

U. S. MARINES, FIGHTING MADLY GAIN 12 MILES ON 3-MILE FRONT

WANT AMMUNITION, NOT FOOD, AFTER THEY DRAW BLOOD

Soldiers of the Sea Capture Torcy and Bouraches and Mow Down Prussians in Fierce Combat.

GERMAN MORALE IS LOW

Best Traditions of Corps Upheld As Four Waves of Fighters Sweep Huns Before Them.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS) With the American Army on the Marne, June 7.—The American marines who began the second attack on the Germans yesterday, captured Torcy and Bouraches northwest of Chateau Thierry this morning. The marines now hold Torcy in the face of repeated counter attacks but they pushed the Germans through the streets of Bouraches and all objectives in that direction were attained.

With the American Army on the Marne, June 7.—The second attack made today upon the enemy northwest of Chateau Thierry gave promise of being a successful assault. The marines reached all objectives set for the first hour within the time limit set and pushed beyond them. Early reports indicate that the Germans are on the run and from time to time are surrendering right and left to the Americans.

The objective was below Belleau wood about four miles from Chateau Thierry and was swept by the marines. There seemed reason to expect German counter attacks in strength before long, for previous to the beginning of the afternoon attack, which was begun about 5 p. m., the roads behind the German lines were filled with troops, guns and wagons but the American auxiliaries turned on them and created havoc in the enemy ranks.

The marines swept clean the ground near Belleau wood and cleaned out a ravine north of Torcy which linked up Hill 142 which was taken in the morning. This gave them a strong and dominating position for the continuation of their attacks. The total advance was approximately two miles along a three mile front. The total number of prisoners was not known this evening, but additional captives were being brought in during the afternoon amounting to more than 100 prisoners.

A notable development is the low morale of the prisoners, Prussians, who express themselves as being tired of war and glad to be out of it. However they put up a fight for there were officers among them but the marines, yelling like Indians, dashed into them fighting with rifles and bayonets.

One marine, while bringing back a Prussian, ran into two officers and 10 men. He attacked the Germans single-handed, killed the two officers and wounded seven of the men.

Another marine was about to take a prisoner when the man threw himself on the ground calling "kamerad" and then discharged his revolver. He was shot. Four others who would not put up their hands were shot.

Go in Four Waves. The marines advanced into Belleau wood in four waves in open formation. The first wave was armed with rifles and bombs and the fourth was equipped with automatic rifles. They crossed the open space and toiled up the slope. They found little holes and barbed wire entanglements large enough to hold a man. Out in the open field and hidden in the woods officers with glasses were directing and supporting their men while from the roof of a farmhouse a signal man wig-wagged his red and white flags. Guns flashed on all sides and Bouraches and Torcy could be seen in flames.

The artillery fire preceding the fight lasted an hour with special intensity for five minutes. The French and Americans put down a barrage and then shifted to the German lines. The marines forestalled an attempt of the Germans planned for today or

Committee Named For Stamp Drive

Men Who Will Direct Campaign Here June 20-28 Are Announced at City Hall Meeting.

At a meeting last night in the city hall plans for the war saving stamp campaign in Escanaba and Delta county, were mapped out. The campaign will open June 29 and close June 28. This county quota has been placed at $530,000 with the time limit of December 1.

NEW DRAFTEES CANNOT ENLIST UNTIL NUMBERED

Provost Marshal Holds Up Enlistments of Prospective Soldiers; May Sign Up Later.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS) Washington, June 7.—Provost Marshal General Crowder announced today that the class of 1918 draft registrants will not be allowed to enlist in either the navy or marine corps until their serial numbers have been assigned. They may enlist then if certificates are obtained from local boards stating they are not in the current quota.

RECORD WHEAT CROP IS FORECAST FOR NATION THIS YEAR

Outlook Is for 931,000,000 Bushels; May Reach Billion Mark if Fine Weather Continues.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS) Washington, June 7.—The second largest wheat crop in the history of the country is the prospect for this year's harvest the Department of Agriculture announced today. A total of 931,000,000 bushels of wheat of winter and spring wheat combined is 69,000,000 bushels less than the billion bushel crop which the government had hoped for. But if growing conditions continue ideal, as they have in the last month, it is thought the harvest might reach the billion mark.

The girls at Kirstin's will entertain at a picnic at the city park this evening in honor of Miss Ethel Barkell, who leaves soon to make her home in Washington.

tomorrow to have been carried out by the Prussians. The Prussians were badly chewed up and the marines are proud that they wiped out three divisions and are still alive.

Want Bullets—Not Food. The morale of the men is wonderful and they are ready to attempt anything. They talk with pride of the heavy German losses. Early reports indicate that the afternoon had been even more costly to the enemy than the morning. The marines were the same ones who fought in the morning but the men asked only for more ammunition and hardly tasted the food brought to them, so absorbed were they in chasing the enemy as far as possible.

One general exclaimed: "I just wish I had an army corps of them here." A Well-Defined Plan. Reports state that virtually all the objectives were gained, which would appear to indicate that the attack was a part of a well-defined plan directed by the allied command. West of Chateau Thierry the Germans were held before Hill 204 which dominates the city between the Marne and Rheims.

The British gained a foothold at Bligny, nine miles from Rheims, in a sector which might become vital to the Allied attack there. The late blow was struck at the enemy to prevent the German crack troops from recuperating before launching another attack on another sector of the front.

Advices say that three German divisions held in reserve had been brought up to oppose the Americans. North of Soissons French patrols are active and on the British front no fighting of an unusual nature occurred.

EXPRESS MERGER IS EXPLAINED BY LOCAL AGENT HERE

M. L. Lawrence Says Rates Charged for Express Transportation Will Be Under Government Control.

Further information was received this morning by M. L. Lawrence, local manager of the American Express company, in regard to the consolidation of the express organizations under the guidance of Director General McAdoo.

"The new company," says Mr. Lawrence, "will be capitalized at $30,000,000, the actual value of the physical properties and cash put into the business. Instead of having numerous contracts with individual railroads for various amounts, there will be but one blanket contract with the entire government controlled railroads. By this contract, the American Railroad Express Company will collect, insure, guard and deliver express shipments, as in the past, and the government railroads will haul them. The rates charged for express transportation will continue to be under government control."

General Plan. How the general reorganization will work out for the benefit of the shipping public, is tentatively outlined in an interview given out by George C. Taylor, former president of the American Express, and now president of the new consolidation:

"Hereafter the Express companies will eliminate the individual identity which has separated them for the last three-quarters of a century, and offer to the Government and to their joint patrons a unified, single express service.

"In the future, merchants, manufacturers, and individuals need merely specify "By Express" and the entire man power and vehicle power of the express world will respond to their call.

"At no time in the history of the railroads has the volume of express traffic been so great as it is today, the business reaching a total during the past fiscal year of over Two Hundred Million Dollars ($200,000,000).

"Already the vast terminals now maintained by the various companies are being unified for a practical saving of time and transfer.

"The street equipment of between twenty and thirty thousand motor and horse vehicles are undergoing a redistribution to avoid duplication of routes.

"Branch agencies and multiple offices in many cities will be subject to an economical readjustment.

"The claim departments will be unified and a closer cooperation established with the shippers to eliminate losses resulting from faulty packing and incorrect marking of shipments."

Bankers Are Urged To Attend Rally

Cloverland Banker Gives Reasons Why This Body Should Turn Out June 12th.

The "Sheep and Victory" meeting which is to be held here on Wednesday afternoon, June 12, and which is to be a portion of the war conference of Wednesday and Thursday, is creating considerable interest owing to the great success of the Development Bureau in locating grazers in Cloverland. John W. Black of Houghton, one of the most prominent bankers in Cloverland, has sent out the following letter to bankers urging them to attend the meeting:

"I have been requested by the governor to urge Upper Peninsula bankers to attend the meeting to be held at Escanaba on the afternoon of June 12. The meeting should be of particular interest to bankers.

"First: It offers another opportunity to get together.

"Second: The meeting is to be primarily a patriotic rally. The successful handling of the three Liberty Loans by the bankers necessarily demands their presence at any meeting where real patriotism is the call.

"Third: Further development of the resources of the Upper Peninsula through the sheep industry will be discussed. This movement is well under way and should be of particular interest to the bankers."

Arthur Barron played unexpected host to about 35 of his friends last night at his home at Flat Rock. It was in the nature of a farewell party, as the young man leaves tonight for the Great Lakes Naval Training Station, where he has enlisted in the radio corps.

SIX MEN WILL BE IN RACE TO WIN SHERIFF'S OFFICE

Two Former Sheriffs Are Going to Try and Win Back Important Star.

UNDER SHERIFF WANTS IT

Frank O'Dess Who Is Now Under Sheriff, Long Ago Declared Intention of Running.

Escanaba and Delta county will not have to worry along without a sheriff, even if Sheriff Iverson is serving his last term and cannot run again. Some time ago it was reported that the county officials who were members of the war registration board would be held over and this report sort of stopped activity in politics for awhile, but it has been found out definitely that this is not going to be the case and now six candidates have bobbed up, all of them with claims for recognition.

Under Sheriff Frank O'Dess, who has served under Sheriff Iverson, will of course be a candidate and asks for recognition on his merits as an officer and that he ought to be in direct line for promotion.

Otto Scheriff, who has acted as turnkey at the county jail through the administration of many sheriffs, will be a candidate for the reason that he believes he is entitled to have the office because he has been faithful to his duties as a turnkey. He is a veteran of the Spanish-American war and is doing a great deal of patriotic work now in drilling young men for service.

Joseph I. Perron, who says he has entered the contest to win, has never asked for recognition by the voters of the county. He has made his home in Escanaba for a number of years and has a number of friends and is well known all over the county.

Frank Aronson, who has served two terms as sheriff already, is another candidate and will go before the people on his merits while he was engaged in the duties of the office.

T. J. Curran, who was succeeded by Sheriff Iverson, and who since has been on the police force, will enter the race on his past record and will ask that he be promoted from the ranks of the police force to the job of being sheriff, which he says he will fill in the same manner as he did before Sheriff Iverson was elected. Mr. Curran held the office for two terms which is all the law allows at one time.

"Big Nels" Nelson is about the last man to get in the race for the office of sheriff. He says he thinks that his 23 years of constant service on the police force has fitted him for the duties of sheriff and many of his friends have assured him of their support. During the time he has been a policeman he has attended to his duties faithfully and has never asked for recognition by the voters of the county. He says he cannot spend a great deal of time or very much money but will ask his friends through the newspapers to come to his aid and help elect him to the office.

FISHERMEN GET BIG MUSCALONGE

Escanaba Party Are Home From Star Lake, Wisconsin, Where They Were Successful.

Dr. H. W. Long, F. E. Houston and O. C. Curtis have returned from a fishing trip to Star Lake, Wis., where they spent a week dragging the various kinds of denizens of the deep from the waters. While several specimens were brought home, the prize catch is a 27-pound muskallonge hooked by one of the members of the party.

SAYS 60 PER CENT OF U-BOATS HAVE BEEN DESTROYED

Naval Committeeman Declares Shipping Losses Are Cut in Half; Daniels Says Navy Is On the Job.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS) Washington, June 7.—Senator Swanson of the naval committee at a conference today stated that the American navy has destroyed 60 per cent of all German submarines constructed and that the ship losses had been cut in half.

In a statement to reassure the country, Senator Tilman read a letter from Secretary Daniels stating that everything is being done that can be done. Senator Tilman said: "I want to assure those who are panic-stricken that we have a navy that is up to snuff and will go after those damned devils down in the sea and, I hope, get them all."

Proclamation Issued For War Conference By Mayor Cuthbert

Calls Upon Citizens of City to Fly National Colors and to Open Homes to Visitors June 12 and 13.

The following proclamation has been issued by Mayor C. M. Cuthbert on the Upper Peninsula War Conference to be held here next Wednesday and Thursday:

Wednesday and Thursday, June 12 and 13, the city of Escanaba will have the honor of entertaining Gov. Albert E. Sleeper, and many other prominent men of Michigan and of the Nation. The selection of Escanaba as the scene of the first war conference ever held in Michigan, is a distinction that should be fully appreciated by our people.

To demonstrate our appreciation to the honor conferred upon our city becomes the duty of all loyal citizens. As mayor of the city of Escanaba, I desire to call upon the people to decorate with the national colors their business places and their homes on June 12 and 13.

That the spirit of patriotism brought to this city through the conference may be carried into our schools, I would suggest, that as nearly as possible regular school work should be eliminated on Wednesday and Thursday.

I desire to also call the attention of the people to the fact that the conference will bring to Escanaba a greater number of people than can be accommodated in our hotels, as on this occasion there will be present the members of the various County War Boards chairmen and committees of all boards and supervisors, food administration authorities, Cloverland bankers, and officers and directors of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau of Michigan. That the spirit of true hospitality may be shown, I therefore ask that all who have extra rooms at their homes shall report the number of guests they can accommodate to L. M. Beggs or Albert E. Ellsworth.

(Signed) C. M. CUTHBERT, Mayor.

Cover Crops Cut Cost of Orchard

Use of Clovers, Vetches and Beans Makes Smaller Amounts of Fertilizer Necessary.

East Lansing, Mich., June 7.—"Of all the resources available to the fruit grower at this time, none can be used more effectively in overcoming the fertilizer famine than cover crops," in the opinion of the department of horticulture of M. A. C.

"Cover crops themselves," according to a statement from the department, "add neither potash nor phosphoric acid to the soil, but they have in them the power to make such of these elements as are present in the soil much more easily available to the fruits.

"Clovers, vetches, beans and peas, when used as cover crops, supply nitrogen to the soil. But cover crops have their greatest value in that they increase the physical condition and increase the water-holding capacity of the land.

"The selection of a plant for cover crop purposes depends largely upon the character of the soil and the time at which it is seeded—though details can best be secured by dropping a card to the department of horticulture, M. A. C."

Youth Sentenced To 90 Days for Attack

Sent to Jail Following Hearing on Charge of Holding Up Gladstone Girl With Knife.

At a preliminary examination yesterday in Gladstone, A. L. Woods, who is alleged to have attacked Miss Flora Durocher, was sentenced to serve 90 days in the county jail. Woods, who is 18 years old, denied his guilt of the attack on Miss Durocher Wednesday night but later entered a plea of guilty.

He said that he and a companion, who gave his name as Edward Fairport, were waiting for a train at Gladstone the night of the attack. As he was without money he tried to hold up the girl and used a penknife to intimidate her. Miss Durocher screamed and broke away. Woods and Fairport were arrested later.

I. W. W. Interested In Freeing Mooney

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)

Chicago, June 7.—Letters read today at the trial of the 112 leaders of the I. W. W. disclosed action on the part of the organization in attempting to obtain pardon for Thomas Mooney, under sentence of death for participation in the San Francisco preparedness parade bomb outrage. The I. W. W. collected funds for Mooney's defense, circulated thousands of letters that he be freed and later planned a nation-wide strike to attain their end.

IRON MOUNTAIN MAN AMONG MISSING ON TORPEDOED CAROLINA

Relatives of G. V. Carpenter, of Iron Mountain, have given up hope that he is among the survivors of the S. S. Carolina, sunk by a German submarine this week. A dispatch from Mrs. Carpenter, who has been in Washington, received in Iron Mountain, carried word that only ten persons on the ill-fated steamer were unaccounted for and Mr. Carpenter was among the ten. She had practically no hope that he would be recorded among the additional survivors who may be reported, and only awaits information as to the fate he met with. Mrs. Carpenter will leave at once for Iron Mountain.

CITIES RETAKEN ALONG LINES OF RECENT ONRUSH

German Forces Fall Before Deadly Fire of French and American Marines Near Chateau Thierry.

BATTLE RECORD HEROIC

La Porte Recovered From Enemy West of Soissons As well As Vimpy.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)

Washington, June 7.—Striking the Germans northwest of Chateau Thierry along the lines where the enemy attack was heaviest a few days ago, American marines fought with the French troops pushing back the tip of the salient in the German rush to the Marne.

They recaptured the cities of Bouraches and Torcy. The gallant work of the "soldiers of the sea" in this advance of more than two miles along a three mile front stands out as the most heroic record yet in the American struggle in France.

The battle Thursday afternoon showed the zest of the marines and the deadly accuracy of the fire poured into the German positions.

West of Soissons the French took La Porte which is located on the north bank of the Aisne. Further south they crossed the Creignon from Gandelu and recaptured the hamlet of Vimpy and swept east from Neuilly-la-Poterie and threw the Germans back to a grove which they held.

Aged Pioneer Drops Dead in His Garden

Timothy J. Killian Succumbs to Stroke of Apoplexy; is Found by Neighbor.

Stricken by apoplexy while at work in his garden yesterday, Timothy J. Killian, pioneer resident of this section and a former postmaster, was found dead in the garden of his home near the Butcher Creek bridge. He had been in his usual health for the last few days and was seen at work in the garden yesterday.

The body of the aged man was discovered by Clive Cleary, a son of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Cleary, who was walking through the garden. It was lying below the embankment near the side of Butcher Creek. Cleary notified Deputy Sheriff Otto Scheriff who identified the body.

Dr. George Bartley, coroner, found that death had been due to an attack of apoplexy. It was believed that Mr. Killian had been dead for nearly an hour when his body was found.

The body was removed to the undertaking rooms of J. A. Allo where it will be prepared for burial and later taken to the home of his daughter, Mrs. P. J. Corcoran, on Elmore street. Definite arrangements for the funeral have not been completed.

Mr. Killian was born Nov. 15, 1839, in Roscommon county, Ireland. He came to Escanaba 54 years ago and continuously made this city his home. Upon his arrival here he aided in the construction of the Northwestern road from this city to Negaunee. Later he engaged in business here. He took a prominent part in civic affairs, serving as postmaster and in various offices of trust.

He is survived by four daughters and two sons who are: Mrs. J. J. Corcoran, of this city; Mrs. John M. Hartnett of Chicago; Mrs. M. C. Shea, of Chicago; Miss Alice Killian, Chicago; Alfred Killian, Chicago, and W. H. Killian, Duluth.

THE THEATRES

AT THE STRAND
One of the strongest scenes in "The Turn of a Card," the Paralta play featuring J. Warren Kerrigan, which will be shown at the Strand theatre for the last times tonight, was also one of the hardest problems which the Paralta producing staff has yet had to solve. It called for the "shooting" of one of the greatest wells in the Oklahoma oil fields.

Motion picture directors have always been considered invincible. They can shoot practically everything—from shooting stars to shooting villains. But shooting an oil well—that is different. And not only was the well to be shot but the story called for a long scene showing it gushing. Technical Director R. Holmes Paul was puzzled.

Arrangements had been made for an artificial "shooting" and they included a concrete tank with a capacity of twenty thousand gallons and a pump of tremendous power to throw a column of oil into the air. However, Mr. Paul was informed that a new well was to be actually "shot" that day. The technical director was delighted and hastened arrangements so that the action of the play could be filmed while the real well was being tapped for the first time. So when you see "The Turn of a Card" at the Strand you will view the actual "shooting" of a big oil well.

AT THE DELFT
Marguerite Clark in "Rich Man, Poor Man" comes to the Delft today to remain through Saturday. The story carries a heart interest from the beginning to the end and with the numerous complications that are most cleverly developed makes the feature one of attractive merit. Marguerite Clark is one of the greatest screen favorites of the day and in "Rich Man, Poor Man" she is at her best.

In addition, "Britain's Bulwarks," the fourth of a series of official war pictures, will be shown. The film tonight shows life in English prison camps.

LADIES! LOOK YOUNG, DARKEN GRAY HAIR.

Use the Old-time Sage Tea and Sulphur and Nobody Will Know.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

TRAIN LEADERS FOR RURAL COMMITTEES

Michigan Agricultural College Plans Course to Fit Men and Women for Country Districts.

East Lansing, Mich., June 7.—An attempt to remedy the lack of leaders which rural communities of the state have been lamenting will be made by M. A. C. during the coming summer. As a first step, according to announcement from the college, a training school for rural community leaders will be conducted during the summer term at M. A. C. Of this, E. C. Lindemann, state leader of boys and girls club work, will be in charge and an effort will be made to fit men and women for work in the country districts just as the officers camps fit men for leadership in the army.

Only instead of bombs and bayonets the rural teachers and others who enroll for the course will study child life, community life, organization of the community, junior organizations, such as the boys and girls and the agriculture and home economics clubs, Y. M. C. A. groups, and finally social and recreational activities in the community.

FORESTERS' CONVENTION

To Go Through And Win

A French woman writing to an American housewife says: "But, after all, we have but one thought. It is to go through and win." All American housewives are at last awake to this one thought: that this war is a deadly struggle for right and liberty, and that every woman in the home, like every man at the front, must be ready to do her best to go through and win.

Further on, the letter reads: "You ask me to tell you what I think we need the most. I think it is flour, wheat, all cereals in fact. We are getting short of many things. Everything is very expensive. Soap that I bought for about 60 centimes (six cents) four years ago, costs now nearly 4 francs (eighty cents). Olive oil has advanced in the same proportion. This is an index to conditions in France.

In Italy, there is extreme need of cereals and a scarcity of meat, codfish and wheat.

England has met every reduction in her ration with that same grim determination with which she fights at the front. She has taken from her own diminished food stores and shared with France.

If America is to go through and win she must begin to share the sacrifices as well as the victories of these brave Allies. She must see that they have their share of the world's remaining food supplies. The combined population of the allied European countries is about 143,000,000. It is the part of every man, woman and child here in America to see that in so far as possible each shall have his share of the food supply.

The story of why they want wheat has been told so often it needs no retelling here. America's reserve supply of wheat was gone by December and since then we have been sending them only what could be saved from individual consumption. Gradually the American people have cut down on consumption until they were able in the single month of March, 1918 to ship in wheat and its products the equivalent of 15,000,000 bushels. This shows what genuine patriotism can accomplish.

A still further reduction is demanded, however, if any wheat at all shall be left to send abroad. Shall we not willingly and gladly give up all wheat in our diet for the next ninety days, if by so doing we can help the Allies, as well as our own Army at the front, to GO THROUGH AND WIN?

FOUND BEADS OF WAMPUM

They Were Dug Out of a Pit Near a Lake.

A string of genuine wampum beads and Indian skulls and bones were found on the McCarthy farm near Fox Lake, Wis. In a gravel pit, which doubtless was an Indian burying ground years ago. The beads are a reddish gray, about one-sixth of an inch in thickness. According to Prof. Charles Brown of the University of Wisconsin they are genuine.

WIN THE WAR WITH POTATOES

The enemy is out-eating us in potatoes—out-potatoing us. Here are the figures—per capita weekly consumption. United States, 2.3 quarts, Austria-Hungary, 3 quarts, Germany, 1.6 quarts.

We can beat them at their own food—which really isn't theirs; it's a native American crop. We must eat more potatoes, and that right soon, or much of our record crop of last year will be wasted. Potatoes are plentiful and getting cheaper. Eat them instead of bread. Fight the enemy with potatoes.

TELEGRAM

Pa Washington, D. C., May 30, '18. Prescott Food Adm., Lansing, Mich.

"Recent press dispatches widely circulated through the country have given the wholly false impression that there is no longer need for rigorous conservation of wheat and flour. The food administration declares that every aspect of the wheat situation both present and prospective intensifies the need for the greatest possible limitation in the American consumption of wheat and wheat products. If present restrictions should be in the slightest degree relaxed it would result in serious want for the people of Europe before the new crop can reach the market.

The food administration estimate of the position on the first of June indicate a total available supply until the new harvest, including the grain which will be available from the farm in country and terminal elevators and mill elevators, of about fifty-six million bushels. Of this thirty million bushels must be exported before new wheat is available for export if we are to maintain the absolute necessary shipments to our army and the allies. That leaves about twenty-six million bushels for domestic consumption for the next two months.

North American consumption is some thing over forty million bushels a month so that most liberal consumption at home would be only one-third of normal.

In addition to the wheat on the farms and in elevators there is always an indeterminate further amount in transit and in dealers' hands and this can never be reckoned in with the flour available for use for export and use at home. As a matter of fact this stock is not actually available since these supplies must remain constantly in flow; they remain a permanent stock the removal of which would later cause a period of acute shortage in distribution before new wheat would be available.

There is further an inclination to include new crop prospects with present condition which have led to confusion. The harvest will not be generally available in flour in middle August or early September, although in the extreme south it would be somewhat earlier.

At a meeting of the federal food administration in Washington yesterday representing from forty-eight states it was the unanimous view that even if the harvest does prove abundant it will be the first duty of the American people to place every grain they can save into storage as against possible bad years ahead. In consequence there should be no anticipation of unlimited wheat until the war is over.

Some of the most inconvenient restriction can no doubt be modified with the arrival of a large harvest but if we are honest with ourselves we will maintain restrictions requiring the use of some substitutes both domestic and commercial; we will continue the requirements of high milling extraction and the elimination of the non-essential use of and waste in flour and bread.

It is worth remembering the famine in Egypt eight thousand years ago was saved by a little governmental foresight and it does not require any ill-considered dream to anticipate that so long as the war lasts with its increasing drafts for soldiers and munition the world will steadily produce less food. If we are wise a great harvest will mean the willing building up of a great national reserve.

HERBERT HOOVER.

Teaching Soldiers Caution.

I have a friend—a young six-foot-of-feet, powerful as a horse—at one of the cantonments in the far South, who has a way of showing his men the need for individual responsibility, Edward Hungerford, writes in Everybody's Magazine.

It is his practice to skirmish around the camp late at night and approach the sentries, giving careless, indifferent, casually friendly replies to their challenges. The sentry in his happy-go-lucky back country fashion, feels that the stranger is not merely a friend, but of the cantonment. Then—200 pounds of brown and muscle land upon him; he feels an awful blow in the pit of the stomach; his gun is taken away from him, and he finds himself sprawling on the ground. As soon as he can get his breath he looks at his attacker and begins: "What the—"

"Exactly so," interrupts the officer, "only if this really had been 'No Man's Land' and I a German scout you would have been completely dead by this time."

They are taking few chances in the training of our great army.

Most Aggressive Religion.

Mohammedanism is the aggressive religion of India, says the World Outlook, and has increased its membership 9 per cent in a decade, while the general population has increased only 2 per cent. Many more native Indians are becoming Mohammedans every year than are turning to Christianity, but proportionately Christianity is leading in growth, having increased 25 per cent in ten years.

Finger Prints Invaluable.

Of course it is in connection with the detection of criminals that the fingerprint record is most used. It is claimed that China used it 4,000 years ago. It is in use in Scotland Yard and in Paris and in the big cities of this country. But it has proved invaluable in identifying honest folk as well as criminals.

Three Signal Years in American History

1898—War with Spain! Humanity and liberty brought by America to oppressed Cuba and Philippines, the United States taking its firm place as a world power.

1908—Peace and prosperity! America's battleship fleet, "Ready for a fight or a frolic," as Admiral "Bob" Evans remarked, gone on its 45,000-mile, around-the-world cruise, pointing out to all nations the fact that we had become a power to be reckoned with, and a cruise which European experts said could not be completed. But it was!

1918—America in the Great War, throwing its every energy into the combat to make the world a decent place to live in.

Air Raids Cause Ticking.

Two men in a garden who had watched the air raid unmoved, heard, when danger was over, a window sharply banged behind them. The elder leaped four feet into the air, the other sneezed for ten minutes, and nearly frightened three people out of an upper window.

A lady who had the sweetest of voices marshaled her maids, and bade them keep perfectly cool, and talk quietly—all this in piercing shrieks. But an original man, who skipped for safety, explained: "I knew the moment had come to leave, for I felt a queer internal tickling—like a nest of skylarks beneath the diaphragm."—London Chronicle.

Stand While Typewriting.

Officials in the French army do not believe that the most efficient service is obtained from members of the military clerical force when the latter sit at their desks practically all day with an interruption, according to the Popular Mechanics magazine. Thus the French government has installed, for the use of army clerks, typewriter stands so made that each machine is alternately raised and lowered each half hour. The innovation is reported to have proved very beneficial.

SHORTCAKES FOR WHEATLESS PATRIOTS

The call for wheat grows more and more urgent and Americans now realize that wheat is as much a part of the real fighting program of the country as ships and guns. It has been said that brains will win the war. Thinking ahead on the wheat question has led many citizens to demand that wheat be taken over by the Government and held in hand to meet any shortage that may arise from submarine sinkings. That would be Germany's method, the brains of the rulers in that case would win; but America is depending on a democracy to win—the brains of all her people. Your brains must win.

Thousands of men and women have given up the weekly allowance of a pound and a half of flour, and are travelling a wheatless road to victory. Those housekeepers who make good use of this allowance in loaf bread and biscuit hesitate to turn even a dust of wheat flour into pie or shortcake and such extras. To these the recipes for shortcakes worked out in the Experiment Kitchen of the Food Administration will be most acceptable.

BARLEY SHORTCAKE
1 cup liquid
4 to 6 tablespoons fat
1 tablespoon sugar
1 teaspoon salt
6 teaspoons baking powder
4 cups barley

CORN FLOUR SHORTCAKE
1 cup liquid
4 to 6 tablespoons fat
1 tablespoon sugar
1 teaspoon salt
6 teaspoons baking powder
2-3 cups corn flour

RICE FLOUR SHORTCAKE
Follow directions for corn flour, using 1-4 cups rice flour instead of corn flour.

BARLEY-CORN SHORTCAKE
1 cup liquid
6 tablespoons fat
1 tablespoon sugar
1-2 cups corn flour
1 teaspoon salt
6 teaspoons baking powder
2 cups barley flour

BARLEY-OATS SHORTCAKE
Follow directions for Barley-Corn Flour, using 1-2 cups rolled oats instead of corn flour.

CORN-OATS SHORTCAKE
1 cup liquid
4 tablespoons fat
1 tablespoon sugar
1-2 cups ground rolled oats
1 teaspoon salt
6 teaspoons baking powder
1-3 cups corn flour

The same weight of flour is used in these recipes—the measures differ according to the kind of flour used. All measurements are level. Mix dry ingredients, cut in the fat and add the liquid. For individual servings, place on a slightly floured board, pat 3-4 inch thickness and cut as for a pie. If a large shortcake is wanted place dough in well greased blinets and pat to desired thickness. These shortcakes are light and tender. An egg added to rice or corn makes a softer dough. The slight taste of barley may be overcome by using 1-4 teaspoon of soda dissolved in one cup of liquid. The flour of oat and corn is especially fine. The shortcakes made from corn flour are very white and flakey similar in appearance to wheat not split these cakes as they bake easily. Pile strawberries or fruit on shortcake. Add whipped cream, if desired, and serve. Shortcakes can be used instead of crust in a great variety of desserts.

MONTH'S MUSICAL HAPPENINGS

(Furnished by Shrader's Music House)

FARRAR INTERPRETS THE MEDITATION FROM THAIS

McCormack, De Luca, Jascha Heifetz and Paderewski are also heard in new expressions of their art

RECENTLY, indeed, is the present month in musical offerings! No less than five of the world's greatest artists have been inspired to sing and play for a new Victrola records, while a number of new popular and patriotic songs and specialties take their places with others in the great library of Victor music.

Germaine Farrar, in her presentation of the beloved "Meditation," rises to the heights of artistry. It is in the final scene of Massenet's popular drama that she impersonates Thais in the deathbed scene, where she recognizes Athanasel, as he returns to her unable to resist her beauty. But Thais is beyond all human relationship. She sees him but recognizes not the man, only the priest who led her across the desert to the east, the instrument of God, who revealed to her the beauty of religion and the truth of the life everlasting. In a melody divinely wondrous to the music of the ever-level "Meditation," she recalls the incidents of the journey.

The music of the "Meditation" which accompanies the voice of Farrar throughout, is a celestially passionate song of violins mounting above harp notes of gold and the clear chanting of the choir. It is worked up to a climax of the greatest power and beauty, the voice entwining itself with the melody more and more ecstatically as the heavenly vision unfolds.

Patriotism continues to find expression in new songs. War, aside from its horrors, is ever the great awakener of tender emotions, and such emotions find ready relief in song; so it is not surprising that many writers in times like these are inspired to thus express their sentiments. It is a song of this character that no less an artist than John McCormack is making immensely popular by his presentation of it in his drive from coast to coast while raising a $250,000 Red Cross fund.

"God Be With Our Boys Tonight," on a new Victrola Record, is a song whose words we all can echo. Set to stirring music, McCormack sings it with such fervid sincerity that to hear the record is to be thrilled with a new sense of the sacrifice entailed and the glorious end that makes the sacrifice worth while.

Reinald Werrenrath also enters the song's patriotic lists with the rendition of two songs, both on one Victor Record. One is "Lafayette We Hear You Calling," something of the spirit of this song must have animated General Pershing on the day he huddled himself and his hundred thousand American soldiers to Foch on behalf of the American people.

The United States entered the war as we now see clearly, from sheer necessity to defend herself; but we are fortunate that our entry carries with it an opportunity to give France, in the hour of need, the same service Lafayette and France gave us.

The other Werrenrath presentation is "Freedom For All Forever," which also expresses aspirations we all hold dear. The title was originally suggested as an American war slogan. Lieut. R. C. Hillman, of the Royal Canadian forces, wrote the words and music of this splendid song which Werrenrath has so superbly recorded. "Three Wonderful Letters from Home" is effectively sung by Charles Hart, on a new Victor Record. It describes the loving words sent by mother, wife, and baby to the soldier who is in France. It also tells of the delight they gave; and when words fail, a violin exquisitely sings the melody of the tender refrain.

turn of the soldier boy to his mother's knee, the songs of victory, and the ringing bells as the troops return from the greatest war in history.

The song is Harry Lauder's own; he made it and he sings it in a way that nobody else in the whole world could possibly do. It is a cheery song to a merry marching tune, and the voice is a trifle more mellow, richer, and sweeter than that of the Harry Lauder before his own gallant son fell "some-where in France."

By way of recitation James H. Heron presents two patriotic selections this month on a Victor Record. "The Singing Soldiers" is the title of one, which is based on a sentiment of one of the foremost of American generals, that "singing soldiers are fighting soldiers." It pictures the soldiers in the trenches singing the old songs grave and gay that have been heard in America the last forty years. Purring words salute the gallant men who face every horror of modern warfare with a laugh.

"The Mother's Answer" is a poem by James L. Hughes of Toronto, who lost his only son in the war. It is an answer to a pacifist poem read before a congress of women in Washington. The wonderful spirit of sacrifice in the poem is brought out by Mr. Heron's recital in a way that makes one realize the unflinching loyalty the Canadians have exhibited for their mother country since the beginning.

Two British patriotic selections sung by Murray Johnson are among the latest Victor recordings, viz., "The Goose Step" and "When We've Wound Up the Watch on the Rhine," both on the one record.

Turning to the realm of the sublime in music, Paderewski has chosen to play for a new Victor Record that scarcely needs melody which has enthralled the world for nearly a century—Chopin's "Nocturne in F Major." This masterpiece begins serenely, suggestive of a calm night with star-decked sky and gently blowing breezes, but soon the storm breaks and here the master hands of Paderewski sweep the keyboard with passionate animation. Then returning to the softer mood the notes of the gentle melody seem to float out like the sound of distant bells at eventide.

New dance music by band and orchestra. The original Dixieland Jazz Band plays some new numbers, compelling their appeal to ear and toe. Paradoxically speaking with respect to a Jazz Band the worse it is the better it is. If you have heard a Jazz band before and feel that you already know the words, you must hear this Victor Record containing "At the Jazz Band Ball"—a one step; and "Ostrich Walk"—a foxtrot. There is rhythm, harmony and melody in both these numbers, yet they are highly diversified in character.

Another Victor Record contains two waltz numbers exceptionally grateful to dancers, for good waltzes are rare, and rarer still when played by a real good dance orchestra. Melice's Orchestra plays "Forget-me-Not" waltz, and Sergeant Marked's Orchestra discloses the haunting melody of the Felicia Waltz.

Jascha Heifetz, that youthful wizard of the violin, comes forward this month with an exquisite interpretation on a Victor Record of Joseph Achorn's "Hebrew Melody." It is so hauntingly beautiful that you will love it at first hearing; yet it will take many hearings before the message it tells reaches you in all its fullness.

In the beginning it voices all the passionate longings of a chosen people, dispossessed of their inheritance, finally breaking out into a frenzy of anguish. A terrible climax is reached and the whirling notes cascade downward to the sonorous lower strings, in apparent exhaustion. At the last the music dies away on notes of honey-sweetness. Heifetz captures the emotional intensity Heifetz puts into this "Hebrew Melody" is due to the fact that he witnessed some of the horrors of the Russian pogrom while still a child.

Victor Light Opera Company presents recent musical comedy gems. Dainty and fascinating is the musical comedy recently produced at the Princess Theatre, New York, Oh Lady! Lady! A medley of its finest numbers is presented on a new Victor Record, which includes: chorus, "When All the Little Ships Come Dailing Home"; solo, "Not Yet"; solo, "Before I Let You Go"; "Some Little Girl"; duet and chorus, "You Found Me and I Found You."

On the reverse of the same record some of the high spots of the equally successful musical comedy "Going Up," are given. They include: chorus, "Down! Up! Left! Right!"; solo, "If You Look in Her Eyes"; duet, "Kiss Me"; solo, "I Want a Determined Boy"; chorus, "Going Up"; and chorus, "The Tickle Toe."

The month's quota of sentimental songs on Victor Records includes "For the Two of Us" rendered by Wright and Dietrich, and "I Hate to Lose You" by the Peerless Quartet. Both are on the one record.

Henry Burr sings a tender little song, "I'm Sorry I Made You Cry" on one side of a Victor Record, while on the other side "One Day in June" is presented by Campbell and Burr. Two in contrast with the numbers above, Handel's majestic aria from Rinaldo, "My Tears Shall Flow," is interpreted with dignity by De Luca on a new Victor Record.

The air is sung in Italian with impressive tone and a noble conception of its majestic movement. It is one of the finest arias bequeathed to us by the grand old composer of the Messiah. De Luca's presentation of it is a notable contribution to the Victor library of music.

TERRORS GIVEN INDIAN NAMES

Mrs. Wilson Credited With Idea That Really Has a Good Deal to Be Said in Its Favor.

Selecting names for the many new vessels soon to slide from American ways is a task needing patience and application. It is one of the duties of Assistant Secretary Roosevelt of the navy department, who, though he finds many volunteer assistants, is always hard pressed in his pursuit of suitable names. The wife of President Wilson has now come to his aid with a list of names.

Mrs. Wilson is a descendant of Pocahontas. The names she suggests may be calculated to spread terror among the enemies of America afloat. They are taken from Indian history.

When an enemy vessel sees the Stars and Stripes, the captain is likely to think one of the devils of the deep is in pursuit. If the Stannamahoning is followed by the Sisladobels and the Sisladobels by the Skaneateles and the Shawangunk—all names conferred by the president's wife—the enemy may well believe that the day of legendary sea terrors has returned.

Suppose, again, that the Saccarappa, the Sagaporack, the Tobesofka and the Tonganoxie were to sail forth together, is there any power on the sea's surface or beneath that would court encounter with such an orthographical onslaught? There is a warwhoop in every name. If the Shickshinny does not suggest scalping, or the Sheequequin an ambush, it is because one is unfamiliar with Indian nomenclature.

WHEAT WILL HALT GERMAN DRIVE

FARMERS WHO MARKET WHEAT NOW ARE HELPING NATIONAL DEFENSE.

"Humanity and Patriotism Combine in Making This Appeal," Says Prescott.

"The Allies are still hungry and if you can spare a little more flour, for God's sake send it," was the plea made recently by a British officer to an American audience.

And who, having heard it, having realized the necessity for the cry from the brave nations of Europe, can help saying wheat.

There are two definite appeals to us voiced there. The one is to patriotism and to common sense. The Allies' cause is our cause; our men are fighting shoulder to shoulder with their men. If food fails the fighters must fall; the war must be lost. None of us are too ignorant to know that a Germany victory would mean, especially to the women and children of the land. So, our love of country, our love of our homes, our every instinct of self-preservation must make us do each thing, whether great or small, towards victory.

The other appeal is that of humanity. Who can refuse to deny himself because of his greediness, his love of his own food habits, when the thought comes of the Allies suffering?

Can any one with either sense or sensibility keep on eating wheat products in the present need? Does it not seem a petty disgusting weakness to insist upon having food requiring white flour?

Let that cry sound in your ears: "If you can spare a little more flour, for God's sake send it!"

SHORTCAKES FOR WHEATLESS PATRIOTS

The call for wheat grows more and more urgent and Americans now realize that wheat is as much a part of the real fighting program of the country as ships and guns. It has been said that brains will win the war. Thinking ahead on the wheat question has led many citizens to demand that wheat be taken over by the Government and held in hand to meet any shortage that may arise from submarine sinkings. That would be Germany's method, the brains of the rulers in that case would win; but America is depending on a democracy to win—the brains of all her people. Your brains must win. Thousands of men and women have given up the weekly allowance of a pound and a half of flour, and are travelling a wheatless road to victory. Those housekeepers who make good use of this allowance in loaf bread and biscuit hesitate to turn even a dust of wheat flour into pie or shortcake and such extras. To these the recipes for shortcake worked out in the Experiment Kitchen of the Food Administration will be most acceptable.

BARLEY SHORTCAKE
1 cup liquid
4 to 6 tablespoons fat
1 tablespoon sugar
1 teaspoon salt
6 teaspoons baking powder
4 cups barley

CORN FLOUR SHORTCAKE
1 cup liquid
6 to 8 tablespoons fat
1 tablespoon sugar
1 teaspoon salt
6 teaspoons baking powder
2 1/2 cups corn flour

RICE FLOUR SHORTCAKE
Follow directions for corn flour, using 1 1/4 cups rice flour instead of corn flour.

BARLEY-CORN SHORTCAKE
1 cup liquid
6 tablespoons fat
1 tablespoon sugar
1 1/4 cups corn flour
1 teaspoon salt
6 teaspoons baking powder
5 cups barley flour

BARLEY-OATS SHORTCAKE
Follow directions for Barley-Corn Flour, using 1 1/2 cups rolled oats ground in food shopper instead of the corn flour.

CORN-OATS SHORTCAKE
1 cup liquid
4 tablespoons fat
1 tablespoon sugar
1 1/2 cups ground rolled oats
1 teaspoon salt
6 teaspoons baking powder
1 1/2 cups corn flour

The same weight of flour is used in each recipe—the measures differ according to the kind of flour used. All measurements are level. Mix dry ingredients, cut in the fat and add the liquid. For individual servings, place dough on slightly floured board, pat to 3/4 inch thickness and cut as for biscuit. If a large shortcake is wanted, place dough in well greased biscuit tin and pat to desired thickness. These shortcakes are light and tender. An egg added to rice or corn flour makes a softer dough. The slightly acid taste of barley may be overcome by using 1/4 teaspoon of soda dissolved in one cup of liquid. The flavor of oat and corn is especially good. The shortcakes made from corn or rice flour are very white and flakey and singular in appearance to wheat flour. Do not split these cakes as they crumble easily. Pile strawberries or other fruit on shortcake. Add whipped cream, if desired, and serve. These shortcakes can be used instead of pie crust in a great variety of desserts.

MONTH'S MUSICAL HAPPENINGS

(Furnished by Shrader's Music House)

FARRAR INTERPRETS THE MEDITATION FROM THAIS

McCormack, De Luca, Jascha Heifetz and Paderewski are also heard in new expressions of their art

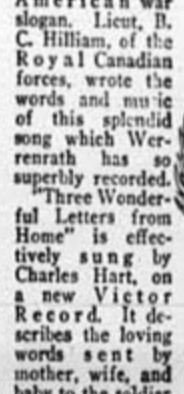

ICH, indeed, is the present month in musical offerings! No less than five of the world's greatest artists have been inspired to sing and play for a new Victor record, while a number of new popular and patriotic songs and specialties take their places in the great library of Victor music. Gertrude Farrar, in her presentation of the beloved "Meditation," rises to the heights of artistry. It is in the final scene of Massenet's popular drama that the impersonates Thais in the death-bed scene, where she recognizes Athanasel, as he returns to her unable to resist her beauty. But Thais is beyond all human relationship. She sees him but recognizes not the man, only the priest who led her across the desert to the oasis, the instrument of God, who revealed to her the beauty of religion and the truth of the life everlasting. In a melody divinely welded to the music of the ever-loved "Meditation," she recalls the incidents of the journey. The music of the "Meditation" which accompanies the voice of Farrar throughout, a celestially passionate song of violins mounting above harp notes of gold and the dream charming of the brass, is worked up to a climax of the greatest power and beauty, the voice entwining itself in the familiar melody more and more ecstatically as the heavenly vision unfolds.

Patriotism continues to find expression in new songs

War, aside from its horrors, is ever the great awakener of tender emotions, and such emotions find ready relief in song; so it is not surprising that many writers in times like these are inspired to thus express their sentiments. It is a song of this character that no less an artist than John McCormack is making immensely popular by his presentation of it in his drive from Coast to Coast while raising a "Sweetened Red Cross fund." "God Be With Our Boys Tonight," a new Victor record, is a song whose words we all can echo. Set to stirring music, McCormack sings it with such fervid sincerity that to hear the record is to be thrilled with a new sense of the sacrifice entailed and the glorious end that makes the sacrifice worth while. Reinold Werrenrath also enters the month's patriotic lists with the rendition of two songs, both on a Victor Record. One is "Lafayette We Hear You Calling." Something of the spirit of this song must have animated General Pershing on the day he huddled himself and his hundred thousand American soldiers to Foch on behalf of the American people. The United States entered the war as we now see clearly, from sheer necessity to defend herself; but we are fortunate that our entry carries with it an opportunity to give France, in the hour of need, the same service Lafayette and France gave us. The other Werrenrath presentation is "Freedom For All Forever" which also expresses aspirations we all hold dear. The title was originally suggested as an American slogan by C. Hillman, of the Royal Canadian forces, wrote the words and set the music. "Going Up," a song of this splendid song which Werrenrath has so superbly recorded. "Three Wonderful Letters from Home" is effectively sung by Charles Hart, on a new Victor Record. It describes the loving words sent by mother, wife and baby to the soldier who is in France. It also tells of the death they gave; and when words fail, a violin exquisitely sings the melody of the tender refrain. On the same record Elizabeth Spencer presents "Daddy Mine," which describes the joy of a soldier on mail day when he finds a message from his wife, saying that a little one has arrived. These two numbers will help to make all of us realize the infinite pleasure the men in France may get from "a word from home."

"Sailor" Kelly sings two war-time hits, on a Victor Record, which show the real American spirit. "What'll We Do With Him, Boys?" is a fanciful picture of the Kaiser reposing among the lions and giraffes in the Zoo after the American army has done its little bit. "Any Old Place the Gang Goes" on the reverse of the record tells the story of a Yankee soldier in France, who goes wherever the gang goes "with both feet." Both songs go with a rush from start to finish, and their force is irresistible.

And here comes Harry Lauder! The inimitable Harry comes across with a Victor record of a most optimistic song—"The Ladies Who Fought and Won." It pictures the return of the soldier boy to his mother's knees in France. It is the song of victory and the ringing bells as the troops return from the greatest war in history. Harry Lauder's own; he made it and he sings it in a way that nobody else in the world could possibly do. It is a cheery song to a merry marching tune, and the voice that carries it is a trifle more mellow, richer, and sweeter than that of the Harry Lauder before his own gallant son fell "somewhere in France."

By way of recitation James H. Heron presents two patriotic selections this month on a Victor Record. "The Singing Soldiers" is the title of the one which is based on a sentiment of one of the foremost of American generals, that "singing soldiers are fighting soldiers." It pictures the soldiers in the trenches singing the old songs grave and gay that have been heard in America the last forty years. Burning notes pay tribute to the gallant men who face every horror of modern warfare with a laugh.

"The Mother's Answer" is a poem by James L. Hughes of Toronto, who lost his only son in the war. It is an answer to a pacifist poem read before a congress of women in Washington. The wonderful spirit of sacrifice in the poem is brought out by Mr. Heron's recital in a way that makes one realize the unflinching loyalty the Canadians have exhibited for their mother country since the beginning. Two British patriotic selections sung by Murray Johnson are among the latest Victor recordings, viz., "The Goose Step" and "When We've Wound Up the Watch on the Rhine," both on the one record. Turning to the realm of the sublime in music, Paderewski has chosen to play for a new Victor Record that heaven-sent melody which has enthralled the world for nearly a century—Chopin's "Nocturne in F Major." This masterpiece begins serenely, suggestive of a calm night with star-decked sky and gently blowing breezes, but soon the storm breaks and here the master hands of Paderewski sweep the keyboard with passionate animation. Then returning to the softer mood the notes of the gentle melody seem to float out like the sound of distant bells at eventide.

New dance music by band and orchestras

The original Dixieland Jazz Band plays some new numbers, compelling in their appeal to ear and toe. Paradoxically speaking with respect to a Jazz Band the worse it is the better it is. If you have heard a Jazz band before and feel that you already know the worst, you must hear this Victor Record containing "At the Jazz Band Ball"—a fox trot. There is rhythm, harmony and melody in both these numbers, yet they are highly diversified in character. Another Victor Record contains two waltz numbers exceptionally grateful to dancers, for good waltzes are rare, and rarer still when played by a real good dance orchestra. McKee's Orchestra plays "Forget-me-Not" waltz, and Sergeant March's Orchestra strikes the haunting melody of the Felicia Waltz.

Jascha Heifetz, that youthful wizard of the violin, comes forward this month with an exquisite interpretation on a Victor Record of Joseph Achrois' "Hebrew Melody." It is so hauntingly beautiful that you will love it at first hearing; yet it will take many hearings before the message it tells reaches you in all its fullness. In the beginning it voices all the passionate longings of a chosen people, dispossessed of their inheritance, finally breaking out into a frenzy of anguish. A terrible climax is reached and the whirling notes cascade downward to the sonorous lower string, in apparent exhaustion. At the last the music dies away on notes of honey-sweetness. Perhaps the emotional intensity Heifetz puts into this "Hebrew Melody" is due to the fact that he witnessed some of the horrors of the Russian pogrom while still a child.

Dainty and fascinating is the musical comedy recently produced at the Princess Theatre, New York, Oh Lady! Lady! A medley of its finest numbers is presented on a new Victor Record, which includes: chorus, "When All the Little Ships Come Sailing Home"; solo, "Not Yet"; solo, "Before I Met You"; trio, "Some Little Girl"; duet and chorus, "You Found Me and I Found You."

On the reverse of the same record some of the high spots of the equally successful musical comedy "Going Up," are given. They include: chorus, "Down! Up! Left! Right!"; solo, "If You Look in Her Eyes"; duet, "Kiss Me"; solo, "I Want a Determined Boy"; chorus, "Going Up"; and chorus, "The Tickle Toe." The month's quota of sentimental songs on Victor Records includes "For the Two of Us" rendered by Wright and Dietrich, and "I Hate to Lose You," by the Perfect Quartet. Both are on the one record. Henry Burr sings a tender little song, "I'm Sorry I Made You Cry" on one side of a Victor Record, while on the other side "One Day in June" is presented by Campbell and Burr. In contrast with the numbers above, Handel's majestic aria from Rinaldo, "My Tears Shall Flow," is interpreted with dignity by De Luca on a new Victor Record.

The air is sung in Italian with impressive tone and a noble conception of its majestic movement. It is one of the finest arias bequeathed to us by the grand old composer of "The Messiah." De Luca's presentation of it is a notable contribution to the Victor library of music. Think what a joy is contained in store for one who keeps in touch with the latest and best in the realm of music by means of the Victrola. This pleasure is not only for those who have a Victrola in their home, but may be shared by all who make it a point to visit the nearest Victor dealer from month to month. He will gladly play any selection you wish to hear.

TERRORS GIVEN INDIAN NAMES

Mrs. Wilson Credited With Idea That Really Has a Good Deal to Be Said in Its Favor.

Selecting names for the many new vessels soon to slide from American ways is a task needing patience and application. It is one of the duties of Assistant Secretary Roosevelt of the navy department, who, though he finds many volunteer assistants, is always hard pressed in his pursuit of suitable names. The wife of President Wilson has now come to his aid with a list of names.

Mrs. Wilson is a descendant of Pocahontas. The names she suggests may be calculated to spread terror among the enemies of America's fleet. They are taken from Indian history.

When an enemy vessel sees the Siamanahoning approaching flying the Stars and Stripes, the captain is likely to think one of the devils of the deep is in pursuit. If the Siamanahoning is followed by the Sialadobels and the Sialadobels by the Sikanestates and the Shawanquik—all names conferred by the president's wife—the enemy may well believe that the day of legendary sea terrors has returned.

Suppose, again, that the Saccarappa, the Sagapock, the Tobesofka and the Tonganoxie were to sail forth together, is there any power on the sea's surface or beneath that would court encounter with such an orthographical onslaught? There is a warwhoop in every name. If the Shickshiny does not suggest scalping, or the Sheshequin an ambush, it is because one is unfamiliar with Indian nomenclature.

WHEAT WILL HALT GERMAN DRIVE

FARMERS WHO MARKET WHEAT NOW ARE HELPING NATIONAL DEFENSE.

"Humanity and Patriotism Combine in Making This Appeal," Says Prescott.

"The Allies are still hungry and if you can spare a little more flour, for God's sake send it," was the plea made recently by a British officer to an American audience.

And who, having heard it, having realized the necessity for the cry from the brave nations of Europe, can help saying wheat.

There are two definite appeals to us voiced there.

The one is to patriotism and to common sense. The Allies' cause is our cause; our men are fighting shoulder to shoulder with their men. If food fails the fighters must fall; the war must be lost. None of us are too ignorant to know what a Germany victory would mean, especially to the women and children of the land. So, our love of country, our love of our homes, our every instinct of self-preservation must make us do each thing, whether great or small, towards victory.

The other appeal is that of humanity. Who can refuse to deny himself because of his greediness, his love of his own food habits, when the thought comes of the Allies suffering?

Can any one with either sense or sensibility keep on eating wheat products in the present need? Does it not seem a petty disgusting weakness to insist upon having food requiring white flour?

Let that cry sound in your ears: "If you can spare a little more flour, for God's sake send it!"

To Go Through And Win

A French woman writing to an American housewife says: "But, after all, we have but one thought. It is to go through and win." All American housewives are at last awake to this one thought: that this war is a deadly struggle for right and liberty, and that every woman in the home, like every man at the front, must be ready to do her best to go through and win.

Further on, the letter reads: "You ask me to tell you what I think we need the most. I think it is flour, wheat, all cereals in fact. We are getting short of many things. Everything is very expensive. Soap that I bought for about 60 centimes (six cents) four years ago, costs now nearly 4 francs (eighty cents). Olive oil has advanced in the same proportion. This is an index to conditions in France."

In Italy, there is extreme need of cereals and a scarcity of meat, codfish and wheat. England has met every reduction in her ration with that same grim determination with which she fights at the front. She has taken from her own diminished food stores and shared with France.

If America is to go through and win she must begin to share the sacrifices as well as the victories of these brave Allies. She must see that they have their share of the world's remaining food supplies. The combined population of the allied European countries is about 143,000,000. It is the part of every man, woman and child here in America to see that in so far as possible each shall have his share of the food supply.

The story of why they want wheat has been told so often it needs no retelling here. America's reserve supply of wheat was gone by December and since then we have been sending them only what could be saved from individual consumption. Gradually the American people have cut down on consumption until they were able in the single month of March, 1915 to ship in wheat and its products the equivalent of 15,000,000 bushels. This shows what genuine patriotism can accomplish.

A still further reduction is demanded, however, if any wheat at all shall be left to send abroad. Shall we not willingly and gladly give up all wheat in our diet for the next ninety days, if by so doing we can help the Allies, as well as our own Army at the front, to GO THROUGH AND WIN?

FOUND BEADS OF WAMPUM

They Were Dug Out of a Pit Near a Lake.

A string of genuine wampum beads and Indian skulls and bones were found on the McCarthy farm near Fox Lake, Wis., in a gravel pit, which doubtless was an Indian burying ground years ago. The beads are a reddish gray, about one-sixth of an inch in thickness. According to Prof. Charles Brown of the University of Wisconsin they are genuine.

WIN THE WAR WITH POTATOES

The enemy is out-eating us in potatoes—out-potatoing us. Here are the figures—per capita weekly consumption. United States, 2.3 quarts, Austria-Hungary, 8 quarts, Germany, 16 quarts.

We can beat them at their own food—which really isn't theirs; it's a native American crop. We must eat more potatoes, and that right soon, or much of our record crop of last year will be wasted. Potatoes are plentiful and getting cheaper. Eat them instead of bread. Fight the enemy with potatoes.

TELEGRAM

Pa Washington, D. C., May 30, '18. Prescott Food Adm., Lansing, Mich.

"Recent press dispatches widely circulated through the country have given the wholly false impression that there is no longer need for rigorous conservation of wheat and flour. The food administration declares that every aspect of the wheat situation both present and prospective intensifies the need for the greatest possible limitation in the American consumption of wheat and wheat products. If present restrictions should be in the slightest degree relaxed it would result in serious want for the people of Europe before the new crop can reach the market."

The food administration estimate of the position on the first of June indicate a total available supply until the new harvest, including the grain which will be available from the farm in country and terminal elevators and mill elevators, of about fifty-six million bushels. Of this thirty million bushels must be exported before new wheat is available for export if we are to maintain the absolute necessary shipments to our army and the allies. That leaves about twenty-six million bushels for domestic consumption for the next two months.

North American consumption is some thing over forty million bushels a month so that most liberal consumption at home would be only one-third of normal.

In addition to the wheat on the farms and in elevators there is always an indeterminate further amount in transit and in dealers' hands and this can never be reckoned in with the flour available for use for export and use at home. As a matter of fact this stock is not actually available since these supplies must remain constantly in flow; they remain a permanent stock the removal of which would later cause a period of acute shortage in distribution before new wheat would be available.

There is further an inclination to include new crop prospects with present condition which have led to confusion. The harvest will not be generally available in flour in middle August or early September, although in the extreme south it would be somewhat earlier.

At a meeting of the federal food administration in Washington yesterday representing from forty-eight states it was the unanimous view that even if the harvest does prove abundant it will be the first duty of the American people to place every grain they can store in storage as against possible 200 years ahead. In consequence there should be no anticipation of unlimited wheat until the war is over. Some of the most inconvenient restriction can no doubt be modified with the arrival of a large harvest but if we are honest with ourselves we will maintain restrictions requiring the use of some substitutes both domestic and commercial; we will continue the requirements of high milling extraction and the elimination of the non-essential use of and waste in flour and bread.

It is worth remembering the famine in Egypt eight thousand years ago was saved by a little governmental foresight and it does not require any illimiting dream to anticipate that so long as the war lasts with its increasing drafts for soldiers and munition the world will steadily produce less food. If we are wise a great harvest will mean the willing building up of a great national reserve.

HERBERT HOOVER.

Teaching Soldiers Caution.

I have a friend—a young six-foot officer, powerful as a horse—at one of the cantonments in the far South, who has a way of showing his men the need for individual responsibility, Edward Hungerford writes in Everybody's Magazine.

It is his practice to skimpish around the camp late at night and approach the sentries, giving careless, indifferent, usually friendly replies to their challenges. The sentry in his happy-go-lucky back country fashion, feels that the stranger is not merely a friend, but of the cantonment. Then 300 pounds of brawn and muscle land upon him; he feels an awful blow in the pit of the stomach; his gun is taken away from him, and he finds himself sprawling on the ground. As soon as he can get his breath he looks at his attacker and begins:

"What the—?" "Exactly so," interrupts the officer, "only if this really had been 'No Man's Land' and I a German scout you would have been completely dead by this time."

They are taking few chances in the training of our great army.

Most Aggressive Religion.

Mohammedanism is the aggressive religion of India, says the World Outlook, and has increased its membership 9 per cent in a decade, while the general population has increased only 2 per cent. Many more native Indians are becoming Mohammedans every year than are turning to Christianity, but proportionately Christianity is leading in growth, having increased 25 per cent in ten years.

Finger Prints Invaluable.

Of course it is in connection with the detection of criminals that the fingerprint record is most used. It is claimed that China used it 4,000 years ago. It is in use in Scotland Yard and in Paris and in the big cities of this country. But it has proved invaluable in identifying lowest folk as well as criminals.

J. WARREN KERRIGAN

—IN—
"THE TURN OF A CARD"

Meller of Type That Will Interest Everyone.

Starts With a Rush and Holds Speed.

WID SAYS: After the showing KERRIGAN made in "A Man's Man," there is no reason why you cannot go the limit on this one. He has a role that will further endear him to the public and it is one of those parts that everyone will like. "THE TURN OF A CARD" is a picture for a run and not a single day affair. The story with its many little oil fields touches, and its gambling scenes are corking.

THE SPIANS READY FOR HIGH SCHOOL COMEDY TONIGHT

Members of Cast Are Up in Lines and Big Turnout is Expected for "Charley's Aunt."

Following weeks of rehearsal and coming of lines and cues the cast of "Charley's Aunt" is ready to put over the laughs tonight at the presentation of the Senior play in the high school auditorium.

Every one of the young actors is literally "on his toes" for the first curtain and the audience of parents and friends can expect to spend the evening in one big laugh for the farce-comedy selected for the festal close of this year's activities is one of the funniest plays on the modern stage. There's a chance, too, to see some of the best "party" dresses in Escanaba.

Following is the "press agent's" close-up on one of the cast. If the others are in the same class it should be a presentation worth while.

"Have you ever seen a nut from Brazil? Well, the biggest one that ever made the trip will be in the High School Auditorium tonight. His name is Donna Lucia D'Alvadorez, more commonly known as Charley's Aunt. He's a regular Julian Eltinge, and undoubtedly in a few years his name will be flashed from hundreds of screens, and his face familiar to thousands. Now is your chance to see him before the 'movies' claim him as their own. Take advantage of this opportunity.

"He's the nuttiest nut in the dramatic history of E. U. S. and he hails from Brazil. Don't miss him."

The cast of "Charley's Aunt" follows:
Colonel Sir Francis Chesney, Bart... John Booth
Stephen Spettigue... Roy Olson
Jack Chesney... Paul Baldwin
Charles Wykeham... William McAuley
Lord Fancourt Babberley... Roy Bergmann
Brassett... Walfrid Dahlberg
Donna Lucia D'Alvadorez, Grace Pollo
Kitty Verdun... Kathryn Horton
Amy Spettigue... Mary Nov
Ela Delahay... Vera Dawn

DIAMOND CHALLENGE.

The following letter was received by the Daily Mirror today:

"We would like to arrange for one or more games with the teams from Escanaba, Newberry, St. Ignace, and Gladstone. We have met and defeated all the teams from the Soo and are anxious to meet more of the crack teams from the Upper Peninsula. All dates in June and July are open including the 4th of July.

"For games address Sgt. J. G. Grassick, Co. 'H' 41st Infantry, Capt. 41st Infantry Baseball Team, Fort Brady, Michigan."

What would you do if you arrived from Brazil and found that someone had assumed your name and place in society? Come and see how "Charley's Aunt" faces the situation. High School tonight.

"Charley's Aunt, a nut from Brazil, will be here tonight. See her at the High School.

Governor To Come Here Wednesday Morning at 8:30

State's Executive and Staff Will Attend Sessions: New War Pictures a Feature.

Word has been received here by J. E. Byrns, general chairman of the Michigan War conference to be held here Wednesday and Thursday, that Governor Albert E. Sleeper and members of his party will arrive in Escanaba at 8:30 o'clock Wednesday morning. This practically means that the capitol of Michigan will be transferred from Lansing to Escanaba during the two days of the conference.

Through arrangements completed yesterday by Mr. Byrns the big feature picture "Pershing's Crusaders," the first war picture released by the United States government, will be shown at the Strand theatre here on both Wednesday and Thursday of next week. The picture was released to the Michigan War Board and one-half of the receipts from its showing in Michigan will go into the treasury of that organization.

Blankets Made By High School Girls Now At Erickson's

Sophomore Class Girls Are Awarded First Prize for Afghans Which Will Be Sent to France.

The afghans which have been made by the Girls' League at the local high school were put on display in Ed. Erickson's window today. These afghans have been made by the girls during the winter and are to be sent to Miss Kandal, of this city who is now a Red Cross nurse in France.

The afghans were only recently completed, one being made by each class under the supervision of a member of the faculty and a member of each class. The blanket receiving the first award was made by the Sophomore girls, while the one made by the Junior class received second award.

When Spending Your Money!

If ever there was a time when you should know beyond all doubt that you are getting full value for your money, it's now. Merchandise on sale now at present prices point the way to the greatest possible economy in the matter of good, dependable clothes, materials for dresses, materials for every other purpose, shoes, etc., as many lines of merchandise now on sale could not be replaced at wholesale by us at prices you can buy the goods at today.

Every Dollars Worth of Merchandise in Our Stock

Worth 10% to 33% More Than Our Present Retail Prices

Take our Men's Suits for an instance. Right now we are selling good all pure wool suits at $15.00, $16.50, $17.75, $22.50 and $24.75. We couldn't buy them ourselves in today's market at these prices. If bought today these very same suits would be worth at least $8.00 to $15.00 more. Even at that advance materials wouldn't be near as good as now.

You all know the condition of the present market. You also know that the Government has taken over all available wool supply and that only 40 per cent of the normal output of the country's looms can be used for civilian trade; 60 per cent of mill outputs taken over to make cloth for uniforms for our soldiers.

From All This Information, Which Is Official, You Know What to Expect.

Prices Will Go Higher Than We Ever Expected

That Is An Absolute Certainty.

Better act on our former and again repeated advice and buy clothes—all you may need for at least a year to come. That is if you can spare the money. Such a mighty good investment. Don't know how you could make money quicker and easier.

Commercial Travellers Open Their Convention

Many Entertainment Features Are Curtailed Because of the War at Session in Jackson.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)
Jackson, Mich., June 7.—The annual convention of the United Commercial Travelers of America began here today, with many of the customary entertainment features eliminated as a war economy measure. Nineteen subordinate Michigan councils are represented at the meetings.

A session of the jurisprudence, finance and grand executive committees was held last night.

The meetings are being presided over by Grand Councillor John A. Hach, of Coldwater, Mich. The Ladies Auxiliary will provide entertainment for the visiting ladies.

THE GOLDEN RULE

It grieves us to take your money and give so little for it. A dollar buys a mere handful nowadays. We are powerless. The farmer and the man higher up bids us rob you. We have to do the dirty work in order to make a living. The money goes. A dollar made a producer and manufacturer.
