SEYMOUR WILL GET BEST MACHINE ON MARKET FOR RACE

Escanaba Boy Will Not Be One Bit Slighted in Preparing for Races Here.

Johnnie Seymour will use the best machine on the market when he goes up against the premier motorcycle racers who come to this city to take part in the events of July 20, declared Dolphis Villemure, who is promoting the event. "We can't afford to have him ride an ordinary bike for we expect to see him surprise even the professionals of other states who came here to race against him."

This statement settles all arguments that were expressed regarding the machine to be used by Seymour. There was much speculation rife as to whether he would be given a chance to ride a strong machine, as many believe that Seymour would not stand a chance to win if he wasn't furnished with a racing bike of known quality.

To Fix Race Track

The race track at the Fair grounds already has been placed in readiness to some extent, but considerable more work remains to be done in order to place it in first class condition. Villemure will put teams on the track to get it in shape.

Should rain interfere with the races July 20, they will be staged the following day. But to give all who plan to attend an opportunity to see the events even if rain postpones them temporarily, the races probably will be started late in the afternoon.

Other Races Coming.

With Shrimp Burns and Ralph Hepburn already signed, Villemure now is endeavoring to procure the services of several other likely boys in the game. It is not improbable that racers from Green Bay, Oshkosh, Appleton and other points south of here will be invited to participate.

In all events, Villemure already is assured of the best races in the history of the upper peninsula. Inquiries from northern cities indicate many outsiders plan to attend the big show here.

YOUNG SWIMMERS.

A swimming instructor declares that children of three are not too young to be taught to swim. She says it is easy and pleasant to teach these young folks, and that there is no reason why children should not learn to swim as they learn to walk, so early that they can not remember doing it.

This is coming a long way from that former state when children were forbidden the water because they were "too young" to go into it.

Of course no little children should be allowed to play in water of any possible harmful depth without an older person in attendance and if the attendant can also be a swimming instructor so much the better.

In some communities so great has been the growth of public understanding of the health and joy of swimming, that a corps of instructors is maintained to teach the children and their elders, too, free of charge, while the public swimming pool is coming more and more to be recognized as a public necessity.

Fear of the water is not natural. It is instilled by horrid tales of drowning by parental warnings made more vivid by predictions of accident, by rough tricks played when in the water. Much better is the policy which develops the natural love of the water into a skillful enjoyment of it, which takes the child when he is young enough to learn easily and teaches him to swim.

Banking interests have been studying the problem ever since its nature became evident. It did not appear less formidable with a clearer and nearer view, and the accepted attitude now is that any effort which is made to "finance" Europe must not be that of a single bank or group of banks, but a national movement utilizing the combined energies of finance and industry, with the full knowledge and sanction of the government.

The National Society of Fine Arts has approved the plans for the National Victory Memorial Building, to be erected in Washington, D. C., as a tribute to the soldiers, sailors and marines who took part in the World War. A campaign to raise $10,000,000 for the structure is now being conducted throughout the country by the George Washington Memorial Association.

Commercial stock of wheat reported in a survey made by the department of agriculture for June 1, 1919, show the stocks are three times as large as last year, or 51,392,898 bushels. The figures refer to stocks actually reported and do not represent the total commercial stock of the country nor do they include stocks on farms.

Put Snake in Frying Pan. Flint, Mich.—When she entered the kitchen of her home after a brief absence, Mrs. Ernst Richardson told the police, she found the place looking as if the German army had paid a visit. Everything breakable in the kitchen, including all her dishes, had been smashed on the floor and food, uncooked and leftovers, was emptied into the stove. As a finishing touch the marauders had placed a two-foot snake, evidently freshly killed for the purpose, coiled up in the frying pan on the stove with the head hanging over the edge.

De Quincy has called Coleridge "a man of infinite title pages," and he says he heard Coleridge admit that a list of the books he meditated but never executed would fill a large volume. In this respect the two opium eaters were rivals. Perhaps their fertility in projects was due, as Coleridge fancied, to an overactivity of thought, "modified by a constitutional indolence," and had nothing to do with opium. On the other hand, De Quincy believed that his opium eating prevented him from writing the book he intended to make his life work, the slow and elaborate result of years of toil, to which he had "presumed to give the title of an unfinished work of Spinoza's, viz., 'De Emendatione Human Intellectus.'" In a later mood he devised a "Prolegomena to All Future Systems of Political Economy," and made arrangements with a provincial printer for its production, but its author never even got as far as the preface.

Corunna—Two damage suits in three months, due to automobile accidents, is the record of Sol Rifkin, junk dealer, of Owosso. Mrs. Alice Wallace, Corunna, the second plaintiff, asks $5,000 for personal injuries and the alleged wrecking of her buggy by Rifkin.

Cadillac—Several hundred Polish farmers are to be brought into Wexford and Lake counties in a colonization scheme promoted by Chicago men for development of waste lands here. Already 120 Polish families have bought land, no less than 80 acres being sold to each farmer.

Lansing—A state-wide inspection of business houses is to be launched at once under direction of Homer Rutledge, state fire marshal. Particular attention will be paid to the smaller towns where no inspections are made by local officials. Inspectors will be kept as long in a town as is necessary to complete the work.

Heretofore the road operated to the upper end of the lake. Hundreds of property owners from Michigan and Illinois appealed to the state commission to compel service on the resort special.

Detroit—Detroit probably will be on the main line of the Boston-Chicago aerial mail route some time in 1920. Where there is an air line mail service, there must be an aerial terminal and the present government appropriation is not large enough to provide equipment for Detroit. Postmaster William J. Nagel has obtained from Otto Praeger, assistant postmaster general, a promise that Detroit will be taken care of in the next appropriation.

Lansing—More than 100 letters have been received by the board of state auditors from veterans of the Civil war, making inquiry about the payment of the soldiers' bounty provided for in the Baker bill passed at the extra session of the present legislature. These bounties are payable to soldiers who failed to receive all or part of the $100 offered by the state in an act passed in 1864. They will range in amount from $50 to more than $450 for each person. Among the letters received is one from a 84 year old veteran.

Fire Truck Bill High; Is Deferred

The council last night put the brakes on the check book when they deferred payment of a bill of more than $200 for repairs to the city fire truck, declaring the matter would bear investigation.

The controversy arose over an expenditure of $153 alone for one part, with an additional expenditure of $47 at the rate of one dollar an hour. The finance and fire committees will report at the next meeting.

Another bill, this one for $31.50, was held up because it was for the service of a watchman at the Kate Aspinall estate. Alderman Sheahan raised the question, declaring the estate could well afford to pay for the man's services.

SALVATION ARMY STARTS WORKING FOR THE FUTURE

Having successfully stood the acid test of the war, the Salvation Army faces a future of service to humanity, which is resplendent in possibilities. Despite the fact that it has always done much good throughout the United States, the real value of such an organization as The Salvation Army was not generally recognized until its members entered the war with that characteristic vigor and intensity, brought to it the respect and praise it so richly merits.

ty will go over the top in this campaign here in charge that the campaign with the same spirit as that displayed in all former patriotic and philanthropic drives. Little need be said about the war work of the Salvation Army. It occupies a place in the annals of the great struggle, which is surpassed by no organization. How Salvation Army workers went over the top with the gallant Yanks, how they brought cheer and comfort to wounded and dying men, they spread no pains in doing everything possible to aid the fighters is now a matter of history.

Has Enviably Reputation And while this noble war work played an important part in winning for the organization the enviable reputation it now can boast it should not be forgotten that its peace-time work has been equally as brilliant. So that this peace time work among the unfortunates of the country may continue, it is necessary that this country do its bit in making the Home Service Fund a success.

Kill Insects In July; Best Time

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS) Washington, July 9.—July is the month to kill enemy insects, says a statement from the American Forestry association. Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the association, estimates the annual cost of enemy insects to this country $500,000,000. To check this annual cost the association makes these suggestions for July:

"Spray fruit trees with boreaux-lead. Spray elms for elm leaf beetle with arsenate of lead, one pound to ten gallons of water. Spray for forest tent caterpillars with arsenate of lead (same proportion). Spray tussock moth and other lead eating insects with arsenate of lead (same proportion)."

"If woolly aphid is found on under side of beech tree leaves spray with whale oil soap, one pound to ten gallons of water. Use the same combination on the red spider that may be found on prostrate junipers, yew and hox. The sycamore blight may be found in the shape of a white woolly mass on the under side of leaves causing them to curl and wilt. Get the bordeaux mixture in proportions of one pound to eight gallons of water. "A good way to destroy caterpillars is to drive carpet tacks part way into a long stick end. Catch your web at highest point and start turning in until you have the web, then plunge into any liquid that will kill them."

Coal Dealers Are Swamped by Orders

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS) Grand Rapids, Mich., July 9.—Warning sent throughout the state some time ago that failure to make coal purchases, on the part of the consumers, early in the year probably would mean a dire shortage of fuel next winter, has resulted in the swamping of dealers with orders in many parts of the commonwealth, according to reports received here. The buy early campaign has been conducted by the dealers in every part of the state and with good results. It is believed by local wholesale and retail fuel merchants that more consumers have their winter supplies of fuel bought now than at this time in any previous year in Michigan.

So rapidly have the orders been received by dealers at many points that they are now troubled with the problem of making deliveries. Some dealers do not know whether they will be able to fill all orders, in fact, for the fuel situation has not been definitely straightened out and there seems possibility that stocks to deliver will be far below normal. The dealers insist, however, that it is wise to order early if any deliveries of fuel are to be hoped for. Car shortage is expected to develop as soon as the grain crops begin to move and may further complicate the situation, it is declared.

FARMER NEEDS GOOD ROADS

Motor Has Extended His Sphere of Operation Until 100 Miles Doesn't Worry Him.

There is a reason for American tardiness in road building. We need not be utterly downcast when we hear our highways unfavorably compared with the fine, smooth roads of Europe. We must remember that European highways were hundreds of years in the making and in periods when roads were the sole means of transportation, both civil and military. There were no railroads, no electric lines, no wire communication. Road building was the essence of commercial life and communication.

America started almost with the railroad and the steamboat. Comparatively a few years later we had the telegraph. Our roads were neglected because they were only local in character. Our railroads and telegraph enabled us to leap the centuries. But now we are confronted by a new need. It is the need for better local transportation, says Chicago Tribune. Where formerly the farmer was content with a few miles of dirt roads for his local traffic, he now requires hundreds of miles, for his area has expanded with the advent of gasoline.

A few years back there was the protest that good roads were merely the argument of the automobilist, a species restricted chiefly to metropolitan districts. A part of that argument still obtains—that good roads is the demand of the automobilist; but the automobilist is the farmer. The motor has extended his sphere of operation until 100 miles is of no more concern to him than was ten before.

HIGHWAY MODEL IS UNIQUE

Made to Show Just How Relocation of Roads Better Conditions in Traveling.

The relocation of old roads seems to be something mysterious or uncanny to so many taxpayers that the Pennsylvania highway department has had an unusual model made to show conditions. This model measures six by five feet and was made by a specialist in such work at Washington. It is in relief, with roads, fields, houses, trees and other features of the landscape reproduced to a correct scale. On it are shown three types of poorly located roads frequently found and the proper method of relocating each so as to provide satisfactory grades and connect the terminal points in the most direct manner. The model also shows three types of road construction.
