HOSPITAL SHIP HORROR

Sinking of the Warilda Described As One of the Most Harrowing in History of Submarine Sinkings.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)

London, Aug. 6.—The attempted raid by German Zeppelins on the east Anglian coast last night, was a complete fiasco. British flyers were ready for the visitors and met them well out at sea. One airship was brought down burning and the second was badly damaged. No report was made on two others, which presumably escaped. There is no evidence that the invaders dropped any bombs as they were probably kept too busy fighting off gun fire to carry out the purpose of the raid.

The torpedoing of the British ship Warilda was one of the most harrowing disasters in the history of submarine warfare. The number of dead is estimated from 105 to 130 and upwards, and includes several women nurses.

The ship carried 600 sick and wounded, among whom were seven Americans, two officers and five enlisted men, all of whom have been accounted for except one private.

There were aboard eighty-nine nurses and members of the voluntary aid department, and the crew comprised about 200 men.

More than 650 survivors brought here were given first aid treatment, food and clothing.

The torpedo struck the after part of the engine room, killing the third engineer and two other members of the engine room force. The dynamo was destroyed, plunging the vessel into darkness. Just over the dynamo was the ward room, which contained more than 100 patients. Most of these were killed outright. Many injured by the torpedo, found themselves trapped. This part of the ship quickly settled and water flooded the ward room, drowning the men caged there.

THE MIRROR TO CO-OPERATE WITH U. S. GOVERNMENT

Steps Taken to Curtail Use of Print Paper Fifteen Percent in Accordance With Recent Request of Government.

POLICY OF RESTRICTION

No More Mail Subscribers to Be Added and Renewals Will Not Be Accepted in Country Until Further Orders.

The Mirror, ever mindful that during these times, the government must be served first of all and then every government request is made for the purpose of contributing to the winning of the war, is shaping its affairs to comply with the latest request which has been sent forth. This is to the effect that 15 percent of last year's consumption of paper must be cut out. Obedience to this order constitutes a grave problem for the Mirror because of the fact that its city circulation has increased approximately 20 percent in the last eight and one-half months.

The line must be drawn rigidly and much as the Mirror regrets this condition of affairs, it feels it a patriotic duty to announce that from this time until further announcement, no country subscriptions will be renewed, nor will any new mail subscribers be accepted. All subscribers indebted to the Mirror are asked to settle at once but refrain from sending any advance payment to this paper until the government order is changed.

Last fall the Mirror installed a model 14 linotype and ordered a Cox duplex printing press in order to give its readers the fullest benefit of its Associated Press news dispatches. No blustering announcements were made to this effect. The machine was simply installed and it is the only one of its kind in the upper peninsula.

FISMES, HELD BY YANKS, VIOLENTLY BOMBARDED BUT WITHOUT RESULTS

DR. LINDHOLM HAS EXCITING WORK IN FRONT TRENCHES

Former Escanaba Physician Relates, in Interesting Manner, the Work American Doctors Are Doing At the Front.

HOSPITALS ARE BOMBED

Says German Wounded Prisoners Disheartened with German Attitude and Are Virtually Forced to Fight.

The following interesting and instructive letter has been received from Dr. H. O. Lindholm, who was formerly associated with Dr. Kitchen here, but who is now with the American Expeditionary Forces in France. Dr. Lindholm is a lieutenant. He writes to Axel Anderson as follows: "Dear Mr. Anderson and Brothers,

"It is now about time I let you know that I am still in existence and enjoying the best of health. It is with pleasure that I state our boys from Michigan are giving a good account of themselves in the present big German drive. At times, of course, things have not been so pleasant but nevertheless we never falter. I have just spent a month in the first line trenches, in a dugout in the ground for a dressing station. I can assure you my first few days were not altogether glorious, with shrapnel and shells bursting and screaming overhead. My dugout was caved in twice in one week with big shells but luck was with me and I escaped. I have been on detached service with the British and French armies for over two months and I can say for them also that they are wonderful soldiers. The hospitals and equipment over here are the best that money can buy and our boys are treated with the utmost care and consideration. They want for nothing, as Uncle Sam has taken all the preliminary precautions for their welfare.

"At present I have been relieved from duty with the infantry troops in the line and am now stationed at an evacuation hospital where we have plenty of surgical work to do. The present German offensive, of course, gives us little time to ourselves; its just work and little sleep. I have spoken today to a few German wounded prisoners and they are all discouraged with Germany's attitude. One man says that they are practically driven to fight at the point of the German officers' guns though they know it is useless to try and take a certain objective. They mass their own troops so that when they get close to our machine guns they are literally mowed down like grain in a field. It is costing the Germans thousands of unnecessary casualties. But just let them come; the more they send, the more mowing we will do. The ground that they are now holding amounts to nothing. The allies will let them come just so far and kill and kill as many as possible, and then wait for the big allied counter drive.

"One thing the dirty pups are doing is to bomb our hospitals from aeroplanes even though they are plainly marked. When the day of reckoning and peace negotiations are carried out they will hear all about their barbarous deeds of rape, murder and pillage of civilians in captured towns. I must conclude now, for in 15 minutes I must go to work and stay on the job until 7:00 in the morning. We run three operating crews, or rather teams, of eight hours each in 24 hours. Best regards to all.

"Respectfully,
"Lieut. H. O. LINDHOLM, M. C.
"Labor Detachment,
"32nd Division, A. E. F.

Crown Prince Not Likely to Attempt Stand on North Bank of the Vesle River in Opinion of Experts. MUST GO BACK OF AISNE

Foch Believed to Be Planning Further Offensive When Guns Reach South Bank of The Vesle River.

(Associated Press War Summary)

On the Soissons-Rheims front the situation is being stabilized. Heavy artillery duels and patrol actions are in progress along the Vesle. French and American troops have crossed to various points north of the river, mostly on reconnoitering expeditions. Strong efforts by the enemy have failed to prevent these incursions.

Fismes, which is held by the Americans, is apparently the special mark of the German gunners and they are bombarding it violently. The Americans, however, continue to maintain their positions at this point. In the allied capitals it is not believed that the Crown Prince will attempt to make a stand on the north bank of the Vesle but will retire further to prepared positions north of the Aisne. It would seem to be the part of wisdom for the Crown Prince to withdraw to such positions at this time.

General Foch has thus far given no indication of what his further plans may be. The action along the Vesle lends color to the opinion that the Germans between Rheims and Soissons will have to give more ground. It is not improbable that the allied commander is waiting for his guns and stores to reach the south bank of the Vesle before he continues his offensive against the Crown Prince.

German Losses Heavy.

With the French Army in France, Aug. 6.—The German Crown Prince is now engaged in reconstructing shattered divisions behind the lines, with the remainder of the 1919 recruits, in the opinion of General Manstein, whose army forced the retreat of the Crown Prince from the Marne. Some German divisions suffered such severe losses that the strength of the majority of their companies was reduced to less than fifty men, and some companies are learned to have been still further depleted.

Paris, Aug. 6.—The long range bombardment of Paris was continued today, according to the official war office report.

Americans Stand Fast.

Paris, Aug. 6.—North of the Vesle river the Germans have been repulsed in their effort to dislodge American units from the south bank of the river says today's official war office statement. The statement also reports a French advance on the Avre river to Montdidier. A number of prisoners were taken southeast of Montdidier. It is further reported, German resistance north of the Vesle is being continued. The enemy

CHAPTER XIII.

A Pal Crucified.
When we got to "V" Bench on my next trip the weather was really fine, but it did not please us much, for as soon as we got in range the enemy batteries opened up on us and the shell fire was heavier than any we had been in before, though not more effective.

At this part of the shore there is a dock about a mile and a half long, running back into the country and terminating in a road. The Champagne was making for this dock, sounding as she went. Suddenly, when she was within 500 yards of the shore, I saw her swing around and steer in a crazy fashion.

anyone ever knew.

Then she went aground, with her stern toward the shore and listed over to port. You could see different articles rolling out and down the side. Then her back broke. The quarter-deck was crowded with men half dressed, with life belts on, jumping over the side or climbing down. There was an explosion and a cloud of black smoke broke over us, and for a while I thought I was blinded.

All the time the shells were raining in on us and on the Champagne. When I could see again I saw the men on the Champagne climbing down the starboard or shore side. One chap was going down hand over hand along a stanchion, when another fellow above him let go and slid right down on him. The first man fell about thirty feet, landing in the water with his neck doubled under him. Our lifeboats and launches were out picking up survivors.

Those who got safely over the side started to swim ashore, but when they had gone only a little way they found they could wade in. When the water was only up to their waists they came upon barbed wire entanglements and not a man got ashore that way but was scratched and clawed and mangled horribly. Some of them that I saw afterwards were just shredded along the sides of their bodies like coconuts. A great many of them, though, were killed by shrapnel while they were in the water.

On board the Cassard our guns had been busy all the time, and it was not long before we put one enemy battery out of commission. We had suffered a bit, too, but not enough to worry us. There were about 8,000 men on the Champagne, I think, and at least a third were killed or drowned, and the casualties must have been almost two-thirds. The ship was just a mass of wreckage.

They called for a landing party from the Cassard, and officers asked for volunteers for trench duty. I was not very keen about going, because I had been in trenches at Dixmude, and I knew how pleasant they were—not, but I volunteered, and so did Murray. We went ashore in our boats under a heavy fire. There were 12 men killed in the lifeboat in which I was. I escaped without a scratch.

We were mustered up on shore and volunteers were called for, for sentry duty. Murray volunteered. If he had only gone on with the rest of us he might have come through. After a short wait we were given the order to advance. The firing became heavier about this time, so we went at the double. We had not got very far before we had a fine little surprise party handed us.

RED CROSS ASKS YOUNG WOMEN TO ENTER TRAINING

Need of Nation for Trained Nurses Both Now and After the War Is Great, Local Chapter Declares.

The Red Cross is urging young women all over the country to take up training for nurses. They say that there now exists an extreme need for at least 25,000 women of character, intelligence, and education to fill the gaps in American hospital staffs caused by the calling of many thousands of skilled nurses to the fighting front.

To be eligible to the army training school for nurses, applicant must be white, over 21 years of age, a high school graduate, and unmarried or a widow. The applicant must be physically able and must pass a dental examination. For a civilian hospital the pupil must be over 18 and must have completed at least two years of high school training.

There are two classes in which a young woman may enroll, the preferred class, which consists of candidates who do not place any limit upon their obligations for service, will accept appointment in either Army or civilian training school as need arises anywhere in the United States, but have the right to express preference. Applications in this class will be given first consideration. The deferred class consists of those who limit their offer of service, but it is urged as a patriotic service, that candidates enroll in the preferred class.

Parry Farm Bodies for Ford Trucks
TRULY, "team-less" days on the farm are almost here.
The transportation of hay, grain, garden truck, cattle, hogs, timber, etc., between the farm and city, or farm and railroad junction, will soon be handled entirely by motor trucks of the medium weight capacity.
"Team-less" days will be a complete reality—not because we have any dislike for the horse—but because light motor truck delivery is more efficient, and economical. It puts more valuable working hours—more miles—into every farmer's day, enabling him to accomplish far more work at a lower cost.
Today is the day of greater production, greater profits, greater efficiency.
Either one, or both, of these Parry Farm Bodies will help any farmer, stockman, or gardener to attain this efficiency. The body on the left is for general farm work. It has removable stake units on rear and sides. Body on right is essentially a grain dump body, but can be used, as it appears, for most kinds of utility work. Tipping apparatus at rear of seat works quickly and easily. Detailed pictures of this body can be seen at our salesroom.

TWO SUBMARINES STILL OPERATING OFF EAST COAST

Oil Tanker Sent Down Off Virginia Saturday at Same Time Schooner Is Sunk Off Nova Scotia Coast.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS) Washington, D. C., Aug. 6.—The sinking of the American tank steamer Oliver B. Jennings, 100 miles off the Virginia coast shows that there are at the present time, two German submarines on this side of the Atlantic. This proven by the widely separated sinking of this vessel, and a fishing schooner off the coast of Nova Scotia at virtually the same time Saturday. Thirty survivors of the O. B. Jennings, were brought to Norfolk, the navy department was informed this afternoon. A boat containing the Captain and 13 members of the crew are still missing. Wireless reports saying that she was being shelled were received at noon yesterday. Vessels were sent at once but arrived only in time to pick up the survivors, the Jennings herself having gone down. She was a vessel of 890 net tons and has been operated since 1917 by the Standard Oil Company.

Gerard's Answer To The Kaiser When He Said

"America Won't Fight"

THE PLAIN TRUTH LAID BARE IN

AMBASSADOR GERARD'S

My 4 Years in Germany

Read What President Wilson Says:

Washington, D. C., (Special)—Following a special performance given here tonight of Ambassador Gerard's photoplay story, "My Four Years in Germany," given to help the latest Liberty Loan, President Wilson said: "Let every American see 'My Four Years in Germany,' and Kaiserism will soon be wiped off the face of the earth. This picture will live as long as America is a Republic." Other prominent Government officials had similar words of praise for the truly wonderful picturization of Ambassador Gerard's own story—a story based on real facts and not fiction. It is the hope of the sponsors for this photoplay that the picture will be seen by every man, woman and child in America, so that all of us can better appreciate just why we are at war.

If you want to know the reason why the United States is fighting with our Allies, to make the world free and why every American should be a true Patriot, see the answer in this wonderful picture, "My Four Years in Germany." (Signed) ROBERT DARTON.

"MY FOUR YEARS IN GERMANY" is the finest picture of its kind I have seen. It brings home the great truth. MAYOR JEWETT, of Indianapolis.

THE THEATRES

AT THE STRAND.

One of the snappiest dramas ever seen on the screen is "Up Romance Road," which will be seen at the Strand today, is William Russell's latest vehicle. It is a Mutual play from Russell's studios.

The story is intensely interesting. Mr. Russell being cast as a rich young man for whom everything has been coming too easy all his life and who is now determined to get action even if he has to go out gunning for it.

Gregory Thorne, whom Mr. Russell impersonates, finds himself engaged to a rich and beautiful girl with the entire approval of the parents on both sides. This strikes him as too tame and he insists that they establish a family feud in some way so that he may overcome all obstacles and win a wife man-fashion after a fight for her.

When Gregory goes looking for trouble he gets it in bunches. In the course of his brief career as trouble seeker he runs into a nest of German spies, captures the ringleader, prevents an explosion and eventually decides to settle down with the rich young bride after looping the loop in sensational style with the young lady's papa.

The story is by Stephen Fox. It was directed by Henry King.

IRENE CASTLE COMING.

Irene Castle and the original cast in the great serial "Patria" are starred in the new five-part Pathe Play, "The Mysterious Client," which comes to the Strand theatre Thursday and Friday.

This is the second picture in which

Mrs. Castle appears since the death of her husband, Captain Vernon Castle, of the British Royal Flying Corps, at a Texas aviation camp.

"The Mysterious Client" is an unusual play that meets the insistent demand of the public for something new. It was made under the direction of Fred. Wright from the clever story by Charles Davey. The scenario was written by Roy Somerville.

In brief the story deals with the tests of courage imposed upon a young lawyer to ascertain his moral and physical courage, by a prospective father-in-law.

AT THE DELFT.

The most important film production of the year is the big superfeature made from Ambassador James W. Gerard's startling book, "My Four Years in Germany."

The picture vividly shows the incidents that forced America into the war and the intrigues of Germany's militaristic leader.

Beginning when the first war cloud began to gather on the European horizon the picture begins with the Zaberan incident, the cutting down of a lame shoemaker by a young Prussian officer, then following Gerard's presentation at the Imperial German court. The gradual rise of the spirit against militarism. The defiance of the Reichstag. The shooting at Sarajevo. The Kiel celebration in which the British fleet took part. The meeting of Sir Edward Goschen and Hollweg and the proposal that England stand by while France is beaten. The announcement of danger of war on July 31. The ultimatum to Russia. Gerard's futile efforts to avoid the war. The order to mobilize. The address of the Kaiser on August 4th. The rape of Belgium. The taking over of the British Embassy by Gerard. The exodus of Americans. The Kaiser's explanation of the war, so different from that of Von Bethman Hollweg. The scene before the Japanese Embassy. The battle of the Marne and the Aisne. The raid on the American Embassy. The cruel treatment of prisoners in camps. The attacks of the press on America. The sinking of the Lusitania, President Wilson's notes. The unrestricted submarine warfare. The Kaiser's threat that he would stand for no nonsense from America after the war. The Fryatt shooting. The Roger Casement incident. The deportation of Belgian women and children. The dinner to the Ambassador so soon to be followed by the break of relations between America and Germany. Mr. Gerard's detention as a virtual prisoner. His return and America's answer to the Kaiser in the troops going over the top and the armies over there.

CASSIUS M'EWEN HUNGERS TO GET INTO BIG FIGHT

Writes His Father That He Doesn't Relish Being So Far from the Fray When He Enlisted Specifically for Action.

Justice C. D. McEwen is in receipt of a most interesting letter from his son Cassius who is now in France with 43rd engineers. This young man gave up a splendid position with the Anaconda Copper and Lumber Co. in Montana, to enlist because he wanted action. So far he has been disappointed. He regrets deeply that he is so far from the scene of action and says that from copies of American newspapers he is able to get hold of now and then, it is apparent that Americans are getting more news of the war than are the men in his regiment.

The work he is doing is very similar to that which he left but he is enjoying it as much as may be in view

TO THE VOTERS OF THE THIRTIETH SENATORIAL DISTRICT.

My attention has been called to personal letters written by my opponent, W. A. LeMire, to many of the voters of this district, calling their attention to the fact that I was defeated for a second term as Prosecuting Attorney of Delta county, for the apparent purpose of belittling me in my home county.

I will say for the benefit of my opponent as well as to the voters who are not personally acquainted with me that I was defeated upon an issue, a thing upon which my opponent will never be defeated. I was defeated as he well knows because a great many men interested in the liquor business felt that I was too strict in the enforcement of the laws regulating the liquor traffic. I went down to defeat upon that issue, and my opponent at that time gave his hearty approval of my acts.

If I am elected to the Senate I will vote for the ratification of the Constitutional Amendment, and any man seeking to be elected to the Senate who would do otherwise would betray the confidence of a majority of $3,000 people of the State of Michigan. I do not promise the farmers, as my opponent does in his announcement, that I will have a law passed making it a crime for any man to buy or sell at a profit the products of the farm. Having spent a great many years upon a farm myself I know that it is an insult to the farmer's intelligence because in the first place the farmer needs no particular law to protect and regulate the sale of products of the farm at this date and age, and in the second place no such law could be passed because no man would present such a ridiculous bill who had the ability at least and the qualifications to go to our State Senate.

He also states that he is going to have some legislation to protect and for the benefit of the railroad man. It can't be possible that my opponent does not realize that the United States Government has taken over the railroads of this country, and it applies to the State of Michigan as well as to all other states. These things are handed out endeavoring to catch the voters who are not well posted. He also, in his announcement tries to array capital against labor, a thing that our government is bending every effort to stamp out as it is nothing more or less than a propaganda aiming at the very heart of our government. The voters of today in my opinion are doing some thinking for themselves, and when a candidate comes out and says that he will do that which is impossible for the purpose of getting votes he would take advantage of them should he be elected to the Senate.

My opponent is also appealing to the French voters of this district to vote for him because he is of the same extraction. This is an insult to every American as we know no other nationality in this country but American. My opponent was given a commission in the medical corps as a Captain, and he put on a uniform of the American soldier, taking the oath of office, wore the uniform a couple of days and then spat the uniform back. On the other hand I gave my consent for my son to enlist, who is now fighting shoulder to shoulder with the French soldier in France to preserve and protect the French nation so if there is any consideration coming from those Americans who claim their ancestors from that great and glorious French Republic it would not be coming to William A. LeMire.

My opponent is taking a great deal of satisfaction owing to the fact that the editor of the Menominee Herald-Leader, R. M. Andrews, of Menominee, has written a very eulogistic article in behalf of Mr. LeMire. If my opponent could have heard the statements made by Mr. Andrews when he spent sometime with me trying to get me to run, the smile would die from his face. I am not a man to fight in the dark. Any issues I have I am willing to put them in print, publicly, openly and above board.

WIRELESS PLANT LOCATED ACROSS MEXICAN BORDER

Activities of Group of Germans Who Have Appeared Suddenly Is Now Under Investigation By Government.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS) Washington, D. C., Aug. 6.—The activity of Germans or German-Americans from the United States, along the Mexican border where a wireless plant has been located, is under investigation. The report indicates that for months a group of a half hundred Germans have been gathering in Mexicali, living in little shacks across the border from Calexico, Cal., and Yuma, Ariz.

The shifting populations of these towns have, until this time, been composed of Indians, Chinese, Japanese and Mexicans and Germans have never before been known to visit these towns. Now they are in the habit of congregating at a little store run by a German who is known to have been active in spreading German propaganda in the United States before America entered the war. It is claimed the wireless station can communicate with Mexico City.

BROAD PROVISIONS BEING WRITTEN IN TO MAN POWER BILL

Effort Made to Prevent Upsetting Industrial Fabric of Nation by Calling Men Over 32 for Service.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS) Washington, D. C., Aug. 6.—Broad provisions are being written into the man power bill now before congress, so that the nation's industrial fabric will not be upset by the calling of men over 32 years of age for military service. When the question was before congress in connection with the army appropriation bill, Secretary Baker said that a change in the draft age was undesirable until the enlarged military program of the administration could be presented to that body.

LAWS ON STORING GASOLINE

Before Installing Underground System Car Owner Should Make Careful Study of Matter.

Before making arrangements for installing an underground gasoline storage system, the car owner should look well to his local and state laws. In many places it is necessary to vent the tank so that the vent pipe comes within a given distance of the roof of the building. Some laws make it necessary to have the tank located a given distance from the house, and if this is not complied with certain rules regarding venting must be met. Examine all phases of the matter carefully beforehand.

Understood His Condition.

One day as he was leaving his office in Portland, the late Thomas B. Reed was accosted by a stranger who had been imbibing so freely that he was "seeing things double." After apologizing profusely, the stranger managed to ask the congressman where he could get a car for the depot. Mr. Reed replied: "Go to the next corner; there you will see two cars; take the first one; the other won't be there."

There Are Always Others.

In every circumstance of our lives lies the stirring knowledge that one's own case, however strange, is far from being singular. There are others besides myself with whom Poverty has taken up its abode; there are others from whose cup Despair has daily drunk; who, looking up from their daily bread, have found Sorrow's eyes forever on them.—Laura Spencer Porter, in the Atlantic.

Make the Most of Everything.

If we are not doing as well as we think we ought to we may not have far to go for the trouble. Most of us have more time than we profitably employ, more money than we actually use, and more friends than we keep in friendly touch with. If we would make the most of everything we would do better than we thought it possible.

MANY MORE MEN NEEDED IN NAVY IN PRESENT YEAR

Recruiting Officer James J. Colby Says 300,000 Volunteers Must Be Secured By End of This Year.

WIDE RANGE OF CHOICE

Men Enlisting Now Have Opportunity of Selecting Branch of Naval Work He Desires to Enter Now or Later.

Three hundred thousand volunteers must be secured for the United States Navy before the end of this year to fully man the vessels which are now under control of the Navy department and those now building, according to information received from Recruiting Officer James J. Colby, of the Ishpeming station, who will be in Escanaba on Wednesday for the purpose of examining men for the "first line of defense." Mr. Colby will make his headquarters at the Post Office while in the city.

Practically all branches of the Naval forces are in need of men at the present time and every man enlisting at the present time has an opportunity of select the branch he desires, either at the time he enlists or when he arrives at the training station. Tradesmen, including carpenters, painters, machinists, mechanics, gas engine experts, cooks, bakers and others, are especially desired, and ratings of non-commissioned officers are being offered in order to secure the immediate enlistment of men possessing a knowledge of one of the above mentioned trades.

This new campaign, which is being vigorously pressed by the recruiting officers, is expected to bring hundreds of young men, under the present draft age but within the limits suggested for the next draft, into the Navy. Cloverland's young men, the recruiting officers state, have never yet failed to respond to the call to the colors, and they are confident that this district will maintain the enviable record established in the last "drive" which has just closed.

Convention of A. O. H. Formally Launched Today

(Continued From Page One) Joint session of the A. O. H. and the Ladies Auxiliary, which was presided over by A. J. Manley, of this city. Mr. Manley, on behalf of the local order, extended the heartiest of welcomes to the visitors and assured them that they were to feel absolutely at home in Escanaba and that the people of the city were no less zealous than himself in welcoming such a representative body of Americans for a convention. City Attorney H. R. Dotsch followed with a most eloquent and sincere welcome on behalf of the city and was followed by Patrick H. Murphy, of Detroit, state president of the A. O. H., and Miss Anna Lacey, also of Detroit, state president of the Ladies Auxiliary, both of whom responded for the organizations which they represented. They expressed their deep appreciation of the thoughtful courtesies extended to them thus early in their stay here and indicated that the spirit of Escanaba would remain a cherished memory with them for many years.

Following the addresses of welcome and the responses, Bishop Gallagher, of Detroit and Grand Rapids, made a most eloquent and stirring appeal to the patriotic impulses of his auditors. He spoke at length of the two organizations and the principles for which they stood, and again emphasized the fact that over and above everything else, the Ancient Order of Hibernians was first, last and always, American to the core.

Adjournment was then taken until 2 o'clock this afternoon when the two bodies went into session separately to discuss the matters which are most vital to the business interests of both organizations.

At eight o'clock this evening a reception is to be held for state officers and delegates, and this being O'Connell day, a day dear to the Irish heart, added significance will be given the ceremonies.

The Mirror To Co-operate With U. S. Government

(Continued From Page One) The Mirror feels that its readers are interested in its war and local news—not in its equipment, but the press will not be used until after the war, as this would be in direct opposition to the expressed wishes of the government to cut out everything that is not absolutely essential in producing a newspaper and until the government loosens up on its present restrictions this paper will go along as it has in the past—giving the best, most accurate and timely news stories of the war through its Associated Press dispatches and continue to meet government wishes with respect to saving paper.

WEATHER HANDICAPS GERMANS IN ATTEMPT TO DISLodge YANKS

Americans Maintain Their Positions Along the Vesle River While Enemy Make Futile Efforts to Inflict Damage.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS) With the American Army in Vesle, Aug. 6.—The Germans along the line west of Vesle used their guns freely all yesterday afternoon in an attempt to dislodge the Americans and French. The Germans were greatly handicapped by the weather conditions. It was misty at times raining and although German observation balloons were up, they were unable to give any reliable information as to the operations of the allies.
