AMERICAN REPLY TO GERMANY ON WAY

WILSON SPENDS WHOLE DAY IN PREPARATION OF "IMPORTANT PAPER"

General Tone of Public Opinion Backed by Debate in the Senate May Be Taken as a Fair Index That the Allied Reply Will Be Another Rejection of the "Terms" Suggested by Foe.

(By Associated Press)

Washington, D. C., Oct. 8.—President Wilson's reply to the German and Austrian request for an armistice and peace negotiations probably will be dispatched before night, if it is not already on the cables. After being called in conference with Col. E. M. House and Secretary Tumulty this afternoon announced that Secretary Lansing would see the newspaper correspondent at 4 o'clock this afternoon and "probably would have something for them."

The President spent the entire morning in his study and it is believed he put into final shape, a document on which he worked all day yesterday.

It is assumed that the American reply will have the approval of Great Britain, France and Italy. The feeling that following the dispatch of the reply, President Wilson will address congress, persisted today.

The temper of debate in the senate, and the general tone of public opinion in the United States as expressed in the newspaper comment, is a very fair index of the government's views. The consensus of opinion in the senate debate was that the offer should be rejected; the practically unanimous public opinion was that no peace terms short of unconditional surrender could be discussed.

For Historical Record.

It is very clear that the reply will be not only an answer to Germany and her allies, but a statement for the historical record of the world. It is realized on every hand that a rejection of a peace offer must be a convincing one, and one which will justify the prolongation of the war to the ends sought. It is realized that it must be convincing to the people of Great Britain, France, Italy and the United States, so that they may be warned against the insidious danger of throwing away the hard won victory and enable the militarist leaders of the central powers to lure their people on to more bloodshed.

In explaining the necessity for carefully considered action at this time, officials point out that the conditions arising from the presentation of separate and formal communications from the two great central empires are quiet different from those under which Count Burian's adroit proposal to hold secret and "non-binding" conferences was so summarily dealt with. Now the proposition is for formal and open discussions, in a manner to bind the principals, with hostilities suspended in the meantime.

Explain Probable Rejection.

Therefore the fact is recognized that the people of America and of the entente countries, who are really desirous of peace on their terms, are entitled to an explanation of the reasons which moved the government in rejecting a proposal which on its face might appear to bear evidence of sincerity.

They must understand, officials say, the impossibility of compliance with these requests without sacrifice of all the safeguards which are regarded as essential to the conclusion of the kind of peace which America and the allies are determined to have, and for which so many lives already have been given; one that shall rid the world of German military domination and insure it against another event more savage war as soon as the Germanic war lords can repair their shattered armies and rehabilitate their broken financial and economic conditions.

It was emphasized that the idea must not go out that America does not desire peace, for the war is waged for the realization of certain high ideals of democracy and liberty and not for revenge, or through desire ruthlessly to destroy any nation.

Affect on German People.

A further consideration which has influenced the officials who are shaping the course of these negotiations, is the probable effect upon the German themselves of a curt, sharp and unreasoned refusal of their appeal. They have been told by their rulers that the purpose of their enemies was the destruction of Germany and Austria.

Now the people of Germany and Austria are finding out

Foe Must Abandon Allied Soil

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)

Washington, Oct. 8.—President Wilson today informed the German government that before the United States can discuss an armistice, German troops must be withdrawn from all invaded territory. He asked Prince Maximilian whether he represented the German people or the authorities of the empires who are conducting the war.

The President's message was not a reply but in the form of an inquiry. The Imperial German government is asked whether it accepts the terms laid down by the President in his address to Congress January 8, and in subsequent addresses.

ENTHUSIASTIC RESPONSE TO THE WELFARE MOVE

Child Welfare Week in Escanaba Proves To Be One of the Most Popular Public Movements Ever Inaugurated Here.

HEADQUARTER CROWDED

Food Exhibit Showing What Is Proper and What Is Not Proper for Children, Is An Attractive Feature.

Mothers of Escanaba who have not availed themselves of the opportunity to visit the Child Welfare exhibits and attend the meetings being held at the headquarters in the rooms of the Delta County War Relief Association, 703 Ludington street, are not only missing a wonderful chance for the acquisition of knowledge of inestimable value to themselves, but are doing their children a positive injustice by their negative attitude.

A mere man visited the rooms this morning and was positively amazed at the comprehensive display which is designed to conserve the child life of this community. Mothers who have a tendency to shy off from this Child Welfare work, should, if for nothing else than curiosity, visit the headquarters. It will be an experiment which will be richly rewarded and will undoubtedly result in the most enthusiastic co-operation in the work which these splendid women are doing to bring to the knowledge of the mothers a few of the things that have been absolutely established by science and proven by statistics, as continued on page three.

SENATOR JONES RENEWS CHARGES OF CORRUPTION

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)
Washington, D. C., Oct. 8.—Charges that the United States Brewers Association and its individual members secretly influenced newspapers in the interest of the liquor traffic, contributed to the National German Alliance and improperly influenced state and national legislation, were renewed in the senate today in a memorandum submitted to the senate judiciary committee today by Senator Jones, of Washington. This memorandum is submitted in connection with the subcommittee inquiry into the purchase of the Washington Times by Arthur Brisbane, who says funds for that purpose were loaned by the brewery interests. Senator Jones contends that every charge will be supported by documents on file now.

FIRST PAPERS CAN'T BE GIVEN APPLICANTS UNTIL NOVEMBER 5TH

County Clerk Peplin has received instructions regarding the refusal of first papers to applicants for naturalization during the thirty days preceding the regular November election. Petitions for final naturalization may be filed but first papers cannot be issued until November 5 and after this, obviously, is a rule aimed at the prevention of wholesale naturalizations for the purpose of voting large bodies of foreigners by corrupt politicians.

LIBERTY LOAN MOVING ALONG IN FINE SHAPE

Further Oversubscription Reported from Maple Ridge Township by Chairman Larson This Morning.

CITY IS BEING COMBED

Women's Committees Meeting With Success and Insists on An Oversubscription Rather Than Merely Attaining the City Quota.

Seemingly to sense the danger involved in a relaxation of efforts to put the Fourth Liberty Loan quota over the top and then some in this county, both city and county organizations have redoubled their efforts since the "peace offer" made by the central powers.

And it is a gratifying fact that in many cases the "offer" has resulted in stimulating renewed buying or in more freely retaining those who have not already purchased bonds.

Chairman Larson of Maple Ridge was in the city this morning and told County Chairman Smith that he now had a total of $16,000 subscribed there. This is $1,000 above Maple Ridge's quota and Mr. Larson feels that he will be able to more than double that amount before the end of the campaign.

In the city committees are meeting with success. It was stated today that it isn't exactly a question of just attaining the quota now, but a question of how much it can be oversubscribed as an evidence to the Delta county boys "over there" that their splendid sacrifices are being met by the home folks digging down into the toe of the old blue sock and wrenching therefrom the various odds and ends of currency that have been plucked there against the arrival of the proverbial rainy day.

Local Committees Succeed.

Local committees, while working hard, feel that they are achieving considerable success but they don't propose to stop just merely because they are getting somewhere near the quota assigned to each district. Their motto is "let every man stand and be counted" and the man who gets away without buying bonds must have presented some mighty plausible reason for his failure to do so.

British and American Artillery Massed "Wheel to Wheel" Conducts Most Terrific Bombardment of the War.

SAISFACTORY PROGRESS

Another Smashing Attack Between Cambrai and St. Quentin Startles Foe With Its Force and Persistence.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)

With the Anglo-Americans Near St. Quentin, Oct. 8.—American troops going into battle with the fourth British army on the St. Quentin-Cambrai front today attacked at the point where the last line of the Hindenburg defenses had been smashed and late reports indicate satisfactory progress was being made despite intense machine gun resistance. Simultaneously the British third army attacked.

The attacks of the two armies is a converging operation, the general direction of the thrust being northeast. The assault was accompanied by one of the most terrific bombardments of the war, massed artillery firing wheel to wheel.

Yanks Still Progress.

With the Americans northwest of Verdun, Oct. 8.—Noon—American troops continued to advance east of Argonne until Monday night. After the capture of Chagnelle Cherey they gained further ground.

Suspects Hun Trick.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 8.—Gen. Diaz, commander in chief of the Italian armies, has issued a general order in which he calls attention to the fact that despite the peace proposals of the enemy, he is still on Belgium, French and Italian soil and it is the duty of the Italian army to be ready to crush him if his peace offer proves a "fresh form of the old guile."

French Continue Advance.

Paris, Oct. 8.—North and Northeast of Rheims the French are continuing their successful advance. The official announcement says the French have reached the outskirts of Conde-sur-Suippe at the junction of the Aisne and Suippe rivers northeast of Berry-au-Bac. Along the Suippe river the French have penetrated into Isles-sur-Suippe and to the west have captured Bazancourt.

Haig Is Satisfied.

London, Oct. 8.—English and American troops attacked this morning on the front between Cambrai and St. Quentin according to the statement received from Field Marshal Haig today. Satisfactory progress is being made he says.

ALBERT WEAD HAVING TOUGH TIME TO GET IN FIGHTING TRIM

Albert Wead, a brother of Mrs. Henry Brady and Mrs. Charles Carter of this city, is still being followed by hard luck. He is stationed at Camp Wheeler, Ga., and for the last three and one-half months has been in the hospital. From time to time he has written that he believed his condition was improving and he hoped soon to be able to complete his training and "get a smash at Fritz" but a letter received recently says that he has been compelled to go into the operating room for the fourth time. He is still optimistic, however, and voices an ardent desire to get well enough to get into the big fight before it ends.

ANGLO-AMERICANS HIT GERMAN REAR GUARD ON HINDENBURG LINE

Important Thrust Between St. Quentin and Cambrai Vastly Improves Allied Position While the French are Now Proving a Grave Menace to the Important City of Laon—Germans Evacuating Belgium

(Associated Press War Summary)

Renewing their major operations on the center of the line from the Meuse to the North Sea, the British and Americans today smashed into the rear defense of the Hindenburg line between St. Quentin and Cambrai. While Field Marshal Haig's forces attacked on the 20-mile front north of St. Quentin the French along the Suippe continued their progress north toward the German communication line despite strong enemy resistance. The French reached the junction of the Suippe and Aisne rivers and forced their way into two towns on the middle of the line.

The Anglo-American thrust against the vital sector between Cambrai and St. Quentin followed local operations in the region of Beaufort and Mont Bohain, in which 230 prisoners were taken. On the front of attack the British and Americans pushed east from the hills west of Cambrai between the two towns, toward Bohain and the railway lines running north and south, which are important to the Germans in this region.

Laon Is Menaced.

The successful advance of the French north and northeast of Rheims is menacing the security of the Laon massif. After the capture of Berry-au-Bac the French are fighting into Conde-sur-Suippe at the junction of the Aisne and the Suippe. Progress northward from these towns would outflank the Champagne and Laon positions of the Germans and make untenable positions on both the Aisne and the Retourne.

In the center, by entering Isles-sur-Suippe and the capture of Bazancourt, the French have broken the German hold on the Suippe and made necessary a retirement to the Aisne or the Retourne farther north.

On the north, the Belgian and British pressure is being maintained and under the threat of major attacks, the Germans are continuing their withdrawal from the Belgian coastal region.

From the Suippe to the Meuse on the southern end of the line, the French and Americans are pressing the enemy hard. Large fires are reported on the American sector east of the Argonne and the important town of Bruilles on the west bank of the Meuse is burning.

GERMANS LEAVING BELGIUM.

Amsterdam, Oct. 8.—The evacuation by the Germans, of the Belgium coastal region is continuing, the frontier correspondent of the Telegraaf reports. Telephone lines were being taken down today. Stores of material at Knockee, five miles from the Holland border, have been fired and many factories have been undermined, preparatory to their quick destruction.

MANY NEW BOOKS ON LIBRARY SHELVES TO BE DISTRIBUTED NOW

The following new books have been placed on the shelves of the Public Library ready for circulation this week.

Over Periscope Pond, by Esther Sayles Root and Marjorie Crocker. Letters from two American girls in Paris October, 1916 to January, 1918—very intimate and charming.

The Ways of War, by Thomas M. Kettle. "Why Ireland Fought" and other essays on the war, Professor Kettle was a Lieutenant in the 9th Dublin Fusiliers, and was killed in action in September 1916.

(The) Iron Ration, by George Schreiner. Impressions of some of Germany's problems gained from a three years' stay in Central Europe since the beginning of the war. Unprejudiced, dispassionate, candid, intelligent a book bound to create much discussion.

Shandygaff, by Christopher Morley. "Altogether this 'Shandygaff' is a companionable and proper book—in truth, a very excellent read." Real fun for the discriminating reader.

Voyages on the Yukon, by Hudson Stuck. "When a vigorous, widely traveled and broadly read man like Archdeacon Stuck writes about a subject with which he is thoroughly familiar by years of contact, the result reasonably may be a diverting book; but Bishop Stuck adds to these qualities the gift for picturesque phrase and original thought." It is in its personal quality that much of the charm of the book lies.

The Enlisting Wife, by Grace Richmond. A little story of a war bride.

The Language of Color, by Luckless. This book "opens invitingly the door to the house of color."

Alone in the Caribbean, by Frederic Fenger. The yarn of a cruise in the Lesser Antilles in the sailing canoe "Yakaboo."

Political Ideals, by Bertrand Russell. A sane and succinct statement of this philosopher's well-known views for individual and community ideals. It will be stimulating to thoughtful readers everywhere.

War Nursing, by Minnie Goodnow. A textbook for the auxiliary nurse.

High Adventure, by Norman Hall. A thrilling narrative of air fighting in

A hat that stands true to its colors

IS IT 'JUST A COLD?'

Escanaba People Should Ask Themselves This Question.

Don't say: "It's just a cold." It may turn into backache, rheumatic aches, achy joints.

Or other serious sickness that comes from weak kidneys.

Colds are due to congestion.

Congestion makes the kidneys over-work to filter the blood.

Colds often leave the kidneys weak.

First use Doan's Kidney Pills to avert the kidney dangers.

Let this Escanaba resident tell you about them.

Mrs. H. F. Hamm, 301 N. Mary St., says: "I took cold which settled on my back. Soon my kidneys began to annoy me and I felt badly all over. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and in almost no time, they removed the trouble. Others in the family have also found Doan's valuable medicine for backache and other kidney troubles." 60c. at all dealers. The true story of an attempt to bring order out of chaos in the affairs of an American rural community, written, the author says in his preface, "to explain to my wife why I am so frequently late to meals and why I have not spent more evenings in her dear presence."

The Life, Art and Letters of George Inness, by his son. An interesting picture of America's greatest landscape painter. This book will appeal strongly to Inness lovers, and almost as much to those who do not know his work.

A Minstrel in France, by Harry Lauder.

Written in the simplest style, with a certain friendly familiarity as if Harry Lauder were sitting across the table from you telling you all about it. A war book that is different and deserves to be read.

Books and Persons, by Arnold Bennett. Arnold Bennett in a holiday mood. Some delightful comments on literary matters between 1908 and 1911.

The Librarian would greatly appreciate a copy of the Outlook for May 8, 1918, if anyone in the city has a copy that they would care to give. The Librarian copy has been lost, and a duplicate is needed before that volume can be bound.

FOE PEACE OFFER MEETS WITH COLD DEAL IN SENATE

Strong Men of Foreign Relations Committee Declare Thought of Suspending Hostilities is Abhorrent.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)

Washington, Oct. 2.—Discussing the German peace offer in the senate this afternoon, Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, chairman of the foreign relations committee declared as "absolutely abhorrent" even the thought of a suspension of hostilities now and recommended an adherence to the principals laid down by President Wilson for peace. Republican Leader Lodge, ranking minority member of the foreign relations committee declared that an armistice now would mean the loss of the war and all we have fought for. He said that Germany seeks a long debate on the basis of peace.

In an appeal to the people not to let victory on the battlefield swerve them from their duty in the liberty loan, Secretary McAdoo today declared, "Our boys in the trenches will not stop because the enemy is on the run. Now is the time to fight harder and to keep moving on until victory is clinched."

COMB SAGE TEA IN FADED OR GRAY HAIR

If Mixed with Sulphur it Darkens so Naturally Nobody can Tell.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush, and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful. This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

Ice Boxes on Wheels

Refrigerator cars for carrying meat are ice boxes traveling on wheels.

Most people in America would have to go without fresh meat, or would have to pay more for what they could get, if it were not for these traveling ice boxes.

Gustavus F. Swift, the first Swift in the packing industry, saw the need of these traveling ice boxes before others.

He asked the railroads to build them. The railroads refused. They were equipped, and preferred to haul cattle rather than dressed beef.

So Gustavus F. Swift had to make the cars himself. The first one was a box car rigged up to hold ice. Now there are 7,000 Swift refrigerator cars. Each one is as fine an ice box as you have in your home.

Day and night, fair weather and foul, through heat and cold, these 7,000 cars go rolling up and down the country, keeping meat just right on its way to you.

Thus another phase of Swift & Company's activities has grown to meet a need no one else could or would supply, in a way that matched Swift & Company ideas of being useful.

When you see one of these Swift & Company cars in a train, or on a siding, you will be reminded of what is being done for you as the fruit of experience and a desire to serve.

buting to the raising of healthier, more wholesome, more rugged men and women.

The Diet Exhibit.

Over in one corner of the room is a modest little exhibit which mutely explains more in a minute, than reading of books would give in an hour. This shows the foods which are dangerous to children between the ages of one and six years. In the exhibit are articles which nearly every family sets before the child day after day. Another exhibit shows the model breakfast, dinner, and supper for children of various ages. It is most compellingly suggestive and, like a motion picture, conveys more to the mind in an instant than much reading would do in hours. This food exhibit is under the supervision of Mrs. Mashek, Mrs. Byington and Mrs. M. N. Smith and these good women have received endless compliments on their rare judgment.

Coffee and sandwiches are being served daily and mothers who bring babies to be weighed and measured yesterday found a most pleasing surprise which was most deeply appreciated. The coffee was furnished by the Upper Peninsula Produce company and the pasteurized cream has been donated by the Lied creamery.

Play Corner.

One of the strongest advertisements for the Welfare week is found in the large number of youngsters who are amused in the play corner which has been fitted up for their benefit and entertainment while they are kept waiting to be weighed and measured. The rooms were packed yesterday afternoon and the women in charge of the affair are more than pleased with the success of the first two days. Instead of one nurse, four were kept busy in various capacities and the toddlers seemed to understand that this demonstration was prepared especially for them. Many mothers who had previously considered their children in the pink of condition, were rather alarmed when they found the little ones were under weight, due perhaps to some defect in the diet of the child, which can now be remedied through the knowledge gained yesterday.

Today physicians discussed various conditions to which children are subjected and will suggest remedies and preventatives.

Tomorrow's Program.

The program for tomorrow follows: Demonstration, Feeding and Bathing of an infant, Mrs. Mashek and Miss Genesee, at 2:30 p.m. Dr. Kirchen will be in attendance between four and five to advise mothers who request it.

Lansing, Oct. 8.—The purchasing power of the nickel, which once bought transportation, food, candy, tobacco and gum is again on the wane. That delight of school days, the five cent tablet with its fancy cover, will soon be beyond the reach of the nickel, manufacturers of school supplies declare. It costs just as much, it is pointed out, for the cover and back of the five cent tablet as for the ten cent size and manufacture of the nickel size will be discontinued.

THE THEATRES

AT THE DELFT.

"The Lesson," Constance Talmadge's latest (Select Picture was adapted for the screen from Virginia Terhune Van de Water's stories of married life which have interested thousands of newspaper readers. It will be shown at the Delft today and tomorrow as a feature in Miss Talmadge's Select Star Series, in which she is presented by Louis J. Schzielick. The picture has had the advantage of sterling direction at the hands of Charles Gibson.

"The Lesson" is the history of Helen Drayton (played by Constance Talmadge), a young girl who becomes bored by the dull routine of life in a small town. She loses her friends "Chet" Vernon in particular, but she regards it as a personal grievance that even this most desirable of all the boys should be taken for granted by everyone, including herself, as her inevitable conversation at dances and other village affairs. Consequently when John Galvin, a young architect from New York, visits the town, Helen is captivated, not so much by him as by the novelty of meeting a new man, and before many weeks pass they elope and are married.

Galvin, like many young husbands, could always find money to spend downtown with his friends, but when it came to furnishing a few dollars to Helen for things that were necessary and for the few luxuries which are almost necessities to a woman, it was a different matter. Helen soon discovered that she had married an unspeakably selfish man, and little by little the very slight bond between them stretched to the breaking point. From this step the story of Helen Drayton speeds forward to a highly dramatic conclusion. She learned her lesson; and although it was an unhappy experience, she soon was able to discover the difference between real worth and mere flash.

CHILDREN MUST NOT BE UNDERFERD IF THEY THRIVE

Weighing and Measuring Tests Going on This Week Prove Of Greatest Value to Mothers of Escanaba.

The weighing and measuring test of children under school age, now going forward in connection with Children's Year, will afford American mothers a splendid opportunity to take part in the campaign to save 100,000 lives. When a child is found to be notably beyond the average in his development it may mean in many cases that he is not sufficiently nourished, either from actual lack of food, or because his food is badly chosen, or because he has been allowed to fall into bad eating habits.

Children Undernourished.
A recent report by Dr. Josephine Baker, Chief of the Division of Hygiene, of the city of New York, says that 90,000 school children in that city are distinctly undernourished, 30,000 more are in need of medical attention, while still thousands more are in such a state of health that they will easily slip over into undernourishment if present conditions continue. It is impossible to do much to correct in adults the results of malnutrition in childhood, but there are about ten million children under five years of age in American homes today who can be prevented from making such a showing as they shall come on to maturity. These undernourished school children began, in many cases, by being undernourished in the years while they were yet at home, when the results might, perhaps, have been prevented if the mother had understood what was taking place.

Can't Stint Youngsters.
Children must have plenty to eat. Adults can get along for some time, if necessary, on noticeably restricted diets without serious impairment of health, but children can not draw on their reserves in this way without detriment to their growth and vigor. Children from two to six years should have three good meals a day, the heaviest one being in the middle of the day. Their day's food should include plenty of milk, not less than 1 1/2 pints—skim milk may be used if butter is given also—plenty of cereals and green vegetables, particularly leaf vegetables, such as spinach. It is desirable also to have a more varied diet and to include sugar, fruits, eggs, and meat, with fish and fowl. In the daily meals. Information regarding these matters will be furnished to mothers if they will write to the Children's Bureau, U. S. Department of Labor, Washington, D. C.

Demonstrations in Escanaba:
These are some of the things that are being so emphatically brought to the mind and attention of the mothers of Escanaba this week in the demonstrations going on at the headquarters of the Delta County War Relief Association under the auspices of the committee in charge of Child Welfare week.

SOCIETY NEWS

The Misses Lillian Jolly and Lillian Broulet delightfully entertained at a dinner party at their home last night in honor of their sister Miss Leah Jolly who recently completed a course in nursing at Duluth. The affair was in the nature of a farewell party as Miss Jolly leaves soon for France where she will enter the Red Cross service.

Government Operatives Find Letter in Which Explosion is Predicted But Doubt the Genuineness Of It.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)
Washington, D. C., Oct. 8.—Evidence to show that the disastrous explosion in the Thomas Gillispie shell loading plant at Morgan, N. J., last week, was caused by enemy agents, has been discovered in a letter now in possession of government operatives. The letter predicted the explosion on Friday night and was signed "Heinie." The letter was addressed to a man in Sonora, Mex.

Agents investigating the matter are inclined to question the genuineness of the letter, which was picked up in a railway station in New Jersey.

WILL HATTON NOW AN ENSIGN IN U. S. SERVICE

Escanaba Boy Wins Commission and Is Now Stationed in San Francisco, He Informs His Parents.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hatton today received the following most interesting letter from their son Will, who is known to the greater of the people of this city as one of its most estimable young men. The letter follows: "Vallejo, Cal., Oct. 8, 1918.

"Dear Mother and Father: "I received your welcome letter and the papers all O. K. I am glad to know that you are both well. I am getting along all right and feeling fine. "I registered last Thursday, and I have a little news for you. Last month while on my vacation, I took an examination for a marine engineer's license, and got a first assistant unlimited papers, which allows me to sail on any boat in any water. "I went to San Francisco and joined the Naval Auxiliary Reserve and got a commission as ensign and have been reporting in every day since. Sept. 12, since which time I am in training awaiting orders. "They are figuring on calling some of the first class men early in October. I thought that I had better tell you just where I stood. I have tried to get a discharge from the navy yard where I have held a good position for the past six years, and while I was doing my bit for Uncle Sam, I felt that I had ought to be in more active service. "With much love to you both, "From your loving son, "WILL."

My new address is: Ensign W. J. Hatton, U. S. N. R., Room 6, Ferry Bldg., San Francisco, Cal.

"HER SECRET" IS A GREAT TREAT AT THE STRAND THEATER NOW

Harry Morey and Alice Joyce Do Some Wonderful Work in Which the Double Moral Standard is Worked Out.

Both Harry Morey and Alice Joyce, who are starring in "Her Secret," which will be seen for the last times at The Strand Theater today, do some wonderful work and pleased a large audience last evening. The following is quoted from Wids: "Unusual credit must go to the producer and author, Perry Vokroff, for this offering. He has built the story around a coincidence, but he has developed it smoothly without making it obvious, and when the big situation comes it is decidedly effective and perfectly natural, without the coincidence itself marring the force of the dramatic moments. The story combines action and pathos, real heart interest of the sort that makes you swallow hard once or twice and we get a logical and happy ending after several dramatic moments wherein we face the problem of the double moral standard, with the husband astounded at a revelation concerning his wife, at first, and when the wife is shocked even more by discovering something concerning her husband."

that they are in no danger of extermination if they call off their armies and stop fighting. Work to this end has been done by a system of propaganda in the enemy countries by entente and American agencies.

Ever since Count Burian's preceding proposal was rejected it has been realized that the step now taken by the Teutonic government might be expected at any time. Therefore there has been ample opportunity for discussion of the course to be followed and the present exchanges between President Wilson and the entente chancellors probably will not be prolonged.
