

SUPT. SCHULZ OF NEGAUNEE GIVES EXCELLENT TALK

BACCALAUREATE SERMON AT SCHOOL LAST NIGHT WAS HEARD BY MANY ESCANABA PEOPLE.

URGES PUPILS TO CONTINUE SCHOOL

Greater Need for Continuing Now Than Ever, Since War Started, Speaker Tells Class.

Superintendent Orr Schurz of the Negaunee city schools, was the speaker last evening at the baccalaureate exercises at the high school auditorium which was attended by a large audience of Escanaba people. There were no church services in several of the churches last night, but instead the congregations united in the high school services. Superintendent Orr Schurz's address was filled with gems of good advice to the graduate of this week and was delivered in a pleasing manner, despite the fact that the speaker had a long and hard journey to this city in an automobile.

In the opening the speaker told of the vision with which Escanaba has built up its school system, the vision with which the great resources of the upper peninsula have been developed, and added:

"In this country, the man who 'arrives' is a man of thought, of vision, of imagination. He not only works at his calling, but he lives it. To him, the experiences of today, tomorrow, of the month, of the year, are but the prelude to intense living, deeper thinking, more effective doing. These are the things which single out the great men and make their names household words."

The man with a wider purpose, the speaker said, is he who rises above the others. "Run over the fields of endeavor in art, in science, commerce, politics, education and you will find it always the same. The man whose head projects above the common level carries it there because he sees further, wider, and to a better purpose; reasons more clearly, acts more promptly, achieves more strenuously and effectively than the average person."

"To talk such things to a body of students, young, thoughtless, care-free not yet having tasted the sweet and bitter experience of the toilsome life that comes to every man and woman who covers so much as half the journey of man's allotted time, seems ordinarily a thankless and unavailing task. It is not so much that it falls into unheeding ears, as that it is slow to take root in a soil unfertilized by personal experience. One of the saddest tragedies of existents is that the average human life benefits so little from the experiences of others."

"It may sound like rank hearsay when I say that a high grade of scholarship throughout a college course does not necessarily equip a student to make good in life. To acquire a goodly number of platitudes is a most worthy and commendable ambition, but this is only one of many things a student should strive to gain in a school like this. Balance, mental poise, self-knowledge, self-control, that intangible something which puts one in touch with his surroundings, and the ability to translate these into action at all times when they will count most, are of commanding importance. Without them, all the 90's or 100's you can gather in a life time will get you nowhere."

"But what has all this to do with us now? Perhaps you may say, 'Much, oh much, especially now.' I wish you could read the communications that pour in upon teachers and educators at the present time. They warn us to each boys and girls patriotism; to make them understand how they must do their part in this world crisis; to urge them to remain in school, to go on to college and university."

The speaker illustrated his point by reviewing two great epochs in American history, passed, and one into which the nation is just emerging. The first epoch was the Revolutionary struggle, the struggle for freedom and oppression; the struggle that the future generations might breathe the air of freedom. The second epoch was half a century ago when the great Civil war broke out when great battles were fought to maintain the republic and democracy.

"The third epoch," the speaker said, "is now upon us—the last supreme trial. Its outcome is to determine for long years to come the weal or woe of a world. One more America stands for democracy, against autocracy, for the right of the common people to govern themselves as against the claim of divinely appointed rulership of the individual. It is indeed a fight to a finish between these two great extremes."

"It is a grapple to the death between democracy and its bitter foe. One or the other must go under. The two cannot no longer live side by side

TROUBLE AHEAD FOR MEN NOT REGISTERED

Names of Those Who Have Not Registered Will Be Reported at Once to Federal Officers.

Trouble is in store for any Delta county men between the ages of 21 and 30 years who did not register last Tuesday under the provisions of the selective draft military bill. Orders were received today by Sheriff Iverson from Governor Sleeper to report all names of persons not registered to the federal authorities after today and warrants will be issued for their arrest.

All excepting two of the Russians in the group at Maple Ridge who did not register on last Tuesday, have come to this city and registered with County Clerk Pepin. The two men who have not registered, unless they report by tonight, will be reported to the federal authorities and will face arrest. Sheriff Iverson has their names and will forward them to Grand Rapids this evening in the event they do not register this afternoon. The following telegram from Governor Sleeper was received by Sheriff Iverson today:

"Commencing today all persons found not registered will be promptly reported to federal officers and held under arrest pending instructions. Precedent lists prescribed in Section 39 of the Regulations will be promptly posted. All registered persons should in their own interest assist in discovering non-registered. Attention is called to Section 16 of the Regulations. Please give local publicity. Bulletin eighteen mailed today will further advise you."

RESIDENT OF CITY 40 YEARS, IS DEAD

John Lyons, 207 North Georgia Street, Passed Away Suddenly Yesterday Morning.

John Lyons, 207 North Georgia street, a resident of Escanaba for forty years, died suddenly Sunday morning at the family home, death being caused by heart trouble. Just what time he passed away is not known, as he was found dead in bed by other members of the family upon arising. Mr. Lyons had always been in the best of health but on last Friday complained of feeling not so well. On Saturday, however, he made it known that he was feeling much better. His death sometime during that night was unexpected.

Funeral services will be conducted Tuesday morning at St. Patrick's church at 9 o'clock. Interment will be in St. Joseph's cemetery.

Mr. Lyons is survived by his wife, one daughter, Miss Mary, at home, and four sons, John, Patrick, Peter J. and Eugene. He was 73 years of age and of late years had been retired. During the 40 years of residence here, Mr. Lyons had made a large number of friends who will be surprised and grief-stricken to learn of his sudden death. He enjoyed a wide acquaintance and numbered his friends by the score.

In this enlightened century. Shall it be democracy, light of the world, hope of the nations, purchased at a cost of countless lives, untold treasure and the span of centuries? Shall democracy fail utterly and the timepieces be turned back to the bitter centuries wherein the heel of autocracy ground itself into the neck of the common people.

"Commencement it seems to me, carries with it this year much more than its usual significance. It always means great change, a new and broader life, greater responsibilities, more and severer trials, whether you leave school for college or for the business of every-day life. This year it means all this and more, because our own dear country finds itself drawn into an indescribably cruel, relentless and barbarous war whose outcome no man may wisely prophesy. Now, if ever, our schools and colleges and universities must give a good account of them selves. What that account shall be depends on the boys and girls, the men and women they send out into the world.

"I think every school that sends its graduates on to college sees a few go with fears and doubts. It is not because they lack ability or preparation, but because they lack staying qualities.

"And it is rather strange, too, that the failures are all young men. Not in my experience has any girl gone to university or college from any high school with which I have been connected, and failed, but boys, more than one."

The High School Glee club furnished the music last evening, giving two excellent selections, one at the beginning and the other at the close of the program.

BIG CONVENTION OF WOODMEN TO OPEN NEXT WEEK

TEN THOUSAND WILL CAMP IN GRANT PARK IN REGULAR MILITARY STYLE.

ESCANABA WOODMEN WILL ATTEND

Many Local Woodmen Intend to Go if Business Permits Their Departure.

As evidence of their determination to make their Head Camp in Chicago, June 19-23 the greatest event of its kind that was ever held in the United States, the officials of the Modern Woodmen of America has announced that the society will publish a big metropolitan daily newspaper during the encampment. The publication will be sold to the tens of thousands of visitors who are expected to attend the Woodmen's activities and will be circulated among the million members in all parts of the country who are unable to make the trip.

The paper will be called The Modern Woodman—Head Camp Souvenir Daily. The first issue will appear on the morning of June 19, and the paper will be printed on each succeeding morning until the convention adjourns. It will be from eight to sixteen pages in size, will be made up like the Chicago daily newspapers and will contain news and feature articles, news picture layouts and friendly caricatures and cartoons. F. O. Van Galder, editor of The Modern Woodman, will edit the daily and he will be assisted by a corps of experienced newspaper men, from all over the United States.

The Chicago Press club plan to give a banquet to visiting newspaper men some time during the week and the theatres have arranged special performances for the scribes from out of town.

This big convention promises to be the largest ever held in Chicago and the liberal handed citizens have joined hands in making a wonderful week for the Woodmen.

While the program officially starts on Tuesday, many will be in Chicago for the "Nut" lodge, which is to be organized in the cellar of the Sherman hotel on Monday night. No tents will be ready for the early birds, however, but it is stated that those who join the "Nut" lodge will not need a bed on Monday night.

The men in camp will be sure of fruit for breakfast every morning for a member of the order living in Illinois has stated that he will see to it that strawberries are a part of the menu every morning.

In addition to a ride over the forty-mile boulevard system of the city, there will be two hundred automobiles at Grant park always ready for the use of the Woodmen.

As the date of the head camp approaches, Modern Woodmen in all parts of the country are making plans to participate in the great gathering.

The finishing touches are now being put on the huge auditorium at the end of the Municipal pier, 3,500 feet out in Lake Michigan. This mammoth breeze-swept hall will seat 4,000 people and it is said that its acoustics are better than any other auditorium in the world. The steamship companies have announced that special boat lines will run between the pier and Grant park, where 10,000 Woodmen will be encamped. Extensive preparations have been made by the local committees to show the visitors Chicago's sights. They will be taken in automobiles along Sheridan road, where many of Chicago's millionaires reside, and they will be shown the remarkable operations at the Union stock yards which provides a large part of the meats consumed in the middle west.

One of the many points of interest that will attract head camp visitors will be the training camp of the officers who will lead the first United States army of 500,000 men. A squad of these men drilling at Fort Sheridan just outside of Chicago, is shown in the picture in another part of this paper.

OPEN DRIVE FOR RECRUITS.

CORPORAL MILLER DIED AT HOSPITAL

Member of Company L Thirty-third Michigan Passed Away From Complication of Diseases.

Henry Miller of Menominee, a corporal in Company L 33rd Michigan Infantry, died Saturday in a local hospital of complication of diseases, following an ailment which dated from the time he was on the border with his company.

He had been in the hospital for four days. Corporal Miller was operated on for appendicitis at Fort Bliss on the border, during the time the company was still on duty there. He did not return home with the company, but returned some time later, first going to Fort Wayne. Recently he joined his company here, but his health was so bad that he went to Fort Brady to seek relief. Being unable to secure any relief he returned here and when his condition became so serious he was taken to the hospital where he died.

Corporal Miller was 26 years of age, a single man and is survived by his parents, who live at Menominee. He was made corporal about a year ago and was very popular with members of the company. He was of excellent character and his death is a distinct loss to the company.

His body will be taken tonight to Menominee for burial. It will be accompanied by a military escort of six members of Company L, who will remain there for the funeral. The Escanaba Home Guards will form an escort for the body to the depot this evening, meeting at the city hall at 7:45 o'clock for the purpose.

CLOVERLAND FLOUR NOT THIRD GRADE

Statement Made in The Mirror Has Caused a Wrong Inference in Minds of Many.

In a recent issue of The Mirror, an advertisement appeared which, thru an error in language, proof reading, or in some other way, caused some of our readers to think that we tried to convey the impression that Cloverland flour was third grade.

This was not the intention of this newspaper, nor was it the intention of the advertiser, according to his own statement. Cloverland flour is too well known for anyone to doubt that it is other than the very best and the Mirror is very glad to have its attention called to something which may have cast reflection upon itself. Its advertisers and particularly upon a product of more than ordinary merit.

GLOVERLAND HAS FURNISHED MORE THAN ITS QUOTA

LIEUTENANT J. W. McNEAL REPORTS THAT SINCE APRIL 1, THE UPPER PENINSULA GAVE 639 MEN.

QUOTA OF U. P. ESTIMATED AT 606 MEN

This Record Places the Upper Peninsula in Favorable Light in Regular Army Circles.

The Upper Peninsula has, according to Lieutenant J. W. McNeal, in charge of the local recruiting station, more than furnished its quota of the regular army since April 1. Since that time the upper peninsula has given to the army 639 recruits, while the government estimate of the quota of the fifteen counties was 606 men.

This record speaks well for the upper peninsula and for the local recruiting station. There are but few states and parts of states having their quotas filled already and the news that the upper peninsula has done its duty by the regular army since April 1, will be gratifying to every city, town and community.

Gogebic county, according to Lieutenant McNeal has given its regular army quota once, and its first and second draft quota already in volunteers. Lieutenant McNeal was in Gogebic county last week and was informed that not a Gogebic man would be drafted, that the county would give its men to the government rather than have them drafted. This is evidenced by the fact that the postmaster there offered to raise another hundred men at any time the recruiting office thought it necessary.

Lieutenant McNeal is preparing a report which will show what each county in the upper peninsula has done and what the quota of each was estimated.

CLASS DAY WILL BE HELD TUESDAY

The only object that now can mar the success of the Junior and Senior picnic tomorrow is the weather man. Everything is complete and in readiness for the students to leave for Ford River. They will leave in cars chaperoned by several members of the faculty, and expect to return at 6 o'clock in the evening.

The morning will be spent in exploring the place and preparing the luncheon which will be served at noon. Immediately after dinner, pictures will be taken and several members will be called upon for speeches. At 3 o'clock they will enjoy dancing at the hall and games for those who do not care to dance, until returning time at 5 o'clock.

This affair promises to be a great success, under the direction of Ned Moran, Senior class president, and Mary Nep, Junior class president.

At the annual meeting of the Michigan Commandery, Knights Templar, held at Kalamazoo last week, it was unanimously decided to send a hospital unit to be made up entirely of Michigan Knights Templar to the European battle front as soon as possible. The knights will be led to Europe on their errand of mercy by Dr. F. A. Roberts of Flint. A committee composed of Mayor A. H. Hume of Owosso and Major George L. Harvey of Port Huron, have been named to complete arrangements.

Grand Rapids was named as the 1918 meeting place of the commandery. One of the patriotic resolutions adopted at the convention was to provide a new emblem, the American flag to the uniform of the knights. Heretofore, the Templar uniform of Michigan has carried only the Templar symbols. The closing session resulted in the election of Mark Norris of Grand Rapids, as Grand Commander. BRITISH DRIVES MENACE GERMAN SUBMARINE BASE

ACTIVITY OF THE BRITISH ON BELGIAN FRONT IS THOUGHT TO BE PRELUDE TO HIGH-TY DRIVE.

RUSSIAN SITUATION IS NOW IMPROVING

President Wilson's Message to Russian Government Inspires Leaders in Their Work.

(Associated Press War Summary) The wiping out of the German salient at Messines is apparently the prelude to a far mightier battle. After the German reaction, of a surprisingly feeble nature, the British have resumed trench raids from north of Ypres to as far south as Epeby, 70 miles as the crow flies, but far more along the tortuous winding battle front.

The official announcement of the raids north of Ypres is of especial interest in view of the recent frequent heavy artillery fire on the Belgian front. Some weeks ago the Germans made a voluntary retirement in front of the Belgian line, a fact little noted at the time in the press of greater events on the west front.

From Ypres the allied front circles towards the sea and an advance there would threaten the German hold on their submarine bases on the Belgian coast at Ostend and Zeebrugge.

In the meanwhile indications are that General Sarrail is preparing to resume the offensive in Macedonia. The Bulgarian war office announcement reporting a great increase in the velocity of the allied artillery on this front. Continuous fighting has been going on in Macedonia for a month or more, but the meagerness of official reports and situation in France combined to obscure the situation.

Another gleam of light has pierced the darkness over Russia. The Cossacks have voiced their determination to support the provisional government and there are indications that they will receive strong backing from the peasants. This cheering news comes on the heels of the receipt in Petrograd of President Wilson's message which is hailed by the British press, not only as a wonderful state document, but a powerful reinforcement to the men who are striving to secure law and order in the infant republic.

British Advance. London, June 11.—The British have made additional advances south of Messines, according to an official statement of the war office.

Wants German Peace. Amsterdam, June 11.—Field Marshal von Hindenburg has telegraphed to the Potsdam Union for a German Peace. "I am sure," he said, "that the army and the people held together by the strong and gracious Kaiser will enforce against any power such a peace as Germany desires so that the present war will not have been fought in vain."

Parade for War. Petrograd, June 11.—A host of wounded and sick soldiers paraded the streets yesterday in a great demonstration in favor of a continuation of the war. It caused a strong impression.

Will Not Fight Greece. Berlin, June 11.—Bulgaria has no intention of carrying the war into Greece, according to a statement made by the Bulgarian premier, Radoslavov. In an interview with the Berlin newspapers on Saturday, the premier also expressed himself pleased with the war outlook.

Will there be any typhoid victims on account of insanitation in your community this summer?

Assist your health officer by keeping your premises clean. A keen sense of our personal obligation in matters of sanitation and hygiene will do much to reduce the general death rate.

The prevention of an offensive nuisance is the first and easiest step towards the elimination of typhoid fever.

Sewage polluted water, contaminated milk and other such like agencies were responsible for 2,500 deaths from typhoid in Michigan in the last five years.

ESCANABA DEFEATED BY THE SOO 5 TO 3

Errors in Right Field Brought Victory for the Visitors in Game Yesterday Afternoon.

Three errors in right field in the baseball game yesterday between Escanaba and the Soo teams spelled defeat for Escanaba by the score of 5 to 3 in the first of a series of games with the Soo club, one of the fastest in the peninsula. Outside of the bad luck in the right garden, in which three men featured, the Escanaba club played excellent ball and deserved a victory.

The Escanaba lineup was badly demoralized by the injury a week ago to Teichler, the crack startstop. Teichler busted his thumb in the last game with Niagara and was not able to play yesterday. Therefore, came the change in the lineup and the switching around of players, which left weak spots in the team.

The infield played a good game. Manager Baum for the first time in his career played in the infield, holding down the first sack in a creditable manner. Olmsted played second; "Stinky" Aronson, short stop; Derouin, third. Blackhall pitched a stellar game and was given good support in every instance excepting the right garden. Laurence played his usual good game.

The right field position was held down by three men, Schenherhorn, Berube and Schram. Each had an error to their credit, the first one causing the visiting team to bring in two runs. Then followed the other fatal errors which, all told, netted the visitors their five runs.

But after all, the game was not so bad and it showed up some weak spots which will be remedied before the Escanaba team goes to the Soo next Sunday for the return game. It was announced by Manager Baum today that "Cully" Lantz will be back in the lineup next Sunday. Lantz played short last year in a good many of the games and is thought by many to be one of the best players in the city. He will be back in his old form after this.

Creswell pitched for the Soo and allowed the Escanaba boys thirteen hits. Jacobs, the old standby, was behind the bat.

The Soo team, as was the case last year, is made up of a fine bunch of fellows who know baseball, and who are gentlemen in every sense of the word. They played a good game, and had it not been for the hard luck of the Escanaba right field, it is doubtful whether a visitor would have reached third. But what's the use of grieving over the game. It is over and next time the score will be different.

The story is said to have a decided punch.

30,000 CHILDREN RAISING GARDENS

Extension Director of M. A. C. Reports Great Increase in Number Over Last Year.

East Lansing, Mich., June 11.—More than 30,000 Michigan boys and girls have planted gardens, or have begun raising pigs and calves since Uncle Sam appealed to them a few weeks ago to assist in the work of stocking the national larder. Fifteen thousand of the 30,000 live in 75 Michigan towns and cities, while the remaining 15,000 are youngsters who are members of rural boys' and girls' clubs.

The figures are a few gleaned from the report made this week to the director of extension at M. A. C., by men generally the "more food" movement among Michigan's younger generation. The report adds that on the basis of returns achieved by youth full gardens a year ago, every one of the 30,000 will add at least $10 worth to produce to Michigan's family table.

A year ago there were only 6,000 Michigan juveniles engaged in these activities. The additional 24,000 represent the small folk who have stepped forward this spring under the direction of the boys' and girls' club department of the Michigan Agricultural college, and the various civic organizations throughout the state.

"THE WITCHING HOUR" AT STRAND WEDNESDAY

The much heralded and looked for screen version of the ever-popular psychological drama, "The Witching Hour," by Augustus Thomas, will have its initial showing at the Strand theatre, commencing Wednesday and continuing over Thursday of this week.

This attraction has been rated on the legitimate stage as the most intensely dramatic play produced in the last decade. Of the many successes written by Augustus Thomas, "The Witching Hour" has had a longer run on Broadway, in New York, than any of the others.

"The Witching Hour" is in seven parts, with 2567 super scenes, and is staged with a pretentiousness and with a refinement never attempted in any screen production. As an example of the technical detail employed in this production, there are used eight paintings that are values in excess of $16,000, on Corot, which plays a part in the production upon which a valuation of $5,000 was placed, was loaned to the Frohman Amusement Corporation by a famous art gallery in New York.

"The Witching Hour" deals essentially with the subject of "mind over matter" and with telephatic influences that operate for good or for evil. It has been said of "The Witching Hour" that it is the only production which all men and women will enjoy from the same standpoint and derive exactly the same mental and moral benefits.

Through a fault in the language used, or in the proof reading, it was unintentionally made to appear in this space in Thursday's and Friday's papers that we were representing Cloverland flour as a third grade flour.

For the benefit of those who did so interpret our advertising we want to state that it was never our intent to represent Cloverland as other than a first class product. The numbers in the advertising referred to the "lot number" and not to grade.

In as much as we have sold hundreds of sacks of Cloverland flour to satisfied customers, we do not want them to be under the impression that we were not selling them the best.
