ALLIED FLEET STILL HAMMERS AT TURKISH FORTS; ITALY READY

AUSTRO-GERMAN SUBMARINE SQUAD PLANS ATTACK ON ALLIED FLEET AT THE DARDENELLES—REMOVE BANKS AND GOVERNMENT ARCHIVES FROM CONSTANTINOPLE.

GERMAN REPORT

WARSAW, March 3.—A German aviator bombarded Warsaw today, the bombs falling for the main part, in the residential section, breaking many panes of glass and doing other damage. There were no casualties.

THE HAUGE, March 3.—The German government today informed American minister Van Dyke through the German consul, von Mueller that an arrangement had been made to give a safe passage to American ships through the war zone, carrying supplies for the Belgian relief.

An Austro-German submarine squad of six underwater craft and an accompanying fleet of ships and torpedo boats left the Austrian naval base of Pola, on the Adriatic sea, presumably to strike at the Anglo-French fleet operating at the Dardenelles.

It is said that nine ships of the allied fleet have forced their way to the narrowest part of the straits and have bombarded the forts at that point and have also landed a force of marines which scattered a Turkish garrison. It is probable that the despatches refer to the activities of Monday when the allied fleet staged their spectacular attack on the Dardanelles.

Italy Makes Preparations
Italy continues her military preparations and has taken up in parliament measures for the increase of strength of her army. It is said that all classes have been asked to join the colors and enter the new army.

A telegram from Berlin says the Russians have not won a single attack in their desperate efforts to regain the territory and positions lost to the Austrians at the crest of the Carpathians.

Heavy fighting continues in the snow of the north and the Russ are endeavoring to ward off the attempts of the Germans in encircling operations.

Considerable comment has been heard on the attitude of the American note. Some despatches share the view of the British government that the note is an indication of the distinctness and friendliness of this country. Others say the note was inspired by a consideration of American interests.

TODAY'S ODDEST STORY

Kansas City, Mo., March 3.

Kansas City lost a lot of the pride today, all because little Earl Meade went to the country and what his mother wrote back got into the papers.

Earl had lived in Kansas City all his life, and then, on the farm where he was visiting, he scented a familiar odor as the breezes wafted in from the barn yard.

"Oh mama," he cried, "I can smell Kansas City!"

Civic boosters are wondering if the stockyards breezes are really that bad."

CITY PURCHASES LOT OF HOSE FROM THREE DIFFERENT COMPANIES

Following the opening of bids on the furnishing of 1,000 feet of fire hose for the city's use, during the session of the city council last night the contract for three different grades was awarded to local firms.

Three hundred and fifty feet of wax and gum treated hose was ordered purchased of the Delta Hardware company at a price of $1.10 per foot, 250 of Ohio brand hose from the Escanaba Hardware company at $1.00 per foot and the remainder, 300 feet of Royal Jacket brand hose from Kratze Bros., at 89 cents a foot. An order was also placed for the purchase of six pairs of brass couplings at $1.45 per pair.

WOODSMAN SUSTAINS BAD BRUISES IN ACCIDENT

Fred Rick, a woodsman employed in the timber near the city was brought to St. Francis hospital last night suffering from a badly contused thigh. SECRETARY OF WAR SAYS THAT MILITARY TRAINING IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS WILL WORK HARM IF NOT UNDER PROPER SUPERVISION

(Written for the United Press.)
Washington, March 3.—High school military training, unless carefully supervised and directed, will work evil rather than good, in the opinion of Secretary of War Garrison.

So to prevent the widespread agitation for such training from becoming a detriment to the nation, he intends soon to inaugurate a movement whereby this may be correlated and properly directed.

He announced today that he will try soon to get together a group of representative citizens from various communities to confer with a body of military experts from his department.

In this proposed conference, a plan will be mapped out whereby military training may be used in the schools to the advantage of all concerned. He decided on this measure only af-

ENGLAND CLAIMS THAT GERMANY AND AUSTRIA PLAYING LOSING GAME

RUSSIAN SUCCESSES ARE SAID TO HOLD GREAT SIGNIFICANCE IN SITUATION IN THE EAST BATTLE FRONT—ASSERT VON HINDENBURG BEING DRIVEN BACK.

ENGLISH REPORT

LONDON, March 3.—A telegram received today by diplomats London confirmed the recent reports that the German and Ottoman banks in Constantinople are transferring their effects to Koenehe, and that the archives of Turkey had already been removed there.

LONDON, March 3.—Austrian warships have bombarded Antivari, the Montenegrin seaport and have done considerable damage. This information was contained in a despatch to the Montenegrin consul general in London.

(By Associated Press.)
London, March 3.—According to what appears to be the almost unanimous opinion of British observers, the Germans and Austrians are playing a losing game along practically the whole eastern front. The situation of the Austrians in the Carpathians, judging from official and unofficial despatches from Petrograd, seems to be an unsafe one, while the Russians, it is said, have definitely checked them on the eastern Galicia front. Furthermore, the English reports continue to relate more or less successes for the Russians who are opposing Field General, von Hindenburg in his operations in Poland.

Fleet Agani Active
The allied fleet again bombarded the Dardanelles yesterday, according to reports from Constantinople.

CONGRESS IS UNDER HIGH PRESSURE IN THE WINDUP OF SESSION

FINAL TWENTY-FOUR HOURS OF NATIONAL LEGISLATURE IS STARTED WITH GREAT MASS OF BILLS AND MEASURES UP FOR CONSIDERATION—WILSON SIGNS APPROPRIATION BILLS.

RIVER AND HARBORS BILL IS PASSED

Washington, March 3.—The Sixty-third congress today swung into the last twenty-four hours of its life confronted with a great mass of work to be done before tomorrow. The Senate is in practically continuous session and will so continue until adjournment. Large numbers of bills and measures are being sent to Wilson to affix his signature to.

Today, House and Senate conferees were deadlocked over certain features of the rural credits section in the Agricultural bill and also on the Railway Mail pay measure in the Post-office bill. The ultimatum to abandon the legislative program to let certain measure fall were being discussed, but no differences were made in the larger bills which were sure of passage. Republican leaders could not see the passage of such administration legislation at this time.

Senate Accepts Naval Bill

Washington, March 3.—The senate spent the first hours this morning of the session, on a consideration of the Naval bill and in consideration of the abolition of the plugging board, but later decided to accept it.

They agreed on the legislative, executive and certain of the appropriation bills and the house agreed to accept the senate's suggestion of paying mileage as usual, and then took up the Rivers and Harbors bill. The senate agreed to reconsider the legislative appropriation bill, cutting two more of the big matters from the list.

Washington, March 3.—At 6:37 o'clock this morning the senate passed the Rivers and Harbors bill and sent it to the house for action.

Washington, March 3.—President Wilson today signed the Sundry appropriation bill carrying a large sum for certain work and the fortifications bill calling for expenditure of $6,606,261.

NEW DECORATIONS IN LUDINGTON DINING ROOM

A delft blue dining room is the creation made in the New Ludington hotel. Windows have been installed on the outer walls and the room paneled in beaver board and decorated with appropriate designs. The work was done by H. H. Burns, the architect who designed the decorations of the new Masonic Temple. A system of semi-indirect lighting has also been installed.

FRENCH RESIDENTS OF CITY EFFECT SOCIETY ORGANIZATION, SUNDAY

FRENCH-CANADIANS OF SECTION ORGANIZE TO HOLD SELVES TOGETHER—ELECT OFFICERS AND PLAN MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN—125 MEMBERS NOW IN.

The preliminary steps in what is believed will be one of the strongest French-Canadian clubs of this section was taken Sunday afternoon when a large body of Escanaba French-Canadians effected the organization of a club; the purposes of which are to bind the people of that nationality, now in the section, together and to keep their interests in each other at a proper level.

Officers were elected and plans made for the further spreading out of the organization. A membership of one hundred and twenty-five has thus far been secured and each day adds more to the roster. The organization has been named the French-Canadian club, with the following officers: president, Matt Fillion; secretary, Peter C. Dube, Jr.

An active campaign for members from among the peoples of French-Canadian extraction here is expected to be instituted in the near future and these back of the move say they have reason to believe that it will become one of the most prominent organizations of similar character in the district.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE PUBLIC LIBRARY SHOWS BIG INCREASE IN 1914

OVER FOUR HUNDRED MORE BORROWERS DURING 1914 THAN DURING PREVIOUS YEAR—38,000 VOLUMES IN CIRCULATION AT THE PRESENT TIME—ANNOUNCE BROAD PLAN FOR YEAR.

ASK BRANCH IN NORTH ESCANABA

A branch library or reading room for the convenience of the North Escanaba patrons of the Carnegie library is the plan broached in the annual report of the library board, presented to the city council during last evening's session.

A broad plan of new work was outlined and certain changes in the building were asked for, during the present fiscal year.

According to the report, the number of persons now borrowing books from the institution has been increased by over four hundred, or to be exact, 443, making a total of 4,234 persons actually using books from the library in their homes.

In all, the home circulation list has been increased to nearly 38,000 volumes, (37,817 is the figure of the report). Of this number thirty four percent were non-fiction. These figures are much higher than those in larger cities, and, according to the board, speaks well for the people of the city, who are thus shown to be reading worthwhile material.

School Children Figure Large

An item of interest in the report is that of the amount of books loaned out to school children, of the Webster school, 1,225 volumes being taken out from this one source, making a total of 39,072 in circulation. An average circulation per day of 130 books has been maintained for the period ending January first. The largest share of the library work is being done, according to the statement, through the reading and reference section. Here a total of 33,123 persons has used the reading rooms, of which number 14,644 were children. Attesting to the popularity of the Sunday afternoon plan a total of 3,025 persons used the rooms on those occasions, an average of 63 per Sunday.

Add New Books

A large number of new books has been added to the list on circulation.

Herman H. Bruns Has Exhibit of Work in Window Local Store

Three exceptionally clever and admirably executed bits of oil painting are on exhibit in the window of the Jackson tailoring shop, the work of Herman H. Bruns, architect and consulting decorator.

The subjects are splendidly treated and in all three were executed with palette knife alone. The pieces shown are a Venetian scene, done in tones characteristic of the subject, a piece labelled "Ducks at the Water Hole," a fine bit of bird life and a large still life piece entitled, "Pastime Habits." In the latter is a wine glass, a wine carafe, all set in front of dull green hangings, making a splendid picture. Mr. Bruns is the architect who designed the changes in the Masonic Temple and who is supervising the decorations.

NEW ASSESSOR IS NAMED BY MAYOR WITHOUT DISCUSSION DURING QUIET COUNCIL MEET

PRIMARY ELECTION IS VERY QUIET; EXPECTED THAT VOTE BE LIGHT

According to indications late this afternoon, the primary election being held today will be a comparatively light one and with but little interest manifested outside the ranks of the republicans.

The fight between the Chatfield, Smith and Valentine forces is expected to prove interesting and at this time each of the candidates is expressing optimistic views on the outcome. Hinchmen of the various candidates have been busy during the day rounding up voters for their candidates, but the final figures will not be available until after six o'clock.

At least one mayoralty candidate engaged in distributing literature in support of his cause, on the streets of the city last night and today. The others, however, have contented themselves with the personal work and are now anxiously awaiting the final outcome. As the mayoralty race in the republican ranks overshadows all else, it is not expected that much competition will develop in the other offices with the exception of the clerkship for which five republicans are striving.

MINING COMMITTEE IN SCATHING ARRAIGNMENT OF COLORADO MILITIA

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, D. C., March 3.—A scathing arraignment of the Colorado militia for its treatment of striking miners and their families is contained in a voluminous report submitted to the house today by the mines and mining sub-committee, which under a resolution adopted a year ago in January, investigates conditions in the Colorado coal fields. While scoring conditions generally in the coal fields and criticizing many of the acts of the mine owners, including alleged violations of state laws, the committee reports that no evidence was to be found of a conspiracy in restraint of trade to limit the output of the mines, nor conclusive proof of the existence of peonage.

The strike was settled long before the committee completed its report, so no specific recommendations are made. The committee appeals for arbitration in such cases. It declares that these disturbances are nationwide in their importance; that the Federal government is the only power competent to deal with and, after referring to the testimony of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., who disclaimed responsibility for Colorado conditions, adds:

Owners Responsible

Absentee owners or directors, by their absence from the scenes of such disturbances cannot escape their moral responsibility for conditions in and about properties in which they are interested.

Liberal extracts from the 2,000 pages of testimony taken by the committee are embodied in the report, with this comment:

Considerable testimony on both of the sides we believe to be unreliable and no confidence should be placed in it. Colorado has good mining laws (Continued on page six)

MARINETTE VETERAN OF THREE WARS IS DEAD

James A. Rappe, ninety-nine years of age and a veteran of three wars is dead at his Marinette home, of old age and other infirmities.

HEARS SEWER PETITION

OFFER PETITION FROM SEVENTH WARD RESIDENTS FOR ARC LIGHT AT C. & N. W. TRACKS REFERRED TO BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS—HEAR TREASURER'S REPORT.

A large grist of business faced the members of the city council last night in the first regular meeting of the month, and for the first time during the past several months the session went over an hour, it being 9:30 before adjournment was taken.

However, among the great amount of routine and regular business transacted at this time the appointment of Matt Fillion as City assessor was the most important. Strange to say, and which brought a smile to the face of the Mayor and answering laugh from the aldermen, the appointment of Mr. Fillion was confirmed without a single dissenting vote. The mayor laughingly declared that this was the first time an appointment made by him was allowed to get through unchallenged.

Mr. Fillion's appointment dates from the end of the present assessor's term and is effective for 1915.

Hear Minor Matters

The matter of purchasing hose of the city use was disposed of in a few minutes after the opening of the bids, local firms being awarded the contracts for the material. A vote on the question of demanding a bond equal to the investment from each of the successful bidders was decided by the Mayor voting in the affirmative.

Take Up County Bills

The item of allowing county bills, brought up at this time in connection with the request for payment of a nurse bill in a contagious case at the isolation hospital, was referred to the city attorney with orders to investigate whether or not county will reimburse the city for such expenditures. The bill was for $45 to Mrs. Mead.

A petition for the placing of an arc light across the C. & N. W. tracks at Stephenson avenue, was received from residents of the Seventh ward and referred to the board of public works with the admonition that the light be placed.

Accept Sewer Request

Request for relief from the conditions in the Seventh ward, due to the lack of proper sewerage facilities was framed in a petition received last night and which was accepted after some discussion and placed on file. The petition was signed by 145 taxpayers of that district.

The treasurer's report was read and accepted, showing a balance on hand at the present time of $2,000.34. The balance on hand for January, was $1,036.32. Other city bills were read and ordered paid, among them being the bill of expense of the lighting plant for $5,489.50 which was ordered paid by the council.

GRANDMA USED SAGE TEA TO DARKEN HAIR

She Made Up a Mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to Bring Back Color, Gloss, Thickness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant, remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, gray or dry, scraggly and thin. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," thus avoiding a lot of muss.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

Alderman Folio presented a request from the green house at the end of Wells avenue for a catch basin to take care of the water that flows into that section from Birch street and which is said to have flooded the green house cellar several times. Adjournment was taken during the final argument, with the understanding that the council hold an adjourned meeting Thursday evening on the occasion of the regular charter session to canvass the primary votes. INTERNATIONAL POLO TITLE.

North and South American Teams to Meet at Meadowbrook.

Despite the war conditions in Europe, international polo will not be abolished in the United States this year. Arrangements are now being made for a contest of more than national importance on the Meadowbrook (N. Y.) grounds next summer. It is proposed to go to South America for an opponent and arrange a series of matches between a team representing the United States and the Argentine Republic. The Hawaiian team have already been asked to play at Meadowbrook, and if they do, which is more than likely, these matches will be played at the same time.

The series with the Argentina team will be known as the Panama-American championship. The prominent players behind the movement include Joshua Crane, Thomas Hitchcock, Elliot Cowdin, Louis Stoddard, Harry Payne Whitney, Malcolm Stevenson, Devereux Milburn and H. J. Phipps.

It is proposed to give a trophy for competition which will be a perpetual challenge cup between poloists of South and North America.

NEW TYPE OF COACH IS FOUND

Gry For Speed Brings Out "Never Was" Handler.

LIKELY TO COME ACROSS TOO

Rowland, New Manager of Chicago White Sox; Rush, Who Was Recently Made Coach at Princeton, and Zuppke Never Made Good Performers.

BUSHERS ON TOP.

Manager Clarence Rowland of the Chicago White Sox never played major league baseball. Coach Robert Zuppke of the University of Illinois football team was unable to "make" the Wisconsin eleven when a student there. Coach John H. Rush of Princeton university football team never played on Tigers when an undergraduate there.

Sport appears to be in for a new deal. Dope is getting a square knockout and is taking the count with scarcely a murmur. Old time customs and prejudices are shattered beyond hope of reclamation.

Winning combinations in sports, the same as in other lines of human endeavor, must have speed. Take opposing combinations, be they football eleven, dry goods houses or snowball armies, of equal strength; otherwise, the one possessing the edge of speed and drive will win.

We all remember when a football coach was supposed to be a star player while a student. Likewise a manager of a major league team was expected to be a bear of a diamond artist while in the regular harness.

These days are passing. We are approaching a new deal. If a man has the correct idea of speed and drive and can teach the same, he is the one most likely to get the job nowadays.

As an example we point (with pride) to Messrs. Rush, Rowland and Zuppke. Rowland was never more than a Class B manager until Owner Comiskey, hearing of his success as a speed merchant, kept him in mind and gave him the biggest job in his catalogue when the time came around.

At Peoria Rowland gave his squad a world's record in stolen bases by centralizing his efforts on speed.

Bob Zuppke jumped from a high school coaching job to the directorship of a Big Nine champion in the space of two years. He centered his efforts on speed and dazzling plays which baffled entirely the opposition. The Illinois system of plays in the hands of a slow eleven would have been a joke and a cause for excessive laughter. But with speed behind them they were sure shots.

At Cleveland John (Speedy) Rush has been coaching a high school in various lines of sports these many years. He got the nickname of Speedy long ago and has kept it ever since. He has likewise put the same spirit into his high school players and teams. They were winners.

Comiskey, in looking for a manager to produce a winner, passed over well known stars and selected an unknown whose middle name was Speed.

Illinois, desiring to get out of the football rut, went past these who were all American stars in big teams and got a chap who never set worlds on fire as a player, but could develop speed in others.

Princeton, hopelessly in the ditch from a football standpoint, gave the once over to numbers of men who were nationally famous as players, but selected John Rush, the boy with the punch.

Of course, Zuppke alone of the trio has made good a tbe new job. The others haven't had their chance. But they have been selected and there's no use prejudging them as failures. They are more than likely to come across. For the speed is there.

Hedges Buys Montgomery Club. Colonel Robert L. Hedges of the St. Louis Browns will operate a franchise in the Southern association next season. He has purchased the Montgomery franchise from its former owner for $12,500 and will move the Montgomery team to Little Rock, Ark., which city was dropped from the Southern league six years ago. Since then Little Rock has been without a regular league team, and the Arkansas capital is again hungry for baseball.

Exactng Standards. "I am afraid Bilgins hasn't a powerful sense of humor."
"Oh, yes, he has. The only trouble is that when Bilgins makes a joke he isn't satisfied to get a laugh. He thinks it's a failure if it doesn't hurt somebody's feelings."—Washington Star.

Athletics Root For Braves. The Athletics, it is said, are rooting for the Braves to win the National league pennant. The Mackmen believe that their share of the proceeds will be greater if the games are played in the Hub next October.

'T WAS NO KISSING BEE YOU SIGNED FOR, TOMMY.

Barney Ford, manager of Tommy O'Keefe, the Philadelphia lightweight, who failed to put in an appearance to fight Johnny Dundee at the Federal Athletic club in New York recently, sprung this alibi: Barney told reporters that he ordered O'Keefe not to enter the ring because of illness.

Ford and O'Keefe went to New York to keep the engagement, but O'Keefe complained that he caught cold in his lips, which were swollen, and he was in no shape to meet such a formidable antagonist. Ford ordered O'Keefe home. A big crowd was disappointed, and the money had to be refunded to the spectators.

"This is the first time O'Keefe ever disappointed a crowd," said Ford, "and he couldn't help it."

TENNIS STARS TO TOUR.

Eastern Cracks to Play on Coast and Western Courts Next Season.

Eastern tennis players are to invade California. It is proposed to send a picked team of the best eastern players to the Pacific coast courts and tournaments, including stops at St. Louis and at Omaha. Richard Stevens, treasurer of the National association, is in favor of spending a portion of the $30,000 fund in his hands in this manner.

Robert D. Wrenn, president of the national body, is also a supporter of the movement, and it is expected that the executive committee will sanction the necessary arrangements at its next meeting. According to the statement made recently the team of eastern players will leave for California in July. It will be composed of men selected from among R. Norris Williams 2d, the national champion; Theodore Roosevelt Pell, Gustave F. Touchard, Irving C. Wright, Watson M. Washburn, George M. Church, the Princeton star; Karl H. Behr, Wylie C. Grant, Dean Mathey and Nathaniel W. Niles, Alfred S. Dabney and Edward H. Whitney, a trio of prominent Boston stars.

EASTERN CRACKS WHO WILL TOUR WEST.

The invasion of the eastern men follows a protracted correspondence which has been going on between the national officials and the leading spirits of the Pacific Coast association. Eight special courts are being constructed at San Francisco so that the men from the eastern section of the country will have the usual playing surface of turf to battle upon.

Timber Cruisers on Snowshoes. Five timber cruising parties have been in the field in California this winter in the Modoc, Shasta, Lassen, Plumas and Eldorado national forests, each party consisting of from four to six forest service rangers. The work is done on snowshoes, and this mode of travel has proved to be an excellent way of getting over country which is too brushy to permit easy going in summer. There has been some delay this winter on account of storms, but as a rule very little time is lost and timber cruising has been found to be profitable employment for the rangers during the winter season.

TEMPER, whether good or bad, depends a heap on a man's getting the tobacco satisfaction he has a right to.

Man after man will tell you that "Right-Cut," the Real Tobacco Chew, gives a comfort and contentment he never had before. He insists on it for himself and he recommends it to his friends.

A little chew of pure, rich, mellow tobacco—cut fine, short shred—seasoned and sweetened just enough, cuts out so much of the grinding and spitting.

Take a very small chew—less than one-quarter the old size. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just nibble on it until you find the strength chew that suits you. Tuck it away. Then let it rest. See how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies without grinding, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is The Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end.

It is a ready chew, cut fine and short shred so that you won't have to grind on it with your teeth. Grinding ordinary candied tobacco makes you spit too much.

The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up with molasses and florice. Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste in "Right-Cut."

One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

AMUSING HOSPITAL SITUATION.

An amusing situation has developed in British hospitals as a result of the large number of young women who have taken to nursing wounded soldiers in a way more sentimental than practical. "Too sick to be nursed today," is said to have been a placard placed over the bed of a soldier wounded in the South African campaign, and something of the sort seems to be needed now. The trained nurses protest that young women of means and social influence who have swarmed into the hospitals do more harm than good by "fussing over" patients. The matter has been brought officially to the war office by the organized trained nurses who number about 6,000. One trained nurse said that if Lord Kitchener had called for 500,000 nurses instead of 500,000 men for military duty, he would have had that number the next morning. In view of the fact that many trained nurses are quite as pretty as the volunteers and are also much more competent, a wounded soldier is not to be blamed for desiring one who is useful as well as ornamental, says Birmingham Age-Herald. Lord Knutsford stated in a letter to the London Times that untrained nurses would be more acceptable if they would be photographed less, would wear their uniforms more modestly, would talk less in public about their patients and would not be quite so aggressive.

There is no language so beautiful as our own English tongue, when it is spoken beautifully. It is a wonderful possession; but like many other things which we have always had, we underestimate it and abuse it until it is depreciated. One of the chief ways in which we mistreat our language is in over-accenting our words. Foreigners are always quick to notice this. They find it hard to understand us because we bring out the one syllable that is accented and slur all the others. As they say, we "bang out" the accent, but care nothing about the rest of the word. By this fault, of which nearly all Americans are guilty, the language is robbed of its harmonious flow, as well as of intelligibility. It is always noticeable that persons of most culture speak most distinctly, and this is a mark of breeding that everyone can try for. To speak clearly, giving each word its correct value, indicates a certain amount of knowledge, while the opposite way of speech is often an index of slovenly habits of thought, if not illiteracy.

WICKED LITTLE GUN

"Minenwerfer" in Action Barks Like Snarling Mongrel.

Description of Deadly Piece of Artillery Used by Kaiser's Troops That Has Played Considerable Havoc in Allied Trenches.

Paris.—In reports on the warfare in the trenches of Flanders reference often is made to a certain supposedly new instrument of destruction which the Germans are using. Lacking an equivalent translation in their own language, the French and Belgians have come to call the weapon by its German name, "Minenwerfer." Many descriptions of this more or less mysterious piece of artillery, which has played considerable havoc in the allied trenches, have appeared in the newspapers, but they have all differed in some essential details.

A contributor to Le Figaro, Paris, who was in Havre about the middle of January, saw one of these "Minenwerfers" there in the yard of the building where the Belgian ministry of war has its quarters. The "bomb thrower," as the weapon might appropriately be called in English, had been found in a trench formerly occupied by German troops.

The writer in the Figaro describes the weapon as "a hideous little cannon with an ugly look about it." It is about 95 centimeters long and has a caliber of 170 centimeters. Its barrel can be swung horizontally and vertically, for the purpose of taking aim. Clutches in the rear and on either side enable the gun to take a firm grip in the soil before it commences to bark. After the fashion of a snarling mongrel.

The gun is mounted on a carriage of steel plates resting on wheels, and the unwieldy little thing weighs about five hundred kilograms without the wheels. The projectile is inserted at the muzzle and is discharged by means of an ignition cap in the breech. When the aiming device is removed the gun does not look more formidable than one of the old bronze mortars at the Invalides, the writer says.

It is not likely that the "bomb thrower" can project a shell farther than 500 meters. To be exact, it does not throw the projectile, but simply spits it out, so to speak. A bronze plaque indicates that the gun came from the Ehrhardt works at Dueseldorf and was manufactured in 1913.

Neighbors Lower 400-Pound Sick Man From Roof With Rope and Blocks.

Lawrence, Ind.—James M. Uhlmeier, aged forty-six, farmer, who weighs nearly four hundred pounds, got on the roof of his two-story house to repair a chimney. After finishing the work he was attacked with nervous prostration and was unable to descend on a ladder. A number of neighbors were called to his assistance, and a derrick rigged. Uhlmeier was lowered to the ground after a rope had been fastened about him several times. He suffered severely during the lowering process and is under the care of a physician.

He Obedied His Orders.

London.—A young British officer in charge of a remote station in South Africa received from his superior officer at the base some time in August this message: "War has been declared. Arrest all enemy aliens in your district." Promptly the superior officer received this reply: "Have arrested seven Germans, four Russians, two Frenchmen, five Italians, two Roumanians and an American. Please say who we're at war with."

WHY A DOG WAGS ITS TAIL

Italian Scientist Declares Animal Performs Action for Conversational Purposes.

Why does a dog wag its tail? No, this isn't a foolish question #1144 Far from it. It is a sober, solemn problem which, has been given long, careful, scientific investigation, and which is now submitted to us with answer attached so that we needn't worry ourselves into the slightest degree of thoughtfulness over it. Prof. Giuseppe Renato of Rome, Italy, has devoted a lot of attention to this question. So you see there must be some weight somewhere about it. Professor Renato very kindly and solemnly tells us that the dog wags its tail for conversational purposes—and if this is true, we all know dogs that are great conversationalists, don't we?

Professor Renato says great injustice has been done in the past by scientists in not giving animals' tails a scientific study sooner. The tail, he solemnly pointed out, from the standpoint of antiquity, is much older than other organs of the various animals, and therefore entitled to be investigated first. Biology demonstrates, he says, that in the gradual development of animal life the tail was performing various important functions and working like a Trojan possibly centuries before the animal ever began to dream that it might also be nice to have paws, or jaws or legs. He hopes his present exhaustive and profound treatment of the subject will sort of square matters with the animals, or rather with their tails, on behalf of past neglectful scientists generally.

And yet, in spite of the arguments of Professor Renato, some of us will continue to exhibit far more interest in the dental development and proficiency of the dog than in the conversational ability shown in tail-wagging. won't we?—Detroit, Free Press.

HONESTY ITS OWN REWARD

Act of Street Car Conductor Made Whole Class Popular With Pittsburgh Business Men.

They were talking of the work of street car conductors and of their chances for graft in comparison with politicians. "I suppose that all men use the nimble finger in response to the nimble mind at times, but let me tell you a bit of experience which may not be at all exceptional," said a contractor of the Oakland district. "Last summer one day I put $200 in $20 bills in one of those long folding books and slipped it into the inside pocket of my coat, as I thought. It was a hot day and I wore no vest. I boarded a car to go down town. Another car followed closely. Before I could leave the platform of my car I saw the conductor of the other car waving his hand, holding a book that looked like mine. I clapped my hand to my pocket and no purse was there. I sprang from the steps, ran back, the other car stopped, the conductor gave me my money and I felt for something to reward him. All the paper money was in $20 bills and I had only half a dollar in change. I offered him that and asked for his address, telling him I would send more. He replied pleasantly that he would not accept a reward for being honest, but that if he were in politics he might accept any old thing for being dishonest. After that I would trust a street car conductor as I would the cashier of my bank."—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

STAGE ELEVENTH HOUR FILIBUSTER AGAINST PASSAGE SHIP BILL

REPUBLICAN LEADER MANN IN TERRESTRIAL FIGHT ON FLOOR OF HOUSE WHEN SHIP BILL WAS BROUGHT IN YESTERDAY—DEFIENCY BILL UP FOR ACTION.

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, March 3.—Administration democrats yesterday agreed on the program to be followed on the rivers and harbors appropriation bill, to cut half a billion from the fund to be expended by the commission on the Mississippi river.

When the administration's ship bill was brought into the house yesterday, Republican Leader Mann blocked all proceedings with a filibuster, the upshot of which was that the democrats and republicans agreed to vote on the bill at four o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The conferees on the naval bill agreed on the Naval program and authorized the erection of two seagoing submarine battleships of the new dreadnaught class, 16 coast defense submarines and six destroyers and one fuel oil ship.

Various other projects which would have otherwise failed of passage at this session was attached to the deficiency bill as follows: An appropriation equal to all the premiums already collected by the war risk commission to examine the correspondence of common carrier, which was declared they did not have the right, in a decision last week; authority to the Philippine legislature to enact war legislation.

SAYS MANY AMERICANS RESIDING IN CANADA IN RANKS OF THE ALLIES

(By Associated Press.)

Ottawa, Ont., March 3.—William A. Buchanan, member of the dominion house of commons from Lethbridge, Alta., declared in parliament today that "the thousands of American settlers who have come into western Canada during the past years are absolutely loyal to the British empire and in thorough sympathy with the effort of England and her allies to overthrow the power of Prussian militarism."

"We who live in the west," Mr. Buchanan added, "have found that the Americans are as willing as the Canadian or the British born to contribute their means or to send their sons to help England win. Recently there has been a striking demonstration of this loyalty. In Lethbridge, Alta., the town in which I live, a troop of mounted rifles has been organized for service at the front. There are six officers in the troop, and every one of the six is a native American. In the ranks of the troops there are many more Americans."

YOUTHFUL FARMERS WASHINGTON GUESTS

Clement Miller of Fairfield, Ia., is one of the leading pork raisers in the country. He raised ten pigs with a net profit of $48 at the time the contest closed.

GERMAN BATTLESHIPS WERE SUPPLIED AT SEA; HAMBURG LINE ACCUSED

(By Associated Press.)

New York, March 3.—The federal grand jury, which has been investigating violations of the customs law in connection with the furnishing of supplies to German cruisers in the Atlantic, today returned two indictments—one against Hamburg-American line and the other against five men alleged to have been connected with the shipments. The indictments charge conspiracy to defraud the government through the finding at the customs house of false records, false clearances of vessels and false manifests of cargo. The men named are Carl Benz director in charge of the New York office of the Hamburg-American line; J. Poppen-Pelz Seiffner and Adolph Haemelster.

LOCAL GAME WARDEN INTERESTED IN CASE

Deputy Game Wardens John Rough, of Negaunee, and Herman Leisner, of Escanaba, will go to Iron Mountain shortly to attend the trials of a party of lower peninsula deer hunters—men who are said to have defied the officers to "get anything on them" while they were camping in the vicinity of Ralph during the open season last fall.

This is the second lower peninsula hunting party to learn that the upper peninsula wardens are attending to business. A party from Kalamazoo paid fines last December for having in their possession an illegal number of deer. The party now involved is from Battle Creek. It is said to be made up of prominent professional men and to have a camp near Ralph they visited each fall.

Last fall, at the close of the deer season, Wardens Rough and Leisner met the men as they were on their way to the railroad station. The hunters jokingly defied the wardens to be able to place a legal charge against them, although they intimated they had violated the game laws. The wardens went to the camp and, it is said, found part of a deer which the men had killed and, for the most part, had eaten. As each of the party had filled his license the wardens notified the lower peninsula authorities to arrest the men. Warrants were sworn out against each member, and last week the wardens received from the leader of the party a letter asking them not to force all of the men to go to Iron Mountain for trial and agreeing to send the guilty member to that city to answer to the charge and to pay whatever fine is levied. The case will be tried this week.

FAIL TO GET JOBS AS "MEN"

Women in Male Attire Seek Aid of Police After Work Search for Work.

Lafayette, Ind.—Dressed in men's clothing, Mrs. Mary Smiley, who said she was forced to support her three children, and her sister, Miss Josephine Williams, both of Danville, Ill., applied for aid at police headquarters, saying they were hungry. They had been seeking work, according to Mrs. Smiley, and believed it would be easier to find employment dressed as men. The police decided to send the women back to Danville. The decision was not opposed.

According to their story they left Danville on a Wabash freight train going to Logansport. They were aided in that city by the charity authorities, who sent them here, giving them aprons to wear over their clothing.

SEEK OUT JOBLESS

New Employment Bureau Completes Preliminary Work.

Application Blanks Sent Throughout Country—Union Leaders Watch to See if Organized Tollers Get Preference.

Washington.—The department of labor has completed the preliminary work in connection with the federal employment bureau, and necessary blanks are being sent to employers throughout the country and to post offices for distribution to persons seeking employment. It is the purpose of the department to act as a clearing house for those who seek employment and those who have employment to offer. Both union and nonunion workers and proprietors of open or closed shops throughout the country are interested in these operations of the department.

In connection with the voluntary work now being undertaken by the department of labor special interest attaches to the fact that Secretary Wilson is himself a union man, having been at one time prominent in the official councils of the miners' organization.

The application blanks being sent out to employers and unemployed are being handled directly by the division of information of the bureau of immigration. T. V. Powderly is chief of the division.

The general plan contemplates the co-operation of the department of agriculture and the post office department with the department of labor in locating with the employer who desires labor and the unemployed. The agents of the department of agriculture, about 175,000 in number, will send reports of labor conditions in their district to the secretary of agriculture, who will transmit them to the department of labor. Postmasters throughout the country will distribute the application blanks to the unemployed, who will fill them out and return them to the postmaster, to be forwarded to the department of labor, postage free. Mr. Powderly and Commissioner Cammett of the bureau of immigration will receive daily reports from the labor centers giving actual conditions and will also receive the applications for employment from workmen.

Applications for employment are designed to cover virtually all forms of employment, both skilled and unskilled, including domestic work and farm labor. The applicants are required to answer numerous questions as to age, height, weight, trade, nationality, qualification for labor other than the trade mentioned, languages spoken, names of two former employers, reason for loss of latest employment and wages expected.

As these documents will be public records, the leaders of organized labor have a list of the union and open shops in the country, and the union wages for every trade in every locality are known, it will be a comparatively easy matter for those interested to know from the trades mentioned the wages expected and the names of former employers, whether or not the average applicant for employment is a union or nonunion man. It will also be an easy matter in the case of the employer to ascertain whether his shop is open or closed. The employer also is required to report specifically the hours of labor: day in his factory or shop; "labor conditions (strikes existing or contemplated), etc." and other questions which will easily characterize his business to those most interested.

To what extent this situation will be recognized in the administration of the federal employment bureau is a question for development. There is little question that if preference be given to organized labor the effect would be to force unorganized labor into the ranks of organized labor.

LOVERS DIE SIDE BY SIDE

French Girl is Killed While Helping Fatally Wounded French Officer.

London.—"By the side of a young French cavalry officer who had been hit in a fight on the Aisne we found the body of a pretty girl," said Sergeant Payne, who is at Bristol, England, wounded. "Both were dead. When the young man joined his regiment the girl left a convent school and attached herself to the Red Cross. Hearing that her sweetheart had not returned from a charge in which his regiment was engaged she went out with the ambulance men to look for him. Going in advance she found him, and while attending to his wounds was killed. They were buried side by side."

HOWE'S FILMS SHOW THE RIGORS OF THE BATTLE PRACTICE

Films Record Tremendous Shocks of Gear Gun Fire Aboard Ship

While Uncle Sam has been so busily engaged putting the great Atlantic fleet in shape for any possible contingency or action during these days of naval conflict abroad, Lyman H. Howe's photographers have been equally busy in filming the U. S. Navy of 1915 in its entirety and all its manifold activities.

Beginning at the Brooklyn navy yards while the dreadnaughts New York, Texas, Wyoming were hurrying aboard ammunition and stores, the Howe camera men, by special permission of the navy department, were constantly on the alert for striking scenes during the eventful days. The reproductions that will be presented at the Delft Theatre Friday night, March 10th are not "posed for" scenes. They ring true simply because they are so absolutely authentic. They are records of the day-to-day life of American soldiers at sea. The desire of the navy department to give citizens generally a clearer knowledge of our navy prompted the special facilities given the Howe camera men by Secretary of the Navy, Mr. Joseph Daniels. When the battleship fleet cleared for action and the big guns buried giant projectiles at an imaginary foe, when submarines and destroyers fired torpedoes—when every one of the thousands of men engaged in battle practice were keyed to the greatest enthusiasm—the Howe camera men were inditing on film every scene enacted aboard our dreadnaughts and super-dreadnaughts.

What's Doing in Theatre World

Violet Mesereau at the Bijou Tonight

A three part film drama featuring Violet Mesereau and Hobart Henley is offered the patrons of the Bijou theatre this evening in "She Was His Mother," a powerful story that appeals to the best in every man. Billy Ritchie, said to be the funniest man in the world is featured in a comedy called "The Death of Simon Lagree," an L-Ko feature.

Lillian Russell will be seen at the Bijou Friday afternoon and evening in the five part photoplay "Wildfire." This is the biggest offering of the year, a feature film which has been pronounced one of the big successes of the season in cities where it has been seen.

Everybody knows Lillian Russell, and some of us remember "Wildfire," probably the greatest race track play ever known. It is produced by the World Film Corporation and packs action in every flicker. The play was the hit of the year in 1907, and portrayed in the movies it gains strength.

The story of the play tells how John Harrington conducts a racing stable on Long Island without the knowledge of his daughters, Henrietta and Myrtle. Traveling in the West Harrington is killed by John Keefe, a gambler, who steals the bill of sale to the racing stable and leaves no clue, save a sheet of inventory and a cigarette holder. Gorman, Keefe's pal, is the only one who knows the death was not a suicide.

When Keefe goes East and claims the racing stable, complications follow: A love tangle, detective work, betrayal and mystery, all leading up to the big handicap race which Wildfire wins regardless of foul play, trickery and plot.

Mathias Trio Pleases Delft Patrons

The Mathias trio of youngsters, playing at the Delft theatre this evening are sure pleasing the public at every appearance. The two young men and woman are artists in their line and present a clean, attractive bill. All three are splendid singers and their harmony work is exceptionally good.

"Life's Shopwindow" at the Grand
One of the prettiest stories ever told in film form is that of "Life's Shop Window," a five part feature to be shown at the Grand Thursday evening. It is a beautiful story of real life.

MILITARY TRAINING WILL WORK HARM

all about. For this reason, I have always felt that there should be more selection about school courses.

"And with respect to the matter of military training, I feel that we should not rush into it without careful consideration. We should not have the idea that schools can accomplish the purpose of turning school boys into trained soldiers. We must see to it that the training is properly supervised and properly apportioned."

He indicated that he is in hearty accord with the general principle involved but that he did not feel that it should be like many popular movements—"going up like a rocket and coming down like a stick."

"It is all very easy for the outsider to say, 'yes, that's a great idea; let's have it.' But it is another thing to map it out, and make it efficient. I shall plan to do this as soon as possible."

The Secretary's idea would be to make such training schools an attractive part of the curriculum, instead of a burden or hardship which students would avoid as they sometimes do difficult studies.

As far as the war department is now concerned, it has no branch dealing directly with the general subject of school military training. The department is limited to actual army training, and to direction of state militia work, but Secretary Garrison feels that without new appropriations at this time, his organization can be of distinct benefit as a guide to communities, with militaristic ideas.

Incidentally, it was suggested today that community military training would be in line with President Wilson's expressed theories against converting America into an army camp, but in favor of equipping men with a fundamental knowledge of military training in their leisure moments.

Dress Fashion And Your Corset

Skirts this season should be full at the bottom, but fit snugly around the hips and waist. Above the waist the bodice should set more closely than in the past, and fitted sleeves are once again the style.

You must select your corset to gain these lines. You can do so with a Warner's Rust-Proof Lace-front model. We have styles for every figure, styles that we can guarantee to shape fashionably and comfortably.

The corset skirts are long, with rubber inserts to mold the flesh snugly at all times without binding.

You will find the natural shaped waist again correct. Thin double rust-proof boning forms the waist line easily and comfortably, and this rust-proof boning will not set nor break.

4 inches is the proper height of bust, with sufficient fullness not to bind at the top, since the diaphragm has so developed in the past few seasons of topless corsets.

Warner's Rust-Proof lace front models have the added feature of a patented protecting tongue attached to the corset under the lacings. It is a comfort that you will appreciate.

that ought to provide protection to the miner if they are enforced, yet in this state the percentage of fatalities is larger than any other, showing there is undoubtedly something wrong in reference to the management of the coal mines. It is contended by the miners as one of their grievances that the operators do not obey the law, and however good the laws may be, if not observed they are of no protection.

The recruiting of mine guards as members of the militia, in our judgment was a mistake, since intense animosity had existed for some time between the mine guards and the miners and it was difficult and even impossible for the miners to feel that these men were neutral conservators of the peace. Some of the militiamen seized the opportunity while clothed with the authority of the state to engage in various lawless acts.

which is considered a small number, when taking in consideration the number of readers who use them. A comparatively large number of books were withdrawn or worn out, yet leaving a large net increase. New books and a large share of the old have been catalogued.

Plan Work With Schools

One of the features of the report that stood out prominently is the plan of co-operation with the public schools. Books and magazine articles are reserved for pupils and classes needing them, and the plan of having a teacher telephone in her needs in this line has been adopted and is meeting with success, it is said. Much special work in the preparation of matter for debates is also being done for high school students.

Along this line too, the work being done at the Webster school where a branch is maintained for the pupils of that school, and an assistant in charge Wednesday afternoon is one of commendation. This is the basis of the desire to open a branch library in that district. The story hour, Saturday mornings has also proven of great interest and benefit, according to the statements of the report.

Outline Needs of Library.

"We need more books and more periodicals, and more assistance, that the librarian may have time to reach out to the people in the city who do not know what the library can do for them," says the report, and it is further stated that the needs of the institution embrace re-decorating and should be entirely done over during this year. The board is anxious to cut out the wall between the stack room and the delivery room so that the desk attendant can be able to better supervise the stacks at the rear.

The report as read during the council session was a lengthy one, the above of which is a resume of that document.

URGES PREACHING OF FIRE PREVENTION IN PROTECTIVE ASSN. MEET

ESCANABAN ATTENDS BIG GATHERING OF FOREST PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION AT MARQUETTE YESTERDAY—PROMINENT MEN PRESENT AT SESSION.

That there was an urgent need for preaching the gospel of forest fire prevention was the bulk of the statement made by a prominent advocate of the fire prevention idea and a member of the Northern Forest Protection society, during a meeting of that organization at Marquette, yesterday.

A large number of railroad men of this section and some of the prominent men of the various lines were present and listened to some splendid talks along the lines of the association's work. E. Becker of the local Northwestern shops was in attendance at the sessions and stated that the meeting was one of the most interesting and valuable ever held.

Discuss Prevention Methods Methods of preventing fires in the timber lands were discussed at length and various devices for that purpose, used on locomotives were on display. It was shown during the meeting that the public was co-operating in the matter of fire prevention and that the public was co-operating in the matter of fire prevention and that the public plans used had resulted in a large amount of good.

Thus far it has been found unnecessary to force prosecutions for violations, because it was believed that much of the damage was due to failure to realize that proper precautions should be taken. The gathering went on record also as favoring the more comprehensive education plan in the matter, and suggested that the college of Mines in the Upper Peninsula and the University of Michigan and the M. A. C. forestry courses be combined into one broad course at the School of Mines. That such a course would admit of a most effective arrangement was the consensus of opinion expressed.

Turks Driven Before Russ

Tiflis, Asia Minor, March 3.—The Russian army of the Caucasus, driving the Turks before it has arrived at the river Harjeha, the estuary of the Tchorouk, in Armenia. This advance by the Russ cuts the route of Turkish reinforcements from Constantinople to the front, through Khopa and has isolated a large section of Turkish territory.

The isolated section includes the district of Ardeanuch and at three other points the Russian advanced from Batum, near the Turkish border and were opposed every step of the way by the Turks. They were supported by the fire from a Russian ship and were successful in cutting off several avenues of communication by sea, and only the Khopa remained. After a battle of three days this route was later closed effectively.

BIG MEETING CLOSES WALTZ' WORK IN CITY; TO CONTINUE SERVICES

CHURCH IS FILLED AGAIN LAST NIGHT—CHOIR SINGS IN WONDERFUL MANNER—REFUSES TO STOP AT CLOSE OF SERVICE—WALTZ TO NEW FIELD OF WORK.

A truly fitting appreciation of the work of Guy Irving Waltz, singer-organist, who has been at the Methodist church for the past sixteen days, working in the revival series shoulder to shoulder with Rev. Hoard and others, was given in the large attendance of last night and the wonderful manner in which the big chorus choir responded to his leadership.

Following the conclusion of the service the choir sang a new selection and under the directorship of Mr. Waltz gave it a splendid interpretation. They refused to stop after singing several verses and sang it through to the end amid much enthusiasm.

Rev. Hugh McCarrroll of Gladstone occupied the pulpit on this occasion and delivered a powerful sermon. The after meeting was also splendidly received.

With the leaving of Mr. Waltz for his home in Lincoln, Neb., and for Ansley, Neb., where he takes up similar work to that done here, the services will not stop but will be continued. The great choir will continue to be a feature.

RETURN INDICTMENT IN ANARCHIST PLOT EARLY THIS MORNING

(By Associated Press.)

New York, March 3.—Two hours after it had begun the consideration of the cases against Frank Abarno and Carbone, the anarchists charged with plotting a dynamite war against the rich of New York, the federal grand jury returned indictments against the men, charging them with placing a lighted bomb in a public place in violation of a penal code. This could mean a sentence of 25 years.

SPORTSMEN OF SECTION URGE BASS HATCHERY FOR UPPER PENINSULA

sportsmen of the Upper Peninsula are urging the establishment of a bass hatchery in this section. Marquette county fishermen are perhaps the more active in this regard and are attempting to secure action on a proposal at the present time. Upper Peninsula representatives are trying to secure the necessary appropriation for this purpose.

The fact that there are many U. P. lakes in which bass have been plentiful until recently could be restocked with the fish to good advantage. A site for the proposed hatchery is suggested in the Peshekee river and Lake Michigan district and it is further argued by Marquette men, that this is as centrally located a place as any that could be selected.

Considerable interest has been taken in the matter by Escanabans and it has been suggested that this city or vicinity be given consideration in the selection of the site if such a plan is given consideration.

A delicate but truthful visualization of the novel and play that was the talk of two continents

Hodges says to Lydia:
My love is not an insult. What have I ever asked of you for myself? When I ever tried to do anything but help you and Bernard—for your sake? Do not compare the feeling in my heart with the thing this Pelham dares to call love? To get you for himself, he'd commit a crime. I know him. He would not stop at murder. Well—you listen to me—I am a better man than he is, and I too, would not stop at murder—to save you from yourself."

The Villain—Eustace Pelham says:
"In our youth, with money in our hands we stand and stare into the brilliant shop windows of life. Before us stands the door of life's great shop, crowded with wonderful glittering golden toys. Each toy is a destiny, a career, whatever you may choose to call it—a program of an individual life. We may choose one toy paying with what we have, our youth, our minds, our beauty, but we can choose just one, no more. Poor puzzled youth, that is where the heartache comes, when you have bought your toy, and can't understand that what you wanted what you were attracted by, was the whole brilliant display, not the one poor little thing you chose."
