

HIDING PLACE FOR STOLEN GOODS FOUND

Theodore Olson's Home Gives Up Tires After Search Is Made.

Also Several Cloaks, Some Candy, Neckties, Cigars; Waives Examination and Bound Over.

Theodore Olson, familiarly known as "Dippy," yielded examination in Judge McEwen's court this morning and was bound over to circuit court under bonds of $1000. He was charged with receiving stolen property.

Christ Hanson, re-arrested again last night, charged with the robbery of the Gamble-Robinson wholesale house when he appeared before Judge McEwen this morning he demanded examination. His case will be up for a hearing on January 21. He was placed under a bond of $2000.

Edward Jernell, implicated by Olson in the theft of a rug and tire was placed under a bond of $200 for his appearance in court on January 21st. Olson's information in court this morning was to the effect that Jernell was with a chain who owned the car upon the tire of which was the stolen tire.

This is the status today of one of the most successful robberies that has ever been made in the state in the recovery of stolen goods. Since the arrest of Morgan and Hanson a day or two ago, the police have been busy with their investigations and late yesterday agreed with search warrants were served to the home of Theodore Olson, 266 North Eleventh street not only the tires stolen from Gladstone but neckties, candy and plain coats to the value of about $800 were unearthed.

Olson has a garage at the lower end of Limestone street and when the police went to arrest him he confessed. He said Hanson and Morgan had had the tires to his home and also stated that the neckties were presented to him by Hanson for a Christmas present.

The investigation having any part in stealing any of the goods from his possession, but admits that he supposed they had been stolen. One of the tires found in his possession was identified by A. E. Edsworth as one stolen from his car and Charles Baum identified a rug and tire stolen from him.

The police have yet to find the owners of the plain coats and ties and are inclined to believe they were stolen at the same time or perhaps in some of the Wisconsin homes where robberies have recently taken place.

When the tire robbery was seized at Gladstone 21 tires were taken and evidently three of them had been sold. When Morgan and Hanson were first arrested they had within twenty cents of the same amount of money on their persons. Both having over $50. This looked like a "clue" to the police and aided them in establishing the evidence they have described.

It is thought that either Hanson or Morgan may make a complete confession but the police are saying nothing if they have and when asked whether one or the other of the men had admitted the police officials were mute.

ZIONIST SECRETARY DENIES REPORT ON BOYCOTT ON FORDS

J. J. Drey of Iron River, Says Zionists Did Not Take Any Action Against Ford.

Rumor Was Founded Upon Street Gossip; Minutes of Meeting Are Open to the Public.

J. J. Drey of Iron River, secretary of the upper peninsula Zionist Association today calling up the newspapers of the upper peninsula for the purpose of correction a report that has been sent out from Crystal Falls and which was published in The Mirror last evening.

The news which was sent out from Crystal Falls stated that at a meeting of the Zionists which was held on January 2, action was taken against Henry Ford and that the members of the organization had pledged themselves not to buy Fords nor to buy goods from salesmen who called upon them in Ford cars.

Mr. Drey called The Mirror this morning and said that the minutes of the meeting at Crystal Falls are open to the public. Nothing was said at the meeting about Henry Ford, nor was any reference made to Ford cars or the campaign against Jewry, which is now being waged in the Dearborn Independent, Henry Ford's paper.

Mr. Drey says that as far as he can learn the information was given to a newspaper reporter in Crystal Falls by a young man who had not even attended the meeting. "As far as buying Ford cars are concerned," said Mr. Drey, "it is up to the individual Jew to do as his own conscience dictates."

OLD SUIT MOVED TO DELTA COUNTY IN FINAL HEARING

Affairs of Baroness May de Palant Are to Be Given Final Hearing Here on January 19th.

One of the oldest and also the most famous law suits in the history of the upper peninsula court records will have its final hearing in this city on January 19th, which was the date set by Judge Flannigan yesterday afternoon.

Baroness May de Palant von Eerde, formerly of Menominee is the defendant and the plaintiff is none other than Maurice Hertig, the famous London dealer in pearls, who thru his attorneys, Sawyer & Sawyer of Menominee, are asking that the court award him $26,000 for a string of pearls given to the Baroness by a St. Louis physician, Dr. Vilks, but never paid for.

As it has been about ten years since the sale of the pearls was made, and continual continuances have been asked and granted, the court stated yesterday that it was time to close the case and get it off the records.

Story of Case

Several years ago, the baroness, then May Dugas, a Menominee girl, went to England where she met the baron whose she later wedded. After a few years, the baroness and her husband failed to agree. He remained in England and she returned to America where she traveled for several years. At the time of marriage it is reported, the baron gave his wife 10,000 pounds as a wedding gift. This money was spent in large sums from time to time while the two lived in the highest of London society.

On her return to America, the baroness went west with her brother George Dugas, a former automobile dealer in Menominee, at St. Louis she met Dr. Applyby. The two went many places together, it is claimed. She later returned east and he went to Europe.

Some time after they met in Paris, as men and wife they went to Monte Carlo where several weeks were spent. While there, it is claimed he purchased the valuable string of pearls from Hertig, the jeweler, and presented them to her as a gift.

A year later Hertig started suit to recover the pearls or collect the amount due on them. The parties stipulated and the agreement resulted in her offer to pay $14,000 and keep the pearls. The payment, he claims, was never met and again suit was opened.

By that time the baroness had again come to Europe. Depositions in the case were taken before the American consuls general at London and Paris. Still no settlement was reached.

Returning to Menominee the funds of the baroness are reported to have been given away. In the meantime, Hertig had attached her home property as security for payment of the amount claimed.

Again the case was resumed before Judge Flannigan and again it was adjourned on application of the defendant. A later attempt to complete the hearing failed as the plaintiff did not make an appearance.

Finally it was scheduled for hearing this month. Judge Flannigan ordered it held in Delta county.

For many years Menominee was the scene of trial after trial and hearing after hearing in which one of all of the parties were concerned.

Two years ago the baroness and members of her family left Menominee after the disposal of her beautiful home.

Besides this action, there is one for several thousands of dollars started by Miss Frank Gray-Shaver, a Menominee lawyer, who claims that during the period of years in which the pearl suit was in progress, she loaned the baroness funds for traveling purposes and never received payment.

PARISEAU BOYS CONFRONT JURY IN COURT TODAY

Charged With Holding Up and Robbing Phillip Stein of Large Sum Last Sep- tember.

'Moonshine Slim' Proctor Says He Was With Two Men but Was 'Terrible' Drunk at Time.

Ray and Earl Pariseau, charged with highway robbery of the circuit court activities this morning. The men both entered pleas of not guilty to the charge.

Elinor Swanson who lives in North Escanaba was called as a witness and testified that on the night of the robbery he had seen the Pariseau brothers in the rear of Stein's store.

"Star" Witness
"Moonshine Slim" Proctor, whose confession has been in the hands of Prosecuting Attorney for some time was the star witness for the prosecution and declared that on the night of the robbery he met the Pariseau boys near Tibbert's Cafe and after they had given him a drink of "moonshine" they told him of the plan to hold up Stein and asked him to join in the robbery.

He stated that he went to North Escanaba with them by the way of the railroad yards and then to the rear of Stein's store where they waited for Stein to start for his home. He says the three of them went up the store keeper and then went to the fair grounds where the money taken was divided among the three of them. His share, he says, was a mounted to $50, which he took and returned to town where the money was immediately placed into circulation.

Cross Examined

When "Moonshine" was cross examined by Attorney G. J. Hines, who is appearing for the defendants, he said that one night of the robbery he was pretty drunk.

When asked how he knew the men were the defendants, he said all he knew was that the men told him their name was Pariseau, but he was too drunk to swear that the men arrested are the men who were with him on the night Phillip Stein was arrested.

Examination of witnesses in this case will take up all of the afternoon, it is thought, and a large part of tomorrow. It is expected the case will not be given to the jury until tomorrow afternoon.

SPEEDY PLAY IS COMING TO DELFT

Wilson Collison, co-author with Otto Harbeck of "Up in Mabel's Room," the famous New York farce which A. H. Woods will present at the Delft Theatre on Friday Jan. 21st for an engagement of one night only is a Cleveland (Ohio) dramatist but for all that he is far from a stranger to the drama. He was an actor at 18 (he is now 28) a member of a repertory company which toured the small towns of Michigan in the dressing room of a theatre—still in Big Rapids, Michigan, he finished his first play, a piece called "Desert Sands."

He has been a vaudeville actor—in a sketch of his own in the small theatres of the South and West—a printer and advertising writer, a stenographer, and a clerk and is at the present time in the wholesale and retail drug business, but thru it all he has shown that pre-occupied devotion to authorship which is generally found in those who finally begin to see their plays reach the stage.

Collison wrote a variety of plays—he puts the number at forty-one of which was produced by Adelle Hood at the Tusk Theatre in Buffalo in the Summer of 1915 and presumably for the first time again. Working nights from 8 until 3, after the day's labor in more commercial fields, Collison also turned out two novels and numerous short stories. Many of the latter he sold; the former still languish.

Despite his authorship of both plays, Collison was still a "kick play" writer to the producer, and his farce was given to the more experienced Otto Harbeck to rewrite. The ink which it now bears is said to have been bestowed upon it by one of the actors in the original company.

BALLOON MEN IN FIGHT OVER A STATEMENT

Lieutenant Farrell Hits Hinton in Face After Heated Argument.

Breaking of Agreement As to Publicity Is Said to Have Been Cause of Trouble.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)
MATTICE, Ont. Jan. 12.—The three naval balloonists who arrived here yesterday after a long dog sled trip from Moose Factory sampled the hospitality of the citizens last night and today.

Shortly after they arrived, Lt. Farrell struck Lt. Hinton in the face after an argument over some letters that had been sent out when it was promised and agreed between the officers that nothing of this kind was to be done.

After a good night's rest, the men were feeling better today and while there is some coolness existing between the two outbreaks, there has been no open outbreak. It is thought that the long train ride which the men have been since their previous trip into the wilds of Canada, was to blame for the inflammable temper displayed by Farrell yesterday.

The men spent the night in a private car which was furnished here and looked forward to the reception which was to be given them by the Toronto Aero Club upon their arrival. They will be disappointed when they learn of the move made today by that club.

Banquet Called Off

TORONTO, Canada, Jan. 12.—It was announced today by the Aero Club of Canada that the banquet which had been planned for the three men upon their arrival in Toronto will be cancelled on account of the trouble between the men which arose yesterday.

Put "Stink" in Gas for Safety Measure

CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 12.—Adding stench to gas as a means of detecting leaks is recommended to the National Safety Council here in a communication received from the United States Bureau of Mines.

The detection of leaks by adding stench to the gas would reduce loss of material, the recommendation says.

"Blue water gas is especially dangerous, as it is almost odorless. Natural gas also has little odor. Many gas explosions, some of which wreck buildings, might be prevented by using a warning stench."

Accidental asphyxiation caused 294 deaths in Chicago in 1920. According to reports of the National Safety Council.

Uncle Sam, M. D., Explains
Importance of Ventilation

BY U. S. PUBLIC HEALTH SERVICE

When we come from the fresh out of door air into that of a crowded assembly room it takes no special training to recognize that the latter is "stuffy." But just what makes it so?

For many years two common explanations were offered, namely that there was an increase in the carbon dioxide and a diminution of oxygen, and that there were poisons in the expired air.

Ordinary air contains about 20 per cent of oxygen and three one-hundredths of one per cent of carbon dioxide. It has been shown that an atmosphere containing only 15 per cent oxygen and as much as 5 or even 20 parts of carbon dioxide may be endured for a length of time without any harmful effects.

These changed proportionate quantities of oxygen and carbon dioxide are far beyond that which is possible in any ordinary human habitation. Carbon dioxide in itself is well known to be harmless.

The question of poisons being present in the expired air has been investigated by numbers of physiologists. There is no proof whatever that the expired air contains any poisonous substances.

For instance, rabbits have been confined in a series of large jars connected with rubber tubes, so that a current of air may be passed through. The rabbit in the last jar, which has received the expired air from the lungs of all the other rabbits, suffers no injurious effects.

We have thus disposed of two common explanations of what makes expired air bad. In another article we shall tell you a little more about recent scientific investigations and what they have disclosed.

Send any question concerning health to the Information Bureau, U. S. Public Health Service, Washington, D. C. Give your name and address and you will receive a personal answer.

PUS IN THE URINE

What is the cause of pus in the urine? The best cure? Can it be cured?

The source of pus in urine can be determined by the most exact laboratory test. The pus may come from the kidney, the tube carrying the urine to the bladder.

DIET FOR CHILD

I have a little girl nearly 5 years old. I would like to know what diet should be given a child of this age. How much sweets should she have?

Your little girl may partake of the same meals as the parents, provided she is not given candy, fried foods, rich heavy pastries, raw vegetables, or other articles that you have found will not agree with her.

WIRELESS PROVES ATTRACTION FOR MANY AMATEURS

Report Shows Big Increase in the Number of Licensed Stations.

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 12 - A big increase among amateurs in wireless telegraphy is shown by the listing of two hundred amateur radio stations in a directory issued by the office of S. W. Edwards, inspector for the Detroit Radio district.

A total of 1,411 licensed amateur wireless stations now are located in the Detroit district, according to Mr. Edwards, who estimates that there are in addition between 200 and 300 stations that are not licensed.

COMB SIDE TEA IN HAIR TO DARKEN IT

It's Grandmother's Recipe to keep her Locks Dark, Glossy, Beautiful.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is Grandmother's recipe, and folk are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite desirable as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mossy mining at home. All drug stores sell the ready-made product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Witch's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. As you move the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Witch's Sage and Sulphur Compound is the beautiful, naturally darkening effect. It produces that soft, natural appearance of abundance which is so desirable.

Information in banking circles is that Great Britain has started repaying the $150,000,000 loan which Canadian banks granted the British government during the war.

Putting Our House in Order To Meet New Conditions

The J. C. PENNEY CO., Operating 312 Department Stores in 27 States, will, on THURSDAY, JANUARY 13th, open its doors with Reconstruction Prices prevailing—Every price in our stores is based upon replacement price, REGARDLESS OF PREVIOUS COST.

BELIEVING the time has arrived when revision of prices is warranted by replacement value—having discounted our merchandise thousands of dollars in our inventory just completed—we therefore give to the public the full benefit of the loss we sustain.

Remember we have said OUR REPLACEMENT PRICE which should prove doubly attractive. Buying for 312 stores doing a yearly business of approximately FIFTY MILLION DOLLARS should be sufficient proof that our replacement price is substantially lower than that of our competitors.

Do not confuse this with the usual special sale commonly held by many merchants. The J. C. Penney Company never has, nor does it now believe in special sales. Remember, every article will remain as priced until sold or forced by market conditions to change.

Many items are limited in quantity, many may prove underpriced—hence delay to purchase may result in disappointment. Come expecting to find every item in our store bearing its proper reduction. We stake our reputation that you will not be disappointed.
