

AWAIT CLASH IN GERMANY

TENSION IN GERMANY NEAR BREAKING POINT; RIVALS READY FOR BIG BATTLES

Both Governments Control Sections of Germany; General Strike Awaited By World; Dutch Take Precautions.

(By Associated Press.)

THE HAGUE, March 16.—The Dutch government has strengthened the guard at the German frontier and a close scrutiny is being taken in regard to automobiles and other cars passing along the frontier, according to accounts given by travelers coming from that section of the country.

Dutch laborers who have been working near the frontier have been sent home on account of the calling of the general strike.

THE HAGUE, March 16.—A Dutch torpedo boat has been sent to the harbor of Osterland-Wiergerland island to guard the former crown prince, according to a special dispatch received here this morning.

The two German governments—the new one in Berlin and the old one in Suttgard—are still locking in the final fight for supremacy, while reports in Paris today are to the effect that negotiations are in progress for an agreement between the two powers. The Ebert government stoutly denies that there are any agreement negotiations and declare that such a thing can not come.

On the face of announcements, the rival government promises to win the good will of the people and continue the control of the government.

Chancellor Kapp, backed by bayonets and troops that made it possible to oust the Ebert government, is sitting tight at the capital but already is feeling the effects of the weapons being used by the opposing forces to fight him—the general strike.

Against the strike he declares that the most drastic means will be used. In speaking of the reports that an agreement was pending between the two factions, President Ebert not only denies the statement, but declares that no negotiations can be reached with the Kapp government except by an unconditional surrender.

The National Assembly called together by the Ebert government will meet to discuss the situation at the present time.

Hindenburg Out.

Field Marshall Von Hindenburg who has been mentioned for the presidency of the new government, has eliminated himself by the statement that he would not accept it.

Besides this statement of denial that he would not take the presidency, he is reported to have declared that he would not become connected with the new government and that he absolutely disapproved of the movement.

A civil war was imminent as a result of the refusal of the Ebert government to carry on negotiations with the reactionary regime.

Details of the situation in Germany now are somewhat obscure but there appears to be reason to believe that the Ebert government is holding control on the south and west part of the country while the new regime is holding firm in northeast Prussia and the Silesian towns where cities are reported to have declared their adherence to the new government.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—The result of the sporadic uprising in Germany was expected by military men here, according to Colonel Davis, American attaché in Berlin. He indicates that the situation of the troops is not as serious as was first thought. He believes it is an attempt on the part of the socialists to overthrow the Ebert government.

March 16.—The resignation of Kapp of the new government is considered as important to reports received from Hindenburg has written Kapp advising that he would not accept it.

REAR ADMIRAL CONTINUES HIS NEGLECT STORY

Sims Says a "Little Blood" Would Have Paralyzed the U. S.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)

WASHINGTON, March 16.—A "little blood" on the part of the enemy in 1918 at the crucial point of the war would have paralyzed transportation of soldiers and crippled the shipment of war materials between the United States and the allies. Rear-Admiral Sims told the naval sub-committee of the senate, investigating the charges made by the rear admiral recently that there was inefficiency in the war department's conduct of the war.

He said that his information was gained from authentic sources indicating that Germany was building two heavy armored cruisers in a last hope to fight against the transportation of American troops. Sims then said that he knew the war department was using all sorts of means which were impracticable because there was not ample time to change matters although they had had a year in which to prepare having been notified in advance.

"If the enemy had known," Admiral Sims declared, "all they need have done would be to make a series of bluffs, involving the risks to a few men. We would have done the rest for them. Shipping would have been paralyzed."

GLADSTONE VOTES IN FAVOR OF THE $175,000 BONDS

Two to One Vote in Favor of Erecting New High School There.

Gladstone will bond for $175,000 for school purposes according to the expression of the people at the special referendum election held in that city yesterday. By a vote of over two to one in the full cast of ballots the people signified their desires to expend that amount of money to erect a junior high school and an additional four room school. After completion the school system of that city will stand with the best of the upper state.

The polls opened yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock and remained open until 8 o'clock in the evening to give all the electors an opportunity to cast their ballot either for or against the proposed bond issue.

Although the official count was not to be had this morning upon application at the city clerk's office in that city, it was stated by the clerk that there were about 260 votes cast.

The propaganda spread in behalf of the bonding proposition netted results last night. For the past few days those enthused over the prospective new school system were kept busy "electrifying" in favor of the proposal.

The high school bell sounded shortly after the polls were closed last night, signifying that the bond issue had been carried. Rejoicing was seen in many quarters of the city when the realization came that they were to have one of the best schools in this part of the country.

Local Couple Are Married By Judge McEwen Today

A hurry-up marriage was performed by Judge McEwen at 3 o'clock this afternoon between Everett L. Gould of Wells and Miss May Kolsch of this city. The witnesses to the ceremony were Carrie Hjelle of Marinette and Edward Gould, brother of the groom of Wells. Immediately after the ceremony they "skipped" from the court room, not even waiting for a certificate of the marriage. This was delivered to the groom's brother.

ESCANABA CUT OFF FROM PASSENGERS DUE TO A WASHOUT

Water On Tracks At Neenah Delay Trains Nearly Twelve Hours

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS) (BULLETIN)

OSHKOSH, March 16.—It developed that among those taken to the hospital and treated here when train number 116 south of Oshkosh was derailed, that Reid Murray of Oshkosh, a farm manager of the Old Commercial National bank, was the only person seriously injured. He had several ribs fractured and received other bodily bruises when hurled against the side of the passenger coach as it turned over and went into the creek. All of the others who were injured were taken to the hospital but are not suffering from any injuries, except some bodily bruises and cuts received from the flying glass. They will be able to leave the hospital in a day or so for their homes.

Northwestern train officials said that the trains would continue on schedule by running on the Soo tracks which run parallel to the Northwestern. The detour by the way of Fond du Lac will be made.

Escanaba was virtually cut off from train service from the south today and up until late this afternoon there were no trains to be had between here and Oshkosh.

A rail washout last night tied up passenger and freight trains between Oshkosh and Neenah and it was impossible to get communication by rail past that city for over twelve hours. Train number 101, due here early in the morning, did not arrive until the latter part of the afternoon. Train number 121, due here a little later, was also tied up to the extent that it did not arrive here until several hours after schedule time.

Number 101 came as far as Escanaba and broke train. Altho scheduled to go direct to the Copper Country this schedule was abandoned and the train will remain here until this evening when it will be made up as 102 and leave for the south on regular time.

One smaller train was made up here and sent north. It will return in time to make connections with the south bound train. Details of the washout at Neenah were few this morning, altho the information was sufficient to inform people of Escanaba that than service was hampered by it.

The company announced that repairs have been made in the Wisconsin city so that it is safe to participate a journey to any of the cities in that region.

Mrs. E. E. Fitzpatrick will leave tonight for Chicago where she will meet her husband. Mrs. Fitzpatrick was called here some time ago; by the death of her mother, Mrs. Moger.

ARGUMENTS IN NEWBERRY CASE NEARING CLOSE

Defense Attorneys Will Make Last Endeavor to Acquit Clients.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)

GRAND RAPIDS, March 16.—Continuing his plea for acquittal of the remaining eighty five defendants in the Newberry election conspiracy trial today, George Michelson of the defense counsel analyzed the case against the various "outside defendants" as he termed the members of the Newberry organization. He continued his arguments along the same line as yesterday.

Eight attorneys for the respective individuals and James Helme, rival of Henry Ford at the 1918 democratic primaries, were scheduled to address the jury some time today on their sides of the trial.

Attorney Littleton chief counsel for the defense is scheduled to address the jury sometime tomorrow.

Attorney Frank C. Daily, special assistant prosecutor will close the arguments for the government.

BIG OBSERVANCE OF ST. PATRICK'S DAY TOMORROW

Home Talent Entertainment at Strand in Afternoon and Evening.

What promise to be one of the most enjoyable observances of St. Patrick's day in recent years, will be held here tomorrow by members of the St. Patrick church, starting with a High Mass in the morning and a splendid entertainment at the Strand theatre during the afternoon and evening.

Observance of the day will begin with a High Mass at St. Patrick's church at eight o'clock, the Rev. Dr. F. X. Barth celebrating, which members of the Hibernian orders will attend in a body.

In the afternoon and evening a special entertainment will be given at the Strand theatre with a feature picture, "The Luck of the Irish," a seven reel Allan Dwan production, and a fine program of home talent numbers.

There will be two shows in the afternoon, one at 2 o'clock and the second starting at 4 o'clock. The evening performances will start at 7 o'clock and 9 o'clock.

In order to avoid the congestion that resulted in people being turned away last year, it is urged that all who can with convenience, attend the afternoon shows and give others a chance to see the night entertainment.

A slight change will be noted in the program as originally announced, owing to the fact that Ralph Finley, who was to appear in an Irish song number will not be in the city tomorrow. His place will be taken by Patrick Long in a monologue, dance and song.

Mr. Long is a graduate of the University of Cork and has been in this country only six months. His numbers, with the Irish folk dances by the Misses Birdie and Margaret Delaney, will be features of the entertainment.

Wood Carries Minn., Says Report Today

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)

ST. PAUL, March 16.—A statement issued at the Wood headquarters today claimed that Wood had carried every county in the state at the election held there yesterday. The statement was made from reports of the election board last night. It further stated that the Wood delegates would be in control at the state convention and that the delegates to the Republican National Convention would be instructed to support him, for the presidency.

LOCAL ROMANCE SQUABLE ENDS IN SETTLEMENT

Hear ye! Hear ye! The Justice court of the county of Delta is now in session. (Judge McEwen on the bench).

"Chief, bring in the prisoner." But the prisoner, defendant, newly wed or whatever he may be termed, did not appear and as a result the action of Mrs. Emma Denter against Henry A. Powers charging him with malicious, wicked and untrue acts and perjury was dismissed.

Yes, it is the last chapter of the far famed romance in which fifteen year old Pearl Denter and Henry Powers figured the strongest. Pearl and Henry got married. The ceremony was performed amidst inspiring events. The groom hastened back and forth while the bride awaited action patiently.

It will be remembered that on February 27 Pearl and her lover Henry (by the way Henry was considerably older) appeared at the office of the county clerk and made application for a marriage license. An affidavit to the effect that Pearl was of age, was presented and the license issued.

Then the couple had to have the knot tied and to Justice McEwen was left the job of performing the ceremony.

Ah! Ha! Another.

But halt here—for there was another actress in this play who figured, for a time, as greatly as any of the others. This was the mother to Pearl. Her objections were strong and stubborn. She would positively not consent to the marriage. She went to the court and notified the judge that the bride-to-be was not of age and that Powers had perjured himself in that the affidavit which was presented to the county clerk was false and malicious and then demanded a complaint to that effect.

The complaint was filed. The couple in the meantime had skipped over to Gladstone and there and then repeated the words—"I DO."

Now they are man and wife. This morning when the case was called for trial neither of the parties appeared. Chief Tolan was the arbitrator. He consoled the mother and as a result all is over and the couple will live happily ever after.

Mine Workers In Favor Of An Early Wage Settlement

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)

WASHINGTON, March 16.—John L. Lewis and William Green, acting president and secretary of the United Mine Workers of America, called at the White House today to inquire as to the status of the bituminous coal miners strike settlement.

They were told that President Wilson had not finished his study of the reports of the majority and minority committees. Both Green and Lewis expressed hopes that the situation could be ironed out and a satisfactory agreement reached as to wages, hours and conditions of work.

"Hoffman Jag" Costs Woodsman $25 And Costs; Some Kick

August Lundberg a woodsman was arrested near Ludington street at an early hour this morning when found in such a state of intoxication that he could not care for himself. He was taken to the city jail and there detained until this afternoon when he was arraigned before Justice McEwen. Upon his own plea of guilty to the charge of having a "Hoffman drop jag" he was fined $25 and costs which he paid.

Lundberg was "dead to the world" for several hours after being locked up. He had in his possession a quart bottle of the beverage with a kick. It was confiscated by the police, (that which was left of it.)

Three More Local Men Enlist in the Army Here Today

James H. McKibbin, Clifford Evans and Ben Richie all of Escanaba enlisted in the 44th infantry at the local recruiting office this morning bringing the total during the drive to twenty two. The three young men will be sent to San Francisco to receive preliminary training. A fourth man who had not completed his examination was expected to be taken into the service this afternoon.

GRADUATES OF HIGH SCHOOL HOLD MEETING

Atty. T. J. Riley And Supt. Olds Give Splendid Talks.

Will Appoint Committee of Five to Elect Association Officers.

With only a handful of the high school graduates present at the City Hall last evening, complete organization of an alumni association was postponed for a second time, but definite steps towards organization were taken when T. J. Riley, acting chairman, was authorized to appoint a committee to select officers.

While the meeting was poorly attended, it was one of the most enthusiastic and peppy gatherings held in some time.

Mr. Riley, as chairman, opened with a few remarks on the purpose of the association.

"We had met a short time ago," he said, "to organize an alumni association but we didn't get very far. I repeat my statement at the last meeting, a graduate of the high school, when he gets his diploma, hasn't paid in any sense the obligation he or she owes the school. Every graduate should feel it his duty and obligation to return something to the school that shaped his life."

Mr. Riley then called upon Supt. W. E. Olds of the public schools, who delivered a splendid address.

"I am very pleased," remarked Supt. Olds at the opening of his talk, "to know that an effort is being made to have a live active alumni association in the city. I come from a city where we had such an association and I believe it is to that, that the success of the school is due." "I am much pleased with the remark of the chairman that you should pay your debt to the school," he continued, "pointed out that the alumni association has a three-fold benefit—to the city, the school and to the members, personally."

Supt. Olds went on to explain that in regard to the first point, the city, the society would help the greatest enterprise the city has, namely the public school with its corps of 84 teachers and attendance of 2502 pupils.

He also touched on the advertising a good school gives the city, and as an illustration, spoke briefly of the advertising Escanaba gained by the Houghton basketball tournament and the selection of Christie, as the star player.

Speaking of the benefit the association would be to the school, Supt. Olds said that there was much to be done, especially in influencing eighth grade graduates to continue their studies through high school, and he compared the average 72 per cent high school attendance with Escanaba's 15 per cent.

"We are way below where we should be," said Supt. Olds, "and a good alumni association could help this out. A word from an alumnus at the right time would probably influence the eighth grade graduate to enter high school."

Discussing the personal benefits to be derived from an alumni association Supt. Olds spoke of the association at Flint and the pleasure it means for old graduates and suggested that a scholarship be established, by business men of the city, with the idea of showing that the people of Escanaba appreciate scholarship, as well as athletics.

Speaking of personal benefits, Supt. Olds spoke of the Flint organization and its motto, "The high school from which you graduate is no better than the high school is today."

"It stands you people from a personal side," said Supt. Olds, "from your own standpoint to see that the high school is the best that it can be and I can tell you that prospects in the Escanaba high school today are excellent."

"I would like to see," he concluded, "a real live alumni banquet with eats, next June."

Mr. Riley concluded the meeting with an interesting story of the bronze statue of Amherst College, that highly amused the graduates.

"It's just such a thing," he said, referring to his story, "when the laughter had subsided 'as a little tradition and sporting rivalry that enables a

NEW PROHIBITION RESOLUTION GETS BOOST IN SWEDEN

Party Upheavals Come With Majority Vote On Recent Amendment.

STOCKHOLM, March 16.—Adoption of a prohibition platform, by a vote of 118 to 105, and passage of a resolution in favor of the separation of church and state, were two of the decisions taken by the Swedish Socialist Party Congress whose labors here have just come to a close.

These decisions, however, were overshadowed by internal party upheavals which lasted throughout the Congress, much to the joy of the bolshevik and other extremist factions, as well as of rival political parties.

During the economic crisis, profiteering reared its head in Sweden, and several leading Socialists were alleged to have been connected with companies accused of making excessive profits. Whereupon, a cry was raised to read all of them out of the party.

Hjalmar Branting, ex-Minister of Finance, and a leading Socialist, defended G. Kallman, formerly chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, Varner Ryden, formerly Minister of Education, Herman Lindquist, president of the Second Chamber and Senator C. G. Magnusson, burgomaster of Stockholm, in respect to certain charges brought against them.

Last November Kallman, Ryden and also the Liberal minister, Axel Schotte, resigned their offices. Now, in consequence of the action taken by the Congress, Ryden gives up his seat in the Senate and burgomaster Magnusson, although popular with all classes in Stockholm, retires and will no longer sit on the numerous municipal committees of which he was a prominent and active member.

He will also lay down his senatorship.

Herman Lindquist alone weathered the storm. He was chairman of a company called the Arbeterbrosels, which imported coal and coke from Germany during the war through Parvus, the German socialist financier. Branting succeeded in having Lindquist retain his seat as president of the Second Chamber.

The Socialists are sure of retaining their numerical superiority in parliament at least until after the general election next October.

1920 Dog Derby To Start Soon

THE F.A.S. Man, March 16.—The 1920 Hudson Bay dog derby will be started here Tuesday night, March 16, at 10:30 p. m., with a searchlight and huge bonfires lighting up the trail on the banks of the Saskatchewan. A field of 21 entries is looked for, comprising the finest breed of huskies obtainable in the north. It is a non-stop race of 100 miles and the various teams are being trained to sprint from the start. The trails are reported to be heavy and drifted in spots and the race executive will send out a few teams the day before the race in order to break such parts of the trail that require it. Distemper has afflicted a number of the racing dogs but no fatalities have been reported and the teams are said to be rounding into shape rapidly.

Wingo Will Stay With Cincinnati
CINCINNATI, O., March 16.—Ivy Wingo, star catcher of the Cincinnati Reds, world's champions, is one baseball player who does not intend to forget his interest in the Cincinnati club or his admiration for Pat Moran, his manager. Wingo has two hunting dogs, which he has named "Cincy" and "Maran." When the ball season is over, Wingo gets his gun and dogs and carries his summer memories into the hunting grounds.

NORTH DAKOTA TO RAISE TEACHERS

Agricultural School Profs Will Be Put On Fair Salary Basis.

FARGO, N. D., March 16.—Every professor, instructor and teacher in the North Dakota Agricultural College; all boys and girls club leaders, and all county agents in the state will hereafter receive higher salaries, more nearly commensurate with the importance of their work, and the present day cost of living.

The state board of administration, after conferring with Dr. E. F. Ladd, president of the Agricultural College, the deans, and representatives of the Teachers Union, has announced a new schedule, effective and retroactive to January 1. A definite, twelve month schedule was adopted.

Where the employment is for twelve months, the entire year, there will be twelve monthly payments totalling the full year's salary. Where the employment is for nine months, the total salary will be one-twelfth less than for the entire year and payments will be made in nine monthly installments. Here are the new rates of pay: Deans and heads of schools, $3,000 to $4,000; professors and heads of departments, $2,500 to $3,500; associate professors, $2,000 to $3,000; assistant professors, $2,000 to $2,500, regular instructors of two years' course, $1,500 to $2,000.

Employees of the experiment stations will receive the same pay as teachers in the college when they do the same work. Project leaders in the extension division will be ranked as professors. Club leaders rank as associate professors, and county agents with assistant professors and instructors, according to scope and service.

Ray Schalk Has Marveled Record

CHICAGO, March 16.—The crack catcher of the White Sox, American league champions, expects to complete his own thousandth major league game before the summer is over. The plucky little backstop now is within about 40 games of that mark. This record has been made in less than eight years.

Schalk is regarded as the best catcherman the majors, his closest rivals being Bill Killefer of the Chicago Cubs and Steve O'Neill of the Cleveland Indians.

Few big league catchers have reached the one thousandth mark. Schalk is of the type that keeps on working all the time, seldom taking a rest, and then only when he is forced out of the game through injury.

Joe Tinker Has A Bright Idea

COLUMBUS, O., March 16.—Baseball fans in this city will not have to be calling up the ball park to find out whether Joe Tinker's club is going to play ball, because Joe has conceived a novel way of telling the fans when the game is on or off. A wire will be strung across the main corner in the downtown section and a huge red ball will be hung in the middle of it on days when the team is playing. When the ball is hung close to the building, it will indicate that there is no game.

Big Golf Links Built In Denver

DENVER, Col., March 16.—The municipal golf links of Denver, the longest course in the United States, if not in the world, according to experts here, has been constructed in this city. In order to lay out the course it was necessary to remove 45 buildings, a farm dairy, a brick yard, a dumping ground and part of a race track.

The course which is 18 holes, covers 6,767 yards. It adjoins City Park and occupies eighty acres of ground, forty of which belong to the state and forty to the city.

One feature of the municipal course and which differs from most courses, is that the "bounds" are kept to the left hand side. This construction makes it a delight to "right handers," as a "slice" from the tee keeps the ball in the course, instead of carrying it out of bounds. Another feature is its great number of bunkers and traps. There are 98 bunkers, traps and hazards.

The course is typically western in its formation—there being little grass on the fairways. The greens are of oiled sand, with a turf "apron" or approach.

Yacht Association Will Hold Big Meet

Commodore F. W. Wakefield has set April 3 for the annual spring meeting of the Interlake Yachting Association. The delegates from the twenty-four clubs belonging to the organization then will decide upon details for holding the annual regatta at Put-in-Bay, O. Commodore Wakefield, elected to the office following the 1919 regatta, has decided that the spring meeting will be held at Vermillion, O., to be followed by a banquet and "indoor regatta" tendered by the Vermillion Boat Club.

Jackson Gets New Three Eye Rookie

JACKSON of the Peoria club of the PEORIA, Ill., March 16.—Manager Three Eye League, has acquired a promising youngster in Johnny Osborne, an infielder. He has been farmed out to Peoria by the St. Louis Cardinals. Osborne while in the navy played on the navy team between such stars as Johnny Lavan of the St. Louis Americans and "Rabbit" Maranville of the Boston Braves.

Charley Stis Will Go To Other Crew

ST LOUIS, March 16.—Charley Stis, last season a scout for the St. Louis Cardinals and who has been in the minor leagues for several years, has accepted the management of the Mineral Wells, Tex., club of the West Texas league. Stis' experience as a manager extends over a period of several years. His first job as pilot was at Peoria, in 1911 when he won the Three Eye league pennant. The next year his club finished sixth. While with Peoria he sent up such stars as Flack of the Chicago Nationals, Holke of the Boston Braves, Vench and Yelle of the Detroit Tigers.

In 1913 he played with the St. Louis Federals and the next season managed the Regina club of the Western Canadian league. While in charge of the Aberdeen, Wash., club he was responsible for the sending to the majors Jack Smith of the Cardinals and Ward of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

ABOUT YOUR CAR

A good many car owners have commented on the way a storage battery stays on the job right up to the last minute. Endurance seems to be one of their strong points.

"Every once in a while a battery is brought in because the owner found it suddenly dead on his hands."

"Most of these failures are due to plain ordinary neglect and we always explain to the owner that the battery had been slowly wearing out for a long time through undercharge or overwork, lack of water or some other cause of battery premature death."

It is folly to expect that any battery is going to last forever, but there is plenty of proof to show that the right kind of care will extend its life for a long time.

Always put in water regularly, and when your service station dealer tells you re-insulation is necessary have it done at once. Practically every battery except those protected by Threaded Rubber Insulation needs re-insulation at least once in the course of its life.

"Guesswork puts a great many storage batteries out of business," says a member of the local Willard Service Station. The car owner knows that his battery is not working just right and feels that he ought to do something. So he goes ahead and often does the wrong thing.

The only safe course for a car owner to follow is to go to a man who knows batteries and ask him to remedy the trouble. It may not cost him anything at all to do so but even if it does, it is cheaper in the long run. If everybody would follow this method instead of tinkering with the battery at home, the average life of batteries in service would be much longer.

MICHAELS-STERN VALUE-FIRST CLOTHES

THE SHEEP'S THE GOAT!

Who's responsible for the high price of wool? The clothier says it's the manufacturer. The manufacturer says it's the woolen mill. The mill says "No, you are mistaken, it's the shearer," and the shearer blames the sheep.

So what else is there to do but pay the fiddler? You want ALL WOOL. It's the only kind of material that's worth wanting or wearing.

To offset the high price of wool and incidentally increase the size of our roll call we are getting along with a smaller percentage of profit this Spring even the prices in general are higher.

At $40, $50 and $60

We show surprisingly liberal assortments of PURE WOOL, HAND TAILORED garments and we'd like to have you see them so much that we would be glad to bring them to you if you can't spare the time to come and see us.

Inside Facts
It's what's inside your battery that makes it live long or wear out quickly. Inferior insulation wears out before the plates do, and re-insulation is necessary. Threaded Rubber Insulation eliminates the need of re-insulation, makes a battery last much longer under equal conditions, and reduces the liability to any other kind of repairs. It's the one biggest battery improvement in ten years—demonstrated now by four years of use. You can't afford not to know about it, for some day you'll need a new battery. WILLIAM JOHNSTON

Illustrations by IRWIN MYERS

Coming as it did as a dire climax to all my other troubles, the shock of old Rufus Gaston's murder sent me into an apathetic state from which it seemed impossible for me to arouse myself. Without hope and even without interest I dully awaited the approach of my trial for murder.

While there never had been an opportunity for any bond of affection to become established between my aged relative and myself—in fact, I had seen him only three or four times in my whole life, and then only for brief periods—still his unexpected and dreadful end had bereft me of practically every hope of being acquitted of the absurd charge against me. Wick, it was plain, intended to disclaim all knowledge of my relationship to Mr. Gaston, and now there was no one else to explain how I happened to be living in the building at the time of Miss Lutan's murder. Unfortunately I had destroyed both Mr. Gaston's letter to me and the note from my mother which had first told me of the old man's intention. My great-aunt, I learned from the newspapers, had been completely prostrated by the tragedy and had been unable to come to the funeral. The shock of the news of her husband's violent end had left her in a very critical condition. It seemed to have wholly deranged her aged brain, and the physicians summoned to the Maine camp where she was refused to permit her to be removed from there or to let anyone talk with her, declaring that the least excitement of any sort would be apt to have fatal results.

To be sure there was my mother, but she had proved my relationship, but she had little use of dragging up the old story of her uncle's murder from the funeral and had been so badly shocked by me that I had been writing her my own account of the feeling and telling her what had happened. She, too, addressed to me, but she had been forwarded by the post office to that until after she arrived in the city she knew nothing of my trial. It had been my hope that I would be able to conceal everything from her until after I had been triumphantly acquitted. If I were not she would know the worst soon enough.

When she first learned, or from what source, of my predicament I was unaware. I did not even know of her presence in the city until the day after my great-uncle's funeral, when—just twenty-four hours before my trial was to begin—a keeper brought me word that she was waiting downstairs to see me.

I steeled myself for the interview with her. Naturally I expected that she would be terribly horror-stricken and shocked at my plight, but what her attitude toward me would be I could not conjecture. I fully expected nothing but reproaches from her. She had been so opposed to my coming to New York that I felt certain that she would insist that my conduct must be responsible for my being where I now was. For years, it seemed to me, the relations between my mother and myself had been nothing but continuous misunderstandings. To my great amazement and bewilderment not an unkind word nor the suggestion of a reproachful thought came from her lips.

"Oh, my boy, my boy," she had cried as she saw me, "I know you didn't do it!"

"Oh, My Boy, My Boy!" She Had Cried as She Saw Me, "I Know You Didn't Do It!"

"I know my boy is innocent! What can I do to help you?" In that glorious, wonderful moment of reaction all resentment I had felt toward her forever vanished. I had one sacred, unforgettable glimpse of the eternal greatness of the Mother-heart, ever ready to forgive, ever quick to comprehend, ever prompt to aid. For one sweet hour we talked together, more understandingly than ever before in our lives. Freely and fully I told her everything, even to my wonderful but hopeless love for Barbara Bradford. She was willing, anxious, eager to aid me—but what was there that she could do?—what was there that anyone could do?

It was hopeless for a lone woman of limited means, unacquainted with the big city and unused to its ways, to attempt to battle against such powerful and desperate criminals as were concerned in the far-reaching plot to make me the scapegoat of their heinous misdeeds. I could only rely on her that she see McGregor and Gorman and be guided by what they suggested.

When the morning of my trial actually arrived I entered the courtroom in a state of dull apathy. The night before I had not slept at all. I had spent all the black hours reviewing my life, especially the last year, thinking with what high hopes and great expectations I had come to the metropolis and how miserably everything had turned out for me. Step by step I had reviewed the events that had brought me, discredited, all but friendless, all but penniless, into this dismal courtroom accused of a horrible, cowardly deed, seeking to see wherein I might have altered my recent actions or changed the course of my life to avoid having arrived at this shameful goal. Yet, strange to say, I found myself after mature reflection convinced that had I this last year to live over again not in one iota would I have done differently—no, not even if I could have foretold what the future had in store for me.

No sense of shame nor of guilt possessed me. I was aware of having done wrong to no one. A clear conscience kept assuring me that it was misfortune and not error on my part that had brought me here. At every point in the strange chain of circumstances I felt that I had acted as a man of honor should have acted. My sense of innocence upheld me even though the deliberate malicious plotting of evil men might make it appear to the judge, to the jurors, to the whole world that I was a murderer. Even though I should be sentenced to death for killing a woman I never had seen the knowledge that at every point I had done what I still believed to have been right, brought me strong comfort and filled me with new courage.

Yet it was with lack of interest that I listened to the monotonous questioning that formed a part of the selection of a jury.

"So far as I am concerned," I had said to my counsel in our last chat, "any sort of a jury will do. Unless we succeed in upsetting the evidence against me with a crash that all the world can hear it makes no difference."

"I guess you are right," he answered, despondently, it seemed to me, "and if the worst happens, we always can take an appeal."

His reply convinced me that he, too, was anticipating the result, which I long ago had decided to be the only outcome, unless something unforeseen happened—a verdict against me of murder in the first degree.

LIBERIA TRULY A HERMIT REPUBLIC

No Roads, Railways Or Other Conveniences in That Country.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)

LONDON, March 16.—Liberia is truly a hermit republic, writes Alan Burchier Lethbridge, author and traveler, in the Daily Telegraph. The country, he adds, has no roads, no railways, no telegraphs, no steamboats on her rivers nor any practical exploitation of her wealth.

Lodgings in Monrovia, the capital, virtually do not exist with the exception of one place which is conducted by the mayor. This man is an enterprising negro of North Carolina who besides attending to the duties of the mayoralty and conducting his hotel, operates an ice plant and an ice-cream parlor which formerly were German property. From these latter his profits are said to be gigantic. He also has "something to do with the post office" and is a police court magistrate.

"In fact," says Mr. Lethbridge, "this remarkable man, starting from nothing, has made himself a Rockefeller of Liberia."

In Monrovia, says the traveler, there are no horses, motors, rickshaws or other wheel vehicles; no street lighting, no drinking water and not infrequently food supplies for the European colony run out and strict rationing is enforced until the ship arrives.

Unless the 23 members of Congress appear at parliament houses properly attired in a black frock coat, patent leather shoes, white waist coat and top hat, they are liable to a fine of $5.00. The thermometer sometimes registers 110 in the shade.

STOCKHOLM.—Gen. Yudenitch, former commander of the Russian northwest army, arrived here Thursday.

SPANISH ROYALISTS MAINTAIN THEIR OLD ARISTOCRAT IDEAS

Fact That King and Queen Are Democratic Does Not Interfere.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)

MADRID, March 16.—The Royal house of Spain, despite the democratic nature of the King and people, alone among the remaining courts of Europe, retains all the old world formalities, which up to the outbreak of the war were so rigorously observed in Vienna, St. Petersburg, Berlin and to a more or less extent in London, Rome and some of the smaller capitals of Europe.

This is due to a large extent to the influence of the Queen mother, Maria Christina, who remains all powerful in court circles and is a stickler for the observance of those forms and ceremonies which marked all occasions at the court of Austria, where, as a Grand Duchess, she learned them.

King Alfonso, after receiving in the throne room at the palace in the morning, may rub shoulders with jockeys, bookmakers and the general run of racegoers at the track in the afternoon, but when he returns to the palace in the evening he resumes, as it were, the crown. It is generally reported that to him the afternoon, free from conventionalities is the happiest part of his day and that he has often expressed a desire when harassed by the political troubles of his country, which seem never to settle down, to leave it all and take his family off to some South American republic and engage in the breeding of horses, of which he is passionately fond.

The strict formality of the court was observed at the banquet and reception given to the diplomatic corps a short time ago when for the first time the representatives of all countries had been invited to the same function since the summer of 1914. The guests saw a display of jewels, which probably could not be matched outside of Asia. Although the diplomats were the guests of the evening, the younger members of the royal family preceded them and were to the right and left of Queen Victoria at the tables, the Ambassadors and Ministers of State coming after them. Dinner over, the King and Queen with the royalties and dinner guests formed in procession down a long reception hall where the foreign representatives presented the members of their staffs. The King and Queen stopped at each group to pass a few words, but this was the only informality of the evening. Later in the throne room guests not belonging to the diplomatic corps were presented.

The finest scene, however, was on the grand staircase, on either side of which stood a row of brilliantly garbed servants. As the beautifully gowned women wearing many jewels and the men in their brilliant uniforms, passed up and down this staircase a changing color scheme was presented.

Queen Victoria in a dress of cloth of gold, a wonderful diamond tiara on her hair, two great diamond necklaces reaching to her waist, was a stately and dazzling figure.

The Queen mother was equally resplendent in pearls, of which she wore a collar of six rows, a tiara, two necklaces and many clusters. Ladies-in-waiting wore jewels formed of every precious stone known, with whom vied the wives and daughters of the grandees of all Spain.

Electrical Men To Ask $1.50 Per Hour

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)

CLEVELAND, O., March 16.—When their old contracts expire April 30, electrical workers here will ask $1.50 an hour and a forty-hour week, according to J. A. Groves, financial secretary of Local No. 38, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, the largest of five electrical unions in the city. About 1,000 men will be affected.

The present scale is $1 an hour for forty-eight hours, and time and one-half for overtime.

Lloyd-George Invaded by Many Housekeepers

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)

LONDON, March 16.—Premier Lloyd George has been besieged at his official residence, 10 Downing Street, by a large number of would-be housekeepers attracted there as the result of a joke with a moral perpetrated by an organization of women clerks and secretaries.

Hundreds of members of the organization have been dismissed of employment in government offices as post-war activities have ceased. They have protested vigorously through delegates who have tried unsuccessfully to interview Mr. Lloyd George. In answer to their last communication the Premier had the following addressed to them:

"The Prime Minister says there can't be very much in this talk of women finding it hard to find employment. He has been trying for some time to get a housekeeper for No. 10, and he can't find one who wants the situation."

Dorothy Evans, secretary of the organization, immediately called several employment agencies by telephone. The proposition appealed to many applicants at the agencies for it isn't every day that a woman gets a chance to work at the famous No. 10. Soon the austere doorman at the official residence was opening the door not to higher-hatted politicians but to a number of women in all stations of life brought by servitude.

The doorman reported to a secretary, the secretary to the Prime Minister and in a short time the secretary was on the telephone telling the agencies to call off the applicants. And the Prime Minister has not yet obtained a suitable housekeeper.

Plain Questions to Escanaba People

Every Escanaba Reader Will Admit the Soundness of the Logic.

Would Escanaba people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as they do if the medicine were not reliable? Would they confirm their statements after years have elapsed if their experiences did not show the remedy to be deserving of it? Statements like the following must carry conviction to the mind of every reader:

Mrs. P. H. Connell, 327 S. Campbell St., Escanaba, says: "My back ached and my kidneys acted irregularly. I had dizzy and nervous spells and my head ached, too. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they did me a lot of good."

LASTING BENEFITS. Over six years later, Mrs. Connell said: "I haven't had occasion to use Doan's Kidney Pills for a long time, because they cured me of kidney complaint. Doan's certainly are fine and I always recommend them to kidney sufferers."

Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Connell had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Origin of the Jazz Band.

The jazz band idea, according to a French paper, originated in the time of the Directory. At the concerts of the Cat orchestra were twenty cats, heads in a row on the keyboard of a harpsichord. The performer by striking the keys pulled the cats' tails, causing a caterwauling which sounded like a jazz band.

MICHIGAN AGGIES WILL TOUR THIS PART OF THE U. P.

College Quintet From East Lansing to Invade Northern Territory.

EAST LANSING, March 16.—Michigan Aggie basketball men for the first time will try their mettle against the huskies in the northland when they visit the Upper Peninsula on a post season tour during the college spring vacation.

Opposing the Alpena Independents in the opener on Saturday, March 20, the team will swing into Cloverland for six games in as many days the following week. The Alger County club will be met at Munising March 22; Northern State Normal at Marquette, March 23; American Legion at Ishpeming, March 24; Gwin club at Gwin, March 25; Lake Linden at Lake Linden, March 26; and Michigan College of Mines at Houghton, March 27.

Such a trip is bound to be exceedingly strenuous and the Aggies entertain no delusion about the strength of these northern teams. According to information which has filtered down all are almost equally strong. The Alpena five has been rolling up enormous scores of 80 and 100 points and Ishpeming and the School of Mines quintets are understood to be exceptionally fast. The others are somewhat unknown quantities.

M. A. C. has made a brilliant record against college fives in the Middle West this year, and whatever the result on the trip, each game is bound to be hard-fought.

Among the players who will make the journey are three U. P. boys—Gustafson of Ishpeming, Matson of Dollar Bay and Hammes of Newberry. All are guards. Others will be Captain Garratt, Kurtz and Robinson, also guards; Foster, center, and Higbie, Gilbey and Heasley, forwards.

Lyman Fridmond, freshman coach, probably the best all-round athlete ever turned out by the U. P., will direct the team on the tour. While at M. A. C. he copped ten monograms, a record for the school.

MULES, MEN AND MONEY.

A MULE isn't much to look at. He has a jaw like a steam shovel and an ear as long as a politician's. He has a buzz saw voice, a kick like a Bolshevik. When he makes up his mind, it couldn't be changed with a wheelbarrow full of T. N. T. He is just naturally as stubborn as a hungry cannibal arguing with a mellow missionary. He carries around no false notions and would not think of prancing down the boulevard as a steed of style. He is hard working and economical. When gas-drinking, air-shod, satin-lined automobiles filled with folks who have not paid their rent slide by, our humble four footed hero may "heehaw," or whatever it is that an honest mule does to show his contempt, but he will continue the even tenor of his way.

So, perhaps man may consider the mule to good advantage, for the mule applies his talents without fuss or feathers or $17 silk shirts and he gets results. The mule takes advantage of those gifts with which nature endowed him. Few men do as much.

Wouldn't it be jolly fine if all of us were a little more muleish when it comes to handling our money? It would mean that more of us would be receiving interest instead of paying it; that there would be fewer hovels and more homes; less terror of illness and more of the real joy of living.

Miss Columbia has been known as the world's greatest spendthrift but gradually she is exchanging her paste jewels of needless luxury and willful waste for the radiant gems of economy and common sense and already the glorious diadem of thrift is within her reach.

When the war's blast withered Europe, Americans became aware of their every day habits of extravagance and they saved because they had to. Now there is peace and the lessons learned are being applied to every day life.

The government, appreciating the bountiful individual and national rewards at stake, has organized its Savings Organization and with the aid of loyal, conscientious, far-sighted Americans, is paying the way as best it can to that happy highway called Savings.

Every opportunity is provided the person who has heretofore yielded to the temptation to spend to now save. For the school child there is the 25 cent thrift stamp, then comes the War Savings Stamp bought in March for $1.14 and redeemable on Jan. 1st, 1925 at $5. Next comes the big brother of the War Savings Stamp, the Treasury Savings Certificate and these in denominations of $100 may now be purchased on an 'easy way' plan from the banks who accept as low as $2 a week. If you have never saved before, ask your bank about this plan and begin now.

Don't let the mule's kick be the only characteristic of that animal that you imitate.

BAKER SELLS ARMY SHOES TO RUSSIAN SOVIET.

One hundred and thirty-five thousand pairs of Army shoes have been sold by the War Department to the Russian soviet government at prices ranging from $1.35 to $2.00 per pair. This interesting information is contained in an official announcement from Secretary Baker's office. It was only a few months ago that thousands of our boys were suffering extreme hardships in Arctic Russia in carrying on a war which Mr. Wilson had declared against the Bolsheviks. Over a hundred of our soldiers were killed and many more were wounded in conflict with the very men who are now being outfitted through the kindness of our benevolent Secretary of War. While the people in this country are compelled to pay for $10 to $20 for shoes of only fair quality, the government is busy distributing its surplus footwear, made of the very best materials according to stringent Army specifications, to the Bolsheviks of Russia at a fraction of their worth. And meanwhile the State Department refuses to make peace with Lenin, and a Senate committee is investigating the soviet representative in the United States charged with conspiring to overthrow this government. Truly, we are living in a strange time.

WOOD TACTICS ADD ZEST TO CAMPAIGN.

Gen. Wood's announcement that he intends to carry his fight for delegates into every State, regardless of whether it has a favorite son in the field or not, will add zest to the pre-convention campaign. The General, being a citizen of no State and not subject to retaliation in kind from other candidates, has been accused of bad ethnic sin adopting a sort of warfare not available to his competitors. His friends, however, ignore such suggestions and brush aside the intimation that strife within the party will alienate the voters at the fall elections. They contend that delegates to the nominating convention are fair prey for anybody with the courage and energy to go after them, and will see to it that no opportunity is missed for securing pledged votes in advance.

THE WHEAT CROP SPECULATION SCANDAL.

The Federal Grand Jury at Spokane has just completed an investigation into charges of speculating in the 1919 wheat crop. "According to press reports," says the jury in its presentment, "former Secretary of the Treasury Glass recommended to Congress the appropriation of $150,000,000 to purchase flour and wheat. It is our belief that this wheat is now owned largely by speculators and, in some cases, by interests directly and indirectly connected with some of the officers of the United States Grain Corporation. Sales to Europe will benefit only the purse of individuals and the consumer will pay the bills."

BUT WHAT HAS MR. FIGG ACCOMPLISHED?

Assistant Attorney General Figg, who has been in charge of the efforts of the Department of Justice to reduce prices, says that the campaign against profiteering is arousing interest in every section of the country. Perhaps that is true, but far more interest would be awakened if there was the slightest evidence that anything is being accomplished by Mr. Figg or his department.

"LET UNCLE SAM DO IT."

The new British bond loan has been a failure, according to the London Daily Mail, only one-third of the cash required having been subscribed. The ease with which England has obtained financial aid from the United States Treasury appears to have blunted the sense of national self-dependence.

Any one who won't go to church these days had better read this and draw his own conclusions: A churchman and an atheist were having a discussion. "No sir, emphatically declared the atheist, "I don't believe in heaven, hell or God." The churchman slowly shook his head and went his way. Ten days later the atheist had died and the churchman, gazing upon his acquaintance who had been prepared with especial care for burial, remarked sadly: "Poor fellow, all dressed up and no place to go."

Canadian money in the United States has become about as popular as a hop toad in an old maid's bed.

Discovery is reported from South Africa of a mysterious animal of the "general shape of a lizard, probably 50 feet long with a thick tail like a kangaroo, a hump on its back and a terrifying horn on its snout, the monster being covered with scales colored with great blood red spots from which radiate pale green stripes." Can it be that a member of the United States Senate has strayed away?
Irresistible in Business.
"The good-natured man with a well-balanced mind is irresistible in business; he goes around flashing his cheerfulness to right and left unconsciously. He does not need to be easy to be good natured. He can be firm in his convictions, and immovable from his principles, and yet he can assert himself in that quiet, sincere way which wins the respect even of his opponents."—From the Northwestern Buzzer, published by Northwestern Electric Equipment company, St. Paul, Minn.

UNITED STATES TAKES PRECAUTION
Preventative Measures Being Taken to Protect Grain of Country.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—The enormous value of corn, the premier crop of the nation, has made it necessary for the government to take all possible precaution to prevent further infestation from the European "corn borer" which is supposed to have entered the country in shipments of broom corn and has obtained a limited foothold in the eastern part of the country. Large sums are being spent in an effort to control it and a ruling soon is expected from the Federal Horticultural Board as to whether a quarantine shall be imposed against all foreign countries to prevent further entrance of stalks and ears of Indian corn, broom corn or other plants that may bring the borers. It would not apply to shelled corn or to the thrashed seeds of the other plants.

WOMAN COUNCIL TO PROVIDE SET OF REGULATIONS

Wisconsin Industrial Worker Sets Limit Woman Should Lift.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)
CHICAGO, Ill., March 16.—How great a weight should a woman be permitted to lift? What occupations are dangerous for women? How much time is needed for the lunch period? These are a few of the many problems confronting the employers of 12,000,000 women in the United States which are to receive the attention of the Women in Industry Section of the National Safety Council during the ensuing year, in accordance with a decision of the Executive Committee, it is announced at the headquarters of the Council here.

The program of activities for this section presented by its chairman, Miss Tracy Copp, formerly of the Wisconsin Industrial Commission was introduced by the following statement of the problem:

"From the employer's standpoint, the problem is to so order the work performed by women and to so regulate the conditions under which they shall work that a maximum of production may be obtained without impairment of the health and efficiency of the woman workers."

The subjects receiving special attention are:

What occupation are dangerous for women? Keeping absenteeism down to a minimum. Practical methods to reduce fatigue. Requirement or specifications of a proper factory chair for women. Summary of evidence and authoritative opinion on the limits of weight which women should be permitted to lift. How much time is needed for the lunch period: Practices of member companies employing large number of women, with respect to safety, sanitation, supervision. Modifications of processes or equipment which have resulted in greater comfort for employees and greater production. How to overcome objections to physical examination—when and how should physical examinations be conducted? Factory and health aspects of night work for women. First-aid rooms for woman workers.

CENSUS REPORT IS NOT COMPILED YET

Many Enquiries Into Increased Populations of Cities of Country.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 16.—So many inquiries relating to the Fourteenth Census population figures now being "made" by the Census Bureau, have been received from publishers of almanacs, school books, atlases and other publications intended for permanent records, that Sam L. Rogers, Director of the Census, has issued a statement pointing out that the figures now being given out are but preliminary and are subject to correction.

"The population figures now being compiled by the Census Bureau, and which are being publicly announced as rapidly as possible, are but preliminary in their character," stated Director Rogers.

"Those who intend to print the population figures of our cities and towns in almanacs, school books and other publications intended for standard or permanent use should bear this fact in mind.

Figures Certified to Congress.

"At a later date the Census Bureau will announce from time to time the final and official population of each state, city, town, county, township, or other minor civil division, and it is expected that the official population of the United States by states will be promulgated, and thus be ready for certification to Congress, some time in October.

"It may well be that the figures which we are making public at this time will turn out to be the correct and official figures for many if not most of the different subdivisions. However, I want to call the attention of everyone to the fact that the figures we are announcing at this time are preliminary and are subject to later correction.

"The publisher who prints these preliminary figures in permanent records is running the risk of not printing the accurate and official results of the 1920 Census."

Street Car Crashes Thru Fondy Bridge

FOND DU LAC—Eighty passengers on a loaded street car here barely escaped death by climbing out through broken windows when the car plunged through the center of the Scott street bridge, which had buckled under the heavy head.

Seventeen persons on board the car were cut and bruised. Broken glass caused most of the injuries.

The street car, crowded with workmen, was enroute to this city from North Fond Du Lac when the tragedy occurred.

As the car reached the center of the span the bridge buckled, letting the rear vestibule down into the water. The front end hung onto the bridge, permitting the panic stricken passengers to escape.
