BRITISH FORCES ARE SWEEPING ON

MENACING WEDGE DRIVEN INTO THE DOUAI-CAMBRAI LINE BY ALLIED FORCES

Enemy Must Stop British on Canal Line if He Hopes to Save His Vital Positions in the West.

FOE ACTS IN MACEDONIA

Drives Furious Smash at Entente Forces Along Vardar River with No Apparent Success At This Time.

British forces have driven home their push through the Woten line as far as the Canal Du Nord and as yet their progress is unchecked. Already the wedge driven in the German defense in the sector between the railroad centers of Douai and Cambrai, is a menacing one to the enemy who must stop the British on the canal line if he hopes to save the vital points of the German positions in the west.

While the west front battle is in full swing with the Germans hard pressed, news comes of an attack delivered by the Central Powers along the Vardar river in Macedonia. This attack may be an attempt at diversion on the part of the Central Powers, as its development would threaten the allied base at Saloniki. This attack, however, has had no important result up to this time.

Lens Evacuated. London, Sept. 4.—(4:25 P. M.)—The city of Lens has been definitely evacuated by the Germans according to a report received from North France today. The British have refrained from occupying Lens only because of the gas fumes remaining. Patrols, however, have made progress against the fumes and have entered the city, finding it clear of the enemy.

The Germans contemplate a general retirement from the Vesle region where they are facing Americans and French along the river, according to indications reported from the battle front today. Recent Franco-American successes in the south have apparently promoted this move.

The British have secured their hold on the west bank of the canal Du Nord by taking Rumaucourt to the north of Salmes-Marquois, according to advices from the battle front. North of the Somme the British have crossed the canal at Hautallines, two miles north of Peronne. Further south along the canal towns reported captured are Inchy-en-Artois, Demicourt, to the east of Doignes and Harmers, three miles southeast of Bertincourt.

Midway between Nieppe and Sully in the Lys salient, the British have captured the village of Croix du Bac. Since the opening of the Franco-British operations on Aug. 8, no less than 97 German divisions have been engaged on the battle line.

Germans Retreating. With the French Army in Franco, Sept. 4.—Noon—The Germans are in retreat from the front east of the canal Du Nord. French cavalry was in pursuit during last night and this morning had pushed to within two miles of Guescard, on the Noyon-Ham road.

PREPARATIONS COMPLETE FOR BIG STATE FAIR

Splendid Free Attractions, a Fine Racing Program, Many Paid Shows and Unusual Stock and Vegetable Display

The management of the Delta County Agricultural Society are now in a position to announce a complete contract for attractions at this year's Fair.

The free attraction will consist of a large number of Wild West Cowboy acts, such as roping cattle, wild and reckless horse back riding, races between cowboys and girls, riding bucking bronches, throwing the lasso, showing the use of the Bull Stock and Australian wips, picking up objects off the ground from horse's back running at full speed, western justice to the horse thief in the way of lynch law, riding of the pony express showing how the U. S. mail was carried before railroads were built and many other startling and daring feats that require years of training upon the Western plains and ranches.

There will also be a large number of paid shows on the ground, Merry-go-Round and Ferris Wheel, dog and pony circus, pit show and other interesting attractions. A large number of clean concessions are expected, all of which will tend to make the Fair Grounds an interesting place to be, both an entertaining and educational standpoint.

WILLIAM KRATZE IS BREAKING RECORDS AS A PRODUCER OF PEAS

Well Known Merchant Gets a Wonderful Yield Which Wickert Wants to Make a Little Bet About. William Kratze, city farmer, has plumb wrecked all marrowfat pea record and Will Wickert is willing to stake a fine new bonnet that not another farmer in the county can bet this record. Mr. Kratze planted a bushel and one peck of seed from which he threshed 16 1/2 bushels of peas, the biggest yield ever recorded in this section, so far as any interested party now knows. Incidentally this is speaking wonders for the productivity of Cloverland soil.

FLAT ROCK MAN HAS NARROW ESCAPE FROM BLAST OF DYNAMITE

Thomas Richer, a farmer of the Flat Rock vicinity, lost a thumb, had both hands rather badly lacerated and really had a narrow escape from death yesterday, while blasting stumps on his farm. Mr. Richer approached a stump in which a charge of dynamite had not exploded at the proper time, and the delayed explosion occurred while he was within a few feet of it. It was found necessary to amputate the thumb of one hand and both were badly torn by flying debris.

PREPARING FOR REGISTRATION OF MEN OF 18 TO 45

Local Draft Board Will Hold Registration at Usual Voting Places of County on September 12.

AN ARGUMENT SETTLED

Law Says Men Who Have Not Attained Their Forty-Sixth Birthday Will Be Required to Register. Officials of the Delta County Draft Board are now busily preparing for the forthcoming registration on Sept. 12, for military service of all men between the ages of 18 and 45, inclusive. On this point there has been much discussion generally. It has been contended that a man over 45 would not be required to register but the law governing the case effectually settles all argument by declaring "Persons shall be subject to registration who shall have attained their 18th birthday on or before the date of registration." That would seem to settle this point. If a man is not over 45 he will be required to register.

It has been determined that the places for registration shall be the usual places where voting is done at regular elections, except in the first ward in the city of Escanaba. In this case residents of both the first and second wards who register will do so at the Carnegie Public Library. This is the only change from the regular voting places.

And there are still more coming. Mr. Doak says he will have to increase his seating capacity by rearranging some of his equipment, before the end of the present week. The first day is regarded as being highly encouraging and as indicating the high esteem in which this school is held by the young men and women of this community.

DRAFT BOARD IS URGING YOUTH TO GET BUSY QUICK

Boys Who Registered Aug. 24 Must Return Questionnaires or Take Chance on Being Inducted Immediately. The Delta county draft board is rather disappointed at the laxity of the young men who registered for military service on August 24, in returning their questionnaires. Out of 47 young men who had attained 21 years of age at that time, and registered and unless the others come in within a day or two, the remaining 17 are more than likely to be placed in class one and inducted into the service at once.

The examination of men who registered August 24 has been set for September 9 and 10 and they would arrange to appear for examination on those dates whether they receive notices or not. If they are certain they will be placed in class one, this matter should not be overlooked, and as a matter of fact, the majority of the young men who registered are more than likely to go into the first class. All questionnaires should be returned immediately.

REDUCED RATES TO BE GIVEN BY ROADS FOR ESCANABA FAIR

The Government management of railroads have authorized all railroads to grant a reduced fare to all persons attending the County Fair at Escanaba, September 10th to 13th. Every one should now look forward to coming to the 1918 Fair. It will be the best Fair ever held in the Upper Peninsula. Those wishing more information regarding railroad rates should apply to their local ticket agent.

Gunner Depew

Ex-Gunner and Chief Petty Officer, U.S. Navy—Member of the Foreign Legion of France—Captain Gunner, French Battleship Cassard—Winner of the Croix de Guerre

Copyright, 1918, by Reilly and Britton Co., Through Special Arrangement With the George Matthews Adams Service.

I took Swatts' broom and cleaned up, and then asked where the coal of wood was. This got a great laugh. It was quite humorous to the men who had shivered there for weeks, maybe, but to me it was about as funny as a cry for help. I got wood though, before I had been there long.

There was a great big cupboard that looked more like a small house, built against the wall of the hospital barracks in one corner of the room, and not far from the stove. Kate was the only patient able to be on his feet, so I thought he would have to be my chief cook and bottle washer for a while; and, besides, there was something about him that made him look pretty valuable. I had not recognized his whistling yet, so Slim looked to be the right name for him.

"Slim, what's that big cupboard for?"
"How'd I know? Nuthin' in it."
"Slim, that would make a fine box for coal or wood, wouldn't it?"
"Um. Whar de coal an' wood?"
"I'm going out and take observations, Slim. Take the wheel while I'm gone, and keep your eye peeled for U-boats." So I sneaked out the door and began looking around.

If you look at the sketch I have made, it will not take you long to see that next to us was a vacated Russian barracks. And it did not take me much longer to see it, too. Back to the hospital and Slim.
"Slim, what barracks are next to us?"
"Russian burrucks, only dey ain't dere now. Been sick."
"And you mean to tell me you don't know where to get wood?"
"Sick men been in dem burrucks."
"Sick men here, aren't there? Let's go."

That did the trick. The black boy would watch from the hospital windows until he saw the coast was clear, then we would slip into the barracks next door, and he would watch again. When there was no sentry near enough to hear us, crash! and out would come a dividing board from the bunks. When we had an armful apiece, and had broken them up to the right lengths, all we needed was a little more watching, and then back to the hospital and the big cupboard. Later on, our men told me they used to watch the spoke that poured from the hospital chimney all the time and wonder where on earth we got the wood.
We got the same kind of food in the hospital that was served in the other barracks, and I would not have had any more than I used to, except that sometimes some of the twenty-six patients could not eat their share, and then, of course, it was mine. One day, though, we all had extra rations.

Two Russian doctors came to visit us each day, and once they were foolish enough, or kind enough, to ask if we had received our rations—we had received them earlier than usual and they were finished at the time. Of course, I said no, so they ordered the Russian in the kitchen to deliver twenty-eight rations to us, which was not quite three loaves of bread. We were that much ahead that day, but it could not work when I tried the trick again.

One day a German doctor came to the hospital barracks. He would not touch anything while he was there—not even open the door. All of the patients had little cards attached to their beds—charts of their condition. When the German wanted to see these charts the Russian doctor's had to hold them for him.
I was having a great time at the hospital, wrecking the barracks next door each day for wood, along with Kate, and getting a little more food sometimes, and was always nice and warm. I thought myself quite a pet. Compared to what I had been up against, it seemed like real comfort. But the more food I got, the more I wanted. And it was food that brought me down, after all.

Across from us was a barracks in which there were English officers, and somehow it seemed to me that they must have had a drag. Every once in a while I saw what looked like vegetables and logs of something that was a dead ringer for brown flour. So I told Slim, or Kate, as I was calling him by then, and with him on guard, I sneaked out.

After two or three false starts, I got over our barbed wire and their barbed wire, and in through a window.
There I saw carrots! And graham flour!
I took all I could carry, to divide up with Kate, and then started eating, so as not to waste anything. It was certainly some feast—the only thing besides mud bread and barley coffee and "shadow" soup that I had to eat in Germany. Then I started back to the hospital. I got over their barbed wire all right, and Kate gave me the go-ahead for our entanglements, but just as I was going over them a sentry nabbed me. At first I thought Kate had turned traitor, because we had had a little argument a short time before.

But later on I figured that he would not have done a trick like that, and besides, he knew I was bringing him something to eat. So the sentry must have sneaked up without Kate seeing him. Who got the carrots and graham flour that I was carrying I do not know. The sentries booted me all the way back to my old barracks.

"MYSTERY SHIP" IS INSPECTED BY ENGLISH RULER

Press Is Permitted to State Nothing Other Than That She Is An "Airplane Carrier."

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)

With The Grand Fleet, Sept. 4.—Visiting the Fleet this week King George inspected a "mystery" ship which is a puzzle to the enemy. Reference to her peculiarities is officially restricted to the statement that "she is an airplane carrier."

This carrier was concerned in the recent attack on the airships at Tondern. She reached a suitable point off the German coast in the small hours of the morning and a number of airplanes were sent up with the object of destroying Zeppelin hangers at Tondern.

Captain Dixon at Tondern in the early hours of the morning and came so low in searching for hangers that at one time he was within 50 feet of the ground.

He found Tondern very much asleep and flew over the main street unmolested, seeing only one human being on a farm cart who waved a cordial greeting.

Observing what he believed to be a hanger, Captain Dixon released one bomb from a height of 300 feet and received a shock when a munition dump exploded. He immediately made out the Zeplin sheds and unloaded his remaining bombs which caused a fierce fire.

A heavy barrage was then put up by the enemy but Captain Dixon flew off and reached home after three hours in the air.

The barrage indicated to other attacking planes where to operate and another machine piloted by Captain Smart, who was decorated by the King later, attacked and accounted for the second Zeppelin shed.

Why Iron Chimney Stacks Corrode.
The cause of corrosion of galvanized iron extensions to chimneys is laid generally to condensation which forms inside the stack, and which in conjunction with the carbon which has been deposited in use, creates a galvanic action which soon destroys the zinc coating and finally eats through the iron or steel base. To prevent the condensation an air space around the stack is recommended. The stack is made double from the base to a point close to the top, with small iron braces between the inner and outer casings. These may be riveted close to the ends of the sheets in course of construction. The air space may be one or two inches, according to size of smokestack, and local conditions.—Scientific American.

A Serviceable Piano.
A prominent musician tells some funny yarns.
One relates to his experience in finding suitable instruments when on a tour.
On one occasion at a small place where he was due to appear he inquired where he could hire a piano, and found that the only one available was an ancient looking instrument in a small shop.
He asked if he could borrow it for his performance.
"You could not play on it, leastways, not as it is," replied the owner, "for it's full of books." Jim," he bawled, "where's the inside of this piano?"
And Jim's voice from upstairs, replied: "Ain't it out in the garden?"

Delicious and Nourishing Foods That You Can Make With Washington CRISPS—The Popular Breakfast Cereal

TOASTED Corn Flakes for general cooking purposes?
Yes indeed.

Our New Process of toasting and flaking has greatly increased the number of ways to use and enjoy Washington CRISPS—for many years the favored breakfast cereal of a Nation.

Today it is hard to think of a single recipe that cannot be improved by including CRISPS, either whole or crushed. And while we do not call them a substitute for wheat flour their use does nevertheless cut down the quantity of flour required for making bread, pastry, custards and the like.

The Washington CRISPS Raisin Bread pictured above won the second prize of $100 in our recent Contest. You will find the recipe for this famous War-bread and thirteen other recipes—all prize winners—in our booklet just off the press. Ask your grocer for a copy. SALTS IF BACKACHE AND KIDNEYS HURT

Drink lots of water and stop eating meat for a while if your bladder troubles you.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delicious, refreshing lithia-water drink.

BRAVERY COST MAN HIS JOB

Chicago Teamster Who Caught Robber Is Fired by His Employer.

Chicago.—Fred Krehoff, teamster for a mercantile firm in Chicago, caught Fred de Sands, a red-pepper bandit, and saved a payroll of $4,500 taken by De Sands from an employee of another Chicago business house. Krehoff was commended for his bravery, at police headquarters, and a few hours later he returned with a doleful look on his face.

"What's the matter with you?" asked the captain.

"My boss told me I was paid to drive a wagon, not to chase payroll bandits," replied Krehoff. "I lost two hours in coming to the station with my thief and when I got back I was fired."

Captain Weagher thought it over. The next day Ruppert reported again, as requested, and heard the announcement:

"We need men like you on the police force. Go get a uniform."

Stephen Ruppert, in the employ of a clothing concern, was on his way to the store to pay the men when De Sands took the money, after throwing pepper in the messenger's eyes. Krehoff heard Ruppert's agonized cries, jumped from his wagon, and, single-handed, caught the thief, merely laughing when the robber pulled a gun and threatened to shoot.

PLIES HIS TRADE WHILE BEING TAKEN TO PRISON

San Francisco.—Patrick Murray, mechanic by trade, but pick-pocket by avocation, according to the police, is facing a penitentiary term as the result of his following Sherlock Holmes' injunction to do just the opposite from what is expected. Murray was picked up by a patrolman on suspicion. With a number of others he was placed in a patrol wagon. Keeping his eye on the guard he deftly abstracted several articles from the pocket of the man next to him. The chauffeur of the "hurry-up wagon" saw the whole performance, and when the prison was reached Murray was charged with grand larceny.

WILD CHASE AFTER COYOTE

Farmer Clad Only in Nightgown Pursues Animal Who Stole His Chickens.

Smith Center, Kan.—Chasing a coyote carrying a pair of fat hens in its mouth for a distance of half a mile in zero weather, clad only in his nightgown and overshoes, was the stunt staged by Ernest Barnes, a farmer near here.

Charles Hartsook, a neighbor, aroused by the noise of the chase, rushed out and bowled the coyote over with a stick.

Barnes went home in triumph, carrying the two hens and the dead coyote.

READY TO FILL MEN'S PLACES

Pueblo Women Are Drilling Regularly in Preparation for Any Emergency That May Arise.

Pueblo, Colo.—To prove that more than one Pueblo woman is capable of filling the shoes of mere man, 300 local young women are organizing in preparation for any emergency that may arise as a result of the war.

Drills are being conducted twice weekly for girls and women who want to be ready to guard the local steel and smelter plants or serve as police and firemen in case the man power of Pueblo is depleted by enlistments.

Ten-Year-Old Girl Saved Train. Mankato, Minn.—Using a part of her dress as a flag, ten-year-old Irene Murphy of Mankato, Minn., flagged an Omaha train, stopping it within ten feet of a pile of ties which she had seen a negro place on the track. The obstruction would have thrown the train into the river.

COUNTY SENDS ON MORE MEN TO AID IN WINNING WAR

Contingent of Boys Who Were Twenty-One in June Leave For Camp Custer on Northwestern Last Night.

Another delegation of approximately 40 young men left Escanaba last night for Camp Custer to enter training for military service. The usual patriotic spirit was manifest on all hands and a great crowd had assembled at the station to bid the boys farewell and wish them well.

The members of this contingent were virtually all members of the class which registered on June 5, and it is expected that this entire enrollment will be exhausted by the end of the present month.

John Seymour, motorcycle racer, was selected as military policeman in charge of the contingent. Company F, was present as usual as a military escort for the boys and parents and relatives thronged the platform as usual to bid their loved ones God speed. The boys were sent away with hearty cheers and smiles and laughter were the final visible feelings traced on their memories.

This was the first of the class of 1918 registrants called.
