(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)
London, Feb. 27.—The Russian revolution will defend itself against the Germans, says an official Russian statement sent out by wireless, which announces that the Germans have refused to grant an armistice.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)
London, Feb. 27.—If special dispatches from Petrograd gauge accurately the situation there, the Germans are likely to find little difficulty in occupying the city with trained troops. The Russian soldiers quite frankly refuse to fight. "We have had enough fight, if the Germans come, let them take us," they say.

There is a stiffer attitude among the workmen from whom, if at all resistance to the Germans must come. Through lack of training their resistance will prove of little value, they say.

Red Cross Notes

The Red Cross has direct responsibility for supplying us with surgical dressings and nothing in the whole situation here is equally important. Red Cross standard dressings in millions must be sent over with all possible speed. If this is not done and done immediately a serious calamity and national disaster is inevitable. The American women who compose the Red Cross chapters should prepare with all the enthusiasm and speed possible the dressings which are going to mean life and death to our own men. This whole question deals with the most vital thing that the women of America can do for the soldiers in this war.

Knitted garments are needed in the following order: Wristlets, socks, helmets, sweaters. Make sweaters 23 inches from the neck.

The class yesterday afternoon went over the top with the greatest number of dressings made by any class—well over 1300. An idea of the work may be gained when it is known that over ten bolts of gauze were cut yesterday.

A large class from the Girls' Brigade made dressings last night, a total of 1265 being piled up.

The women will have to look to their laurels now that the men have taken to knitting. C. A. Strange, manual training instructor at the high school, has turned in a sweater to headquarters, and Fred C. Raymond, 223 Norris street, has made one for the Washington school club. Both garments are well knitted and many more will be looked for from the men of the city.

Work on the new headquarters is being rushed, as the present location has been outgrown. The quarters are so congested as to make it difficult to accomplish good work.

Naval Recruit Is Under Arrest For Burglary Attempt was trying to get help. Nidtko broke away and ran towards the railroad tracks.

Jones was taken into charge by the night watchman, while Chief Danielson and O'Connell started a search for Nidtko. He was tracked to the railroad tracks when all trace of him was lost.

When Jones was taken to the city lockup it was found that he wore a jackie's suit under his outer suit. He told the plans to secure guns and make a big haul later in the night. He said that he and his companion came to Gladstone last night at 6:15 from Nahma, where they had been working. Out of money and luck, they planned to stage a big burglary after they secured weapons.

They tried to force their way into the store through the rear windows and were just about to enter when O'Connell appeared on the job. He soon had them lined up against the store and had summoned help.

Jones' companion was identified by a time book fund afterwards. The name Lawrence Nidtko was written therein as well as several addresses in Wisconsin and Minnesota.

Chief Danielson communicated to-day with the Great Lakes Naval Training station to learn more about Jones. He expected to get a reply late this afternoon.

AUDIT OF LIGHTING BOOKS IS PLANNED

The finance committee of the city council was instructed last evening by the council to meet with the board of public works and arrange for a complete audit of the books of the plant for the purpose of showing the financial condition of the plant, and also for an inventory of the property under control by the board.

The matter was called to the attention of the council by the mayor, who said that no statement of the affairs of the lighting plant has been presented to the council for a year and a half, and that the council should know before the next budget is made whether there is a surplus or deficit in the lighting plant.

An audit of the books of the city treasurer will also be arranged for at the discretion of the finance committee.

MAY EXTEND LIGHT TO SUMMER HOMES

Residents along the Ford River road, within as well as without the city limits, last night petitioned the city council to extend the electric light wires so that they could have their houses wired for electricity.

A large number of them signed a petition to the council asking for the service and with the petition was presented a check representing a guarantee of $15 from each that they would have their houses wired and use electricity after the line is built, the sum to be applied on their bills for electricity. They also agreed to use a minimum of $10 a year after the line is constructed.

The estimated cost of the extension is about $2,000, but Mayor Riley called attention of the council that it may be impossible to make the extension under the city's charter.

DRUMS ORDERED FOR YOUTHS DRUM CORPS

HOT COALS CAUSED BLAZE LAST NIGHT

Live coals from a kitchen stove which fell on the floor in the upper flat at 1112 Ayer street last evening about 9 o'clock caused a blaze which was extinguished by the fire department after considerable work. The stove had been filled with coal and left open. Gas formed and the door was blown open and the live coals scattered over the floor, soon igniting and causing a stubborn fire. The loss is estimated at about $50, fully covered by insurance.

No Armistice Is German's Answer To Russ Leaders

are said to be enrolling with enthusiasm in response to the call of Bolshevik leaders.

Some correspondents describe the bulk of the population as lost in bewilderment and apathy and think that such resistance as may be offered will amount to little. They say that no amount of talk by the Bolsheviks can cover the plain fact of the situation.

(Associated Press War Summary)

German military authorities have declined to grant an armistice on the Russian front in view of the Bolshevik leader's offer to accept the peace proposals and the Germans continue their onward march. The Bolsheviks are bending every effort to save the revolution and Petrograd from falling into the hands of the invaders.

The street fighting in Pskov goes on, the city changing hands alternately.

Workmen and troops from Petrograd and troops from Moscow are being sent to check or stop the advance of the Teutons on Petrograd. Women and men are building trenches and defense positions around Petrograd.

Artillery activity on the western front increases in intensity. On the American sector northwest of Toul, the Germans attempted unsuccessfully to wipe out the Americans with flaming gas and gas shells. Three American soldiers were killed in two attacks and nine suffered seriously from the effects of the gas. The American artillery is shelling the enemy positions heavily.

Berlin Claims Air Victory.

Berlin, Feb. 27.—British Admiralty, via Wireless Press.—After a great many violent duels in the air on the western front Tuesday, says today's official statement the Germans brought down fifteen allied airplanes and three captive balloons.

Raid on a large scale continue and in one case the Germans attempted a real attack upon the new French positions in the Champagne which the American artillery aided in capturing recently. French artillery broke up the attack before the Germans could reach the first line.

North of the Chemin-des-Dames where American troops were recently reported two raids in force were attempted by the Germans last night. In neither case did the raiders achieve their objects.
