NOYON OUTFLANKED; FALL IS INDICATED

ALLIED SUCCESSES IN LAST MONTH DECREASE FRONT BY FIFTY MILES

General March Declares Success of Enlarged War Program Depends on Amount of Shipping Built Quickly.

BRITISH DRIVE WINS

Army Under General Bing Attacks Without Artillery Preparation and Takes Many Prisoners and Guns.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)

Washington, Aug. 21.—As a result of allied successes during the last month the battle line from Rheims to the North sea has been reduced fifty miles in length, General March reported in his weekly interview with newspaper men today. When the Germans began their last offensive the line was 250 miles in length. It is now less than 200 miles long.

The success of the enlarged program of the war department depends on adequate shipping, General March said. While the tonnage is increasing, it is still found necessary to charter and hire additional ships. General March enumerated 32 divisions which have already arrived in France, including the 32nd and the 85th.

Paris, Aug. 21.—A new attack by General Mandin on a 25 kilometer front forecasts the fall of Noyon which is being outflanked.

General Mandin's advance toward the Oise is an important stroke and constitutes a threat for the outflanking of Noyon from the east and will help the army of General Humbert between Matz and the Oise. The plan of General Foch is believed to be aimed at the consolidation of the armies of Generals Mandin and Humbert, which will force the enemy to withdraw on a large scale.

Three Towns Captured

British Army in France, Aug. 21.—In the first hour of the offensive this morning by General Haig's troops, the British captured the towns of Ablecourt, Beaucourt, and Moyenville. The British attacked on a front of ten miles between Arras and Albert. The attack extended from the Ancre river to Baucourt, to just north of Moyenville. Some German field guns and 200 prisoners were taken in the British drive. All German outposts in the important Voutre ridge between Louzkar and Locre, Hospice have been attacked by the British. This front is in the Lys salient. Corcelles and Achiet-le-Petit were also captured in the British drive.

Attack On Wide Front

London, Aug. 21.—The British attacked this morning between the towns of Moreville and Boucesur-Ancre, a distance of about eight and one-half miles. It is reported that the British have advanced a distance of between two and three miles on this front. The attack was made without artillery preparation, was a complete success and made by the British third army under command of General Bing. After the capture of Achiet-le-Petit the British troops advanced another mile and one-half on Achiet-Grand.

An other amendment provides that the fact that a soldier has just reached 21 shall not be a bar to his receiving a commission.

HELD FOR GIVING LIQUOR TO A BOY UP NEAR KIPLING

William Hill Arrested for Bringing Whiskey Into State from Marinette Last Saturday Night.

County Prosecutor Strom today caused a warrant to be issued in Justice McEwen's court for the arrest of William Hill, of Kipling, charging Hill with bringing liquor into the state and giving or selling it to an eighteen-year old boy named Howard McDonald. Sheriff Iverson left this afternoon for Kipling and expects to return with Hill this evening. William Hansen, Carliamas, Charles Olson and Lawrence Kannev will be subpoenaed as witnesses.

It is claimed that Hill went to Marinette last Saturday night and returned with a quantity of whiskey, a part of which was furnished to young McDonald Sunday and Monday with the result that the boy became badly intoxicated on Monday morning.

WATER COMPANY REDUCES PRICE FOR ITS PLANT

Willing to Sell to the City for $298,650 Which Is $77,000 Less Than It Has Always Insisted Upon.

COUNCIL TAKES ACTION

Agreement to Be Drawn Up For Submission to Voters After Being Approved By the City Council.

Victory, or at least partial victory, in the city's fight to secure what has been designated as a reasonable price for the plant of the North Michigan Water company, perched upon the city banners last night, when council was informed that the company had agreed to reduce its original price by $77,000, making the price which is now asked for the plant $298,650.

Mayor C. M. Cuthbert informed the council last night that he had a verbal agreement with the company on these figures as the result of his recent trip to Scranton, Pa. where he held a conference covering several days with the company officials. The mayor also brought back a recommendation from the water company, that attorneys for the city draw up a contract between the city and company for submitting the proposition to a vote of the people.

WELLS BOY FINDS NURSE IS FORMER SCHOOL TEACHER

William Swartze, Wounded and in Hospital in France, Is Waited on By His Former Instructor.

A QUEER COINCIDENCE

Miss Agnes Fleming Takes Up Nursing After Being Gone From This Vicinity and Joins Red Cross.

The old saying that the world is a small place after all, has again been demonstrated in the meeting of two former residents of Wells in France, under rather peculiar circumstances. The Mirror published a story on August 6 stating that Mr. and Mrs. William Swartze, of Wells, had been notified that their son Edward had been wounded in the fighting in France. Yesterday they received a letter from the young man himself stating that he was recovering nicely and that his wounds were not serious, but the greater part of the letter was devoted to his meeting with Miss Agnes Fleming, a former school teacher of Wells, who had at one time been a teacher of the Swartze boy.

He said that when the nurse came to give him attention her face seemed familiar but it never occurred to him at the time that she could be his former teacher. Later in the day he asked her, if she had ever been in Michigan and when she informed him she had taught school in Wells, he identified himself to her. The boy had grown out of the teacher's memory but they quickly established the fact that they were former pupil and teacher.

Amsterdam, Aug. 21.—Baron Buriel, Austro-Hungarian foreign minister today stated that the recent conference held at German headquarters between Emperor William of Germany and Emperor Charles of Austria and Emperor of Germany, was satisfactory in every way. It was stated that all questions regarding war and peace were discussed and there has been "no alteration in our peace program."

Plan of Attack Is Similar to That Which Brought Results Along Aisne and North of Montdidier.

PRESSURE VERY STRONG

Line Is Carried to Within Three Miles of Bapaume, An Important German Base in Northern Picardy Sector.

(Associated Press War Summary)

British forces struck over a front of ten miles southwest of Arras at dawn this morning. The assault was begun while covered by a mist which materially assisted the British in their advance. There was very brief artillery preparation and it would appear that the plan of attack is similar to that south of the Aisne on July 18 and north of Montdidier on August 8.

Dispatches state that the advance has carried the British line to within three miles of Bapaume, a German base in the northern Picardy sector. If the British drive continues to press back the Germans along the north side of the Picardy salient the enemy forces will be in a serious position. The enemy is resisting desperately as far north as Albert.

In the Flanders area the Germans are under heavy pressure. The British official report says that last night in an attack from St. Hubert's, northwest of Lens to the Lawe river, a distance of four miles, La Taurez, at about the middle of the line has been captured. This marks an advance of over one mile at this point.

Nearing Noyon

Paris, Aug. 21.—French troops have reached a point near Pontoise, two miles from Noyon. Later dispatches indicate that Allied pressure against the Germans is unrelenting and that Villers-Bretonneux has been reached.

British Reach Salency

London, Aug. 21.—French fighting forces have advanced three miles along the Oise and have reached Salency, one mile from Noyon, according to a report from the battle front. No further details of the fighting north of the Ancre have reached London, since noon. Reports of the capture of Alchete-Grand have not been confirmed.

TO BRING EXHIBITS TO ESCANABA FAIR FROM ACROSS BAY

Hansen & Jensen Boat Will Transport Small Livestock and Produce Without Expense to Farmers.

Arrangements have been made, it is announced, by the Northern State Fair Association to pay the cost of transporting exhibits from Fairport and Garden to Escanaba this year. Hansen & Jensen have agreed to use their boat to bring over smaller exhibits and will even handle crated live stock, such as calves hogs and sheep, as well as farm and garden produce. This arrangement will have a tendency to increase the number of exhibits and will give the people on the other side of the bay a chance to show what they are producing.

RED CROSS NEEDS MORE WORKERS IN ORDER TO SUCCEED

Local Chapter Is Far Behind in Its Quota, June and July Not Having Been Started As Yet.

Secretary J. E. Hyrns of the Red Cross request that a misapprehension exists with reference to the status of the work being done by the Red Cross. He stated today that in some quarters there is apparently a belief that the quotas have been filled and that plenty of work has been completed and shipment made to the Central division headquarters in Chicago.

As a matter of fact the Delta county chapter is far behind its quota, work on the June quota being just now in course of completion and the need for more workers is urgent.

Secretary Hyrns says that unless Delta county is to fall away behind the splendid record it established early in the campaign here, more ladies must enroll and do a certain amount of work either at Red Cross headquarters or at home. The July and August quotas are still untouched and both are heavy. Therefore the Red Cross appeals for more workers for this patriotic service.

Come Through Battle Without a Scratch and Claim "Fritz" Has Started Something He Can't Finish.

Letters received yesterday show that at least three Escanaba boys were in the thick of the fighting wherein the Germans were driven back from Rheims on July 15 and 16. The boys were glad to have come through their baptism of fire in good shape and express the typical American spirit in declaring that Fritz had started something he can't finish.

Gunner Depew

By Albert N. Depew Ex-Captain and Chief Petty Officer, U. S. Navy—Member of the Foreign Legion of France—Captain Gunner, French Battleship Casarez—Winner of the Croix de Guerre

Copyright, 1918, by Hillyer and Britton Co., Through Special Arrangement With the George Matthews Adams Service. (Continued From Yesterday.)

At first we were milling around trying to get out from under the hatch openings and the shower of spit, but some Limey officer sang out, "Brit-lishers all! Don't give way!" and we stood still and let them spit their damned German lungs out before we would move for them, and some Cornishmen began singing their song about Trelawney. So we made out that we did not know such a thing as a German ever lived.

We got better acquainted with German spitting later on, and believe me, they are great little spitters, not much on distance or accuracy, but quick in action and well supplied with ammunition. Spitting on prisoners is the favorite indoor and outdoor sport for Germans, men and women alike.

When the show was over, they roused us up on deck and put us to work throwing the salt pork and canned goods into two German mine-layers. While we were at it, a Danish patrol boat came out and tied alongside us, and some of her officers came aboard and saw us. They knew we were prisoners-of-war, and they knew that a vessel carrying prisoners-of-war must not remain in neutral waters for over twenty-four hours, but they did not say anything about it.

That night two men named Barney Hill and Joyce, the latter a gunner from the Mount Temple, sneaked up on deck and aft to the poop deck. There was a pair of wooden stairs leading to the top of the poop deck, and Joyce and Hill lifted it and got it over the side with a rope to it. The two of them got down into the water all right, but Joyce let out a yell because the water was so cold, and a German patrol boat heard him and flashed a searchlight. They picked up Joyce right away, but Barney was making good headway and was almost free when they dragged him in. They beat them up on the patrol boat, and when they put them back on the Yarrowdale Badewitz beat them up some more and put them in irons.

Then he began to shoot at their feet with his revolver, and he had a sailor stand by to hand him another revolver when the first one was empty. Then he would gash their faces with the barrel of the revolver and shout, "I'm Badewitz. I'm the man who fooled the English, and shoot at them some more.

A Cup of Water for Our New Year's Dinner. New Year's spree. Then we saw we were in for it, and all hope gone, but we were glad to be released from our hole, because we had been prisoners since December 10—three days on the Mowee and eighteen on the Yarrowdale—and the coal was not any better than when we first sat on it. So we began singing, "Pack up your troubles in your old kit bag and smits, boys, smits. What's the use of worrying? It's never worth while," and so forth. They made us shut up, but not before we asked ourselves if we were downhearted, and everybody yelled "No!" And that is how we gave our regards to Swinemunde.

CHAPTER XVIII.

"Pack Up Your Troubles." We arrived at Swinemunde, on the east bank, and after we had had our drink of water and had been roused back into the bunkers, Badewitz went across to the west side in a launch with Joyce and Hill and a guard of sailors. They were to be shot the next morning, with some others, at a public shooting-fest. The rest of us wrapped ourselves in lumps of coal as best we could and tried to sleep.

In the morning crowds of Germans came aboard us and were turned loose on the boxes in the hold. It was a sight to see them rip off the covers and gobble the salami and other stuff that we carried. Table manners are not needed when there is no table, I guess, but if you had seen them, you would say these Germans did not even have trough manners. I have seen hogs that were more finicky.

While they were at it, hand to hand with the chow, giving and receiving terrible punishment, we prisoners were mustered on deck, counted, kicked onto tugs and transferred to the west bank, where the mob was waiting for us. My wounds, as you can imagine, were in a pretty bad state by this time, and were getting more painful every minute, so that I found I was getting ugly and anxious for an argument. I knew that if I stayed this way I would probably never come out alive, for there is every chance you could want to pick a quarrel while you are a prisoner that will mean freedom for you—but only the freedom of going west, which I was not anxious to try.

When we got near the west bank, on the tugs, we could see that we were up against a battle with our arms tied. Over half the crowd was women and children, I should say, and the rest were laborers and old civvies, and reserve soldiers, and roughnecks generally. We could see the spit experts—the spit snipers, deployed to the front, almost.

As we went ashore, the bombardment began, and we were not only under fire of spit, if you could call it that, but also of rocks and bottles and sticks and most anything that could be thrown.

All this time, "lest you forget," we had no shoes, and no clothing—only what had once been our underwear. It is all right to be a Coney Island snowbird and pose around in your bathing suit in the drifts, because you are in good condition, and last but not least, because you do not have to do it. Figure out the other side of it for yourself.

They marched us into a field where there was nothing but guns and ammunition and snow, and set us up in something like skirmish formation. We stood there for some time, and then we saw a lot of Huns with the new long rifles coming toward us, yelling just as they did in battle, and we thought sure we were being used for practice targets. It is a good thing they halted and stopped yelling when they did, or we would have started for them to fight it out, for we were not the kind that likes to be butchered with hands in the air, and we would have been glad for a chance to get a few of them before they got us. But they did halt, and then surrounded us, and drilled us away through swamps and woods and shallow water or slush. The women followed, too, and there were plenty of bricks and spit left. Women as well as men are the same the world over, they say. I wonder? You can just picture the women of, say, Rockland, Me., following a crowd of German prisoners that way, can't you? Not! But of course the women of Rockland are pretty crude—no Kultur at all—and Gott never commissioned President Wilson to take the lid off the strafe pot for him.

They drilled us along the docks, and it looked as though the whole German navy was tied up at Swinemunde. We saw many of the ships we had heard about, among them being the famous Vulcan, the mother-ship for submarines. There were many sailors loafing along the docks, and they gave the women a hand with their days' work. They were no better with a brick, but they had more ammunition when it came to spitting. One of them tripped a young boy by the name of Kelly, and as you would never doubt, Kelly picked up a rock and crashed the sailor with it. He was then bayoneted twice in the left leg. We began singing then, our popular favorite, "Pack up your troubles," etc., and when they heard us, how the swine stared!

BIG INCREASE IN NUMBER OF WOMEN EMPLOYED IN FRANCE

Female Labor Used For Industries Now Never Before Thought Of In That Country (BY ASSOCIATED PRESS) Paris, Aug. 21—Women employed in all branches of industry in France number 626,000, according to an official report. This compares with 487,000 employed in normal times. This increase is due almost entirely to the employment of women in metal industries, chiefly in munition works. The weight which women can be required to carry in factory work is limited by law to 55 pounds. Women are widely employed for the inspection of finished goods, they examine separate parts for automobiles; verify light shells, fuses and grenade plugs. They inspect big shells externally and internally by the use of electric lamps and they test the caliber using complicated measuring apparatus and microscopes. They nail up cases of all kinds, even cases for airplanes and automobiles. The women supervise the buildings where men are at work and keep them clean.

Washington CRISPS Waffles! A New Use for the PERFECT Toasted Corn Flakes—the Breakfast Dish of a Nation

SO MANY people are apt to think of Toasted Corn Flakes in terms of a breakfast food only, little dreaming that they have varied uses in cooking that make them of genuine help in food conservation.

And yet, thousands of American Women by entering into the spirit of our Nineteen Seventeen $500 Prize Recipe Contest, have proved beyond a doubt that New Processed corn flakes can be used in practically every recipe that calls for wheat flour, saving as much as 35 to 45% of the original quantity.

Above you will see pictured Washington CRISPS Waffles, winner of the first prize of $500 in Gold. The winners of the second and third prizes will appear later in this series. Watch for them. Of course you will want copies of these now famous recipes. Your local grocer has them, in convenient booklet form, but if his supply has been exhausted we will be delighted to send you one for the asking. Our booklet will also tell you how to win Gold and Fame by entering your favorite recipes in our 1918 Contest.

Grandma Used Sage Tea To Darken Hair
She mixed Sulphur with it to Restore Color, Gloss, Youthfulness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

"This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite and is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease."

The finest New Year celebration in the world is in Japan and China, where before the clock strikes New Year's eve, every debt and account must be paid. No good Chinaman & Jap ever thinks of entering the new year with an unpaid bill. Would that we might emulate that form of celebration!—Ladies' Home Journal.

PARIS IS GAY DESPITE WAR
People Accept All Privations in Cheerful Mood, Swiss Writer Says.

EVERY ONE SAVES FOOD
Posters Remind Citizens That Conservation Will Hasten American Army, by Reducing Cargo Space in Shipping.

Berne.—The correspondent of the Berne Bund sends his paper a description of life in Paris, which is published under the caption, "War Life in France; Paris as It Eats and Saves." The article says: "Who would have thought possible before the war a world city in existence two days' march behind the battle front? During the first war weeks, after the government's departure to Bordeaux, Paris had been somewhat deserted. But since then everything is back. The big hotels never did better than just now. In the streets there is a traffic that has never been beaten. The stranger notices the many uniforms; he thinks the French capital a big army camp, where military men from all corners of the world meet.

Used to Uniforms.
"The Parisian long ago became used to the uniforms and forgot that once there was a time when women were the only ones who added color to a street scene. Men get used to everything. After a while one found the dark streets quite natural. One paid the high war prices without blinking. One submitted to the necessity of a sugar card and learned to get along with a moderate coal supply in winter.

"Lately, however, the Parisian experienced things that reminded him of the war rather impressively. The latest visit of German airplanes resulted in energetic measures for protection. At all the beautiful monuments and bags are piled high. On many large buildings tablets are posted saying there is a bombproof cellar there and how many people it will shelter. When darkness appears Paris wraps itself in a blue veil, which is very becoming.

"The electric arc lights, the gas lanterns of all descriptions are painted blue. In tram cars, in the subway, in the suburban trains the light is blue. Brisk auto traffic is not without danger under such circumstances.

Practice Economy.
"Measures of economy are now taken up in earnest. Who wants to drink sweet coffee in the cafe has to bring his own sugar or be satisfied with the saccharine tablet the waiter will hand him. Cakes, pastry and candy are not made any longer. Confectioners are put entirely out of business. The tea houses, too, are in a bad fix. No more sugar or sweetmeats, not even sandwiches, are to be had. And two francs for such a cup of tea is a pretty good price.

"The authorities figure everybody will be sensible enough to see that saving is the patriotic duty of every non-combatant. Clever posters tell the people transportation of food takes up cargo space that ought to be used for American troops and war material. So every citizen can see he will hasten the arrival of American help and thus support the French polity by his own moderation and abstemiousness."

HUNDREDS KILLED IN PETROGRAD IN RIOTING FOR FOOD
Lettish Guards Shoot Down Workingmen Who Rebel Against Condition Of Starvation in Russia

London, Aug. 21—Hundreds of people were killed and wounded in a battle between Lettish guards and rioters in the food disorders in Petrograd, according to an exchange despatch to Amsterdam. CITY EMPLOYEES ARE GIVEN SALARY BOOST
That the salaries of employees of the municipal lighting plant aside from the office force, be raised, was recommended last night by the finance committee of the city council. A raise of eleven percent over the present salary was thought advisable and this has already been approved by the Board of Public Works.

Light Facilities Will Be Extended
Extension of electric light wires to the city limits on the Ford River road, was recommended at the council meeting last night. This recommendation follows a petition for that purpose and the new arrangement will furnish light in badly needed places in that section.

M. and Mrs. Frank Piron of Green Bay are guests at the Piron Home on Hale Street.
