ESCANABA MEDICAL MEN'S FEES LOWER THAN IN CHICAGO

Report of Recent Increase in Chicago Is Submitted Here.

It costs a great deal more to be sick in Chicago than it does in Escanaba according to a fee list of the Chicago medical society recently published.

Doctors in that city have increased their fees greatly in many cases as high as 100 per cent.

Then doctor's fees in Escanaba are exceedingly low considering the nature of their work and the hours they must expend in the task which confronts them in many cases.

Below is a schedule of the recent price list adopted by the Chicago association:

- Chicago Medical Fees.
1. Office visit—$2.00 to $5.00.
 2. Office visit including examination—$10.00 to $50.00.
 3. Day visit, less than one mile—2.00 to 15.00.
 4. Day visit more than one mile—5.00 to 25.00.
 5. Visit between 8 p. m. and 8 a. m.—10.00 to 20.00.
 6. Anesthesia or other hypodermic administration—5.00 to 50.00.
 7. Simple fractures (reduction and first dressing)—75.00 to 500.00.
 8. Operation for Hernia—200.00 and up.
 9. Operation for appendicitis simple

10. Operation for appendicitis complicated—500.00 and up.
 11. Operation for Thyroid—300.00 and up.
 - X-Ray, hand or foot, two planes—8.00 to 15.00.
 - Knee, Elbow, Shoulder or Hip 2 planes—15.00 to 50.00.
 - Head, Spine, Pelvis or Thorax—25.00 to 100.00.
- Under this schedule house visits may cost as high as $15. The old fee was $5. Night visits will run from $10 to $20. Minor operations formerly listed at $25 to $50 will range from $100 to $500. Amputation of toes, formerly costing $15 to $50, will run from $50 to $200. Major operations will range from $1,000 to $10,000.

Powers-Spalding May Have New Dance Hall

Plans for a new hall at Powers to take the place of the old opera house and dance hall are discussed in the Powers-Spalding Tribune:

"We have been informed by good authority that there is a movement on foot now for the building of a large hall and opera house in this village.

"An architect is now preparing the plans and specifications and should they meet with the approval of the promoters work upon the new structure will commence as soon as the weather permits.

"This place has outgrown the old opera house, which has at many functions proved itself to be too small to accommodate the local people and those from the surrounding towns, who usually attend shows and dances here. The new hall will be sufficiently large to accommodate the people and it will exceed many of the large city dance halls.

"Local people are giving the project strong encouragement and in all probability the new structure will be ready for use within a short time.

The A B C Super-Electric Saves Clothes and Money

Nine-tenths of the wear and tear on clothes and linens, laundered in the old fashioned way, is caused by the scrubboard. The necessary forceful contact with a rough surface, with the resultant friction, destroys the fibre in cotton, wool and linen fabrics. The Super Electric WASHES CLEAN. And it will harm no fabrics that soap and water will not injure.

A Super Electric in your home represents a genuine INVESTMENT. It keeps in your pocket the outlay of money required to send your clothes and linens to the public laundries, with their ever-mounting price-scales. It keeps in your pocket the cost of laundry hire—think what this means in a year's time. And if you employ a housemaid, you'll save the "extra for washing."

The Price of an A B C Super-Electric is within reach of every purse—no home can afford to be without one.

THE UNITED STATES AND ARMENIA.

Earl Curzon, British foreign secretary, has explained to the house of lords that the United States has delayed taking a mandate for Armenia—or has not said it would not take one.

The British were able to conquer Mesopotamia and Palestine, and the British and the French have been able to parcel out the rich Turkish holding by secret treaty, but they have not been able to prevent a badly defeated and disorganized enemy from continuing massacres of Christians.

It is deplorable that there was no authority in the United States to say no instantly to the first suggestion that America take a mandate for Armenia. It was a ridiculous proposal. It presupposed American feeble-mindedness. Our exaggerated posing as altruists may have exposed us to it justly, but Earl Curzon is himself in an unfortunate posture when he lays responsibility in any fashion for Armenian horrors upon the United States simply because the United States has not consented to become the world's greatest simpleton.

It is particularly unfitting for Curzon to try to crawl out of the difficulty by turning reproach upon a country with which he personally has enjoyed profitable relations and which he has had peculiar opportunity to understand.

An Associated Press report from Washington, with relation to Armenia says that Maj. Gen. Harbor, head of the American mission which examined the question, recommended in his report the assumption of the Armenian mandate. It is known that this is not true. Gen. Harbor knows, as every informed person knows, that the mandate over Armenia should not be taken.

Every American who knows what has been done and what is to be done to Turkish possessions knows that all the regions having resources have been taken or will be taken over by the European conquerors, and Armenia is left to bankruptcy because it is denied the possibility of development needed by a new state.

A mandate which included the rich Turkish provinces, or enough of them, controlled from Constantinople, would have a chance of success and might give the dependent peoples ordered and prosperous lives. Then there would be only the question of advisability of the United States undertaking such an international responsibility.

The United States has heavy responsibilities now, and some of them, notably its Mexican responsibilities, reproach it. We have the weak regions of a hemisphere and we have wards in the Pacific. Armenia is properly the charge of the nations which have taken everything in the neighborhood except the trouble.

The United States ought to say no. Let the nations which want the resources of Asia Minor take the troubles of Asia Minor. The moral obligation is upon them. Statements such as Earl Curzon made are unworthy.—Chicago Tribune.

The Republican Publicity Association, through its President, Hon. Jonathan Bourne, Jr., today gave out the following statement from its Washington Headquarters:
"That Germany can make only slight reparation for the damage done by her in the war, and, therefore, that the United States should pay, is the amazing conclusion reached by Maynard Keynes, an attaché of the British Treasury, in a book recently written and given wide circulation in the United States. A still more amazing feature of his book is that he couples up this proposal with the hint that European nations that have borrowed from the United States might go to war to prevent the collection of the debt. Here are his exact words. There will be a great incentive to them to seek their friends in other Directions, and any future rupture of peaceable relations will always carry with it the enormous advantage of escaping the payment of external debts.

Briefly summarized, the inter-lial debt situation is that the United States has loaned $10,000,000,000 to the allied nations, of which $4,210,000,000 went to Great Britain. Great Britain loaned to other nations $8,700,000,000, of which $4,210,000,000 was furnished by the United States, leaving Great Britain a net lender to the extent of $4,500,000,000. Under Mr. Keynes' proposal therefore, the United States would cancel a debt of $10,000,000,000, while Great Britain would cancel a debt of only $4,500,000,000. But that is not all. Mr. Keynes proposes that after the United States has canceled this $10,000,000,000 debt, this country shall be the principal contributor in advancing a billion dollars to put European nations back on their feet industrially and in a position to conduct an aggressive and successful commercial war with the United States. This astounding proposal would seem so absurd as to be unworthy of consideration were it not for the fact that Mr. Keynes weaves into his book so much laudation of Woodrow Wilson and Herbert Hoover that one is constrained to conclude that he hopes through the influence of those gentlemen to induce the United States to adopt the policies he suggests. It is true that he criticizes Wilson's course at the peace conference in some respects but he praises his internationalism.

The $10,000,000,000 the United States has loaned to the Allies, is still to be paid by the people of the United States. The money loaned was raised by the sale of bonds, and the American bonds must be paid either by the people of the United States or by the people of countries to which the money was loaned. For the United States to cancel the debt would mean, therefore, that the people of the United States must find some means of raising $10,000,000,000 in addition to their own war debt of some $15,000,000,000.

When this proposal is seriously made and an aggressive propaganda conducted in its support in the United States, the people of this country will be wise if they see an early opportunity to express their opinion regarding the plan. After the United States has subjected itself to the will of a league of nations in which Great Britain has six votes to the United States' one, it may be too late for the people of this country to express their wishes on this or any other subject. When we have once subjected ourselves to the economic pressure which the league of nations covenant proposes, it may be useless for us to say whether we like or dislike any scheme Great Britain may propose, in view of the fact, as expressly stated by Mr. Keynes, that the allied nations, "will make constant attempts to evade or escape payment, that it is fruitless to expect feelings of good will from France, Italy and Russia, and that these nations will seek their friends in other directions and any

MICHIGAN A. C. IN FINAL WINDUP OF BASKETBALL YEAR

Farmers Start Out Slowly But Put Finishing Touches On Game.

EAST LANSING, Mich., March 15.—Although the 1920 M. A. C. basketball team dropped 11 out of its schedule of 23 games athletic leaders at the college consider the season highly successful in view of the fact that every strong five in the middle west except Illinois and Purdue was played.

The only team which defeated the Aggies both on their home floor and on a foreign court was DePauw, which on its record to date appears to have the palm among quintets in the west. When Aggie fans consider that both DePauw battles came during the illness of Kurtz, star M. A. C. guard, and that the Hoosier team has shown itself superior to the leading conference fives, the two defeats at their hands do not rankle so much.

Bright spots in the Aggie record were the double victory over Michigan and the first trimming administered to Creighton in three years. By winning at East Lansing M. A. C. made it two out of three over the Omaha five. The Aggies broke even with Wabash, Notre Dame and Hope. They lost by one point to the University of Detroit and the University of Indiana in single games against these schools.

In other contests Kalamazoo college was beaten twice, and Mount Pleasant once. Oberlin was swamped 35 to 8 in the season. Chicago Y. M. C. A. college was upset by a decisive score. The University of Chicago, at present leading the conference, put down the Aggies 32 to 25 early in January. Nebraska took M. A. C. into camp twice at the bag end of a hard road trip.

Kurtz, Hammes and Captain Garratt, all guards, played their last regular games last Saturday night, when Hope was trounced 34 to 23.

America's Labor Trouble Is Only Started—Griffith

LONDON, March 15.—"America's industrial troubles are only beginning," said W. T. Griffiths, of the Iron and Steel Trades Confederation, who has just returned from a trip to America, to a news agency interviewer.

"I have been most impressed with the dire lack of machinery in America for settling industrial disputes, especially in the iron and steel trade," he went on. "In that respect we are years ahead of America. Mr. Griffiths added that he found general chaos in every industry.

Fear of American competition, he continued, was more fictitious than real, and he was thoroughly convinced that England had a wonderful opportunity for recovering its former position in the foreign markets.

"In one thing America excels," Mr. Griffiths concluded. "The output of their steel mills would be almost incredible to the average British iron and steel worker."

Women Employment in London Problem

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)
LONDON, March 15.—Women who are out of work or whose earning capacity have suffered as a result of the war now have the benefit of the direct help and advice of the Central Committee on Women's Training and Employment, which has just been appointed by the Minister of Labor as a standing committee. The new committee has been empowered to take over the balance of the Queen's "Work for Women" Fund and a further sum of 500,000 pounds has been allocated to it by the National Relief Fund.

The new committee, which consists of fourteen members, all well-known social workers under the chairmanship of the Marchioness of Crewe, will begin at once to train eligible women to qualify as teachers of domestic science, higher grade cookery, physical science and welfare work, and a selected few will be introduced to the medical and legal professions.

AMERICANS GIVEN STEEL GRANT DOWN IN SOUTH AMERICA

Exemption From Taxation Is Another Step Near Realization of Work.

RIO DE JANEIRO, March 15.—Development of the iron and steel industry in Brazil was brought a step nearer realization this week when the Ministry of Ways and Communications approved among its estimates for the current year a provision exempting from taxation and granting certain rights and concessions to a syndicate headed by Percival Farquhar, of New York.

By the terms of the contract with the government, the syndicate undertakes to develop mines, build furnaces for steel-making, factories for the manufacture of metal sheeting, and construct two lines of railways from ports in the State of Espirito Santo to connect with the Victoria-Minas railway which now reaches into the vast iron ore fields of the State of Minas Geraes.

The contract specifically declares that the concession is granted without subvention, without guarantee of interest and without new charges for the National Treasury.

Harrisburg Boys Help Save Birds

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 15.—Eighty-six boys in the schools of Lykens borough saved the game in the state game preserve in the upper end of Dauphin county by helping to get food to them during the recent heavy snow.

They volunteered to shovel snow from the road into the woodland where herds of deer and numbers of grouse, pheasants and quail, recently placed there by the Pennsylvania Game Commission, were in danger of starving. Though snow drifts three or four feet high were piled in the roads the boys in one afternoon cut a path through them and enabled the keeper to save valuable game.

AT THE DELFT.
Lucy Cotton, who has the chief feminine role in "The Miracle of Love," the picture at the Delft theatre today, is a Texas girl who has sprung into much prominence recently for her fine work on the stage and screen. Miss Cotton started her dramatic career in "The Quaker Girl," playing second understudy to the star until a fortunate (for Lucy) accident gave her the opportunity to appear in the lead and attract the attention of the manager and the public. That was the beginning of a speedy rise to fame via "Little Women," "Turn to the Right," and "Up in Mabel's Room."

In "The Miracle of Love" Miss Cotton has the part of a young English Duchess, married to a worthless nobleman, who endures her fate until she meets the younger son of a noble family and falls in love with him. A dramatic story is woven around their tangled fortunes which turns out happily for the two principals. Some realistic British atmosphere has been produced in the picture, including a notable scene in the House of Lords. Wyndham Standing plays opposite Miss Cotton. The picture was directed by Robert Z. Leonard.

Maj. Dalrymple To Fight Officials, So He Has Declared

CHICAGO.—Major A. V. Dalrymple, federal prohibition officer for the central states, today issued a statement in which he denies "public officials" who, he said, by their actions, hindered the enforcement of prohibition and stated that no orders ever were received from Washington prohibiting officials from seizing liquor without warrants.

"Reports to the effect that there are orders prohibiting us from making arrests without warrants are not true," said Major Dalrymple. "We know what rights we have and we intend to enforce the law. I helped draft the prohibition enforcement act. If the district attorney refuses to prosecute our cases, we will find some one who will."

Several days ago at the instance of District Attorney Cline, four persons who were arrested without warrants by Major Dalrymple's men were released from custody by Commissioner Smoot and the cases against them dropped, because the arrests were made "without due process of law."

Large Crowd Watches Strong Man Perform At Coliseum Sunday

Every seat was taken and standing room was at a premium at the Coliseum roller rink last night and yesterday afternoon when F. C. Frank, claimant world honors as a strong man performed.

It can well be said that the feats performed by the giant were marvelous. Starting his exhibition he bent and broke iron bars in his teeth and over his neck. A seven passenger Studebaker car with a full load passed over his stomach during which time thrills went up and down the backs of the many enthused spectators.

Other feats such as lifting considerably heavy weights and doing stunts which amazed the crowd were 'pulled' off. Continued applause greeted each individual exhibition.

The management announced this morning that if possible the strong man would be scheduled for a return engagement here within the next few weeks. Should he come back again, there is no question but that even a larger crowd will be present to see him.

Skating was enjoyed before and after each exhibition.

YOUNG AND FILLION FIRM REORGANIZES

Reorganization of the Young & Fillion company, effective today, took place Saturday when Victor Fillion and Med Beaudoin, former employes of the store were made members of the firm by Matt Fillion, who recently took over the stock of A. J. Young, who recently retired, and his brother, Ben F. Young.

The young men, given stock in the new company, have been closely connected with the business for some time past.

Victor Fillion, has been engaged in the shoe department with his father even since he finished school three years ago, and has proved himself a valuable addition to the business.

Med Beaudoin has been connected with the firm for several years and is recognized as one of the most progressive and experienced salesmen in the city. He started his business career when a boy with the Young & Fillion company, later going to Milwaukee and other cities where he gained valuable experience in his line. He returned to this city, before leaving for the service and has been with the firm since his return from Custer last April.

The business will be run along the same lines as in the past, with Victor Fillion taking over a share of the business end of the firm and Mr. Beaudoin closely connected with the shoe department.

Tom Dufour, who left the Fair store with seven years' experience to his credit, and Ben Young will remain in the clothing department.

The reorganized firm will give the public a splendid working force and will maintain the company's reputation for first class service.

LOCAL LEGION TEAM WILL PLAY QUINTET MARINETTE FRIDAY

Arrangements were completed this morning between the management of the American Legion basketball team of Escanaba and the team under a similar management in Marinette for a basketball game in that city Friday night.

The local manager accepted the challenge which was issued over long distance telephone and will send seven of the best men of the local aggregation to the Badger city to meet the fighters from there.

The old star, Medley, of the Marinette quintet recently returned from the east where he was traveling with the Green Bay basketball team and reports that he is in the pink of condition for the tilt. Wagner, Tait, Peters and Peterson will comprise the other wings of the Marinette team.

The locals although having been idle for the past few weeks are still in training and will put up a fight which should make the Wisconsin town sit up and take notice.

It was after a great deal of difficulty that the game with Marinette was scheduled. Several attempts were made to get the two aggregations together because of their having been classed as two of the best teams in this part of the country. Apparently financial matters stood in the way, although they have been cleared up and again Escanaba will be seen on the floor.

Marked interest is being shown this year in the high school circles in the Junior English debates being held by the third year English classes under Miss Elsie M. Griffith, head of the department.

At this time the subject is one of local interest and it is expected that there will be strong arguments presented on both sides of the question.

American Troops Were In Critical Danger, Says Sims

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)

WASHINGTON, March 15—German submarines were able to shoot at the American convoy which brought the first American troops to France in the start of the war because the United States had used a code system which was easily deciphered, Admiral Sims testified before the senate investigating committee today.

"It was only a matter of good luck that out troops on the first convoys were not caught and also it was a matter of luck that others were not sunk by the submarines," he said.
