LOCAL AMUSEMENTS IS PASTOR'S THEME IN SUNDAY SERMON

REV. KING BEACH EXPRESSES STRONG CONVICTIONS REGARDING AMUSEMENT

TANGO DANCE IS SEVERELY CRITICISED
Believes That Parents Should Interest Themselves to Need of Guarding Their Children

At the First Methodist Episcopal church yesterday morning, the pastor of the church, Rev. King D. Beach, expressed some strong convictions that he has regarding the amusement situation in Escanaba. The topic of the sermon was "A Christian's Recreations." Mr. Beach first stated that it was not a preacher's business to decide each question of recreation for each of his parishioners, but rather it was his work to present the principles make their own decision. He named three questions by which a Christian could test his amusements.

(1) Is the amusement a re-creation or a dissipation? Are the mental and physical forces re-created or are they thrown to the winds?
(2) Does the amusement and its associations hinder or help the Christian life? After indulging in it, is it easier or harder to pray? Does God seem (Continued on page two)

INCENDIARY FIRE THE CAUSE OF FIVE DEATHS

Salvation Army's Home for Men in Cincinnati Is Burned Early This Morning

(By Associated Press.)
Cincinnati, Dec. 16.—A fire, declared to be of incendiary origin, caused the known death of five persons at the Salvation Army's home for men early this morning. Many others are reported missing. The firemen believe that more bodies will be found in the ruins. Eight victims have been taken to the hospital. They are in a serious condition, and many will die. The loss is estimated at fifty-five thousand dollars.

A charge of incendiarism has been placed against Frank Meyers, a circus rider.

CHRISTMAS PROGRAMS IN SCHOOLS FRIDAY

Scholars Annual Vacation for Two Weeks Will Follow the Friday Observance

Christmas programs will be featured in the grades of the public schools Friday afternoon by the school children. The pupils have been anxiously preparing the program, and many mothers and friends will be present for the annual Yuletide event.

The schools close that afternoon for the two weeks holiday vacation. Most of the teachers will spend the period at their homes.

TWO GLADSTONE PEOPLE SENTENCED

Joseph Jarvis and Julia Monarch are now serving a sentence in the county jail, the former for a thirty day period and the latter for fifteen days. With Jos. Matthews they were arraigned late yesterday afternoon in Justice Rogers court in that city, charged with creating a disturbance in the form of drunken revels. Matthews was allowed to go on a suspended sentence. Prosecuting Attorney Strom was in attendance.

CITY TREASURER IS A BUSY COLLECTOR

City Treasurer Jas. Conahan reports that the tax collections are rather large for this exact time of the season. The reason ascribed to the large general payment is that the companies pay their employees twice a month now. This will make the work for the official much easier as most of the taxpayers made a rush to the city hall the first of the month to pay the same in former years.

DOCTOR WILLIAM MORTON IS PARDONED

(By Associated Press.)
Washington, Dec. 6.—Dr. William Morton, who served with Julian Hawthorne for complicity in the frauds connected with the selling of bogus mining stock, was today pardoned by President Wilson. His civil rights were restored to him.

FARMER'S INSTITUTE IN ESCANABA FIRST WEEK IN FEBRUARY

SUPT. KING RECEIVES ADVICE FROM EXTENSION DEPARTMENT OF M. A. C. OF ITS ARRANGEMENT

MANY FARMERS PLAN TO ATTEND SESSIONS

Two Practical Agricultural Educators Will Conduct The Five Day's Course

Superintendent F. E. King, of the Escanaba public schools, this morning received information that the extension department of the Michigan Agricultural school has granted the request of the Escanaba petitioners to hold a farmers' joint institute in this city during the first week in February. The department gave Escanaba the preference over other application in this locality for the reason that the high school of the city has an agricultural course, and also because of the fact that it is the first time such an institute will be held in this city.

The farmers will be glad to learn of the success in procuring the school, and now concentrated effort should be made to make it a success. A large number of farmers will attend the school, and those planning to do so should interest others.

A communication has been directed to the city council for the use of the hitherto unutilized horsepower of 100,000, planned to develop speed which will eclipse that of any naval vessel afloat.

Unofficial reports give the Tiger's dimensions as: Length over all, 700 feet; beam, 90 feet; displacement, 30,000 tons. Her armament is said to comprise eight 13.5 inch guns in pairs in turrets on center line and twelve 6-inch guns in casemates, with two 21-inch submerged torpedo tubes.

WOMEN WANT SHOOP TO RESIGN THE JOB

New Head of Chicago Schools Says He Will Not Talk to Others Than Board

(By Associated Press.)
Chicago, Dec. 16.—John D. Shoop, whose appointment to the superintendency of the Chicago schools to succeed Ella Flagg Young, received a committee of women this morning, who asked for his resignation. He refused to give the man answer saying that when he had any statements to make he would make them to the members of the school board.

The women represented several women's clubs and civic organizations.

WOMEN LIFT BOYCOTT ON EGGS IN KANSAS

The Organization Caused a Reduction of Ten Cents a Dozen in the Product

(By Associated Press.)
Kansas City, Dec. 16.—The egg boycott, recently undertaken by the woman's organizations, has been lifted. The storage eggs that have been selling at forty cents the dozen ten days ago, are now being reduced to thirty and thirty-four cents.

ASSURE WILSON OF NO HOSTILITY TO PHILIPPINE POLICY

ASSURANCES RECEIVED IN WASHINGTON THAT PHILIPPINE REPRESENTATIVES FAVOR HIS POLICIES

OFFICERS PROMISE TO FURNISH DETAILS

The Wilson Order Has Created a Great Commotion Among the Army and Navy Men.

(By Associated Press.)
Washington, Dec. 16.—The officers of the Military order of Carabao today send assurances to the administration officials that they entertained no hostility to the Philippine policy of President Wilson.

Rear Admiral Howard, the honorary president, Brigadier General Aleshire and McIntyre have conferred with Secretary Garrison, and have promised to furnish the details of the banquet. Wilson's order of the investigation has created a great commotion within the army and navy circles.

BRITISH LAUNCH THE MYSTERY SHIP TODAY

The British War Vessel to Have Horsepower of 100,000 is Successfully Launched

(By Associated Press.)
Glasgow, Scotland, Dec. 16.—The British battle cruiser Tiger, the "mystery ship," was launched today at the Clyde Bank Shipbuilding yards.

Details of the new vessel have been strictly guarded by the admiralty. Her engines are designed to give the hitherto unattempted horsepower of 100,000, planned to develop speed which will eclipse that of any naval vessel afloat.

Unofficial reports give the Tiger's dimensions as: Length over all, 700 feet; beam, 90 feet; displacement, 30,000 tons. Her armament is said to comprise eight 13.5 inch guns in pairs in turrets on center line and twelve 6-inch guns in casemates, with two 21-inch submerged torpedo tubes.

REPUBLICAN LEADER WANTS CONVENTION

Governor Hatfield Wants Special Convention to be Held on Lincoln's Birthday.

(By Associated Press.)
Washington, Dec. 16.—The republican national committee, in session here held two sharp debates this morning on two resolutions that were presented for the purpose of reorganizing the party.

Governor Hatfield of West Virginia, urged that a special convention of the party be called for Lincoln's birthday so that the party can at that time be re-dedicated to him.

GRIEVED WIFE PASSES AFTER HUSBAND'S END

Mrs. Paul Heller Dies Saturday at the Home of Her Parents in Oconto

Mrs. Paul Heller, formerly of Wells but who has been making her home at Oconto, Wis., with her parents died Saturday evening following a short illness. Mrs. Heller has been ill for the past four weeks, following the tragic end of her husband, who was a victim of the hunting season. The woman suffered untold grief over his demise, and her health weakened until the end.

The funeral was held in Oconto today.

THE WORK OF THE GRAND JURY STARTS

Judge O'Brien Gives Instructions to the Jurymen who will Probe into Strike Disorders

(By Associated Press.)
Calumet, Dec. 16.—The grand jury to investigate the strike disorders are now deeply involved in its work. The same is being conducted behind closed doors, and its progress is not being made known.

Judge O'Brien explained that before the grand jury entered upon its duties it was his duty to instruct it on its duties and manner of procedure. He explained that the first duty of the jury, after being charged, would be to retire to some designated place, there to elect a foreman and a clerk from among its own number, which election must grand inquest," said the judge. "A grand inquest is an unusual proceeding in Michigan. But there have been so many violations it is impossible to investigate them in the ordinary way. You are not to investigate the merits or the demerits of this strike. You are to investigate any concerted act leading to violence, and

DAKOTA MURDERER IS TAKEN FROM THE JAIL AND HANGED BY MOB

MAN SENTENCED TO PRISON FOR LIFE BECAUSE HE MURDERED WHOLE FAMILY TORN FROM CELL

POLICEMAN IS BADLY BEATEN BY MOB

The People Became Enraged at the Life Sentence and Stormed the Jail This Morning

(By Associated Press.)
Williston, N. D., Dec. 16.—Cleveland Culbertson, who was recently convicted of murdering three members of the Dillon family at Ray, North Dakota, was taken from his cell this morning by a mob and removed to a bridge where he was hanged and his body riddled with bullets.

Shortly after daybreak, the party of lynchers, all of them masked went to the jail and battered down the doors. Disregarding the warning of Sheriff Erickson, they tore down the cell door and dragged the prisoner from the building. The bridge is a mile and a half from town and the prisoner, begging for mercy, was dragged there.

A policeman who tried to save him from the mob was given a beating and left upon the street unconscious. Many of the people were angry when a life sentence was given Culbertson and demanded his death.

SCHMIDT DENIES HE WAS INSANE AT TIME

"It's a Lie" He Shouts During Session of Court When Counsel Makes Statement

(By Associated Press.)
New York, Dec. 16.—Hans Schmidt, the former priest on trial for murder, sprang to his feet this afternoon and denied the statement made by his counsel that he was insane when he killed Anna Aumuller. "It's a lie" he shouted and banging his fists on the table he said, "I protest against that." The defense used Schmidt's irrationality during the trial, based on statements of the alienists and family to prove his insanity.

GOVERNOR DUNNE PARDONS TWO MEN

(By Associated Press.)
Springfield, Dec. 16.—Maurice Enright, who was sentenced for life at Joliet in 1911 for the murder of Vincent Altman during the Chicago Labor war, and Joshua Tedford, a former Chicago policeman, who escaped serving a sentence through a clerical error for conspiracy to defeat a Justice, was pardoned today by Gov. Dunne. Tedford rose from watchman to superintendent of a large Chicago store while escaping punishment.

NINETEEN ACRES OF LAND IN CENTER OF LONDON EXCHANGED

Largest Private Real Estate Transaction of the Age is Recorded This Afternoon in London

HARRY MALLABY, UNIONIST, IS PURCHASER

(By Associated Press.)
London, Dec. 16.—The biggest private real estate deal on record was completed this afternoon when the sale of the Duke of Roxford's nineteen acres in the heart of London came to the possession of Harry Mallaby, of Deeley, the Unionist member of the House of Commons.

Many millions of pounds and sterling changed hands, but the figures have not been announced. The agents report that the price is larger than that any ever paid.

ANOTHER BODY OF THE PLYMOUTH CREW FOUND

Axel Larson Washed Ashore From Lake Michigan's Water on Sunday Near Shelby.

Marinette, Wis., Dec. 16.—The terrible aftermath of the loss of the barge Plymouth with all on board is again brought to light by the finding of another body of the ill-fated crew.

Axel Larson, 814 Parnell street, Marinette, cedar inspector on board the barge for the C. J. Huebel company, is the third of the missing crew, whose body has been found. The body was found Sunday morning, washed ashore near Shelby, Mich., about 130 miles from Gull Islands, where the Plymouth was left at anchor by the tug Marlin.

No particulars as to how he was found has been learned other than the telegram received Sunday morning by C. J. Huebel. It reads: Shelby, Mich. C. J. Huebel Co., Menominee, Mich.

"Body of Axel Larson of 814 Parnell street, Marinette, Wis., ashore here. Party coming, bring identification." DR. J. D. BUSKIRK, Coroner.

Larson's widow was immediately gotten in touch with and notified. She was at the home of friends. C. J. Huebel telegraphed to Dr. Buskirk, asking for particulars and making preparations for shipment of the body to this city. It is likely that burial will take place in Menominee.

It is highly probable that Larson's body was identified through papers found on his body. When Larson left here he had a C. J. Huebel company check and stationery of that company in his pockets. What will be brought to light by the finding of his body is hard to ascertain. Larson may have written a short note of farewell as did Chris Kesman, and he may have retained the note on his body.

With three bodies of the seven missing found after nearly a month's time has elapsed since the fatal trip of the Plymouth, it is probable that the others will be found somewhere on the shores of Lake Michigan. The search to be carried out by the Lake Carriers' association will aid greatly in locating many dead sailors on the shores.

Axel Larson is survived by three brothers, a wife and daughter and his parents. His brothers are Charles, Miller street Marinette, Joseph, Myrtle street, Menominee, Anton, Calumet. The parents of Larson, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Larson reside in Wallace. Mrs. Larson and daughter have been residing at the Charles Larson home.

BLAZE IN KRATZE BROS.' STORE CALLS FIREMEN

Fire Starts in the Paper Chute, But is Put Out With Little Effort

The three fire companies received a hurry up call this morning to put out a little blaze that originated in the paper chute at the Kratze Bros. department store. The fire gained little headway, and no damage was done whatever. The run this morning was the first that the companies have made this month.

MICHIGAN AND HARVARD ELEVEN WILL PLAY GAME OCT. 31, 1914

Cambridge, Mass., Dec. 16.—Harvard's football team will meet the University of Michigan eleven in the Harvard stadium Oct. 31, next year, according to information received here today. ## U. P. ODD FELLOWS TO GATHER HERE ON THE 22ND OF FEBRUARY

OFFICIAL NOTICE RECEIVED BY IMPELLATE LODGE THAT PENINSULA LODGES WILL MEET IN ESCANABA

DEGREE TEAMS TO CONTEST FOR PRIZES

"Jonathans" With Martin Anderson as Captain Wins the Contest for Membership.

Thomas Conlin, president of the Upper Peninsula league of Odd Fellows, has called a meeting of the lodges at Escanaba on Washington's birthday. The official notice was read last night at the meeting of the Impellate lodge at their regular business session. Plans will immediately be launched to plan for their entertainment.

The gathering in February will bring members of the three link order from all of the cities of the peninsula, and a good many of the lodges will be represented by degree teams, who will put on the work in competition for prizes. This is an annual event, the gathering here being the second since the league was instituted. It is expected by local Odd Fellows that the meeting here will be an unusually large attendance, the largest gathering of its kind that has ever been held by the order in this locality.

"Jonathans" Win
The group of members of the Impellate lodge under the leadership of Martin Anderson, and styled the "Jonathans" won the contest from the "Good Samaritans," captained by C. N. Wood, for membership and attendance. As a result the latter will banquet the other group. Plans are laid that the banquet and smoker will be held at the lodge quarters on the first Monday in January.

Twenty-five members were added to the lodge by the contest, and it brought the interest up considerably. The margin by which the Jonathans won was 130 points, applications, attendance and dues being the three points considered in the contest. The contest has been going on for the past three months.

Officers are Chosen
The officers for 1914 were elected recently by the lodge, and they are as follows:

Noble grand—Carl Johnson.
Secretary—German Gunderson.
Fin. secy.—Frank Turnquist.
Treasurer—Loftus McMartin.

The installation of the new officers will take place at the first meeting in January.

GOSSIP.

Been reading that news story of the trial of those five women at Volo, near Waukegan, Illinois? Weren't you really pleased to read that they were found guilty. They stand a chance of a six months' jail sentence and $200 fine. Likewise they are in danger of civil damages.

No need to repeat the story here. These women gossiped about a neighbor. They enlarged a nasty little tale until they were sure their neighbor was not true to her crippled husband. They gossiped about this affair until they imagined it was their business to take the law into their own hand and they rode the unfortunate woman out of town on a rail.

EXTOLLING POVERTY.

Abraham Lincoln was born in the country. He was born in an era when poverty, while it may have been bitter, had not the sting which the poverty of today has. He had for his guides a woman's love and kindness, the Bible, and Shakespeare. Napoleon had no home advantages, but it was his good fortune to be drawn into proper and, to him, inspiring school associations. His studies absorbed him. They supplied him sinews for ambition and stuff for dreams. History might have borne an entirely different physiognomy, however, if Napoleon, instead of being born in Corsica, had been born in the underworld of Paris, the underworld of even his day, says the Chicago Tribune. If Abraham Lincoln had been born in a slum like those we have in Chicago today, he might not have been ed as the great emancipator. These reflections are forced to mind by recent utterances of Dr. Charles W. Eliot, ex-president of Harvard, extolling poverty and implying that it makes for virtue rather than for vice. The sincerity of the venerable scholar cannot be questioned. But apparently he is completely out of touch with the life of the cities, or industrial centers, big and little. Poverty breeds slums. The slums destroy the health of their inhabitants. They distort their vision, and there can be no sane mind in an unhealthy body. Where the conditions of life are as brutish and foul as they are in the slum, virtue cannot thrive.

Conferences held under the direction of the legal research bureau of Columbia university give renewed hope of a simplified system of court procedure in criminal cases, and eventually of simplified proceedings in all kinds, says the New York World. There is no dispute as to the need of such reform. A host of judges, lawyers and legislators have united in bearing witness to the evils of the existing system. Moreover, the facts that develop under the eyes of the public in cases that attract popular attention have long ago convinced laymen that law reform ought to have prompt attention. The conference, therefore, will turn not so much upon what changes are needed as upon how they can be best effected. It is not to be expected that unanimity on any issue will be attained. Still, something is doing.

A French physician advocates cannibalism as a cure for indigestion. The beauty of the theory is that its practice would cure both consumer and consumed. This theory, gravely advanced, ought to satisfy those fiery ones who are anxious to eat their enemies up alive.

We don't know whether the woman was guilty of any evil or not. She was very pretty. She lived with a crippled husband. His brother was a frequent visitor at the house. The crippled husband took the stand and told a plain, unvarnished tale of wife-ly devotion, of human kindheartedness on the part of the woman and of loyalty to him. It was a simple, unaffected tale but it was impressive as the truth.

And the five women were found guilty. They may go to jail. Besides they are liable in a civil suit. Black-mal and malicious gossip are two of the worst evils of society. They are particularly damaging in that they are so difficult to correct and so difficult to punish. A gossip woman can do more damage to the reputation of a decent woman than all the newspapers in Christendom, because the newspapers don't ordinarily look for salacious material for publication and rather suppress the stuff that breaks up families than print them.

SLAYS HIS WIFE AND THEN CHILD

South Dakota Farmer Kills Two With Washboard—Gives Self up to Authorities

Castlewood, S. D., Dec. 16.—August Justino, a farmer residing six miles from Bryant, this county, today confessed to the sheriff and prosecuting attorney that he killed his wife and 8-months-old child late last Saturday night, according to those officials.

Justino is in jail here. The bodies of the woman and child were found Sunday lying on the kitchen floor of the Justino home by neighbors. Justino, in his confession, the officers say, admitted beating his wife with his fists and then killed her with a washboard and tea kettle.

After committing the murder Justino said he took the other three children, aged 6, 3 and 2 years and went to bed.

Sunday morning he drove to the home of his wife's parents, where his peculiar actions led to the investigation which resulted in the discovery of the murder.

Justino told the officers that insane rage, growing out of a heated argument with his wife drove him to the crime.

English Houseboats.

The row of houseboats, each with its flowers, awning, flotilla of skiffs; the quantities of well-groomed boats for hire among the willows all along these banks; this impression comes on the top of that of the half-hour, the other day, coming into London in a sickly fog, of the horrible miles of Bermondsey and Lambeth along the lines, the ruthless heaps of rubbish, the hurry and grime of the two stations at Waterloo. The houseboats are the elaborate flower of that ugly plant called civilization. They stand for the comfort, the luxury, the high standard, of England; which, even in its lower walks of life, offers similar prizes, similar complications, luxuries unknown abroad. One says to oneself: "How these people know how to live! how they exploit life!"—Vernon Lee, in Scribner.

Fighting Piano Moths.

It wasn't the rent he was after, the piano man said; he just wanted to fix the piano, that was all. "Tune it, do you mean?" the woman asked. "Oh, no," said he, "to fight the moths." Then he opened the case and tied little bags of camphor in the corners. "We do that two or three times a year with all our rented pianos," he said. "If some kind of preventive is not used there is danger of moths getting into the felt back of the keyboard. We can't depend upon the renters to attend to that little job for us, so we send one of our own men around."

RENT OF FIRST IMPORTANCE. Decision of Massachusetts Judge May Have Created a Decision That Will Be Far-Reaching. When a landlord lets an apartment with heat, how many degrees of Fahrenheit is he supposed to furnish? May the tenant leave the windows open to admit fresh air, and then complain because the apartment is not warm enough? A Judge in the Massachusetts superior court threw some light on these reasonable questions the other day, by ruling against the tenant, remarks the Boston Globe. The landlord in the case appears to have agreed orally to put in new and larger radiators and keep the apartment nice and warm, but the promise was not in writing, and so was not valid. The tenant sat at his desk in his study, wearing a fur coat and with a hot-water bottle at his feet. When he remonstrated the landlord said something to the effect that if the tenant would shut the windows the apartment would be warm enough. It appears from this case that while a man may elect either to freeze or to breathe impure air, he must pay his rent.

Some Can And Some Cannot Drink Coffee Without Dangerous Results—

But if you intend to win out in life you will need a clearer head and steadier nerves than the COFFEE DRINKER USUALLY HAS.

Coffee contains caffeine, a subtle, poisonous drug, and its use as a daily routine beverage causes more or less disturbance of nerves, heart, stomach, liver or some other organ. This may not show for a time, but the coffee drug, caffeine (about 2-12 grains to the cup) in a cumulative poison and, for most persons, a day of reckoning will surely come.

But why wait until Nature drives home her arguments against coffee? Try this easy test—quit coffee 10 days and try POSTUM.

After a few days the habit-forming drug, caffeine, will be eliminated from the system, and the gradual return to old-time comfort will be the best evidence that coffee was "getting you."

There's no headache or pains of any kind in Postum. It is pure food-drink, made only of choice wheat and a little New Orleans molasses, and is absolutely free from caffeine or any other drug.

Postum now comes in two forms. REGULAR POSTUM—must be well boiled to bring out its delicious flavour and food value.

INSTANT POSTUM—(the new form) is a soluble powder. A spoonful stirred in a cup of hot water, with sugar and cream added, makes a perfect cup, INSTANTLY.

The person who has to bother with coffee aches and pains is badly handicapped, but it's easy to shift to

M'FARLAND DECLARES HE IS A LIGHTWEIGHT

Chicago Boxer Claims That He Is Not a Welterweight—Won't Fight With Clabby.

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 16.—Stirred by the reports published about his weight and the rumors that he would meet either Mike Gibbons, the St. Paul fighter, or Jimmy Clabby of Hammond Packey McFarland denied he is a full-fledged welterweight and declared he would not entertain offers of matches with any of the leading 145 pounders. McFarland said he would fight in the welterweight division as soon as he takes on more weight. He expressed his willingness to make 135 to 137 pounds for any of the leading lightweights, but will not make this figure for fighters who are not in his class. He declared he had no intentions of boxing Gibbons or Clabby. "I showed the public two years ago that I was a legitimate lightweight," Packey said. "At that time I was matched to box ten rounds with Ad Wolgast in Milwaukee. The weight agreed upon was 133 pounds. Two days before the contest was called off by the authorities in Milwaukee, I weighed 133 1-2 pounds. It was not much of an effort to get down so low. "I do not weigh any more at present than I did two years ago. I realize it would be harder for me to take off the extra poundage, but I will make 135 or 137 pounds for any of them. When I boxed Harlem Tommy Murphy in New York early in the fall, I made 137 pounds for him with hardly any effort. "This talk about me weighing 145 and 150 pounds when I boxed Britton is rot. After I had eaten two heavy meals I stepped on the scales in the presence of W. H. Liginger, chairman of the Wisconsin boxing commission, and tipped the beam at 141 pounds. If I was ten pounds heavier than Britton, do you think I would have been allowed to box? "They talk about me boxing fighters of my own weight. Why, I have met and beaten fighters pounds heavier. Mike Free, Harry Brewer and Ray Bronson are some of the fighters I have beaten who weighed more than I did. I will box the welterweights as soon as I get to be a legitimate 145 pounder, and not before. "How about Willie Ritchie? He insisted on 133 pounds after he won the lightweight championship. Now he has moved the notch up to 135 pounds, and I doubt if he can make this weight at the ringside and go twenty

PLAYER-PIANOS Will Fill Many Homes With Melody on Christmas Day

But note this fact: That there is a vast difference in Player-Pianos—that in musical results one line stands far superior to all others; and this is the celebrated line of

"PIANOLA" PLAYER-PIANO

Any Player-Piano will sound the notes of a selection, but this is not sufficient. If you, or any music-lover, are to fully enjoy the music, it must be played with feeling, expression; it must be expressed in the spirit in which the composer intended it. The features which give you this ability are only found in the instruments of the "PIANOLA" Player-Piano line. Among these expression-control features are:

The Metrostyle and the Themodist

You must hear the instrument yourself to fully appreciate just what these and other "PIANOLA" features mean in artistic playing—because of these, and their constructional excellence, "PIANOLA" Player-Pianos have been for over a decade the choice of the world over where the established BEST is demanded.

The instruments embraced in the "PIANOLA" line are the Steinway, Weber, Steck, Wheelock, Stuyvesant and Stroud.

Prices commence at $550. As on Pianos, we gladly arrange very easy terms. Liberal allowance on Pianos & other Player-Pianos in exchange.

TRAPPERS ATTENTION IS CALLED TO LAW

Game Warden Leisner Gives an Impression of the Law Relative to Beaver Trapping.

"Now that the trapping season is on," said Game Warden Leisner today, "and the bringing of fur, especially that of the beaver, to Escanaba is an every day occurrence, it might be well to impress upon the trappers the salient features of the new game law relating to beaver trapping."

"Under the period of prohibition on this animal which was not lifted in this county until a year ago, the beaver multiplied rapidly and in some sections of the county and upper peninsula, they are now numerous. For their preservation the state has passed a law, forbidding the taking of more than four beaver from one colony and which limits the number of animals to be secured by one trapper under one license at fifteen."

"Before the pelts can be placed upon the market they must be registered with the county clerk and a little metal seal attached and then cancelled. However, when a trapper secures his limit of skins allotted him under one license, he has the privilege of renewing the license and continuing trapping."

Old clothes made to look like new at the Panitorium, 420 Ludington street. Cleaning, pressing and repairing. Phone 250-J. 610-tf.

HEART SWELLS UP LIKE A BELLOWS

Man Has Some of the Strangest Experiences in the History of Pathology.

New York, Dec. 16.—Edward W. Hooker, Connecticut state senator and former mayor of Hartford, who had twice been pronounced dead when his heart swelled to 10 inches in diameter sailed today to Bermuda to rest. This case is one of the most remarkable in the annals of pathology.

When the heart dilatation occurred for the first time a year ago, Mr. Hooker became unconscious. Twice he was revived by artificial respiration. He was told by a physician that the wall of his heart was almost as thin as an ordinary piece of paper and the fact that it had not broken was a marvel.

It is said that persons are now known to have lived after their hearts have been widened to more than seven inches. The normal is four. Mr.

Hooker's heart is now reduced to one-half more than normal size. During the last year he has lost in weight from 250 to less than 150 pounds. He attributes his ailment to over-exercise. Mr. Hooker is a third descendant of Joseph Hooker the founder of Hartford.

EAT LESS AND TAKE SALTS FOR KIDNEYS

Take a glass of Salts before breakfast if your Back hurts or Bladder bothers you.

The American men and women must guard constantly against Kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. One blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders. Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

THE WORK OF THE GRAND JURY STARTS

If you find such an act or criminal conspiracy exists or has been in existence you are to find a true bill against any and all persons concerned. You are to investigate riots, illegal assemblages, riots of breaches of the peace. You are to investigate such action whether they are the result of concerted actions or conspiracies. The testimony must be clear.

Speaking generally, the judge enjoined the jury to investigate all such crimes or misdemeanors as mentioned in the foregoing quotation, also carrying of weapons, concealed or otherwise, if for evil intent; murders, assault with or without intent to murder, the use of dynamite for the purpose of injuring persons or property, resisting of arrest and in fact any and all of the disorders alleged to have been committed during and as a result of the strike.

The court also laid down the law of perjury and advised the jury that a true bill might be found against any person swearing falsely in the grand inquest. The spiriting away of witnesses, the acceptance of pay or other consideration for concealing testimony, both are indictable offenses. In the case of a conspiracy all may be indicted for the act of one. The indictment may result from any violation of law in Houghton county or within 100 rods of the county line.

In fine, the jury can investigate any strike disorder placed before it by the prosecutor or any other person, provided that disorder is of a nature that makes it an offense above the jurisdiction of a justice of the peace.

Agitators Departing, It is Said
It was rumored today that J. C. Lawney, a member of the board of directors of the Western Federation, and Joseph Rickard, the English agitator of Laurium, had left the district Saturday night. It was said the two men had gone to Chicago. As Yanco Tersich and Ben Goggia are understood to have left the latter part of last week, there seem now to be no persons in authority in the Western Federation of Miners in the copper country, with the exception of President Moyer.

The strike today was very quiet. There were no parades, no meetings of strikers, of a public nature at least. There were no disorders.

WANTS BAN ON 'WHISKEY' HUNTERS

Lansing, Mich., Dec. 16.—State Game Warden Oates has been asked to urge the passage of a law to prevent hunters from taking whisky into their hunting camps during the deer season. In a letter received by the department a man of forty years' experience in the north woods says that a majority of the fatalities result from over-indulgence in whisky, and that there was more whisky carried into the north woods this season than last.

An eight pound daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Heintzman, of Milwaukee, who are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Walters. Mr. Heintzman is the general foreman of the Western Union Telegraph company.

DISSERTATION ON THE INCOME

All Interested in the Subject Which is Treated Here in a Jocular Fashion.

Incomes are now being taxed. It is therefore desirable that something should be known about them. An income is anything which you cannot live upon expressed in terms of lawful money. Lawful money is anything which will be accepted by the members of a state legislature or a police captain or your wife. Incomes were created for two purposes: to lie about and to live beyond. Many people who will not have to pay any are complaining to their friends and neighbors about the way they are oppressed by the income tax. This is one of those natural phenomena which no scientist has been able to explain.

Incomes vary in size according to how many people have worked for you in the past or are working for you at present. No income is without honor somewhere, except in the family it is vainly attempting to support. Here it is generally despised and looked down upon.

An income tax is an effort on the part of the government to make you feel that you are wealthy. Also to support the government in its main business in life, namely, living beyond its income.

The government, which receives a larger income than any one else, should be taxed upon it. The proceeds might go toward relieving millionaires in distress.

Every income is known by the company it keeps.—Life.

MAKE ANY OLD PROPOSITION

Modern Business Man Evidently is Prepared for Anything That May Be Offered.

As an illustration of what its editor calls the "new disease, versatility," the Engineering and Mining Journal quotes the following business card issued by a man in a western city:

"General contracting. Road building, cellars and cesspools, underground work, wells, tunnels and reservoirs. Team work, plowing, building and wrecking. Surveying, platting. Farm work and planting. Harvesting. Ditch and canal work, dredging and filling, town sites platted and sold. General mine development, old mines retimbered and unwatered. Mills, cyanide and general reduction plants erected and maintained. Oil and coal lands developed. We buy, sell, trade and lease. Mines and prospects. Mine and metallurgical reports, properties examined, mining corporations and maritime law. We buy, sell and exchange mines. We deal in oil and mining property. We deal in gypsum, potash, nitre and salt deposits. Mines handled under lease and bond. Copper mines, gold, silver, tin and lead mines. Large placer mines. Dry and hydraulic. Cement, placer and rich gravel channels. Oil lands for sale and lease. Have large lists of all classes of property. All kinds of mine and oil property wanted. Submit any proposition. We can handle it if any one can. Stocks, bonds and securities."

Automatic Professor.

The automatic professor is a mechanical means of teaching language which has just been introduced and which promises to become a favorite because of the ease and convenience with which it enables one to acquire a language. The device consists of a combination of the phonograph with a piece of mechanism which operates a reel on which are printed words and sentences so that the student is enabled to see the word at the same time that he hears it. The phonograph alone has already been utilized for the teaching of language with some success, but the efficacy of the new combination is much greater and the student acquires a greater familiarity with the language, both written and spoken, in less time. It is also applicable to elementary instruction in music.

Appetizing Odors.

It was a wise confectioner who an electric fan in his classroom of way to project the appetizing odors of his shop into the street where greeted the olfactory of the passers-by.

THE RALSTONS WIN TWO OUT OF THREE

After losing the first game by a decisive court, the Ralstons copped the second and third games by close scores for the Bostonians in the new Shoemen's league.

King Qualities were added to the league last night. The artists are from the Kratze Bros. shoe department. The Qualities won two out of three from the Walkovers last night at the Olmsted alleys.

CITY COUNCIL WILL MEET THIS EVENING

The first meeting for the month of December for the city council will be held this evening at the city hall. Little is the volume of business that has accumulated with the city clerk for the session. Principal is the communication from the new hotel company requesting that a flat rate for water and electricity, which in a probability will be acted upon.

Narrow Escape.

"By Jove, I had a narrow escape yesterday!"
"Really? How?"
"Well, four of us were lunching together, and, of course—you know—one has to be on that sort of occasion we each insisted on stumping up paying the bill."
"Yes," remarked his friend, "what about the narrow escape?"
"That's just it. For a minute or two it looked very much as though we were going to leave with that bill to pay!"

THE MERE MAN IN WILSON WEDDING

Mr. Sayre of the Roosevelt Type and Loves Adventure.

LOOKS LIKE THE PRESIDENT

His Young Life Crowded With Incident and His Two Years in Labrador With Dr. Grenfell Full of Perils and Hardships Bravely Met.

Stirring adventures and all the hardships which a frigid climate entails were experienced for two summers in Labrador by Francis B. Sayre, who won the hand of Miss Jessie Wilson, daughter of the president. Mr. Sayre had his lively adventures while acting as assistant to Dr. Wilfred T. Grenfell, the philanthropist physician, who is giving his life to the lonely fisherman of the bleak Labrador coast. Mr. Sayre and Dr. Grenfell, who was chosen as best man for the White House wedding, have had many hairbreadth escapes from death together and is what might be termed a "sportsman adventurer."

A study of Mr. Sayre shows in him more the characteristics of Theodore Roosevelt than of Woodrow Wilson. He combines the intense interest in the affairs of the human race with a love of the wilds which marked Mr. Taft's predecessor.

Mr. Sayre is modest. Recently an interviewer tried to get him to discuss his adventures. The best he got was this:

"Oh, yes, I went to Labrador for two summers with Dr. Grenfell—worked on board the Straithona, one of the doctor's ships—did hospital work mostly—kept us pretty busy."

"But, Mr. Sayre, didn't you have some adventures? Didn't you ever have your boat upset in the icy water or get lost in the wild back country?"

"Adventures? Oh, yes, adventures. Well, we did have some interesting times, but nothing to tell about."

"Couldn't you tell us a little, Mr. Sayre? What sort of dangers did you run?"

"Well, once we ran out of food in Newfoundland. We had a pretty hungry time, but we got out all right. By the way, don't you want me to tell you something about the bureau for abandoned wives and babies which I run?"

And the adventures are still untold.

Fond of Hunting.
Mr. Sayre does admit, however, that his hobby is hunting big game. And he has been a compunctious. He rode a cow pony long before he graduated from Williams college in 1903.

He looks as hard as nails—that is the only expression to cover it. He is five feet seven inches tall, weighs 150 pounds and is alert and on the jump mentally every minute. One can almost see his keen eye training through the sights of a rifle on a large polar bear.

Dr. Grenfell speaks very highly of him. Indeed, the comparison of him, who has devoted his fortune and life to the inhospitable coast where the fishing villages cluster in nooks and towering cliffs, is very fond of all the young men from Harvard, Yale, Princeton and other institutions of learning who have devoted months of their young manhood to furthering the Grenfell cause. Mrs. Grenfell, too, that courageous young American woman who married the physician with the full knowledge that most of her existence would be spent among ignorant, poverty stricken people of the north, is a great friend of Mr. Sayre.

Mr. Sayre is a member of that limited and selected group of close friends of Rear Admiral Peary, such as George Borup, the young Yale cross country runner, who was Peary's official photographer on the dash which resulted in the discovery of the pole and who was later drowned in Long Island sound. Borup spent some time in Labrador as a Grenfell aid. Mr. Sayre came back from Labrador with Peary aboard the Roosevelt.

Resembles Wilson.
"And it is a curious fact," says Mr. Sayre in recounting this last fact, "that the admiral told me I bore a strong resemblance to President Wilson. Peary was the first to note this, but not by any means the last."

When the story of Grenfell and his friends on the northeast coast is finally written in full—if it ever is—Mr. Sayre's name will undoubtedly appear in some prominence. It will figure with the names of the college graduates who have taken little craft from the states north along the coast to Dr. Grenfell's missionary field in order that the often wrecked fleet of the good doctor might be replenished.

Of Dr. Grenfell little need be said. He is well known by his own books and lectures, for one thing. It is now many years since he first left England to devote his life to the fisher folk.

From his headquarters at Battle Harbor he makes trips of hundreds of miles into the frozen north. Until he took up the work men and women lived and died in Labrador without ever so much as seeing a doctor or a church.

His first two hospital ships were wrecked. Of late his work has been much aided by the installation of little wireless telegraphy outfits on the fishing fleet. This enables the fishermen to call the doctor when one of them is desperately wounded, as often occurs in their dangerous life.

Fortune in a Coin.
Somewhere in the world there is a fortune in a coin. Among the coins Napoleon had minted were some millions of five-franc pieces, and he determined to popularize these in an extraordinary way. In one of the coins, folded to a tiny size, was enclosed a note signed by Napoleon, and promising the sum of 5,000,000 francs—about $200,000—to the finder of that particular coin.

Naturally, everybody who changed a large piece demanded the new five-franc coins in exchange, and as a rule probed and dug and sounded the metal in eager search for the hidden note. But the years went on and yet the note did not appear. Napoleon's plighted word is a sacred trust to the French nation, and today the government stands ready to pay the debt, which, with interest, is now worth £1,475,000—upon demand.

"JOAN OF ARC" OF MEXICAN REBELS.

The above photograph shows the heroine of the Battle of Juarez, Gaudulpe Candelaria, a 15 year old Mexican girl, who dashed into the midst of a fierce engagement to drag rebels that had been wounded "way from the firing line. She is here shown rolling a cigarette.

A prominent man returning from Mexico has declared, "If the world knew what was going on inside Mexico, the powers would intervene immediately." A hint of what happens there daily is evidenced in the following brief news item—General Villa has confiscated $500,000 worth of provisions and clothing from Juarez merchants and $100,000 from the Bank of Minero, to support the rebels. The storekeepers, mostly Spaniards, appealed to United States Consul Edwards, but he said he could not guarantee the safety of their property, and returned keys that they offered him.

WHALING A LIVE INDUSTRY

Statistics Show That It Has Not Died, and Has Every Prospect of a Long Life.

Whaling today in the extreme southern waters is centered to a great extent in the Falkland islands, due to the fact that a license is required by the British authorities of those islands for the privilege of operating in the South sea current, with the South Shetland islands and Grahamland as bases. The Compania Ballenera de Magallanes, a Chilean company, is the only whaling concern in this territory. Organized in 1905, it operates administrative offices in Punta Arenas, a trying-out station on the island of San Isidro in the Strait of Magellan, and a base of operations in the South sea current, licensed from the Falkland authorities. The company opens its annual whaling season in the Strait of Magellan in October, with base at San Isidro, where it operates until December, in which month its floating station and three whaling boats steam to the South sea current, to remain until the season closes in March or April. The catch for the last year in the Southern seas was valued at about $245,000. Only occasional right and sperm whales are caught in the extreme southern waters, the usual classes taken being blue, humpback, fin, and sey whales. The whales when killed are brought alongside the floating station and there cut up and the sections tried out into oil. However, one of the Norwegian companies (Solvensen's) is erecting a base on Deception Island adequate for trying out the whole whale.

Scientific Bridge Building.
Calgary Alberta, has recently solved a problem of bridge construction in a novel manner. The town lies on each side of the Bow river, that portion on the north bank being built on the high bluffs which border the river. To bridge the river on an incline to the top of the bluff would have been to neglect the portion of the city lying at the foot of the bluff. To make a deep cutting would have spoiled much of the property. The problem was solved by constructing a level bridge across the river, and then gaining the heights above by an inclined tunnel bored through the cliffs.

A BANDIT-ARTIST

By EDWIN V. KIMBALL

One night Giovanni di Falco, one of those bandits who have from time to time figured in Italian history, remarkable for their gentlemanly manners and courteous treatment of their victims, made bold to enter the city of Florence with a view to trying his hand at burglary. Having gained access to a palazzo, or palace, a name given to any fine house, and finding himself in an apartment which on account of the darkness he could see little or nothing of, he struck a match and lighted the gas.

The furniture was handsome, giving the room an air of comfort and refinement. There were mirrors, curtains, divans and other articles, all of costly material. But Giovanni especially admired the paintings and statuary. He had descended from a line of artists, and the artistic instinct was very strong in him. Having admired the pictures on the walls and the statues on their pedestals, his notice fell upon a portrait of a young and beautiful lady resting on an easel. It was not framed and was evidently not finished. That it was in process of production was evident from the fact that a box of paints and brushes and a palette were on a table beside it, while a maulstick rested against the easel.

Giovanni stood for some time looking at the portrait. The face was one of perfect innocence, while a smile was spread over it, being most exquisite on the lips between a pair of dimples. Whether it was the contrast between this purity and the bandit's own wickedness no one, of course, knows, but the picture appealed to him so strongly that he forgot everything else.

In Rome one can't tell when he will pick up a relic of the days of the imperial Caesars nor in Florence when he will hit on an artist. Giovanni sat down before the easel, took up brush, palette and maulstick and began to work on the picture. Little more than the drawing of which had been made. The night wore on, and still he painted, while under his brush that which was merely a drawing became a painting in oils. Suddenly hearing the rattle of silk behind him, he looked around. There stood the original of the picture. All other considerations in his mind were lost for the moment. It did not seem to care who he was or how he came there.

"You are doing splendidly," she said, "but in filling in the drawing you have slightly changed certain features."

"That, signorina, is because I have not had my model before me. If you will pose before me I think I can make the features you mention more like the original."

Passing to the other side of the easel, she assumed the position of the picture. She was dressed almost exactly as in the portrait, which was to be accounted for from the fact that she had been out to a ball and had happened to wear the costume in which she had been drawn. This made the work much easier for Giovanni, though his attention was principally bestowed upon the face.

Time flew for both of these persons, the one absorbed in being reproduced on canvas, the other as producer. Prince Poelani, the owner of the palazzo and the father of the young lady, being an early riser, when the daylight was well on came from his bedroom and opened the door of the chamber where the two were. It happened that he faced the artist, though Giovanni was too much absorbed in his work to notice him.

The prince recognized the leader of a gang who not long before had captured him while traveling between Florence and Siena and held him till he had been paid 50,000 francs ransom. What his daughter was doing in this singular position the prince, though surprised, did not stop to consider. Seeing that he was unobserved, he closed the door softly, went downstairs and at once sent out for the police. When they arrived they entered the apartment where the portrait was being painted by the two different doors leading into it, one party led by the prince. Artist and model both awoke as from a dream.

"Father," said the girl, "what means this interruption?"

"My child, what means this portrait painting at such an hour?"

"This gentleman is painting my portrait as it should be painted. See what he has done."

"Do you know who 'this gentleman' is?"

"No, nor do I care."

"He is the bandit who recently sent you word that if you didn't send him 50,000 francs he would send you my ears."

"That may be," said the girl after a slight shock, "but he has earned the money. No other artist could have produced such a work as this."

Giovanni sat covered by the muskets of the police during this interview. The prince looked at the portrait and was evidently much impressed with it.

"Why do you not do such work as this instead of robbing people?" he said to the bandit-artist.

"I tried and failed. The critics—"

"You mean the robbers of reputations. You are a wonder. Become a respectable citizen and you may become a famous artist."

And that was the result of the affair. The prince interceded with the government for the man and secured a pardon.

In Excuse.
Matilda, maid of all work, had received a letter from a friend whom she greatly admired for her intellectual attainments. With glowing pride she placed the epistle in the hands of her young mistress, a very clever high school girl, and, as the latter indulgently perused the ungrammatical but copperplate effusion, she kept up a running comment.

"A remarkably well-written letter, Matilda. But tell me, why does your friend always put a small 'I' for the personal pronoun?"

"I'll tell you, miss," she cried. "Winkle is very hard-worked. She must have been in a 'urry. When she 'as plenty o' time she puts a capital letter to every word!"

Abolishes One Man Power.
While giving a single headed administration, it abolishes the one man power seen in the old mayor and council plan. The manager has no independence, as the city need not suffer from his person whims or prejudices, since he is subject to instant correction or even discharge by the commission. Likewise in the commission, each member's individual whims or prejudices are safely submerged and avoided in the combined judgment of the whole commission, since no member exercises any authority in the municipal government save as one voting member of the commission.

It abandons all attempts to choose a manager by popular election. This is desirable because it leaves the lines of responsibility unmistakably clear, avoids the confusion in the Des Moines plan between the responsibility of the individual commissioners and that of the commission as a whole.

It provides a basis for better discipline and harmony, inasmuch as the city manager cannot safely be at odds with the commission, as can the Des Moines commissioners in their capacity as department heads or the mayor with the council in the mayor and council plan.

It is better adapted for large cities than the Des Moines plan. In very small cities by providing the services of one well paid manager instead of five or three paid commissioners it makes possible economies in salaries and overhead expenses.

It creates positions (membership in the commission) which should be attractive first class citizens, since the service offers opportunities for high usefulness without interruption of their private careers.

IN FAVOR OF CITY MANAGER PLAN

Its Advantages For Conduct of Municipal Affairs.

MAXIMUM OF EFFICIENCY.

National Municipal League Committee Finds It Better Than Other Variations of Commission Government. Abolishes One Man Power.

The city manager plan of municipal government was explained and heartily endorsed at the nineteenth annual meeting of the National Municipal League while in session at Toronto, Canada, by the special committee appointed two and a half years ago at the Richmond meeting to study the problem of commission government.

Commission government at present rules more than 7,000,000 persons in 300 cities and towns. The supporters of the plan are divided as to whether commissioners should be elected for specific posts, as at Lynn, Mass., or on a general ticket with power to divide the departments among themselves after election, as at Galveston, Tex., and Des Moines, Ia. The majority of the committee, however, reported that neither solution was as sound as that offered by the plan of electing a commission purely representative and legislative in function, permitting the members to give only part time to municipal work and receive nominal salaries or none and leaving the chief executive work to a city manager hired by the commission from anywhere in the country and holding office at its pleasure. This manager appoints and controls the remaining city employees subject to adequate civil service provisions.

Progress of Plan.
The first city manager plan was embodied in a charter prepared for the city of Lockport, N. Y., in 1911. The proposition, however, failed to get the approval of the state legislature. The plan was first adopted by the legislature of South Carolina for the city of Sumter and went into effect there on the first of the present year. Since then it has been adopted by Hickory and Morgantown, N. C.; Dayton and Springfield, O.; Lagrange, Ore.; Phoenix, Ariz., and Morris, Minn.

The advantages of the plan were pointed out by the committee in its report as follows:

It creates a single headed administrative establishment instead of the five separate administrative establishments seen in the Des Moines plan. This administrative unity makes for harmony between municipal departments, since all are subject to a common head.

The city manager plan permits expertness in administration at the point where it is most valuable—namely, at the head of the city government. In the office of the chief executive, whereas in all plans involving elective executives long tenures are rare. It permits the chief executive to migrate from city to city, inasmuch as the city manager is not to be necessarily a resident of the city at the time of his appointment, and thus an experienced man can be summoned at advanced salary from a similar post in another city.

It abolishes the one man power seen in the old mayor and council plan. The manager has no independence, as the city need not suffer from his person whims or prejudices, since he is subject to instant correction or even discharge by the commission. Likewise in the commission, each member's individual whims or prejudices are safely submerged and avoided in the combined judgment of the whole commission, since no member exercises any authority in the municipal government save as one voting member of the commission.

It provides a basis for better discipline and harmony, inasmuch as the city manager cannot safely be at odds with the commission, as can the Des Moines commissioners in their capacity as department heads or the mayor with the council in the mayor and council plan.

It is better adapted for large cities than the Des Moines plan. In very small cities by providing the services of one well paid manager instead of five or three paid commissioners it makes possible economies in salaries and overhead expenses.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS IS PASTOR'S THEME

 nearer or farther away? Do you think more or less of home and parents and children and character and virtue and work and immortality and honesty and kindness and love?
 (3). Does the amusement throw your influence towards righteousness and Christianity, or away from them? Are you in danger of causing "the least of these little ones to stumble?" Are you abstaining "from the appearance of evil?"
 Referring to the amusement situation in Escanaba, in earnest words Mr. Beach called upon the parents to realize the seriousness of it, and the need of carefully guarding their children. Among other references he spoke as follows regarding the tango dance:
 It will be noticed that Mr. Beach does not attack the tango, when the dance is danced as it is taught. It was reported that he had scored the dance, stating that it was uncut. Such was not the case. He merely stated that the dance is abused and for that reason it is being objected to in many localities.

"Has it not appeared strange to you that it is necessary to explain so frequently and so emphatically that the tango dance is so chaste a dance? During the last week a dozen or more people have been telling me how splendid a dance it is, and numerous articles have appeared in our daily newspapers to the same effect. But why does so chaste a dance require so much defending? Why are its ardent defenders kept busy apologizing for it? Does something so virtuous and chaste need so much defending?
 "If I may answer my own question, I will tell you the reason. It is that the tango dance is such that inevitable in a large group it leads to sensual dancing on the part of some. Under the watchful eye of the teacher it may not be so but in a regular dance evening it does—not with all but inevitably with some. Just why it does I will not take the time to explain, but any of you who have closely watched it, know why. It is on account of this fact that practically all public dance halls, and most private ones, that desire to maintain clean dancing bar the tango. And the proprietors are no "preacher-fanatics" either; they are experts in the dance, and they know that the tango dance so leads to sensual dancing on the part at least of some, that the situation will get beyond their control. Will it take one who is guided by Christian principle very long to decide what ought to be his attitude towards this dance?"

"TOMMY" HUGHITT IS SUBJECT OF THEME

Fred Baldwin of the High School Prepares Interesting Theme About Local Youth.
 The Mirror has on hand a theme written by Fred Baldwin of the high school which we are going to publish as soon as space will permit. The theme is so well handled that we desire to use it without alteration and at the present time the advertising is almost too heavy for the force to take care of without news stories.
 However, we are going to use it at the first opportunity and we want to assure our readers that the theme will be well worth waiting for.

MISS SNYDER ENTERTAINS
 The members of the T. B. B. club were entertained last evening by Miss Mae Anna Snyder at her home on Fifth street. Several social hours were enjoyed and refreshments were served at the conclusion.

PLAYED TRICK ON PARTNER

Neat Way in Which Ikey Secured Silver Spoons Which His Companion Had Purloined.
 "Two gentlemen of the light-fingered fraternity, who were in the habit of visiting dinner parties in hopes of picking up something, were one evening just in time to see the tables cleared; but Ikey, the smarter of the two, succeeded in purloining five silver forks, which he immediately pocketed, to the envy of Moses, his pal who asked him to share.
 "No, my boy. You should be smart," was the answer.
 "During the evening Moses was asked to sing, but refused, saying he was no singer; but if they cared for a little conjuring trick he would entertain them for a few minutes.
 The company was delighted, and Moses asked for five silver forks which were soon brought. He then placed them in his inside breast pocket, and gently tapping them three times, he exclaimed: "Presto! Fly! Change! Gone! Now, if someone will kindly look into my friend Ikey's inside breast pocket he will find them there."
 A gentleman obliged, and Ikey, extremely flustered, produced the forks to the great delight of the company and Moses.

Unification of Time.
 The International Conference on the Unification of Time, to secure its regular daily transmission to ships at sea and to a number of meteorological stations on land, held an important meeting at the Paris observatory recently. It was decided to create an international association, the statutes of which were drawn up. The association will be formed of delegates from all the participating governments, which at the present moment are 15 in number. The headquarters of the international time bureau are to be in Paris, and the expenses are to be borne by the various governments, those of countries of less than 5,000,000 inhabitants will subscribe an annual sum of $160, those between 5,000,000 and 10,000,000 are to subscribe a sum of $240, and those whose population is above 20,000,000 are to subscribe an annual sum of $400. The signals are to be sent out as stated hours by wireless telegraphy and all other useful information regarding the wind, the weather, movements of earthquakes, are also to be communicated from the bureau.

Home-Made Silver Polish.

Some of the bought silver polishes are very destructive. A harmless and effective home-made preparation consists of half a pound of whiting sifted into a bowl, to which are added two ounces of spirits of turpentine, one ounce of spirits of wine, half an ounce of spirits of camphor, with one tablespoonful of household ammonia. Mix the ingredients thoroughly and bottle. In polishing apply liberally to the silver with a soft cloth or brush and then allow it to dry, after which rub off with a soft cloth and polish with chamol.

MAIL ORDER HOUSES ARE IN BAD AT YALMER

Swedish Residents There Find Where They Get Their Help When They Ask for Church Donation.

Certain Chicago mail order houses are "in bad" with the Swedish population of Palmer, a little hamlet a few miles from Marquette, all because of a munificent $10 donation to which was annexed certain conditions, not at all conducive to the construction of a new Swedish Lutheran church for which funds were being solicited. It is alleged that for several years, the misguided population of Yalmer have been snatching at "mail order bargains," ignoring the existence of Marquette merchants. However, when it became a matter of securing funds for the new church, Marquette business men were slated to be among the first to whom financial appeal was directed.
 Mons Swanson, an influential resident of Palmer, journeyed to Marquette in search of funds. He sought secretary Daley of the Commercial Club and requested that the club issue him an order allowing him to place his plan before the local merchants.
 Mr. Daley did not exactly refuse him the card but he merely suggested that before-aid was asked of this city business men, it might be better to also place the matter before the Chicago mail order concerns who Mr. Swanson admitted, secured a greater portion of the Yalmer trade. Mr. Swanson agreed that it was an excellent plan and as a result three letters were written.
 Two of the three Chicago houses ignored the request for funds entirely, but the third was perfectly willing to contribute $10 providing all lumber and supplies for the new structure were purchased of them.
 Mr. Swanson has been granted the desired consent of the local club to seek financial support here and the church will probably be erected. Buy the congregation of the little church at Yalmer have unanimously voiced intentions of doing their future trading in Marquette.

SNOW IS NEEDED CRY OF LOGGING OPERATORS

The Present Warm Weather is Causing Loggers Much Concern Over Conditions.
 Unless snow falls within the next two or three weeks, work in the lumber camps in this district will be greatly curtailed. In some of the camps the number of men employed has been reduced. The weather of the past few weeks has been excellent for cutting and piling the logs, but unless hauling can be started soon, the work of many operators will be interfered with. In some camps cutting has been going on since October, and in some instances even since an earlier time.
 The operators are having no difficulty securing all the men they need, and during the past week many who were unable to procure employment in the camps in this vicinity have left for other fields.

THREE OPERATIONS PERFORMED

Dr. W. B. Boyce performed three operations this morning that were successful. Mrs. Frank Starnes, of Northland, had an operation on her nose. Miss Helen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Miner, of Trenary, had an operation for the removal of the tonsils and adenoids. Adolph, the son of Mrs. Thomas Dumphy had a similar operation performed.

Check the Symptoms of Lung Trouble

One of the many reasons why Lung Trouble is so difficult to fight is because the disease is often of a very feinting nature. The patient may look well, but in reality is fast losing strength by continued night sweats, fever and cough. These symptoms should be checked as quickly as possible. Eckman's Alternative is beneficial in checking fever and night sweats and it has brought about many complete recoveries. Read this case:
 305 W. 36th St., New York.
 "Gentlemen: I am writing you this testimonial that others may know what your Alternative has done for me. Since I was a very young woman I was a sufferer from Bronchitis. I tried doctor after doctor, getting little or no benefit. Finally I had night sweats, weak spells and lost rapidly in weight and my doctor told me if they were not checked I would have Lung Trouble. Miss Mary Korhammer, who is a friend of mine, recovered after taking your Alternative and insisted that I try it. I am now, after two years, perfectly well, strong and healthy."
 (Abbreviated; more on request.)
 Eckman's Alternative has been proven by many years' test to be most efficacious for severe Throat and Lung Affections, Bronchitis, Bronchial Asthma, Stomach Colds and in quelling the system. ### LAKE DISASTERS SHOW WIRELESS NECESSITY Boats Lost in the Big Storm Could Have Been Saved by Radio, U. S. Claims.

The value of wireless has been demonstrated, according to the department of commerce, by the fact that none of the 19 American vessels lost in the storm which swept the Great Lakes last month were equipped with wireless, whereas the vessels which had the wireless, received warning of the coming storm and sought safety. This information has come to the department from its radio inspectors

WALTER CAMP PICKS ALL AMERICAN TEAM

Desjardien of Chicago and Craig of Milwaukee are the only Western Men.

Milwaukee, Wis., Dec. 16.—Two westerners, out of the unusual number of gridiron stars developed in this section of the country during 1913, were honored by Walter Camp in his annual semi-annual All-American selection. Shorty Des Jardien of Chicago was the sole "Big Nine" representative and the dashing Craig of Michigan gained first honors as the other man west of the Alleghenies. These were the only football players thought worthy of first team mention by Camp, although there were many who broke into the honor roll on second and third teams.

According to dean of football critics, Butler of Wisconsin and Eichenlaub of Notre Dame were both more than capable players and were but one opinion short of the players placed ahead of them on the first team. Norgren of Chicago, Solon of Minnesota, Halligan of Nebraska, Patterson of Michigan, and Rockne of Notre Dame were the other westerners given honorary mention and placed on the third team. Camp says that Norgren undoubtedly more than earned his spurs, but he believes that the maroon captain was not entitled to more than third rating with the galaxy of stars who played behind the line this year.

PLAN EDUCATIONAL CAMPAIGN FOR STATE

Superintendent of Education Keeler and Other Speakers Will Come to This County

State Superintendent of Education Fred L. Keeler has perfected plans for an educational campaign to cover sixty counties in January and February. He has arranged with members of the faculties of several colleges and universities, well known educators and several county commissioners of schools, who will give addresses on various subjects.

Delta county and other counties in the upper peninsula are included in the list of places for which addresses are scheduled and the speakers assigned to this part of the state include Superintendent Keeler himself, Dr. Ernest B. Hoag of Stanford University, Berkeley, Cal., and O. T. Corson, Columbus, Ohio, ex-state superintendent of public instruction. Their schedules as announced for this section, will be as follows:

Mr. Corson will begin his speaking tour at Alpena, January 27 and 28; Sault Ste. Marie, January 30 and 31; Cheboygan, January 29; Escanaba, February 5; Iron Mountain, February 4; Houghton county, February 3; Crystal Falls, February 11 and 12; Marquette, February 2; Menominee, February 6 and 7; Ironwood, February 9 and 10.

Dr. Hoag will be in Delta county February 5; Iron Mountain, February 4; Houghton county, February 3; Crystal Falls, February 2; Menominee, February 6 and 7; Ironwood, February 9 and 10.

Superintendent Keeler will be at Ionia January 27; Delta county, February 5; Iron Mountain, February 4; Houghton county, February 3; Crystal Falls, February 11 and 12; Marquette county, February 2; Menominee, February 6 and 7; Port Huron, January 30; Ironwood, February 9 and 10.

NOTICE FROM CITY TREASURER

Notice is hereby given that the state, county, school, agricultural society, street paving, sewer, sidewalk scavenger, water connection and penalty taxes will be in my hands, Dec. 10th, 1913 for collection. The taxes therein levied can be paid at the city hall any time before the 10th day of January, without any charges for collection. A four per cent collection fee will be charged on all taxes remaining unpaid on the said 10th day of January.

Don't forget to bring the description or last receipt so as to save time in looking up the description in tax roll.

GUARD SECRET CODE BOOK

Signals to Be Used by Navy in Time of War One of the Most Close of Secrets.

Few things are so jealously guarded as the secret code book of the United States navy. It is a book of signals—not the ordinary "wig-wag" signals used in the daily direction of the fleet by a commanding officer—but a code of signals to be used solely in time of war and in the presence of an enemy. These secret code books are issued only to the executive officers of a ship, who are enjoined to protect them against theft by every possible means. These books are threatened not so much by the ordinary thief as by secret emissaries of other governments who desire to obtain knowledge of what our battleships would do in time of action. Governments have no scruples against theft in such cases. The loss of one of these secret code books by an officer, unless explained to the entire satisfaction of the secretary of the navy, would mean court-martial and probable expulsion from the service. To the honor of our service, no officer has ever yet been brought up charged with loss. The books are bound in heavy metal covers, so that in time of threatened capture they may be thrown overboard, sinking at once to the bottom of the sea, and thus avoiding seizure.

To Make a Bird Bath.

If for some reason or other known only to his stubborn little self your canary refuses to take a bath, try this remedy:

Don't give him any lettuce or other green for a week. Then put a small leaf of fresh, green lettuce in the bottom of his bath, half fill it with moderately cool water and put the bath in the cage.

The bird's desire for the lettuce will almost always cause him to go into the water before very long, and once in, he will find it so pleasant that he will doubtless take a bath regularly.

If he still refuses to bathe, repeat the same treatment until he learns to like his bath as much as he likes lettuce.

Deaths by Flying.

July, August and September, a good time of year for aviation, proved this year to be a specially fatal period for aviators. Nearly eighty persons were killed in various parts of the world in accidents due to the navigation of the air. Some of the deaths were spectacular, as, for instance, those of the four persons in a crowd in Germany who were killed by the propeller of an aeroplane passing over their heads, and the drowning of fifteen in the wreck at sea of the Zeppelin, L-1, and the fall of Lieutenant Schmidt 5,000 feet to his death.

Flying is still the most dangerous of occupations; to attain safety is still the chief object to be sought.

A COAT IN DROP-SHOULDER STYLE

Tunics are becoming to nearly every figure unless it be short and unusually stout, and even then there are styles of the tunic that would be becoming, so it is deservedly popular. These tunics or overskirts are long or short, draped or pointed and often they are merely applied bands cleverly arranged to look like an overskirt. All is fair this season as long as the effect is obtained.

No. 8084 is an attractive example of the applied circular trimming band, which gives the effect of a tunic. The smartly draped sash adds to the impression. For this costume tete de negre bengaline is used with trimmings of the same colored satin.

It requires 4 1/2 yards of 36 inch material to copy this gown in size 36. The drop-shoulder is a fashion feature favored by almost every one. It gives a smart air to the simplest frock or suit and is, as a rule, becoming.

In this instance (8080) it appears on a coat. Black velvet fashions the suit, and the collar and cuffs are of ermine.

To copy this coat (8080) in size 36 it requires 2 1/2 yards of 42 inch material. The skirt (7807) requires 2 1/2 yards of 36, 40 or 54 inch material, without up and down, for any size. No. 8084—sizes 34 to 42. No. 8080—sizes 34 to 42. No. 7807—sizes 22 to 30. Each pattern 15 cents.

To obtain either pattern illustrated fill out this coupon and enclose 15 cents in stamps or coin. Be sure to state number of pattern and size, measuring over the fullest part of the bust. Address Pattern Department, care of this paper.

Prisoners in the Ohio penitentiary eat their meals to the accompaniment of orchestra music. The kind of music is said to go well with boiled cabbage and fat pork. Use the Want Ads in servant-hunting—as most people, who succeed in such quests, do.

BEST TO EMPLOY BOTH HANDS

All Should Cultivate Ambidexterity as a Precaution Against Possible Accident.

At a pinch we shall most of us find ourselves ambidextrous, with the left hand ready to do what the right has done. And many of us are left-handed (in parts) without knowing it. Personally I deal the cards and fix my buttons with the left hand, being in most other matters right-handed. But the two hands should certainly be encouraged to supplement each other. It takes only a fortnight or so for the right-handed writer to write with the left hand, and Miss Evelyn Sharp achieved it when her right arm was threatened with writers' cramp.

We are all born, I imagine, with hands of equal strength and skill, and the balance should be maintained by practice. A curious instance of ambidexterity is that of Mr. Townsend, the art editor of Punch. His drawings are done with the left hand, but his letters are written with the right. He is left-handed as a billiard player, but right-handed as a card dealer. And when he plays cricket he is a left-handed bowler, but a right-handed batsman. When you have achieved such ambidexterity you might cut off your right hand without offense.—London Chronicle.

STUDENT WAS TOO PREVIOUS

Intended Joke on Professor Came Back With a Rebound That Must Have Been Felt.

A good story is told at the expense of an undergraduate at a certain university. He was attending the chemical lectures of a distinguished, if not popular, professor, who had announced for his next lecture some experiments with laughing-gas. The student, who knew that persons under the influence of laughing-gas were not responsible for their words or actions, saw an opportunity of telling the professor some home truths with impunity.

On the afternoon of the lecture the professor called for a volunteer for the experiments to be made, and our undergraduate promptly came to his assistance, to the amusement of the class, which had been taken into his confidence.

The bag containing the hilarious gas was duly affixed to the student's mouth, and he commenced to inhale vigorously. The effect was magical. The student began to abuse the professor in terms which are unknown in polite circles.

The professor lent a patient ear to this testimony to his character, and then, turning to the class, said, with the suspicion of a twinkle in his eye: "You see, gentlemen, how powerful this gas is, when even the anticipator of it produces such effects. I will now proceed to turn on the gas."

Annals of the Fiji Kings.

Tanoa, Cacobau's father and great-grandfather of the present Ratu, was one of the most villainous of all the kings who ruled in Bau. The history of his atrocities makes professional ogres like Nero and Catherine de Medici appear like martyred saints. At his death his son, Cacobau, who succeeded him, strangled his father's five wives, his own mother among them, in accordance with the custom of the land. Later in life, Cacobau embraced the new lotu—Christianity. From the date of his conversion he committed no more outrages and discarded all of his wives save one, whom he married with the church ceremony when both were baptized. His son Ratu Abel did not look very favorably upon the new religion, and mixed very little with foreigners, yet no charges of cannibalism or other cruelties were laid at his door. The present Ratu Kadavu is a well-educated man, and with his cousin, Ratu Pope, attended the University of Sydney.—Christian Herald.

Nobody but God. When Representative Marican floor leader, rose to certain Democratic bill he that his opponents had forged pledges. Their performance reminded him of a little memorized an inspiring poem delivered at some public given in the town school.

"Nobody knows but God began the little boy, advanced down the stage. Then he repeated: "Nobody knows but God Again there came a squirming, the boy screamed "Nobody knows but God It was the first tragedy of life. He faced disaster, mutable and grim, and he y "And nobody knows but Reboboth Sunday Herald.

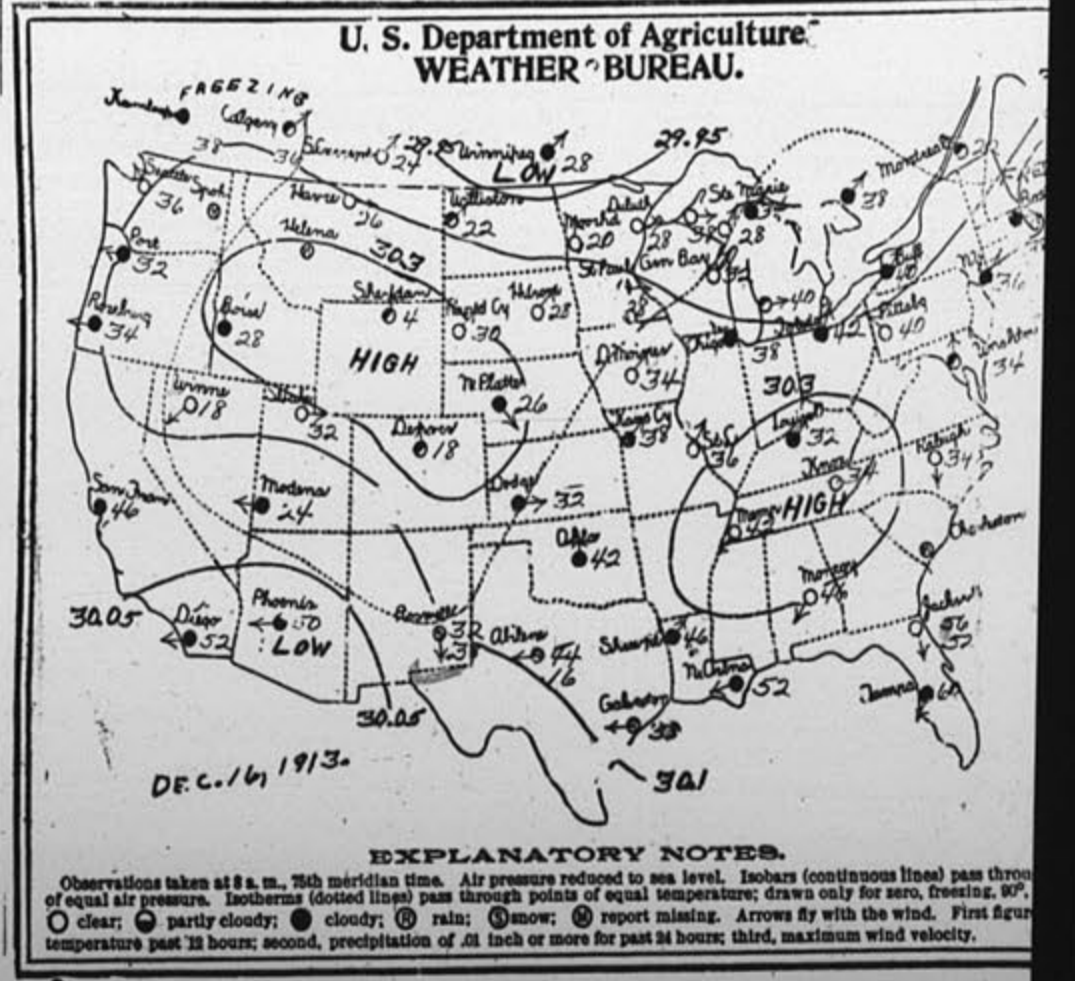

One of the big mail order Chicago cleared $8,822,610. The likelihood is that so employees were paid as much $3 to $5 per week. Most of made by this firm came pockets of confiding people of miles away, who did not spend their money at home

Harvests of $9,000,000,000.

Crops this year will add some $9,000,000,000 to the wealth of the nation. This sum approximates the largest total ever realized for products of the soil. Corn, although short some 600,000,000 bushels compared with the yield last year, is worth $200,000,000 more than the bumper crop of 1912. Wheat, too, has a larger money value than ever before. The same is true of cotton, despite the reduced yield in the Southeast due to lack of moisture. These estimates are based on statistics of the Department of Agriculture, and as that department is noted for conservatism in estimating yields, it is not impossible that when final returns are in the total value of crops will be upward of $10,000,000,000.

Setting the Clock Ahead.

A resolution recently passed by the Vancouver board of trade approved a request for provincial legislation to advance the standard time in British Columbia one hour from the first Sunday in October. It was stated that during the summer months people slept three hours of daylight, while if the time is advanced one hour it will add that period to their recreation time in the evening. It is considered that this can be brought about with little inconvenience, except to the railroads, and it is thought that no objection would be raised by these companies.
