GRASPS 2300 VOLT WIRE

LEO DUQUETTE INSTANTLY KILLED AT GLADSTONE EARLY YESTERDAY MORNING

GRASPS WIRE WITH BOTH HANDS

Form Loosened High Voltage Wire That Hung Short Distance Above Sidewalk

Deliberately grasping with both hands a live wire that carried 2300 volts of electricity Leo Duquette, a well known resident of Gladstone was instantly killed yesterday morning about 6:45 o'clock. Doubtless morbid curiosity led Duquette to grasp the wire. He had climbed under the wire and then turned around and grasped it with both hands. During the storm of Sunday morning several wires about Gladstone were blown down. On Sixth street high voltage wire had been torn from its fastenings and hung suspended several feet above the sidewalk. Several men had passed under it previous to the time that Duquette met his death. No one witnessed the accident. Duquette left his home shortly after 6:30 p.m. and was going to work at the Cooper plant. He was seen by several persons headed in the direction of the plant. About 6:45 o'clock Mrs. Morconors residing near the scene of the fatal accident heard a piercing scream and looking out the window saw Duquette fall to the street. When he was facing in the opposite direction from which he had been walking, leading to the belief that he had walked under the wire and then slipped, had grasped it. When he was dead his life was extinct. Duquette was about thirty-one years of age and had resided practically all his life in the vicinity of Gladstone. He is survived by his wife and three small children.

SHERIFF CURRAN BACK WITH EDWARD CARLSON

Returned in Escanaba This Morning From Virginia, Minn.

Sheriff T. J. Curran returned this morning from Virginia, Minn., with Edward J. Carlson, who is charged with embezzlement by the Wear-U shoe company, in charge. Curran is going to the wreck on the Soo line at Hermansville. Sheriff Curran was called to take an automobile to the place where he caught the early morning train on the Northwestern. Carlson was taken before Judge Brown and asked for an examination Wednesday morning next. When Sheriff Curran arrived in Virginia, Carlson was in custody. ## INCREASE ORE SHIPMENTS

TOTAL TO FIRST OF OCTOBER IS CLOSE TO FORTY MILLION TONS

APPROACH 50,000,000 MARK

Nearly 300,000 Tons More Shipped From This Port Than Last Year

Shipments of iron ore during September were only 28,817 tons less than in September, 1912. The total movement to Oct. 1 amounted to 39,265,484 tons, an increase of 2,927,102 tons over the movement to Oct. 1, 1912. The shipments in September amounted to 7,258,413 tons.

Although shipments were smaller both in August and September this year than in the corresponding months of 1912, dock conditions were responsible for the larger part of the loss in August and the smaller shipments in September probably were due to lack of storage space at the furnaces and to postponements. So far this year the postponements have been light and the movement will hold up well within the range of predictions.

During October, 1912, the ore shipments by water amounted to 7,010,219 tons and in November 4,072,674 tons. The total movement between Oct. 1 and the last shipment in December amounted to 11,082,893 tons. If the same amounts should be shipped this year the movement for the season would amount to 59,348,377 tons. It is not expected such large shipments will be made. Persons in the ore business estimate a movement of about 6,500,000 tons this month and of 3,000,000 tons next month. This would bring the lake traffic for 1913 in the neighborhood of 48,750,000 tons.

Shipments this year and last were as follows:

Port	September		1913 decrease	To Oct. 1
	1912	1913		1912	1913
Escanaba	770,974	673,591		4,010,985	4,297,223
Marquette	566,178	418,242		2,567,578	2,573,694
Ashland	757,764	485,174		3,623,161	3,558,802
Superior	2,301,086	2,224,553		11,097,276	10,810,391
Duluth	1,652,735	1,938,823		7,729,187	8,830,726
Two Harbors	1,508,403	1,518,030		7,310,195	8,194,738
Totals	7,287,230	7,258,413		36,338,382	39,265,484
1913 decrease		28,817			2,927,102

CONFESSES TO KILLING 20

HENRY SPENCER ADMITS TO KILLING MRS. DEXROAT AND SAYS HE HAS MURDERED A SCORE

KILLED MAID OF HELEN GOULDS'

Asks Permission to Sleep Saying that he May Then Remember Others he Killed

(By Associated Press.) Chicago, Oct. 6.—After fourteen hours questioning, Henry Spencer confessed to the murder of Mrs. Mildred Allison Rexroat the dancing instructor and admitted that he has committed twenty other murders. He became exhausted telling of the unspeakable crimes he has committed and begged permission to sleep.

He said "I have killed so many people that I cannot remember them all but if you will let me have a little rest, I may be able to remember some more in the morning."

He told of the killing of two women in Delevan, Wis., a school teacher in Oskaloosa, Iowa, the wife of a railroad auditor in Minneapolis and some others.

He says that he killed the Minneapolis woman with a hammer and threw her body in the lake. Delevan dispatches say that there has been no murders there for a long time and the only death that was mysterious was that of Albert Jones who was found dead in his automobile, thought due to heart failure.

Among the other confessions made by Spencer was that of meeting, marrying and then murdering a maid that was employed by Helen Gould. Spencer also said that he killed a man and woman at Fox Lake, Ill.

While the police are satisfied that Spencer is guilty of many murders besides that of Mrs. Rexroat they have formed the conclusion that the confession has been exaggerated. Spencer's opium habit has doubtless caused a weird and grotesque imagination. When he was confined in Joliet prison on a charge of larceny he told of many murders but at the time was regarded as of unsound mind.

"LAIDLAW" STILL MISSING

Nothing has been heard of the youth who gave his name as "Laidlaw" and who is suspected of having stolen $32 in cash, clothing, etc., from a home on Wells avenue. The miscreant had a start of one day when the sheriff's office was notified and has doubtless made good his escape.

KIPLING BOY NEAR DEATH

EDDIE MILLER ACCIDENTALLY SHOT AT TWO O'CLOCK THIS AFTERNOON

GUN WAS IN HIS OWN HANDS

Brought to Hospital Here With Bullet in His Abdomen—Condition is Critical

With a bullet in his abdomen Eddie Miller, a sixteen year old Kipling boy, was brought to the Delta county hospital at five o'clock this afternoon. The boy's condition is such that but slight hope is entertained for his recovery.

The accident occurred shortly before two o'clock this afternoon at Kipling. The boy, the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Miller, was in the rear of his home with several other boys. They had a twenty-two calibre rifle and had been shooting. The gun was in Miller's own hands when it was in some manner discharged, the bullet plowing its way through the abdominal wall into the intestines.

The boy was hurried into his home and a physician was summoned. Temporary relief was given and the boy was then brought to the hospital here.

COMPLETE A LUMBER DEAL

J. P. KENNEALLY MAKES BIG PURCHASE FOR THE MCGILLIS AND GIBBS COMPANY

LAND LIES NEAR COOKS MILLS

Posts, Poles and Ties Bought From 13,700 Acres of U. P. Land

J. P. Kenneally, superintendent for the McGillis & Gibbs Co., of Milwaukee has just closed one of the largest deals in posts, poles and ties that has ever been pulled off in Northern Michigan. The transaction includes the purchase of all the posts, poles and ties on a tract of land covering 13,700 acres and was purchased from Connors & McCafferty. The land is in the vicinity of Cook's Mills. As fast as the products are cut they will be shipped to the big yards of the company at Gladstone, with the exception of the ties which will probably be shipped direct to the different railroads purchasing them.

Mr. Kenneally made the deal for his company and will supervise the shipping as well as the cutting of the products. It is not known just what amount of timber is upon this vast tract, but it must be a very large amount for most of the land is heavily timbered and posts, poles and ties will cover a large percentage of the growth.

ELKS WILL BANQUET

Local Order Will Feast and Enjoy Vaudeville Program Thursday Evening

The Elks will hold a banquet and smoker on next Thursday evening. The feast at 6:30 o'clock will be followed by a business session and this immediately after a vaudeville and motion picture program will be given.

BARTLETT IN GUILTY PLEA

FORMER ESCANABAN GIVEN LIGHT SENTENCE FOR FRAUDULENT USE OF THE MAIIS

WAS SELLING LAND ABOUT HILES

Confesses His Guilt in District Court at Milwaukee—In Jail Since Last March

Dan Bartlett, appearing in district court at Milwaukee, plead guilty to fraudulent use of the mails and was given a light sentence.

Bartlett, a former resident of Escanaba, was much in the limelight following his arrest by Melville Schallback, postoffice inspector of Marquette last March, since which time he has been in jail. The government meanwhile has made an unsuccessful effort to apprehend the men "higher up."

At the time of his arrest Bartlett was located in Hiles, Wis., near which place, he maintained he had found valuable iron ore deposits. He sent out statements to the effect that the ore had been tested with what purported to be assays signed by officials of the Michigan College of Mines at Houghton. These Bartlett confessed, were forgeries.

Bartlett had issued but a few of his statements before he was apprehended by the postoffice inspector. A few, however, had bitten and he had cornered a small amount of money through his scheme.

AGIGANTIC SILVER SET

2227 Pieces Purchased for Delta Hotel Through Farrell and Lohmiller

The largest set of silverware that has ever been received in Escanaba, arrived this morning and will be displayed in the show windows of Farrell & Lohmiller. The set of silver ware, which was ordered by that firm for the Delta hotel comprises 2227 pieces, which includes knives, forks, spoons and the usual outfit of holloware to be found in hotels.

The pattern is very neat and everything is of the best. To the ordinary housekeeper, a set of silverware containing 100 pieces would be a wonderful thing. Imagine a set containing over 2000 pieces.

UNITED STATES COURT

Convvenes in Marquette Tomorrow—Case Against Water Company to be Heard

United States court will convene in Marquette tomorrow and several local attorneys will attend. The case of the New York Continental Jewell Filtration company against the Escanaba Water company for patent infringement is slated for trial.

MATTHEWSON AND BENDER

VETERANS WILL PROBABLY OPPOSE EACH OTHER IN OPENING GAME OF WORLD'S SERIES TOMORROW

GAME IN DETAIL IN THE MIRROR

First Game at the Polo Grounds of What Promises to be Greatest Series in Baseball

What will doubtless prove the greatest world series in the history of baseball will begin tomorrow at the polo grounds in New York when the Giants and the Athletics clash for the world's baseball championship. Meaning that there never has been more interest in a world's series than that which has its beginning tomorrow the Mirror has made arrangements with the Associated Press whereby the game will be received at this office, complete in every detail. As the game starts early the complete content will probably appear in tomorrow evening's issue of the Mirror as well as each game. The Mirror is going to give its readers the best service that Escanaba has ever known for a world's baseball series and if you want to read about the game and read about it just as soon as it is concluded, you'll have to get the Mirror.

Matthewson, it is generally conceded will be McGraw's choice for the opening game. The veteran has taken so many world-series crowns that there seems to be little doubt but that the opening choice will fall upon him. Young Mack is also looked to, to see a veteran to the slab for the opener and that event his choice will doubtless be Bender. The series of 1911, fans will remember, started with the same slabsman opposing.

The lineup for tomorrow should be about as follows:

Philadelphia	Position	New York
Mcinnis	1b	*Merkle
*Collins	2d	*Doyle
*Baker	3d	*Herzog
*Barry	ss	*Fletcher
E. Murphy	rf	*Murray
Strunk	cf	*Snodgrass
*Oldring	lf	*Burns
Schlang	c	*Meyers
*Bender	p	*Matthewson

Umpire—Klem and Rigler (N. L.); Egan and Connolly (A. L.)
*Played in 1911 World's Series.

LONG SESSION OF COUNCIL EXPECTED

Several Matters of Importance Will be Heard at Tomorrow Night's Session

Council will meet tomorrow night in bi-monthly session and the meeting promises to be a protracted one. Bills are to be paid and a number of matters are to be considered that will doubtless occasion lengthy discussion. Two applications will be presented to the council for the position of city scavenger, made vacant by the death of William Martens.

Chief Meiers of the fire department will ask for permission to tear down the tower at No. 2 fire station. It is perhaps time that Fire Station No. 2 was torn down and reconstructed.

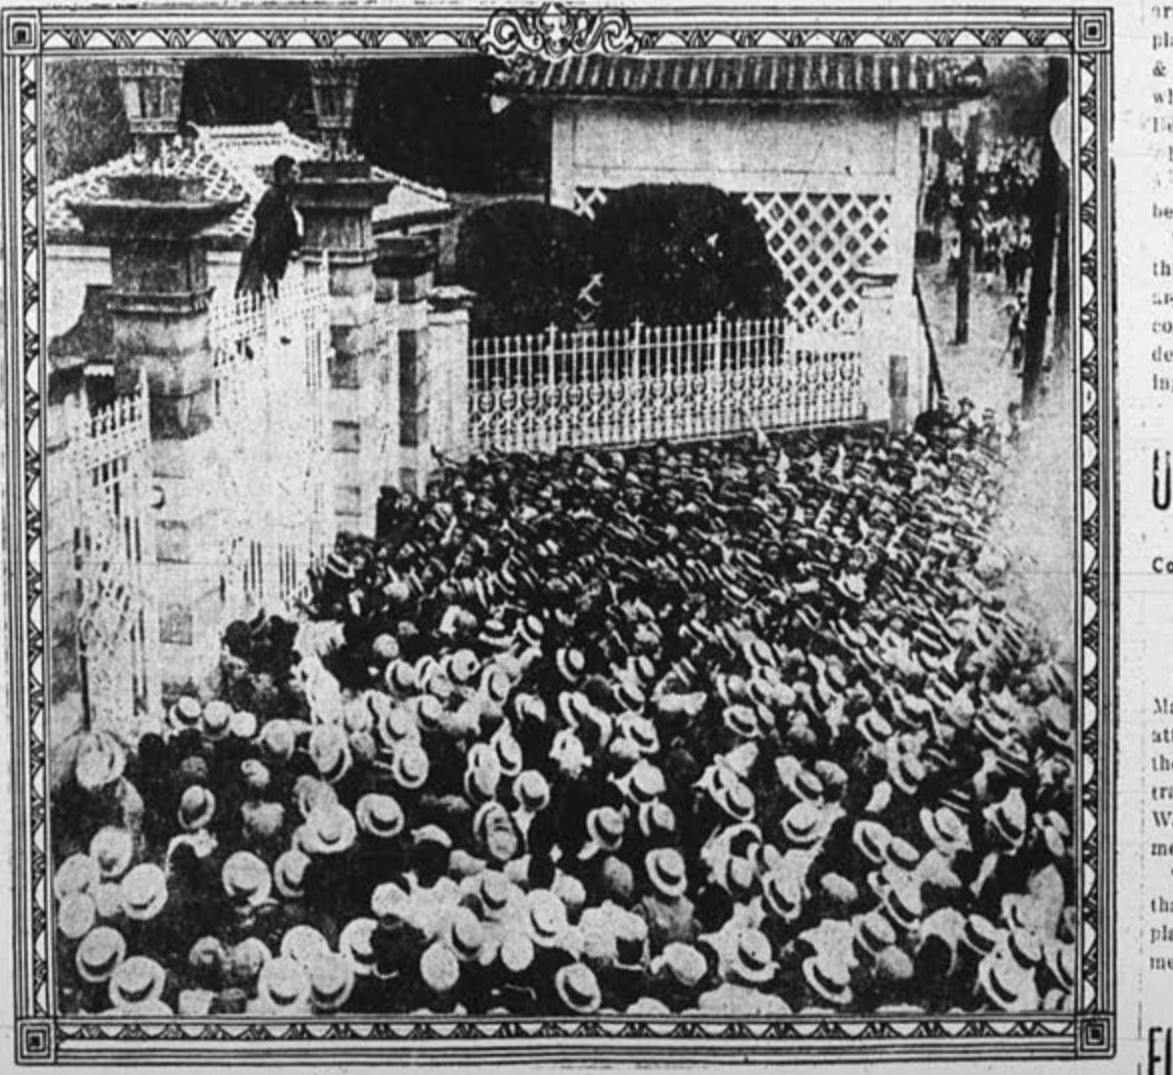

City Attorney Rushton is of the belief that the city attorney should be furnished with a complete set of municipal law, an acquisition with the city should doubtless have acquired years ago. At tomorrow night's session he will ask that the city purchase such a set in part at least.

FUNERAL IS POSTPONED

Body of William Martens Will be Interred Tomorrow Morning in St. Joseph's Cemetery

Owing to the fact that several relatives of the deceased could not reach Escanaba until this afternoon the funeral of William Martens, which was to have been held this morning, has been postponed until tomorrow morning.

The body will be removed from the home at 222 North Jennie street to the St. Joseph's church where services will be held at nine o'clock. Burial will be made in St. Joseph's cemetery.

JAPANESE MOB BESIIEGES FOREIGN OFFICE.

Mob of indignant Japanese citizens in front of the Foreign Office in Tokio, listening to the address of one of its members who was delegated to enter the office and interview the officials on their attitude in the Japanese-Chinese diplomatic embroilment. The gates had been locked to keep the crowds out of the grounds. This man entered the office and, after interviewing the foreign officials, addressed his fellows from the top of the gate.

The trouble between Japan and China started over the murder of several Japanese in China by Chinese brigands and revolutionists. The general Japanese public thought that the Government was acting too slow ly, and not aggressive enough in retaliating against China, and the indignation meetings were the result. At these meetings the Japanese Foreign Office was held up to ridicule and the Japanese Government accused of being afraid of China.

WONDERFUL INSTRUMENT

Denter and Wickert Purchase Orchestration of German Make

Messrs Denter and Wickert, proprietors of the Blue Ribbon saloon at 1016 Ludington St. have just purchased through J. F. Howard, salesman of Grinnel Bros., a Piano Orchestration of German make. This instrument is manufactured by M. Welte & Son of Freiburg Germany. These men have been building these instruments since 1832, and have received 51 awards at all the world's fairs and different courts of Europe. The instrument installed in the Blue Ribbon Saturday is the same make as the one at the Atlantic Garden New York city. It displaces an orchestra of ten men as it successfully imitates the following, violin, flute, cello, piccolo, french horn, xylophone, snare drum, bass drum, kettle drum, cymbals, triangle and piano. The case is of a very peculiar finish, having a dark body or background and interwoven with silvered lines. The ornaments and high points are ebonized. In the center of the case is framed a beautiful hand painted scene of 'sunny Italy. Across the water in the background is seen old Vesuvius in its stately grandeur. When the instrument begins playing there is seen a fine mist or vapor rising out of the mouth of this living mountain as one stands listening to the music suddenly a red fire and black smoke pelches forth from the volcano casting a red glow over the moving water. To appreciate this wonder of mans skill, one must see it in operation. Messrs Denter and Wickert are to be congratulated on their choice of a musical instrument.

SMASHES UP THE MACHINE

Angry Woman in Harris Township Destroys Property for Alleged Trespass

Angered at what she deemed trespass on the property of her husband, Mrs. Frank Slomski of Harris township, in Section 13, near the Metropolitan branch, a few days ago grabbed an eight-pound steel maul and broke every bit of gearing and the flywheels of a threshing machine owned by Michael Slaga, which he had left on their farm.

Last season Harris township paid Frank Slomski the sum of $15 to permit anyone to pass through on a road which runs across his farm and which is privately owned by him. This year the same sum was offered the farmer, but no word of acceptance or refusal was received from him. When Slaga drove across the farm with a threshing machine a few days ago he was stopped by the farmer. He then unhooked his horses from the threshing machine and proceeded to investigate the conditions existing relative to trespassing on Slomski's property. In the meantime Slomski's wife proceeded to destroy the threshing machine by viciously breaking parts of it with a maul.

Sheriff Kell has the matter in hand and as soon as the necessary evidence can be collected the affair will be brought into court for settlement.

Eve (A. M.)—Is that you Adam?
Adam—Now, m'dear—course's me—bliged to be, if it's anybody, y'know.

"The Kodak Club is to have a debate, I understand. How are the plans developing?"
"Everybody wants to take the next five."

SOME REMARKS
Some men are ambitious to go good; others to rich—wait!
Many a man has been carried under by the sheer weight of his own dignity.
"Peace at any price" is a man's motto. A woman wants it at bargain rates.
It is hard for a woman to hold her husband's love when she can't even hold her tongue.
Guzzler: "Good wine needs no bush." Skinnum: "And a gold brick needs no hod carrier."

BY THE GENTLE CYNIC
Many a man has reached the heights by putting up a bluff.
Few things are as hard to beat as your wait through life.
The fact that talk is cheap is what makes it so expensive in the end.
The Prince of Darkness doesn't wait for the sun to go down.
A half-hearted kick is worse than none. Throw your whole sole into it.
The circumstances that alter cases are generally financial circumstances.
One good turn makes a man expect that you are going to do him another.
The things that come to those who wait are generally pretty well worn out.
It is extremely doubtful if the man who leads a double life has twice as much fun.

WRAPS OF TWEED OR VELVET SHOW EQUALLY MODISH LINES

Separate winter wraps are not the nondescript garments of some seasons ago, but in line and materials are quite as smart as the smartest gowns, showing the same general silhouette. The vogue of the one-piece dress is responsible for the awakened interest in these coats and for the subsequent novel designs and trimmings that have been called forth to make them attractive. Among the new materials is a heavy, sacking-like fabric resembling closely ratine. It is excellent for motoring or general utility wear. Ratine is still a favorite, and most effective trimmings of suede are seen on many of the ratine models. Boucle is warm and serviceable for juniors and the soft woolens also in the warm, bright coloring so much used in sports coats this summer, the blues, scarlets and green, are most becoming and suitable.

To obtain either pattern illustrated fill out this coupon and inclose 15 cents in stamps or coin. Be sure to state number of pattern and size, measuring over the fullest part of the bust for dimensions. Address Pattern Department.

Would You Apply for the Job?

Thousands are trying the experiment every day in spite of the fact that physicians and government experts have proven:

- That the average cup of coffee contains about 2 1-2 grains of caffeine;
- That caffeine is attributed to be one of the principal causes of headache, biliousness, heart disease, indigestion and kidney, liver and bowel trouble;
- That caffeine in doses as small as that contained in two average cups of coffee has killed rabbits, guinea pigs and other animals at the laboratories of the Government in Washington and elsewhere.

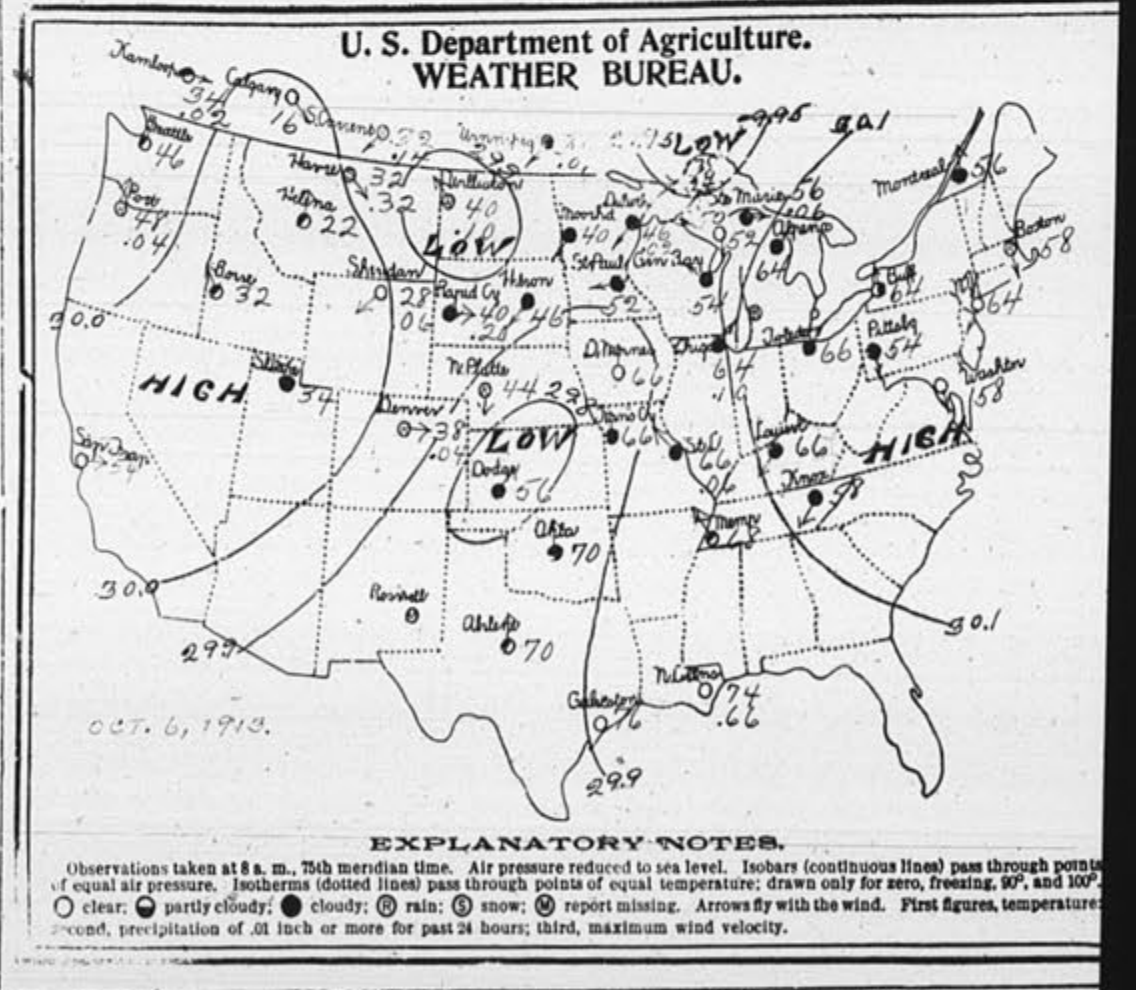

To be sure a guinea pig or a rabbit may weigh but a pound or two, while the average human may weigh 100 times as much. A few cups of coffee or a single cup (according to the resistance of the individual) will not kill, but the poison is there and can be added to day by day. That's why so many coffee drinkers suffer from headache, dizziness, indigestion and other symptoms referable to the poison effect on heart, liver, nerves, kidneys and stomach. If you know coffee has no bad effect in your particular case and you like it, why, bless your heart, stick to it, but if coffee drinking leaves its tell-tale mark by some symptoms of physical discomfort or peace of mind, it's a good idea to stop and use

POSTUM

This pure food-beverage, made of prime wheat and the juice of southern sugarcane, makes a rich, seal-brown blend turning to golden-brown when cream is added, which tastes much like real Oriental Java but is absolutely free from the coffee drug "caffeine."

Postum comes in two forms. One, called Regular Postum, must be boiled full 15 minutes. The other, Instant Postum, is in powder form and a level teaspoonful in a cup of hot water makes the beverage instantly. Grocers keep both kinds.

RALPH HICKS, FIGHTER

By OPIE READ.

At the time when the Dispatch fell into the ownership of Miss Lelane Graham, the outlook for the paper was not good. Even with all the advertising in a town of twelve thousand, city printing and political patronage. But where the bad outlook came in was with the city editor, which meant the entire local staff. Within nine months four city editors had been killed in the street, and so wonder that a contemporary said that the paper was rightly named the Dispatch.

In the part of the country where the Dispatch was printed silence could discount truth as a virtue. It made no difference what a man might know—it was what he said that got him into trouble. But how was it possible to print the news without saying something, and was it likely that one could keep on saying something without treading upon the corns of an occasional truth? So, upon taking charge of the paper she could not help but feel a certain responsibility not to say anxiety. She could not herself stop around in all sorts of weather and get the news. Of course she could edit the paper—any one could do that, as nine-tenths of the politicians in the district were ready to swear; but any one would not dare to gather the news. While sitting at her desk, the first morning after taking active control she heard a cough, and looking up saw standing near her a thing that looked like a yellow ghost. She stared at it, not over frightened, having taken a whirl at the medical course at school and asked what was wanted. The man—it was a man—bowed and said that he had come to offer his services as city editor. And the idea that it would be well to employ him occurred to her. No one could have the heart to murder that skeleton. So, she hired him.

Miss Lelane opened an envelope and took out a communication. It told of a desperate fight that had just occurred in the hills. A young man named Ralph Hicks had killed, in a fair fight, six ruffians who had provoked a quarrel with him. The deed was full of valor, that it was a good thing to print and she printed it. A few days later she received another communication from a fellow named Holt Smith, giving another account of the valiant Ralph Hicks. This time a desperado known as the Swamp Angel had met him at a country store, in a neighborhood where the Angel was owner of all he surveyed, and he was a pretty active surveyor. Hicks was affable and inclined to be conciliatory, but the Angel said that he wasn't feeling very well, having just got up from a shake down of chills and fever, and he thought that a little fresh blood was about what he needed. Hicks asked him if a doctor had given him that sort of a prescription, and the Angel "loved" that he had, and Hicks shot the Angel between the eyes and the coroner declared that it was a good shot. This was also printed.

The skeleton would, once in a while, bring in a piece of news. No one thought of killing him, yet they made it inconvenient. One man hit him with a mallet and dislocated his hip, and laid him up for a day or two, and another fellow knocked him down, just to hear him rattle, but otherwise no damage was done. Still his position was often embarrassing. So he said that he believed he would resign. Lelane urged him to remain a day or two longer, till she could find another skeleton, or some other physical unfortunate, immunized against attack. He said that he was willing. Two days later the skeleton came in, limping, and said that his other hip had been dislocated and that it was now time for him to go. She paid him off and he went out. At this moment there entered a tall, handsome fellow with black, rippling hair. She smiled and asked him to be seated. Was it possible that so fine a man had come to look for death. He smiled at her. "I understand your situation," said he, "and I am determined to help you. I have had considerable experience in this sort of work. My name is Ralph Hicks."

She seized his hand. He was the one man who could dare to print the news. And she engaged him. The people were astonished to read that Ralph Hicks had taken the news end of the Dispatch. He printed a card in which he said: "I want it understood that I am going to print the news."

And he did. There were mutterings and scowlings, but nothing serious happened. Lelane was happy in her work, for her paper was prosperous. One night they were sitting alone in the editorial room. Ralph had ceased to write and was musing. Suddenly he got up, walked over to Lelane's desk, and without embarrassing preliminaries, said, "I love you and beg of you to be my wife."

"Oh," was all she answered at that time, but a sweet understanding came to them.

FAST TRIP THROUGH BRITAIN

Itinerary Enables Tourist, If He Wishes, to "Do" the Islands in the Course of Seven Days.
How to "do" the British Isles in a week is the latest scheme for hustlers. A dash around London, a flying descent on one or two cathedral cities, a race through Scotland and a glance at Killarney—this what is open to those who want to see the country in a hurry. Tourist agents say that the idea is identical with American ones. Indeed it was an American who first conceived it.
Assuming that the tourist begins his trip on Monday, he devotes that day to the "big" slices of London, starting up with a heater in the evening. On Wednesday he goes to Windsor and Hampton Court and on his return to London has time to go to a game of golf. On Wednesday he leaves London for Peterborough, sees the cathedral and gets to York at three o'clock.
At York the tourist has plenty of time to visit the Minster and other historic buildings before catching the 6:15 train to Harrogate. He crosses through the Forests and takes a steamer through the Ribbles and Mersey to Liverpool. The train is

WENT DEEPLY INTO DETAILS

Identification That Undoubtedly Was Complete, but Could by No Means Be Called Complimentary.
Stephen Haegen, manager of a Harlem bank, at a dinner recently told the following anecdote: Many years ago, while spending a vacation in a city in the upper part of the state, he visited some friends in a bank. While there he saw a severe-looking woman move up to the teller's window and request that a small check be cashed. She asked the man in the cage to call up the person from whom she had received the check, and he would identify her.
The teller called up the man and asked him to describe the woman. He did so in the following manner: "She looked like the crankiest person in the world. She was dressed in the fashion of about five years ago. I think she is an old cat. She wore a blue straw hat, but then it may be green, and I think she paints. She wore two fake diamond rings. Good-by, old man."

Italian state railways are now using more than fifty electric locomotives.

Tree-Bark Blankets.

They have trees for blankets in Ecuador, and they like them, too. They are fond of the firm touch of the bark against them as they sleep.
We would probably think they were "zero in covering," and we would doubtless wake up in a much stiffened condition if we slept under a wood covering.
But the native Indians are most enthusiastic, according to J. Jamieson, a traveler and lecturer, who has recently returned from those parts.
The blankets are made from the bark of a tree which is cut particularly thin. It is pounded and moistened and then pounded some more and put out into the sun to dry. And a most desirable and economical blanket it is, lasting anywhere from two to five years.

"His Goose is Cooked."

The expression, "his goose is cooked," appears in various forms, and means that his cause is ruined. It has some reference to the common but erroneous opinion that "goose" is synonymous with "fool." The idea has crept into more than one language and "will not down." It is generally understood that "cooking his goose" is a phrase which originated when the king of Sweden, on approaching a hostile town, excited the contempt of the inhabitants by the smallness of his army. To express this they hung out a goose for him to shoot at, whereupon the king set fire to the town to "cook their goose."

Proved Truth of Answer.

On a visit to St. Louis, Archbishop Ryan, a noted Philadelphia prelate, rode in a carriage to the parochial residence with Bishop Glennon, who is rather diminutive in size and of slight build, especially in the stomachic regions, while Archbishop Ryan is tall and very robust. As they alighted from the carriage, Archbishop Ryan said to his companion: "Bishop Glennon, I once was asked to explain the difference between a bishop and an archbishop. I answered" (and the archbishop extended his arms in a semicircle from his own healthy body, at the same time glancing rather sharply at Bishop Glennon), "The difference is all in the arch."

Unwise Kindness.

WOMEN'S RIGHT TO PROPOSE.

The discussion which is said to be raging in Stockholm over the question whether women shall be legally invested with the right to propose is particularly silly one. Women who want to propose do not need and are not awaiting the sanction of any law. That is a respect in which they are and always have been a law unto themselves, and this ridiculous supposition that the enactment of an enabling statute would make the slightest difference. No statistics are available from which to ascertain how many women already take the initiative in this important matter. Perhaps the only acknowledged case is the well known one of Queen Victoria, who was obliged by considerations of court etiquette to pop the momentous question to her adored Prince Albert. It is, however, easy to believe that there have been many others, all of which have been concealed from the public knowledge by the veil of mystery by which this department of human conduct is habitually enshrouded. But if it may be suspected that quite a number of women have carried their husbands by storm, so to speak, by inviting a plain answer to a plain question, and that without limiting themselves to the leafy open season, there can be no doubt at all that an innumerable army of them have extracted the desired interrogation from an unwilling or reluctant, or hesitating, or too backward admirer by a resort to the ways and wiles of which the female person, without respect to age, race, looks, character or previous condition of servitude, is the past mistress.

Death, in whatever form it comes, is tragedy. Even when it has been long expected it brings with it a shock to those who survive. New and strange conditions at once exist. The member of the family who has lain ill and helpless, yet able to indicate his wants, to communicate with those about him, is suddenly removed to a great distance, is invested with awful majesty and mystery. He can no longer be reached by word or cry. All the relations of life are changed, so far as he is concerned, for those who remain. Whatever he was to them—father, husband, brother, lover—he has gone into everlasting silence and existence must adjust itself to that vacant place. If the departed one has been dear to those who are left—sad, indeed, are the cases where none is left to mourn—the bereaved are disposed to feel that no grief ever so cruel as that which takes their beloved away. Yet, with all the bitterness and the universality of sorrow for those who are taken, there are mitigations of the supreme misery, there are degrees of intensity in the pangs of the mourners, little as some among them, in the newness of their suffering; may be willing to admit it.

If the green plant in sunlight can elaborate from water and carbon dioxide one of our chief food substances, starch, there is no reason why the biological chemist should not discover the secret of this process and imitate it on a commercial scale. Starch, I believe, has never been synthesized, but some sugars have been so constructed, says a writer in the Popular Science Magazine. Two years ago Stoklassa and Sdobnicky made the remarkable discovery that by the action of ultraviolet light on nascent hydrogen and carbon dioxide sugar was formed. Such discoveries as this suggest the means by which we are to throw off our slavery to the green plant, and I am convinced that in time this overthrow will become so complete that our staple foods will be the products of the biological chemist.

A hilliputian electric dynamo, perfect in every detail, but weighing only a quarter of an ounce, was shown at work before the Paris Academy of Science. Its constructor is a French mechanic named Trevet. This dynamo is three-fifths of an inch long, half an inch wide and three-fifths of an inch in diameter, and is wired with five and one-half feet of silk insulated copper wire 1-500 inch in thickness. A tension is indicated of 3.5 volts by a current of 0.2 ampere, but as to its power there is no instrument sensitive enough to record it. While at work the toy machine made a sound like a humming of a bee.

King Alfonso is in no danger of losing his throne like neighbor Manuel, so long as the Spanish premier can hold a trainfull of people for three-quarters of an hour while his valet brings his forgotten silk hat. But of the premier makes this a habit his hat may sooner or later cost his king his crown.

The REAL CANAL DIGGERS by E.W. PICKARD

1—Steam Shovel and Crew in Culebra Cut. 2—One of the Great Emergency Dams Devised to Protect the Locks.

Colon. C. Z.—What of the men who have done the actual digging of the Panama canal? Who are they, whence have they come, how do they live?

We all have read a lot about Colonel Goethals, Colonel Sibert, Colonel Gallard, Colonel Hodges, Colonel Gorgas and a few others of the men who hold the "big jobs." We know that their immediate subordinates are skillful, energetic young engineers and doctors from the states.

With the very beginning of the French attempt to dig the canal the labor problem bobbed up as serious, especially in view of the horribly insanitary conditions on the isthmus. White laborers succumbed rapidly to yellow fever and malaria and it was found that only negroes could withstand even fairly well the diseases and the climate.

When Uncle Sam took hold of the big job he had the benefit of the experience of the French in this as in other respects, and though he tried a few experiments in the labor field on his own account, it was soon determined that the actual digging could be done best by negroes. Now there are two islands in the West Indies, both British possessions, which are overflowing with workmen—Jamaica and Barbados. To these islands agents were sent, and soon the colored men began to arrive on the isthmus, shipload after shipload. Many of them brought their wives and children and have become a part of the permanent population of Panama.

One other source of labor was drawn upon largely, the north of Spain. There the agents of the commission found a race of men hardy, eager for work and more intelligent than the negroes. A large number of them were brought over, and though for a time they were troublesome by reason of their disposition to engage in bloody quarrels among themselves, after several had been locked up by the Zone police they learned to behave more like civilized beings. These Spaniards do not mix with the negroes, either in work or socially. They have their own camps and messes. The stewards and cooks at these messes are Europeans and the Spaniards get better meals than the negroes. The food is adapted to their national taste and they receive wine several times a week. For this they pay 40 cents a day—10 cents more than the colored men pay. The Spaniards are considered the best common workmen in the zone.

The day laborer on the canal, as a general thing, uses the pick and shovel and does work that calls for no especial skill. But this is not true of all of them. There is a higher grade in which the men do such work as the riveting on the great lock gates and the operating of the busy batteries of steam and compressed air drills that bore the holes for the dynamite blasting. Many negroes who have been on the job for years have graduated up to these better positions.

Above them are the bosses of gangs, the conductors of dirt trains, the foremen of dynamite crews, men who hold similar jobs, and they are almost invariably white men because such positions require more independence, reliability and intelligence. Up another grade and you come to the superintending, drafting and designing engineers. These are men from the states with technical education, initiative and often great inventive genius. To the latter are due a number of most ingenious machines designed to cope with new conditions and to expedite the work.

The negro laborer from Jamaica or Barbados is a joy forever. He is inordinately proud of his British citizenship, and with some reason, for the British government looks carefully after his welfare in such a case as this, the terms of his contract being supervised, his health guarded and his return, if he desires to return, provided for. The Jamaicans are the more intelligent of the two classes, and often have considerable education. The best of them have found positions as clerks, stewards and the like. The Barbadians are in the main densely ignorant, but they are a happy lot and as they stream away from the canal to their quarters in the evening they sing, frolic and play practical jokes as though they had not just completed a day of back-breaking labor. They receive an average of $30 a month, their meals cost them 30 cents a day and their living quarters almost nothing unless they prefer to rent rooms from outsiders. Then they get the worst of it, for rentals for ordinary rooms, without furniture and conveniences, are exorbitant. The barracks for laborers provided by the commission are fitted with several tiers of bunks made of canvas slung on iron frames. At regular intervals these are taken down and bolted, and such other sanitary measures as are necessary are carried out with regularity and precision.

If the laborer is injured or falls ill, there is a dispensary and a doctor close at hand, and if the case is at all serious the patient is sent to the hospital at Ancon or Colon. There he receives free as skillful treatment as money could buy, and there he is kept until he recovers or dies. There is intense rivalry between the Jamaican and the "Bajan," for each believes firmly that his island is bigger and better than the other's, and, incidentally, both believe that both Jamaica and Barbados are larger than Cuba. Their looks of dismay when shown a map of the West Indies are comical to behold. Two things these negroes are extremely fond of—religion and rum. And both are rather disastrous to many of them. The insane asylum whose buildings straggle up one slope of Ancon hill is full of them, and according to the doctors most of them have been brought there by either rum or religion. Every evening in the streets of Panama may be encountered large groups of negroes, listening to the exhortations of some boisterous woman, and singing with fervor the hymns she intones for them. On other corners are detachments of the Salvation Army, working with equal enthusiasm. And in the living quarters and the hospital groups will surround some amateur pastor who preaches to them and prays for them. In these ways, when they are not drinking, the negroes spend much of their leisure time, and as they are impressionable and excitable and ignorant, the results are not always good.

Pay day in the zone furnishes some interesting scenes. The pay car traverses the railway and at each labor camp or town a long line of negroes files through it. Each man must present his pay check and identification tag with one hand and in the other hold his hat or cap. Into the latter the cashier shoves the silver coins that make up the workman's monthly stipend. The process is extraordinarily rapid, as it must be for there are many thousands of laborers to be paid.

Up near the summit of Ancon hill is a large patch of ground where no vegetation ever grows. According to the legend, an Indian maiden sat there centuries ago and wept bitterly for the fate of her countrymen whom the lashes of the cruel Spaniards. Her salt tears flowed down the hillside and so impregnated the soil that henceforth no vegetation could exist there. If any maiden from Jamaica or Barbados ever sits up there, she need not weep over the lot of her fellow-islanders. Indeed, her smiles at their happy condition might well restore that bit of land to its pristine fertility. Her husband, father or brother is earning more than he ever did before, is living better, and when he returns to his island home may have saved up enough to loaf for a long time under the shade of the sheltering palm.

The real diggers of the canal, though unhonored and unsung, are well paid, well fed and well housed. In their degree they are as fortunate as any others who have found employment in the zone.

Still another world-famous scientist says light is harmful to beer. Read what he says, then order a case of Schlitz in Brown Bottles. "It is a known fact that sunlight and daylight influence unfavorably the taste and flavor of the beer and care must be exercised in the selection of the bottles." Dr. Robert Wahl, President of the Wahl-Henius Institute of Fermentology, quotes J. Brand in corroboration of his own opinion recommending the Brown Bottles. PAYS $27,000 FOR FARM

Isaac Bonifas of Little Harbor closed negotiations for the purchase of the Vans Harbor Co's farm consisting of 10,000 acres of which 729 acres are under cultivation. The land is located in the eastern end of Delta county near Isabella. The purchase price, $27,000.00, is one of the largest sums ever paid for a farm in this vicinity.

Mr. Bonifas intends to engage in the horse breeding business principally, but will raise other live stock to a great extent. He has great faith in Cloverland as a stock raising and farming section and claims by his recent purchase, to have made one of the most valuable investments of his entire successful business life.

Mr. and Mrs. Prefia Bouquette of this city visited at Spaulding yesterday.

THE LIMIT IN INVENTION

A log of wood and a roll of paper are placed in a new match-making machine, and when human hands next touch the material it is all bound up in packages containing one gross of boxes of matches, ready for the consumer. During the process the machine cuts the wood into proper lengths, sulphurs the ends, counts them, makes the paper boxes, prints the labels on them, fills each box and packs them. The machine has been patented by a Norwegian match company. The making and bottling of golden grain belt beers at the brewery is carried to just as great a science. P. W. ### WEDDING AT BOGREN HOME A PRETTY ONE

Only Immediate Relatives of Contracting Parties Attended Bogren-Isaacson Nuptials

The wedding of Miss Lillian Bogren and Gladwin Isaacson at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Bogren of Fourth street, on Saturday evening was witnessed only by the immediate relatives of the contracting parties.

The ceremony was performed promptly at seven o'clock by Rev. C. A. Lund, pastor of the Swedish Lutheran church. The bride wore a gown of white voile and carried a bouquet of white roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Esther Bogren, who wore a dress of blue chiffon over blue silk, and carried a bouquet of chrysanthemums. Eugene Nelson attended the bridegroom.

The Bogren home was prettily decorated, an elaborate color scheme of gold and white being carried out. Baskets of chrysanthemums and smilax hung from the chandeliers and bouquets of the Japanese national flower peeped from every nook and corner.

The bride is one of the city's most popular and esteemed young ladies. Until recently she had been employed at the Fair store. Mr. Isaacson enjoys a widespread popularity and the esteem of all. He is employed as a clerk at the local postoffice, having but recently been promoted from carrier.

Later in the evening a number of the friends of the bride and the bridegroom descended upon the Bogren home and a charivari was held.

The young people will go to house-keeping on Wells avenue.

LOCAL MEN RETURN FROM ROAD CONGRESS

Messrs. Reade and Mason Much Enthusiased Over Good Roads Session in Detroit

County Road Commissioner H. W. Reade, and County Engineer R. P. Mason have returned from Detroit, where they attended the National Good Roads congress.

Both men are high in their praises of the congress and say that there was much to be learned by those in attendance. Road experts from all over the world were there and read interesting papers. There was great interest among the delegates to the convention in the representative from France.

This man told how roads are built by the French republic. The work is painstaking and the material of the best. It was estimated by some of the delegates that it would cost $100,000 a mile nearly to build such roads in this country.

The display of road building machinery and material was wonderful and the Delta county representatives were able to see in action just the kind of machinery that will be needed in Delta county in order to save the tax payers many dollars in the building of roads.

MYSTERY ENSHROUDS TEACHER'S MURDER

Girl Found Dead in Chicago, Strangled With Cord, Was an Art Student

(By Associated Press.) Chicago, Oct. 6.—Mystery still surrounds the murder of Ida G. Leegson, the art student, who was strangled with a silken cord in the south-western part of the city. No motive has been found.

A few hours before she was murdered she answered an advertisement for a domestic as she was out of funds and had to work. Later a man who gave his name as Wilson telephoned her and asked if she would accept a position as nurse in a maternity hospital. Near her body were fresh tracks of an automobile.

Miss Leegson is a graduate of the Milwaukee normal school and has taught in Milwaukee, Oshkosh, Cameron, Wis., and Dollar Bay, which is one of the small towns near Calumet, Mich.

Her last school was at Aurora, Ill., from which she was dismissed for alleged flirting with the pupils. After her dismissal she brought suit against Dr. T. J. Allen of Aurora on the grounds that he was the cause of her dismissal by falsely stating that she had flirted with the pupils. She won the suit and then moved to Chicago where she entered an art school. In all the towns where she taught, it is said that she was of a quiet and reserved disposition.

NORTHWESTERN FAST FREIGHT IS WRECKED

Bad Smash-Up Occurred Saturday Afternoon One Mile This Side of Swanzy

The Chicago & Northwestern fast freight, which left Negaunee at an early hour Saturday afternoon, was wrecked one mile this side of Swanzy shortly after 2 o'clock, in one of the worst smashups that has occurred on the road in many months. Seven freight cars and one flat car were reduced to debris and one freight car, containing approximately fifty boxes of dynamite, was thrown up over a twenty-foot embankment to the left of the track. Fortunately, the dynamite did not explode. None of the crew of the train was injured.

The accident occurred just before the train entered the rock cut north of Swanzy. As the train was crossing the fill this side of the rock cut the side supports on a car of logs gave way, nearly the entire load rolling off. Some of the logs worked under the cars following left the track and ran along the ties for a distance of approximately three hundred feet, before they jammed in the rock cut. The flat car, which carried the logs, and the freight car directly following, which was loaded with dynamite, were thrown bodily, minus their trucks, a distance of twenty feet and over an embankment at the left of the track. The three cars following these were lifted up and jammed in zig-zag shape against the wall of the cut. The remaining cars went only a short distance from the track. The trucks of the cars were strewn along the track for a distance of several hundred feet.

The afternoon passenger train was due only a short time after the wreck occurred, and a special accommodation train had to be run down from Negaunee and the passengers and mail transferred. They arrived in Negaunee only one hour late. A wrecking crew was at once summoned.

Berlin's Palaces. Berlin owes its palaces and many of its finest buildings to Frederick William I. That monarch had a passion for building, and transmitted it to others. Whenever he heard of a rich merchant settling in the capital he ordered him to build a residence in keeping with his wealth. If the merchant obeyed, he was duly rewarded and many German families owe their title of nobility to an ancestor having built a fine house.

ALLEGED HEADLIGHTERS ARRESTED AT DEFIANCE

Will be Arraigned Before Judge Glaser Tomorrow Morning at Nine O'Clock

Mr. Leisner came to Escanaba late Saturday evening and securing the necessary papers served the warrants Saturday evening.

Andrew Rapite, Thomas Majott, Louis Disotell, Charles Lenzo, John Disotell and Fred Gimble are the alleged violators and will be arraigned before Judge Glaser tomorrow morning at nine o'clock.

The game wardens had received several complaints that headlighters were at work in Maple Ridge township and on Friday Messrs. Leisner and Rough went to Defiance.
