SURVIVORS OF FIRE AT SEA ON THEIR WAY TO NEW YORK

GROSSED KURFUERST REPORTS HAVING 105 SURVIVORS ABOARD—REPORT TERRIBLE SCENES

SECOND OFFICER PROVES SELF A HERO

Fire Caused by Explosion Forward Early on Thursday Morning Occupants of 3 Boats Lost

(By Associated Press.)

On board Steamship Grosser Kurfuerst, by Wireless to Cape Race—With 105 survivors of the Voltorno, which burned to the water's edge during a gale in mid-Atlantic, the Grosser Kurfuerst is approaching New York. The passengers and crew of the steamer witnessed one of the most thrilling sea horrors in history. They found the Voltorno burning fiercely and report that the fire was started by an explosion forward at seven o'clock on Thursday morning.

When the Kurfuerst arrived along the coast the flames from the hold were leaping eighty feet in the air through the hatchway. Fifty or more of the Voltorno's passengers and crew were killed by the explosion and subsequent fire.

Three of the six life boats of the ship were launched and all six sank with seventy-five on board. The Captain of the Voltorno then cut loose the rest of the remaining lifeboats.

Twelve liners answered the wireless call of the Voltorno, but all found it impossible to help owing to the storm. Thursday night the flames swept about the entire vessel and a second explosion sent the passengers into panic. The Kurfuerst picked up 33 who had been washed into the sea.

Second officer Floyd of the Voltorno proved himself a hero. He fell twenty feet while repairing the wireless apparatus and later made a number of perilous trips in the small boats. The total saved is believed to be 523.

ESCANABA ROLLS UP BIG SCORE ON GLADSTONE

High School Team Won From Gladstone Saturday by Score of 133 to 0

The Escanaba High School football team rolled up the biggest score in local gridiron history on Saturday afternoon when it defeated the Gladstone high school eleven by the score 133 to 0.

From the kickoff when Hirn received the ball and raced the length of the field for a touchdown to the last second of play it seemed that the local warriors did nothing but make brilliant runs that resulted in touchdowns or touchdowns. Meanwhile the Gladstone aggregation succeeded in making but one first down.

The Escanaba team is considerably heavier than that which represented the Upper Bay city and the lighter even is to be greatly commended for the gameness which all members showed.

The local eleven plays the Soo next Saturday and the Soo warriors are reported to be exceptionally fast. They recently rolled up a gigantic score and Saturday's big score here gives the local team greater confidence as to outcome of the Soo game.

LOCAL HUNTERS HAD BATTLE WITH WAVES

F. J. Earle and B. L. King Stranded in Middle of Little Bay de Noc

F. J. Earle and B. L. King of the Delta Hardware company, had rather an exciting experience on Little Bay de Noquette yesterday afternoon. The two went duck hunting, towing behind their launch a flat bottomed boat. They started on the return trip about 2:30 after having bagged a considerable quantity of mallards. In the middle of the bay their gasoline supply gave out and they were compelled to abandon the launch, take to the flat bottomed boat and row ashore. The wind was exceptionally high, the waves running high and strong and the trip ashore was far from being the most enjoyable part of the day's outing. They finally managed to reach shore south of Maywood. They walked to the resort, took the ferry and came home by street car.

TWO BIDS RECEIVED FOR THE PURCHASE OF COUNTY HOSPITAL

SISTERS OF ST. FRANCIS SUBMIT BID OF $8,000—DR. KITCHEN BIDS $9,000 FOR REAL ESTATE

THE DISCUSSION IS LONG WINDED

"Bid of Sisters is Modified and Will Doubtless be Accepted by the Board at This Session"

At five o'clock the board took a recess of ten minutes to allow the attorney representing the Sisters of St. Francis to put down the entire proposition in writing. As The Mirror goes to press a vote has not been taken but that it will be taken shortly and that the Sisters of St. Francis will receive the hospital is assured.

Two bids for the Delta County hospital were submitted to the board of supervisors this afternoon. The Sisters of the Third Order of St. Francis of Peoria, Ill., now in charge, bid $8,000 for the real and personal property and agreed to erect within two or three years a hospital to cost at least $75,000. This bid was later modified to $8,000 for the real estate, the personal property to be returned upon the completion of the new hospital. Dr. A. S. Kitchen submitted a bid of $9,000 for the real estate. It was stated that he was not bidding in competition to the sisters, but merely to keep out those who might seek the property as a real estate investment.

The majority of the members of the board favored the sale of the hospital to the sisters was indicated by a nine to twelve vote on a motion to postpone action on the matter. Supervisor Nebel used all his persuasive powers to secure delay until nine o'clock tomorrow morning but his motion was lost.

No sale to the sisters at $8,000 will doubtless be made before the session closes this evening, which may not be before nine or ten o'clock tonight.

WATER JOINS ATLANTIC AND PACIFIC

On October 10, the Gamboa Dike on the Panama Canal was blown up thus removing the last barrier, with the exception of the canal lock between the Atlantic and the Pacific ocean. Previous to this the water from Gatun Lake was let into Culebra Cut through a cut of twenty-six inch pipes inserted through the dike. This water in the cut acted as a cushion when the dike was blown up. Contrary to popular opinion water will not flow from one ocean to the other. The central part of the canal consisting of Gatun Lake and Culebra cut, is 85 feet above sea level. The water for feeding canal system comes from Gatun Lake, made by impounding the waters of the Chagres River and its tributaries behind Gatun Dam.

WOODRUFF RECEIVES THE FINAL SUMMONS

New York Progressive Leader, Stricken With Paralysis, Dies at the Age of 55.

New York, Oct. 13.—Timothy L. Woodruff, former lieutenant governor of New York state, died last night. He had been in a critical condition for nearly two weeks, after having been stricken with paralysis while attending a Progressive party rally in this city. He was fifty-five years old.

Born in New Haven, Conn., and graduated from Yale University in the class of 1879, Mr. Woodruff shortly afterward entered a business career in New York city and soon began to take an active interest in politics. This interest led him to affiliation with the Republican party, and as a Republican he was an active figure in the state for nearly thirty years. A year ago he left that party and joined the Progressives. He ran for lieutenant governor in 1896, was elected and was re-elected in 1898 and again in 1900.

Mr. Woodruff was first stricken the night of Sept. 23, last, on the platform in Cooper Union while making a stirring speech at a fusion ratification meeting. Several times during his remarks he winced as if in pain, and as he neared the finish he staggered and sank into the arms of John Purroy Mitchell, fusion candidate for mayor, and Controller William J. Prendergast. He was taken to his apartments where he lay until his death.

SESSION OF COUNTY BOARD PROMISES TO BE EXTRA LONG ONE

County Road MADE A SPECIAL ORDER OF BUSINESS FOR TWO O'CLOCK

THE SESSION MAY LAST SEVERAL DAYS

Delta County Agricultural Society Asks for Appropriation and for Slight Tax Levy

The county board of supervisors is in session and the meeting will probably last for several days. A great deal is to be considered and many of the supervisors expect that they will be detained until the last of the week.

All business pertaining to the county roads has been made a special order of business for tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock.

At this afternoon's session the Delta County Agricultural society in a communication asked that the next assessment include a tax of 1-10 of one mill for the use of the Fair Association as provided by law. The association also asked for an appropriation of from $300 to $500 pointing out the needs of the association and the benefit it had been to the county. The matter was referred to the finance committee to report during the present meeting.

The request of R. L. Polk and Company that the supervisors be instructed to give their representatives information for data furnished as to township residents, the remuneration to be a directory each for the supervisors, was laid on the table.

A special committee appointed to consider the advisability of appointing a sealer of weights and measures for the county asked for a month's time to consider. The request was granted.

The major portion of the afternoon session was taken up with the sale of the hospital. I. C. Jennings represented the Sisters of St. Francis and the Mother Superior of the order was also present.

The report of the county treasurer was read and referred to the finance committee.

The Fair Association also asks that the board order the consideration of the proposed bonding of the county for the purchase of the fair grounds for the spring election.

Lind was told to use his own discretion about returning to Mexico city, but to be sure that the message of warning be conveyed to the proper authorities.

The nimrods left Escanaba Thursday morning and during the three days' hunting bagged thirty-six partridges and a dozen ducks. They report the hunting extra good in that section and in this instance particularly enjoyable as most of their shooting was done from a gasoline "pede".

HARRY SPENCER ADMITS TO BEING "BODY THIEF"

Tells Police That he Stole Body From Theatre Fire and Got Large Sum of Money

(By Associated Press.)

Chicago, Oct. 13.—Harry Spencer, self confessed murderer, robber and crook, now claims the distinction of being a ghoul as well. He says that he assisted in removing the bodies of the victims of the Iroquois theatre fire, when 600 perished.

He declares that he helped to carry out the body of a wealthy woman who had on much jewelry, but as the police were very watchful, he did not attempt to rob the body, but allowed it to be taken to the morgue.

Later he got a woman to claim the body saying that it was that of her sister, whose name was Nellie Skarupa. On the body they found jewelry to the amount of $1500 and $1100 in cash.

The records show that this woman was buried by "Henry Eds" and that she was recorded as having no property.

LONGSHOREMEN AT MANISTIQUE ON STRIKE

It is understood that the union men, about twenty-five in number, are to assemble early tomorrow morning and a clash is looked forward to.

MOTORCYCLE SPEEDER SETTLES WITH COURT

Joseph Gardner Was Caught by Motor Policeman Saturday and Paid Fine and Costs.

Joseph Gardner appeared before Judge McEwen this afternoon and paid a fine of $10.00 and costs of $4.75 for riding too fast Saturday night.

The motor cycle policeman happened along just in time and signed the complaint. Since the first two weeks the motor cycle policeman was on duty, the fast driving about the city has rapidly diminished and sane and safe driving taken its place.

GUESTS AT SHERMAN HOUSE LEAVE HOTEL IN NIGHT CLOTHING

EARLY MORNING FIRE SENDS THIRTY GUESTS SCRAMBLING INTO STREET IN SCANT ATTIRE

FIREMAN COMES IN CONTACT WITH WIRE

Fire broke out in the basement of the Sherman House shortly after midnight and the guests, about thirty in number, tumbled out of bed and made their way to the street in all sorts of fantastic costumes. A few were clad in their night clothes only. Others wore trousers over their night apparel and were barefooted. One individual had a towel carefully wrapped about his person. Some bore great quantities of wearing apparel over their arms and three hustled heavy trunks down the steps and out into the street.

The fire was confined to the basement but the entire hotel was filled with smoke. The alarm was turned in at 12:10 and the Companies Nos. 1 and 2 were on the scene in quick time. They found that part of the basement under the Fren Candy Kitchen so densely filled with smoke that it was impossible for the firemen to get in. The doors and windows were opened and the smoke in a short time cleared away sufficiently to allow the firemen to crawl into the basement on their hands and knees. They found the fire raging fiercely in the front part of the basement, eating at the flooring and sidewalls. The fire had spread rapidly. Little tongues of flames shot out at different places and so serious was the aspect of the fire that Chief Miers hurried through the hotel arousing the sleepers and advising them to get out. They did. In all sorts of negligee attire they piled out on to the streets carrying trunks, clothing and what not. Shivering in the cold morning air they stood around until assured by the Chief that the danger was over. They returned to their smoke filled rooms to warm their chilled bodies beneath the bed clothes.

The blaze was an exceptionally hard one to fight because of the dense smoke but it was finally overcome after an hour and a half of gallant battling on the part of the firemen.

Meets Electric Wire

Harvey Johnson, Captain of No. 1 company walked into an exposed live wire and he fell to the basement floor as if shot. He was carried into the air by his comrades and quickly revived.

Charles Fren is perhaps the heaviest loser. His confectionery store was filled with smoke and great quantities of candy were ruined. He carries sufficient insurance to cover the loss.

The building, owned by D. E. Glavin is not badly damaged. The flooring is badly burned, the sills of the basement were all destroyed and the stairway from the basement to the first floor was gutted.

The fire is believed to have been started by electric wires.

ESCANABA HIGH SCHOOL TO MEET SOO GRIDIRON ELEVEN SATURDAY

Next Saturday the Escanaba school football team plays the Soo high school eleven at Sault Ste Marie and the game is looked forward to as the hardest of the season for the local aggregation. The Soo has defeated all comers this year by big scores, but the overwhelming victory of the locals over Gladstone on Saturday leads the local fans to believe that if the Soo wins next Saturday it will be by a mighty close margin.

 "Oh! Holton flushed for some reason

 "Good-by, Mr. Appleton," she said.
 "I am grateful to you—I am thankful.
 You have been very good. But now you must go, really."
 "May I not call?" asked Holton. "I recognize the informality of our meeting, and I do not wish you to think me forward, but I really—"
 "I thank you, Mr. Appleton," she said; "but, no—these things cannot be."

There was a note of finality in her voice and a trace of pathos, both of which Holton caught.
 "Of course, Miss La Tossa, I shall do as you say. But I am sorry." He paused. "And will you please remember this: If you ever need assistance in any way, and I am within reach,
 will you call upon me?"

"I thank you," she replied. "You are most kind. I shall remember what you have said."
 Holton drew a card-case from his pocket.
 "When I told you my name was Appleton," he said, "I acted upon impulse, but intended no insult. My real name and my address are contained here,"
 and he placed a card in front of her.

The girl glanced at the bit of pasteboard, and then started. She looked up at Holton with a frightened expression.
 "Lieutenant Holton," she said. "Why,
 I thought—"
 She paused.
 "You thought?" prompted Holton.
 "I—I thought—" She paused again, then her expression changed, and she smiled at him. "I thought you said your name was Appleton."

"As I explained, I did tell you that," said Holton. "It was an impulse, and no harm was intended. Now you have my real name."
 The girl shook her head slowly.
 "You must not do that again."
 "What—give the wrong name? I never shall," and Holton spoke fervently.

"No—the right name." She fixed him with her serious eyes. "Appleton is a very fine name," she said; "it sounds just as well as your own—Holton. Yes, I think it has a more attractive sound—to a Spaniard. When you say Appleton—why, then—then it is better so sometimes. Now, Mr. Appleton, again I thank you. I shall remember all you have done and all you have said. And now you must go."

The officer bowed, a trifle stiffly, for her manner had undergone something of a change. He withdrew to his own table, and went through his various courses in a perfunctory manner. His mind was wholly upon that beautiful girl and the strange nature of their interview.

While Holton was engaged in thought, Miss La Tossa's waiter, as though to make up for his misconduct, proved a most excellent servant. He seemed, in fact, to take especial pride in attending to the service with all the skill at his command, with the result that the girl, who was in large degree an epicure, rewarded him with a pleasant smile.

Her father joined her at coffee, and it was then, while waiting for an order, that this strange waiter penciled the following telegram upon a pad which he carried in his pocket:
 "Holton at Willard. Scorpion evidently not going to Key West. Failed with girl. But all working well."
 This went to Key West. The waiter returned to the dining-room, and spent all his spare time standing within earshot of the table at which Miss La Tossa and her father were seated.
 The two were guests at the hotel.

Just before they arose the father said something which brought the waiter rigid. He listened for the reply, and then with a broad smile he hurried to the serving-table for finger-bowls, as demanded by a fussy gentleman at a table in front of him.
 As for Holton, he was smoking a long cigar and, gazing thoughtfully at the ceiling, trying to determine where he had seen the face of that waiter before.

"When Holton entered the ballroom of the Willard the orchestra from behind its shelter of palms was sending forth the stirring notes of Sousa's
 "Stars and Stripes," whose popularity was then at the apex, and the floor was filled with whirling couples. A few minutes later, all other thoughts flashed from his mind as the girl he had met in the restaurant passed in at the door on the arm of her father. She was smiling animatedly, and was at once surrounded by a group of young men, mainly foreigners, all clamoring for one or more dances.

"By George!" ejaculated Holton under his breath. "I'm for that young lady without any doubt at all."
 Twice he started to move toward her, only to be anticipated by some-equally ardent young gallant, and he was not until the music of a waltz had ceased and her partner had begun to cast his eyes about the room for the woman whose name appeared next on his card that Holton saw his opportunity. Stepping quickly across the floor, he confronted her with a bow, seeing which the partner bowed in turn and disappeared.
 "Mr. Apple—Mr. Holton!" she exclaimed. "What a surprise!"
 "Not an unpleasant one, I hope,"
 smiled Holton in reply.
 "Of course not," she answered, placing her card in the officer's outstretched hand.

100 GAMES WON ENOUGH TO LAND PENNANT FOR CLUB.

Records of Winning Teams in Both the Major Leagues.

The winning of a hundred games has usually carried with it the pennant in the big leagues. This has been true with but one exception in the past decade.

Pennant winners in the National league during the past twelve years have captured 100 games oftener than have the premieres in the American league.

In 1902 the Pirates won 103 games and lost 36, giving them the highest percentage a major league pennant winning team has ever had in recent years.

It was the Cubs who won out in 1906, their record being 116 games won, a new record, and only 36 defeats.

In the American league the pennant winner has never gone above the century mark in victories except in 1910, 1911 and 1912.

If the wishes of a majority of British sportsmen are followed Great Britain's last appearance in the Olympic games will be at Berlin in 1916.

First, the Germans might construe the withdrawal as due to anti-German prejudice, and, second, other nations might think that after the poor showing the team made at Stockholm Great Britain was unable to hold its own against other countries. The policy advocated by the most influential men in the English world of sport is to send a representative, well trained delegation to Berlin and then withdraw gracefully.

These are the principal reasons behind the policy. These are the principal reasons behind the policy. These are the principal reasons behind the policy.

"Personally I am of the opinion as soon as we have decided to go to Berlin we can be sent to Berlin also decide to withdraw games in the future at a date to the choice of the city to port where the contest is to be held."

ORIGIN OF LIBERTY HAT.

The "liberty" hat which adorns the American goddess, is of decidedly old origin, even in its significance. In Rome slaves, when they received their liberty at their masters' hands, wore cone-shaped felt hats, which came to be the symbol of liberty. After the death of Nero the citizens of Rome wore pointed hats to show that they were relieved from the oppression of a tyrant. Later on, when the Netherlands threw off the Spanish yoke, they adopted a hat in the coat of arms of that nation. All people who use gold-colored grain belt wear hats, but not specially to show they have liberated themselves from the use of old-fashioned brews. F. W. Aronson, distributor. Advertisement.

ROMANCE OF WING LEE

By MARTHA LOWELL.

Wing crossed the border in a refrigerator car and happily had escaped with nothing worse than frost bitten toes. The week previous the train's consignment of contraband "Chinks" had been converted into cold storage, and of this Wing was aware. Six months saw our uninvited visitor complainant assistant in a flourishing laundry. Five years, carefully calculated, allowed him to revisit the tomb of his ancestors. This mental ecstasy, however, was made before meeting the "Melican gal."

GRANDMA NEVER LET HER HAIR GET GRAY

Kept Her Locks Youthful, Dark, Glossy and Thick With Common Garden Sage and Sulphur.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. For 50 cents you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use tonic called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant. You will also discover dandruff is gone and hair has stopped falling.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur and look years younger.

Summer Shelter.

One of the best contrivances for a shelter is the garden umbrella, for it may be under circumstances that would not justify the erection of a permanent summer house or arbor. These umbrellas are to be had in a variety of forms, a very satisfactory kind having a small iron table holding a socket into which the umbrella shaft fits. It is nice to use anywhere that shade is scanty.

Wing saw and was conquered. Trailing his basket he approached the window, admiration expanding his features into a grin. Fixed as the pagodas of Naakin he stood before this laughter of the gods and drank his fill of her loveliness.

Late that evening he returned to his laundry. Next afternoon he feigned sickness and hurried off to State street, where his idol awaited him.

A week of such devotion and Wing earned up his cash on hand—eight, nine, ten dollars and 40 cents. He dressed himself in Sunday clothes, rolled his pigtail into a tight knot and set out for the department store, where she was enslaved.

"How muchee you want your Melican gal?" he asked the floorwalker, most politely. Strange to say it took some minutes to convince the addressed that an insult was not implied. Questions followed at length. Did Wing wish the figure alone, or in costume, as exhibited. To be sure he wished her clothes and all. Alas, when the price was named, including dress, hat and girl, in toto, Wing's countenance fell. He shook his head and departed with the visage of a stole.

Behind the ironing board came more calculations and Wing began to work overtime.

Months passed. The adored one changed her diaphanous voile for a smart green tailor-made and the violet polo for a velvet toque. Later in the season she wore a fur cape around her shapely shoulders.

The new year had been ushered in before Wing again appeared in the role of suitor. The savings of six months were with him. A new inventory was made, the price had increased with the season. Wing deliberated. He was "velly solly," but the "Melican gal" would have to do without her luxurious cape.

The money being paid, the new master undaunted by jeers of the populace and occasional apple cores, shouldered his blonde beauty and bore her home.

Once within the laundry precincts, Wing placed the beauty on a wash tub and arrayed her gown in correct folds. It took him a full half hour before he was satisfied with the result. Then he lighted some joss sticks and placed them so that she should be enveloped in the perfumed smoke. He next offered her a plate of rice and soup, but the tilted nose refused to sniff its appetizing aroma.

Alas, that the faces should be so cruel to lovers. A sharp ring at the telephone interrupted this amorous soliloquy. To Wing's reluctant response an irate customer demanded his washing and threatened the law.

Wing shouldered a heavy basket and stole out into the night.

An hour passed. The Melican gal still crowns the wash tub with statuesque grace. Then a visiting rat spreads the tale that the beauty is becoming amiable. True it certainly is that the smiling rosy mouth has begun to pout. An ugly wrinkle, too, has appeared above the smooth brow, and as the moments pass the tapering fingers stretch and grow weirdly long.

"Ting," the rats scamper as one azure orb smashes on the floor. Tears of wax run down the once tilted nose and ruin the tailor-made. A second eye follows. The hands melt away and disclose their props of wood. Brown cheeks and nose have become one seamless mass—then the laundry door opens and in slips Wing.

Emotion is not according to the code of Confucius, so our celestial lover rather wept nor tore his hair. He looked—and closed the damper of the stove. Then again, this time without the lingering glance, he locked the laundry door behind him and stole out into the night.

DESIGNED TO SUIT COSTUME

Strict Rules Have Been Formulated Covering the Wearing of White Summer Footwear.

A code of rules governs the wearing of white footwear, and those rules are as strict as those governing black shoes and slippers. With the tailored suits of white serge or tan white buckskin buttoned boots are in best vogue. White buckskin button strap slippers or oxfords may be worn, with white silk stockings, with lingerie frocks of lace or embroidery, though the trim white buttoned boots often accompany such frocks. Yachting shoes of white buckskin have rubber soles and a slight lift at the heel, and there are also buckskin oxfords for boating and tennis.

EVER POPULAR FRENCH KNOT

Nothing More Effective in Embroidery Work and Comparatively Easily Executed.

French knots are so easily executed that a simple description of them is all that will be required. They are generally used to form the center of roses and daisies, the stitches being made quite close together in such case, to create a solid center, and when employed simply to fill up spaces in large leaves they are usually scattered considerably. The size of the knot is regulated by the space to be filled, individual fancy, or the floss used. The thread is fastened on the wrong side of the work with a very small knot that is afterward cut off, as two small stitches taken very close together serve to secure the end of the floss. The needle is then inserted from the under side of the fabric and the thread drawn through its entire length. With the left hand hold the fabric and the thread at the same time, catch the hold of the thread about one inch from the fabric and holding it taut between the thumb and forefinger. Hold the needle in the right hand and slip it beneath the thread, giving it three or four twists that will throw the thread over the needle three or four times, but without loosening the hold on the thread. Continue holding the thread tightly and pull the needle backwards to the point where it was originally drawn through and insert it again as close as may be to the same point, still holding the thread firmly, and push it through the fabric to be drawn out on the other side. This will cause the stitches to be held firmly on one side and slightly loose on the other, but the effect is very pretty. Never allow the stitches to be loose enough to be messy and do not permit them to be drawn back through the hole made by the needle.

Raising the Aunty.

"Look here, aatie, we are going to raise your rent this month," the agent remarked briskly. "Deed, an Ah' glad to hear dat, sah," the old woman replied, ducking her head politely. "Mighty glad, fo' sho', 'case Ah des come in hyah terday ter tell you 'all dat Ah couldn't raise hit dis month."—Harper's Magazine

Wife Accused of Pedestrianism.

A Scottish minister, Dr. Cameron of Edinburgh, who died recently, was a noted pedestrian. While still in the active discharge of his duties as minister of St. Giles', Edinburgh, he made a point of walking ten miles per day and six on Sunday, and in the course of some years managed to walk a distance equal to that round the world at its widest part. This he did twice. In 1910, after going to reside at Kingussie, he walked 2,099 miles, a distance of that equal to John o'Grats, from here to Land's End and back, and then back again to Kingussie. Two years ago he started with the idea of walking a distance equal to that from John o'Grats to Land's End and back to Kingussie. He succeeded in doing that, covering a total of 1,624 miles—a remarkable feat for a man bordering on four score.

If Coffee Don't Agree Use Postum

A prominent Philadelphia physician says: "If, on discontinuing coffee, you feel tired, languid, and 'out of sorts,' the coffee had better be forever discontinued, for you are on the verge of inebriety."

Thousands of people have taken warning and proved that coffee was the cause of their headaches, biliousness and nervousness.

A great many former coffee drinkers, feeling the need of a hot drink with meals, now use

Postum

A rich, nourishing food-drink, with a delightful flavour much resembling high-grade Java. Postum is made from prime whole wheat, and a small percent of New Orleans molasses. Contains no caffeine or any other drug.

Postum comes in two forms. Regular Postum requires fifteen to twenty minutes boiling to bring out the rich flavour and food value.

Instant Postum requires no boiling, but is made instantly by stirring a teaspoonful of the soluble powder in a cup of hot water and adding cream and sugar to taste.

ORPHEUM STOCK OPENS THURSDAY

"The Land of the Sky" Will be the First Offering of the Stock Company

To inaugurate the winter season of permanent stock at the Orpheum Theatre, manager A. H. Flaig has secured the rights to a new romantic drama by Beaumont Claxton, well known as a writer of many plays which portray American life and character of the present day.

Special arrangement with the author, will give play-lovers an opportunity of enjoying this beautiful story, the scenes of which are laid in the mountains of North Carolina, and deftly woven around the lives of the quaint and lovely people of that locality, "The Land of the Sky."

The play is vivid and convincing in tone and construction, with a moral force and imagery of laughter, bringing out in deit, sure strokes the vital, stirring characters with a practised hand.

The sensational scene of battle between revenue men and the moonshiner, the interior of a still in the mountain caves, the homely hill village with its old-fashioned types, and the climax in a hotel parlor at the State Capitol at Raleigh, N. C. present a varied background for this gripping story, which will be given by the carefully selected company of players supporting Mr. Flaig.

With the large stage at the Orpheum to work upon, the scenic mountings of "The Land of the Sky" and of all the plays presented in the future will be far in advance of anything that the management has before attempted owing to lack of space.

Mr. Flaig's policy will be the presentation of the best in modern drama, and of the latest dramatic successes as they are released for royalty production in the smaller cities. The hearty support accorded The Flaig Stock Co. in this new venture convinces one that the theatre going people of Escanaba want nothing but the best in theatrical work and will show their appreciation of what pleases them. Prices: general admission 10c a few choice seats 20c, Reserve Seat Sale at Gross Drug store.

W. J. Clark is out of the city today on business.

Captain of Menominee Company Receives Word to Keep his Command in Readiness for Duty

Menominee, Oct. 13.—Co. L, of Menominee, Michigan, National guard, may be called to Calumet again for duty in connection with the miners strike in that region.

Capt. Falk of the Menominee company has received word from Gen. Abbey, in command of the troops now at the scene of the strike, that if additional troops are needed, the Menominee company will be the first one ordered on duty.

The Menominee company since it was first called out for strike duty about two months ago has been recruited to eighty-four men and is ready to take the field on very short notice.

Charles Johnson underwent an abdominal operation at the Laing hospital this morning and is resting comfortably this afternoon.

SOME MEN EASILY "RATTLED"

Of the Number Is the One Who Tells This Story of His Experience a Few Mornings Ago.

"Women are so impulsive," said a man the other day. "I was awakened from a sound sleep one morning by my wife crying in an excited manner. 'Henry, Henry, come quick!' I sprang from bed and ran to the head of the stairs and at once smelled smoke. Then I shouted, 'Take the baby, run to the corner and turn in an alarm!' I scrambled back to the room and snatched up some clothes. Then I grabbed little Elizabeth, who was sleeping with me, under my arm and dashed downstairs. 'Where is it?' I exclaimed, running here and there to locate the fire. Behold, my wife was sitting in the dining-room with the baby in her lap as calm as could be, with nothing out of the usual except a smile of joy on her face.

"Why don't you get out of here? Do you want to be burned alive?' I shouted.

"Why, Henry, what in the world is the matter with you? Are you crazy?"

"No, I'm not crazy. I want to know where the fire is."

"Fire! There is no fire," said she. "What did you yell fire for, then?"

"I didn't."

"Well, what in thunder is it then?"

"Why, Charlotte has a tooth!"

"Goodness! I thought the house was on fire!"

"How stupid!" remarked my wife, coolly, as she placed the baby in her high chair and started for the kitchen. "Why don't you put Elizabeth under your arm all day? And you had better get dressed, too. Breakfast is almost ready."

A well known architect was summoned as a witness in a Long Island court in a suit over the cost of a building. The lawyer whose duty it was to cross-examine started in to attack the credibility of the witness.

"Do you know how much a hundred these bricks cost?"

"I do not."

"Do you know how much this cement cost per bag?"

"No."

"Do you know how expensive sand is down here?"

"I can't say that I do exactly."

The lawyer looked at the witness with fine scorn.

"And yet you pretend to come here and qualify as an expert! How can you give any kind of an opinion of how much this building ought to have cost when you don't know the price of the material it's made of?"

The witness looked at the lawyer with a flash in his eye that boded ill.

"Well," he said, "I don't know the price of needles, nor the price of thread, nor how much cheap cotton material cost; but I don't hesitate to express a solemn opinion that that suit of clothes you're wearing cost about five dollars and a half."—New York Evening Post.

Companionship in Solitude.

Solitude tries a man in a way society does not, it throws him upon his own resources, and if these resources be meager, if the ground he occupies in and of himself be poor and narrow he will have a sorry time of it. Hence we readily attribute some extra virtues to those persons who voluntarily embrace solitude, who live alone in the country or in the woods, or in the mountains and find it sweet. We know they cannot live without converse, without society of some sort, and we credit them with the power of breaking it from themselves or else of finding more companionship with such things than with ordinary mortal.—John Burroughs.

Life's Ills and Compensations.

For everything you have missed you have gained something else. The whole story of earthly existence is one of compensations. Many a gift we craved and were denied held in its train ill we are glad to have been spared. Many a sorrow that has darkened our way, though its memory may still remain bitter, has wrought some change of character or conditions that we would be unwilling to give up. The allotment of joys and griefs is more carefully measured than we are accustomed to think, and the lives of men more nearly equal.—Exchange.

Begging Off.

"Can you direct me to the best hotel in this town?" asked the stranger who, after sadly watching the train depart, had set his satchel upon the station platform.

"I can," replied the man, who was waiting for a train going the other way, "but I hate to do it."

"Why?"

"Because you will think after you've seen it that I'm a liar."

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

Since Saturday morning, a wave of high pressure, that now covers the eastern half of the country, caused a change to fair weather with progress from west to east. Rains fell during the past 24 hours only over the north Atlantic states, and along the north Pacific coast. The temperature has fallen steadily over the Lake region since Saturday morning, and frosts occurred over the southern and lower Lake region and freezing temperatures over the northern portion, last night. Fair weather, with light to moderate variable winds that will become south and cause a rise in temperature, is indicated for this vicinity the following 36 hours.

HEAVY MEAT EATERS HAVE SLOW KIDNEYS

Eat less meat if you feel Backache or have Bladder trouble—Take glass of Salts

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combine with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

SLIGHT FIRE IN THE GREENLAW STORE SHORTLY AFTER EIGHT A. M.

The blazing rag was torn from the stovepipe and the fire was out. The blaze might have easily been a serious one, however, and as it was a number of goods were damaged by smoke.

Morning Session Brief

The session of the board this morning was an extremely brief one. The report of Emil Glaser of relief extended by the G. A. R., was received and placed on file.

A request from the township of Bark River for the return of county road tax paid in 1913 was referred to a committee of three and the prosecuting attorney for investigation. The township sometime ago issued bonds in the amount of $7,500 for the improvement of county roads, and an act of 1909 provides that where a township has expended money on county roads with the township the road tax money shall be returned by the county. An act of 1911 repealed this act but an act of 1913 put it in force again with the provision that no township shall have returned its road tax until the tax exceeds the amount expended by the county road commissioners in that county.

The sale of the Delta County Hospital was made a special order of business for three o'clock.

The reports of Justices Scott and Glaser were received, approved and filed.

The Inspectors of Jails reported having found the jail in good condition, gave the number of prisoners detained since the last report as 147. They made no recommendations and the report was accepted and filed.

At 11:30 the board adjourned to meet at two o'clock.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets. These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "dullness" and that lary feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lumpy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. At 10c and 25c per box. The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, O.

Miss Celia Laqua, who was operated on for appendicitis at the Laing hospital last Saturday is greatly improved today and expects to leave the institution soon.
