CARRANZA IS PLEASED WITH THE U.S. NOTE

Reciprocal Agreement is Delivered to Mexican Chief and Will Probably be Accepted.

NO TROUBLE LOOKED FOR

RIGID CENSORSHIP IS ESTABLISHED BY GENERAL FUNSTON AT COLUMBUS, NEW MEXICO

MARTIAL LAW IS BEING CONSIDERED

Carranza Troops Are Reported to be in Hot Pursuit of Villa and His Bandits

(By Associated Press)
Washington, D. C. March 14.—State department agents today reported that Carranza had received the government's note accepting his reciprocity proposition and that he was favorably impressed with the action taken by this country. No trouble with the Carranza element in Mexico is now anticipated.

Censorship Established

San Antonio, Tex.—A rigid censorship has been ordered by General Funston at Columbus, New Mexico. He has ordered General Pershing to take charge of the telegraph and telephone lines and to watch all automobile roads. This action was taken to prevent any news of troops movements leaking out.

"Reporters from Mexico" said General Funston, "had been revealing all our troop movements. There was no use trying to conceal our plans here while there was a leak on the border."

He indicated that if the censorship did not stop the leak martial law would be the next step.

Confer on Army Bill

Washington, D. C.—In keeping with the wish of President Wilson and actuated by the approaching expedition into Mexico the House rules committee has appointed a sub-committee to confer with Speaker Clark on the army bill.

El Paso, Tex.—Brigadier Gen. Pershing left here on a west bound train last night and since his departure all information about him has been denied the reporters. Pershing's train was going to Columbus where some 4,000 men are in readiness for a dash across the Mexican border in pursuit of Villa and his bandits.

In expectation of the General's departure last night a large number of photographers and movie camera men had gathered on the railway station platform. Piles of military equipment were scattered about and General Pershing stepped behind an army wagon and then onto the train. The train was about ready to start before the camera men discovered that the general had out maneuvered them.

Naco Fears Attack

Naco, Arizona—Practically every resident of this city is under arms because of what are regarded as reliable reports to the effect that Mexican bandits planned an attack on the city. Many families have fled from the city taking with them their valuables.

Carranza troops, numbering 15,000, are reported to be in pursuit of Villa, who is headed south. It is believed that his capture is imminent.

ESCANABA COLDEST U. S. CITY THIS A. M.

But One City in Canada, For Which Record is Kept, Equalled Low Mark Here

Of all the towns and cities in the United States for which weather records are kept Escanaba was the coldest last night. The mercury dropped to zero during the night and at 7 o'clock this morning it still stood at that mark.

The available weather records for Canada show that only one city in the Dominion was as cold as Escanaba. At Edmonton the thermometers also registered zero.

Complete Deal Involving Big Land Acreage

Goodwin Cedar Company Buys 6,000 Acres From the Upper Michigan Land Co.

A lumber deal involving one of the largest acreages in the Upper Peninsula has just been consummated. Six thousand acres located along the D. S. S. & A. railroad near Seney has been bought by the Goodwin Cedar company from the Upper Michigan Land company.

The final transfer was made today, although the deal has been pending since January 1.

Interested in the purchase with the Goodwin Cedar company are the William Boniface Lumber company, of Watermeet and the Northwestern Coopersage company, of Gladstone. August Goodwin, president of the Goodwin Cedar company, was formerly located at Rapid River. William Boniface of the Boniface company, was formerly located in this city.

The timber on the big acreage consists mainly of cedar and spruce and the cutting will probably begin at once.

40 ENROLLED AT FIRST NIGHT SCHOOL SESSION

Nine Nationalities Represented—Six Women Are Enrolled For Course

That the initial session of the Escanaba night school was a success is evidenced by the large number of pupils enrolled last night. Forty pupils, representing nine different nationalities, were present.

S. W. Brennan, chairman of the Board of Education was present and gave the pupils an address of welcome. E. W. Doak and J. M. Leach assisted in the instruction.

Of the forty pupils, 21 were unable to either read or write English, though a number of them were graduates of foreign schools. The larger number of the pupils were adults and the ages ranged from 18 to 48 years. There were six women enrolled.

It is expected a larger number will be enrolled at the next meeting of the school on Thursday. Sessions will be held each Monday and Thursday.

EX-PRISON WARDEN TO TELL KANSAS TRUTHS

Hon. J. T. Botkin Will Address Audience in the Peterson Opera House

Hon. J. T. Botkin, for many years warden of the Kansas State Prison and later congressman from his state, will speak tonight at the Peterson opera house at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Botkin is going to tell the truth about Kansas and those who fear him may be assured of a talk that is well worth while. He is a strong, convincing talker and he knows his subject.

Men, women and children are cordially invited to attend tonight's talk. Standing room ought to be the order when a man of Mr. Botkin's calibre talks.

REUBEN YOUNG TO HAVE OPPOSITION

Levi Barboe of Rapid River Will Run on Slips For Supervisor of Township

In the recent caucus at Rapid River Levi Barboe, came so very near to defeating Reuben Young for supervisor that his friends have requested him to run on slips. Young was successful in receiving the nomination by but three votes.

If Mr. Barboe is elected the people of his township need not worry about it for he is a capable man and will look out for his home interests.

UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

For Escanaba and Vicinity—Partly cloudy tonight and Wednesday.

EX-PRESIDENTS BAR ASSOCIATION MAKE A PROTEST ON BRANDEIS

WILLIAM H. TAFT JOINS WITH PROMINENT ATTORNEYS IN LETTER TO SENATE COMMITTEE

DO NOT BELIEVE HIM "A FIT PERSON"

Probably Most Telling Blow Yet Dealt to Brandeis Chances for Confirmation

(By Associated Press)
Washington, D. C. March 14.—Ex-President William Taft, together with six other former presidents of the American Bar association, Simeon R. Baldwin, Francis Raule, Ellu Root, Warfield Stormy and Peter W. Meldrin, have protested to the sub-committee of the senate against the confirmation of the nomination of Louis G. Brandeis as a justice of the supreme court.

In a letter to the committee they stated that they felt it "their painful duty" to protest against the confirmation of Mr. Brandeis, because he, in their opinion, was not, taking into consideration his professional character, a fit person to be placed upon the Supreme Bench of the United States.

DOCK OFFICIALS KNOW NOTHING OF CRUSHER

No Definite Information as to Smashing of Ice in Harbor Received Here

A report to the effect that an ice crusher and two tugs which are reported to have been hired by ship owners to break an entrance into the Escanaba harbor so that ore shipments might begin by April 1, was now 18 miles of Peninsula Point, was circulated about the city this morning. In an effort to confirm the report "The Mirror" called up both the St. Paul and Northwestern docks. "Beyond what we have read in the newspapers we know nothing about an ice crusher coming into this harbor" was the substance of the information gained from the officials of both docks.

"Inasmuch as the lower Michigan press has had much to say of the ice crusher coming into this port, as well as our papers in the Upper Peninsula there may be some truth in the report, but we have no confirmation here. One of the dock officials said, "However," he added, "the plan is feasible. Heavier ice than we have in Escanaba harbor is broken yearly at the Straits."

SUPERVISORS WERE IN SESSION TODAY

Returns to Idaho

The county board of supervisors met today with only one of the supervisors absent. Various reports were considered and a number of bills ordered paid.

Norman Stephenson, the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Stephenson has returned to Avery, Idaho. A year ago Mr. Stephenson was hurt while railroad engineering near Avery and since that time he had been recuperating at his home here. He has now entirely recovered and will resume his work.

'BUNCOMBE,' SAYS MINING JOURNAL

When The Mirror recently announced that The Delta county local option fight had bogged into a campaign of irrelevant personalities, exaggerations and side issues, it didn't make the announcement with the idea that it was importing any information to the reading public. What the campaign has been, all Delta Countians know. It is The Mirror's part and intention to give the basic facts of the fight as it sees them. What the editor of the Marquette Mining Journal thinks of the campaign to date will doubtless interest Mirror readers, since it conveys the viewpoint of an unbiased outsider, a viewpoint analogous to that held by The Mirror. He says:

Whatever the result, it appears that little good can come out of a local option campaign such as is being waged in Delta county. The residue of bad feeling and of bitterness it would leave, even if the theoretical best result was obtained, would largely nullify its advantages.

"The rule of reason rarely prevails in these contests, but, on the other hand, it is rarely so thrown to the winds as it has been in Delta county. It ought to be possible to conduct a local option campaign on the basis of legitimate argument. The indictment that can be brought against legal liquor traffic is a heavy one. On the other hand, its total extinguishment, with no compensation to the men engaged in it, involves a financial readjustment, for the community as well as for individuals, that furnishes the liquor interests with a strong material case for the status quo. And then they have the probability that the blind pig will creep in to take the place of the saloon to fall back upon.

"Such substantial arguments based on fact can be made on either side that it is surprising to note the extent to which buncombe becomes the current coin of controversy and the excesses of statement to which both sides resort. Appeals to prejudice and to the emotions, rather than to sense, obscure the issue in the mind of the average man. They decrease the likelihood of its being disposed of in some permanent manner, while they assure the maximum of bad feeling.

"In Delta county the bad features of the usual local option campaign have been singularly heightened by the intensity of feeling that some of the leaders in the contest have put into it. Buncombe has thrived exceedingly in the Delta county atmosphere, and personalities have too largely taken the place of argument. The man in the street gains little enlightenment from so much overstatement. The campaign is not informative, and does not seem to be planned to be. The wets, generally speaking, appear to have been the worst offenders, but the drys are tarred with the same stick."

LABOR REPRESENTATIVE TO SPEAK IN THIS CITY

H. S. Brewer Will Address Audience in City Hall on Saturday Evening

In the city hall on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock H. S. Brewer, a representative of the Michigan State Federation of Labor, will deliver an address of which the subject will be, "Why Union Labor is Opposed to Prohibition in Michigan." On Sunday afternoon Mr. Brewer will speak in the Wassa hall at Gladstone at 3 o'clock.

LECTURER ENTHUSES CHAUTAUQUA CROWD

William Rainey Bennett Delivered His Lecture "The Man Who Can" Last Night

An enthusiastic audience was present at the Methodist church last night when William Rainey Bennett gave his famous lecture "The Man Who Can." Before giving his address Mr. Bennett favored the audience with three solos, "Winter Lullaby," "When Its Summer Time" and "I Think When I Read that Sweet Story of Old." He delighted the audience and put them in a pleasant mood for his address.

The evening's talk was brim full of action and from the time he mounted the platform till he finished his address, the attention of the audience never wavered. He was by far, in the opinion of many, the best Lyceum attraction that ever appeared here.

Mr. Bennett was a forceful speaker and displayed much wit and originality. His description of the wolf chase at the close of his lecture was most dramatic and he was roundly applauded.

The next attraction of the Winter Chautauqua course will be offered April 14 at the Methodist church.

COMMITTEE EXAMINING MARQUETTE CHARTER

A number of the 18 members of the Escanaba Business Men's association named by President G. T. Werline as a committee to inspect the Marquette commission form of city government at close range, were unable to make the trip this morning.

Mr. Werline, F. D. Davis, C. E. Snyder and J. J. Cleary were among those who left on the early morning train. This afternoon they met with Mayor Begole of Marquette and the city commissioners who explained to them in detail the commission charter and its functions. If the committee finds that the commission form has solved the problems that vex the city government here, it is probable that a movement will be launched to secure a similar government here.

FUNERAL H. C. HENKE

Wife of Deceased Was Formerly a Resident of This City

Gallagher, John McMann, of this city, attended the services.

GREECE REFUSES TO ACCEDE TO DEMANDS OF ENTENTE POWERS

PREMIER MAKES FLAT STATEMENT OF HIS GOVERNMENT'S ATTITUDE ON ENTENTE DEMANDS

WOULD FURTHER DISTURB RELATIONS

Opposes The Military Occupation of Corrih Straits and Seizing of Railways

(By Associated Press)
Berlin, March 14.—The premier of Greece is said to have informed the Entente powers that his government could not accept certain demands of the Entente nations without disturbing their present relations with them.

"The Greek government," says the premier, "is not disposed to transfer to the entente administration the railroads of northern Greece and Macedonia. It cannot consider the request to withdraw its troops from Florena and must oppose the military occupation of the Corrih straits and the erection of wireless stations in that section.

Such attempts would disturb the present relations between Greece and the Entente powers."

LOCAL GIRL IN MOVIES AT THE DELFT TONIGHT

Miss Laura Robley Will Appear in One of Leading Roles of "Let Katy Do It"

Escanaba people who remember Miss Laura Robley will be pleased to know she is rapidly ascending to an enviable position on the moving picture world. She is the grand daughter of Mrs. McPhaul of this city and was formerly employed as stenographer here.

As Miss Laura Huntley, she appears in one of the leading roles of the picture "Let Katy Do It" at the Delft tonight. This picture has had a remarkable run and will be especially interesting because of the appearance of a local girl.

The vaudeville which was shown last night and will be on the bill tonight is one of the best acts ever shown here.

SCHOOL PLANNING A FAIR WEEK FEATURE

Spelling Contest For Grade Pupils of County and of the Escanaba Schools

Through the efforts of School Commissioner C. U. Woolpert, Superintendent F. E. King and L. A. Erickson of the Agricultural society, a plan for having the children of Delta county play a prominent part at the county fair to be held in the fall, is being carried out.

The feature of the fair will be a spelling contest in which the four best spellers in Delta county below the eighth grade will compete. To the winner a prize of $5.00 will be given; the second best will receive $2.50 and the third $1. There will also be a contest of the students of the city schools of Escanaba and the same prizes will be offered.

Commissioner Woolpert is also organizing Boys Agricultural clubs through out the county and much interest is being taken in the work.

VINDICATION FOR ATTORNEY H. J. RUSHTON

Supreme Court of State Sustains Contention that Local Option Petitions were right

CHIEF JUSTICE GIVES OPINION

"ANY NUMBER OF HEADINGS OF PETITION MAY BE CIRCULATED IF HEADINGS ARE ALIKE AND ATTACHED"

MUCH ABUSE HEAPED UPON HIM BY PRESS

Point Decided in Case of Heyer vs Board of Supervisors of Shiawassee County

The Supreme court of the State of Michigan with Chief Justice Stone, formerly circuit court judge for this district, writing the opinion, has completely substantiated the position taken by Prosecuting Attorney H. J. Rushton when the petitions, asking that local option be submitted to the voters of this county, were submitted to the board of supervisors at their annual session in October.

When the petitions were submitted to the board several attorneys maintained that the statute governing the submission of petitions expressly provided that there should be but one petition from each district and that inasmuch as in many of the precincts two and three persons had each circulated the positions in question they were invalid because the paper circulated by each individual constituted a separate petition.

They based their contention upon the following section of the statute: "To enable each and every elector to determine for himself if his name has been fraudulently attached to such petition, it is hereby required that the signatures of all the petitioners residing in any one and the same township, ward or election district, shall be attached to one petition or list, separate from those of any other township, ward or election district, and that an exact copy of said petition and all the signatures thereto shall be posted in three of the most conspicuous places in the said township, ward, or election district for at least 10 days immediately prior to its presentation to the county clerk."

In many instances two or three persons had circulated the petitions in the several election districts but in each instance the heading was the same and the sections were pasted together and submitted as one petition, with the proper affidavits, etc.

In his capacity as prosecuting attorney Mr. Rushton stated that in his belief the law had been complied with and advised the acceptance of the petitions by the board. That no matter how many headings the petition contained if they were alike and in proper form, they constituted one petition if they were all attached together, was Mr. Rushton's contention and he so advised the board. Much abuse and criticism was heaped upon the prosecuting attorney by not only the press of this city but in other parts of the Upper Peninsula. That he had set his legal knowledge against that of the attorney generals office was only one of the numerous press criticisms. Now comes his vindication.

On Monday of this week the Supreme court in the case of Heyer vs the Board of Supervisors of the county of Shiawassee cleared up the identical point under controversy here in language that is unmistakable, Justice Stone in one part of his opinion says: "We cannot agree with counsel in the contention that more than one petition or list can be circulated and a copy thereof posted in one township, ward or district, under any proper construction of this section."

"Let us not be misunderstood here. We think that any number of headings of petition may be circulated in a precinct, and signed, and if all the headings are alike and in proper form, and if they are all attached together, and a copy thereof posted, and filed as one petition, the statute is complied with."

This was Mr. Rushton's precise contention and the basis upon which the board of supervisors accepted the petitions.

RAPID RIVER NEWS.

By L. G. MESSENGER

ETHEL DUTCHES HAS UPHELD SCHOOL HONOR

Other Pupils Contribute in Distinguishing School System and Placing Institution in Envidiable Position.

Those who have been wont to lightly refer to Rapid River as a place of illiteracy and lack of education and refinement characteristic of more than a quarter of a century ago, could receive something of a lift and a little enlightenment as well by taking notice of the report of the "prize essay contest" as it appeared in the Escanaba Journal of this week, where in the local school system again came to the front, its pupils grabbing off a number of prizes and holding up Masonville's pet institution to be viewed from a favorable angle by all who read the Journal.

The Local Option Society offered cash prizes to the pupils of Delta county of the sixth, seventh and eighth grades for the best essay of 300 words on "Why the saloons of Delta county should be closed."

It matters not in this instance what the subject was for the essays but the point that is highly gratifying in this community is that of the 119 manuscripts that were submitted in the contests an even 16 prizes and honorable mention were awarded in Delta county and of that number just one half, or eight were given to Masonville township pupils, six of them being from the village of Rapid River and two from Ensign in this township.

The following is the roll of honor from this township the first name in the list, Ethel Dutcher being tied for first prize and given first mention in the list of prize winners.

Ethel Dutcher, first and second prize.
John Hamilton, first of seven prizes.
Jennie Nelson, seventh of seven prizes.

Phoda Kallman, (Ensign) Simon Olson, Sadie Froberg (Ensign) Carrie Birch, and Genevieve Monk, all honorable mention.

If Prof. Jas. McDonald now in the Laing hospital at Escanaba is now in a condition to appreciate it, it would be a proud moment to him to know what has been accomplished by the system that he built up and to hear of the ovation that her class mates accorded her as Ethel Dutcher appeared in the class room following the announcement Friday morning. She responded with a neat little speech saying that it was worth more to her than a hundred cash prizes just to be instrumental in maintaining the honor and glory of the Rapid River high school.

TOWNSHIP TICKETS NAMED SATURDAY

The township caucus held here Saturday afternoon resulted in a number of spirited contests for some of the positions on the tickets. Levi Barboe developed a formidable come back after a years silence and in a few hours notice announced his candidacy or the office of supervisor and rallied together 58 votes. Young secured the nomination by the slight margin of two votes.

Alpha Cole for clerk and James McPherson for treasurer were placed in nomination without opposition and the scrap for the commissionership was then on with five aspirants seeking honors. The second ballot gave Noah Duranecan the nomination by a margin of 12 votes over his nearest competitor than more than doubling his two opponents. Arvid Bergman was nominated for overseer of highways.

The following is the personnel of the Township ticket as a result of the caucus.

Reuben C. Young for supervisor, James McPherson, Treasurer, Alpha Cole, clerk; Noah Duranecan, highway, August Olson, members of board of review, Wm. Ackley, justice of the peace, for full term, George Noel, justice of the peace to fill vacancy, Constables, Fred Vietzke, Fred Lemboz, Wm. Cardinal and Geo. Pentason, James Larkins received the nomination for the office of pond master next to the consternation of H. A. Harris who hopes to have another garden this summer.

Levi Barboe has been prevailed upon to run on slips for the office of supervisor. His decision was made as a result of the showing he made at the caucus with a large portion of his voting strength not present.

COTTON LARGELY USED IN MAKING OF EXPLOSIVES

American Staple of Great Importance to Fighting Power of Army.

GERMANY FINDS SUBSTITUTE

Experts Said to Have Discovered New Process in Which Wood Pulp is Employed—Ship Load of Cotton Costs 500 Lives.

Washington.—Opinions widely differ as to the amount of raw cotton being consumed in the manufacture of smokeless powder, both here and in Europe, not only as to the total consumption since the war began, but the amount necessary to produce one pound of such powder. Of powders, 90 per cent being used in Europe is known as "smokeless," according to the military records of this government, and since the reckoning here is that it requires one pound of cotton to produce one pound of smokeless powder, an idea may be gathered of the importance the American staple bears to the fighting power of an army.

In justification of its contraband order, the government of Great Britain in a statement issued by the embassy here, pointed out the extensive use of cotton for military purposes and that it forms practically the only base for explosives employed by European armies. The English do not agree, however, that cotton consumption is found for pound, but that only four-tenths of one pound of cotton is required to produce one pound of this explosive. Some of their authorities contend that a bale of cotton will turn out 900 pounds of smokeless powder, and, putting it in another way, that every shipload of cotton reaching the Germans results in the death of 500 soldiers of the allies.

One Million Bales for Powder.

Representative Heilin of Alabama introduced a resolution asking the department of commerce to obtain figures upon the consumption of cotton in the manufacture of explosives. Munition makers desiring to protect their trade secrets, are loath to give facts to the public touching that phase of the industry, and the figures obtainable are more or less estimated. Before one of the committees of the house recently a witness stated that 1,000,000 bales of cotton had been used by American munition makers since the beginning of the European war. Representative Heilin in a speech to the house dealing with cotton growing and exportation, estimated that a total of 3,000,000 bales of the staple grown in the United States had found its way into powder. He allows 2,000,000 bales consumption by the governments of Europe and the remainder to the manufacturing plants in the United States.

In the manufacture of smokeless powder lintera are generally used, owing to being cheaper than the long fiber and adaptability of being worked over. England has contended that if cotton could be kept out of Germany secret of later the Teutonic allies

BERGSTROM SPOKE TO A LARGE CROWD HERE

The audience of mixed sexes and drags that assembled at the Hocks hall Friday evening to hear the Hon. L. Bergstrom orator on the prohibition subject from the damp side, made up in attentiveness for what it lacked in enthusiasm and if the talented speaker found it a little irresponsive, he at least could find no fault in so far as its being composed of good listeners was concerned.

He spoke for about an hour and a half and his theme was along the usual order in such instances. His audience must have been composed principally of calm and conservative listeners, determined to hear both sides of the momentous question before casting their ballots, weighing the subject rather than applauding the speaker for there was no ovation when the gentleman was introduced nor was there any demonstration when he concluded his remarks. In one instance, some one clapped their hands and on two or three occasions a titter bit through the crowd by those who enjoyed a joke regardless of where it landed.

It is evident from both the wet and dry meetings that have been held here that the people have their minds pretty well made up one way or the other. Owing to the nation wide fame of Clarence Darrow, a large number of people from here contemplate going to Gladstone to hear him speak next week.

CHILD WAS BITTEN BY VICIOUS DOG

On her way home from school at noon Friday, six year old Thelma Christoff was attacked by a dog belonging to Mr. Francis, her grandfather, and badly bitten in the face. The bite was a serious one and several teeth wounds were made on one side of the child's face. Dr. Conover was called and after treating the wounds in the usual manner, bandaged the child's face. The dog was shot.

would run out of powder, yet this prediction does not appear to be approaching fulfillment when it is known that little if any cotton has been getting into Germany for months.

Germans Have a Substitute.

Unconfirmed stories reached the United States that Germany met the crisis by gathering cotton rags to work them back into fiber and grinding into pulp for powder purposes, but it appears from documents placed in the Congressional Record by Senator Hoke Smith of Georgia that the Teutons' resourcefulness is bound by no such limitations. He read a letter from Germany showing that cotton was not being used in the manufacture of powder at all, that long before the outbreak of the war experts of that country had substituted wood pulp, and that since the war began wood pulp had been relied upon almost entirely.

Other statements were produced by the senator from Georgia to support the contention that Germany was no longer relying upon cotton lintera and it was related, the German military department has been releasing its cotton to the factories turning out cotton cloths. In this way the Georgia senator attempted to show that cotton was being employed in peaceful pursuits and for peaceful purposes. If the Germans have successfully substituted the ingredient for cotton lintera in the manufacture of smokeless powder it is believed that the munition industry will undergo a revolution as to processes. There is no information as to the cost of the process claimed by the Germans or whether it is of such a secret nature as to prevent employment by other governments.

Bureau of Census Report.

A statement was recently issued by the bureau of census on the manufacture of explosives in the United States during 1914 as compared with 1909. During 1914 the production of smokeless powder and gun cotton were third in the output of the principal explosives. The European war was in progress for only a portion of that year, and there had been no heavy draft upon the factories here to supply the armies of the allies. The 1915 report will be more interesting on this point. The 1914 report says in part: "While the production of gunpowder decreased by 5,177,664 pounds in quantity and $758,972 in value, or by 40.2 per cent and 43.7 per cent, respectively, the production of smokeless powder almost doubled, but the figures for it cannot be shown separately without disclosing the operations of individual establishments. The output of this product, therefore, is combined with that of gun cotton, or pyroxylin, and the total included in 'other explosives.'"

"The production of smokeless powder, gun cotton or pyroxylin, and 'other explosives' increased from 9,155,223 pounds to 26,400,071 pounds, or by 188.4 per cent. This amount includes the production of establishments operated by the federal government. The output of this class of explosives by commercial establishments increased from 7,464,825 pounds, valued at $3,913,787, in 1909, to 21,327,684 pounds, valued at $11,111,495, in 1914, the quantity increasing by 185.7 per cent and the value by 81.7 per cent.

"There were 111 establishments in operation in 1914, 33 were in Pennsylvania, 11 in Ohio, 9 in Illinois, 8 in New Jersey, 7 in West Virginia, 6 in Oklahoma, 4 in California, 4 in Missouri, 3 in Kansas, 3 in New York, 3 in Alabama, 3 in Indiana, Massachusetts, Tennessee, Wisconsin and 1 each in Arkansas, Delaware, Iowa, Kentucky, Maine, Michigan, Minnesota and Texas."

Can Meet Home Demand.

Under war stress it has been estimated that the United States would need 30,000,000 pounds of powder per year, and a pound of cotton for a pound of smokeless powder would mean an enormous consumption of the staple in this country alone. The total capacities of the plants in this country, considering the probable output of other classes of explosives, is hardly equal to a war-time demand of the United States, and while it has been the chief purpose of those who have the United States manufacture its own munitions, to reduce the cost to the government, the certainty of a supply has been figured upon.

The South produced less than 12,000,000 bales last season. Reports from the states indicate that the production he coming season will be held down also. As soon as the European war is over there will be a demand for cotton in the minds of the experts, but until that period approaches they say there is no good reason for increasing the crop. Representative William H. Murray of Oklahoma in a speech in the house of representatives two years ago pointed out that the time would come in the world's consumption that the South would be expected to furnish a 30,000,000-bale crop. And he added, the South would be able to meet the demand.

For the matron is this graceful gown developed in black satin, with a charming overdrape of chantilly lace. The skirt is cut rather short in front, exercising the freedom of skirt fronts on party frocks, while the train, instead of springing casually from almost any point in the back, is a harmonious development of the skirt drapery itself. Black Jet gives the girle and shoulder banding. It is almost unnecessary to add that this beautiful frock was designed by Mme. Callot.

AUTOMOBILE QUERIES AND ANSWERS

By L. K. Edwards

My car was overheated about a year ago, after which it developed a knock. Have had it taken up but soon after it was as bad as before. I would like advice as to how I should proceed to take the motor out of the chassis as I wish to overhaul it myself, providing there is no machine work to do. Should a motor have a knock or metallic sound when warmed up, running fifteen miles per hour with five passengers, a very little up grade? Have driven 5,500 miles and motor is free from carbon. Have always used a medium oil, winter and summer.

If you want to take the motor out of the chassis you can proceed as follows: First drain all water from the cooling system by opening the cock at the bottom of the radiator. Then disconnect the hose connections between motor and radiator. There are two of these. Take off the radiator by unfastening the bolts which hold it to the frame. Disconnect the spark and throttle controls from the bottom of the steering gear. Loosen the connection between the end of the exhaust manifold and the pipe running to the muffler. Disconnect the gasoline feed pipe from the carburetor. If the car is fitted with electric cranking and lighting then you will have to remove the wires from the electric motor and generator and also from the horn. Be sure to tag each wire so you will know where to replace it.

The next step is to disengage the engine unit from the drive shaft. There is a means of doing this back of the clutch. Take out the bolts that make the connection. Finally remove the holding bolts which fasten the rear arms of the engine to the frame members and then disconnect the front support, and by the use of an overhead crane or block and pulley arrangement the engine should come out of the chassis after moving it to clear the drive shafting at the back of the clutch.

A motor should not have a knock at any time. Under the conditions you mention the knock is probably either a carbon ignition or gas knock. You may be giving the engine too much fuel on ascending grades, or you may open your throttle too quickly. Retard the spark somewhat on hills and see if the knock is not eliminated.

Why does my clutch make a grinding noise when it is pushed out in coasting downhill? How can I prevent it from gripping?

You probably have a broken ball in the thrust bearing back of the clutch spring. Treat the leather with neat-foot oil and then try roughing up the matted surface of the leather with a small saw blade. See if the springs under the leather are working satisfactorily. Perhaps they need tightening to make them act against the under surface of the leather. If the leather seems too badly worn the cone should be refaced.

Would the removal of spring leaves improve the riding qualities of a car? If so, which leaves, and how many? I have equipped it with shock absorbers and keep the leaves well lubricated without helping it materially.

It is not advisable to remove any of the leaves from the springs. These are designed to carry the load without being too stiff, and the removal of leaves would not only weaken the springs unduly, but might spoil the riding qualities.

Can you tell me a way in which to quiet the valves on my car? They have just been adjusted and the clearance seems to be correct.

If the adjustment is correct then there is one other thing which may be responsible for the valve noise. If the valve guides or the valve stems, or both, have become worn there is a chance for side play when they are operating, thus causing a rattle. The best way to determine this is to take out the valves and examine the stems for excessive wear. Then the guides which are pressed into the cylinder castings can be removed and examined. You might be able to inspect them without removal.

My car works nicely running below fifteen miles an hour, but over that speed it misfires and spits back in the carburetor. It will do the same on heavy pulls, on hills and on sudden opening of the throttle above a certain point. Carburetor adjusting does not do any good. I have put in new piston rings and new brushes in distributor and breaker boxes. Is the trouble in the magneto or the carburetor?

It is possible that your trouble is caused by a poor adjustment of the interrupter of the magneto. This interrupter is used for both battery and magneto circuits, and should the points be too far apart on the break or too close, perhaps, there may be backfiring and misfiring. The points should be about .015 inch apart when fully open. Sometimes a fine adjustment will show better results. You will have to try various positions. After adjusting the points place a drop of kerosene upon them. Granting that the ignition system is properly timed and that the carburetor is adjusted correctly, you might look to poor valve timing as the cause of your trouble. Carbon deposits in the cylinders will often cause the condition you mention. If you wish to check up on the carburetor adjustment push the auxiliary valve open while the motor is operating with the throttle open more than one-half. This can be done with a pencil or screw-driver. Should the misfiring stop when the air valve is pushed open then you will have to compress the air valve spring. If the misfiring and backfiring become worse, then the spring should be stretched. There should be no air leaks around the valve caps, the spark plugs, the inlet manifold, priming rocks, etc.

Trees in Persia.
There are no natural forests in Persia except along the Caspian sea and in Kurdistan, for elsewhere there is insufficient rainfall. Elsewhere, if water is present, many oriental planes and poplars are planted but acreage is very limited, the larger wood lots running up to six acres only. So scarce is wood that every small branch pruned off is kept and finds its way into a bundle of faggots for city consumption. The plane tree there, and quite generally the world over, is the best of all trees yet planted.

field that the invasion of Bohemia had not been a real act of aggression, but a precaution of legitimate defense taken against the threats and snares of Austrian politicians. "I very much doubt," replied Lord Chesterfield, "if these fears, whether they be well or ill founded, are sufficient grounds for taking up arms against a neighbor. The most solemn treaties are only scraps of paper if the powers that be have sufficient reasons to authorize their being broken." This conversation is related by Chesterfield himself in a letter dated February 21, 1745.

From now on twelve o'clock at night will be termed by the telegraph and telephone authorities in Denmark as twenty-four o'clock; one o'clock p. m. will be known as thirteen o'clock, and so on until twenty-four o'clock, which is midnight. The time stamped on telegrams received for transmission or at hand for delivery will correspond to the new system of reckoning; as, for example, 16:24 o'clock will mean, according to the twelve-hour system, 4:24 p. m. This reform is following what has been done by neighboring countries, such as Sweden, Russia and Norway.

Headgear in History.

If we all knew the history of headgear, which is far older than our own, we would doubtless say: "My friend, this hat, whether radical or extreme, represents one of the oldest things in the world. In the palmy days of Rome all free artisans wore a cone-shaped hat, which was known as pileus. It was a sign of freedom, and when a slave was freed he hurried to get one. The Romans generally, except the artisans, who wore the soft hat already mentioned, draped the fold of the toga about the head, which was deemed sufficient."

INFLUENCE OF A CHILD.

When you hear a man protest that it all depends upon "the kid" as to whether he will do a given thing or not, or go to a certain place, it is a reasonably safe wager that he is bound by strings of gold leading straight from a beloved child's heart. It is that sort of attachment which makes men better and women nobler. There isn't much danger of domestic disaster as long as this kid attitude and kid sentiment is maintained in the original flower and beauty. Indeed, the most tragic phase of many a separation has been that the kid has held his place in the soul of but one parent, while both have retained their place in his; and in the breakaway the kid becomes the object of battle and the victim of war. Over and against these drab episodes, happily, there are the countless thousands of instances in which the kid is the center of a contented little world in which his spirit rules and his is the first and last influence. Often he tames the most reckless men and sobers the most flippant of women. It is for him they watch their step and guard their walk and conversation. Frequently where all else has failed to quiet and settle down the kid has been known to establish a new standard and create a healthier atmosphere. Thrift takes the place of waste, industry succeeds to foolishness, the stern realities of life supplant its frivolous because the kid must grow up in wholesome nurture and admonition.

According to Le Figaro, the famous expression, "A scrap of paper," was used as long ago as the eighteenth century by Lord Chesterfield, and, strangely enough, to brand the conduct of an ancestor of William II—the great Frederick himself. The latter, betraying the French alliance to negotiate in an underhand way with England, had ordered his minister, Podewils, to explain to Lord Chester-

RURAL CARRIER EXAMINATION

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced an examination for the County of Delta, Mich., to be held at Escanaba and Gladstone on April 8, 1916, to fill the position of rural carrier at Fayette and vacancies that may later occur on rural routes from other postoffices in the above mentioned county. The examination will be open only to male citizens who are actually domiciled in the territory of a postoffice in the county and who meet the other requirements set forth in Form No. 1977. This form and application blanks may be obtained from the offices mentioned above or from the United States Civil Service Commission at Washington, D. C. Applications should be forwarded to the Commission at Washington at the earliest practicable date.

Health Hobby.

Why is it that the average woman is so loath to admit that her health troubles come from her digestive apparatus? Does it sound any better to talk of heart trouble or mysterious "internal woes" than it does to admit of a cantankerous liver or an upset stomach? Women and men, too, take a queer fancy for whispering of serious ailments and assume a semi-invalidism which one would suppose they would hesitate to acknowledge. They seem to gloat over their illnesses until it must be quite a sorrow when they recover so far that they have to lose an important subject of conversation. How do we do hate to listen to a recital of someone else's ill health. It gives us so little chance to put in a word about our own, you know.

Deep-Sea Diving Hard Work.

"Yes, sir; it seems simple enough to put on a diving dress and go down into the sea, but I can assure you that it is not quite so easy as it looks," said a deep-sea diver. "The farther ones goes down below the water, the greater the pressure, and, consequently, the labor and exhaustion of working is greater. You would probably find 70 feet quite deep enough for your first dive. The pressure on your head would be so great that, not being used to it, your ears and nose might bleed. In diving the rate of ascent is important. If the diver is less than 50 feet below the surface he can be pulled up two feet a second with safety; for greater depths the rate of ascent must be slower."

Mrs. Joseph Mallman is confined to her home with illness.

A CHANGE OF TACTICS.

How it Worked in the Case of a Discouraged Salesman.

The following method of gaining assurance is told in the American Magazine. It is the experience of a salesman who could not sell his goods because he allowed himself to be discouraged at initial attempts. It has wide application everywhere:

"I am a commercial traveler who conquered the habit of despondency. Every one who sells goods knows how fierce is the competition. When I took this job six years ago it seemed absolutely overwhelming. I didn't sell anything to speak of and made up my mind that I couldn't, though I kept on making the round of the groceries. There seemed to be a thousand salesmen just ahead of me. I grew very bitter at the thousand and everybody else. Whenever I entered a store it was with the firm conviction that I should not get an order. I looked dull eyed at the merchant and said gloomily:

"Anything in my line?" at the same time reaching for the doorknob. They didn't try to detain me.

"One day in conversation with an old drummer, a shrewd veteran of the road, I opened my heart with a savage complaint about the thousand salesmen, my advance guard. He puffed his cigar a moment, his eyes twinkled and he slipped me on the shoulder:

"I know," he said, "I had 'em ahead of me once. They raised Cain with me until I chased 'em to the rear. Take my advice, boy, and get up to the head of the procession and let the other fellows do the worrying."

"I thought it over, and it dawned on me that it was a question of viewpoint. I had formed a habit of picturing myself at the tail of the line, though in reality we were going in a circle and my position was as good as any. Then I changed my tactics and formed a new habit—the habit of thinking of myself as the leader, the very first man in the territory. Just as an experiment I went out the next day believing that I should get orders. I pulled my order book and pencil the moment

I entered a store and began to name certain goods.

"Sugar," I cried, looking the grocer expectantly in the eye, as much as to say that I could see the empty barrel behind his counter. And the barrel was empty! It worked so well in the first store that I tried more vigorously in the next, and the merchant came down freely. It was almost uncanny the way I guessed the items he needed. I went out on the sidewalk and laughed aloud. And I actually sold more goods that day than I had sold before in three weeks.

"Well, the firm raised my salary instead of firing me, as they had planned to do, and I still insist that I am the first man over the route. I tell you, right habits of thought are worth money—sometimes a fortune."

Rich as Croesus.

The boys were bragging about their parents.

"I bet my father is richer than your father," said one. "He has to pay lots and lots of money for taxes every year."

"That's nothing," retorted the other. "My father is so rich that he can afford to hire a lawyer to fix things so he don't have to pay any taxes."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

A Suspicious Document.

"All this here business education among women is tough on us cooks."

"How so?"

"The last lady I worked for gimme a reference written in shorthand. What did she say about me. I wonder?"—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Cutting Stovepipe.

Use a can opener to cut stovepipe if you have no large pair of shears. The can opener answers the purpose admirably.—Popular Science Monthly.

Inevitable.

"I saw stars in that railroad collision."

"Naturally, when the cars were telescoped."—Baltimore American.

CLARENCE DARROW AT THE DELFT WEDNESDAY

Address in Delft Theatre Will Begin at Eight O'clock—Doors Open at Seven.

Clarence Darrow, perhaps the most celebrated criminal lawyer in the United States, who has been closely identified with labor interests for years, will speak in this city tomorrow evening in the Delft theatre in the interest of the Delta County Square Deal association.

On Thursday evening Mr. Darrow will speak in Gladstone.

Those who have been so fortunate as to hear Mr. Darrow speak describe him as a man with a magnetic personality who puts all of that personality into his speech. Contrary to the current opinion Mr. Darrow is not a speaker of the rip-roaring Burke Cochrane order; but one who drives home his points in a conversational tone.

The doors of the Delft theatre will open at 7 o'clock and Mr. Darrow will begin to speak at 8.

Mrs. W. N. Smith is the guest of her sister Mrs. A. T. Nadeau of Marinette.
