

German Ambassador Defends Action of Eitel's Captain in Frey Case;—British Cruiser Sunk; 190 are Lost With Vessel

ENGLISH TROOPS IN STEADY DRIVE AT THE GERMANS; SHIP SINKS

GERMANS CLAIM NEW ADVANCE AGAINST PRYASNYZ IS MEETING WITH ENCOURAGING SUCCESS—BRITISH SHIP IS TORPEDOED—190 LOSE LIVES.

London, March 12.—(1 a. m.)—The British cruiser Bayano, an auxiliary cruiser of the English navy, was torpedoed by a German submarine and sunk.

The Bayano which was built in 1913 and taken over at the start of the war and fitted out as an auxiliary cruiser, was doing patrol duty when hit by the torpedo, yesterday. She was 416 feet long and of 3,800 tons displacement.

A Belfast correspondent of the Telegraph says that the Bayano was torpedoed Thursday morning at nine o'clock off Corsewall point, Scotland, and that 190 lives were lost. The ship is said to have sunk immediately, after being hit by the torpedo. A crew of 216 men were carried aboard the Bayano.

The admiralty board has officially admitted the disaster in a report published today.

(By Associated Press.) The British army which has been assigned to the task of leading the attack on the western battle front, is continuing its advance against the enemy, and the Germans thus far have failed in their efforts to retard it.

Spasmodic fighting continues in the Champagne district and in the Vosges mountains with no serious engagements except at Neuve Chapelle.

The German war office states that the new move in north Poland is meeting with success and that the Russ have been compelled to fall back to the banks of the Bobr river.

SAYS PROGRESS BEEN MADE. London, March 12.—Sir John French the British commander of the forces in France, issued a statement today as follows:

"A little further advance in the war has been made by seven divisions in the direction of Aubers. The fighting has been severe as the enemy has brought up reinforcements opposite my right. At least two divisions are engaged in this phase of the battle. We have captured two hundred prisoners and I understand that more are coming in. Our aircraft have been very active and at Don and at Douai railroads stations have been destroyed.

WELLS MEETINGS CLOSE

Fifty-Two Started in New Life During the Past Week's Services.

Winding up the special revival services of the past week with a church filled to the doors, the meeting at the Wells church closed last night with a total of fifty-two converts, persons who have gone forward during the meetings, strengthening their intentions of leading a better life.

Rev. Fields of Gladstone who has had charge of the services will present a special address on Tuesday evening of next week at this church on "Amusements." He has been requested to give this address. Those back of the services which have been held in Wells are enthusiastic over the success of their efforts and believe that they have done a considerable good in the community.

HOCKEY MEN GETTING READY TO LEAVE CITY

Members of the Escanaba police department today stated that "Hockey" was making preparations to leave the city, but instructions from the department and prosecutor Hamilton a few days ago. The officers are confident in their convictions that the game will be held within the length of time.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY'S WAR NEWS

The developments in today's war situation are but slightly changed over that of yesterday, with the British troops in the Neuve Chapelle district bearing the greater brunt of the fighting in the western theatre of war.

One more neutral vessel has gone to the bottom as a result of striking a mine in the war zone, the Swedish steamer Hammah sinking off Scarborough today.

The Dardenelles situation is reported as unchanged with but little new added to what has already been reported.

In diplomatic circles the biggest interest is centered in the Frey incident which has brought defense of the German captain's action from Count Bernadotte, German ambassador.

MOTHERS' CLUB HEARS SPLENDID ADDRESS BY LOCAL SCHOOL TEACHER

MISS ELSIE ATKINS SPEAKS TO FRANKLIN MOTHERS' CLUB ON CHILD WELFARE WORK—AD-APT CONSTITUTION AND BY LAWS.

In one of the most enthusiastic and largely attended sessions of the Franklin school Mothers' Club, Miss Elsie Atkins of the high school teaching staff, on Thursday afternoon delivered a most interesting resume of her report to the Child Welfare Committee, given previously at a meeting of the committee.

She enlarged upon the value of the mother taking the children into her confidence, getting as close to their lives as possible and trying to work in harmony with their tastes and likes, and at the same time directing their ideas to the better and nobler things.

"Don't look too good or talk too wise—for in you do you are liable to lose the confidence of your children," asserted Miss Atkins.

She further elaborated on the matter, touching upon the things that are evident in the school life of the child, the temptations that are constantly being thrown in his or her path and the absolute necessity of teacher and mother getting together on the matter. She related several instances where mothers had been approached by a teacher with a suggestion as to certain things that could be done to prevent the seemingly wayward tendency of a boy or girl, and how that same teacher had been turned down, and literally ordered from the home, for bringing such a tale there. MEXICAN CONDITIONS ARE QUIET TODAY

(By Associated Press.) Washington, March 12.—Conditions in Mexico City are quiet today. Secretary Bryan stated today that he believes things are in pretty good shape and that Carranza has allowed the use of the roads for foreigners.

STACK WILL BE READY FOR OPERATION SOON

Machinery Has Been Installed and Plant Ready for Operation.

According to information reaching here today, the Stack Lumber mill at Massouville will be in operation in a short time, possibly within the next two weeks. With all the machinery in place and the building finished, it will take but a short time before the plant will be ready to start cutting up the logs.

With the erection of the mill, the houses in the village have been rapidly filling and practically all houses there are now occupied. It is believed that the village, when started, will be operated in two shifts, night and day hours being employed.

SAYS GERMAN CAPTAIN HAD A RIGHT TO SINK AMERICAN SHIP, FREY

GERMAN AMBASSADOR AT WASHINGTON GIVES OUT INTERVIEW DEFENDING ACTION OF PRINCE EITEL'S COMMANDER—BE SETTLED BY INTERNATIONAL LAW.

Washington, Mar. 12.—Count Bernadotte, the German ambassador at Washington, in a discussion with the state department officials today, concerning the sinking of the American steamer Frey, by the German auxiliary cruiser Prince Eitel Freiderich, defended the action of Capt. Threkkens of the Eitel.

He contended that he had acted only under the provisions of the declarations of London, which was his only guide in the situation and in the disposition of prizes.

In defending the action, the ambassador contended the ship had left Tsing-Tau at the start of the war and that Capt. Thererickens had no other course to follow but to be guided by the declaration of London.

Had a Right, He Says. "From that reason he had a right to sink the Frey," contended Bernadotte, "as the Frey and its cargo were consigned to 'order' and to a port of the enemy," he added. He further stated that as long as there was no port to take the prize, the Eitel's captain had a right to destroy it.

He argued that the captain of the Eitel did not know a prize court had been established and was being held, and the mere fact that the ship was bound for an enemy's port was sufficient to justify its capture.

"The matter would have to be settled under the provisions of international law, according to the present status of the declaration of London."

PHOTOGRAPH OF LOCAL PRINTERS' UNION IS CARRIED IN MAGAZINE

A half page photograph of members of the Escanaba Typographical Union at the banquet table taken on January 17, on the occasion of the first annual banquet of the organization, appears in the current issue of the Typographical Journal, the printer's organ of North America.

The cut is accompanied by a descriptive story, telling of the session held at that time.

REVERSE VERDICT OF LOWER COURT IN CASE

Cincinnati, March 12.—The United States court of appeals today reversed the case of the government versus Patterson and twenty-six officers of the National Cash Register company, and remanded it back to the lower court for trial.

IMPRESSIVE RITES HELD

Former Local Woman is Buried From St. Patrick's Today.

A most impressive funeral marked the final rites over the body of Mrs. William Angulin, a former Escanaba woman and a relative of local people, today, at St. Patrick's church.

The body of deceased arrived in the city last night and was taken immediately to the V. P. Kennally home, 1122 Wells avenue, where it remained until this morning.

At 9:15 o'clock the body was taken to St. Patrick's church where high mass was celebrated by Fr. Barth, and the services held. Burial was had at St. Joseph's cemetery immediately following the ceremony at the church.

Many beautiful floral offerings were heaped upon the casket containing the body of the woman, testifying to the esteem in which she has been held by her many friends in this city. A large number of outside persons were present during the funeral services this morning.

MARINETTE MAN IS NAMED POSTMASTER

Washington, March 12.—Leo J. Evans of Marquette, was appointed today to be postmaster at Marquette.

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER.

A splendid photograph of the Standard Oil magnate, whose great wealth failed to save the life of his wife, who passed away yesterday at the Rockefeller country estate at Pocantico, is published above. The picture was taken as Rockefeller appeared when testifying before the federal commission on industrial relations recently. Rockefeller and son, John D. Jr., were in the southland when Mrs. Rockefeller died and were rushed home on a special train, which arrived today.

ESCANABA BASKETEERS ARE DEFEATED BY THE MANISTIQUE TOSSERS

LOCAL AGGREGATION FAILS TO SHOW CLASH DISPLAYED ON RECENT OCCASIONS AND ARE TRIMMED BY THE LAKERIDERS, LAST NIGHT, 25-15.

With comparatively green aggregation and one, however, that was expected to give a better account of themselves than was displayed, Escanaba high school fell before the attacks of the Manistique basketeers, last night at the Lake City by the score of 24-15.

Such an improved brand of the court game was put up by Manistique over that which they exhibited in this city two weeks ago, that the locals were taken off their feet and allowed score after score to be slipped across in the first session. The size of the Manistique floor and other conditions were in a measure responsible for the poor showing.

The close of the initial period of play saw the Lake City players easily in the lead on the long end of a 14-5 score.

Bracing up in the final session, Escanaba's warriors came back strong and held their opponents to an even score in this period, each aggregation managing to slip in ten points.

POLICE MOTORCYCLE IS PUT INTO COMMISSION

Officer Carney of the local department today brought his motorcycle from its winter hibernation and placed in into commission for the year. The "bike" will be used in answering calls and in general police work, as was done last summer and fall.

UNION MEETING YOUNG PEOPLE WILL BE HELD AT METHODIST, SUNDAY

MEMBERS OF EIGHT DIFFERENT CHURCH ORGANIZATIONS TO TAKE PART IN BIG UNION SESSION TOMORROW—IS TEMPERANCE GATHERING.

CITY SOCIETIES MAY BE FEDERATED

A great deal of interest is being manifested among the various young people's societies of the city churches, in the big union meeting slated for the First Methodist church tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock.

The event is the annual temperance gathering of the organizations and the topic for the occasion is "Young People as Dyke Builders Against Rum." The subject has been divided into eight different divisions and each church society represented will be expected to present a series of arguments on the section assigned to them.

May Effect City Organization.

It is probable that during the course of the session, the various societies will be asked to consider the question of federating into a city organization of young people. That such a move would be highly popular has been made clear and it is believed that some real good could be worked out of a union of church societies of this sort.

From the advance information available, it is certain that there will be a large attendance at the meeting of tomorrow afternoon, and it is urged that every member of every society represented be present at three o'clock.

The following societies will be represented at the session: Lutheran League of the Swedish Lutheran church, Luther League of the Norwegian Danish Lutheran church, King's Sons of the First Presbyterian, the Baptist Young People's Union of the Baptist, the Young People's League of the Salvation Army, the Epworth League of the Swedish Methodist church and the Epworth League of the First Methodist church.

L. R. Hutto of the high school faculty, will be in charge of the meeting and it is announced there will be some splendid things to be heard. Good music will be furnished.

Former Escanaba Boy is Member of Growing Concern in St. Paul.

Joseph Bergeon, a former Escanaba boy, is now a member of the firm of the Price-Bergeon Co., in St. Paul and those who have been to the Twin Cities claim that the firm is doing a big business in real estate, insurance and loans. The offices are at 336 St. Paul Arcade.

OILY WASTE IN WALLS

Fire Department Extinguishes Blaze With Small Loss Last Night.

The finding of a quantity of oily waste between the partitions in the home of Harry Young on Hale street, last night, caused some comment on the part of the firemen who discovered the oily stuff there while extinguishing a blaze that was started close to that point.

The house was locked and Mrs. Young was at the home of a neighbor when a small boy, Frank Dellise, noted smoke pouring from the rear of the home and attempted to rouse some one inside, but failed and then rang the alarm at the corner, companies One and Two responding immediately. This was shortly before 7:30 o'clock.

Fire in Store Room.

Breaking into the home, the firemen shortly found the blaze to be located in the rear, upstairs and in a store room. The flames had worked their way into the walls and a short time more would have allowed them to sweep through the entire roof, stated Chief Meiers, today. The use of chemicals, however, put the fire out. Discovery of the waste was made while the firemen were probing around in an effort to get every bit of fire. The damage will be small. Herman Ballinger is the owner of the home.

MRS. RICHARD STEGLER.

The above photograph shows the wife of the German reservist, R. P. Stegler, who charged that German officials at Washington were concerned in a plot to secure United States passports for German reservists in this county. The action taken by Stegler is said to have been taken at the instigation of his wife who is pictured as she appeared on the streets of New York recently.

WOMAN'S CLUB HEAR CHICAGO WOMAN IN AN INTERPRETATION, TUES.

MRS. ERNEST BOSBURTH OF CHICAGO HAS BEEN SECURED TO GIVE A READING OF CLYDE FITCH'S PLAY, "THE TRUTH," TUESDAY AFTERNOON.

According to information given out today by the Woman's Club, that organization has completed arrangements for the bringing to this city next week of Mrs. Ernest Bosburth, of Chicago. Mrs. Bosburth will present a reading from the great play by Clyde Fitch, "The Truth."

The announcement that Mrs. Bosburth is returning to Escanaba will no doubt be received with the greatest of interest by the members of the club. Her previous appearance in the city proved a most delightful occasion and the message she brought in her interpretation, at that time, of "The Bluebird," still lingers with those who were fortunate enough to hear her.

Speak at City Hall.

Mrs. Bosburth will present her interpretation of Mr. Fitch's great story to the club members and guests at the city hall on the afternoon of Tuesday, March 16, and it is expected that the full membership of the organization will be represented. Each member is privileged to take a guest with her, at twenty-five cents a person.

SAY JAP WARSHIPS AND TROOPS ARE ON WAY TO CHINA PORT

EXPECT RECEPTION TO BE LARGELY ATTENDED

Final Arrangements for Monday's Reception at Presbyterian Church Are Completed.

From present indications, the reception of Monday evening at the First Presbyterian church will be largely attended, both by members of the church congregation and others.

The program has been completed and will consist of a number of exceptionally interesting musical features, including several numbers by the male quartette which sang at the recent meeting of the Escanaba Music club. Delightful refreshments will be dispensed during the evening and it is planned to make the event a most successful one from all angles, and to provide a proper and fitting welcome to Rev. and Mrs. H. Staisy Brown, in whose honor the reception is to be held.

THAW JURY ACQUITS DEFENDANTS IN CASE WHICH CLOSED TODAY

SLAYER OF STANFORD WHITE IS ACQUITTED OF CONSPIRACY CHARGE AT NOON TODAY—FOUR FELLOW DEFENDANTS ARE FREED.

BE TAKEN BACK TO NEW HAMPSHIRE

(By Associated Press.) New York, March 12.—Harry Ken-United States Deputy Cook made ing to effect his escape from Matteawan asylum on August 17, 1913, by the jury which has been sitting on the case since its start some time ago.

Roger Thompson, R. J. Butler, Eugene Duffey and Thomas Flood, the men who assisted Thaw in his escape and in the spectacular automobile dash to the Canadian line, were also acquitted.

Jury Out All Night.

The jury in the case labored all night and up until 12:30 this afternoon before an agreement was reached. Thaw was immediately turned over to the sheriff of New York county, and remanded into his custody, on the motion Monday. In the meantime to have Thaw returned to Matteawan as an insane person as soon as the verdict was announced. His motion was immediately combated by Thaw's counsel who argued that he should be returned to New Hampshire if acquitted of the conspiracy charge. A motion to this effect was made by Thaw's lawyer. Justice Page announced he would hear arguments on the motion Monday. In the meantime, Thaw was remanded back to (Continued on page six)

ESCANABA BOWLERS TO ROLL NEXT THURSDAY

Ishpeming and Escanaba Pin Smashers to Compete on Thursday.

Escanaba's aggregation of alley artists will travel to the big meet of Uppen Peninsula pin smashers at Marquette on Thursday of next week, that being the day on which they are slated to start competition in the big tournament. The same day has been designated as the occasion of the Ishpeming aggregation's debut in the contests.

The Marquette bowlers are slated to wind up their activities this evening, after which a meeting of the association will be held and the 1915-16 officers elected.

During the tournament of next week, it is expected that several teams a day will arrive at Marquette, representing as many alleys of various sections of the peninsula. Practically every town which has an alley has entered a team for the events and the competition is expected to prove of the keenest sort.

"GREAT HEALTH-TOWN"

Dan O'Leary, Globe Trotter, Par Excellence, Weighs the City.

"What do I think of Escanaba," queried Dan O'Leary, famous pedestrian, and one time world's champion heel and toe walker, today in reply to a question asked him.

"This is one of the greatest places in this section of the country as a health town, that is, during the summer," said Dan. He related the results of a ramble around the city and its environs, yesterday and today, and during that relation enthused about what he said was the city's greatest attraction, namely its location as a health resort.

"There is no more desirable place in the country than in Escanaba," he said, "to build a summer home. The bay shore is wonderful and the surroundings are such that I wonder that some of these Milwaukee and Chicago millionaires don't come up here and spend their summers," he commented.

Not Advertised Enough.

However, Dan found fault with the fact that the railroads entering the city and which have big interests here do not advertise Escanaba enough. He declared that with a little advertising by the roads, this section could be made one of the most popular summer resorts in the (Continued on page six)

Flickerings From Film Land

THEN AND NOW

Here is a striking illustration of the progress in naval construction. The old ship is the U. S. Constellation—a weary Titan of the sea. It is the second ship built by the U. S. Navy. The white oak sides of the historic fighting craft hold lead from encounters with French frigates. She grappled in 1798 with the pirates off Tripoli. She was punctured by British guns in 1812 and also received a severe baptism of fire during the war of the Confederacy.

The other ship is the mighty first-line battleship of our own day—the Wyoming—mounted with twenty-one 5-inch guns and twelve 12-inch guns which can penetrate 11 inches of armor plate at a distance of over 5 miles. The hull and machinery cost $8,058,725.14; the armament $1,828,896.76, or a total of $9,887,621.90. Each 12-inch gun fires a projectile weighing 870 pounds, requiring 350 pounds of powder and costing $540 per shot. This means an expenditure of $6,480 for every broadside fired which carry projectiles weighing a total of 10,340 pounds, or 5 tons over 5 miles and would penetrate 11 inch armor plate. It is splendidly officered and manned by a crew of over 1,000 men and every detail of life on board will be shown by Lyman H. Howé at the Delft theatre on Friday night, March 19th, by authority of Secretary of the Navy, Hon. Josephus Daniels. As a fighting unit she has no equal, excepting her sister ship, the Arkansas, which made civilization take notice when her gunners smashed every existing record for matchless precision and accuracy made with 12-inch guns in a "hit-per-gun-per-minute" contest. These new sister ships are the superiors, ship to ship, of any fleet that sails under any flag.

"Magnate of Paradise" at Delft today.

Among the features offered the patrons of the new Delft theatre for this evening is the two reel Edison film, "The Magnate of Paradise." Other pictures are "Millyard's Boudoir," a story that has plenty of interest and is staged in a most beautiful manner, and two excellent comedies.

"The Old Code" at the Royal-Grand.

One of the most gripping of film stories is that carried in the several reels that will show the film of "The Old Code," a tale of love and passion, bringing in the odor of the north woods and real outdoor life.

This is part of the offering at the Royal and Grand theatres for this evening. "A Mother's Way" and "Lodging for Two," are two excellent films which will be shown in addition to the above features.

Ben Wilson in "Hounded" at the Bijou

The feature film at the Bijou theatre for this evening is the Rex two reel production, "Hounded," with Ben Wilson and Anna Luther cast in lead roles. "On Dangerous Ground," and the Nestor feature comedy, "Jed's Little Elopement," complete a splendid bill.

FLETCHER MADE A RANKING ADMIRAL; THREE MORE NAMED

Washington, D. C., March 13.—Under the new law creating the grade of admiral in the United States navy, President Wilson has designated as admirals Rear Admirals Fletcher, Howard, and Cowles, commanders in chief, respectively, of the Atlantic, Pacific and Asiatic fleets.

Secretary Daniels cabled Admiral Fletcher, now with the Atlantic fleet at Guantanamo, Cuba, to hoist his flag and thus become senior in rank. Admiral Howard was ordered to hoist the day after, while Admiral Cowles, in Asiatic waters, will assume his new rank today.

"With the exception of Admiral Dewey, who enjoys a rank unique in the navies of the world, that of admiral of the navy," said Secretary Daniels, "the only other American naval officers privileged to hold the rank of admiral were Farragut, from 1846 to 1870, and D. D. Porter, from 1870 to 1891."

BISHOP WILLIAMS TO BE IN ESCANABA ON PALM SUNDAY, MAR. 23

Announcement is made today that Bishop Williams of Marquette, will be in the city on Palm Sunday and will participate in the services of the St. Stephen's Episcopal church on that occasion. "Truxton King," Etc.

Copyright, 1913, by George Barr M'UTCHEON.

SYNOPSIS.

John Bellamy Smart, unmarried and heir to a fortune, while abroad with his secretary, Poopendyke, and his valet, Britton, buys a dilapidated old castle on the Danube, in care of the Schmicks, and discovers a mysterious woman inhabiting one of the towers. Smart fails to batter down a huge door leading to the east wing in search of the fair lady. He interrupts a visit of American relic hunters. Their amusing attempts to buy some of the castle's ancient furniture result in their discomfiture and hurried departure. Smart catches a glimpse of his fair neighbor's waving hair. Another visit to the mysterious east wing fails, but later the beautiful stranger strikes up an acquaintance with the new owner through a secret loophole.

CHAPTER V. I Become an Ancestor.

TRUE to the promise she had extracted from me, I laid off my workmen the next morning. They trooped in bright and early, considerably augmented by fresh recruits, who came to share the benefits of my innocuous prodigality, and if I live to be a thousand I shall never again experience such a noisome halt hour as the one I spent in listening to their indignant protests against my tyrannical oppression of the poor and needy. In the end I agreed to pay them, one and all, for a full day's work, and they went away mollified, calling me a true gentleman to my face and heaven knows what to my back.

Punctually at 9 o'clock that evening I was in the balcony, thanking my lucky stars that it was a bright moonlight night. There was every reason to rejoice in the prospect of seeing her face clearly when she appeared at her secret little window. But she wore a white, filmy veil. I naturally concluded that she was homely.

"Good evening," she said on opening the window.

"Good evening," said I, contriving to conceal my disappointment. "How is the baby?"

"Very much better, thank you. It was so good of you to stop the workmen."

"Won't you take off your veil and stay awhile?" I asked, politely facetious. "It is not quite fair to me, you know."

Her next remark brought a blush of confusion to my cheek. A silly notion had induced me to don my full evening regalia, spiketail coat and all. Nothing could have been more indelicately incongruous than my appearance, I am sure, and I never felt more uncomfortable in my life.

"How very nice you look in your new suit," she said, and I was aware of a muffled quality in her ordinarily clear, musical voice. She was laughing at me. "Are you giving a dinner party?"

"I usually dress for dinner," I lied with some haughtiness. "And so does Poopendyke," I added as an afterthought. My blush deepened as I recalled the attenuated blazer in which my secretary breakfasted, lunched and dined without discrimination.

"For Gretel's benefit, I presume." "Aha! You do know Gretel, then?" "Oh, I've known her for years. Isn't she a quaint old dear?"

"I shall discharge her in the morning," said I severely. "She is a liar, and her husband is a pootroon. They positively deny your existence in any shape or form."

"They won't pay any attention to you," said she, with a laugh. "They are fixtures, quite as much so as the walls themselves. You'll not be able to discharge them. My grandfather tried it fifty years ago and failed. After that he made it a point to dismiss Oswald every day in the year and Gretel every other day. As well try to remove the mountain, Mr. Smart. They know you can't get on without them."

"I have discharged her as a cook," I said triumphantly. "A new one will be here by the end of the week."

"Oh," she sighed plaintively, "how glad I am! She is an atrocious cook. I don't like to complain, Mr. Smart, but really it is getting so that I can't eat anything she sends up. It is jolly of you to get in a new one. Now we shall be very happy."

"By Jove!" said I, completely staggered by these revelations. "I have thought it over, Mr. Smart," she went on in a businesslike manner, "and I believe we will get along much better together if we stay apart." Ambiguous remarks ordinarily reach my intelligence, but I was so stunned by preceding admissions that I could only gasp:

"I'm quite sure that I did." "I prefer to let matters stand just as they are. Why should we discuss each other? We are perfectly satisfied as we are." "I will not have my new cook giving notice, madam. You surely can't expect her—or him—to prepare meals for two separate—"

"I hadn't thought of that," she interrupted ruefully. "Perhaps if I were to pay her—or him—extra wages it would be all right," she added quickly. "We do not require much, you know." I laughed rather shortly—meanly, I felt.

"This is most extraordinary, madame!" "I—I quite agree with you. I'm awfully sorry it had to turn out as it has. Who would have dreamed of your buying the place and coming here to upset everything?"

I resolved to be firm with her. She seemed to be taking too much for granted. "Much as I regret it, madame, I am compelled to ask you to evacuate—to get out, in fact. This sort of thing can't go on."

She was silent for so long that I experienced a slow growth of compunction. Just as I was on the point of slightly retreating from my position, she gave me another shock.

"Don't you think it would be awfully convenient if you had a telephone put in, Mr. Smart?" she said. "It is such a nuisance to send Max or Rudolph over to town every whiptitch on errands when a telephone—in your name, of course—would be so much more satisfactory."

"A telephone?" I gasped. "Circumstances make it quite unwise for me to have a telephone in my own name, but you could have one in yours without creating the least suspicion. You are?"

"Madame!" I cried and got no further. "I—I perfectly free to have a telephone if you want one," she continued. "The doctor came this evening, and it really wasn't necessary. Don't you see you could have telephoned for me and saved him the trip?"

It was due to the most stupendous exertion of self-restraint on my part that I said, "Well, I'll be jiggered!" Her audacity staggered me.

"Madame," I exploded, "will you be good enough to listen to me? I am not to be trifled with. Tomorrow some time I shall enter the east wing of this building if I have to knock down all the doors on the place. Do you understand, madame?"

"I do hope, Mr. Smart, you can arrange to break in about 5 o'clock. It will afford me a great deal of pleasure to give you some tea. May I expect you at 5 or thereabouts?"

Her calmness exasperated me. I struck the stone balustrade an emphatic blow with my fist, sorely peeling the knuckles, and ground out: "For two cents I'd do it tonight!"

"Oh, dear, oh, dear!" she cried mockingly. "You must be a dreadful woman!" I cried out. "First you make yourself at home in my house; then you succeed in stopping my workmen, steal my cook and menservants, keep us all awake with a barking dog, defying me to my very face—"

"How awfully stern you are!" "I don't believe a word you say about a sick baby—or a doctor! It's all nonsense. Tomorrow you will find yourself, bag and baggage, sitting at the bottom of this hill waiting for—"

"Wait!" she cried. "Are you really, truly in earnest?" "Most emphatically!"

"Then I—I shall surrender," she said very slowly and seriously, I was glad to observe.

"That's more like it!" I cried enthusiastically. "On one condition," she said. "You must agree in advance to let me stay on here for a month or two. It—it is most imperative, Mr. Smart."

"I shall be the sole judge of that, madame," I retorted, with some dignity. "By the way," I went on, knitting my brows, "how am I to get into your side of the castle? Schmick says he's lost the keys."

A good deal depended on her answer. "They shall be delivered to you tomorrow morning," Mr. Smart," she said soberly. "Good night!"

The little window closed with a snap, and I was left alone in the smiling moonlight. I was vastly excited, even thrilled by the prospect of a sleepless night.

"Britton," I said later, "I want to be called at 7 o'clock sharp in the morning." Noting his polite struggle to conceal his astonishment, I told him of my second encounter with the lady across the way.

"She won't be expecting you at 7, sir," he remarked. "And, as for that, she may be expecting to call on you instead of the other way around."

"Right!" said I, considerably dashed. "Besides, sir, would it not be safer to wait till the tourist party has come and gone?" "No tourists enter this place tomorrow or any other day," I declared firmly.

"Well, I'd suggest waiting just the same, sir," said he, evidently inspired. "Confound them!" I growled, somehow absorbing his presentation. He hesitated for a moment near the door.

BIG COLLEGIATE EVENT AT CHICAGO

Chicago, March 13.—The Badgers and Marons clash on the track at the University of Chicago gym tonight in the second big indoor athletic event of the conference year. Coach McChesney's Wisconsin athletes were confident of taking the measure of the Chicagoans who declared their showing last Saturday with the Illini entitled them to victory over their Badger rivals. Today's event is the final dual for the Badgers prior to the conference championship, at Minnesota, March 27.

FRANCE RELEASES THE GARIBALDI LEGION TO RETURN; ITALY TO ACT?

LONDON IS SURE THAT ITALY MEANS TO START MOBILIZATION OF TROOPS IN A SHORT TIME—SAY LEGION RETURNS FOR CALL TO COLORS.

(By Associated Press.) London, March 13.—News received from Paris Wednesday that the French government has given permission to the Garibaldi legion now fighting in the Argonne, to return to Italy, presumably in response to a mobilization call, is regarded here as an indication that Italy's mind is made up and that it is about to take an active part in the war on the side of the allies.

The first report to the effect that the legion had been disbanded is denied in Paris, where it is explained that the only official action taken has been the granting of permission to the Italian soldiers fighting for France to go back to their own country if they desire to do so.

Those who remain in France will continue in service under the French colors. If there are not enough men left to form a separate unit, they will be incorporated in the foreign legion.

Result of Garibaldi's Mission? It is believed here that this is a result of the visit to London of Gen. Riecolte Garibaldi, whose son, Col. Poggio Garibaldi, is commander of the Italian Legion in the French army.

Before leaving Rome, Gen. Garibaldi said he was going to London to have a conference with Lord Kitchener regarding the future action of Italy, and it was understood that in case Italy joined the allies, Gen. Garibaldi would be the commander of the Italian corps taking a direct part in the fighting in France.

Two Garibaldi War Victims. Two of Gen. Garibaldi's sons—Bruno and Constante—have given their lives for France in the Argonne fighting and the services of the entire legion have been more than once subject of commendation in the official announcements of the French war office.

These soldiers have proved such a valuable aid to the French commanders on the right wing of the army in France that it is scarcely to be believed that they should be released from their engagement now without a definite agreement between the governments of France and Italy that the shifting of the troops would mean nothing more than temporary inactivity, their ultimate destination being incorporation in the Italian army fighting on the side of the entente powers.

FRENCH VILAGE IS ACME FOR PATRIOTISM

Berlin, Feb. 26. (Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—In proportion to its size, a little village in the Province of Brandenburg claims a record for patriotic zeal. The town has not quite 700 inhabitants, but according to the burgomaster's boast, it has contributed nearly $1,200 toward the Red Cross gifts for soldiers and care of widows.

At the outbreak of the war every man of the village paid his war tax in advance, without accepting the rebate which this action entitled him to. Twelve youths of the village volunteered for service on the first day of mobilization; eighty of the men went off to join the army, while since the war the 200 or so women of the town knitted nearly a thousand socks, shirts, wristlets, and other comforts for the troops, besides collecting more than a thousand pounds of woolen articles during a single week.

STAFF OFFICERS SEE MOVIES OF BATTLES

Vienna, Feb. 23. (Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—Moving pictures taken at the battle fronts are being collected and shown before generals and staff officers of the Austrian and Hungarian armies.

The Austrian war ministry has set apart quarters in the building housing the ordinary war archives for the films. These later will form a part of the curriculum of the war academy.

SALMON DAY ON COAST

San Francisco, March 13.—This is Salmon Day on the Pacific coast. In recognition of one of the great industries the whole coast country banquets and luncheons are being held in all the larger Alaskan, British Columbia and Pacific coast cities. Dining cars and steamships running into and out of the city served a canned salmon menu.

This is third annual observance of canned salmon day. The idea of the observance is to foster and encourage the salmon industry.

SAID EXPLOSIONS OF SHELLS CAUSES LOSS OF TASTE AND SMELL

HOSPITALS AT FRONT ARE MAKING INTERESTING DISCOVERIES OF THE EFFECT OF THE BIG GUN FIRE—"ALL FOOD TASTES ALIKE," SAYS A TROOPER.

(By Associated Press.) London, Feb. 26. (Correspondence.)—One of the curious effects of shell explosion reported at the military hospital is, the loss of the senses of taste and smell.

Dr. Charles Myers states that he has met three cases of this in his own experience. The men received no flesh wounds at all, but hospital, is the loss of the senses could not distinguish by taste the difference between sugar, quinine, acid and salt, which felt alike to the tongue.

"These cases appear to constitute a definite class among shell-shock effects," says Dr. Myers. "The shells in question appear to have burst with considerable noise, scattering much dust, but this was not accompanied by the production of odor. It is, therefore, difficult to understand why hearing should be unaffected and the ill results confined to the senses of sight, smell and taste. The close relation of these cases to those of hysteria appears certain."

"ASPHYXIATED" TROOPS KILLED BY FRAGMENTS OF THIN FRENCH SHELL

Paris, Feb. 28. (Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—"The legend of the asphyx properties of three-inch projectile," says an artillery officer "has been accounted for. We often found in trenches bodies of soldiers who appeared to have been struck by a thunderbolt—no trace of wound, no blood to be found on their bodies. It was finally decided to clear up the matter and autopsies were made of such cases. Each time there was found somewhere in the body a small fragment of our three-inch shell, having made an imperceptible wound but having penetrated to a vital spot, causing mortal internal hemorrhages. This is due to the marvellous shell which breaks on the average into 2,000 pieces, about half the length of a lead pencil and the thickness of a visiting card."

LACK OF METAL IS A GERMAN PROBLEM TO MANUFACTURERS

Geneva, Feb. 25. (Correspondence of the Associated Press.) Swiss newspaper reports of a meeting of iron manufacturers at Dusseldorf, Feb. 4, say that a Dr. Shuster stated to the meeting that the lack of metal was becoming a grave question in Germany, and suggested, the reports add, that it might be easily solved if all the bronze monuments raised to the honor of the Emperor and other members of the royal family were melted down.

FRENCH HOSPITAL DOG ESCAPES; TRAVELS 100 MILES TO FRENCH CITY

Paris, Feb. 27. (Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—Among the ambulance dogs sent to the front recently by Madame Kresser, president of the Ambulance Dog Society, was "Fric," a French shepherd, who was captured by the Germans and kept in captivity several weeks. He managed to escape and find his way back to his kennel in Paris, a distance of over 100 miles.

The police commissioners of New York want everyone arrested who crosses a street diagonally or anywhere except at the regular crossings. This is an age of wheels, where speed has the right of way, and if the discrimination against the walking public goes on, it will arrive at a point where pedestrians will have to take out personal permits with their annual dog license, or else show cause in court why they should continue to exist.

Horace Fletcher is teaching the Belgians to get along with half as much food by chewing it more. Nearly a century before Count Rumford taught the armies of Europe that they could make their food go farther by chewing it longer. But when people are hungry they are apt to bolt their food nearly as fast as they can swallow it.

INDIANS INVADE THE CITY; COME IN FROM THE LUMBER CAMPS

Large Number of Aborigines Are Seen On the Streets Today.

Yesterday and today, Escanaba citizens witnessed a unique sight, one that has not been seen before this winter. All during the day yesterday and this morning, a large number of Indians, who have been employed in the woods during the winter, and have just finished up their work there, came into the city. The wily redman, however, bore considerable resemblance to just an ordinary woodsman, being dressed in the paces and rough garments peculiar to that craft. His physiognomy, however, gave him away. It is said the aborigines are stopping just long enough in the city to purchase tickets for other points where they have secured employment.

SCANDINAVIANS ARE CELEBRATING FEAST OF VALHALLA TODAY

Scandinavians of the upper peninsula are today celebrating the annual feast of Valhalla, the ancient Scandinavian festival. In many places special celebrations have been prepared and will be presented this evening. At Marinette a combined celebration will be held by over a hundred Scandinavians from that city and Menominee. In the Copper country also, there will be large gatherings of the descendants of Thor.

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, Mar. 13.—Uncle Sam's playing foxy. At least, he's that way when it comes to letting the world know just how good his bright young men are on their navy target practice. And there's a reason.

It used to be the custom for the United States navy to parade its target records. Then when the aforesaid Uncle Sam had done with this advertising, the other nations stepped proudly forth, and let the United States know where they, too, stood on hits and misses.

But war changed a lot of things—and among others the matter of advertising just how fast and how far and how well American gunners can shoot. Hence, today records of the past and present, and comparison with other nations, is withheld for the most part.

Hence, when a few weeks since, gentle reader, you will read that William Ruf, gun pointer aboard the Texas, had smashed a world's record to smithereens by making eight hits with a fourteen-inch gun, firing at a moving target twelve miles away, you don't have the exact facts. Neither did you have exact information when you saw in the movies another young man aboard the Georgia portrayed as Uncle Sam's "champion."

Ruf did break into the limelight, but his marks—whatever they may be—were made with a small gun.

And when the crew of the San Diego made 100 percent of hits on a range near the Coonado Islands, with an eight-inch gun, firing at a rate of three and a half shots a minute, that was not all, either.

On the other hand, the real dyed-in-the-wool gunners, for the past year, when it comes to hitting the bull's eye with a 14-inch cannon, is L. V. Lindsey of the Texas, an ordinary seaman.

Manipulating one of these 14-inch pets and ringing the bell frequently is a real feat, so Lindsey gets special recognition for his work.

The leading 12-inch gunners are W. F. Meyers, seaman, of the Arkansas, and E. L. Talley, coxswain of the Georgia.

Back in the days when Uncle Sam used to do a bit of advertising about his gunners' ability, say around 1896, a shot every three minutes from the turret guns—11, 12 and 13-inch—was considered satisfactory, while one a minute from a six-inch gun was also looked upon as a paper figure.

BRITISH SEIZE HORSES OWNED BY INDIVIDUALS

(By Associated Press.)

London, Feb. 28. (Correspondence).—Blooded horses belonging to the stable of Prince Kinsky of Austria, an "alien enemy" are to be sold to satisfy the claims of the estate of the late Hon. Francis Lambton, their trainer. Heretofore, only horses belonging to the hostile governments have been seized, while private owners escape. But the home secretary has granted a license to the executors of Lambton to sell thirteen horses, including Mediator. The residue of the sale will remain in trust until after the war, since no money can now be remitted to the prince.

ERROR IN DATE LINE YESTERDAY'S ISSUE

Owing to an error appearing in the date line of The Mirror last evening, some of the paper's subscribers thought that they were getting Thursday's papers. However, the mistake is one that rarely occurs and was caught after but few papers had been run off.

WARM WEATHER CAUSES SAP TO START RUNNING

Under the impulse of the warm atmosphere of the past few days, signs of activity in the world of nature have become apparent. The sap in the maples is already starting and in other trees the same condition is also noted.

DON'T FUSS WITH MUSTARD PLASTERS!

Musterole Works Easier, Quicker and Without the Blister

There's no sense in mixing up a mess of mustard, flour and water when you can so easily relieve pain, soreness or stiffness with a little clean, white MUSTEROLE.

MUSTEROLE is made of pure oil of mustard and other helpful ingredients, combined in the form of a pleasant white ointment. It takes the place of the out-of-date mustard plaster, and will not blister!

MUSTEROLE gives prompt relief from Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Tonsillitis, Croup, Stiff Neck, Asthma, Neuralgia, Headache, Congestion, Pleurisy, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Pains and Aches of the Back or Joints, Sprains, Sore Muscles, Bruises, Chilblains, Frosted Feet, Colds of the Chest (It often prevents Pneumonia).

At your druggist's, in 25c and 50c jars and a special large hospital size for $2.50. Be sure you get the genuine MUSTEROLE. Refuse imitations—get what you ask for. The Musterole Company, Cleveland, Ohio.

London.—There are 70,000 railway employees serving in the British army and navy, according to latest statistics.

Paris.—A new decoration known as the War Cross, to be conferred upon all officers and men mentioned in official dispatches, has been voted by the Chamber of Deputies.

London.—In the last quarter, according to official statistics there has been only 30 trade-union disputes in the United Kingdom—about 120 below the average in the six years preceding the war.

FIND TWO CLUES TO MYSTERIOUS DEPOSIT

Two clues to the ownership of the mysterious $500 deposited in a Menominee bank years ago by Judge Summerville, hang upon the return to Menominee of Attorney A. L. Sawyer, who is in Florida.

SLEIGHS ARE BEING INTO THE DISCARD

Owing to the rapid disappearance of the snow and ice from the ground, sleighs and other snow conveyances are being forced into exile in favor of the four-wheeled vehicles. Practically every merchant who does delivering has interned his bob sleighs until another winter and has brought out his wagons. In the country districts this same condition is also found, the farmers being obliged to return to the use of wagons.

NEW TEXAS LABOR LAW

(By Associated Press.)

Austin, Tex., March 13.—A 54-hour week bill for women workers, certain to become a law at this session of the legislature, passed the senate with women in cotton and woolen mills excluded from its protection. Senator Bee, author of the measure, felt constrained to apologize for the past that it excluded these workers. He said that he had consented to it only because fourteen of his colleagues told him they would not vote for it if the bill did not exclude textile workers.

ORPHANAGE OF U. P. DIOCESE IS ABOUT DONE

Progress On Diocesan Structure at Marquette Is Rapid.

The Catholic orphanage in course of construction for the diocese of Sault Ste. Marie and Marquette at Marquette, the Hegner Construction company, of Appleton, Wis., contractor, will be ready for occupancy within two or three months, if the present rate of progress is continued. All the interior plastering, with the exception of that on the fourth floor, has been finished, and carpenters are now putting in the woodwork. The heating apparatus has been installed. The plumbing work will be done shortly.

Progress on the building has been rapid. A large force has been employed by the construction company throughout the winter. In the chapel, which is on the first floor, the ornamental plastering work was finished recently, and the laying of the hardwood floor will be commenced at once. The chapel is a large, spacious room, capable of seating several hundred persons. A large balcony is reached from the second floor.

The chapel, the office and several large class rooms take up the greater part of the first floor. In the basement, which is above the surface, are the kitchens, dining rooms and store rooms, in addition to which there are several rooms for varied purposes.

Individual rooms are on the second, third and fourth floors. At either end of the third floor are sleeping wards of large capacity. These are now complete, with the exception of the flooring and the interior decorating.

RIVER STEAMER RECORD

Portland, Ore., March 15.—After plying on the Columbia river for 37 years it was estimated that the sternwheel steamer Lurline had traveled 1,850,000 miles, a record perhaps unequalled in the world for this class boat.

The Lurline is still in excellent condition, making the regular trip to Astoria and return, a distance of 200 miles every two days.

LONDON PAPERS REFER TO WILSON AS 'DOCTOR' NOT INTENDED AS BLUR

(By Associated Press.)

London, March 15.—The constant reference in London papers to President Wilson as "Doctor" Wilson is undoubtedly not intended, as it sometimes is in the United States, as a slur or sarcastic allusion to his academic career. Robert Donald, the editor of the London Chronicle, a journal altogether friendly to the United States, in whose editorial columns the title of "Doctor" is constantly applied to the president, said today that he had never supposed that the title was other than most respectful and he was confident no London papers had the slightest intention of minimizing the office or the respect due it when they used this term.

(By Associated Press.)

Pittsburgh, March 15.—A two-mile relay race between the teams of Cornell, Princeton and the University of Pennsylvania will be the feature of the annual indoor meet of the Pittsburgh Athletic Association at Duquesne Garden tonight.

RECRUITS REFUSE TO SUBMIT TO TYPHOID SERUM INNOCULATION

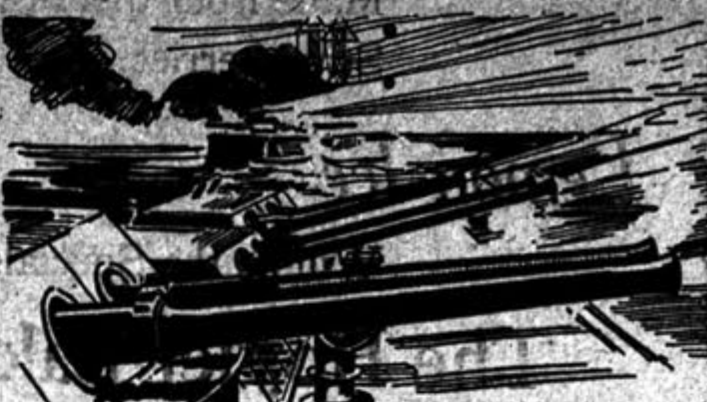

(By Associated Press.)

London, Feb. 25. (Correspondence.)—Dean Inge of St. Paul's cathedral, who declared a few weeks ago that the people agitating against inoculation for typhoid ought to be hanged for their country's good, has been invited by Viscount Haberton to submit to inoculation and then drink unfiltered water for seven days afterward. The Dean has not yet replied.

Viscount Haberton and other members of the Dumb Friends League, as the British society for the prevention of cruelty to animals is called, have been waging a fight against inoculation. A large proportion of army recruits have in consequence refused to submit to the serum. Scientific men and the army doctors then got their ire up but none went so far as Dean Inge, who prescribed hanging for the members of the league. This brought the retort from the league's secretary that the Dean was an "apostle of cowpox." Dean Inge is ordinarily not a friend of science, since only a year ago he prophesied the coming extinction of Darwinism and atheism, which he held to be allied. On account of his pessimistic views of society, he is commonly referred to in the London press as "the gloomy Dean."

Poise & Suppleness

YOUR thin dresses in themselves give an impression of ease and freedom. Does your corset actually permit it? We can assure you of this if your selection is one of the new styles of

Warner's Rust-Proof Corsets

The lace front models are particularly attractive to the woman who likes this style of garment.

There is none of the former rigidity of other makes because the thin double rust-proof boning that is used throughout gives a degree of flexibility that is impossible with any single steel of equal weight.

Elastic inserts in many styles give a further freedom that is appreciated by active women, and there is a final sense of comfort in the patented tongue beneath the lacings at the front.

WIS. NATIONALS GRAB BOWLING CHAMPIONSHIP

Big Cup Goes to Winners of Last Night's Set-to at Local Alleys.

Taking the wily redskins of Chief Villemure's crew into camp in two of the three games rolled at the Olmsted alleys last night, the Wisconsin Nationals jumped to the top of the heap of city bowlers, and in so doing claimed the city pin smashing championship and the beautiful silver loving cup.

A large attendance of bowling fans were present and witnessed the contests and evincing considerable enthusiasm over the outcome.

The Nationals started the ball rolling and pin smashing at the same time, grabbing off the honors in the first encounter of the series, 697-671.

They, however, overestimated their ability to come across with another scalping bee on their aborigine opponents and were humiliated to the tune of 705-638.

The war whoops of the redskins were given a sudden jolt right at the start of the windup when "Big un" Wetton failed to negotiate the alleys for anything better than a 135 score, while his opponent slipped across a 171 pointer.

One 200 Mark Set Up.

Only one of better than the two hundred mark was rolled during the course of the games, that by Olmsted of the vanquished Indian aggregation, his mark being 233.

It is stated today, by those back of the bowling league, that the winter season just closing has been one of the most successful in the local bowling game in many years and the interest has been at a high point during the entire time.

The Nationals are now the owners of the splendid loving cup offered the winner of the league championship. It will be engraved some time next week.

VILLAGE OF GARDEN ELECTION RETURNS

Robert McDonald is President and Edward Bureau, Jr., Clerk.

County Clerk Pepin has received from Garden the election returns for that village in which the officers for the ensuing year was given as follows:

- Robert McDonald, president.
- Edward Bureau, Jr., Clerk.
- Napoleon Beaudreau, Jr., treasurer.
- James Hennessy, Paul Lamkey and George Marul were elected as trustees.

Miss Aurora Lapointe has returned to her home at Lovette, following a visit here and at Gladstone.

SILVER WEDDING WAS CELEBRATED BY LOCAL PEOPLE, LAST EVENING

In honor of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Rodgers, 505 So. Sarah street, entertained a small company of close friends at a seven o'clock dinner, at their home last night.

An elaborate four-course collation was served the guests by the hostess following which the remainder of the evening was passed in conversation. A number of very beautiful silver pieces were presented to Mr. and Mrs. Rodgers.

Among the guests at the affair of last evening was Mrs. Enoch Barker of Marinette, the only out of town guest present.

The Rodgers home was decorated beautifully in violets, hyacinths and red roses, making a charming setting for the event.

DISPLAY WINDOWS ARE TAKING ON SPRING TONE

Show windows of city merchantile establishments are beginning to take on the annual appearance of spring, and decorators are busy devising new and unusual effects to attract the attention of the possible customer.

Clothing stores are displaying the spring styles prominently, one store in particular having an exceptionally attractive window, that of the Young & Fillion company. Here the use of plaster of grey tone has been made to give a most unusual and artistic effect. Other places of business are displaying the things that appeal to the feminine tastes, and some very fine windows are rapidly making their appearance.

DARDENELLES ARE QUIET London, March 13.—The allied fleet continues to make efforts towards forcing the Dardanelles. The allies do not claim any important forts have been reduced in the past few days, but the bad weather has been hampering the operations.

Plans for extended land operations along the Dardanelles are practically completed and the French are today concentrating their forces in North Africa for a move in that direction. A part of this force is already on the way.

Belated despatches continue to be received from Constantinople and they all assert that the damage done by the allied fleet is small. The fire from the ships, say these despatches, has been scattered and its effect of small consequence. The latest of the despatches refers to the Sunday bombardment, the British and French versions of which appeared last Wednesday.

La Basse Fighting Important.

The fighting at La Basse is the most important since the days of the Ypres encounters during the early stages of the war, say British military authorities. There is much speculation in London as to the whereabouts of the Serbian army which has not been heard from for several weeks.

Serbia in Disease Grip.

Disease is rampant in Serbia according to a description of a despatch from Nish. The city of Nish, the Serbian city to which refugees crowded from all parts of the war effected areas, is said to be overcrowded with sick and dying and that the hospitals and medical facilities are taxed beyond their abilities and limits.

Turkish activities, as described in the movements of the Turk troops in Armenia, have suffered and defeats have been registered against them by the Russ hosts. The Muscovites are said to have captured an entire Turkish battery in this section. Italy continues preparations in military lines for "any eventually."

TURKS HURLED BACK.

Tifis, March 13.—An attempt on the part of the Turkish army to force the Russ back from the shores of the Black Sea has met with disaster, while the Turks also were defeated on the banks of the Tohoruk river, March 9 and hurried back. The Russians captured an entire Turkish battery.

 "Why, man alive, you can open your windows up and go to sleep and really sleep, up here," he said.
 O'Leary declared that the residence section of the city compared favorably with that of the most exclusive sections of much larger places. The commercial possibilities that are here also interested the veteran walker in

LARGE NUMBER ATTEND EBERTOSKY FUNERAL

Daughter Local Woman Buried From St. Anne's This Morning.

Friends and relatives of the late Mrs. Leo Ebertosky, daughter of Mrs. A. Gamache, of this city, and who succumbed to the advances of the death angel, while at her home in Hancock, came in large number to St. Anne's church this morning to attend the last rites over the body.

Beautiful floral tributes were profuse in number, literally covering the casket where it lay in the church. The funeral cortege, as it wound its way to St. Anne's cemetery, following the services at the church, was a most impressive sight. Mrs. Ebertosky was laid to rest in the family lot in St. Anne's.

MOTHERS' CLUB HEARS ADDRESS

Other phases of the matter of the proper regulations of the comings and goings of school children were touched upon during the address of Miss Atkins to all of which the closest attention was paid. The expression of approval was practically unanimous from among the ladies present and considerable comment was heard at the close of the session.

Adopt Constitution.

A short business meeting preceded the talk and program that was presented, during which time Mrs. Henderson presented a set of by-laws and a constitution which had been previously prepared. The governing rules were adopted without a dissenting vote.

In the program that was presented, Mrs. Royce gave a double vocal number, while Miss Nona Robertson also pleased the large number with a vocal number. A violin number was presented which completed the program of the afternoon.

a large measure, he being particularly impressed with the great St. Paul and Northwestern ore docks.

"I am going to come back to this place to spend a month in July," said O'Leary, as he prepared to leave for a walk in the open air.

O'Leary will walk against three roller skaters at the Peterson rink tomorrow evening, Flath, Berube and Groth being his opponents. "Will take a big speed pill in the morning," said the merry old chap, and he added, "Guess I can make 'em go some."
