STORM REPORTED PASSING OUT TO SEA—ESCANABA AND VICINITY EXPERIENCES A COLD SNAP

(By Associated Press.)

New York, Dec. 14.—The center of one of the heaviest snow storms in years struck here and passed north of New York today leaving a tangle of broken wires and trains stalled in deep drifts, and a large part of New York and New Jersey blanketed in snow from two inches to two and a half feet in depth. From reports, the storm is abating today.

All east bound trains on the New York Central lines were from one to two more hours late. Most of the delays were due to interruptions of telegraph and telephone service and the wet, heavy snowfall.

Trains Forced to Crawl Along

At 10:30 o'clock the Twentieth Century Limited was creeping along at Albany. The Empire State Express, due here at 10:10 o'clock last night arrived this morning. The Knickerbocker Express arrived at three o'clock several hours late. By noon today the tracks of most of the lines were clear of snow and in most cases the switches were cleared and ready for use again.

Storm Lasts 26 Hours

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 14.—New York state is today digging itself from the worst snow storm which has struck the state since 1888. It started yesterday and has lasted for 26 hours. Trains were late and, interurban and urban services held up.

oston Hit by Storm

Boston, Dec. 14.—The wind attained a velocity of 40 miles an hour in Boston and a minimum of 20 miles an hour. Berkshire county is in the grasp of the worst storm of the year and is under thirty inches of snow. All schools have been closed and if the storm continues it is expected to equal that of 1888.

Ex-President Held by Storm

MERCURY AT LOW POINT

Reports Indicate Last Night and Today the Coldest of Season

According to thermometers in various parts of the city and from the statements of citizens, last night and early this morning marked the coldest weather Escanaba has experienced during the present cold snap. In some sections of the city, especially in the south part the mercury is said to have hit the zero mark. At six o'clock it stood at five above on the down town streets, according to an employe of the Traction company. However, a statement made by Observer Harvey Spindler at the U. S. Weather Bureau here shows the lowest point reached to have been eight above. The bright sun combined with the cold, snappy atmosphere has made an ideal winter day.

Many are after Governor's Job

AVOWED CANDIDATES FOR THE STATE JOB

Gerrit J. Diekema, Holland.
Albert E. Sleeper, Lexington.
Fred C. Martindale, Detroit.
Washington Gardiner, Albion.
Luren D. Dickson, Charlotte.

SOME WHO MIGHT BE CANDIDATES

AUGUSTUS C. CARTON, Lansing.
FRANK B. LELAND, Detroit.
John J. Carton, Flint.
Alex J. Groesbeck, Detroit.

SEVERAL WHO WOULD LIKE TO HAVE JOB

John Q. Ross, Muskegon.
Amos S. Musselman, Grand Rapids.
William S. Linton, Saginaw.
Edwin Denby, Detroit.
Oscar Marz, Detroit.
Chase S. Osborn, Sault Ste. Marie.

The above list of men who are avowed candidates for the governorship of the state of Michigan, or who might be candidates for the job, or who would like to be candidates; was compiled and published by Frank Sparks in the Grand Rapids Herald. Mr. Sparks says that there are a host of Republicans after this office. If numbers count for anything the state Republicans can feel confident that the interests of the party as regards selecting a candidate for governor, is to be well cared for. The primary battle is expected to prove a most interesting event for, despite the practically assured fact that many of the above men will drop out of the race or will not become candidates, Mr. Sparks believes there will be enough candidates left to make the primary a real battle at the polls. In local Republican ranks several of the announced candidates have been supported hence any attempt to secure a line on local preferences as to the support of any of the men listed is without practical results.

REPORT SAYS FRANZ JOSEPH PARALYZED

AUSTRIAN MONARCH IS REPORTED TO HAVE SUFFERED LOSS OF USE OF HIS RIGHT ARM

(By Associated Press.)
(BULLETIN)

London, Dec. 14.—The Greek government it is learned today, has commanded all Greek shipping in Greek ports to supply the deficit in food and the fuel shortage due to the presence of the allied troops at Salonika.

London, Dec. 14.—While the entente powers are again understood to be feeling much relieved after the improvement in Greece's attitude towards the operations in the Balkans as concretely expressed by the withdrawal of the Greek troops from Salonika, the central powers are reported today to be determined to prevent Greece making further concessions to the allies. From a military standpoint it is evident that the position of the allies has given them a breathing space to plan future campaigns. Bulgarian reports state that the allied armies are being constantly pursued and harassed, but all statements from Macedonia report that French & British lines have time to reform and to relieve the danger of being cut off or outflanked by their enemies.

From Italy comes the report that only Austro-Germans are to cross the Greek border in pursuit of the allies, leaving the Bulgarian forces behind. This is taken as an indication that the center of the war in the Balkans will center around Salonika. General Sarail, French commander has brought his brilliant retreat to an end after despoiling everything in his path that would be of use to the Bulgars.

GERMAN CASUALTIES HEAVY
Rotterdam, Dec. 14.—The Prussian casualty list, contains according to the Rotterdamche Courant, a total of 2,244,248 names. This total is exclusive of the names on the naval and surgical lists.

GERMAN CONSULAR AGENTS INDICTED FOR PLOTTING UN-NEUTRAL ACTS IN U.S.

UNITED STATES OFFICIALS AWAIT RETURN OF GEORGE VON KOOLBERGEN, SAID TO HAVE RECEIVED $100 APIECE FOR BOMBS WHICH HE MADE TO DESTROY MUNITION SHIPS—GERMAN AGENTS CHARGED WITH CONSPIRACY TO DESTROY COMMERCE AND TO INCITE ARSON, MURDER AND ASSASSINATION—DESCRIBED AS MOST VITAL OF CASES YET DISCOVERED.

(By Associated Press.)

San Francisco, Dec. 14.—Plans for the destruction of munitions plants at Aetna, Ind. and at Ishpeming, Mich., were revealed today when government agents made public the details of the indictments against three alleged conspirators in German bomb plots.

(By Associated Press.)

San Francisco, Dec. 14.—The possession of evidence by the government in alleged German bomb plots which federal officers declare is "the most vital of any case yet discovered" has led the government into the details of evidence alleged to have been given by Henrick Van Koolbergen, a civil engineer of San Francisco and who is now in Canada.

Van Koolbergen was the corroborating witness upon whom the government was depending to support the indictments returned yesterday against Baron George Wilhelm von Brincken, Charles C. Crowley and Mrs. Margaret Cornell. Crowley was von Brincken's detective and Mrs. Cornell was the agent of Crowley.

Each of the persons indicted yesterday are charged with two separate counts, the first charging conspiracy to interfere with and to destroy the commerce of the allies and the second to incite to arson, assassination and murder.

$100 Each for Bombs

According to reports, Van Koolbergen told that German officials employed him to act in violation of neutrality laws and that von Brincken, whom he knew during the Boer war, had hired him to make clock-work bombs at $100 apiece and a bonus for the ships destroyed. He was also employed to dynamite a trestle in Canada over which munitions trains had to pass, and that he received a monetary bonus and his expenses when he introduced newspaper clippings to show that the trestle had been destroyed. He is also said to have received $750 in payment for his services. The newspaper stories were said to have been printed in an effort to trap the German officials in the United States. Every detail of the alleged plot is said to have been secretly given to United States officers.

Federal agents stated today that they had connected alleged Pacific coast conspirators with forty explosions and that the probe into the alleged charges had only just begun. The testimony of Van Koolbergen is said to be even more sensational than the statements of Louis J. Smith, said to have been implicated in the same plots.

It was stated from an authoritative source that Sheriff Iverson will take all necessary steps to enforce the ruling of the county prosecutor. Mr. Wickert stated to The Mirror that he did not know of any warrant having been served on him. "I know nothing of any such a thing," he told a Mirror reporter this afternoon.

To facilitate this plan, Mr. Henry Clews, treasurer for the Dollar Christmas fund, has already paid to the commission $25,000 and promises $50,000 by Christmas Day. The commission has excellent facilities for buying at cost rates from manufacturers and for $50,000 there will be about 100,000 pairs of shoes. Mr. Clews renews his appeal for donations which should be addressed to him, 15 Broad street, New York. "Give a Dollar" he writes, "more if you can." Help us send an Xmas gift of America. WOULD HONOR INDIAN CHIEF

College Professor Has Aroused Interest in the Memory of a Friend of the Early Whites.

Prof. Edward S. Meany of the University of Washington is arousing public interest in the memory of old Chief Pat Kanim of the Snoqualmie and Snohomish Indians. Chief Pat, a staunch friend of the early whites, is one of the forgotten heroes of pioneer days, and Professor Meany wants his grave marked with a suitable monument.

In the days when settlers had reason to fear the lurking red foes in the deep forests, Chief Pat Kanim's people were powerful when Everett stands. It is not known just when the chief died, but he was buried on a bank of the Snohomish river.

When the grave was threatened by the overflowing river, relatives moved the remains to the little cemetery on the Tulalip Indian reservation, where many of the tribes he ruled in power now live in humble homes.

Bancroft's "History of Washington" tells of the chief's craftiness in driving Glasgow and Rabbeson from the first settlement on Whidby Island in 1848. He made a great drive with dogs, and secured sixty deer for a feast of assembled warriors. He counseled in favor of driving the white men out of the country.

Glasgow and Rabbeson went back to Tumwater, and the next year Pat Kanim led an assault on Fort Nisqually. While Pat Kanim was parleying inside the stockade, his brother was killed leading an attack by the Indians. Pat Kanim was spared, and in 1850 he made a trip to San Francisco in a sailing vessel. What he saw on that journey made him resolve to become a friend of the white man. He faithfully lived up to that resolution for the rest of his life.

Bowen was the first to fire and missed. At the report of the gun the bear started down the tree, and as it touched the ground Ringler sent a bullet into its heart, killing it instantly. Returning to the village of Trout Run, five miles distant, the boys awakened their fathers, who accompanied them to the scene and helped get the carcass home. The bear weighed 225 pounds.

ADVANCE IN SOUTH AMERICA

Rapid Development of Argentine Republic Has Equaled Anything in the History of the World.

The difference between the Argentine republic of 1880 and the same nation in 1915 is ice, as Bishop Stuntz told the Knife and Fork club the other night.

In the 35 years between those dates the Argentine has seen the greatest boom ever experienced by any agricultural country under the sun. Western Canada not excepted. Agricultural land then selling for three to five cents an acre brings $300 an acre now. Land in downtown Buenos Aires that sold for $2 a square meter then sold for $2,700 a square meter last summer. In 15 years the Argentine increased its land under cultivation 255 per cent. And why?

Because back in 1855 an ingenious North American discovered ice could be made artificially and by 1880 the refrigerator ship was launched.

The Argentine is and has always been primarily a cattle country. The foot-and-mouth disease has always been prevalent there and as a consequence Europe has enforced a rigid quarantine on South American cattle on the hoof. The meat could not be shipped, dressed, without ice. But it could after the refrigerator ship came. The Argentine soon had the European beef market cornered, and its prosperity began.

While artificial ice has not "made" the United States, it has made life worth living here. You who can remember back to 1870, when there were but five artificial ice plants in the nation, have some idea of the comforts it has brought.—Kansas City Star.

Tourists in France.

One of the curious aspects of the war in France is the effort of the railroads to encourage the customary tourist travel. The tourists, of course, are confining themselves to travel in the large part of France that is outside of the war zone, where the fear of the dangers of war may be "un-sounded."

CONGRESSMEN GROWING MODEST

Few Glowing Accounts Appear in Autobiographies.

INITIATING NEW MEMBERS.

Those Serving Their First Terms Are Fast Getting Their Bearings and Learning How the Nation's Laws Are Made—Meeting the "Big Men" of the Capital Is Important For Them.

While the veteran members of congress are busy getting their bills in shape for presentation and running the house and senate, the new members are getting their bearings, learning how business is transacted and meeting the "big men" of Washington. There are many things for the new men to learn, and they know that the best thing to do is to make friends with the men who have the "pull" and who can be of untold benefit to them in their work.

There are a great many new members of this congress who first told of themselves in their autobiographies. The book, however, is less interesting this year, as it seems that the people have elected a very modest set of lawmakers.

Senator Henry Algerson du Pont of Delaware again uses the most space in the directory. It requires fifty-six closely printed lines to review the war record of the Delaware solon.

Congressman Charles Lindbergh of Minnesota and Thaddeus Caraway of Arkansas compete for brevity. Each uses less than one line. Mr. Lindbergh describing himself merely as "Republican, of Little Falls," and Mr. Caraway "Democrat, of Jonesboro."

Senator James D. Phelan of California qualifies as a member of many clubs and asserts also that he belongs to the Society of California Pioneers and is president of the Hall Association of the Native Sons of the Golden West.

With national defense as an issue in this congress, Congressman P. Davis Oakley of Connecticut is one of many members to record that he served with the national guard.

Congressman William Baker Oliver, a new Democrat from Alabama, admits that as prosecuting attorney he "attained the highest percentage of convictions in the state."

Charles Hiram Randall, Prohibitionist, of Los Angeles, Cal., calls attention to the fact that a member of the Randall family wrote "Maryland, My Maryland."

Congressman Frank Park of Georgia uses but one more word than Messrs. Lindbergh and Caraway. He names his state as well as town.

Robert M. McCracken, a new member from Iowa, says he went west from Indiana when a lad, "to grow up with the country."

Uncle Joe Elected Twenty Times. Uncle Joe Cannon's biography is a simple recital of his election to twenty congresses and the fact that he is a lawyer.

Harry E. Hull, Republican, of Iowa says he had only ten days to make his campaign to succeed the late Mr. Pepper and that he "made a run that was accepted by the whole country as proof of how the farmers would vote and of the weakness of the Progressive cause."

David H. Kincheloe of Madisonville, Ky., proudly says he is married and "has one girl, now seven and one-half months old."

Whitcomb Pugh Martin labels himself a "progressive protectionist" from Louisiana and adds that he is the first non-Democratic member to be elected from that state in twenty-five years.

A note of tragedy is contained in the brief autobiography of Congressman Thomas D. Schall of Minnesota, who says he lost his eyesight because of an electric shock in 1907, but has continued in the practice of law. The Sixty-fourth congress has two blind members—Senator Gore of Oklahoma and Mr. Schall.

Edward H. Wason of New Hampshire is one of the many farmers listed in the directory. He asserts that he takes a pride in farming and "has a large herd of registered Guernsey cattle and a modern, up-to-date farm."

Frederick W. Rowe, a new member from Brooklyn, lists many civic organizations with which he is affiliated and further explains that he is "superintendent of St. Paul's Sunday school."

It appears that Congressman Temple of Pennsylvania, re-elected, is the only minister among the house members. William Barclay Charles of Amsterdam, N. Y., records that he is a member of the Second Presbyterian church of that city.

Possibilities of the Lateral Pass. The possibilities of the lateral pass may be almost unlimited, as set forth, but the same thing was said in behalf of the forward pass for several seasons after its introduction. It, too, may have its possibilities, but they aren't being developed very extensively.

Almost Killed by Fire and Frost. Escaping from a burning farmhouse into 30 degrees below zero atmosphere with his underwear, the only garments he had on, a mass of flames, rolling in the snow and then running at his best speed across country two miles in his scant apparel was the experience of Charles Johnson, a farmer, near Crazy, N. D., who was brought to a hospital in Devils Lake, N. D., for treatment.

FRANCE FIRST WITH MOTORS

Used Automobiles in the Field on the Day That the Great War Started.

To the French belongs the credit for the first use of motor transport in the present war, according to the Fremdenblatt, which says that at the very outbreak of hostilities the French general staff seized 500 Paris motor buses and sent them off, packed with soldiers, to the Belgian frontier, and 1,000 other motor transports similarly improvised followed next day.

As "an approximate estimate" it is stated that "the belligerent powers in the first week of the war made use of some 250,000 motor transport wagons, apart from the great numbers of automobiles de luxe and touring cars that were pressed into service." Of this 250,000 motor wagons France had 90,000, Germany 70,000, England 55,000, Austria 25,000 and Russia 10,000. Their total value is estimated at $200,000,000.

DENTISTS ARE BEATEN

Barristers Win Bowling Contest Saturday Evening by 46 Pins

A picked five man team of Escanaba lawyers defeated a team composed of members of the dental profession at the Delft alleys Saturday evening by a total margin of 46 points. The dents grabbed the second game by a lead of six pins while the barristers were awarded the first game by seven pins leaving them at the start of the final game with a lead of only one pin. However, in the wind-up a total of over 700 pins was rolled giving the lawyers the game and match. The total marks were: Barristers, 2074; Dentists, 2028.

TRENCH COOKING BY GIRLS

Women's College in London Gives a Special Course for Woman War Workers.

London.—Cookery lessons in a trench dug in the grounds of the new King's College for Women (University of London, at Campden Hill) is among the features of a special course on camp cookery inaugurated at the college recently and open to non-students.

This course and one which opened recently on "Economic Housekeeping in Wartime" will, it is thought, be especially useful to woman war workers, in view of the fact that the employment of women as cooks, porters, orderlies, etc., is now permitted in the military hospitals.

The practical work in the camp cookery course will be undertaken out of doors whenever possible and will include the building and making of outside fires, ovens, etc., improving of camp cookery implements, the boiling of meat, etc. Attention will therefore be directed to cooking in large quantities, stewing, soup making, bread making and the making of boiled puddings.

Preserving Conscience. "They tell me you have signed the pledge?" "Yes," replied Uncle Billy Bottletop. "And I'm goin' to keep on signin' it. Whatever happens, no one ain't goin' to be able to say my intentions wasn't good."

THE JOY OF LIVING.

We are told that happiness comes by pieces, and that it is these small bits linked together that make our lives worth while. Some of us are not content to take our happiness by degrees or at intervals. We want it all the time in big pieces, and if we cannot have it that way we think that we are deprived of our natural rights and look upon ourselves as injured beings. It is a rather singular expression of human nature how happiness affects the individual. With some of us it makes us friendlier toward others and anxious that they should experience like joys; with others it makes us too satisfied with ourselves to think very much of our neighbors. Perhaps those of us who know what the joy of living means have experienced both of these attitudes at different periods of our lives and are in position, therefore, to appreciate a varying viewpoint, but even so it is only after we lose something of that joy of living and have found out for ourselves that there are shadows which no amount of sunlight can dispel that we can really appreciate the blessing of whatever happiness may find its way into our lives. The little things that count so much in our intercourse with each other are not always regarded as highly as they should be, and for this reason we pass by much that would give us joy if we only knew how and where to find it.

It is good to note that Harvard is insisting upon a knowledge of English grammar and an ability to write correct English. Any movement that will deepen appreciation of the mother tongue and increase facility of expression is deserving of approval. Indifferent use of English has been so common a characteristic of students who aspired to what seemed to them more important branches of knowledge that Harvard has decreed a special course in grammar, without credit, for men who show deficiency in this respect. Doubtless, this will stimulate the student to greater care in his use of the common language. It is a needed check on slovenliness that should produce good results.

The theory that Sir Walter Raleigh was the author of the dramatic literature known as the plays of Shakespeare is now under discussion. It is worthy of note that most people associate Sir Walter very intimately with tobacco. This is because he introduced the use of the weed into the United Kingdom, and also no doubt because of the memorable story of his Irish servant, seeing smoke issuing from his mouth, fearing that he was on fire, and throwing a pail of water over him to put him out. Perhaps it is also worthy of note that the word "tobacco" cannot be found in Shakespeare's plays.

The American dollar is the most desired piece of current money in the whole world. An American dollar is worth $1.02 in English money. The premiums in other money are greater. In French money the American dollar is worth nearly $1.09; in German money, $1.17; in Italian money, $1.18; in Russian money, $1.33; in Austrian money, $1.34; in Mexican money, $2.

Nobody ever seems to be in great danger of eating too much for breakfast.

PURITY

The ingredients of the food you eat and give your children should be pure and healthful beyond any question.

Various food officials and pure food experts have frequently endorsed Royal Baking Powder as being superior to all other similar preparations, and many of the great chemists of the world, including most of those of official position, have given like testimony.

No other article of food has ever received such emphatic commendation for purity, strength and wholesomeness, from the most eminent authorities, as Royal Baking Powder.

Because Royal Baking Powder adds only healthful qualities to the food is one of the reasons why it is always preferred by teachers of cookery and the medical profession.

ROLLS OVER ON FUSE AND STOPS EXPLOSION

Watchman Saves Own Life and Employers' Property.

A watchman in the office of the Bunge-Jones Coal company, at 2045 Clyburn avenue, Chicago, saved himself from injury by rolling on a fuse, which three safe robbers had connected with a charge of nitroglycerin in the office safe. The fuse had burned more than half the distance to the safe when the watchman extinguished it.

WATCHMAN TIED BY FUSE

When they rushed to a place of safety after setting fire to the fuse the robbers allowed the office door, which has a spring lock, to close and they were unable to return.

The three safe robbers surprised Peter Hochgurtel, the watchman. They seized him, tied his feet and hands and placed a gag in his mouth. They took his keys, opened the office, carried Hochgurtel inside and placed him in a chair, to which he was bound with a rope. His face was turned to the safe, so he watched the robbers.

One of the robbers knocked off the knob of the combination lock of the safe with a hammer. A charge of nitroglycerin was placed in the cavity and a fuse attached. The robbers placed bags over the safe to deaden the sound of the explosion. Then one of them touched a match to the end of the fuse, and all three fled from the office, leaving the watchman to his fate. They dropped the office keys on the floor.

Hochgurtel rocked violently in the chair until it toppled over on the floor. His weight snapped the rope which bound him to the chair, and he then rolled over and over across the floor. He finally rolled on the fuse and put out its fire. In half an hour he freed himself and got police aid. -New York Times

FAMOUS FOOTBALL FUMBLES.

Mishandling of the Pigskin Has Cost Big Teams Many Games.

Fumbles have often played a leading part in football battles between Princeton and Yale. In 1889 Warren and Cowan of Princeton defeated the blue by making touchdowns from fumbles. In 1894 Louis Hinkey of Yale snatched up a loose ball and scored. Bass did the same thing for the blue in 1895, and Gould duplicated the feat in 1900. Then there was that run of Sam White's for Princeton in 1911.

One peculiar feature of this is that all but one of these men were playing at end for their eleven. Cowan was a tackle, as is Way, who made Yale's touchdown in this year's game with Princeton.

ANKLET BOUQUET NOW

FASHION HAS TAKEN ANOTHER FORWARD STEP.

Daring Leaders of Modes Are Wearing Flowers Just Above the Shoe Tops, Instead of at Waist, as Formerly.

The Parisian creators of fashion have issued the royal edict that to be the vogue, skirts this season must be short. The shorter the more vogue to them. No doubt the fashion mentors had in mind that the spaces intervening between the skirt bottoms and the shoe tops would be utilized by some creative genius in the introduction of the latest fad.

Of course there was the anklet watch and the anklet muff to fall back on, but such tame things as these could very easily be improved on by someone with imagination.

Naturally one must have a dainty ankle. Yes, indeed, a very dainty ankle, to attract the proper amount of eyes. But then, again, like everything else, there are likes and dislikes, and the piano-bottomed ankle is just as apt to attract attention as is the one built on the lines of a Venus.

Dorothy Newell, possessing as charming a figure as one would desire, bethought herself of a daring innovation. Having the daring of her convictions, she went about executing them. If, Miss Newell figured, it be the proper thing to wear a corsage at the waist, why not use a bouquet to adorn the ankle? Having started the vogue, it caught like a house of tinder when the torch is applied to it, and now the florists are getting real fussed up about it. Aye, they are studying the most courtly of manners in so far as the art of kneeling is concerned. If the vogue spreads as it is already doing, the cavaliers of the florist shops will be compelled to carry kneeling cushions about with them, as an aid toward adjusting, at the proper place, the beautiful anklet bouquet. The most attractive flowers for this purpose are the rose, sweet pea, and chrysanthemum; the last named must, however, be removed from the cabbagehead variety. That may do on the six-cylinder anklet, but for the trim ankle a dainty variety of flowers is desired.

Carpenters are busily engaged in filling orders for screens for use in the floral shops. Behind these screens the lady can in secrecy adjust the bouquet exactly where she desires.

Rains Kill Young Ducks.

Getting the body wet in spring or early summer will generally kill a young duck or gosling. Dampness will give them rheumatism and cold, and cold will bring on sore eyes. A young duck caught in the rain will often raise its head, open its mouth, and stand stone still until it drowns, when but a few feet farther along it could have found shelter.

Scallops.

Scallops are more and more used on blouses, skirts, sleeves and every other part of the new frock. Deep, square, round or pointed scallops are much used on taffeta skirts, sometimes falling over a ruffle of lace, gathered or accordion plaited. A new idea is to use three or four not very full ruffles pointed in six or eight points each. The points are very deep and overlap each other in most effective manner.
