Mingle With the Happy
Throgs.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)
London, Dec. 24.—Officials in charge of the decoration of London streets through which President Wilson will pass on his visit here, are aiming at an artistic effect as well as a brilliant color scheme. In addition to Venetian masts supporting the royal crowns, shields, and flags connected with festoons and bunting will be used in great profusion. An effort will be made to treat the buildings along the route in a manner which will harmonize with their architecture.

Arrangements for banquet Friday night, in honor of President Wilson, will be similar to those carried out on a recent visit of the king of Denmark to London. He will dine with Premier Lloyd George. This means that he will be brought in contact with a much smaller and more intimate assemblage than had previously been planned, meeting only a small body of men from the imperial war cabinet. He will dine in state with King George at Buckingham palace Monday evening.

Wilson's Shop in Paris.
Paris, Dec. 24.—President and Mrs. Wilson went Christmas shopping today, visiting many of the principal shops during their tour of two hours in the center of Paris. They walked from the Murat residence, going first to an American bookstore, where they were immediately recognized. After making several purchases they went to other shops. Both made remarkable progress in their purchases from French clerks and their use of French and when they had finished, it required an auto to take home the many packages they had accumulated.

To Eat With Soldiers.
President Wilson's plans for his forthcoming visit to the American Army headquarters and proceeding from there to England, have been completed. He will leave Paris late tonight and will not return until the first day of the new year. His movements while with the army have been changed in one respect. He insists on eating dinner with the troops from their mess kits and will later have an official dinner with Gen. Pershing and his staff. After reviewing the troops, the President will deliver an address which he has already prepared.

Mr. Gilchrist Going

JOHN D. MANGUM DIES IN EAST LAST SATURDAY

One Of Best Known Men in Upper Peninsula Is Summoned By Death After Few Weeks' Illness.

John D. Mangum, of Marquette, one of the best known men in the Upper Peninsula, died Saturday in New York, at the Biltmore hotel, following a few weeks' illness that was caused, his friends say, by overwork in the last political campaign. Mr. Mangum was recently operated on for hemorrhoids, in the hope of benefiting his health, but the operation brought him no relief. He had for some years been a sufferer from stomach trouble, and last summer spent some time in a sanitarium at Battle Creek.

Mr. Mangum was chairman of the Republican state central committee, a position he had occupied for some three years past. He had long been prominent in upper peninsula and state politics, and his persistence in carrying on the arduous work of the state chairmanship when his health was not equal to its demands is regarded by his friends as having caused his death much earlier than it would otherwise have occurred, as he was but fifty-nine years of age.

THINK PADEREWSKI IS TRYING TO FOUND A NEW GOVERNMENT

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)
Copenhagen, Dec. 24.—Ignace Jan Paderewski, famous Polish pianist and ardent worker in the reconstruction of Poland, arrived here today aboard a British cruiser which had been placed at his disposal by the British government. The cruiser continued her voyage toward Dantzic, the former Polish port of outlet on the Baltic. The Berlinke Tardemle expresses the belief that Paderewski's mission is to found a new Polish government under entente auspices.

Mystery Attaches To Arrest Of Man In Paris Today

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)
Paris, Dec. 24.—Some mystery attaches to the arrest of a man at the Grand Hotel this morning. Speaking French, he asked for a room and when asked for his papers turned over documents which showed his name as Rudolph Hanover, a native of Berlin, who apparently had been at Spa, German headquarters when the armistice negotiations were in progress. He says he was a member of the armistice commission. He was turned over to the police who have declined to talk about the case.

Former Escanaba Priest Quite Ill

Information received in this city from Menominee is to the effect that Rev. Fr. LaForest, formerly pastor of St. Anne's church in this city, is seriously ill and has been taken to a hospital in Menominee. He is suffering from a stomach affection and his condition is said to be serious.

CLOTHING STORE IN GLADSTONE IS RUINED BY FIRE

Stock and Fixtures of Hub
Clothing Company Almost Totally Consumed By Blaze
Last Night.

IT RAGES FOUR HOURS Firemen Put Up Valiant Fight and Prevent Flames From Spreading To Adjoining Property.

One of the most disastrous fires with which the Gladstone fire department has had to contend in some time, occurred shortly after midnight last night when the building occupied by the Hub Clothing Co., on Delta avenue, between Seventh and Eighth streets, was put out of business by fire and water.

Have Hard Fight Every available energy was thrown into the fight, however, and at 4 o'clock this morning, the flames had been sub- dued and had been confined to the one building, although the stock and fix- tures are heavily damaged.

A portion of the first floor fell into the basement but the flames did not work their way through to the second floor of the building, although the heat was so intense that the varnish was melted from furniture in the offices above. The fire was all confined to the one floor and the walls, though cracked by heat, stand intact.

Damage Is Heavy.
Some idea of the tremendous amount of water thrown may be gained from the fact that this morning the basement was level full and had to be pumped out by the fire department. This condition applied to the room next door, which was occupied by Lloyd Boyer, with a stock of groceries. Some water damage was done in this store and the basement was filled with water.

The stock of the Hub Clothing company is owned by Mrs. Jacobs and the building by Mrs. J. T. Whybrew. The fire caught the clothing store with an unusually heavy stock, which had been laid in in anticipation of big Christmas business. It is estimated roughly that the value of the stock is $18,000 and the fire chief estimates that it may be about 60 per cent damaged, perhaps more than that. The clothing was subjected to terrific heat, smoke and saturated with water.

Christmas Will Be Celebrated At The Almshouse Tonight

Early and most prosperous days when all the world looked rosy will be recalled at the Delta County almshouse tonight, when Mrs. O.N. Harvey, Matron, will give the unfortunate inmates of that place an old time Christmas entertainment, with a tree, gifts of candy, nuts and all the trimmings. The idea is to turn for a time, the minds of the old folks from their present unfortunate state and bring back the childhood dreams when happiness and joy were the thoughts uppermost in the minds of the children who have since grown to maturity under adverse conditions.

Escanaban Seeks Rest Billet; Finds Home Of Escanaban

A rather interesting coincidence is mentioned in a letter received yesterday by Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Brotherton from their son Lester who is with the American Forces in France. He relates an instance of being in a party that was seeking rest billets in Luxembourg. They were asked if any of them were from Michigan and when told that some Michigan men belonged to the band, stated that they had a brother in Escanaba, Michigan. His name is Henry Decker of 602 Oak street.

Merry Christmas; Mirror Not To Issue Paper Wednesday

In accordance with its custom, the Mirror will publish no newspaper on Christmas day. Employees in common with those in all other lines, will have an opportunity to properly observe the day and the Mirror takes this occasion to wish all its readers and advertising patrons the very merriest Christmas possible and, with the war ended, the influenza situation cleared up and the weather approximately something near normal, it is felt that this ought to be an unusually joyous season for all. May your stocking be filled to overflowing and may your health be AA-1.

WILL HERBST IS NOW IN FRANCE WITH THE YANKS

Escanaba Boy Writes That He Hopes To Visit London and Paris Before Returning To The United States.

A most interesting letter has been received by a local friend from "Billy" Herbst, Escanaba boy, with the "treat 'em rough" outfit. Billy was in France when his letter was written on Nov. 26. He said however, he expected to be eating his yuletide dinner in New York, as that was a rumor and as rumors were thick.

The passage across the sea was made in seven days and without any delay because of fear of U-boats. The tank outfit with which he is identified went to a rest camp in England for several days, and then crossed the channel to France. He said the passage across the channel was the roughest part of the entire journey.

The outfit landed in Northern France and went to an English rest camp where 600 German prisoners were held. From there they were taken a rail journey of two days and two nights which brought them to their location at a large tank center where there are a very great number of large tanks large and small, doing the "one step."

In describing something of their life Billy says the men are furnished with hip boots, but these do not keep the mud out of the ears of the men. When it rains, they usually have it for a week at a time. On their way to their location when the letter was written the men traveled within 40 miles of London and touched a corner of Paris, two villages William hoped to see before he came back.

He says France is all right but most of the Americans will be willing to follow the crowd when the company is given. He didn't like the French wine and the sight of French seri 45al o'2D women padding their clothes as they wash them was something that caught the American eye with peculiar force.

Returning Soldiers Welcome To Use The Mirror's Columns

The Mirror desires to secure the names of the boys returning home from service from France and from training camps in the United States. Manifestly it is impossible for this or any other paper to get in touch with all of them where so many are returning. It will be of great interest to the friends of these boys to hear of their return and the Mirror regards such items as important. If you therefore request parents or friends of returning soldiers, to give their names to this paper, or send the news in by letter or postcard.

The Mirror offers the use of its columns free to any soldier, sailor or marine who has returned or will return and who is looking for work. Any man in the uniform of the United States is welcome to use the columns of this paper to secure employment and there will be no charge for it. The nation needs every ounce of productive energy it can summon and the Mirror hereby tenders the free use of its columns to assist the men in getting settled in such employment.

PERSHING CITES AN ESCANABA BOY FOR HIS BRAVERY

William Holzgrebe Highly Honored By Commander of
The American Forces in France.

TAKES A LONG CHARGE Dashes Across 500 Yards of Open Country Swept By Ma- chine Gun Fire of the Enemy To Deliver Message.

Friends of William Holzgrebe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Holzgrebe residing on a rural route near this city will be pleased to learn that the Delta county boy has been cited for conspicuous bravery in action by Gen. John J. Pershing, in command of the American forces in France.

He was engaged as a runner, when he made a trip through a hail of fire that won for him the recognition of the idol of America. Holzgrebe enlisted in Company L when that unit was stationed in Escanaba guarding the ore docks. Later he was transferred to Company K, 125th Infantry.

A true idea of Holzgrebe's bravery may be gained from the official citation, which follows:
"Pvt. William Holzgrebe, Company K, 125th Infantry.—For action near Verdun, France, Oct. 11-13, 1918.

Pvt. Holzgrebe runner of the Third Battalion, 125th Infantry, during the fighting and holding of the line near LaTullerie, France, was engaged in carrying important messages, crossing and recrossing death valley, between hill 258 and La Cote Dame Marie, the foremost part of the line held by the Third Battalion.

PICTURE HOUSES TO REOPEN TOMORROW SPLENDID SHOWS ON

Reopening of both the Delft and Strand picture houses tomorrow will be welcomed by the show loving public. The closing of the shows for the last few weeks has whetted the appetite for entertainment to a keen edge and it is very likely that both houses will be crowded. The former closing period seems to have demonstrated that pictures, shows, like telephones, are not missed so much until one tries to get along without them.

It will be good news to know that both houses are to reopen tomorrow and that bills have been secured for both places. Manager Jacobs has had a force of workmen busy during a portion of the closed period, in making changes which it is believed the public will approve.

PUBLIC FUNERALS MAY AGAIN BE HELD HEALTH BOARD SAYS

The period of private funerals is at an end in Escanaba. The almost complete disappearance of influenza has prompted local health officials to rescind the order which was issued several weeks ago and now funerals may be held as previously.

The "flu" situation in this city is in such splendid shape that the disease may be considered as practically eradicated. Yesterday's report, which covered two days and nights, showed but five new cases and that a complete report from every doctor in the city.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 24.—Congress began its Christmas recess today even the committees suspending all work for the holidays. Make this a
 Christmas

A Red Cross Christmas—surely no other kind of Christmas could so perfectly express human and humane interest. A Red Cross Christmas is a Christmas of service—you'll want to have a part in such a day

A Christmas list without a place for the Red Cross is a heartless, selfish list. A man who does not give freely and largely is a cold, calculating, heartless individual.

The Red Cross is an institution of service. It is an organization devoted to humanity. Its first thought is solace, service and succor. Its spirit is the spirit of Christmas.

You're apt to think of the Red Cross only for its war activities. That would be a slighting appraisal. Wherever there is struggle, trouble and strife, you will find the Red Cross.

Wherever catastrophe befalls, a community, the Red Cross brings physical and mental relief. Wherever there are homeless souls, the Red Cross works for their relief.

The Red Cross is the world's greatest charity. It has no boundary lines—its services are not limited by geographical confines—its service is universal and unlimited.

America owes it much. Our sons sing its glories. They revere and respect it—they know it truly as "the greatest mother on earth." Give—all that your heart dictates. Your heart alone should be your guide.

NATIONAL GUARD OFFICERS TO BE ON SAME STATUS

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)
 Washington, D. C., Dec. 24.—An opinion of the Judge Advocate General officially presented to Secretary of War Baker, holds that officers and enlisted men of the National Guard will revert to their former status after being mustered out of the service. This, it is believed will practically wipe the national guard out of existence. The opinion, rendered by Brigadier General Ensel, who has been acting Judge Advocate General since General Crowder and appointed Provost Marshal, was made public by the war department today.
 Gen. March, chief of staff, had asked for an opinion on Nov. 20, as to the status of militiamen discharged from the army.

Native Stone Used In Monument To Men Trained At Funston

Camp Funston, Kans., Dec. 24.—A corps of stone mason soldiers are engaged in erecting a huge monument in honor of the men trained for war at Camp Funston. The monument, a tower, will be forty feet high, twenty-five feet square at the base and tapered to six feet at the top. An inscribed bronze plate two by three feet will be set in the monument.

THE THEATRES

AT THE DELFT.

Beautiful Florence Vidor, with a face that Botticelli might have painted, grave, serious-eyed, graceful—has the role of Yvonne, the Belgian heroine of "Till I Come Back to You," Cecil B. De Mille's new Artercraft special picture by Jeanie Macpherson a story of a certain aspect of the Great War, which will be the attraction at the Delft theatre Wednesday and Thursday.

Miss Vidor has done remarkable work in the past but none so compelling as in this offering. She was seen to advantage in "Old Wives for New," and has played in numerous Paramount pictures opposite Sessue Hyakawa. She is talented, exquisitely beautiful, artistic to a degree and conveys a personal charm that is irresistible, and which is rapidly bringing her to the fore front of the film world.

White Christmas Assured Chicago

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)

The following case is but one of many occurring daily in Escanaba. It is an easy matter to verify it. You cannot ask for better proof of merit. Richard Steinke, baker, 615 Wells Ave., Escanaba, says: "While working out in the woods, I caught cold and it settled in the small of my back. My back was so lame I could hardly go about my work. When I awoke mornings, I could hardly bend over to tie my shoes. My kidneys were disordered, too, and the secretions were highly colored. Five boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills fixed me up in good shape, strengthened my kidneys and regulated them. I felt like a different man. Doan's certainly can't be equalled."
