Italy Turns To Use of Electricity

ROME, July 11.—Italy's lack of coal has forced her to depend more and more upon electric power. During the period of 1914 to 1918 more than one hundred million dollars was expended on water power electric plants by electric companies in Turin and Milan. Italy's annual consumption of coal reaches 12,000,000 tons. For all of it she is dependent upon either England or America. The war naturally made the transportation of it a difficult problem so Italian engineers were forced to build large hydro-electric stations. Italy could save at least three-fourths of her coal consumption, by using her water power, according to Signor Maffeo Pantaleoni, engineer and dean of Italian economists. Much of it remains undeveloped.

BAY CITY—Mike Smalleski was arrested on the charge of drunkenness. When his brother William went to the police station to get him out, he, too, was arrested. They paid the court $20 and $10 respectively.

Cable, America to Sweden, Is Plan

Stockholm, July 12.—Strong financial interests in the United States have under consideration with authorities of the Swedish government a plan to lay a cable from America to Sweden, making the landing at Gothenburg, says the Dagen Nyheter.

British monopoly and control of cable connection between Sweden and the United States and the exercise of British censorship in the war has caused some adverse criticism here. The American minister, Ira Nelson Morris, now in the United States, is said to be energetically supporting the plan under consideration and it is understood here that one of the purposes of his visit to America was in connection with the proposed new cable service.

Advocates of the proposal point to the prospect that a considerable part of American trade with Russia, Finland, Poland and the Baltic Provinces will pass through Scandinavian countries, and they see in this, increased need of a direct cable service with the United States.

WALLY SCHANG IS FAVORED

Placed in Fifth Position in Batting Order of Boston Red Sox—Unusual for Catcher.

It is seldom indeed, that a catcher is placed as high as fifth in the batting order of a major league team, as in the case with W. H. Schang of the Boston Red Sox. Schang is not only a fine batter, batting from either side of the plate, but he is a fast base runner, something unusual in a catcher.

AMERICAN IMMORTALS

FRANK GAFFNEY,
Private, First Class, Company G, 108th Infantry.

Private Gaffney earned his Distinguished Service Cross by conspicuous gallantry in action near Ronsoy, France, September 29, 1918. Private Gaffney, an automatic rifleman, pushed forward alone with his gun, after all the other members of his squad had been killed, discovered several Germans placing a heavy machine gun in position. He killed the crew, captured the gun, bombed several dugouts and, after killing four more of the enemy with his pistol, held the position until reinforcements came up, when eight prisoners were captured. His home is in Lockport, N. Y., and his father is Wilber Gaffney, Chapel street.

Think O'Neill Is "Find" As Catcher

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)
Cleveland, O., July 12. Steve O'Neill, Cleveland backstop, one of the greatest catchers in the game, according to Cleveland fans, who say that he is in the same class with Ray Schalk of Chicago. O'Neill not only is a remarkable catcher as measured by his ability to throw to bases and hit, but he has a sound judgement as any receiver in the game. He probably has a more thorough understanding of the weakness of rival batsman than any catcher in the American league, the fans say.

Connie Mack Says White Sox to Win

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)
Chicago, July 12.—"The White Sox will win the pennant in the American League," said Connie Mack, manager of the Athletics. "The Chicago players, collectively, are smart crew, and with Cicotte pitching championship ball since the season started, and with some of the other twirlers working in championship form, I do not see where New York or Cleveland will be able to beat Kid Gleason to the flag."
Mack said he looked forward to seeing the New York Giants battle the White Sox for the world's championship this fall.

HEAR THE PRESIDENT

The President of the United States returns from a mission the most important, the most difficult, the most delicate ever undertaken by any official representing this country.
The United States had one paramount interest in the questions proposed to be settled at the close of the war in France—to rid the world of the people of the United States. There is but one way for a great people—100,000,000 people—to transact business. They must act through representatives.
The President undertook to do this business for the people of the United States. In this he did not act preemptively. The Constitution required him to do this. He might have acted through his Department of State, but the result would have been the same—he would not thus have shifted his responsibility. He chose to act in person. It was his best judgment that he could work most effectively. The President has completed so far he was able the work which he undertook. It is not charged by anyone that he did not act in good faith and with all the resources at his disposal to defend for the best interest of his country according to his judgment. Before he went he made certain principles in accordance with which he proposed to act. It will appear that those principles are not wholly followed.
Judging of this it is well to keep in mind that the President did not complete the entire peace conference. He was one among many others, each representing selfish views, aims and interests very different from those of the unselfish people of the United States.—Detroit News.

IS IT WORTH WHILE?

New York state suffers an annual economical loss of $5,000,000, due to the decreased productivity and loss in earnings on account of syphilitic mental diseases according to an estimate made by Dr. Pollock after a careful survey of the situation.
"When it is remembered that patients with syphilitic insanity rarely, if ever, recover and that death occurs in the average within two years from the time of entrance to the hospital, it would seem that humanitarian consideration alone would compel city and state authorities to do everything within their power to check the ravages of syphilis. The enormous loss due to syphilitic mental diseases furnishes a financial argument. Estimated for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1917, and figuring on the basis of the year of productivity lost through the disease, the loss of earnings amounted to almost $5,000,000, males and females included."

In certain lines of women's apparel America has become independent of other countries in the production of styles and materials, asserts a fashion writer, and we quite agree with her. One certain line is created. Soon, very soon, we predict, women actually are going to wear furs only in the winter time.

"The league for the defense of the kaiser" is spreading throughout Germany, reports say, which indicates there are a few Huns remaining who think they have to have a bayonet stuck through them before they are defeated.

England, too, will restrict alien labor. The House of Commons voted to insert a clause in the alien bill to that effect, despite strong government opposition.

"Stick to the bush" is the timely motto of some berry pickers, but we say "Never cut the first berry" if you plan to fill your pail.

GRIFFITH SWEET ON FOSTER

Manager of Nationals Thinks His Third Sacker is One of the Best Place Hitters.

Clark Griffith—always an extravagant talker, and at the same time a renowned baseball sage—is ready to boost Foster. Here is a sample:
"I have had on my teams the three greatest place hitters in the history of baseball, and I want to tell you that of the three, Eddie Foster is the best."

Eddie Foster.

The others are Willie Keeler and Hal Chase. Willie taught Hal, and Hal taught Eddie.

"Foster is the smartest batter I ever saw. A pitcher usually can tell by the position of the batter's feet just where he hopes to hit. Just as a boxer gets a line on the schemes of his opponent by watching his opponent's feet. If you see a right-hand batter's feet set for an attempt to hit to right field, you can pitch fast inside, and nine times out of ten he will pop up."

Calls Drama "Low, Rotten, Futile"

London, July 11.—"Rotten, low and futile," Miss Lena Ashwell, one of the best-known English actresses, has characterized the drama of today as represented on London's stages. Addressing the inaugural meeting of the British Drama League, she said nothing could be detrimental to the wholesome life of the nation than such plays.
"What astounds me," she continued, "is that there is no apprehension in this great country of the power of the drama."
She recalled that during the war Germany sent Shakespearean companies to Switzerland while English dramatic art was represented in Paris by a revue. At the time of greatest stress none of the men from overseas who came to London had the opportunity of seeing any of the plays which represent England's national ideal, Miss Ashwell declared.
The point of view of the church was expressed by the Rev. H. R. L. Sheppard, who declared it to be "quite monstrous that the Christian church does not possess its own theatre in London where it might amplify the message it gives from the pulpit."
Telling of his experience with Shakespearean plays produced in the East End, he said: "The West End does not realize how the poorer people love good stuff. It is the same in France. Mr. Atkins does not want a bed room any more than I. It does not shock him more than it shocks me. It merely insults his intelligence."

UNIFORM MAKES HIT

The Southern league rule that managers must not appear in uniform unless listed as active players doesn't bother Carlton Moleworth. The fat manager of the Birmingham team dons a flannel shirt and a pair of overalls before each game, puts his team through its hitting and fielding practice as an "active" participant, then retires to the bench when the game begins. His workout rig is said to make a great hit with the fans.

JOE ENGLE TO JERSEY CITY and the Braves, has signed with the Jersey outfit. Then Joe Engle, a right-handed pitcher, formerly with Washington, has been added to the Jersey City pitching staff. Engle recently was released by the Cleveland club. Paddy Banman, a former Yank, joined the Skeeters on their trip to the north. SLUGGER FLAGSTEAD WINS REGULAR JOB

Rookie Got Into Line-Up When Shorten Was Injured.

Has Played Excellent Ball in All Departments and is Hitting Above .300 Mark—Not Expected That He Will Fizzle.

Ira Flagstead, who was secured by the Detroit Tigers from the Chattanooga team of the Southern association, where he gained a reputation of being a consistent hitter, went well during the training stay at Macon and subbed in center in the early games before Cobb joined the club. Then he was on the bench and he was expected to stay there, to be ready for emergency duty in the outfield.

The rest is an old story. Shorten injured his leg near the end of the training trip, got in the opening game against Cleveland and then was forced out of the lineup when his leg again gave him more trouble.

Flagstead got three hits in that second game against the Indians, has played excellent ball in all departments ever since and now is the club's regular right fielder. He has been hitting more than 300 most of the time, much of it in pinches. Shorten's misfortune was his good fortune.

Many other ball players with batting marks almost as big as Flagstead's have come from the minors and failed in the majors where they found the pitching too good. Ira may also fall for the same reason, but there seems little chance. He has faced the best pitching in the league and hit far above the average; in fact that is why he is sticking in right, after starting there as a substitute. Many minor league phenoms have been curve-balled out of the majors, but Flagstead has shown no weakness against this kind of pitching.

He is fast on his feet, covers a lot of ground and has a strong arm. He has faced several trying situations and his judgment at those times has been good.
