

U. P. CITIES ARE STRICKEN

MENOMINEE IN PATH OF FLOOD AS DAM BREAKS

Water Rushed Through the City; Boats Swept Into Bay.

Hip Boots Used by Pedestrians to Get About; More Danger Feared.

MENOMINEE, March 29.—(Special)—With hundreds of homes flooded, the occupants forced to make a hurried exit to neighboring homes, Menominee witnessed one of the most severe river-overflows in its history yesterday.

The second dam, gave out early Sunday morning, the heavy piers unable to withstand the pounding of ice and jams of logs, the water rushed through to the first dam, overflowing it, and tearing the top gates off.

Hundreds of homes in the west end district were flooded, the occupants being compelled to hurry to neighboring sheltering places. Barns, wood piles, fences, and smaller homes were torn from their foundations, and the debris scattered all over the district.

The first indication of this sudden overflow of the river, was witnessed late Saturday night, when ice dams were seen above the third dam. Early Sunday morning, the water in the river rose to the top of the banks overflowed, and spread to the neighboring districts.

At noon Sunday, the tops of the first dam, gave way, and the water, ice jams, and logs, rushed in torrents over the top, and down to river jamming again in the east end of the city near the drawbridge, threatening this structure, with all traffic halted.

The Dunlap Square bridge, was the first of the two bridges to be affected by the rush of water and ice floes. The poor piers underneath this bridge were torn away in places, and sections of the bridge gave way. Street car and other traffic was halted, pedestrians forced to make a detour or risk their lives in crossing on foot.

It is the severest flood in years. Several years ago, a flood similar to this one, took place in this city, but the damage was not as far reaching as this one.

Some place the aggregate damage late Sunday afternoon in the Twin District at over $50,000. This includes the damage to all structures at that time.

Late Sunday afternoon, several of the barges anchored in the east end of the Menominee river were carried into the bay and pounded to pieces by the ice jams.

Dynamiting Sunday.

Dynamiting was resorted to Sunday afternoon near the Drawbridge in an effort to break the jam, in hopes of preventing the jam from tearing the drawbridge from its foundations. Several unsuccessful attempts were made to dynamite, but all in vain, the jams refusing to be moved by this means.

The Dunlap Square bridge, the first bridge to be torn away in sections, suffered the first result of the ice jamming when the first section of the second bridge on the Marinette side, gave way, with the rush of ice and logs.

Small boats, mostly rowboats and skiffs anchored near the docks on the Marinette side, were swept away, like ships at sea, when the rush of the angry waters forced its way through all the obstacles in the river.

The loss of property from this end could not be estimated and it is believed it will run into the thousands of dollars alone.

The Riverside bank of the river on the Marinette side was run over in quick order. The board walk, the "Atlantic City Board Walk" of the Queen City was torn from the bank and thrown to the street.

Ice jams of the worst order were visible in the rear of the Marinette library, while workmen were making vain attempts to prevent its spreading.

The main fear at present, is the Third dam giving way. If this occurs, the paper and flour mills in the West end of the Twin Cities will in all probability be damaged. Workmen were busy Sunday afternoon and evening piling sand bags and waste along the banks in an effort to stop the rush of water over the banks and flooding the mills, and neighboring districts.

MANISTIQUE HIT BY FLOOD; RIVER OVER ITS BOUNDS

City Cut Off From Telephone and Telegraph Commu- nications Today.

(BULLETIN)
MANISTIQUE, 4:15 p. m.—The water from the flood here is still high and property damage to the extent of over half a million dollars is reported. The water has taken a new course and is now going down the west side of the canal. The big concrete dam has not given way but it is unable to take care of the rapid flow of water. Mills and factories are undermined by water. No relief appears to be in sight. The water has covered an area of two miles in length by a quarter of a mile in width. Lumber is floating about the city like a pond. The west bank of the river gave way yesterday.

MANISTIQUE, March 29.—(Special)—Hundreds of people were forced to flee from their homes here yesterday morning when the river broke its bounds throwing torrents of water here and there so fast that homes were partly buried in water before any relief could be sought.

Huge piles of pulp wood have been seen floating about the streets. The paper mill floor is under two feet of water and other plants are in similar distress.

Telephone and telegraph communication between Manistique and Escanaba were crippled today to the extent that no further details of the disastrous flood could be gained.

Marquette Report.
MARQUETTE, March 29.—Three feet of water covers the property of the Riverside Coal and Produce company, while the mills of the Consolidated Lumber company and the ware house of the Wadell Lumber company are in the flood area at Manistique.

The river, which has been rising rapidly for the last three days, began to flow over the embankment on the west side of the river, above the canal leading to the old power house, and within a short time Deer street, the main thoroughfare on the west side, was covered with water. Early in the week, sluices and flood gates were opened wide, but the snow melted at such a rapid rate that the stream rose to the highest level in the city's history.

One Family Stuck.
A few days ago residents of the lowlands began to prepare for any emergency, and when the river broke bounds this morning, many had boats in readiness. Little difficulty in reaching safety was experienced, however. But one family remains in the flooded area, where, in some cases, water is above the first story windows of houses. A child was born Saturday night, and, rather than move, the mother decided to remain at her home. Food and fuel are supplied the occupants of the house from row boats.

It is expected that it will be three or four days before the people will be able to return to their homes. Fear was expressed tonight for the safety of other parts of the city should a heavy rain visit this section.

Ill Two Months; Child Dies Here At An Early Hour

Eleanor Herick, four year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Herick died this morning at the family home, 409 South Ludington street after an illness lasting from the first part of February.

The little child took sick during the middle part of the winter when the influenza epidemic was raging. Later the ailment turned into pneumonia following a relapse and since then until death the child had been in a failing condition. During the past few days, her condition became worse until death took her.

The funeral will be held Wednesday afternoon from the Allo undertaking establishment with services at the St. Joseph Catholic church.

The mother of the child is in a declining condition at this time.

Mrs. Smith Funeral Held This Afternoon

The funeral of the late Mrs. William Smith was held from the Allo undertaking establishment this afternoon. The Rev. Archdeacon Wilder officiating. Burial took place at Lakeview cemetery.

GENERAL WOOD AT THE DELFT TUESDAY, 1:15

Big Mass Meeting Open to Public; Women Wanted There.

Luncheon at Delta Hotel in Honor of the Soldier- Candidate.

Everything is in readiness for the General Wood reception tomorrow. Arriving in the city at 10:15 the general will be met by a local committee in automobiles. After a short greeting at the station the party will drive to the high school where a ten minute talk will be delivered to the students of the school. A general assembly will be held at that time.

Leaving the high school the distinguished visitor will be taken to Gladstone where an address will be delivered. From there he will return and make a short stop delivering brief talks at some of the industrial plants of the city.

At the close of that time the party will go back to the Delta hotel where a luncheon will be served in his honor. Many of the most prominent business men of the city will be present to meet and shake hands with the candidate. An informal talk will be delivered at the luncheon. Further plans of the campaign will be discussed after which the party will go to the Delft Theater where the general mass meeting will be started at 1:15.

Invitation to All.
A general invitation has been issued to the public to attend the mass meeting and hear what the soldier candidate has to say on the presidential campaign.

Great interest has been created over his address because of the heated windup of the campaign.

Although the weather man has not been so good of late the local committee is of the belief that as large a crowd as ever greeted a speaker will turn out to listen to General Wood. Especial interest has been created among the ex-servicemen who are desirous of learning what their comrade stands for in the campaign. A special invitation is rendered to the women.

At 2:30 the general will be taken back to the Northwestern station where he will board a special train for Menominee. In that city he will deliver the second address of the day. The Menominee county committee has made arrangements for a big reception there.

Two Couple Wedded By Justice McEwen Here This Afternoon

Just after Justice McEwen had concluded tying the knots of matrimony to John F. Spencer of Pierson, Wis., and Anna L. Montour of Shawano this afternoon, another couple entered the court room and desired that the same ceremony be performed between them, so the Judge closed the final rituals of the first occasion and proceeded to the next couple who were Thomas E. Barnum of this city and Maud Tisonet of Ensign. The customary call for witnesses was issued and the performance concluded after which all parties left the court room. Although they entered as four they left as only two—so goes that marriage game.

Lake Ice Getting Thinner As Weather Becomes Warmer

The ice on the lake is swiftly deteriorating, reports from the local weather bureau station declare this morning, showing that within the past few days the thickness of the ice is getting less.

The wind and rain of the past few days is given as the main cause for the decreasing ice. The temperature has been well above normal recently and with the warm rain coupled with the wind which evaporates the ice, it has been taken down considerably. An average thickness of thirty inches was reported today although it is not expected that the ice will go out for several weeks yet.

John Schroeder returned from Chicago this morning.

SHE'S RICHEST WOMAN

MINE WORKERS IN DEMAND FOR A 31 PER CENT RAISE

Meeting at New York This Week Expected to Settle All Differences.

(BULLETIN)
NEW YORK, March 29.—John L. Lewis, president of the international mine workers of America, in a statement issued today denies that there will be a suspension of work on April 1 in the bituminous coal mines of the Illinois and Indiana districts and other parts of the country.

"There is no possibility that there will be a momentary suspension of work and when the operators and miners meet at the conference in this city. The increased wage basis as provided in the majority report will unquestionably be adopted and applied to all districts. The meeting will be continued this evening and tomorrow in hopes that the settlement will be reached then," he declared.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)

NEW YORK, March 29.—A new wage agreement based on the majority report of President Wilson's bituminous coal commission will be signed within a week it is predicted by members of the general scale committee of operators and miners who arrived here today to discuss a new wage contract.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America said that the commission report should be accepted without any further delay in clearing up the bituminous coal situation.

He pointed out that the award of President Wilson's commission will be used as a basis for a new wage contract and would result in the new agreement.

He indicated that the attempt to get more concessions for hours and wages would be made.

The men want at least thirty one per cent increase in wages and a seven hour day whereas they have already been granted twenty seven per cent and an eight hour day. The increase includes the fourteen per cent which was granted after the general strike was declared off last fall.

Mayor Doyle Was Not Present At Gladstone Sunday

Owing to flood conditions at Menominee Mayor Michael J. Doyle, of that city, did not come to Gladstone yesterday where he was scheduled to address an audience at the Eagles hall last night. Mr. Doyle telephoned the committee early in the morning that he would be unable to attend the meeting, but would do so at a later date.

Fire Department Called Yesterday

The city fire department was summoned to the Londo home yesterday shortly after noon. The fire was in the roof of the building and was extinguished within a short time. The damage is slight.

CITY WILL SHOW WHY WINN NAME NOT ON BALLOT

City Clerk Ordered to Appear and Show Cause.

Hearing Will Be Held at the City Hall Wednesday Evening.

City Clerk Carl E. Anderson, Attorney T. J. Riley, Ben McKillican and Edward Voght, election commissioners have been summoned to appear at the city hall Wednesday evening at 7:30 to show cause why the name of Dr. A. S. Winn was not placed on the general election ballot as a candidate for mayor.

Mr. Anderson answered the summons with a reply that he would be present armed with the legal advice of City attorney Dotsch and in that way the city clerk and election commissioners will show, it is declared, why the name of Winn was not placed on the ballot in the first place and further why it should not be printed on at this time.

The communication received by the clerk was immediately turned over to the city attorney for action and he in turn started legal preparation for the fight which will be heard. An agreement to that effect was negotiated between City Attorney Dotsch and Attorney H. J. Rushton who filed the mandamus proceedings in behalf of Dr. Winn.

Attorney Dotsch was working on the answer which is to be made in behalf of the city clerk and board of election commissioners late this afternoon.

Speaking of the answer today Mr. Anderson said that the man had not been ordered placed on the ballot because the legal form of filing had not taken place when Dr. Winn made first petition for candidacy.

The necessary election petitions were filed, Mr. Anderson said, but as the law requires that an affidavit signifying the party to which the candidates belongs was not filed it was impossible to place the name on the ballots.

"I will be there to answer to the allegation," he said.

Two Slander Cases Adjourned Before Justice Here Today

Two slander suits marked the first day of the week in Justice McEwen's court this morning. The first case was a charge in the form of complaint made by Matt Furlie that George Wolfman accused Theresa Furlie, wife of Matt, with having taken undue privileges with another man. Matt claims that Rodman past a remark not complimentary to his wife and for that reason slander proceedings were started. The case was adjourned until April 6.

Second Case Adjourned.
The second matter before the court was the case of Mabel Kovick against Mrs. William McDonald in which slanderous remarks are implicated. That case was adjourned until Monday when it will be tried before the same court.

18 AMENDMENT BEING ARGUED AT WASHINGTON

New Jersey Attorney General Points Out Flaws in Legality.

Says That Rights of States Are Taken Away by Congress Action.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)

WASHINGTON, March 29.—The eighteenth amendment to the federal constitution known as the prohibition amendment is legislative in nature and revolutionary in character according to Attorney General McCrane of New Jersey in opening his arguments before the United States Supreme Court in the New Jersey suit to have the amendment declared void and the Volstead act unconstitutional.

Attorney General McCrane in his brief declared that the eighteenth amendment is not constitutional and that in a review, it was shown that it had not been legally passed by two thirds of the senators and representatives of both houses of Congress and further that only thirty four states had ratified it.

The brief also declares that the national prohibition act is not appropriate; that there is power in Congress to define "beverage purposes" and that the term intoxicating is its own definition; that the law is unconstitutional in that it attempts to interfere with the rights of the states; that the industries owned in the state of New Jersey are hampered and restricted by an arbitrary act of Congress.

The brief also states that the seventeenth amendment to the national constitution which was past prior to the eighteenth amendment in revolutionary character in that it deprives the states of their sovereign rights.

WAVE OF PESSIMISM OVER ITALY CAUSED BY LACK OF FOOD

Controller Returns From Paris Without Necessary Permits.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)
VIENNA, March 29.—A wave of pessimism has swept over the country since Baron Koranyi, Minister of Finance, and the Food Controller returned from Paris with empty hands except for some small food credits. Newspapers express regret at the delay of the hoped for American loan and publish warnings of approaching exhaustion of food supplies and of another crisis.

Depression prevails in business circles. Manufacturers declare that these dribbles of loans for food purchase are futile and that only credits sufficiently large to enable business to get on its feet by the purchase of coal and raw materials will postpone the complete breakdown of Austria.

One of the basic causes of the country's paralysis is lack of coal due to failure of the coal supplying countries to live up to their agreements. For this reason industries lie idle.

Austria's natural and logical coal supply lies in Bohemia and Prussia, or Upper Silesia. Under present arrangements coal is secured, what there is of it, under agreements between state governments and upon arrival here is distributed by government officials. The supply is so small that virtually all of it is needed for limited railway operation, the gas and electric plant and limited private domestic use.

None remains for industries and no factories except those producing the necessities of life are in constant operation. For instance, the great Florisdorf locomotive works, with a capacity of 150 locomotives a year have been idle for four weeks while all Europe is crying for railway motive power. The demand for freight cars is insistent and yet the Graz car factory with a potential capacity of 300 cars a month produces less than fifty because coal is not to be had and consequently they cannot secure wheels, axles and structural iron for bodies.

Vienna is surrounded with a forest of factory stacks but smoke issues from few of them. This has been true ever since the revolution fifteen months ago. Manufacturers say that if coal can be assured in sufficient quantities, they will manage to find raw materials enough to start with and slowly build up credits for more.

Commission after commission has vainly tried to obtain delivery of the coal for which contracts were made with Czechoslovakia. The reason for this failure is unknown here. One expert says that unless Austria is allowed to get coal from the Upper Silesian fields, whence has always come the bulk of Austria's supply, her population must be deported or the country will perish under starvation and anarchy. This solution, he says, lies in the hands of the powers.

Austrian Mariners Work For the U. S.

GALVESTON, Tex., March 29.—Thousands of Austrian mariners, prevented under the terms of the treaty of Versailles from sailing under their own flag, are seeking employment in the United States merchant marine, according to Captain O. J. Christensen, in charge of the Shipping Board's sea service bureau here. The captain received a letter from the Austrian consul-general at Hamburg, stating that the plight of the Austrian seamen is deplorable.

Former officers of the imperial Austrian navy, skilled electricians, expert machinists, telegraph operators, engineers and assistants, the letter says, are among those who are anxious to sail under the American flag.

The men seeking employment in this country, the letter states "are mariners heart and soul," but owing to the fact that their country no longer possesses egress to the sea "never can hope to again practice their beloved profession under the flag of their own country."

Hundreds of the applicants for positions, according to the consul-general's letters, are of the upper stratum of society, speak several foreign languages and are otherwise qualified to hold responsible positions in the merchant marine.

Italians Propose A Property Tax

ROME, March 29.—Italian women have been barred from 50 positions mostly in state employ by an official announcement just issued by the government. This order excludes women from appointment to the diplomatic and consular service and from becoming members of the council of state or of several courts.

No reason is given for the declaration of this ban but Italian observers point out that evidently the authorities believe it none too soon to raise a barrier against the possible aspirations of Italian women for public office.

Professor Teresa Labriola, daughter of the distinguished professor of sociology, has lately obtained the right to practice law before the courts and, after a struggle of more than seven years, Dr. Adalina Pertici has obtained permission to perform the functions of a notary. Those innovations have alarmed Italians who hold conservative views on the appearance of women in public life and to this is attributed in part the new bar against women set up by the government.

Chinese Frugality. So far as the frugality of Chinese is concerned nothing is wasted in China and even the ash of burning wood from a cooking stove of a Chinese family has a good value. It brings a good amount of tea money to the house-boy of a big Chinese family who sells it to gardeners for fertilizing flower plants. When a peculiar cry is heard the house-boy seems to understand that an ash-buyer has come; immediately a big quantity of kitchen dirt and stove ash, which he has stored up is brought to the buyer. Thirty pounds of the waste material of this kind cost about ten or fifteen cents.

Quaint Chair Given To Elizabeth Is Now Located in W. Africa

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)
LONDON, March 29.—The massive chair made of copper, which natives believe was given by the late Queen Victoria of England to an Ashanti chieftain and used by him as his throne, has been discovered in the midst of a jungle far from human habitation in the Gold Coast Colony, West Africa. According to native legend it was placed over the grave of the chieftain who had occupied it when alive.

In their superstition they believe he still sits upon his old throne in spirit at certain times and, for this reason they have never tried to move the chair which, they declare, has now rooted itself in the ground, says a dispatch to the Daily Graphic.

A Gold Coast surveyor first stumbled across this curiosity. A search party returned to the spot and found the jungle so dense that the natives had to hack a path with cutlasses through the undergrowth.

In spite of inquiry, no confirmation of the native story as to the history of the chair has been obtainable and how it came to be in the jungle remains a mystery.

The vessel is the first to carry German colors into this harbor in more than three years. None of the crew was permitted to disembark. The tramp is taking on a cargo of relief foodstuffs, cotton and agricultural machinery for Germany.

Rescuing the Waste

THE Standard Oil Company (Indiana) renders a vital service by giving multiplications of value to that portion of the crude oil left, after gasoline, kerosene, and lubricating oils have been extracted, through the production of innumerable by-products, each supplying a definite need.

Thus have been developed products such as Parowax, which serve such useful purposes as a protective coating for cheese, meats, and sausages; for match ends; for water-proofing milk bottle caps, ice cream pails, and paper drinking cups; and for sealing preserved vegetables, fruits and jellies against bacteria, ferments and mold.

These are out a few of the uses of one of the more than 2000 products manufactured by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), covering needful commodities from asphalt to candles.

So vast a program could not be carried out except by a highly specialized organization, developed to maintain numerous contacts with the world of production on one hand, and with the consuming public on the other.

It was the need for such a specialized organization which led to the great development of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana). No single function of this great organization has come into being without a definite call to service.

Today the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is big only because the need of its service is great; because the ways in which it is able to serve are continually multiplying as the complexities of modern industrial life increase.

Are You Paying For An A B C And Getting Along Without It?

Do you realize that every week you are paying for an A B C Electric Washing Machine—AND NOT GETTING IT? Figure it out for yourself.

You are paying a laundress about $4.00 a day, including carfare and meals, and probably have her two days in order to get the ironing done also. She can wash and iron in one day if she has an A B C. If you are doing your own work, surely your time and strength are worth more than that. The A B C will save you from $3.50 to $4.00 every week, which will more than pay for itself.

You ARE paying for an A B C and not getting it. We will sell one on such terms that it will earn its own cost—in other words, COST YOU ABSOLUTELY NOTHING.

You've wanted an A B C Super Electric. Today is the time to get. Have it ready for next wash day.

No Prospect of National Daylight Saving Law

WASHINGTON—Despite the confusion caused by local daylight saving laws, there is no prospect of Congress

reversing itself and passing a national measure to move the clock ahead in summer months, House and Senate members said today.

Chairman Gronna, North Dakota, of the Senate agriculture committee who led the fight against daylight savings in the Senate declared there is less chance than ever of Congress passing such a measure now.

"After a year's debate the league of nations was finally rejected by the Senate and returned to the man who first conceived it. Throughout that long period there never has been a moment when the final result was in doubt. On March 3rd, 1919, thirty-nine Republican Senators and Senators-elect of the incoming Congress published a round robin to which they had attached their signatures, declaring that 'the constitution of the league of nations, in the form now proposed to the peace conference, should not be accepted by the United States.' The form of the covenant at that time was essentially that in which it was presented to the Senate on July 19th by the President. Article X, which everybody conceded was the heart of the league, underwent no change whatever.

"Those thirty-nine Senators were three more than enough to achieve the defeat of the treaty, even though all the others should vote for it. They were men accustomed to weigh their words carefully, and to stand by their decisions once they had been announced. Nobody who knew them doubted for a moment that their declaration spelled the death of the league covenant as drawn by the President. On every roll call since the consideration of the treaty began those Senators stood shoulder to shoulder for the preservation of American rights, in accordance with the 'Second Declaration of Independence' to which they subscribed their names a year ago. On March 15th of this year, when the receding vote was taken on Article X of the covenant, every one of those men was recorded as favoring the reservation which abolished the United States from many obligations to preserve the territorial integrity or political independence of other countries. In the months since their original declaration was made, a score of other Senators, even including a few Democrats, had rallied to the ideals of Americanism established by the original thirty-nine, and assisted the man decisively defeating the surrender policy of Mr. Wilson.

"The original Declaration of Independence announced to the world that this Nation intended to assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which it was entitled by every law of nature. The second Declaration of Independence was an announcement by America that she proposed to maintain the 'separate and equal' station which the courage of the forefathers had achieved for her, and which her people have enjoyed so long.

"The fifty-five patriots who mutually pledged their lives, their fortunes, and their sacred honor to carry out the principles enunciated in the Declaration of 1776 will be reversed and honored as long as this country continues to be an independent Nation. Likewise the thirty-nine Republican Senators of our own day, who had the courage to array themselves against the wave of internationalism which threatened to engulf the country, and serve notice on the President and the world that American independence was to continue our own special heritage untarnished by foreign influence, will be held in the esteem of their countrymen as long as American history is written.

The most successful weapon of the recent war against the German submarine was the convoy system. Secretary Daniels, that master of naval strategy and tactics, fought against its adoption.

If the league of nations ever does get to work, it will be kept busy for some years straightening out the ill feeling President Wilson keeps on building for us in Europe.

A. Mitchell Palmer will go to Michigan for a week to trail down profiteers carrying in one hand his presidential boom and in the other his recipe for the consumer to "buy brisket" and "eat chuck."

The Bryan "birthday dinner" to be given to the Nebraska Democrat by his friends in New York City will afford the Former Secretary of State an opportunity to throw another wrench into the Democratic machinery.

Senator Lodge has given a terse but accurate description of Article 10, as the President advocates it. "It is an appeal to naked force," said the Massachusetts senator and no honest description of it can arrive at any other conclusion.

After all, why shouldn't the administration want to keep talking about Europe. There's little in its record over here that it can discuss with much satisfaction.

WOMAN'S COLUMN

CUTS THAT COST LESS HAVE HIGH FOOD VALUE.

From Maine to California women purchase meat in practically the same way. Nine out of ten have learned for years, as do some even now, that the more expensive and most tender cuts of meat must naturally be most nutritious and that the cheaper and tougher cuts are to be discarded or left with the butcher to dispose of, not realizing if they purchase only the tender cuts, he must keep the prices high enough to cover the loss of what isn't sold. Our leading dietitians of today are teaching the women that the tougher cuts of meat are exactly as nutritious as the more tender if not more so, because the blood is drawn to the parts in which the muscles are constantly used.

In a beef animal of 500 pounds about 75 pounds are tender meat, the loin in the hind quarter composed of sirloin, porterhouse and single steaks and the prime ribs of the fore quarter. These two commercial cuts being the most tender are most in demand and every butcher, no matter what the locality, will tell you he has no difficulty in disposing of them. The difficulty lies in selling the cheaper cuts as well as the extra meat portions.

The greatest trouble in selling the cheaper cuts comes from the fact that women do not know how to cook them to make them palatable. A long slow cooking is the secret of converting tough meat into delightfully tender roasts or steaks. Excellent dishes may be served from flank, chuck, rump steak or neck, providing the meat is carefully seasoned, seared to seal in the juices and then cooked to a delicate brown. This necessitates a moderate temperature.

Just as many tender expensive steaks are ruined in cooking by keeping on the fire too long; tougher ones are condemned because of the lack of the proper cooking. Whereas a long slow cooking will ruin a porterhouse, it only adds to the excellent qualities of a rump or round steak.

For every meat animal handled there is a heart, liver, kidney, tripe, tongue, sweetbread, and head to be used. We know that an animal has to have a neck, fore and hind shanks, legs and shoulders to hold together the choice loin and ribs.

What is true of the cuts of beef is likewise true of other meats.

TRY THESE

BEEF STEAK PIE.

Chuck steak, cut in narrow strips
Bit of garlic
1/2 bay leaf
6 peppercorns
Sprig of parsley
4 halves potatoes
1 onion stuffed with 2 cloves
1 cup sliced carrots
1 cup celery cut in strips
Tie in square of cloth
Place steak in a kettle with boiling water to cover, and let it simmer for half an hour. Add seasoning in bag together with salt to the meat, and thicken the stock. Place the kettle on an asbestos mat to keep sauce from sticking. Some dried mushrooms soaked and drained improve the flavor. Simmer while making the pastry. Then remove the bag of seasoning. Put all in a baking dish with a rolled crust over the top and sides. Brush with milk and bake forty minutes, covering it with heavy paper as soon as it is brown.

BRAIN RISsoles.

2 cups brain (or 1 whole brain)
3-4 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
1/2 cup thick white sauce.
Put brains into a bowl of cold water with salt for thirty minutes, skin and remove fibre. Cook in water to cover fifteen minutes. Drain, chop, or put through a meat grinder, add seasoning and white sauce. Form into small balls; roll sheet of pie paste or short biscuit dough quite thin. Place the balls in a row equal distances apart. Place another sheet of paste over all. Stamp out with round cutter or cut them apart and press upper and lower crusts together. Bake in a moderate oven. Brown in deep, hot vegetable frying medium.

BAKED PIG'S HEAD.

1 pig's head
Biscuit dough
Salt and pepper
Chop a pig's head and clean very well. Parboil. Pat out biscuit dough and roll pig's head in the dough. Bake until brown.

BOILED FRUIT DUMPLINGS.

Heat one quart of stewed sweetened fruit to the boiling point. Make a good biscuit dough and drop from a teaspoon on to the boiling fruit as quickly as possible. Cover pan closely and cook without lifting cover for 15 minutes. Turn out on to a hot platter.

PRUNE CREAM PIE.

Put one and one-half cups milk in double boiler, one-half cup sugar and two yolks of eggs; cream well together one and one-half heaping teaspoonfuls corn starch in a little water one cup cooked, pitted and cut prunes. When milk is boiling add eggs with sugar, then cornstarch, last the prunes. When cooked to custard stage, pour in baked crust. Cover with beaten whites and brown to light color. Extra nice served with whipped cream.

GOOD CRULLERS.

Use one and one-half tablespoonfuls butter, three-quarters cup sugar, one egg, two and three quarters cups flour, two and one-half teaspoons baking powder, one-quarter teaspoon nutmeg, one-half teaspoon vanilla, three-quarters cup milk and one-eighth teaspoon salt.
Cream, butter and sugar. Beat white and yolk of egg separately. Add yolks to butter and sugar. Add whites. Mix flour, nutmeg and baking powder. Add alternately with milk and vanilla. Roll thin on floured molding board, cut into half-inch strips and twist. Fry in deep fat. Cool and roll in powdered sugar.

Oconto Flood Has Subsided; Trains Back At Normal

OCONTO—The flood at Oconto has subsided. Conditions in that city swept by the overflow yesterday are normal again and the Northwestern had abandoned detouring and is now sending its trains through Oconto. The first train to pass that city was the one bound south from Marinette at 7:25 this morning. Two freight trains held up here yesterday, were to leave for southern points this afternoon. Reports from Oconto are to the effect that very little damage was done by the flood and the mills and factories have resumed operations. People are crossing the bridges again and the water is off of Main and other streets.

Menominee In Path Of Flood

No loss of lives has been reported. The heaviest damage resulted in the west end district of this city, where many homes were flooded, and the occupants driven out. Row boats, skiffs, and other means of navigation were put into use, in moving the families to the neighbors. The crew near the old Menominee River brewing company was the scene of a regular torrent, with the debris rushing through in piles and heaps. Hundreds of Twin City people were out Sunday afternoon to witness the damage. Hip boots were the only means of navigation for the pedestrians.

The steamer J. H. Stevens, one of the largest of the barges of the Finn-Olson transportation company was carried into the bay from the docks near the draw bridge. It was practically covered with ice late Sunday afternoon, and it is believed that the boat will be lost.

EVENING STAR WILL INITIATE ON THURSDAY

Elaborate plans are under way by members of the Evening Star society for initiation of a class of applicants, Thursday evening at the North Star hall.

Forty applications for membership to the society have been filed so far, and it is expected that the number will be increased by Thursday.

The meeting will open with initiation ceremonies, followed by luncheon served to all candidates and members of the organization. The balance of the evening will be spent in an enjoyable program of social diversions.

The Evening Star society is a branch of the Order of Vasa, which has a membership of 50,000 Scandinavians, in the United States and Canada.

The local lodge was founded here six years ago by Waldemar Flink, and has been growing rapidly since its organization, chiefly because of the loyal support given members in case of sickness, accident or death.

The society is known for its enjoyable social affairs, and it is expected that a large number of people will attend the meeting Thursday night.

Inter-City Fight Between Marinette and Menominee Over

Class spirit and false school loyalty marred the annual game between the Marinette and Menominee high schools Friday night at the Marinette gymnasium, when the fans were carried away by the excitement of the game and engaged in what almost turned out to be a free-for-all fight on the floor.

The fracas started during the intermission between halves, when Menominee rooters attempted to cross over onto Marinette's side of the floor, and as Marinette moved forward toward the door, which is at the eastern end of the gym, the fans of both teams met and engaged in a heated argument, in which both factions "razed" each other. When the majority of the rooters who thronged the gym became aware of the argument they crowded around and with the support that appeared to be coming to the rescue of both sides, the boys that had started the fracas decided that it was time to make the argument stronger by belting each other in the face. When the pummeling started many of the older fellows who were present at the game, jumped into the melee and after a time succeeded in stopping the fracas, which had begun to take on serious proportions. The threatened riot lasted throughout the intermission and the game had to be delayed in starting, until the opposing rooters had quieted down and gone back to their allotted places in the hall. The excitement was more pronounced during the latter half of the game and it looked for a time as though the fight would be resumed after the game. This did not prove true, however, as the Menominee and Marinette factions, while they engaged in hooting each other, did not take up the fistie style of pounding home their views on the game.
