NEITHER, JUDGE. I'M SHOWING HIM WHERE HE CAN GET A WEEK'S TOBACCO SATISFACTION FOR ONLY A DIME.

SAVI IS THAT A LOCK-STEP OR MARCH?

A LITTLE CHEW OF W-B CUT IS MORE SATISFYING THAN A HUNK OF THE OLD KIND ALL RIGHT.

HAVE you ever heard men who use ordinary tobacco say anything in its favor? But nearly all the men who are today using W-B CUT chewing—the Real Tobacco Chew, new cut, long shred—were started by the suggestion of friends who liked it better than the ordinary kind.

BRILLIANT PARTY HELD

What is regarded as the first leap year affair of any magnitude was held last night at the Fair store under the auspices of the Fair store efficiency club.

One of the most brilliant of events of years is the way those who were present describe last night's party. Beautifully decorated for the occasion, the second floor section of the big store presented an attractive and artistic appearance. Great Christmas bells flanked by streamers and festoons in holiday colors were suspended from the lofty ceiling, the movements of the dancers on the floor below setting them swaying back and forth, lending a touch of charm to the whole scheme. A large number of young people were present, many in formal evening attire and the delightful evening passed all too early for the most of them. Splendid music was furnished by Brotherton's orchestra and refreshments were dispensed from an attractively arranged booth. Last night's event was the second annual party to be given under the direction of the Efficiency Club.

POWERS-BURGO NUPTIALS CELEBRATED THIS MORNING

A pretty wedding was celebrated at St. Joseph's church this morning at 9:30 o'clock in which the principals were Miss Edith Burgo and James Powers, both well known Escanaba young people. Fr. Julius read the vows which united the two lives.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Irene Burgo with Arthur Pouliot as best man. The bride was attired in Green velvet chifon traveling gown and wore a large picture hat. She carried a beautiful bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaid was gowned in green broadcloth and carried a bouquet of pink roses.

A delightful wedding breakfast was served the bridal party at the home of the bride following which the young people left on the 7:55 train for Chicago, Milwaukee and Detroit on a honeymoon trip of indefinite length. They will return to Escanaba to make their future home. Both Mr. and Mrs. Powers are well known here and have a wide circle of friends.

BANQUET PLANS MADE

Plans for the annual banquet of the Boy's Brigade of St. Patrick's church are rapidly assuming large proportions at this time and it is intimated that a most interesting event will be the result. Plans have also been made for the first annual banquet of the Girl's Brigade. The dates for these events are announced today are: Boy's Brigade banquet, Jan. 19 (Wednesday); Girl's Brigade banquet, Jan. 20 (Thursday).

It is the intention to hold both affairs at St. Patrick's hall. Decoration of an appropriate nature will be installed and the details be worked out in such a manner as to conduce to a most successful whole Proportionate laymen of the city and priests from the vicinity will be additional guests at the events.

ATTEND GOLDEN WEDDING

Mrs. Ida Anderson has returned from Minneapolis where she attended the golden wedding celebration of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Alard. The golden wedding ceremony was celebrated in the church of Notre Dame des Lourdes in the presence of a large gathering of friends and relatives. A wedding dinner was served at the Nicolet hotel following the church ceremony.

Dr. Osler on Tuberculosis

Sir William Osler, one of the foremost of living medical men, formerly of Johns Hopkins, Baltimore, and now Regius Professor of Medicine at Oxford, says in his "Practice of Medicine" (1902), on page 249:

"The healing of pulmonary tuberculosis is shown clinically by the recovery of patients in whose sputa elastic tissue and bacilli have been found."

"In the granulations produced and associated pneumonia a scar tissue is formed, while the smaller caseous areas become impregnated with lime salts. To such conditions alone should the term healing be applied."

Many eminent medical authorities have testified to the efficacy of lime salts in the treatment of tuberculosis, and the success of Eckman's Alternative in this and allied throat and bronchial affections may be due partly to the fact that it contains a lime salt so combined with other valuable ingredients as to be easily assimilated.

Widespread use of this remedy in numerous cases of tuberculosis—many of which appear to have yielded completely to it—justifies our belief that it is worth a trial, unless some other treatment already is succeeding. It contains no opiates, narcotics or habit-forming drugs. We make no promises concerning it any more that reputable physicians give promises with their prescriptions, but we know of many cases in which IT HAS HELPED.

Your druggist has it or can get it, or you can send direct.

GOOD TWIRLERS ARE BEST ASSET

Steady Hurlers More Valuable Than Heavy Batters.

REMEMBER OLD CLEVELANDS

Years Ago Famous Forest City Aggregation Had Team Full of 300 Hitters, but Were Weak on Pitchers—Sluggers Alone Don't Win Pennants.

What does it avail a ball club if it possess the greatest batsmen in the land if the pitching staff is puny?

The answer is, Nothing. A good pitching staff is far more essential to a ball club's success than is a wrecking crew of batters. Baseball records of the past and present show the truth of that statement.

The New York Giants are pretty well down in the rut, although they have three men slugging over the .300 mark and three others near it. Doyle is hitting around .225. Merkle is clouting for .320 and Robertson boasts of a .310 average.

No club in baseball packs a greater batting punch than the Brooklyn Federals. Magee is hitting around .375 and Kauf is near .360. Three other Brooklyn regulars are over the .300 mark—yet the team is in the second division.

The Detroit outfield is swatting the well known horseshin for a combined average around .300, a tremendous clip. Yet the Tigers are behind in the race.

In the bygone days the Cleveland Naps possessed the greatest collection of sluggers that ever batted under one standard—Lajoie, Bemis, Bay, Hickman, Bradley, "Nig" Clarke and a few more fence busters. Practically every one in the outfit was a .300 hitter. Yet Cleveland during those days never came near to winning a pennant.

On the other hand, the Chicago White Sox, back in 1906, had pitchers—and no batters. Yet the Sox won a pennant and a world series in that year. In 1912, 1913 and 1914 the Senators, minus batting power, but plus some mighty pitchers, were runners up in almost all three pennant battles.

Getting right down to this present day and age, we find the Phillies clinging to the top of the National league. Outside of Luderus and Cravath, the Phillies haven't any batters, but they have Grover Cleveland Alexander and a few other pitching persons. The Dodgers, who recently assumed the role of runners up, have a real batter in Jake Dabbert and a timely hitter in Zack Wheat. Their hitting power ends there. But the Dodgers have "Bosky" Bell, Jack Coombs, "Hosen" Pfeffer and "New" Tucker on the pitching staff. That's why they are where they are.

The Boston Red Sox as a team aren't hitting up to pennant winning standard. But they have about five pitchers who are pitching a world series brand of baseball, and look where those Red Sox are located in the standing of clubs.

The Kansas City Febs and the St. Louis Febs present weak hitting combinations. But they have the pitchers—and they have been in the pennant light since the middle of May.

ARGUMENTS AMONG BALL PLAYERS ARE PECULIAR.

The three cornered argument as to who is the best shortstop—Marinville, Bancroft or Herzog—is an amusing contrast to the civility displayed by Hans Wagner and Joe Tinker several years ago when the merits of the pair were under discussion. Both at the time were playing the greatest ball of their careers. The scribes put it up to Tinker.

"Oh, the Dutchman is the greatest in the business," replied Joe.

A few days later the matter of great shortstops was put up to Honus. The Teuton pretended to be absorbed in deep thought, and finally he replied:

"I consider Joe Tinker the greatest shortstop in the business."
