WITNESS EXCITING FIGHT.

New York, March 20 .- Passengers aboard the British steamer Lapland, which entered port here today, were witnesses to an exciting battle in the Irish Channel between a German submarine and a British torpedo boat in which it is believed the submarine was sunk.

When the submarine was sighted. the Lapland crowded on all steam and forged ahead at full speed in a zigzag path.

The big steamer picked up her-escort, a British torpedo boat, outside the harbor, because before she had that German submarines were operatsailed, there were rumors current ing in the vicinity.

Shortly after the vessel had left the harbor she was fired at by the submarine, which also fired at another vessel. Passengers aboard the Lapland saw the torpedo as it cleft its way through the water towards the ship, but it is not believed that any of the death dealing machines were discharged at the Lapland, as far as could be learned.

When told that she had not, the torpedo boat dropped back, and when 1,000 yards astern, began firing in the direction of the Lapland. She kept up a fusilade of shots for some time many of which fell so close to the Lapland that the jets of water thrown up as the shells struck, almost touched her.

Interest was roused to a high pitch at the very start of the show by the indescribable funny announcement that appeared upon the screen, followed a moment later by the first of the pictures depicting life in the Phillipines. These pictures were exceptionally good and the work that Uncle Sam is doing in the islands in the way of making the savages into citizens has no better advertiser,

Travelogue pictures of Japan, and of the wonderful gardens of a famous French city, were also shown in addition to the big feature of the evening, the U. S. Navy. Every phase of navy life was touched upon from the drilling of the recruit to the finished seamen. A great impression was created by the showing of the great guns at work. The spectator was made almost to feel the shock and jar when the camera recorded the explosion of a broadside of eight and ten inch pieces aboard one of Uncle Sam's warships. How Register Is Made.

The making of a cash register was also depicted in a splendid manner the final picture showing the work of five days, assembling one of the big machines, inside of five minutes. Accompanying the pictures and adding to the realism, was the work of a "noise-maker" and the planist. Appropriate and well handled noises, pe culiar to the picture shown were car ried on all through the showing.

The splendid work of the pianist created considerable comment among the audience, he being a musician of real talent. During an intermission, the Rosary was played on the strings of the piano, the case having been re moved, and the musician thrumming his fingers on the bare wires.

Applause greeted the pictures at every occasion where something unusually good was shown, and also for the work of the planist.

Although not a young man, Mr. Morgan works twelve to fourteen hours a day, but his associates say his tonsorial tasks are most difficult because applying the razor to wounded soldiers just back from the front is a job requiring real skill and precision. TWENTY RULES FOR THE HOUSE. WIFE ARE SENT BROADCAST OVER GERMANY IN PLANS TO CONSERVE FOOD SUPPLY.

(By Associated Press.)

Berlin, March 14. (Correspondence) -In line with the efforts that are being made universally to conserve Germany's food supply, Dr. F. Wohlt-Phone 91 and ask for Dep't wanted. mann, director of the agricultural institute of the University of Halle, has issued a phamphlet entitled, "Twenty Rules for the German Housewife." He prefaces his brochure with the declaration that she "must help to win the war." The rules include the following:

1. The consumption of white bread and cakes must if possible be abandoned entirely, or cut down by one

In Nine Years Increase in Amount Paid for Improving Highways Has Been Over 250 Per Cent.

(By E. B. HOUSE, Colorado Experiment

The following is clipped from the Reclamation Record:

Approximately $206,000,000 was spent last year on public roads in the United States, according to statistics prepared by the United States department of agriculture. In 1904 the total was only $79,000,000. In nine years, therefore, the increase has been over 250 per cent.

Of the 2,226,842 miles of roads in the United States, 223,774 miles, or approximately 10 per cent are classed as improved.

To improve the remaining 90 per cent may well seem a big job. It is, in fact, only made possible because the work really pays for itself. From material gathered by the United good roads are profitable investments, but to determine exactly what dividends they pay. An investigator assigned to this problem in any given locality first ascertains the extent of the territory that is tributary to any main road, much as one might ascertain the territory tributary to some river. The next step is an accurate estimate of the total products of this territory-so much grain, so much tobacco, so much garden truck, etc. Of this quantity a certain portion is consumed on the farm; the rest is shipped | them and satisfy them so well as a over the road in question.

The whole calculation can then be checked by investigators at the shipgeneral it has been found that the two methods yield much the same information-the total amount of produce hauled over the road. Next the length of the average haul is calculated, the size of the load permitted by the character of the road ascertained, there are today.

and the cost of teams and drivers figured. With these facts before him the investigator is now able to state positively the cost of hauling a ton of produce on that road, to express in terms of these "ton-miles" the freight traffic on the road, and finally the total cost to the community surved by the road of hauling its goods to market. Armed with these data it is easy to decide how much money can be profitably spent in improving the road and what are the returns that the investment yields to the community.

Energy of Farmer's Teams Conserved by Pulling Heavy Loads Over Comparatively Smooth Surface.

There is no doubt that good roads tend to prosperity to the farmers who live on them. Their teams are not worn out with the effort to pull a light load over a bad road, for they easily take a large one to market and save not only the strength of the team and wear of the wagon, but what is of more importance still, the time of the owner. He gets his product to market more cheaply and that item alone tends to more prosperity. Then, too, the value of his land is increased by the fact that it is on a well-made and wellkept road, for the heaviest tax a farmer pays is bad roads.

Everybody Benefited.

Good roads help not only the farmer by enabling him to market his produce when the market is highest but they also help the merchant, the railroad company-in fact, every individual in the county is either directly or indirectly benefited.

Important Work.

The public highway and its improvements is one of the important things to take into consideration in planning next year's work. Work on the road along your farm is just as important as work in the field.

Pigs After Weaning.

For pigs after weaning that have the run of alfalfa nothing will help good fill of slop made of shorts and about one-tenth of cottonseed meal. Feed them some kafir or mile on the side as dry grain so as to save some of the expense of having to supply all the concentrated food in the slop.

Several years ago there was a Blackfoot chief who lived in the vicinity of Seven Persons river, where now stands the city of Medicine Hat. He and his tribe were fond of hunting and of making war on their enemies, the Crees. This chief always wore a headdress of feathers that he called his "medicine hat," for he thought that it brought him good fortune.

It was a dark day for the chief when be last met the Crees at the place where now stands the growing city. He and his men fell upon the enemy with great bravery, and even put them to ignominious flight. But just then a gust of wind whirled out of the west caught the magic hat, and tossed it into the swift-running Saskatchewan river. Instantly the poor chief lost all confidence in himself and his cause, and with victory in his hand he forebore to grasp it, but fled over the plains toward the Rockies, followed by his tribe.—Youth's Companion.

Scotch Eels.

When so many British trawlers have been commandeered and so few of the others can venture out, why is there not a more systematic slaughter of freshwater eels and of the conger eels that lurk about the masonry of old plers and other breakwaters? The rivers of Scotland swarm with eels, which are almost completely neglected as a means of making money by the natives, who themselves do not eat cels. Fish from the sea will grow scarcer and scarcer, consec dearer and dearer, as the war goes on, and we cannot afford to ignore our eels. The board of agriculture and fisheries may presently have a thing to say on the matter. M while the opening for individual terprise is obvious.

(By Associated Press.)

Augusta, Ga., March 19.-The people of Augusta are indignant over an alleged trick played on them by a film corporation, and a massmeeting has been called to pass resolutions denouncing the company.

It is charged the film corporation sent a motion picture company to Augusta under pretense of staging "The New Governor," to which there is no objection.

Whole City Acts in Film.

The company enlisted the aid of the whole city, pursuaded the mayor to pose, the state militia to act a scene, 50,000 Augustans to play the mob, and then after the picture was finished and the company given a great send off it admitted that Augusta had helped film "The Nigger," by Edward Sheldon of Chicago, a play

As soon as the company returned to the north, the film corporation began to advertise "The Nigger," and to state it was produced in Augusta. The advertisement also described "the part played by the people of Augusta in making the production a success." This advertisement stirred Augusta to wrath and resulted in the call for the indignation meeting.

The Augusta Chronicle denounces the company as "a lot of motion picture actors who deliberately imposed upon the hospitality and credulity of Augusta literally lying their way amia and 20,000 marks for similar through Augusta for some weeks and deserving contempt for their imposition on hospitality and good will."
