ATHLETICS SWAMP THE GIANTS IN THIRD GAME—SCORE 8 TO 2

BUSH TWIRLS THE MACKMEN TO A WELL EARNED VICTORY

Giants Garner but Five Hits in Nine Innings for a Total of Two Runs

TESEREAU SLAMMED HARD

CRANDALL FINISHES GAME

(By Associated Press.)
New York, Polo Grounds, October 9.—Bush, dark horse, whom the fans thought Connie Mack might use in a pinch, went nine innings before a world's series crowd of forty thousand persons today and won from the Giants in a walkaway. Wonderful speed and puzzling curves proved the Giants undoing. The best they could do off his delivery was five measly hits for a total of two runs while the Athletics were piling up eight off Tesereau and Crandall.

Right off the reel the Athletics started to pound Tesereau and they kept it up until he was relieved by Crandall. Never once did the Giants have a look at today's game. It was the Athletics' from the start and the heroes of the games were nine members of the Athletic team. Barry slammed the ball to all corners of the lot and Baker as usual was there "with bells on."

The Giants were whirled on the bases, when they got on. Schang was growing bad and they took advantage of the fact. The Athletics likewise offered several sacks.

Every seat in the Polo grounds was filled when the game was called. The first man in collapsed after being in the game since three o'clock this morning. Great cheers greeted the teams and Matthews and Wiltse were compelled to doff their caps.

Merkle went to first limping slightly and he got a heavy hand. Rigler behind the plate, Connolly on bases, and Egan in right.

First Inning
Philadelphia—Murphy grounded out to Fletcher to Merkle and Oldring singled. Collins duplicated and Oldring went to third. After two strikes had been called Baker singled and Oldring bled. Collins was held at second and with Baker worked the double play. McInnes struck out and Crandall grounded to Fletcher, who in anxiety to catch him at first threw the grandstand, Collins and Baker spring on the misplay. Barry popped Fletcher. Three runs, two hits, one error.

New York—Herzog was out Barry McInnes. Doyle beat out a slow roller to third and Fletcher was hit by pitched ball. Burns flied to Collins and Collins flied to second. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Second Inning
Philadelphia—Schang fanned and Doyle flied to Murphy. Murray beat out a bunt and Oldring singled and Oldring to third. Oldring stole and Murphy and Oldring scored on Collins drove the ball over Doyle's head. Doyle took Baker's lead and touched second. Two runs, one hit, no errors.

Third Inning
Philadelphia—McInnes flied to Strunk and Strunk lifted a fly into the field. Barry fouled out to Merkle. No runs, hits or errors.

Fourth Inning
Philadelphia—Schang fanned for second time and Bush was safe on bases. Murphy lined out to Schaffer and Doyle threw Oldring out at first. No runs, hits or errors.

COMPILING NEW DIRECTORY ESCANABA AND VICINITY

Representatives of R. E. Polk and Company Are Now in the City

H. E. Ellsworth, representing R. L. Polk and company of Detroit, directory compilers, arrived in the city this morning with a crew of four men. Monday six additional men are expected and work will begin at once on the 1913-14 directory for Escanaba, Gladstone, Wells and surrounding towns.

Mr. Ellsworth expects to have the work completed within four weeks and ready for delivery by December 15. It has been two years since a directory was compiled here and the city is badly in need of one. Many features will be included in this edition that have not been included in former ones.

An innovation this year will be the placing of the wife's name after that of the husband. This will facilitate the matter of identification greatly. For instance there might be several John Smiths in the city. The names of the wives of each would solve, for many, a hard tangle as to which is which.

A personal canvass is to be made of the small towns and Mr. Ellsworth promises that the directory will far exceed in value that of two years ago and will be up to the Polk standard.

INJURY TO HIP PROVES FATAL

MRS. ANNA NOBEL DIED THIS MORNING IN DELTA COUNTY HOSPITAL FROM EFFECTS OF INJURY

BROKE HIP THREE WEEKS AGO Had Been a Resident of Escanaba For 35 Years—Lived Alone Since Husband's Death

Of an injury received three weeks ago when she fell and broke her hip Mrs. Anna Nobel, one of the city's oldest residents died at five o'clock this morning in the Delta county hospital, aged about seventy-five years.

The deceased was the wife of Henry Nobel, who expired about three years ago. Since her husband's death Mrs. Nobel had lived alone in a small cottage on Campbell street. About three weeks ago she fell and fractured her hip. She was taken to the hospital and every attention given her but the injury exhausted her reserve forces and she gradually weakened until death came.

She had resided in Escanaba for thirty-five years and was a devoted member of the Episcopal church. She has one sister living and a niece and nephew in New York state. They have been informed of her death and arrangements for the services will not be made until they are heard from. Mrs. Nobel came to this section from New York state where she was born.

The aged woman was highly esteemed by her many friends and her death is a shock to the community.

INJURY MAY PROVE FATAL

SAYS HE WAS HIT BY AN AUTO

Injured Late Yesterday Afternoon— Found Lying on Corner of Ludington and Charlotte Street

Joseph Derosier, a well known resident of this city, is in the Delta county hospital, suffering from severe internal injuries and the cause of his injury seems a mystery. Derosier says he thinks he was hit by an automobile. Beyond that he knows nothing. No one can be found who saw the accident.

Shortly after four o'clock yesterday afternoon Derosier was found lying unconscious on Ludington street near Charlotte. He was carried into a saloon nearby. He regained consciousness and it was not believed that he became very ill and a doctor was summoned. It was determined that he was suffering from severe internal injuries.

He was taken to the Delta County hospital by Dr. LeMire and a thorough examination showed that he was probably suffering from a rupture of the bowels. Late this afternoon the physicians could not state whether or not his injuries would prove fatal.

WARGNYNS IN DIVORCE SUIT

ALBERT WARGNY FORMERLY OF ESCANABA SUES WIFE, NOW IN PARIS, FOR DIVORCE

CROSS SUIT FILED BY WIFE Father Adrian Deschamps Formerly of Flat Rock Parish is Named as Correspondent

(Special to the Mirror)

Chicago, October 9.—Mrs. Marguerite Wargny, formerly of Escanaba, who now resides in Paris, will contest the divorce bill filed by her husband Albert Wargny, an automobile salesman of Chicago. Mrs. Wargny, through a Chicago attorney has filed a cross bill in which she denies eloping to France with Adrian Deschamps a Catholic priest. Mrs. Wargny asks for alimony.

Father Deschamps, who is now residing in Paris has filed a deposition in which he denies undue intimacy with Mrs. Wargny. The Wargnyns went to Escanaba to live shortly after their marriage in Paris. Wargny also charges his wife with neglecting their children and Mrs. Wargny counters with charges of drunkenness and unfaithfulness.

The Wargnyns left Escanaba about three years ago. Mr. Wargny was employed here by the Bink Wholesale Liquor company for four years. In 1909 he severed his connection with that firm and started the Delta Liquor company, which business he maintained until 1910.

Adrian Deschamps was the priest in charge of the Holy Family church at Flat Rock and at the time of his leaving for Paris there was considerable scandal rife in Escanaba.

This struck him just below the right eye and injured the optic nerve to such an extent that he is blind in the upper portion of his eye and it is feared that the sight will be entirely lost.

Matson came to Escanaba last evening and Dr. Elliot located the shot by means of the X-Ray. It was not removed.

IMPLICATES ANOTHER IN THEFT OF NEARLY $300

Sheriff Kell of Menominee county arrived in Escanaba this morning and has returned to Menominee with John Brennan in charge. Brennan last night admitted to Sheriff Curran that he with another man, whom he did not know, had taken part in a robbery in a saloon kept by Elmer Sherry at Powers.

Sheriff Curran was instructed about seven o'clock last evening that A. Brennan was driving toward Escanaba from Powers and that he was wanted for the theft of about $300. Curran hurried took an automobile and started in the direction of Powers. Near Ford River switch he met Brennan. He was promptly taken into custody. A search revealed $31.35.

He at first denied the theft but later confessed to Sheriff Curran. He maintained that he did not "lift" the pocketbook himself. He said he stood in the doorway of the saloon while another man stole the pocketbook. He was given half the money and the actual thief kept the remainder and started south from Powers while he, after hiring "Red" Giles, a resident of Powers to drive him, started north. Brennan maintained that he had spent or given away all the money but the $31.35. Giles was also searched and $87 found on his person. This, he maintained, belonged to him.

AFTER THE YOUNGSTERS

The youngsters who persist in pelting pedestrians with acorns are going to be severely dealt with if caught and the police are on-the-lookout for offenders. Acorns as slingshot missiles are being used by the boys and the boys don't discriminate as to their marks. Last evening a young lady was hit just above the eye and although the injury was not serious it was painful. Acorns are also being thrown by the boys and both those who use the sling shot and those who propel the hard nuts with their arms will suffer if caught.

CELEBRATE HALLOWE'EN

ESCANABA SHOULD NOT ALLOW COMING OCTOBER 31 TO PASS WITHOUT FITTING CELEBRATION

BUSINESS MEN SHOULD TAKE HOLD Provide Big Time for Young and Old and Keep the Youngsters out of Mischief

Escanaba should not allow Halloween to pass without properly celebrating the event. The opportunities for celebrating an occasion of this kind offer such a wide range of unalloyed pleasures that it seems almost like a crime to allow the opportunity to pass.

Halloween is looked forward to with apprehension by the average property holder. It means the destruction of much property and considerable inconvenience to all except the youngster himself.

It is up to the older folks to provide amusement of a harmless nature for the youngsters and at the same time enjoy the occasion thoroughly themselves.

The opportunity for holding a Halloween celebration in Escanaba is excellent. The Escanaba Military band could be used to good advantage. The celebration, held along the lines of the Mardi Gras, would cost but little. Prizes for costumes in the parade, for floats, for window displays carrying out the Halloween idea, etc., would stimulate interest.

Young, middle aged and aged would masquerade and enjoy the frivolities of the evening. In many cities the Halloween celebration is the biggest, most enjoyable and costs less to finance than any other celebration of the year. Escanaba should not allow the coming October 31 to pass without a fitting celebration. Keep the youngsters out of devilment.

A PAINFUL INJURY

H. L. Walker Struck in Eye By Piece of Concrete—Sight Not Injured

This photograph shows William Thaw, the wealthy young sportsman and aviator performing the unprecedented feat of flying under the four bridges which span the East river, separating New York from Long Island. Together with Stephan MacGordon, Thaw started on his aerial voyage from New Haven, Conn., to New York, in a Curtis flying boat shortly after 8:30 on Sunday morning. The journey of approximately one hundred miles consumed an hour and twenty minutes. Taking off the time for stops and manoeuvres, the actual flying time was at a rate of over a mile a minute. The last stage of the journey, in which the aerial travellers flew under the bridges, was the most spectacular. Aviators have shunned this feat on account of the treacherous air currents which eddy about under the bridges and over the famous Hell Gate. No trouble was encountered at any of these points by Thaw and MacGordon. They said that Hell Gate was one of the smoothest spots in the entire journey. After sailing under Brooklyn Bridge, the aviators flew around the Statue of Liberty and encircled an ocean liner in the bay before landing at Oakland Beach, Staten Island. This illustration shows the air boat about to pass beneath Manhattan bridge.

THE SONG OF CLOVERLAND.

Commissioner P. R. Legg has received leaflets of his new song, entitled as above, and which it is his purpose to circulate extensively in the near future. The music is by F. Field. The verses run as follows. A song I sing of Cloverland, Our Upper Michigan, Where gentle breezes from the Lakes Meet zephyrs from the land, The wintry winds in glee may hang The ghost-sheets by the dome, But summer's balmy air will bring Rest to each weary home.

WHOLESALE ARRESTS MADE AT THE SOO

Twenty-Eight Saloon Men Accused of Selling Liquor to an Indian.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Oct. 9.—Charged with selling liquor to John Driver, said to be of Indian blood, twenty-four bartenders employed in as many saloons in this city, three Sault Ste. Marie saloon proprietors and one bartender employed in the saloon of Frester & Rapp at Maple Grove Park, a suburb, have been arrested. The warrants were served by Sheriff Bone, Charles E. Benson, a special agent in the Indian service of the government, is the complainant. The defendants are accused of violating the state law prohibiting sales of liquors to Indians or to persons of Indian descent. In some of the complaints Sept. 29 is given as the date when the liquor is said to have been procured by Driver, and in others Sept. 30 is the date named. The defendants are: Bartenders—Gilbert Mixer, Bert Goodrich, Worrey McCondra, Gregorie LeDive, Barney Lavelle, Mike Lane, Gust Mackl, George McCauley, Frank Gillette, Wm. LaLonde, John O'Neil, Antoine Mastew, Charles Grinnell, Kaiser Maize, Edward Laverne, Alex. Gardner, Tom Cadreag, Jack Mattson, John Nevaller, John O'Neil, Harold Warrington, Jim McCoy, Thomas Hanley, Joseph Dolan, Charles LaChapelle.

Saloon keepers—Duncan Kennedy, William Scott and George Coleman. The law in question, Section 5,391 of the compiled laws of the state, prohibits the sale of liquor to an Indian or to a person of Indian descent, or to the offspring of a white father who is a citizen of the United States and an Indian mother, even though the buyer may sustain no tribal relations and is a citizen of the United States and of the state. The law was tested in the case of the People vs. Gebhard, in November, 1907, Gebhard being convicted.

Charles E. Benson, in company with an associate special deputy of the United States Indian service, is said to have been sent to the Soo by the department of the interior and it is claimed the federal agents used John Driver, said to be an Indian or part Indian, as the means of procuring the necessary evidence to obtain warrants. The complaints were forwarded to Prosecutor Green, who ordered warrants issued.

EXCITEMENT KILLS TWO MEN. ROOTERS

Philadelphia, Oct. 8.—While watching an electric scoreboard during today's game between the Giants and Athletics, John Sherrick collapsed on the sidewalk and died a few minutes later. It was during the first inning, and eye-witnesses declared that Sherrick had just yelled, "Give us another homer, Baker." When the play reproduced on the score board showed that the Athletics' star batsman had struck out, the excited man dropped to the pavement.

New York, Oct. 8.—A middle-aged man who had been leading the cheering in front of a Park Row bulletin board today dropped dead of heart disease as the news was flashed that Mathewson had made a hit in the tenth inning. The victim of over-excitement carried a Bowery mission membership card in his pocket.

Cleveland Loses to Pittsburgh

Pittsburg, Oct. 8.—The Pittsburg Nationals today defeated the Cleveland Americans, 4 to 3, in the third game of their post-season series. The game was won, with one Pittsburg player retired, in the last half of the twelfth on a two-base hit by Pitcher Henrix, Olson's fumble of Carey's grounder, Doolan's sacrifice and McCarthy's single.

NOTE—The Motor Parasol is a new fad direct from Paris. It is worn when out walking on the Automobile Speedway.

Two millionaire newsboys were having a friendly chat in front of the White House. One asked the other, "If the United States gave land away, would they give Washington or Baltimore?" The other replied, "Maybe they would give Montreal."

The governor and his secretary were on the roof of the capitol flying kites. The secretary asked, "If the wind traveled over Cleveland at the rate of eighty miles an hour, could we call Cleveland a velocity?"

 A young practitioner had one troublesome patient—an old woman who was practically on the free list, but who registered more kicks than all the other patients put together. One day she called to roast him for not showing up when she called him the night before. "You can go to see your other patients at night," she complained, "so why can't you come when I send for you? Ain't my money as good as the money that them rich people pay you?" "I don't know, ma'am," answered the doctor, gently. "I have never seen any of yours."

FOOTBALL TEAMS MAKING PROGRESS

Penn's Line Impressive--Noted Coaches at Princeton.

YALE SHIFTS MANY PLAYERS

Coach Stagg of Chicago University Says He Has Many Candidates For Positions, but Finds Difficulty in Making Choices From Green Men in His Squad.

The early football games have given the coaches a lot of food for reflection. Pennsylvania in particular was delighted with the showing of the Red and Blue.

Carter and Russell both tip the beam close to the 200 mark, and they are not fat, slow fellows. On the contrary, they are big, husky youngsters, with plenty of speed—in fact, more speed considerably than the ordinary line-man.

Following the shakeup at Princeton which has brought to the fore the remarkable offensive work of Glick, they immediately began "doing things" at Yale calculated to stiffen the line.

The Princeton coaching staff has been augmented by the arrival of the following men: Phil King, '33; Ad Kelly, '36; "Snake" Ames, '33; Marshall Mills, '32, and Cecil Ballin, '30.

Harvard is busy with her secret practice. While other coaches are experimenting to an unusual degree, Haughton is working out various combinations which he steadily holds together.

Coach Stagg of the University of Chicago was asked recently, "How is the team going to be made up?" "I haven't the slightest idea as yet," he said. "I have no fears about having a good back field; hence the forwards are going to get most of my attention for awhile. The material there is not all I could wish. Some of the men are good players, but too light, while others are heavy enough, but absolutely green. I am going to have considerable trouble shaping up a team which will combine weight, strength and football ability.

HOW TESREAU STARTED.

Big Giant Pitcher Was Once a Lead Miner.

Jeff Tesreau, the massive young pitcher of the New York Giants, is enjoying his second year in the major league and was one of the finds of 1912. Tesreau was born in Ironton, Mo., twenty-three years ago, and he was such a good ball player that he wasn't too good enough for the Ironton town team.

Jeff got his first real chance with the Austin club of the Texas league, but soon after he joined the club disbanded and he went with the Houston club. Next he went to Cleveland. One of Hugh Jennings' scouts recommended Jeff to Detroit, but he was released after a few days with the club.

Manager McGraw first saw Tesreau pitch in Shreveport, La. In the spring of 1910. He was attracted by the man's massive build and speedy shoots. Tesreau was signed by the Giants and took the spring training trip with them in 1911. Early last season Tesreau was let out to the Toronto club of the International league, where, under Joe Kelley, he developed into a capable pitcher.

GOOD NEWS

MANY ESCANABA READERS HAVE HEARD IT AND PROFITED THEREBY.

"Good news travels fast," and the thousands of back sufferers in Escanaba are glad to learn where relief may be found. Many a lame, weak and aching back is had no more, thanks to Doan's Kidney Pills. Our citizens are telling the good news of their experience with this tested remedy. Here is an example worth reading:

J. H. Carroll, 207 S. Jennie St., Escanaba, Mich., says: "Some years ago I was troubled by too frequent passages of the kidney secretions and a dull pain in the small of my back. I felt weak at times and I did not rest well. Hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills, I decided to try them. Several boxes freed me from kidney complaint and I now feel better in every way. I am pleased to confirm the statement I gave in 1908, publicly recommending Doan's Kidney Pills."

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. HELEN'S TURN TO GASP

By J. B. OXFORD.

It was warm, even for late June. Outside the sun poured down his heat from a cloudless sky. There was not enough breeze to stir the leaves. The white road wound away—like some white-hot band.

Within the bungalow, with the shades drawn and a sense of coolness pervading the place, Helen Martin was softly playing arias from "Eulalie," the opera which had set the music world agog the previous winter.

She had begun her favorite aria of all, when there came from the driveway without a strident chugging, the whirl of tires on the coarse gravel. Somebody landed heavily on the porch; the same somebody shouted a boisterous "Hello!" The same somebody pounded loudly on the screen door, and before she could answer the summons, pulled it open and stepped into the hall with a cheerful: "Anybody up yet in this quiet tomb?"

"O, how could you!" she cried in vexation. "I was playing."

"You ought to be interrupted," said he, severely. "The idea! Playing the piano such a morning as this. Fire on you! Come on for a little run in the car with me, will you?"

"I was playing the arias from 'Eulalie.' I love them!" she replied.

"Both 'Eulalie' and all composers," snapped he. "I'm going down for the morning mail. I was sure you'd want to go with me."

There was something very like boyish disappointment in his last words.

"O, well," she conceded, "if you're going to cry about it—"

"I am if you don't go," said he.

She smilingly stepped to the hall rack for a veil to tie down her thick chestnut hair.

They sped down the road. Jimmy Smith ran a car at all kinds of speed. They had just entered a shady stretch of woods, when he slowed down the car and turned to her abruptly.

"Tell me," he said, "what sort of a man is your ideal?"

She did not immediately reply.

"I mean, what sort of a man must he be whom you marry?" he pursued.

"What nonsense," she sniffed.

"Well, tell me, just the same."

"O, he must be every inch a man, and as to his mental make-up, well, I think I'd like him to be very gentle and fine and—O, very fond of music."

"People who are really, really fond of music are temperamental very often," he reminded her. "Apt to be fools when they are men. Awful to get along with and all that."

"Really," she said severely.

It was late afternoon when there came a big box of flowers with a note.

"I've been thinking over the requirements you listed for me this morning," the note ran, "and I've got the unbounded nerve to think I fill them in some small ways. Yours ever, The Jimmy Smith boy."

Helen began to laugh. Then suddenly she stopped. Instead she flushed.

Then she had a quick idea. She would try him out. They were giving a concert for the hospital at Westport.

They were to play and sing music from "Eulalie." She would ask him to take her over. She would see how he behaved.

She dispatched the note and promptly at 7:15 the next evening Jimmy Smith was at the step in his car.

"Really want to go over to that concert?" he asked. "There's a bully moon and—"

"We're going to the concert," said she. "They're going to render quite a bit of 'Eulalie.'"

"Drat 'Eulalie!'" he burst out. "I'm tired to death of it!"

The concert was given in the Orpheum theater at Westport. Mr. Smith seemed to be bored by it. Indeed, when it was about three-quarters over and Mne. Brahme was singing a wonderful song, Helen, glancing at him, was horrified to find him with bent head, sound asleep. A moment later a very audible snore induced her to nudge him into wakefulness.

"This settles it," she told herself, as he sat up blinking.

The concert was finished. They moved together down the aisle and had nearly reached the door when some one came pushing after them.

"O, my dear, dear Meester Smit! so good, so vera good of you to come to hear your own work so poorly done by us here tonight!"

Helen turned and gasped. Mme. Brahme—the great Mme. Brahme—was clutching at Jimmy's sleeve, and he was smiling foolishly like some little, naughty child, caught in mischief, and looking at Helen out of the corners of his eyes.

He was still looking very sheepish as he presented her to Mme. Brahme.

"You should be so vera proud to know heem, my dear," said madam. "Such a wonderful genius, and 'Eulalie' only his first work. He will go far. And you (she turned to Jimmy) don't deserve to know such a pretty, pretty girl."

On the way home Jimmy slowed down the car sufficiently to slip one arm about the girl.

"I came down here to the Keiths to get away from it all. I was tired," he said. "My first name is Jimmy. It's my middle name I use for the public. Can you ever forgive me?"

"Everything—everything!" she declared, "except that snore!"

Postmaster Coburn has received instructions from the postoffice department that in the future parcels not properly indorsed or packed for safe shipment must be refused, and in case such parcels are accepted and become lost or damaged as the result of improper packing or wrapping the clerk or other person responsible for its acceptance in that condition will be held accountable for the damage.

FOLLOWS ROBBER FOR NINE YEARS

Patrick Campbell Follows Man to Italy and Gets Him After Long Fearless Search

(By Associated Press.)

Messina, Sicily, Oct. 9.—Francisco Imbesi, the man who attacked and robbed Patrick Campbell at Portage, Pa., in 1904 has surrendered. Campbell was the paymaster for a coal company and had $3000 in cash to pay the men when he was attacked.

The driver of the rig in which Campbell was riding was killed and Campbell was left beside the road for dead. The robbers escaped. When Campbell recovered, he went to Italy and has spent nine years in searching for the men that robbed him.

MENOMINEE POLICE CAPTAIN IS FIRED

Capt. Daniel Flynn, Member of Force For Number of Years, is Released From Duty

Menominee, Oct. 9.—Capt. Daniel Flynn, ranking next to the chief in command of the Menominee police force, has been released from duty by Chief A. P. English of the force. The reason announced is for violation of rules. Chief English refused to comment on the matter today.

It is said the trouble dates back to the county fair week when Chief English was sick in the hospital and Flynn was in command of the force. Flynn had been on a hunting trip for several days and returned Tuesday. It is said he went to the police office Tuesday evening and demanded his pay check. He was told he would get his pay, it is said, when he turned over to the city such city property as he held as an officer. It is reported he then used some strong language on the chief and in leaving the office while in a rage dropped a shotgun he was carrying, and that it struck a window of the police office and broke the glass. One of the window glasses in the office is broken.

LAW MEN ARE HOPEFUL; ONE CO-ED REGISTERED

U. of M. Class is Pulling for Second Who is Planning to Enter This Year

Ann Arbor, Mich., October 7.—The U. of M. law department has one co-ed and before the week is over may boast of two.

Six weeks ago, when last year's lone co-ed decided to go elsewhere for her junior law work, a wall went up, for that department was the only department on the campus to be without a girl.

Yesterday, however, Miss Julia Alexander, daughter of Capt. S. B. Alexander, of Charlotte, N. C., came to town, and today registered in the department.

Another young lady is arranging to enter.

COLORS NOT BORNE IN WAR

British Troops Go into Action Without the Inspiration of the Regimental Colors.

The colors of the British army are made of silk, with gold-fringed edges and cords and tassels of eritron and gold, mounted on a staff eight feet seven inches long.

To insure their absolute correctness in matters of detail and pattern, an official of the Herald's College acts as "inspector of colors." He has to furnish drawings and designs, and is responsible that an unauthorized departure is made from them.

Every infantry battalion has two colors—"the wings" and "the regimental." The former is always of the same pattern, and shows the union jack on a blue ground, while the latter has a wreath of roses, shamrocks and thistles, with the regiment's motto and crest, surrounded by a list of the various battles in which it has taken part.

Regimental colors are no longer carried into action, but are now left behind at headquarters when a battalion proceeds on service. This has been the rule since the Boer war in 1881. A couple of years earlier two young officers of the South Wales Borders were killed while endeavoring to prevent the colors, of which they had charge, from falling into the hands of the enemy at the battle of Isandhlwana.

What Frightened Him.

During furnace-cleaning operations in a large steel works the workmen occasionally had to walk across a plank high in the air. One of them would cross it on his hands and knees. "Are you frightened of walking on the plank?" the foreman said to him once. "No, sir," replied the man; "I'm frightened I am of walking off it!"

DID YOU LOSE A COW?

Look Through Your Pockets, You Might Have Lost one and Don't Know It

Have you lost a cow. Look your person over carefully, feel in all your pockets and if needs be pull up the carpet, you might have lost a cow and didn't know it. Two weeks ago Nelson Thibault was taking an airing in his yard and he found a cow. Naturally he concluded that it belonged to some of his neighbors and feeling that they would be after it he detained it. That was two weeks ago and apparently the owner of the cow hasn't missed it yet. Meanwhile Mr. Thibault is tired of feeding and milking his find and the owner would confer a favor upon him by calling for his property.

GLADSTONE FURNACE CLOSED WEDNES

Gladstone Industry Pauses on Account of Stagnation in Steel Market, 250 Men Out.

Because of the poor condition of the iron market, the Gladstone furnace, belonging to the Cleveland Iron Co., and known as Pioneer Furnace, was closed yesterday. By this action, approximately 250 men are thrown out of employment.

The furnace was built sixteen years ago, and although it was closed several times during this period has been the scene of uninterrupted activity for the past five years. It is understood that during the shut-down the stack will be relined. This long job will take several months. Austin Farrell, manager of Gladstone furnace left yesterday trying to blow out the furnace. Farrell had nothing to say regarding the matter except that the Cleveland Iron Co. was forced to take step, because of slack orders, believes the furnace will be re-opened next summer.
