26; Walter Richer September 23, Nicholas Walsh, September 25. Thomas Ritcher failed to appear.

All of the autoists refute the allegation of the motorcycle policeman to the effect that they were exceeding the speed limit and the disposal of all the cases practically hinges on the outcome of the case to be heard tomorrow.

Ninth Pleads Guilty
H. A. Gunderson was apprehended by Motorcycle Policeman Carney at a late hour this afternoon. He appeared before Judge McEwen on a charge of speeding and pleaded guilty. He was fined $10 and costs, amounting to $14.25 in all.

SWEDISH MINISTERS MEET NEXT MONDAY

Green Bay District Clergymen Gather in Gladstone Next Week

The Swedish Lutheran ministers of the Green Bay district, will hold their monthly mission meeting in Gladstone, Perkins, Whitefish, Isabella, Stonington and Ogontz next Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 22 to 25.

In Gladstone the program will be as follows:

Monday evening—The president of the district, the Rev. F. E. Sard of Peshtigo, Wis., will preach.

Tuesday evening—Sermons by Rev. F. O. Linde, of Menominee, and Rev. P. O. Dahlberg of Dagdet.

Wednesday evening will be devoted to a Bible discussion, introductory address to be given by Rev. C. A. Lund of Escanaba.

The president of the conference, Rev. A. T. Pant of Iron Mountain, will also be present Wednesday evening.

Thursday morning the visiting ministers will leave for Isabella to dedicate a new church there.

GLADSTONE BAND HERE

Arrived at Ten O'clock This Morning and Played During the Day at the Fair

The Gladstone band arrived here shortly after ten o'clock this morning and after making the trip to the end of the street car line returned to the fair grounds where they played throughout the day.

The Gladstone band has secured several new musicians during the past month and it is a credit to the city that supports it.

TWO COUPLES SECURE LICENSE TO WED

Herman Brukhardt of Lathrop and Miss Dora Themel of Escanaba this afternoon secured a marriage license. George Wagner of Oelwein, Iowa, and Miss Frieda Kostaki of Escanaba, also secured a license to wed.

SULZER'S LAWYERS LOSE OPENING FIGHT

Challenged Senators Are Permitted to Retain Their Seats

(By Associated Press.)
Albany, N. Y., September 19.—Gov. Sulzer's lawyers lost the first skirmish in the high court impeachment when four senators that were challenged by the defense were permitted to retain their seats. The reading of the long articles of impeachment has begun.

PLANNED TO KILL OTHERS

BELIEVE THAT FATHER HANS SCHMIDT WAS ABOUT TO EMBARK ON WHOLESALE MURDERING

BURIAL BLANKS IN APARTMENT
Police Search in Vain for Companion of Slayer of Anna Aumuller

(By Associated Press.)
New York, September 19.—Detectives rumaging through the effects of Father Hans Schmidt found complete sets of health department blanks, necessary for the disposal of bodies. It is believed the Schmidt planned other murders besides that of Anna Aumuller. Such blanks are issued by the department only to physicians in good standing.

The police have redoubled their search for Helen Green, who vanished after writing Schmidt a letter that she could not live without him. It is believed that she is in Chicago.

Schmidt is known to have made many trips to an apartment near that of the Green woman's which he rented under the name of Van Dyle. He often had a five year old boy with him.

URGE ADVANCE IN U. P. SCHOOL

Bureau of Research of Upper Peninsula Educational Association Outlines Series of Recommendations for Work That Will Increase Efficiency.

Steps to make supervision of the rural schools of the upper peninsula more effective, to increase the standard of efficiency in the teaching corps of these schools, a critical examination of the courses of study in the rural and city schools alike, greater practicality in the teaching of English a further accenting of instruction in agriculture in rural schools and a movement to socialize the community through the school centers are recommendations of the bureau of research of the Upper Peninsula Educational association that will be considered at the meeting to be held in Ishpeming next month.

In the forward to their recommendations the members of the bureau say they recognize that much good work has been done in the schools of the upper peninsula and that great success has been made the past few years. "However," it is commented, "they did not conceive it to be their function to enumerate these nor to point out particular excellences, but to state conditions as they found them. The following suggestions are made in the spirit of helpfulness, and with the consciousness that the schools are rendering an invaluable

DANCE AND MUSICAL

Held Last Night by the Knights of Columbus in the Elk's Hall

The Knights of Columbus musicale and dance held last night in the Elk's hall was attended by a large number of the castle and the members of their families. The musicale was an exceptionally enjoyable affair and the dancing was entered into with a zest.

DYNAMITES HIS FAMILY

IN FIT OF SANITY BLOOMINGTON MAN EXPLODES DYNAMITE IN MIDST OF HIS LOVED ONES

MOTHER MIRACULOUSLY ESCAPES
Father and Daughter Killed and Two Others are Fatally Injured

(By Associated Press.)
Bloomington, Ind., September 19.—In a fit of insanity Mack Hurst, a stone mason, today dynamited his home killing himself and one daughter, Maud, fatally injuring two other daughters and demolishing his home. Mrs. Hurst in some remarkable manner escaped. Fannie, aged thirteen, had a leg torn from her body and will die. Elizabeth, a six year old daughter, is badly mangled.

"We will all die together" said Hurst, after gathering the members of his family into one of the bedrooms of the house. He then threw a stick of dynamite under the bed and the explosion followed.

Mrs. Hurst knew nothing more until she was restored to consciousness at a neighbor's home an hour later. The bodies of Hurst and his daughter were found in the debris in the rear of the house together with the fatally injured ones.

Hurst has been out of work for sometime and had been acting strange.

FOUR ACTS AT ORPHEUM

REMAINDER OF SEASON
Especially Fine Bill is Showing This Half-Week

The Orpheum is this week offering its patrons four acts and for the remainder of the season four acts will be shown at the popular vaudeville house.

The bill this half-week is an exceptionally fine one. Everyone of the four acts is top notch. The grand opera travesty duo is a scream, Baby Yuma set the audiences swining yesterday with her dainty dances and catchy songs. The tap trio has an act of exceptional worth. Their barrel juggling is truly wonderful and the work of the magician is most mystifying. The setting used by this act is one of the most elaborate ever seen at the Orpheum. The singing and talking opening skit brought roars of laughter.

ACCIDENT AT MENOMINEE

Hugh Frink Fractures His Right Arm; Freight Car Smashed by Spreading Rails.

Menominee, Spt. 19.—While engaged in uncoupling freight cars this morning, Hugh Frink aged 33 years, residing at 2323 Sherman street, Marinette, suffered a fracture of one of the bones in his right forearm when his arm became caught between two cars. Frink is a brakeman on the C. & N. W. road and was working in the yard near the freight depot at the time of the accident. He was taken to St. Joseph's hospital where the injury was dressed.

Shortly after noon today, near the scene of Frink's accident, spreading rails was the cause of a freight car being bumped rather heavily against the end of the freight depot platform. No one was injured and the only damage as a result was a smashed end of the car and planks torn up from the platform.

MILITIAMEN ARRESTED

C. N. Hess and James Cody, recent arrivals in Gladstone, were arrested by Chief Danielson upon instructions received from the Chief of Police of Kankakee, Ill.

Yesterday a United States marshall arrived in Escanaba and last evening left for Kankakee. They are charged with stealing property belonging to the Illinois State militia.

DETROIT IS SELECTED

Chattanooga, Tenn., September 19.—Detroit has been selected for the grand encampment of the G. A. R. in 1914.

GHASTLY FIND BY FISHERMAN

BODY IS BROUGHT TO THE SURFACE BY MARTIN SANDERS FISHING OFF STEPHENSON DOCK

REMAINS BURIED THIS MORNING
Chief Iverson Identifies Dead Man as Christ Sorenson—Probably a Suicide

A ghastly catch was made by Martin Sanders while fishing off the Stephenson dock shortly before five o'clock last evening when he brought to the surface the body of a man, later identified as Christ Sorenson, a woodsman who is believed to have committed suicide about ten days ago.

Sanders was fishing off the north end of the dock and when he started to lift his line to examine his bait he was surprised to find that he was lifting a heavy load. Believing that he had hooked a log he drew his line carefully in and his astonishment at bringing the body of a man to the surface can only be imagined.

He quickly made his line fast to one of the piles and summoned Chief of Police Iverson who at once identified the body as that of Christ Sorenson, a woodsman, who had been making his home at Ford River. Coroner Carlson viewed the body and decided that an inquest was not necessary and the remains were removed to the Allo undertaking parlors.

Probably Jumped Off Dock
Sorenson was about seventy years of age and for twenty years had been employed in this section as a woodsman. His age prohibited him from doing a good day's work and was recently discharged from one of the camps. It is thought that he, despondent over his discharge, went to the Stephenson dock in the dead of night and leaped into the water to his death.

As far as can be ascertained he had no relatives residing in this country and owing to the condition of the body it was interred this morning in the Lakeview cemetery.

JAILED FOR NON-SUPPORT

Local Man is Sent to Jail for Thirty Days on Complaint of Wife

Oscar Bergeon was arraigned before Judge Glaser this morning on a charge of non support. The information was brought by Mrs. Bergeon and the arrest was made by Chief Iverson.

The prisoner was adjudged guilty and sentenced to spend thirty days in the county jail.

STORES OPEN TODAY

Change of Plans at Northern Michigan State Fair

Owing to the fact that the Northern Michigan State fair will be continued until eleven o'clock tonight the stores of the city did not lose this afternoon as announced.

It was the intention of the merchants to close this afternoon and open their stores this evening. The stores remained open however, this afternoon and will be closed tonight.

SPENT FIRST NIGHT OF MARRIED LIFE IN JAIL

West Salem, Wis., September 19.—George Evans of Chicago and his bride, spent their first night of wedded life in the calaboose here because the only hotel in the village was filled. In the other cell was a bibulous wayfarer.

CALA TIME ON THE STREETS

LUDINGTON STREET THROGGED LAST NIGHT—STREET DANCING BROUGHT TO ABRUPT END

FIRE RUN WAS SPECTACULAR
Young People Having the Times of Their Lives When Crowd Makes Further Dancing Impossible

Street dancing, a fire run and a concert by the Escanaba Military band brought out the largest crowd that has assembled on Escanaba's streets in many moons. The wide sidewalks along Ludington street were crowded from shortly after six o'clock until last night and everyone seemed to be enjoying him or herself to the limit.

Street dancing has been advertised on numerous occasions but last night was apparently the first time the young people were ready to enter into the spirit of the affair. With the band playing in front of the Erickson store and a large space cleared by Master of Ceremonies J. A. Allo in the street center, two selections were played with everyone waiting expectantly for someone else to start. During the third selection two young men started to do a "grizzly bear" and the ice was broken. In a short time "everybody was doin' it." Autoists ran their cars almost into the center of things, the big crowd surged forward and refused to retire so that the dancers were left only a small space. It was at this juncture that the dance was called off.

Fire Run Spectacular
The fire run proved an exceptionally spectacular affair. With an auto leading the three departments followed. With the horses on the lead run, firemen waving red lights the bells ringing and the crowd yelling the scene was one calculated to start the red corpuscles on a rampage. The run was made the length of Ludington street.

VAUDEVILLE CLOSES AT PETERSON OPERA HOUSE

Lack of Patronage Made the Venture a Losing Game—May Erect Another Vaudeville House

The vaudeville season, which opened about two weeks ago at the Peterson opera house, closed on Wednesday evening. Although first class vaudeville was presented the patronage was not such as warranted the continuance of the shows.

The Canadian vaudeville circuit, which sent the acts to Escanaba, will, it is said, endeavor to interest local capital in the construction of another vaudeville house in the central section of the city. The general manager of the concern is expected here tomorrow.

IS A DANGEROUS TOY

"Push the Button" and Get Jabbed by a Pin, Rather a Dangerous Pastime

Looking at an ingenious toy being distributed by a firm at the fair, a toy that shoots a pin into the thumb or finger when the button is pressed, a local physician said today: "People may not realize it but that is a more dangerous toy than a gun. Infection might easily result after the thumb or finger had been pricked with that point and just at this time blood poisoning is causing the doctors of this section more trouble than any other one thing."

LIBRARIANS TO MEET

Proposed Meeting in Ishpeming Will Be Held to Perfect a Permanent Organization.

The librarians of the upper peninsula, who last year organized temporarily, will perfect their proposed association in Ishpeming Wednesday, Oct. 10, the day preceding the meeting of the Upper Peninsula Educational association. Trustees of libraries are invited to attend the meeting, and the trustees' section will meet Wednesday morning, prior to the librarians' session, which will be held in the afternoon. The librarians are expected to arrive in the city Tuesday evening.

Miss Louis Spencer, in charge of the library at Menominee, was elected temporary president last year. It is expected that at least twenty-five public libraries will be represented here.

The program will include talks on library work, and the papers will be interspersed with musical numbers. Mrs. Mary Spencer, state librarian, of Lansing, is expected to be present. Mrs. Spencer has asked Superintendent Scribner to reserve a room for her in the high school for an exhibit of library work.

Mrs. Nellie Brayton, in charge of the Carnegie library in Ishpeming, will present a paper on "The Best Fiction of the Year."

PROMINENT GLADSTONE PHYSICIAN TO MARRY

Dr. G. W. Bjorkman and Miss Bertha Hord as Segersten to Wed This Evening

Dr. G. W. Bjorkman, one of the most prominent physicians of Gladstone and Miss Bertha Hord as Segersten, also of Gladstone, will be united in marriage by Rev. K. M. Holmberg at the church parsonage.

Dr. Bjorkman recently returned from a trip to Sweden and Miss Hord as Segersten accompanied him as a governess to his children. The announcement of the wedding came as a great surprise to Dr. Bjorkman's many friends in Gladstone and Escanaba.

LUCKY STRIKE has given greater delight to more millions of smokers than any other tobacco in the world — because it has been the best for fifty years. Men wise in experience will tell you they've stuck to LUCKY STRIKE all their days because nothing ever equaled LUCKY STRIKE fragrance and flavor. And nothing ever can, because LUCKY STRIKE — the original Burley brand — is the pick, the absolute, unqualified best of the world's supply of Burley tobacco.

Exact Size of 5-cent Vest-Pocket Tin

LUCKY STRIKE Roll Cut's new 5c Vest Pocket Tin? Here's what it means! No more annoyance, ever, from bulged out and sagging pockets. Instead, a neat, compact, half-the-old-size tin, which you can carry with perfect comfort and convenience. Shorter intervals between tins gives your tobacco no time to dry out.

LUCKY STRIKE is properly made and conveniently packed for the man who rolls his own cigarette. You get all the unspoiled freshness and naturalness of the true tobacco flavor, a spicy, rich, delightful fragrance and sweet, clean taste which will prove the sensation of your smoking experience.

FREE Leading dealers displaying Free Offer Signs have only a limited supply of Pocket Pencils and cannot obtain more. Take advantage of this free offer today, or you may be disappointed. Get a 5c Tin of LUCKY STRIKE and ask for a Pocket Pencil FREE.

Special Notice to Dealers

We want every dealer in Escanaba and Gladstone to be supplied with these Pocket Pencils. All dealers who have not secured a supply of these Pocket Pencils can do so by telephoning Otto J. Saichok at the Ludington Hotel, between 6:30 and 7:00 this evening. Phone No. 3.

are educated to deal with the problems of the rural community, and until appropriate equipment is provided by the school officials.

recognized by the school, namely, the socialization of the community through the school as a center. But as yet very little has been accomplished in the upper peninsula. The school building need to be open twelve hours a day rather than five or six. They are the property of the community—city or rural district—and not of the school officials, and the community should use them for discussing political, social, or economic problems; they should use them for reading rooms and literary halls. Of course such activities must not interfere with the regular school work, gatherings of all kinds must be properly supervised, and the building and property protected. If communities will open these public buildings and direct the social life of boys and girls, there will be far less reason to fear the social evils which are found in almost every community.

"In conclusion, your committee recommends, that this committee be continued or a new one appointed, to study the educational systems of the upper peninsula from the economic and social standpoints."

THE ISLAND OF THE STAIRS

Being a True Account of Certain Strange and Wonderful Adventures of Master John Hampton, Seaman, and Mistress Lucy Wilberforce, Gentlewoman, in the Great South Sea.

By CYRUS TOWNSEND BRADY

Copyright, 1912, by Cyrus Townsend Brady

SYNOPSIS

The body of Sir Geoffrey Wilberforce, ruined gambler and suicide, is found by Hampton, a sailor. Hampton quarrels with the Duke of Arcester.

Hampton breaks the news to Lucy Wilberforce and delivers a letter found on her father's body.

It contains half of a map of a treasure island. Lucy already has the other half. There are directions for finding the treasure.

Hampton persuades the duke for insulting Lucy. Hampton and Lucy start in a ship for the Island of the Stairs.

Hampton steers a kiss, and Lucy has him imprisoned in a cabin. Desperate men in the crew mutiny.

Fimball and Glibby demand the map of the island of Hampton, who pretends to join the mutiny. Hampton demands possession of Lucy.

He treats her with respect and offers to save her from the mutineers. The pair plot to escape to the Island of the Stairs.

The mutineers become intoxicated, and Hampton and Lucy leave the ship for the island, which is nearby.

They are carried over a coral reef to the island, where they find rude statues and mount a gigantic staircase of stone.

The mutineers pursue them, but are stopped by the reef, and Hampton and Lucy make a search for the hidden treasure.

They pass a strange altar surrounded by masses of human bones and skulls and find the cave mentioned on the map.

CHAPTER XII

Inside the Barrier.

WE trudged along the sand parallel to the boat, which was following the course of the barrier reef, seeking what I knew they would not find—an entrance to the lagoon and thence to the island. The lagoon narrowed in places, until had it not been for the roar of the waves in the reef a hall could easily have carried. I am ashamed to say that I used insulting gestures on occasion, whereat some of them stood up in the boat and shook their fists in our direction. Although I was sure they could not reach us, their presence was a menace and a barrier to us. After they had rowed the length of the island they gave it up and went back to the ship, which had followed their course.

By this time the day was far spent. We retraced our steps and came to the place where I had hauled up the diary. We were hungry. The provisions we had taken with us we had eaten during the journey. The first business was supper. I had noticed some cocoanut trees and other strange tropical fruits, so I had no fear of starvation. We could live on the island indefinitely; therefore I was not sparing with the provisions. We kindled a fire and made shift to boil some coffee. We had neither milk nor sugar, but the taste of civilization did us good. For the night I capsize the boat and drew it close against the coral wall, spread the sail and boat cloak upon the clean, dry sand, gave her one blanket and bade her take her rest. It was snug, dry and comfortable.

"But you?" she asked. "I shall do very well here with my boat cloak and one of the blankets, and I shall lie across the stern of the boat between it and the cliff, out of sight, but within touch or call if you need me."

"I am afraid," she said softly. "Nothing can come to you except over my body, and I am a light sleeper. Anything will rouse me." I said reassuringly.

"I would not have you harmed; either," she persisted. "I shall not be."

"There may be wild beasts."

"I do not think there is an animal on this island," I laughed, "and we have seen no signs of man. The ship certainly would have attracted the attention of some one had not the island been deserted."

"But those men out there?"

"You forget the rampart that God has flung about us. Now, madam, you can go to sleep in safety. I assure you."

"Before that," she said, dropping down on her knees in the sand and motioning me to follow her example, which I did awkwardly enough—I hope I am not a mocker or disbeliever, but I confess that I didn't often bend the knee—"we will have a prayer together."

She had slipped a little prayer book within her dress, and she now drew it forth from her bosom and by the light of the fire read the Psalm of David, which begins: "Out of the deep have I called unto thee, O Lord Lord, hear my voice." And then she prayed, using some of the old collects of the church and adding one of her own making in which she besought God to care for us further, while she thanked him for having raised up a defense for her in my poor person, only she did not so describe it. I listened very humbly, saying a heartfelt "Amen" at the end.

There was a silence for a little space when she had finished and in that silence I devoted myself before God to her service again and then she rose and gave me her hand.

"You have been a true knight and gentleman," she said softly, her eyes shining "and I thank you."

I could only take it dumbly and stare at her like the great fool I was, whereat she smiled brightly, although her eyes suddenly filled with tears.

"And now," she added: "God keep you. Good night."

I then kissed her extended hand, which she suffered without resistance.

I sat for a long time before the fire, thinking and making plans for our escape. The ship didn't give me much concern, because I was sure she couldn't come at us and in the end she must go away and leave us.

A long time I sat there until I finally fell asleep. I must have slept some time and soundly for I was wearied. It was she who awakened me. When I opened my eyes and saw her sweet face bending over me and heard her dear voice calling me I declare I almost felt as if I had died and gone to heaven and was being welcomed by an angel.

Our first waking thought was for the ship. She was still there in the offing. She had been here during the night. I could imagine what fierce debate and wrangling there were aboard her.

The day that passed was much like the afternoon before. Although we were by this time persuaded that the reef was an absolute protection, a vague possibility that they could devise means to pass it in some way kept us uneasy on the sand. We must have them under observation. We were eager to explore the beautiful vale inclosed by the huge rampart, but we did not dare to be where we could not watch the ship. We did walk along the shore and ascend the giant stairs in the afternoon, then, while she watched the sea within calling distance of me, I managed to penetrate the jungle with ax in hand, so that finally I made shift to cut down a cocoa palm tree, and we gathered as many delicious nuts as we could carry and returned to the shore.

That night the sun set amid lowering clouds. With a sailor's weather sense, I was sure that we should have a storm. Fimball and Glibby sensed it too. We could see them making things snug aloft and aloft. They were good enough seamen, as far as that goes.

The wind, if it came, would be off shore, and there would be no danger of the ship being driven upon our reef, but there were islands to leeward, which they seemed to have forgotten, which I remembered.

I explained all this to my little mistress as I made things snug for the night. She would be perfectly protected by the overhang of the cliff and the overturned boat, and I told her, although I left her alone in the boat, that the same overhang of the cliff would protect me from the wind and the rain if the storm broke. And so after prayers again and a long look seaward we went to sleep.

About midnight, so far as I could judge, I was awakened. The storm broke with all the suddenness and intensity of the tropics. Such peals of thunder and such flashes of lightning I have never witnessed, although I had been in many storms throughout the world. To sleep was impossible. Mistress Lucy came out from her boat and stood beside me as we leaned against the cliff while the storm drove harmlessly over our heads.

We could see the ship at intervals by the vivid flashes of lightning. She was making fearful weather of it. She was always a wet ship, and the huge waves fairly rolled over her. Once she went over nearly on her beam ends, and I thought she was gone. I didn't view her position with a great deal of regret either. Presently she drove off before the wind with a rag of her foretop still showing, and that was the last we saw of her or her men. We thought.

Storm bound under the lee of the cliffs, we passed long and anxious hours the next day, although our only misfortune was the inclemency of the weather, for we were completely sheltered, and we had plenty of the refreshing milk of the cocoanut to vary our other food. The second day after it began the tempest finally blew itself out, although the great surging seas still broke tremendously over the barrier reef and the spray shot a score of feet or more above the crests of the highest waves. It was only the reflex of the storm, however, for during the night the wind had subsided into a gentle breeze.

When we scanned the sea next morning there was, of course, no sign of the ship. Our first inclination, and there was none to say us nay now, was to mount the stairs, cross the wall and look for that cave. We had neither chart nor record left, we had but our memories to trust to, but we were both agreed that the cave lay in the inner wall and that the parchment said it was the central one of three adjacent openings which gave entrance to the treasure chamber. And we could get a bearing on it from the central hill.

Now I had noticed that the coral wall both on the outer and inner sides was honeycombed with openings, rifts, fissures and caves which, by the way, were more frequent and deeper on the inside face, why I know not. We should have been compelled painfully and laboriously to search the whole face of the cliff in its extent of fifteen miles or so, but for the further direction of the parchment. I was thankful that, sailor like, old-Sir Phillip had given us the bearing. How did his words run?—Something like this, my memory told me.

"Toe fynde ye mouthe of ye tresur cave take ye bearings alonge ye southe of ye three Goddes on ye Altar of Skulls on ye middel hille. Wh ye line strykes ye bigge knicke in ye walle with ye talle palmme, his tree, bee three hoales. Climbe ye stones Enter ye centre. It is thre."

Plainly our first duty was to descend into the inclosed valley and explore the hillock in the center. I made no doubt but that we should find some sort of an altar and more of those curious stone images there. If they still remained the rest of our task would be comparatively easy.

With this determination, therefore, we set out. As I did not know how long our exploration would require and as I rather thought we should have to make a day of it, we started betimes. Indeed, as we invariably retired shortly after sunset we naturally rose at break of day. I took along food enough for the day, knowing that we could get water from the brooks and certain fruits which I judged would be good for us from the trees.

We went directly to the stairs and mounted them. Delaying but little on the crest, we crossed it rapidly and finally entered the valley. It was with a feeling of awe that we stood for the first time within the vast cup at the foot of the inner stairs, completely shut out from the world by the great towering rampart of rock which entirely inclosed us. I had never felt so far removed from the world as then.

Outside, of course, the limitless ocean ran beyond the barrier reef, but one could follow it into the dim, faroff distance with his vision. Within the cup the gignce fell upon the rocky wall on every hand. It was almost like being in a prison for all its tropic loveliness.

Beneath the trees and quite invisible from above, a paved road or path, barely wide enough for four to walk abreast upon, extended straight across the island to the hillock in the middle, while smaller paths seemed to follow the course of the walls on either side. The ground was gently rolling, and the road, though overgrown in places and badly broken, was in much better condition than the broader path on the wall it was grass grown and tree clad. Indeed, we should have been hard put to it to have ascended it, so dense was the vegetation, had it not been for the fact that the path was continued around the hill constantly mounting. Where it ran the somewhat shallow earth had been cut away on the hillside and the rock surface laid bare. Of course this path was frightfully overgrown.

We ascended with the utmost care. I finally drew my little mistress, her face bedewed as well as my own, up the last steep ascent and stood upon the crest.

We could now see why the top of the hill had seemed level when we first looked at it from the wall. Indeed, the coral rock rose in a sharp escarpment eight or ten feet above the highest treetops, making a sort of tableland or platform. This level, probably artificial, had been paved with the huge, dark gray rock of the stairs and statues and pathways. I may say in passing that in all our exploration of the island, which however, was not very thorough or complete owing to the shortness of our stay upon it, we saw no quarry whence this rock could have been taken, and the only way of accounting for its presence was that it had been brought there across the sea by the makers of the monuments and stairs, whoever they might have been. They must have had large seaworthy vessels and adequate means of land transportation, to say nothing of a most considerable engineering ability to accomplish these mighty works.

Well, the level top of the hillock was in shape a parallelogram, in extent perhaps an acre and a half. It was the most curious place I have ever seen. In the middle of it, with its four sides parallel to the sides of the plateau was a huge stone platform or altar perhaps 100 feet long by 70 feet wide. Completely surrounding this altar, but some distance away from it so as to make an aisle perhaps ten feet in width, rose a line of huge statues carved, like those at the foot of the stairs, into the semblance of monstrous human faces. Not one of them was like another. There was variation in each as there is variation in human faces. All were ugly, but all were helllike and were singularly strange European.

top of the wall. I suppose the fact that it was sheltered protected it. We passed along it for a mile and a half without much difficulty.

Finally we landed at the foot of the hillock. As I had observed from the

FORMER ESCANABA MEN OPEN OFFICES IN DETROIT

Messrs Gallup Agents for Development Company—George Gallup Speaks of Montana Trip

George Gallup and son Charles, attorneys, yesterday opened offices in the Ford block in Detroit as representatives of the Frederick I. Davison company, fiscal agents of the Boston and Montana Development company. The Gallups were former residents of Escanaba and are well known to practically all the presidents of city. Mr. Gallup was recently in Anaconda, Montana and of his visit there an Anaconda newspaper says:

"George Gallup of the law firm of Gallup & Gallup of Saginaw, Mich., returned to Butte last night from a tour of inspection of the proposed route of the Butte, Wisdom & Pacific railroad. He was most enthusiastic over the prospects for the line. He started out last Monday with Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Allen and Arthur Perham, and made the trip by auto. They were gone three-days and visited the Big Hole country, the Elk Horn mining district and the French gulch mining properties.

"I was acquainted with the French gulch district," said he, "as I have been interested there and have seen it before. But the two other sections were entirely new to me. After looking over the Elk Horn district, I find it superior to anything I have ever seen in the line of a mining district. Surveyors in Field.

The surveyors have been in the field for several weeks and at present are engaged near the junction of the Big Hole and Wise rivers.

Mr. Gallup, who is a director of the new railroad company, left last night for his home in Saginaw.

POLICE SET SNARE FOR THIEF AND ARE SNARED

Dressed as Woman They Offer Bait to Purse Snatcher and He Gets Away When The Tight Skirts Hamper Them

Kansas City, Mo., September 19.—Two policemen, who disguised in tight silk skirts, went out to catch negro purse snatchers in the cafe districts last night, came to grief.

Edgar Wilson and L. C. Morely, modishly clad, stood on a corner pretending to wait for a street car when a negro darted up and snatched a purse dangling from Wilson's arm. Both ordered the negro to halt and when he refused they started after him. Their skirts hindered rapid progress and both were too modest to lift them. They went to a house to change clothes and the proprietor, thinking they were burglars, locked them up and held them until a police sergeant arrived and unravelled the tangle.

FREE POCKET PENCILS THIS WEEK WITH LUCKY STRIKE TOBACCO

The manufacturers of Lucky Strike tobacco have provided all the leading tobacco dealers of Escanaba and Gladstone with handsome pocket pencils, made by E. Faber, for distribution to all who purchase 5c tin of Lucky Strike within the next few days. These pencils are fitted with a burnished gunmetal finished case which encloses the pencil while being carried in the pocket. This Faber production is a convenience which every man will appreciate. One pencil is to be given free to each purchaser of a 5c tin of Lucky Strike.

Of the popular high grade pipe tobaccos, Lucky Strike was the first in the field. From the time of its first appearance the manufacturers of Lucky Strike have been steadily striving to put it into a more convenient form for the consumption of pipe smokers, while consistently maintaining its high grade, mild, fragrant qualities. It was first made as a plug, from which the smokers sliced it—then it was found advisable to put it in slice form ready to be rolled and put into the pipe—and now it goes to the smoker in ideal form in rolled cut in tins ready for the pipe.

LADIES! SECRET TO DARKEN GRAY HAIR

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark, and luxuriant; remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger.
