

AUSTRIA PROPOSES PEACE CONFERENCE; GERMANY IS FLIRTING WITH BELGIUM

WOULD DISCUSS TERMS IN SOME NEUTRAL COUNTRY IF BELLIGERENTS WILL AGREE

Germany Agrees, According to Information Received in Washington Today, to withdraw to Belgian Frontier Which She Violated, If Belgium Will Remain Neutral For Remainder of the War.

GERMANY DISCLAIMS HAVING PART IN PROPOSITION BEING MADE BY AUSTRIA

Washington Sees More Than a Mere Coincidence in the Offers of Austria and Reported Activity of Germany and Believes Desperate "Peace Offensive" Is Now Well Under Way.

While Austria was preparing a note to the belligerent nations, proposing that they meet in an informal conference in a neutral country to discuss peace terms, Germany stood ready to make a separate peace with Belgium. It is known that Germany's proposition to Belgium was that if she would remain neutral during the remainder of the war, Germany would withdraw to the Belgian front which she violated in August, 1914.

It is affirmed from Berlin that the Austrian government is acting on its own initiative. However, the offer of Germany points to what may be said to be more than a coincidence and it is considered probable that a new and "desperate peace offensive" is now well under way.

Along the battle line, American attention is directed at the front in Lorraine where the Americans are under fire from the forts at Metz and the Kreimhold line, to which the Germans withdrew their shattered columns from the St. Mihiel salient. The Americans are now on the threshold of Germany on this front. The victory of Gen. Pershing's forces can in no sense of the word be considered merely local. The Germans have been seriously weakened by the blow dealt them on the heights of the Meuse while to the west they must adapt themselves to the new menace. The German retirement in the Flanders area is still on, the British pressing the enemy closely as he attempts to extricate himself from his perilous position in this salient.

Ordered By Emperor.

Amsterdam, Sept. 16.—The note in which Austria invites belligerent nations to send representatives to a peace conference in a neutral country, was dispatched by Baron Burian on an order from Emperor Charles, of Austria, according to the Cologne Volks Zeitung.

According to a dispatch received here from Berlin, the peace initiative should have been left to the entente allies. The Lokal Anzeiger says, "after our experience with peace proposals, we cannot help but feel skeptical."

Blinds Austria Alone.

Paris, Sept. 16.—It is reported from Berlin semi-official sources that Foreign Minister Burian's note inviting belligerent nations to conference for the tentative discussion of peace proposals, constitutes an act which is binding on Austria alone. Germany denies any part in having drawn up the note.

CANDIDATE O'DESS SPILLED FROM CAR BUT IS NOT HURT

Car Turns Turtle While Driver is Endeavoring to Avoid a Collision at Charlotte and Ludington Streets.

Frank O'Dess had a rather thrilling experience late Saturday afternoon in which the wind shield on his auto mobile was shattered but he escaped without injury. He was driving east on Ludington street when, in order to avoid a collision with C. J. Woodport at Charlotte street, he swerved sharply to the left. The wheels of his car lodged in the street car track and turned over, throwing O'Dess, M. Peron and Joe Collins out. All escaped injury. Frank says a little thing like that couldn't possibly hurt a man who has just completed a successful race against seven other candidates for the Republican nomination for sheriff.

LUMBERJACK WITH BOOZE IS HELD TO THE CIRCUIT COURT

Felix Rivers, a lumberjack was held to the circuit court Saturday evening in Judge Glaser's court in lieu of giving $200 bond for being captured with a quart of "Old Crow." He will be held pending the action of the circuit court unless he manages to give bond in the meantime.

NOBLE WOMAN IS CALLED BY DEATH SUNDAY MORNING

Mrs. Harry C. Work Passes Away at Her Home After an Illness Covering Period of Several Years.

FUNERAL TO BE PRIVATE

Prominent Church Worker Called to Her Eternal Reward After Long and Patient Suffering.

Mrs. Florence A. Work, wife of Harry C. Work, passed peacefully away at the family home, 614 South Georgia street Sunday morning shortly after five o'clock. Mrs. Work's death brought relief from suffering which she had bravely and patiently bore for the past three years, exhibiting cheerfulness and christian fortitude which were endearing to those around her and a natural expression of her countless lovable qualities.

Mrs. Work was a noble, christian woman whose passing will be marked by more than the usual sorrow, as she had been prominent in church and Sunday School work here the past 19 years, being an active member of the Presbyterian church and one of its staunchest supporters. Quiet, unassuming, unostentatious this lovable woman went about her daily tasks and her charitable enterprises in a manner which endeared her to hundreds of Escanabans and a feeling of most profound regret will be occasioned by her death.

Surviving her are her husband, Harry C. Work, a popular and well known traveling salesman, and one daughter, Josephine, about nine years of age. She is also survived by two sisters, Mrs. Anna White and Miss Fannie Hunt, of Hanover, Ill., and three brothers, William Hunt, of Kansas; Earl Hunt, of Fargo, N. D., and Elmer Hunt, of Fredericksburg, Iowa.

Funeral services will be held at the home Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock, and in accordance with a request by Mrs. Work, will be private. Rev. R. Stanley Brown, pastor of the Presbyterian church will officiate and interment will be made at Lake View cemetery.

Reorganized Serb Army Strikes Blow Against Bulgarians

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)

Washington, D. Starting yesterday, after artillery preparation the French and Serbians moved forward and aimed all their objectives, being reported as still advancing today.

WAR RELIC TRAIN ARRIVES TONIGHT AT SEVEN O'CLOCK

Great Exhibit of Captured War Material To Be In Escanaba On Special Train Four Hours This Evening.

A GREAT BAND CONCERT

Great Lakes Naval Training Station Band to Accompany Government Train on Journey To This City.

The people of Escanaba and vicinity are to be given an opportunity between 7 and 11 o'clock this evening, which may never again come to them, to get some vague notion of some of the death dealing devices used in the war. In order to stimulate interest in the various Liberty Loans, the government has at great expense prepared and is sending out over the country what is known as a war relic train. This train carries various articles of warfare captured in France. The exhibit also contains a few of the means of offense and defense on which the United States is depending to win the war.

The train is composed of five coaches and is accompanied by government speakers who explain the exhibits and explain the loan, what the burden of the nation is, what the duty of the citizen is and, in a word, talk war in such a way that people will more clearly understand its horrors and its stern necessities. The exhibits are so arranged that crowds can pass in and out of the cars, or alongside the cars, carrying the mounted field pieces and see it all, while the speakers tell where, when and under what circumstances the guns were captured.

This train will arrive at 7 o'clock tonight on the Northwestern and will be switched to the team track at the North end of Sarah street where it is expected a great crowd will turn out. The train will remain here until 11 o'clock and depart over the Soo line.

No man or woman who can possibly get out should fail to see this exhibit. It is more interesting and as vital as the Liberty bell which has been viewed by millions of Americans on its various journeys across the country, and right now more than at any time in history, these relics possess a peculiarly significant meaning to everyone within the borders of the United States.

Company F will turn out, and as a matter of pleasure and entertainment for the crowds, a band from the Great Lakes naval training station will be present to furnish inspiring and patriotic music.

Be there early. See it all. It will be something to tell the children about and you should not miss it.

HINDENBURG LINE NOT SUCH AN INSUPERABLE OBSTACLE AS PREDICTED

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)

Washington, D. C., Sept. 16.—The celebrated Hindenberg line or Siegfried line, barring the Allies' road to Berlin, has been compared by the German leaders to the great wall of China. Until the British broke it in the spring of 1917 they believed it impregnable to assault as was once the Chinese wall and regarded it as the eighth wonder of the world. The Hindenberg line as generally defined is about 20 miles long running in a general north and south direction across the Picardy Plains in France. Its northern extremity was guarded by the heavily fortified bastion of Vimy Ridge and by the mining city of Lens whose underground

The Enemy Is Watching

By NEWTON D. BAKER, Secretary of War

The supreme moments of our struggle with Germany have now come.

We have carried our first armies across three thousand miles of ocean and joined the issue of battle with the military power of a nation that has been for forty years preparing its plans and its weapons for its present attempt to dominate the world. We have had to put forth an immense effort and spend a fabulous sum in order to make, in so short a time, an adequate beginning for our gigantic task.

But it is only our beginning. We must follow it with greater energy and support it with increasing power. Men, munitions, ships and supplies must go to Europe in a larger and larger stream. We must redouble our blows and add constantly to the strength of those blows, if our initial effort is not to be wasted.

This Means That Our Fourth Liberty Loan Must Be Larger Than Its Predecessors, More Enthusiastically Supported and More Quickly Than Ever Subscribed

The enemy is watching anxiously for the first sign that we are faltering.

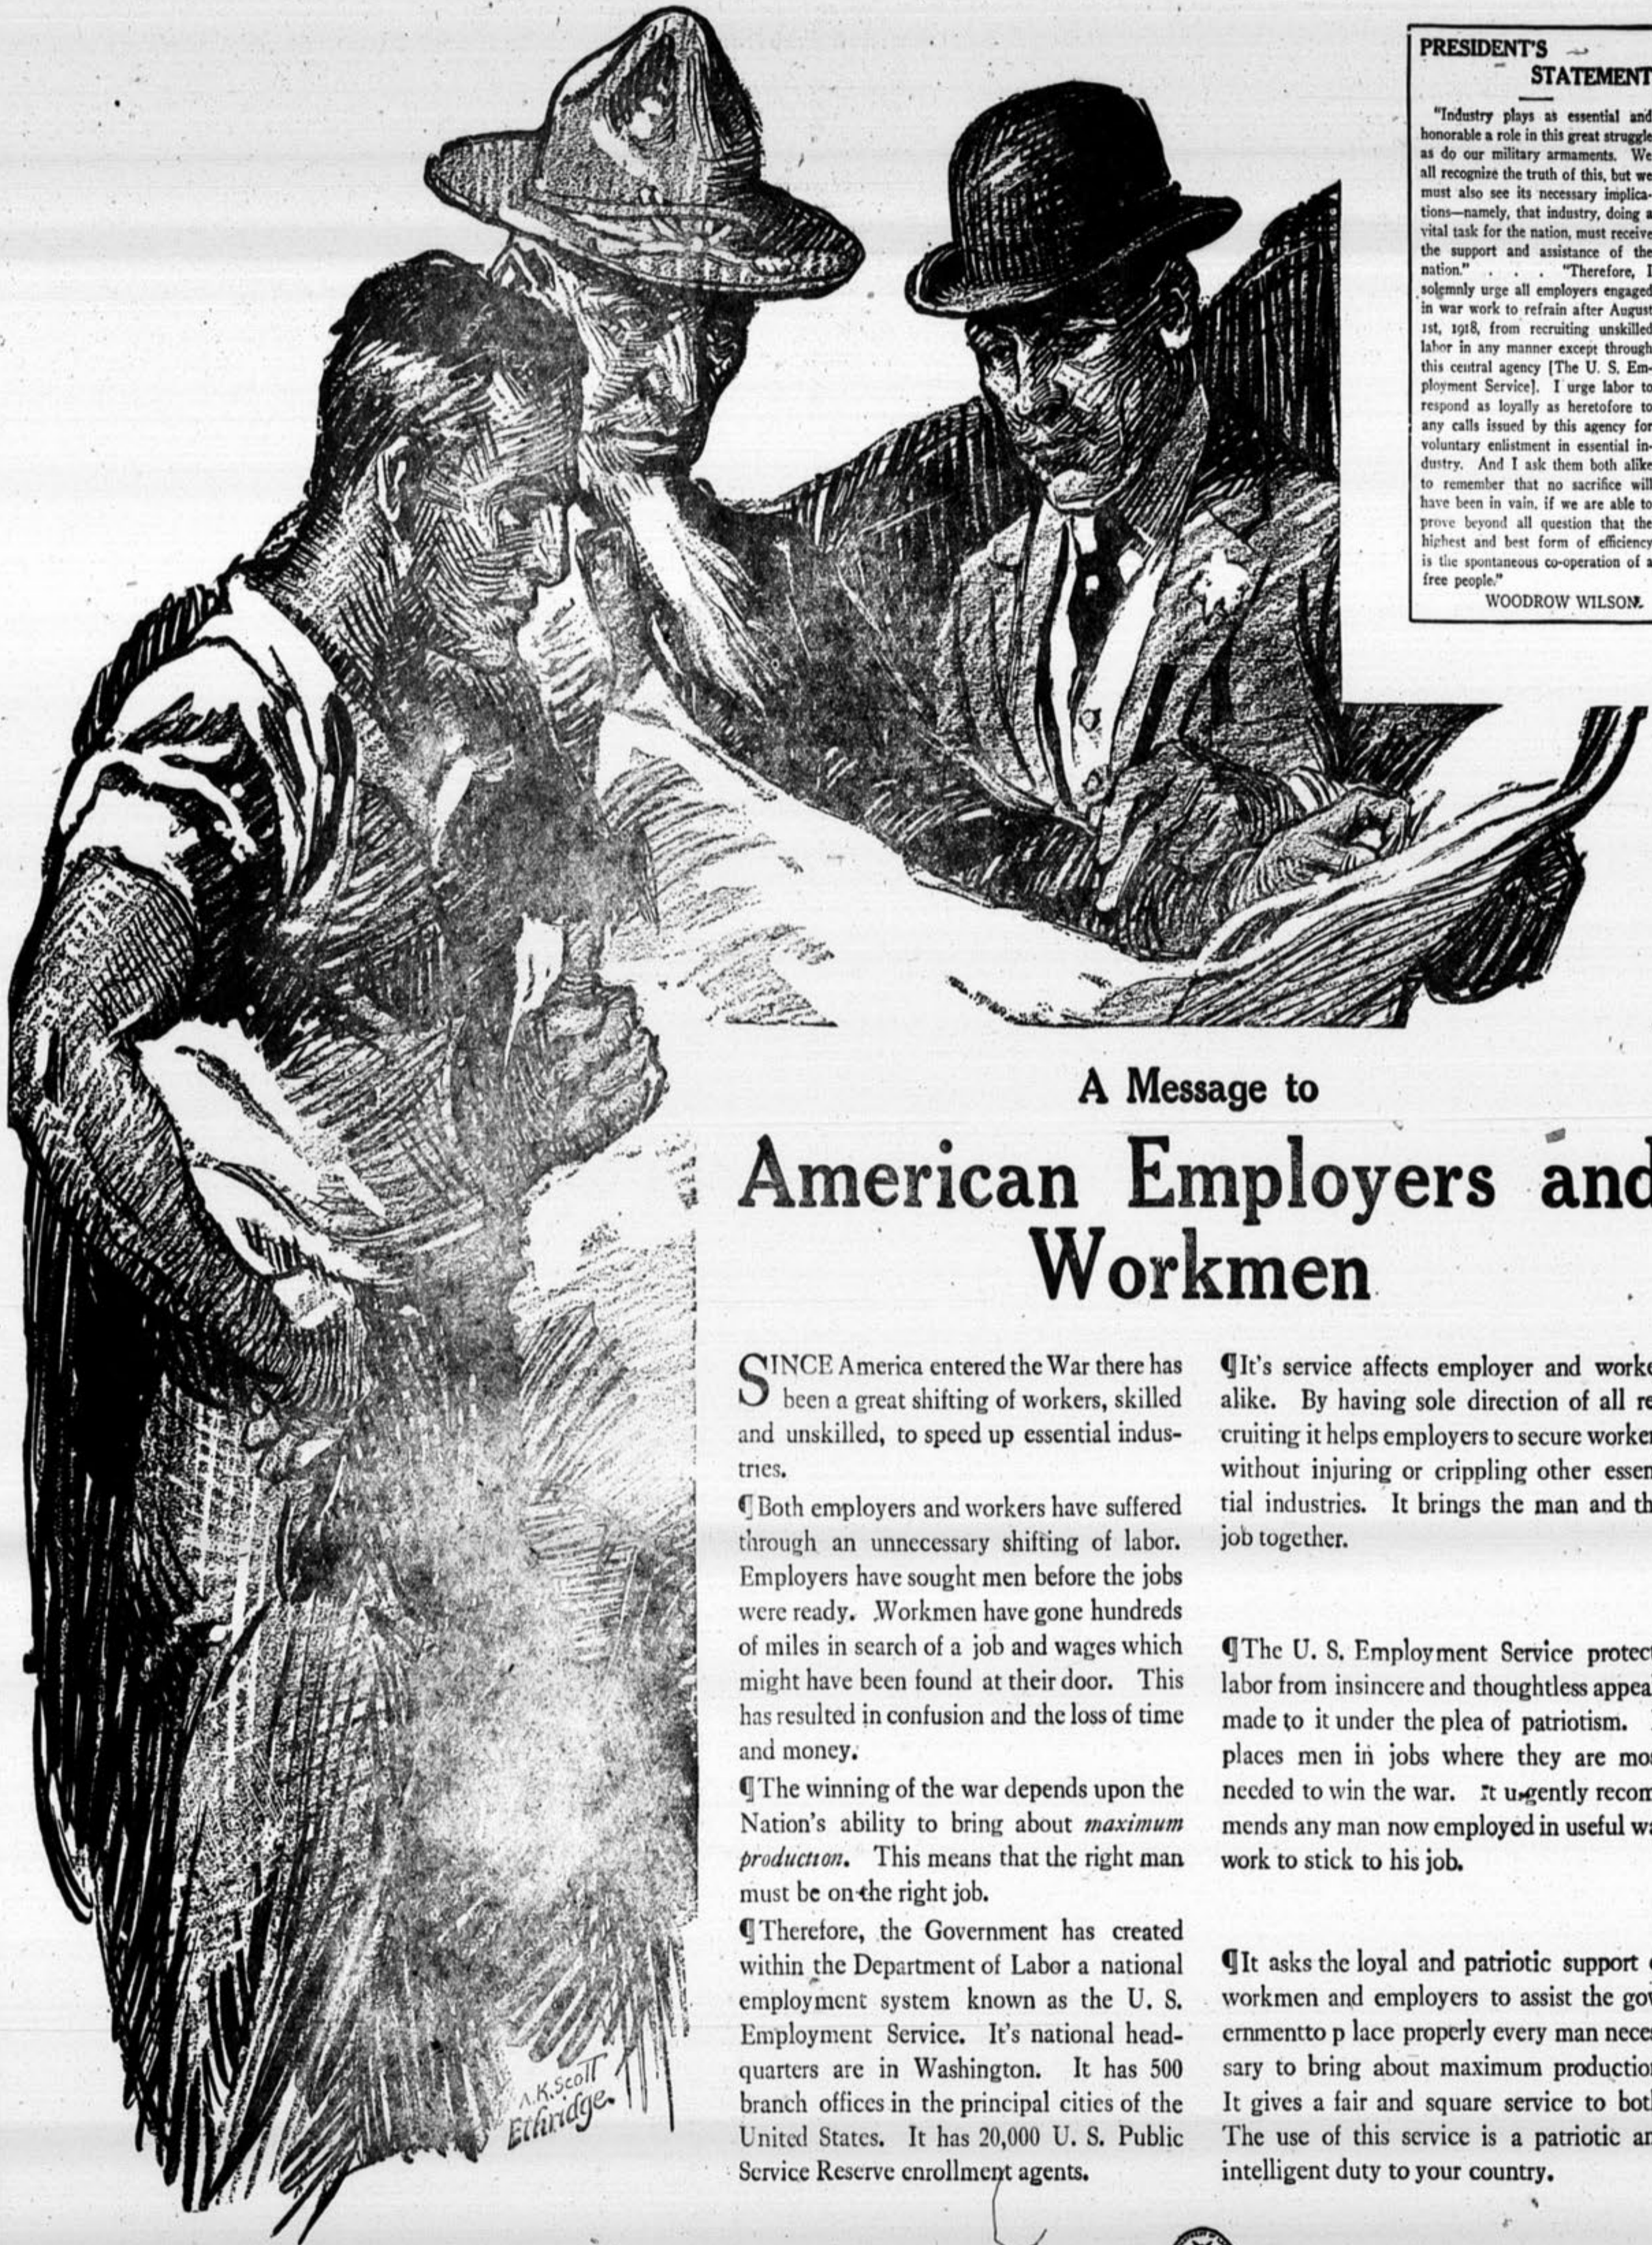

Our Government Loans should go "over the top" as eagerly as our soldiers do, in order to carry with them the terror of furious attack. Our dollars must rain upon the enemy as overwhelmingly as our hail of bullets or our storm of shells.

We are fighting for the liberty of the world, for the triumph of our ideals of democracy and self-government over the last great advocate of force upholding injustice. We are buying with our Liberty Loans the security and joy of our people for generations to come. No price could be too high to pay for such a victory—no cost too great for such a purchase.

PRESIDENT'S STATEMENT

"Industry plays an essential and honorable role in this great struggle as do our military armaments. We all recognize the truth of this, but we must also see its necessary implications—namely, that industry, doing a vital task for the nation, must receive the support and assistance of the nation." "Therefore, I solemnly urge all employers engaged in war work to refrain after August 1st, 1918, from recruiting unskilled labor in any manner except through this central agency [The U. S. Employment Service]. I urge labor to respond as loyally as heretofore to any calls issued by this agency for voluntary enlistment in essential industry. And I ask them both alike to remember that no sacrifice will have been in vain, if we are able to prove beyond all question that the highest and best form of efficiency is the spontaneous co-operation of a free people."

WOODROW WILSON.

A Message to American Employers and Workmen

SINCE America entered the War there has been a great shifting of workers, skilled and unskilled, to speed up essential industries.

Both employers and workers have suffered through an unnecessary shifting of labor. Employers have sought men before the jobs were ready. Workmen have gone hundreds of miles in search of a job and wages which might have been found at their door. This has resulted in confusion and the loss of time and money.

The winning of the war depends upon the Nation's ability to bring about maximum production. This means that the right man must be on the right job.

Therefore, the Government has created within the Department of Labor a national employment system known as the U. S. Employment Service. Its national headquarters are in Washington. It has 500 branch offices in the principal cities of the United States. It has 20,000 U. S. Public Service Reserve enrollment agents.

Its service affects employer and worker alike. By having sole direction of all recruiting it helps employers to secure workers without injuring or crippling other essential industries. It brings the man and the job together.

The U. S. Employment Service protects labor from insincere and thoughtless appeals made to it under the plea of patriotism. It places men in jobs where they are most needed to win the war. It urgently recommends any man now employed in useful war work to stick to his job.

It asks the loyal and patriotic support of workmen and employers to assist the government to place properly every man necessary to bring about maximum production. It gives a fair and square service to both. The use of this service is a patriotic and intelligent duty to your country.

GERMANY AVOIDS STARVATION BY ILLEGAL METHODS

The Rich Have No Trouble Getting Food While the Poor are on Verge of Absolute Starvation.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)
 New York, Sept. 16.—Starvation would be the portion probably of the larger German cities did they not increase their scanty stores through "illegal trading," Deputy Von Herzberg Lottum said in a food debate in the Prussian lower house, according to the Berlin Tageblatt.

"The larger cities of Germany are obtaining one quart of their necessary stock of foodstuffs through illegal trading," without the deputy asserted.

"The increasing severity of penalties heighten the risk of indulging in secret trading and raises prices," he continued. "There are now 100,000 persons employed by the war food administration and that under the circumstances we deliver 30 eggs per person is really no heroic deed."

Other speakers told of pitiable conditions in Austria-Hungary. Count Stolberg said:

better. "In Budapest in rich Hungary, the poor wait in line all night for the 30-gram fat ration, and then they don't receive it, Major Koch of Cassel said. The illegal or secret trading referred to probably means that the German cities violate the law which fixes a maximum price for food and prohibits consumers from paying more than that price. German officials have attempted to stop such violations by some cities.

GLASS OF SALTS IF YOUR KIDNEYS HURT

Eat less meat if you feel Backache or have Bladder trouble—Salts fine for Kidneys.

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night. To neutralize these irritating acids and flush of the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then set fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.

CZECHO-SLOVAKS TO HOLD A CELEBRATION IN CHICAGO SEPT. 18

Big Banquet To Be Given As Fitting Recognition of Bravery of Uncle Sam's Newest Ally.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)
 Washington, Sept. 16.—America's recognition of the Czecho-Slovaks as a separate belligerent nation is to be the occasion of a number of celebrations in American cities which contain large Czech populations. One of the first formal celebrations is to be held in Chicago on September 18, when a large banquet will be given, with Professor Thomas G. Masaryk as the principal speaker. In connection with the War Exposition which Chicago is holding, September 14 has already been appointed Czecho-Slovak Day, with addresses by Charles Pergler and others.

Meetings are planned in the near future for Detroit, St. Louis, Cleveland and New York. The Bohemian groups in these cities will gather and sing their national anthems. Listen to the addresses of their orators, and make plans for the future of the Czecho-Slovak state. Of course, the statement of Secretary Lansing last week was the signal for a vast number of impromptu celebrations in every city of the land where Bohemians are living in communities. The satisfaction felt by these people now that their independence is recognized by America can well be understood when one remembers that they have been under the Austrian yoke for three centuries. During a large part of this time they have suffered oppression and have been in a state of smothered rebellion.

CITY OF QUEER CONTRASTS

Nome, Desolate in Winter, Is Fervently Lively During the Short Months of Summer.

Ships approaching the coast of Alaska watch eagerly for the first glimpse of a break in the low horizon line, and as the faint silhouette of a city is caught by the spy glass word goes round that Nome is in sight. The square outlines grow steadily plainer and broader. Unmindful of the heavy waves that crash so dangerously near its doors the city is reaching out to the very water's edge to greet the incoming ship. A bobbing launch comes out to meet the ship and bring in the passengers to the shore.

The gold seekers built Nome in the rush of 1898, and the gold seekers still add their quota to its population. They have made it a city of contrasts—of ostentatious wealth and hopeless desolation. Where they camped on the beach and built wooden huts and saloons the city has grown up. When more space was needed, it spread its houses along the beach in long uneven rows.

From November to June it is frozen into a dull apathy from which it rouses to attend theaters, dances, and other social frivolities which make the winter tolerable. Ice bound and dark the winter may be, with only three or four hours of pale sunlight a day, but the popular idea of the wilds of Nome is an interesting myth. Electric lights, telephones, department stores, banks, hotels—Nome has all of these perquisites of modern civilization.

When the sun begins to shine steadily and the fresh surf pounds on the beach, Nome awakes and the summer residents who have gone "outside" return. The population is practically doubled. Nome spends its summer months in wildly rushing about to make up for the enforced dullness of the frozen winter.

Habit of Appreciation.

The habit of appreciation does more to make the possessor popular than almost any quality that can be named. You do not need to envy the pretty girl who cannot even peel potatoes without making a charming picture of herself, or the witty girl who can talk on almost any subject, and make herself entertaining, provided you have learned both to feel appreciation and to show it.—Girl's Companion.

Where We Are Living.

"Don't you know we're living on the edge of a volcano?" exclaimed the serious citizen.

"Maybe we are," replied the shivering one; "but it feels more like an iceberg to me."

AMERICANISM WILL BE SUPREME ISSUE IN STATE ELECTION

PACIFISM DOES NOT APPEAL TO ELECTORS OF A STATE TEEMING WITH PATRIOTISM.

REPUBLICANS OF STATE LOYAL

Michigan Leaders Move Eagerly to State in First Rank in Everything to Win the War.

Different in most of its aspects from the ordinary political campaign, in that the single issue of pure, uncompromising, one hundred per cent Americanism overshadows everything else in a world at war, Michigan Republicans are facing toward the November election of 1918 with solid front and supreme confidence.

Their confidence is based on the real accomplishments of the past year and a half—accomplishments that have placed Michigan in an enviable position of leadership among the states at a time when the whole nation is striving to do its utmost in every win-the-war effort. Michigan's proud rank has been won by its energetic Republican state officials and the Republicans of the state are standing back of them now in militant loyalty.

Pacifism has been crushed in the primary campaign and no effort to dodge it as an issue can succeed in an electorate that has spoken with such vigorous determination as has that of Michigan Republicanism. The primary vote is an evidence of the election vote that will put pacifism to rest for the period of the war.

It was a Michigan Republican legislature that electrified the whole United States at the very outset of the war by voting an appropriation of five million dollars with which to prepare Michigan soldiers and Michigan war aid without delay. It was a Republican governor, assisted ably by other Republican state officials, who promptly got under way the work of a war preparedness board, organized a farm drive for more crops, and backed up effectively Red Cross and other war aid enterprises. The wide scope of their work and its instant effectiveness, brought official recognition and glowing praise from the national administration at Washington to Michigan. The work here was held up to other states as an example of what they might accomplish.

Michigan became a leader also in liberty loan drives and patriotic subscriptions, the spirit of its state leaders and the patriotic temper of its people blending perfectly to accomplish the praiseworthy results that were achieved. Now Michigan's satisfaction with its able and patriotic leaders will have its chance of expression at the polls in November. That it will be expressed forcibly and completely there is no doubt.

Albert E. Sleeper, war governor of Michigan, has been given a unanimous renomination by the Republicans of the state. He is the first executive since the primary law was established to have such an honor. Lieut. Gov. Luren D. Dickinson also has been endorsed with an unopposed renomination and the Republican ticket at the November election will form a list of tried and true public servants.

The primary campaign has furnished the Republican party with a candidate for United States senator whose nomination has been acclaimed throughout the entire land. Other states have a keen interest in the men who sit in the national senate, who make the nation's laws and who above all will have the deciding voice in the making of a treaty of peace. The nation already knows Commander Truman H. Newberry and has full confidence in him. His sweeping nomination by the Republicans of his home state has been greeted nationally as a victory for Americanism and Michigan Republicans are being congratulated everywhere on their choice.

Commander Newberry has been a national figure ever since the Spanish-American war, when the naval reserves which he had helped to organize a few years previously did such splendid work. His own service on the Yosemite won him fame and his call later to be assistant secretary of the navy met national approval. That his work in the navy department caused him to be elevated to a position in the Roosevelt cabinet was proof plentiful to the country of its effectiveness. His present service as commander in the third naval district, together with the service of his twin sons in the army and navy, has only emphasized to the country at large that he is the real American manner of man whom all wish to see participate in the country's most important councils at this critical period of the nation's career.

With such a ticket as the Republican party has this year, and with such national attention and approval as never was known at any time in the past, it is but a natural sequel that the party is facing the November election with such confidence.

THE THEATRES

AT THE DELFT.

J. G. Hawks, who has furnished Wm. S. Hart with as many vehicles as any author, is enthusiastic over his latest scenario, which is a story of the Canadian Northwest and is the fourth Hart photoplay produced by Thomas H. Ince for Artcraft. It is entitled "Blue Blazes Rawden," and will be shown at the Delft theatre today and tomorrow.

Mr. Hawk's contention is that "Bill" Hart is always big and convincing in any atmosphere or in any surroundings, and that his admirers will welcome an incursion into new territory. So the great delineator of western types on this occasion dons the sombrero and chaps and goes through five reels of thrilling adventure garbed in the machinaw, fur cap and moccasins of a Canadian lumber jack. The horses of the Hart company have enjoyed a well earned holiday, and will be in a fine fettle for the next Western story.

AT THE STRAND

Keeping the ending of a photoplay hidden is one of the most difficult problems now confronting the producers of the present day, yet this appears to have been accomplished by Harry Rapf in his "One Hour," the Hoffman-Foursquare picture which is to be shown at the Strand theatre today and Tuesday. So modeled that it might adequately serve as a sequel to "Three Weeks," "One Hour," gives free play to both imagination and speculation.

Zena Keefe, who appears as a princess isolated in the Adirondack region, and Alan Hale, apparently a stalwart young American until the conclusion shows him to be a prince in the monarchy adjoining Opal's, are the featured players. But with them are others who comprise a cast that is stated to be excellent in quality and balance.

There is suspense and also much suspense in "One Hour," while the final moments in the photoplay are of the sort that set the blood to leaping faster in anticipation of what will happen next. Beginning in the Adirondack snows, wherein many scenes are said to be superbly shown, the action progresses until the climax brings the principal players into the palace of a European kingdom.

The sixty minutes which the two young lovers pass together in the log-cabin amid snows is so strong in romantic flavor that every person will be touched. Here these young people pledge their truth and steadfastness up to the moment when it shall be possible for them to be united in marriage. Photographically and in all other respects, "One Hour" has aroused much favorable comment.

BOOZE "TOTERS" WONDERING WHAT REALLY HAPPENED

They are telling a good story down around Menominee, which, in the absence of verification, still remains a good story. It is said that several days ago a man with an official bearing and a stentorian voice boarded a Northwestern train in Marinette, entering the smoking car and demanded that every man open and show the contents of every grip or suitcase. One fellow made a hurried effort to open a window, but was promptly ordered to stop it. He did.

The man with the seming authority then went through the car, according to the story, gathered up divers pints, quarts and packages of fluid joy and trouble, much to the profound disappointment and expressed hard luck of the carriers, and got off the train in Menominee.

Ever since then there has been a suspicion in the minds of some of those booze toters that something slipped; something happened to them, that they are rather unable to explain and they are still wondering whether that authoritative-seeming gentleman had any right to do what he did, or whether he simply used his nerve to collect a quantity of perfectly drinkable booze.

POINTERS ON HOW TO SAVE COAL BUT STILL KEEP WARM

Anthracite Coal Operators Sending Out Some Pointed Tips To People Dependent On Hard Coal.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)

Philadelphia, Sept. 16.—Various ways to save coal and still keep warm are pointed out by the General Committee of the Anthracite Coal Operators in a series of suggestions given out here on conservation of the fuel during the coming winter months. Briefly they are:

Start furnace and kitchen-range fires as late as possible. Forget the first few cool Fall days.

Raise window curtains during the day to admit sunlight, for that is free heat. Dispense with awnings as they shut out the sun.

Weatherstrip all doors and windows and put asbestos around all furnaces, boilers and boiler pipes used for heating purposes.

Reduce the home temperature to 67 degrees. Do not wait until the mercury shows 74 degrees before closing drafts. By this time that extra amount of coal will have been consumed and wasted according to all economic rules.

Bedrooms, where windows are opened for the night or otherwise, should be shut off from heat. Use blankets and feel better in the morning.

Wear heavier clothing. This materially saves body heat.

Thoroughly clean soot from pipes and boilers and do not mind doing little work in the cellar seeing that window panes are tight and weather-strips like the other parts of the house.

Burn oil, wood, coal and bituminous when possible. Use gas for cooking and heating. Gas lighting at night aids in heating the house, stores and buildings where used.

Use heavy draperies on doors and windows for interior home decoration. This aids in husbanding interior heat supply.

of the Chemin des Dames. They call that part of the line southeast of La-Fere the Alberich line. This would add about 45 miles, making a total length of more than 100 miles. Generally, however the Hindenburg line has been described as running only from Vigny Ridge to La Fere.

Fearing that the northern end of the line might be turned the Germans established a "switch" line connecting with the Hindenburg line at Queant and running north about 25 miles to Drocourt. They called this switch the Wotan line.

The northern end of the Hindenburg line and the Wotan line both have lost Vimy Ridge and have failed to re-British armies. Long ago the Germans take it.

System of Fortifications.

The Hindenburg line is not a trench but a system of field fortifications. In places it is said to be ten miles deep, consisting not only of the trench system but of multiple lines of barbed wire entanglements, concrete positions for machine-guns and in fact, every device the Germans have been able to assemble to block the way to Germany.

Near Bullecourt was a formidable underground fortification known as the "Tunnel Trench" which the Germans believed to be impregnable. This tunnel connected the trenches was more than a mile long and was mined for its whole length, lighted with electricity and had entrances at short intervals. It was reinforced by concrete pill-boxes and support trenches. The British captured it in November 1917.

Below Graincourt the British troops found great catacombs along the Hindenburg line. These were elaborately fitted up as battalion headquarters, electrically light and protected by concrete trenches. In front of Cambrai, the villages, behind the line had beneath them great chambers which it would be a slander to call dugouts. They were more like hotels, fitted with electricity, water, sewers, drying rooms and kitchens. They were shell-proof and bomb proof. The trenches there were built along the banks of the Canal DuNord which runs north and south near Havincourt.

Important German strong-holds protect the southern section of the line near LaFere. The forest of St.Gobain presents an almost insuperable obstacle in attacking this end of the line.

Laon Is Keystone

Laon, lying within the "Big Corner" where the line turns eastward along the Chamin des Dames is regarded as the keystone of the whole German system. Hundreds of German batteries were installed in the screen ravines around that city and in the forests of St. Gobain.

Southwest of Laon the town was protected by Massif of Monampteuil behind whose crest are huge underground ravines and shelters some big enough to hold a whole regiment. The forest west of Laon was crammed with a vast store of munitions and materials. Divisions of troops could concentrate in it unseen.

Recently the Germans discovered that the big dugouts along the Hindenburg line were not only death traps. An order by the German Divisional Commander forbade the German troops to occupy dugouts descend more than eight steps underground. Behind the Hindenburg line the Germans are credited with three other lines of defenses.

YANKES DESIRE THEIR RELIGION WITHOUT MOVIES

Experienced Chaplain Tells How the Boys Want the Straight-From-The-Shoulder Doctrine Preached to Them.

London, Aug. 24.—Uncle Sam's fighters, an American army chaplain finds, are eager to be talked to about religion, but he says, "you can't fool the boys with pulpit camouflage. Down in their hearts they crave the vital things of life and eternity."

The chaplain was discussing services held in the Y. M. C. A. huts. "We usually open," he said, "with fifteen minutes of movies. A venerable preacher asked if that was necessary. I thought it wasn't, and he proposed to put it to the men themselves. "Boys," he said, "I've come here to tell you something about religion. Would you like to begin right away or would you rather have a movie film first."

"A tall raw-boned soldier stood up in the audience. "To hell with the movies," he exclaimed, "let's hear a bout religion."

"The boys don't come to be entertained. What they want is to hear the simple, sincere and elemental truth of religion as the preacher conceives it. There are certain subjects too that it is wise to steer clear of. Don't talk to them about drink and gambling and sex. They hear all that they need of that sort of stuff from the proper instructors.

"And don't talk about spread-eagle patriotism. They have plenty of patriotism of the real sort. Don't tell them how fine they are, for they've heard that until they are tired of it. Besides, no real man likes to be flattered, and these fellows are real men. Above all else, when your horse sense

ORE SHIPMENTS IN AUGUST SHOW SLIGHT DECLINE

Soft Coal Shipments Through Lakes Up to Sept. 1 Have Exceeded Those of Last Year.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS) Detroit, Mich., Sept. 16.—Reports of ore shipments passing through the Michigan waterways during August show a decrease, compared with those of the preceding month.

Soft coal shipments through the lakes this year, till Sept. 1, are estimated to have been more than 16,000,000 compared with less than 15,000,000 for the same period a year ago.

The lake carriers have been kept busy to capacity this year, for this enormous tonnage was handled despite the fact that no carriers have been added this year and a number have been taken over by the shipping board.

Traffic through the ship canals at Sault Ste. Marie showed a decrease during August, compared with that for July, the aggregate handled through both the Canadian and American locks being 12,789,801 tons, as against 13,262,344 tons the preceding month.

A total of 11,450,600 tons was handled through the American locks and 1,309,261 tons through the Canadian.

At Detroit August movement of freight eastbound was 9,743,473 tons and that westbound was 3,046,325 tons.

THE REALIZATION OF WAR

Deprived of Loved Tobacco, Man Begins to See Grim Struggle in All Its Horror.

The man with the tall silk hat and the pin-striped trousers and the fur-collared overcoat stepped out of his limousine Monday in front of the downtown drug store, where he usually dismounts each morning to buy his day's supplies of real Havana. He waved an airy hand at his chauffeur and squared his shoulders beneath the fur of the overcoat to the Crocker Land air. Everything was all right.

Then the man with the tall silk hat and the pin-striped trousers and the fur-collared overcoat stride on in toward the cigar counter and flung a dollar bill on the showcase. He noticed there were no lights in the humidor of the cases. Then he saw no clerks were there. Behind the drug counters he finally spied a man he knew.

"Let me have a half-dozen smokes," he said.

"Sorry, but nothin' doin' this mornin'," said the man he knew.

"Why—what's wrong here?"

"Not selling today. Fuel administration, you know."

Slowly a great lump rose in the throat of the man with the tall hat and the pin-striped trousers. He felt in all his pockets. Then he rushed out to see whether the auto had left for home. Then he hurried to another drug store. Then, sadly, he went to the office.

As he entered the door, the young $20-a-week clerk took his usual stogie from his mouth and exhaled a cloud of the bitter smoke that had long made him hated by the stenographers. The man with the tall hat hurried over to him.

"For heaven's sake, Johnny, let me have a stogie, will you?"

"Sorry, boss, but this is all I got. I found this up in my pocket this mornin'—left over from Sunday."

The man with the tall hat went in and sat down. He called his most rapid stenographer and began to dictate to her.

His first letter—it should have been purely about stocks and bonds—began like this:

"The American people suddenly feel the iron hand of real war is closing in upon them."—Indianapolis News.

Absorbent Cotton Twice Used.

Through the ingenuity of a French chemist who was struck by the fact that in the military hospitals of Paris alone about 4,400 pounds of absorbent cotton was used daily, a process has been developed which makes it possible to use soiled cotton a second time. The first step is the removal of all grease by boiling ten or twelve hours in a soda solution, or by treating it under pressure for three hours in a sealed container filled with the same solution. After this the cotton is thoroughly washed in a machine and all the moisture removed by placing it in a high-speed centrifugal drier. Drying is followed by bleaching with hypochlorine of lime and a second washing and drying. Finally the purified product is carded, packed and again sterilized.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Well Rehearsed.

The Bavarians in a captured trench the moment our fellows appeared automatically put up their hands, yelled, "Mercy, kamerad," and formed up into single files for passing into the cages, relates an English soldier. A stolid Tommy, noticing the precision with which they carried out the latter movement, exclaimed, "What organizers these Fritz are. They even practiced surrender drill."

WHY IT IS ASSERTED MINING OF GOLD SHOULD CEASE DURING WAR

—H. J. Parke Channing, one of the country's leading mining engineers, writing in the current issue of the Engineering and Mining Journal, suggests that a cessation of gold mining operations for the duration of the war would be desirable, owing to the need of labor for the production of other things. He says:

"I understand that there is a movement afoot to ask government officials and congress to adjust the war tax so as to stimulate gold production in the United States. I ask, is this action wise? Do we really need to produce gold to help win the war? Is it not coal, iron, copper, lead, spelter and possibly silver, that we need? Is it not better that our gold miners, for the duration of the war at least, engage in mining those things that we really need?"

"I observe that the president of the Dome Mines, Ltd., has issued a notice to the stockholders and the public stating that, on account of the high cost of supplies and the difficulty of securing labor, their mines will cease producing for the present.

"It may be quoted in objection to my point that Great Britain is doing all she can to stimulate gold production in the Rand. I am quite willing to admit the sentimental or even the commercial value of increasing the gold reserves of Great Britain, but I doubt if she would encourage the production of that metal in Great Britain itself. It is very different in South Africa, where there is an organization engaged in producing gold which has no other industry on which it can fall back, but in the United States and Canada it does not seem to me that these conditions exist."

MEANS SHORTENING OF LIFE

Why It Is Foolish to Worry Over Errors That Belong Irrevocably to the Past.

A well-known practical psychologist says: "Fear confirms your weakness of character—increasingly enslaving you to your petty short-comings." By worrying over your past mistakes you open the way for more. You bring to you the very experiences you desire to avoid. The little weaknesses of peculiarities of character which you condemn in yourself grow by that condemnation. They thrive on recognition. They are fed and kept alive by the attention you bestow upon them. You give them a large place in your consciousness and they begin to assume a large influence upon your life—a much larger influence than they deserve.

If you will turn your thoughts away from these short-comings, stop trying to judge yourself too exclusively by intellect alone, open wide the door to faith and hope and love and courage and confidence, fix your attention on those qualities which represent the opposite of your weaknesses, you will begin to come out from under your obsession and enter the path to freedom.—William Towne in Nautilus.

How French Forests Are Depleted.

France is beginning to figure out how to meet an anticipated shortage of lumber and firewood after the war. The destruction of forests by shell fire and the heavy demand for lumber for barracks and road construction combine to make a deficit of 1,000,000 cubic feet annually.

Beyond the range of shells, on both sides of the front, the military woodmen's axes have drawn heavily on timbers, from the North sea to the Swiss frontier. The consumption of lumber will increase during the war at the rate of 3,000,000 cubic feet a year, and for several years after peace is made the demand will continue for the repair and rebuilding of devastated regions.

The solution of the problem is considered to be a question of transportation and of forest exploitation in the colonies. Specialists have calculated that French equatorial and western Africa, Madagascar, Guinea and Indo-China possess 875,000 square miles of virgin timber land, which could amply supply France and several other countries with fuel and lumber.

Stock companies, organized for the exploitation of these resources are already engaged in road making and other necessary preliminary work.

How Lispering Can Be Cured.

Lispering and stammering, according to Popular Science Monthly, are separate imperfections of speech, which require entirely different treatment.

Lispers, for instance, can be cured in a short time by tongue and palate gymnastics. They "lisp" simply because they do not work their tongue and palate properly. By making the child speak before a mirror, however, the teacher can correct these mistakes.

Stammering is a nervous disorder which cannot be cured so easily. The pupil involuntarily applies too much force at certain parts of the vocal organs, causing the stuttering and a spluttering with which we all are familiar. The cure is to relieve the overworked parts by distributing the energy evenly. This is learned by pronouncing certain flowing sounds in front of a candle until the flame does not flicker.

BLOCKADE RUNNER IS RELEASED FROM JAIL BY FURNISHING BAIL

Joseph Maul who, with Augusta Provesto, was brought down from Gladstone and lodged in jail Saturday evening, after being bound over from justice's court, was released on bail yesterday. The men had brought whiskey into Gladstone from Pembine, it is supposed. They are both employed at Hornmansville. An effort is also being made to secure bond for Provesto.
