

The Story of San Rey

Two months ago the San Rey cigar came into existence. At that time the Escanaba Cigar Co. employed three cigar makers and strippers, with a pay roll of $1,000 per week. Today they are employing nine makers and three strippers with a pay roll of $3,000 per week. There is a season.

I want to double the pay roll within the next three months. How are we to do it? The answer is up to the cigar smokers.

"That it has not been possible to secure satisfactory baseball and track schedules outside of the conference. We want to go back because we believe our competition with conference teams will be desirable and believe that we will receive as warm a welcome on each campus as we received in Minneapolis in 1909. We want to go back, realizing that questions will arise and be decided, perhaps not to our liking, but go with the spirit that we are willing to abide with this result.

"In the last five years of conference competition we lost only one game—the Chicago 29 game in 1905. Since 1905, we have competed with two or more teams each year that have played freshmen and fourth year men against us. I am opposed to asking Michigan men to play except where our competitors are under the same eligibility rules and other restrictions. I do not think the strict eligibility rules and other requirements matter so much if all of the competitors meet on the same basis.

"Let us approach the situation on the right spirit and with full knowledge of conditions and prepare to abide by the result willingly and gladly and to realize that everyone interested in Michigan can and should do something for Michigan's athletic success."

KNIGHTS COLUMBUS BUY $20,000 BONDS

State Council at Meeting at Grand Rapids Makes Big Purchase of the Liberty Loans.

Grand Rapids, Mich., June 9—Grand Rapids and western Michigan Knights of Columbus swelled their subscription: to Liberty bonds to $20,250 by subscribing $13,950 at the fourth degree banquet held at the Hotel Pantlind. At Sunday's meeting $7,200 was raised. The $40,000 mark is expected to be reached. This subscription came as the patriotic climax to a day of patriotism for the knights, upon whom the sacred duties of fealty to the United States was most elaborately emphasized both during the exemplification of the fourth degree and at the loyalty inspiring talks given by the speakers. Dr. Edward W. Buckley of St. Paul, lauded the work of the Y. M. C. A. among the soldiers and declared that the work of the Knights of Columbus would in no way compete with that of the association, but would rather serve to "take care of our own men in our own way." It was pointed out by the speaker that there are over 30,000 Catholic priests serving as privates in the French army, but the quota of Catholic chaplains in the United States navy is small. The knights were urged to do all in their power with the conscript armies as possible.

GLAD WOLVERINES BACK IN CONFERENCE

Yost Pleased With Action of Board Voting Michigan Back Into "Big Nine"

Ann Arbor, Mich., June 9.—Feilding H. Yost, the famous builder of football teams at the University of Michigan, is highly gratified with the action of the board of regents in voting to return to the Western Conference. He believes the faculty representatives of the "Big Nine" institutions will warmly welcome the return of Michigan when they meet in Chicago June 9 to pass on the application.

Yost strongly favors competition in all branches in athletics with Western teams, for, he says, "It is neither desirable nor practicable for Michigan to be half East and half West." He declares that it has not been possible to arrange satisfactory baseball or track schedules outside of the conference.

"I am strongly in favor of Michigan's return," Yost said. "I want to return absolutely and completely. My chief reasons for a resumption of athletics with the conference institutions are:

"That practically all of the men at Michigan always have wanted to compete with western college teams.

"That from all reports we can look forward to friendly and continuous athletic relations with all conference teams, including Chicago and Wisconsin, and that there will be a more general and sympathetic interest on the campus in such competition than that now existing in our present schedule.

"That if we are in the conference it will not matter much what rules and regulations are in force, as we will be competing with our opponents on equal footing so far as eligibility rules are concerned.

AUTOMOBILE QUERIES

My clutch slips. I have tried washing it with kerosene, but with no result. Also had the crank case taken off, but see no nuts to take up on. Have tried both kinds of oil, but have met with no success. Can you tell me the cause of this and how to remedy it?

Probably the clutch is being held disengaged by the sticking of the pedal shaft in its bearing or other members of the operating mechanism are sticking due to lack of lubrication, thus not allowing the clutch to become fully engaged when the pressure is removed from the clutch pedal. If the mechanism is found to be in good shape the next cause would be insufficient pressure exerted on the plates. This might be caused by weak clutch springs or springs that have taken a permanent set after a few thousand miles of service.

Automobile manufacturers can test springs for their tension, and, while great care is exercised in the strength of the steel wire which goes into them and the heat treatment of the same, nevertheless occasionally springs will pass by inspection, no matter how rigid, that have not been carefully heat treated, and after some little service they will take a permanent set and fail to exert sufficient pressure on the plate to transmit the power.

The third, and most likely cause is dirty and gummed plates due to neglecting to change the lubricating oil in the motor.

I think the radiator on my car is stopped up, as I have a great deal of trouble with the engine running hot. Have had the radiator cleaned, but get no better results. Would you advise me to take the radiator apart to clean it?

First of all find out whether the radiator is at fault by removing the lower hose connection and then run water into the filler opening and note whether the water flows freely from the lower connection or whether the passage seems to be impeded and the water overflows from the top.

Your water jackets may be clogged with dirt, sand or scale, or your pump may have a broken shaft or vanes.

Is it economical to use oversize tires? Many tire makers advocate the use of oversize tires for the following reasons:

Take, for instance, a 33 by 4 tire which fits on a 32 by 3 1/2 rim. In addition to having considerably more air capacity or cubical contents, there is naturally a little more tread, and the oversize tire is, generally speaking, of a heavier construction. The greater air capacity naturally makes more of a cushion, the tire thus making easier riding for the occupants, and, due to the advantages mentioned above and to the fact that the tire is of heavier construction and has a greater capacity, it will throw off strains which a tire of smaller diameter and circumference would not throw off.

In addition to the above, the circumference of the oversize tire in this instance is slightly over three inches more than the 32 by 3 1/2 which we are using for illustration. This additional running surface means, of course, that the tire will revolve fewer times in making a mile than the 32 by 3 1/2, which, everything being equal, should insure greater mileage than the smaller size tire.

My engine seems to backfire or ignite the charge as it goes into the cylinder. The spark plugs have been out recently and are in good condition. The batteries are new, and the breaker points are set up as close as necessary in order to give a good spark at the plugs. What is the cause of the backfiring and the remedy?

It seems to be a case of carbonized motor. Misfiring and overheating usually are good indications that there is a carbon deposit on the cylinder head and piston. Small protruding particles of this carbon become red hot and ignite the charge the moment it enters the combustion chamber. When the car is moving rapidly the misfiring may not be so aggravated, but when operating slowly, or possibly idling, the misfiring will be in evidence.

How often should the crank case of a car be drained and cleaned out with gasoline?

With a new car this should be every 500 miles or 1,000 miles, and thereafter every 1,500 miles will be sufficient.

What treatment is necessary to make a brake lining stick better?

No treatment should be given a brake lining to make it fit better except keeping it clean and maintaining the proper adjustment on the brakes. When worn down the brake lining should be replaced. One of the frequent occurrences is the wearing of the asbestos compound below the surface of the copper rivets which hold it in place. This brings the copper rivets in contact with the metal brake band, greatly reducing the retarding effort of the brake.

Is there any way to stop the squeaking, cracking noise of wheels, and if so how?

Squeaking and cracking wheels can generally be held to loose spokes. Tighten the bolts around the flanges which support the spokes.

Should one cut out the ignition when using the motor as a brake, or does it make any difference?

The motor, with ignition on, is valuable as a brake only to the speed where the motor idles. At that point, of course, the motor gives power to the rear wheels instead of braking them. If you must use your motor for a brake and want the most positive results shut off the ignition. The ignition will not be harmed one way or another.

An Argument Addressed to Every Motorist in Escanaba

WE believe there are many very logical reasons why every motorist in this city and surrounding territory should seriously consider the question of equipping his car with Lee Tires.

We don't expect to be able to bring this about—not this year at least, but we do expect to see a good many Lee Tires rolling about this community during the season and furthermore we expect to see every Lee Tire user satisfied. That expresses the confidence we have in the present output of the Lee Tire & Rubber Company's factory.

Let's consider what you get when you buy Lee Tires.

Take Lee Puncture-Proof Pneumatic Tires, for instance. They are twice guaranteed.

What do we mean by twice guar-

Continue your advancement. Get rid of punctures.

You know how annoying they are. We know how expensive they are, because no matter how quickly you stop when a tire goes flat, the carcass is bound to be injured every time you get a puncture.

We would rather sell you a Lee Puncture-Proof Pneumatic Tire than to sell you any other tire in the world. But if you haven't made up your mind definitely about the puncture-proof feature, we can supply you with Lee regular tires, wrapped and full mould construction.

There isn't a factory anywhere that can produce better tires than are being turned out today in the plant of the Lee Tire & Rubber Company.

If you want tires of regular construction at a fair price, you can't do

Protected by layers of Impenetrable Steel Discs

LEE PUNCTURE-PROOF PNEUMATIC TIRE

anted? Simply this:—They are guaranteed for 5000 miles of service and are guaranteed against puncture for every mile of it.

In view of these two highly important features of tire service which we not only sell you with the Lee Puncture-Proof Pneumatic Tires, but which we guarantee you, we believe this to be about the best form of tire insurance a motorist can buy.

You can remember the time not so very long ago when you demanded that your car be equipped with electric lights. A little later on it was the self-starter you wanted. Both of these refinements reduced your motoring worries and added to your motoring pleasures.

better than equip your car with Lee Tires.

We have them in Plain, Zig-Zag and Standard non-skid treads.

You can't make a mistake, no matter which one you buy.

And if you pay a little more for the added Puncture-Proof feature you have what we consider absolute supremacy in tire equipment.

Otherwise we wouldn't feel justified in extending the two-fold guarantee which Lee Puncture-Proof Pneumatic Tires carry.

Lee Standard Tires are guaranteed for 4000 miles. For economical reasons, if for no other, you ought to be our customer. Why not make your next set of tires Lee Tires?

NO TIME FOR SCOLDS.

It is fortunate that the tilt between Major General Goethals, who is in charge of the construction of our "Jitney" marine, and Chairman Denman of the Shipping Board did not result in the resignation of the builder of the Panama Canal. If one or the other were to go the people would prefer that it be Denman. Goethals is one of the greatest engineers and organizers this country ever produced. He does not take much stock in the Denman proposal to build wooden ships, when, as he expresses it, "the birds are nesting in the trees from which those vessels are to be constructed."

The intimation on the part of Chairman Denman that General Goethals was playing into the hands of the Steel Trust was disgraceful and should have received the rebuke of the administration. The chairman was quoted as saying: "We believe that the committees of Congress and not a public dinner with the head of the Steel Trust are the places for discussion of matters of policy with regard to shipbuilding." Prior to the declaration of war the so-called Steel Trust was the pet target for the mud-balls of the party now in power. Today the Steel Trust is the mainstay of the administration. It expects to do everything in its power for the Government at a minimum of profit. Goethals is a man of scrupulous honesty, and the man for the job. Hereafter Denman should keep mum or quit, or both. Scolding officials are not wanted at this time.

FOR A REAL FOURTH OF JULY.

Nineteen years ago when the United States celebrated the Fourth of July, our soldiers were before Santiago. Now another Fourth is approaching to find the country again at war, determined to fight for the same high principles that actuated us in our battles for little Cuba and human liberty. This war, however, is on a much vaster scale and calls for certain actions and viewpoints which the brief struggle with Spain did not demand. In many parts of the country there is a growing sentiment that the noise and powder incident to the celebration of our independence should be eliminated this year. Ammunition that is uselessly wasted on our national holiday may well be conserved to a better purpose than the killing and maiming of our own people. Fires that originate in such celebrations cause loss of property and energy that are needed in more patriotic directions at this time.

The movement for a noiseless Fourth is worthy. It may be considered as a step in the spirit of the origin by rabid patriotic authorities where music and word may be used to impress upon us the debt we owe those who banded down the heritage of liberty and the responsibility that heritage now imposes upon us in trying to victory the cause of human freedom for all the world.—Michigan Fire Bulletin.

AT THE THEATRES

"IN AGAIN—OUT AGAIN."
Manager Jacobs of the Delft theatre announces his engagement of the first Douglas Fairbanks picture to be produced for the Arcraft Pictures corporation. "In Again—Out Again," on Monday and Tuesday, June 11 and 12. Undoubtedly the most popular screen star among the male contingent, "Doug" Fairbanks immediately wins the support of anyone who views his work, through sheer personality. The Fairbanks smile is known from coast to coast and his distribution of good cheer, coupled with his unusual type of comedy which although widely imitated can never be duplicated, makes him a distinct figure in the cinema world.

"THE WITCHING HOUR."
"The Witching Hour," August Thomas' famous play, has been screened by the Frohman Amusement corporation, under the able direction of George Irving, and will be seen at the Strand theatre on Wednesday and Thursday, June 13 and 14.

The screening of this production has been awaited with much interest by the public and the motion picture trade generally. It has been eleven weeks in the making and the time employed has been used to the very best advantage.

It is rarely that one meets with a photoplay production which has been staged with greater fidelity to detail than has been employed in the making of "The Witching Hour."

A perfect cast, headed by C. Aubrey Smith interior properties and decorations, beautiful and appropriate exterior scenes, all add to the strength of an unusual story, which deals with telepathic influences and the operation of a strong, beautiful mind as opposed to evil and weaker ones.

"The Witching Hour" is in seven parts and with over 2500 scenes, it has crowded the treatise wherever played and has received most unusual reviews by critics in the East.
