YANKEES DEFEAT RAIDS

Heavy Attack in the Toul Region Repulsed by American Troops With Heavy Losses to the Raiders.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS) Berlin, March 2.—(British Admiralty via Wireless Press)—In the German attack northeast of Siecheprey yesterday the Americans suffered heavily and lost 12 prisoners, the war office announced. The Germans penetrated the trenches intact. East of Rheims the Germans stormed Fort Pompelle which had been destroyed.

The official French statement last night said that at two points on the front, German specially trained troops raided American lines and that the Americans maintained their lines intact, inflicting heavy losses on the attackers. The attack northeast of Siecheprey referred to by the Berlin statement was accompanied by heavy fighting after which the ground in front of the American positions was strewn with German bodies. Three Germans were captured. A dispatch from the Associated Press correspondent with the American army says it was doubtful whether the Germans captured any Americans, although two or three might have been gathered in at a listless camp.

ADVISE DRAFTED MEN TO RETAIN POSITIONS

Officials Say That Physical Acceptance Does Not Mean That Men Will Be Given Immediate Call.

A misunderstanding of the real meaning of words calling men for physical examination under the selective service law is causing confusion and real suffering among registrants who quit work after learning that they have passed.

Passing the physical examination does not warrant a man in giving up his work, draft board officials say. It does not mean that he is called for service, but that he has been classified finally and is held in reserve until called to report for duty.

It also has reached the attention of draft boards that employers are, in some cases, discharging men who have passed the physical examination. It is suggested that these men be retained as long as possible, as the date of their being called may be weeks or months hence.

Pepin of the local draft board, has received word from the war department that the state of Michigan is asked to give 50 photographers by volunteer induction for the United States School of Aerial Photography at Rochester, N. Y. The call is known as Call No. 34 and men who are professional or advanced amateurs are needed. The men must report for service at Rochester, N. Y., on March 10th.

It is not known whether there are any photographers available in Escanaba or not, but a fine opportunity is offered for this class of skilled men.

"The foregoing is the latest ruling regarding the use of wheat flour substitutes in making bread and rolls. B. P. PATTISON, Delta County Food Administrator."

MOTHERS' CLUBS OF TWO SCHOOLS HAVE INTERESTING MEET

Enjoyable Program Presented at Gathering of Mothers of the Washington and Webster Schools Yesterday.

A most interesting meeting was held at the Washington school building yesterday afternoon by the mothers' clubs of that school and the Webster school.

A program with many good numbers was given. Miss French, instructor in music, gave a solo, a vocal number by Miss Rose's pupils was well rendered and some of the little folks danced a Russian folk dance. Several short talks were given. Miss Ryan addressed the mothers on the Junior Red Cross work. Mrs. Frost gave a short address on school matters of interest to the parents, and Mrs. C. E. Andrews touched on many interesting subjects, among them the work of the Red Cross and the suffrage question, which is a vital one with women at this time.

Mrs. Andrews urged upon the mothers the necessity of constructive work along the line of building up the school system through co-operation between the parents and school officials, rather than the present (Continued On Page Four)

BOARD MADE A GOOD RECORD WITH EXAMS

Work of Examining Those in Class One of the Draft Was About Completed by Board Last Night.

In just a little over a month's time, the local draft board examined all men in Class One, the regular examinations being finished last night. Examinations were started on January 28 and proceeded with but a short delay up to last night.

There are some stragglers yet to be examined and these will be taken care of as they make their appearance. The number who have filled out their questionnaires and have not appeared for examination is small, however, and it is the task of the board to locate some 180 men who have failed to return their questionnaires as well as appear for examination as they were called.

In a few days the list of slackers will be finished by clerks of the board and then a systematic effort will be made to round up those who have failed to respond to the call for examination. A good deal of the examining from now on will be done by the medical advisory board. Those who asked for examination today were told to be examined on Monday by the advisory board at 3 o'clock p. m.

The Delta county board is the first in the upper peninsula, if not in the state, to finish the task of examining the men in class one and the members feel proud of the record they have made. The local board was among the first to finish the classification of the registered men and as soon as this was done the work of examining the men was started.

ORIGINAL LETTERS WILL GO FORWARD TO BOYS OVERSEAS

High School English Pupils Write Interestingly to Former Students in Service of the Nation.

Originality is the predominating feature in the letters written by English pupils of the Escanaba high school to former students who are in the army and navy, many of whom are in France. As a part of the course of study in this department, Superintendent King has arranged to have the members of the class write letters to former students in service and the letters are surprisingly interesting.

The letters serve a number of objects, not the least of which is the excellent practice the pupils receive in the writing of English. Then, too, the effect the letters will have on the morale of the boys in service, is not a secondary consideration. From a number of letters already written and turned over to Superintendent King to be mailed, the following two were picked as a fair example of what the pupils are doing.

This letter is written by a young lady student of the high school to a former student, whom she has never seen:

"Our English class was given the names of four soldiers to whom we must write and your name was given to me. You cannot realize how pleased I am to write to a soldier, especially one of Uncle Sam's men 'over there'."

"I do not know anything about you only that you are a soldier. I don't know whether you're tall and exceedingly lean like Ichabod Crane or short and fat like Roscoe Arbuckle. 'Nor do you know anything about me only that I go to the Escanaba high school and I am a 'freshie,' so I shall describe myself.

"My beauty is of a peculiar type—dark, passionate and picturesque like that of the damask rose or passion flower. My eyes are dark, full of fire, bright, radiant and luminous. I have a beautiful oval face, the features of which are perfect, a white brow with dark, straight eyebrows; sweet red lips like a rose; and the most beautiful chin with a rare dimple. Now Mr. if you can imagine anything directly opposite you have a very good description of me.

"I do know, however, that you are somewhere in France. I was reading in a magazine about a teacher who asked her pupils if anyone could tell her the name of a principal city in France. A little boy raised his hand and when she asked him what it was, he said, 'somewhere.' Really, some people must think that Somewhere is a large city because you hear them say when asked where someone is, 'O, he is somewhere in France.'

"If you happen to answer this, won't you please describe yourself and some of the French girls over there? I always wanted to know what a real French girl looked like.

"Hoping to hear from you sometime, I remain your unknown friend."

Quite a different letter, but equally as interesting and encouraging is the following one from a high school boy:

"I suppose you think I cannot write you a personal letter, because I do not know you. But despite the fact, I am going to write you. First I tell you how I came to write you. 'We have been asked by the English (Continued On Page Four)

Red Cross Notes

Announcements of Meetings of the Various Classes Working for the Red Cross and Other Notes of Interest.

By Mrs. I. G. English. The Red Cross headquarters will be at 813 Ludington street after today. The work has grown to such proportions that it was found impossible to continue in the quarters occupied since last June. At the new rooms classes in surgical dressings and cutting will be held.

The electric cutter purchased recently will be installed and hereafter all pajamas and other hospital garments will be cut at the rooms. This will greatly expedite the work as the cutting has been the most arduous part of the work heretofore. Sufficient office room will be appreciated by the committee in charge of the clerical work, who have been obliged to work under great disadvantages, owing to lack of room. (Continued On Page Four)

COMPANY L MEMBERS NOW IN FRANCE TELL OF TRIP "OVERSEAS"

Menominee Relatives of Company Learn of Safe Arrival in Letters and Messages from Members.

Relatives and friends of the men in Company L which has arrived safely on French soil received cards and letters from the boys "over there" today. The messages were all brief, and nearly all had the same message, "Arrived Safely."

The Menominee company left Menominee city on June 22, 1916, going to Texas for Mexican border duty. The company was stationed there until last March, when it was ordered to Escanaba for guard duty at the ore docks. There the company remained on duty until late last fall when it left for Waco, Texas. There it trained until a few weeks ago, and was then ordered to Camp Merritt, N. J., and later to a port for embarkation.

Boys in Good Health. Last letters from the boys when they were on this side contained the news that they were all in the best of health and spirits, and anxiously awaiting word to go aboard the ship for France.

Captain Oscar Falk, who was in command of Company L when it left Menominee and until it reached Waco, is also in France, in command of Company F. He was detached from Company L at Waco, when he was declared physically unqualified for service abroad. Dissatisfied with this decision the captain went to Washington and after another examination was accepted for foreign service and placed in command of Company F.

STREET CAR STRIKES STAGG FORD SEDAN

Three Occupants of Car Are Only Slightly Hurt and Shaken Up in an Unavoidable Accident.

An unavoidable accident which might have proved serious, occurred this afternoon on Ludington street between Jennie and Sarah streets, when the Ford sedan, driven by Henry Stack, with Mrs. J. K. Stack and Mrs. B. D. Winegar as passengers, collided with a street car. The car was hit a good jolt and Mrs. Winegar was badly shaken up, although there will be no serious consequences, it is thought. Mrs. Stack suffered no injury, while a small bash over the eye was the extent of the injury to Mr. Stack.

How the accident occurred was not exactly learned, although it is understood that in making a turn off Ludington street while driving ahead of the street car, Mr. Stack did not notice the car approaching and was unable to get into the clear, while the motorman was unable to stop quick enough to avoid striking the car, owing to slippery rails.

Much glass in the sedan was broken by the impact. That the occupants did not suffer more serious injuries is a miracle.

RETIRE AS EDITOR OF THE DAILY MIRROR

With this issue of The Mirror, I retire as its editor, and I wish to take this opportunity to express my thanks to friends in the city who have helped me in many ways. During nearly two years' residence in the city I have had the privilege of making the acquaintance of scores of its residents, and it is with regret that I leave the city for a bigger field. I hope my successor will be accorded the same courteous treatment as I enjoyed, and the co-operation which has always been freely given me. It is with regret that I will not be able to bid many friends goodbye in person. FLOYD C. PRESTON.

Defnet received a telegram from the war department, ordering him to report at Washington Monday morning. Dr. Defnet threw some clean linen in a grip and left on the evening train and will be able to report Monday morning if the connections are good. In fact, he will have a few hours leeway.

Dr. Defnet has been anxious to get in the service since the war started and was greatly pleased when he received the message summoning him to duty. He has already received a commission as lieutenant.

The game was hard-fought to the last and not until the final whistle blew was the game quieted.

ALIEN ENEMY SENT TO FIND ANOTHER

John Minken, an alien enemy, who failed to register as required by law, is under investigation by the police who want to know why he was not registered when the registration was conducted here. He says he was not here and that he was working in the woods and knew nothing of the registration.

He was arrested on the charge of drunkenness last night and this morning paid a fine and costs of $10.45. He was then allowed to go for the purpose of bringing in another alien who had not registered, he says. His case has been referred to United States Marshal O'Connor at Grand Rapids.

London, March 2. German forces are moving towards the town of Bologe on the Moscow-Petrograd road which place is the chief freight center feeding Petrograd, says a dispatch from Petrograd under date of Friday, received by the Exchange Telegraph company. The Germans probably intend thus to cut off supplies to Petrograd and compel the capitulation of the capital by famine.

THE FIRST LAW.

An article appearing in "Lloyd's List," London, on after-war finance problems, contains this significant statement: "The finance problem of peace is thus bound up with the trade problem of restoring the balance of our overseas trade; to lessen to bare needs our imports and to stimulate our exports, and thus help to pay for our imports and for the interest we owe on foreign loans; to enable us, in short, to pay our way in goods instead of in gold or in credit." And as self-preservation is the first law of nations, the only way we can meet the attempt of Great Britain to rehabilitate herself at our expense is by the enactment of a protective tariff law. The war will cost us enough. We can not afford to hold the bag for the nations of Europe.

If President Wilson succeeds in getting credit for winning the equal suffrage victory, it won't be the first time the last man on the band wagon got most of the glory.

SECOND SLIDE DOOMS IMPRISONED MINERS

Amasa Mine Fills Second Time and All Hope is Abandoned for Rescue of 16 Men—Rescuers Lose Hopes.

Crystal Falls, Mich., March 2.—Bodies of 16 men lie 550 feet below the surface in the Amasa Porter iron mine 10 miles from here. All hope that some of them might be saved was abandoned when a rescue party of 24 men that had worked continuously for many hours was almost trapped by a second flood of water and quicksand which again filled the shaft.

All attempts at rescue have now been abandoned and the work of the mine officials centers in draining off the surface water, which will take at least a month. It may be longer than that before the bodies can be recovered.

Rescuers Nearly Lost. E. M. Richards, superintendent of the mine, has had personal charge of the rescue work. The head of water in the main shaft had been reduced to 16 feet above the fifth and lowest level when the second flood came without warning. Had the 24 men of the rescue party, who were on the shaft between the fourth and fifth levels, not come to surface just when they did for a brief rest after their efforts 400 feet below ground, the toll of the Amasa Porter disaster would have been 40 lives instead of 16.

The Michigan iron ranges have had but one worse disaster, the Mansfield accident in 1893 cost 28 lives. The second flood filled the main shaft for more than 300 feet, flooding both fourth and fifth levels and making it certain that none of the victims could live longer as the air pressure even on slopes above the fourth level would be too great for human life.

Abandon All Hope. "We were willing and eager to take chances with our lives on the lower levels as long as there was a chance to save our men," said Mr. Richards, "but now that the chance has gone we must not risk more lives. We have done all we could."

R. E. Parent, of Newberry, was here on business Thursday.

Miss Ruby Belanger, of Bark River, is the guest of Escanaba friends.

"SO LONG LETTY" TO PLEASE BIG CROWD

Oliver Morosco's Comedy with Music Will Be Shown at the Delft Theatre on Wednesday Night.

At the Delft theatre on Wednesday night, March 6, Oliver Morosco, who has provided the stage with so many dramatic successes, notably "The Bird of Paradise" and "Peg O' My Heart," will make his first offering here this season when he presents the new comedy with music, "So Long Letty." Like many Morosco pieces, "So Long Letty" was given its first hearing on the Pacific Coast, where since its first performance, it has proved a success and achieved a run of over forty weeks in Los Angeles, Oakland, San Francisco and New York City.

The book of "So Long Letty"—and unlike most musical plays of late, it does possess a real book—is by Oliver Morosco and Elmer Harris and is based on the latter's well-known farce, "Your Neighbor's Wife," while the lyrics and music come from the pen of Earl Carroll, whose fame as a song writer of the popular variety is second only to Irving Berlin. With such a farce as the basis the authors have, according to all advance reports, turned out a book that provides two and one-half hours of fun, while Mr. Carroll has provided eighteen song numbers of the calibre that are not soon forgotten.

MARQUETTE FARMERS PLANT LESS SPUDS

Marquette, Mich., March 2.—According to large growers of potatoes in Marquette county, farmers in the county will plant less than one-half the acreage they planted last year, because of the bad market conditions and the heavy loss by frost last fall. As potatoes are the principal agricultural product of this section, owing to the soil, the reduction in the crop will be a serious loss.

Cut Off Supplies Is Aim Of German Advance In North

(Continued From Page One) The children of the city are to be supplied with food through the school and are asked to apply to their teachers rather than at headquarters for certificates, as none will be given out except in that way.

Belated dispatches from Petrograd say the Bolsheviks are destroying strategic positions, railroad bridges and roads and are sending large forces to the fighting front. The Germans are said to be within 80 miles of Petrograd on the southwest and are approaching Orsha on the same meridian or longitude as Petrograd and 300 miles west of Moscow. Vitebsk, 75 miles north or Orsha, is also threatened.

In the new Ukrainian republic the advance of the German and Austrians who have now joined their ally in driving the Bolsheviks from the new republic goes on rapidly. Kiev, the capital, which has been under Bolshevik control, is in danger. Vienna reports the surrender of 10,000 Russians and the capture of much war material and railway rolling stock.

The French in the Champagne are hotly engaged with the Germans. After repulsing an attack southwest of Butte Du Mesnil, the enemy attacked again and obtained a footing in part of the position from which they were driven by the French two weeks ago and which they had tried to regain. The artillery batteries on the Champagne have increased in intensity.

Enemy Raid Along Western Front Is Halted By British

(Continued From Page One) The salient north of Toul. There were many American casualties, one of the killed being a captain who was graduated from West Point in 1917. The raid was a complete failure, three German prisoners remaining in American hands. The ground in front of the American trenches was strewn with German dead.

A driving wet snow was falling this morning, when the Germans opened fire on the American salient with every weapon at their command. Seventy-seven, heavy shells and gas shells, fell in a perfect whirlwind on the American trenches for half an hour. At the same time other enemy shells in great numbers were dropping on the American battery positions.

The Germans, evidently thinking that the Americans in this sector, having had one taste of gas a few days ago, would fear it now, let loose great quantities of poisonous gas, but the men put on their masks and only a few were affected by it. So intense was the fire that the woods back of the salient were shot to pieces.

Germans Charge Trenches. At 6 o'clock the barrage fire lifted on the trenches to the right of the salient and Germans, numbering 240, came sweeping forward under the protection of their fire. They came forward apparently intending to make a big haul and jumped into what was left of the trenches, but here, instead of the easy time anticipated, they found the Americans all ready for battle. Fierce hand to hand fighting began.

One American captain rallied men with rifles and machine guns and went through the American wire entanglements into No Man's Land, and there waited for the enemy, whom he expected to be driven out by his comrades in the trenches.

He was right, for soon groups of the enemy started back through the wire entanglements. The Americans poured in a deadly fire, but unfortunately the captain was killed during the fight. He is the first member of the 1917 class at West Point to be killed.

SOCIETY NEWS

MUSIC CLUB PROGRAM. A musical program was given at Schrader's Music store this morning for all the school children in the city who are taking part in the music memory contest. The program was presented by Miss French, music supervisor of the city schools, and Miss Esther England.

Great interest is being shown among the children as well as the parents who realize the importance and great value of early musical training. The program given this morning was as follows: Narcissus.....Nevin Miserece.....Verdi Calm As Night.....Bohm Pilgrims Chorus.....Wagner Toccata in G.....Bizet The Two Grenadiers.....Schumann Bridal Chorus.....Wagner From the Land of the Sky Blue Water.....Cadmian Cavalle Rusticana (Intermezzo).....Mascagni Marsellaise.....French Air

The children who were entertained by the Escanaba Music club this morning at Schrader's Music store were given an additional treat when Mr. Schrader gave each one of them a chocolate bar. The children are rapidly becoming efficient in the memory contest and readily tell the name of most every selection as it is played on the photograph or piano.

Original Letters Will Go Forward To Boys Overseas (Continued From Page One) teacher to write to some of the Escanaba boys in France. And it happened that I got your name. I never did like to write letters, but when it comes to writing to real soldiers it's different. I feel very proud to have the chance to write to one of the boys, who are going to take Berlin.

To think of you fellows over there fighting while we stay at home and get the benefit of it makes me wish I was old enough to go but as I am only fourteen, the war would have to last quite a long time before I could go, and I could never wish it to last that long. I have finished history while you are making it.

We are supposed to write you all the news. The only news I know, is what I see in the newspapers every night about the war, and I guess you ought to be well posted on that. And then you have your friends, who are always writing you. If you ever get a chance to shoot any of those Boches be sure and shoot an extra one for me. I do not know whether you can read this scribbling. I'm like the boy who was asked if he could do something someone else couldn't do. 'Yes,' he replied, 'I can read my own writing.'

I suppose you have not time to write a letter in reply to this one. But if you should ever take a notion to write to the fresbie who is writing this letter, I want to assure you, I would appreciate it very much.

Mothers' Clubs Of Two Schools Have Interesting Meet (Continued From Page One) than any drastic measures tending to destroy confidence in the system. emphasized the fact that adverse criticism of the schools was one of the poorest forms of advertising the city and urged the need of more conservative action in all matters pertaining to the schools.

Miss Bonn gave a demonstration of the work of the deaf and dumb department, astonishing many who had never seen the results of this teaching before. A brief resume of the work of the open-air school was also given and some interesting facts brought out. Since Thanksgiving a total of 1,260 meals have been served in this department at an average cost of 13 cents per meal. An average of ten children are fed each day. Many other interesting facts were brought out, among them that all of these new features have been instituted within the past year, including a manual training department. Altogether these meetings are most interesting and tend to bring the mothers together in a broader understanding of matters that are of vital interest to their children and themselves.
