SCHWAB SAYS HE DID NOT GET A SINGLE CENT

"I Didn't Even Take My Dollar a Year," He Declares.

Brands Charges as False and Is Ready to Have Full Investigation Made at Once.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)
NEW YORK, Jan. 21. Charles M. Schwab, former general director of the Eschewing Field Corporation, today appeared before the Walsh congressional committee, which is investigating the shipping board. He had been called upon to appear before the committee to make an answer to the state ment made yesterday by Colonel E. H. Ahrens, former collector of the United States, who declared that in October, 1915, a check for $250,000 was made out to Mr. Schwab personally. He flatly declared that investigation shows that only $100,000 of this amount had been charged against shipping board expenses, and that the balance was used by Mr. Schwab for his personal expenses.

Mr. Schwab declared that the state ment was false and untrue, and that he personally paid his own expenses during his term in office. He said that although he was supposed to have received one dollar a year for his services, that he would not permit such a check to be made. He also stated that he paid his own expenses on the trip to the eastern coast of Florida, following which he will take up his residence at a St. Augustine hotel where he will remain until just before time for his inauguration.

Women's Pension Boost Plan Indorsed at Meeting Held in Lansing.

LANSING, Mich., Jan. 21. Declaring that it is the duty of the state to give mothers a reasonable compensation for their children and to give them up to be good citizens, Governor Alex. J. Groves today indorsed a plan to boost the women's pension plan to $12 a week and $2 a week additional for each child. They had also agreed that the disposition of the fund must be mandatory on the part of judges, throughout the state, instead of discretionary, and that father incapacitated for work but not suffering from any dangerous or communicable disease should be allowed to remain with his family.

It is the only dealer in the city to handle ice next summer, and to the best of the weather today, he will not have much to sell unless he gets it from some place up north. Nicholas Walsh, who has been a dealer in the ice business for the past two or three years will not try to do any more this winter. He has sold out to the Johnson company and says one for company is quite a profit for this city.

'LOCK THIS MAN UP FOR SAFETY OF COMMUNITY'

Such Was Order of Judge Landis in Federal Court at LaCrosse in Trial of Violator.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)
LACROSSE, Wis., Jan. 21.—"For the safety of the community, this man will be locked up in jail immediately," stated Judge Landis here in federal court today in speaking of the case of William Schultz, who was found guilty on a charge of five counts, one of which was that he catered his moonshine. Federal officers state that the quantity of the possessing and sale of soft drink parlor the place was run of drunken men and moonshine was being sold over the bar. George Gardner, the bartender, will be tried later. Peter Harris, of Neocadia, was found guilty of operating a still.

Joseph Castagne, owner of a soft drink parlor at Hurley, was found guilty of selling liquor. Peter Brecken was found guilty of having a still in the cellar of his soft drink parlor in Hurley. Sasaari Orapola, of Hurley, was found not guilty, as evidence showed the bartender had sold the liquor while the proprietor was out on a hunting trip.

Secretary of Association Addresses Clothing Manufacturers.

Practice of Making 'All Wool' Clothing From Anything for Coal Costing But $3.25 Grown Rapidly.

CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 21.—From the time that "shoddy" began to masquerade as virgin wool under the double standard of "all wool" sheep husbandry began to decline through the world Howard E. Greene of Chicago, told the Merchant Tailor-Designers' Association at its annual convention here today. From January 1911 to January 1920, he declared, the sheep have declined in numbers in America 5,015,000 he said.

"Twenty years ago, 'all wool' cloth meant cloth made from wool that had never before been manufactured," Mr. Greene said. "At that time, the shoddy manufacturers found a method whereby they were able to carbonize out of rags all except their wool content. This process gave them the excuse to call their cloth 'all wool.' Then arose the double standard of the term."

Students Not Alarmed When Afflicted Boy Is Sent Home.

Vaccination Will Start in High School Monday Morning; Today's Case Well Developed.

This morning the faculty and members of the student body of the high school were momentarily panic-stricken when it was discovered that one of the students, who has been attending school for most of the week, was broken out with smallpox. He had attended one or two classes when the teacher of another class got him to Sept. Olds.

Olds has had considerable experience with the disease and at once recognized that the youth before him was afflicted with a very pronounced case. The boy is Ole Olson, whose home is at 821 So. Thirteenth street. He told Superintendent Olds that he was not feeling ill at all and had been perfectly well for some time. He was not frightened at his condition and went home to await the arrival of the family physician.

After the first excitement in the school had passed and work was resumed the student body declared for an immediate wholesale vaccination and Dr. Deibel will start Monday morning at the high school.

UNCLE SAM, M. D.—FIRST AID TREATMENT OF FITS

By U. S. Public Health Service

When a person has an epileptic fit, he will often utter a peculiar cry. And then will fall to the ground, foaming at the mouth, with face red and spotted. The muscles of the body and limbs will twitch and frequently he will bite his tongue. After the convulsion passes, the patient will usually fall into a deep sleep.

The object of first aid treatment is simply to prevent the patient from hurting himself. Do not attempt to stop the convulsions or to open the clenched hands, as this will only serve to increase the convulsive movements. The patient should be kept quiet, lying on the back and the clothing about the neck and abdomen and a piece of wood or something of a like nature placed between the teeth and held there in order to guard against biting the tongue.

After the convulsion there follows a period of unconsciousness. During this period do not attempt to arouse the patient, but warmly cover him and allow him to sleep in some protected place until he awakens naturally.

DRY, HACKING COUGH

Q. I have a little girl who coughs considerably. A dry, hacking cough. I have been told the cough is the cause. In these ailments which can be due to any number of causes, how can I tell whether the cough is due to a cold or to some other cause?

A. While the cough may be due to some condition of the throat or the lungs, it might also be due to some other and more serious cause. For this reason, I would advise you to have your daughter carefully examined by a competent physician in order to see whether the cough is anything the matter with her lungs.

CHILD MALNUTRITION

Q. I have three children, the first and the third are healthy, but the second child is very much under weight. She is 7 1/2 years old and weighs 34 pounds, dressed. I have great trouble in making her eat. She seems strong, yet she is thin. Is there anything that will help her?

A. The question of food is not the only thing to consider. You must observe certain hygienic rules, such as having this child go to bed at a regular early hour, not later than 8:30 at night. Keep the bedroom windows open. Care must be observed to correct constipation, to which end the child must be taught to go to the toilet at a regular hour each day. She should take from a pint to a quart of milk each day.

BALTIMORE LEADS IN INCREASES IN TEACHER SALARIES

Teachers Still at Bottom of Skilled Workers in Wage Scale, Says Director in Wage Survey.

CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 21.—With an increase of 2000 per year to the average teacher, Baltimore is shown to lead the list of American cities in amount of salary advances to be granted to public school workers during the past year, according to a survey of the national educational situation just completed by the Better Schools Service, a branch of the American Federation of Teachers.

This honor has been compelling for a number of years here since the teacher shortage became acute. Philadelphia is shown to bring up the rear of all cities, its increase being only from $50 to $125 per year.

The average increase for cities of more than 100,000 population is listed at $255 per year, for cities of between 50,000 and 100,000, three hundred and thirty-two dollars; in cities of 25,000 to 50,000, three hundred and seventy-one dollars.

Reports from all over the country show that the general advance in salaries will leave teachers more inadequately paid than previous to 1914, said William T. McCoy, director of the survey, in making the first finding.

Teachers are still at the bottom of skilled workers in the wage scale, he added. The measures of relief are of a positive only. They may have checked momentarily the deterioration in the public school system of this country but they have not arrested it. All reports show that there must be fundamental changes in the policy of financing education before schools are safe from current deterioration. Normal school enrollment over the nation is the barometer of the educational system. This barometer is now very low. Even the Baltimore increase is reported by Maryland educators to have been inadequate.

Among the larger American cities, Louisville and Patterson (N. J.) rank next to Baltimore, with $509 each as the average annual increase. Chicago, Toledo, San Francisco and Kansas City take next places with $459 each. St. Louis, Oakland, Tacoma gave $420 apiece with Spokane behind with $400. Boston, Los Angeles and Houston awarded a raise of $370, with Atlanta and Minneapolis $350 each. Indianapolis, Cleveland and Des Moines gave $290.

Of cities between 50,000 and 100,000 Terre Haute, Ind., leads with an average teacher advance of $450. Portland, Me., gave $400 and Gary, Ind., $400.

In the third group of cities between 25,000 and 50,000, Montclair, N. J., tops the list with $290, Newton, Mass., being next with $450.

BANK WAS SAVED FROM RUIN BY A LISBON MERCHANT

Run On Bank Was Caused by the Financial and Economic Situation Prevailing in Europe.

LISBON, Jan. 21.—One of the oldest and best known banks of this city was recently saved from the effects of a run on its bank by a sensational incident. A large crowd of depositors has gathered at the office of the bank on J. D. Totta, to demand their money. The street was blocked by them. The bank was paying out the money rapidly when a well known Lisbon merchant who was a spectator of the rush on the bank, enraged by the scene, jumped on the counter and yelled the crowd in no measured language. He recalled the honorable name of the head of the firm and said that by his kindly aid many of these present had reaped fortunes, but their base ingratitude was now threatening to bring about his ruin.

As his eloquence increased, an extraordinary transformation scene took place. Some one raised a cheer which was echoed by thousands. The bank employees who had calmly been paying out thousands of pounds to all who claimed their deposits, were embraced by the depositors, checks were torn to pieces and the elder Totta, 80 years of age, was dragged from an inner office and raised on the shoulders of the crowd amid cheers.

Since then the bank has received nearly all the money that had been withdrawn.

The affair is an outcome of the recession in Portugal of the stringent financial and economic situation which seems to prevail in the markets of Europe. Business in Lisbon was virtually at a standstill in part of last month owing to the continued fall in the rate of exchange which, in the opinion of the Portuguese, attained alarming proportions. The situation was aggravated also by a new financial program which threatened to make a heavy increase in taxation.

Other factors which have contributed to the depression are bad crops, excess of imports over exports, shortage of food-stuffs and fuel, profiting and incessant strikes.

TRIBUTE TO BRITISH

New Home for Orphans of War Heroes Is Opened.

Funds to Buy and Maintain It Given by American Admirers of English Valor.

New York—A home for fatherless sons of British war heroes has just been opened in Reading, 40 miles from London, by the National Allied Relief committee, working with funds raised to the United States, according to an announcement made by that organization, whose headquarters are at No. 2 West Forty-fifth street, New York. The announcement said that the money for the home was supplied "through American admirers of British Valor," and that the home was "a tribute of appreciation and a memorial from the American people."

Lieut. J. G. Churchill of the British army has been named headmaster of the home, and his wife, Mrs. Churchill, has been appointed matron. It will be under the protection of the British ministry of education. It will be a home for 48 boys.

A check for maintaining the home was taken to England a few weeks ago by John Moffat, chairman of the National Allied Relief committee, and turned over to the British management committee. The home was formerly St. Andrew's home of the Waifs and Strays society of England and was purchased furnished and fully equipped.

The British management committee is composed of Col. Arthur C. Murray, chairman; Maj. J. J. Astor, treasurer; Evelyn Wrench, secretary; Lieut. Col. A. S. Cleaver, Robert Grant, Jr., G. Mills McKay and James Van Allen Shields.

The honorary patrons of the committee are Earl Reading, formerly British ambassador to the United States; Baron de Cartier de Marchienne, the Belgian ambassador; Kijuro Shidehara, the Japanese ambassador; and Dr. Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard university.

SYNOPSIS

CHAPTER I—Lonely and almost friendless, Tommie Devon, living on a canal boat, child of a brutal father and a scorned, discouraged mother, wanders into a Salvation army hall at Ithaca, N. Y.

CHAPTER II—Urbah Devon, Tony's father, returns to the boat from a protracted "spee," and announces he has arranged for Tony to study a worthless cousin of his, Reginald Brown.

CHAPTER III—In clothes that Urbah has brought Tony finds a baby's picture with a notification of a reward for its return to a doctor, Pendlehaven.

CHAPTER IV—With the Pendlehavens, a family of wealth, live Mrs. Curtis, a cousin, her son and daughter, Katherine Curtis and Reginald Brown.

CHAPTER V—Tommie returns the picture to Doctor John, and learns it belongs to his brother, Dr. Paul Pendlehaven.

CHAPTER VI—Returning to consciousness, Mrs. Devon is informed by Tony of her father's death.

CHAPTER VII—Tony's personality and her weakness appeal to Doctor John, and he arranges to take her into his house as a companion to his invalid brother.

"You'll promise me something," he insisted, as he had himself clasped her. "Tony, don't go out again like you did yesterday. I shan't be able to stand it if you do."

"Tommie's face flashed to Philipp. She felt sure he would go to the corner of the lake every day to meet her, as he had done to the canal boat."

Yet as she gazed into the imploring eyes of her friend, she had no heart to deny him his wish.

"I'm selfish, perhaps," the man went on, "but, Tony dear, if you want to go out, there's lots of cars in the garage, and horses in the stable. Won't you promise me?"

Tony thrust the memory of Philipp's face from her mind. She put the wish to be in his arms aside, to feel his warm lips once more on hers behind her, and tremulously smiled in acquiescence.

"I promise," she said in a low voice, but a sob prevented her from saying anything more.

CHAPTER X.

The Stoning.

Never before since he had taken up his work of redemption had Philipp MacCauley found the hours so long and so difficult to live through.

After they had moved to the place Tony had promised to meet him, only to return to Ithaca more than an hour later, he had the sickening idea that the girl he had grown to love was again in the clutches of her brute of a father and Reginald Brown.

Tony, too, began to lose the high spirits that had returned almost immediately after her escape from the canal boat. The gray eyes grew darkly circled, the lovely mouth seemed to have lost the power to smile.

Paul Pendlehaven noted all this with apprehension. He questioned the girl time after time, asking her if she felt well. If there was anything she wanted, but she always replied in the negative.

One day after they had had their dinner, he sat looking at her curiously. She was close to the window reading a book, when he caused her to look up by calling her name.

"Run downstairs, Tony dear," he went on, "and tell my brother to come up here before office hours, will you, honey?"

The girl rose, laying aside her book. She decided venturing into Mrs. Curtis' presence and shivered when she remembered the cruel Katherine's toleration whenever they happened to meet. But she made no complaint and went slowly downstairs.

The dining room door was closed, but the sound of voices from within told her the family was at dinner. She opened the door slowly and stepped inside. For one moment her vision was obscured by the light that suddenly took possession of her. As the blur cleared from her eyes, she saw John Pendlehaven smiling at her. Then a sharp ejaculation from some one else swung her gaze from the doctor's face, and it settled on—Philipp MacCauley.

She went extremely pale and put out her hand to grasp something for support as if she were going to fall. She saw him rise up slowly, an expression of amazement and relief going across his face. She smiled, but what a weary little smile it was and how full of pleading, as if she were silently begging him to forgive her for some deed she'd done.

John Pendlehaven gazed at the two young people, and then he too got to his feet.

"Philipp," he said abruptly, "this is Tommie Devon. She's Paul's companion. We have—"

Philipp interrupted the speaker by his sudden bound around the table. "Tony Devon, little Tony," he cried. "I thought, oh, I thought you were dead. I thought I'd lost you forever."

A noise fell from Katherine's lips, and Mrs. Curtis stumbled to her feet. "So you know her too, Philipp," she snarled with a hasty glance at her pallid daughter. "I thought we'd kept her well out of your way. So you're playing the sneak while eating bread and butter in my house, miss," she blurted at Tony. "Well, it's what one might have expected of you—you lousy."

"Mother!" gasped Katherine, as Tommie snatched her hands from Philipp. "Kathie, you needn't 'mother' me," cried Mrs. Curtis, blind with rage. "Either she goes away or I do. I won't stay in the house with a common sneak—a common—"

"Sarah, sit down," thundered John Pendlehaven. "Don't speak another such word or—"

Tomy was at the doctor's side before he could finish his threat.

"I didn't sneak," she said, looking up at him. "Oh, please—please believe me."

"That she didn't," cried Philipp, coming to her side. "Cousin John, I've known Tony Devon since she and I didn't even know she was in this house." He turned his flashing eyes upon Mrs. Curtis, who was weeping hysterically. "You ought to be ashamed of yourself, Cousin Sarah," he went on, "to use such language to a perfectly nice little girl. Why, you've just about broken her heart."

FRUIT RAISING ON DECLINE IN MICHIGAN NOW

Agricultural Reports Show That Larger Fruits Are on the Decline in State.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)

LANSING, Mich., Jan. 21.—The quantity of larger fruits, such as apples and peaches, produced in Michigan is declining each year while that of smaller fruits, including cherries and various kinds of berries, is increasing rapidly, according to Verne H. Church, agricultural statistician of the cooperative crop reporting service.

The farm apple orchard is disappearing in the southern part of the lower peninsula, according to Mr. Church, one to the ravages of the San Jose scale several years ago. Farm orchards have been killed and the trees removed. In the northern part of the state the scale's attack was less destructive and many farm orchards remain.

Commercial orchards are planted in all parts of the state, care taken to protect them from the scale. The peach industry is falling in Michigan, Mr. Church said, because of recent winter killings several years ago. Not more than 40 or 50 per cent of the peach trees that were standing eight years ago now are to be found.

The orchards in northern Michigan are possibly over destroyed, and owners have turned their attention to cherry raising, with the result that the Grand Traverse region is becoming one of the cherry producing centers of the country.

Grapes, strawberries and small fruits generally are being raised in greater abundance than ever before. The high price of grapes last autumn had a stimulating effect upon the vineyard industry, Mr. Church said.

WAR ON IN N. D. LEGISLATURE

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)

FARGO, N. D., Jan. 21.—Factional war between Nonpartisans and the Anti-Nonpartisans continues in the new legislature of North Dakota, where something like a balance of power exists.

The Nonpartisans control the Senate by one vote while the Independent-Republicans have a variable majority of one to five in the house.

The new majority suggested in the message of Governor Frazier, Nonpartisan, in the operation of a state owned coal mine to provide coal for state use.

MINERS TO RAISE MUSHROOMS IN ILLINOIS MINES

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 21.—As a result of findings of the Optimists' club in this city, miners in this locality may start raising mushrooms in the local coal mines. C. O. Sherman, chairman of the committee of the Optimists' club reported the temperature in the local mines ideal for the raising of mushrooms and in speaking before the club, said he would try to interest the miners in such a plan.

Mr. Sherman pointed out that the financial returns would be large enough to amply repay the miners for their efforts to grow the fungi.

William H. Best, a coal operator in this vicinity sanctioned the plan at his home. He declared the growing of mushrooms in mines in other states had been tried successfully.

STUDY CROP CONDITIONS, ADVICE GIVEN FARMERS

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)

LANSING, Mich., Jan. 21.—Farmers of Michigan are urged by Verne H. Church, agricultural statistician of the cooperative crop reporting service to study world crop conditions and be governed accordingly.

"Many farmers in the state shift too much in selection of crops from year to year," he said. "Because potatoes are a drug on the market this year is no reason they should not be a good paying crop next winter. The farmer who sticks to two or three crops and follows them thru over a period of years, making a study of them, is the one who has the largest profit in the long run."

"Practically any kind of a crop can be grown successfully in Michigan and this has tempted many farmers to change from one thing to another each year. Such a course is just short of gambling in agriculture and the chances for success are reduced considerably. Such farmers may be compared with city workers who change their trade every year and never become masters of any occupation."

The German Government is considering the deficit of German railways, estimated at 13,000,000 marks yearly, and is elaborating a scheme of reorganization aiming at doubling the present tariffs. The increase would raise passenger fares to nine times pre-war levels and goods rates fully 12 times.

LADIES! LOOK YOUNG, DARKEN GRAY HAIR

Use the Old-time Sage Tea and Sulphur and Nobody Will Know.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantage of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. I make or mark the face. When I fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur of essence re-appears a hundred-fold.

Look young! Look young! This is the only way to get young and drug stores a bottle of Sage Tea and Sulphur of essence which is the only hair restorer. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it does not irritate the hair, but, as it drives out naturally any scales, you must use a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, till a small strand at a time, the graying hair has disappeared. Another application of two or three natural color is restored and it becomes black, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

Fireproof Building Needed for Records of State's History

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)

CHARLOTTE, Mich., Jan. 21.—Declaring a historical building, in which might be kept the historical records and relics of Michigan, is urgently needed in Lansing, Murray MacKay of Silver Mine, Conn., artist who has painted the portraits of the judges of the State Supreme court and former Governor Steyer, addressed the mid-winter meeting of the Michigan Pioneer and Historical Society here today.

The artist, who was born in Huron county, Michigan, declared a fire proof structure was needed to preserve the records of the state's earlier history, many of which, he said, never could be replaced if they should be lost or damaged thru fire. He quoted former President Taft and George Washington as pointing to the need for preservation of state and national historical records. He declared Michigan had been negligent in providing for the keeping of these records and asserted a number of other states had erected buildings. He advocated construction of a building that would stand as a memorial to Michigan soldiers.

Facts of Interest TO THE FOLKS WHO HAVE DECIDED TO FULFILL THEIR DESIRE FOR AN ELECTRIC WASHER AND NOW SEEK FURTHER LIGHT ON THE SUBJECT OF WHICH ONE TO BUY. Why Discriminating Buyers Choose the A B C SUPER-ELECTRIC BECAUSE— It employs the most thoroughly practical efficient and economical washing principle. Its cylinder reverses after each revolution. It is the only washer that combines every advantage of both the "cylinder" and the "oscillating" types of washing machines. BECAUSE— It is the only full cabinet cylinder washer. BECAUSE— It is the absolutely safe washer. All moving parts are enclosed, thereby avoiding every possibility of soiling or tearing clothes or of injury to operator, servants, children or household pets. BECAUSE— Its electrically-operated wringer swings all around and locks in any desired position. BECAUSE— It washes clothes quicker than any other washer. BECAUSE— It is the most quiet running washer; no noise, shock or jar when cylinder reverses. BECAUSE— It's the most simple in construction—the fewest number of moving parts. Why Discriminating Buyers Choose the A B C SUPER-ELECTRIC BECAUSE— It has 50% over-size motor—1/2 horse-power; most other makes use 1/6 horse-power. BECAUSE— It has a white-enameled cylinder—most easily cleaned; most sanitary; cannot cut or tear clothes; more durable and lasting than metal. BECAUSE— It has an adjustable belt drive, preventing trouble and expense of motor "burn outs." BECAUSE— It's the most attractive in appearance—a real ornament in any home. Table top. BECAUSE— It costs two-thirds less to operate than an ordinary household electric iron. BECAUSE— It has been tested and approved by The Goodhousekeeping Institute and has the endorsement of thousands upon thousands of satisfied users everywhere. BECAUSE— It is manufactured and guaranteed by Altofer Bros. Company, who have pioneered washing machine makers, and now rank the World's leading makers of electric and power washing machines. Only America Can Keep These Pots Boiling

This snapshot of an American feeding kitchen in still prostrate eastern Europe shows what America means to the otherwise helpless childhood of the war-wrecked nations. Funds supporting these outposts of succor and other agencies for the relief of children stricken by the disease caused by under-nutrition have run out, and that the work may not cease, depriving millions of the benefit of their only hope for life, eight great American relief organizations under the name of the European Relief Council are banding together in a joint appeal to the American conscience in their behalf. These agencies are the American Relief Administration, the American Red Cross, the American Friends Service Committee (Quakers), the Jewish Joint Distribution Committee, the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, the Knights of Columbus, the Y. 'WAKE UP OR DIE' WARNING IS GIVEN SPANISH NOBILITY

MADRID, Jan. 21.—"Wake up or die" is the warning addressed to the Spanish aristocracy in an editorial in El Debate, which lashes the ancient nobility of the country for its lethargy in all public matters. The writer adds: "In order not to succumb, the nobility must not only display more democratic sentiments, but personally participate in the life of the country. Otherwise, having already lost its ancient class prestige, surrounded by a materialistic bourgeoisie, a middle class without any defined object and a public life exasperated by political deception and economic unrest, it is ready for all kinds of violence, the ancient nobility will have nothing, else to do than succumb." The British aristocracy is giving an example of what an aristocracy should do in order to merit its title, for its members have gained distinction in science, industry and active politics and hold an important place in the intellectual, economic and social life of the country. The Spanish nobility should take note of the signs of the times, for it has only a brief moment to decide whether to wake up or die.

REGULATION OF COAL COST WAS NOT EFFICIENT

Industrial Managers Bid Against Each Other For the Fuel.

Government Paid $9.25 a Ton for Wool Costing but $3.25 to Produce at Mine.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS) WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The regulations that are coming almost daily from the Senate-Committee investigating the coal situation are startling in the extreme, declares the Republican Publicity Association, thru its President, Hon. Jonathan Bourne, Jr., of the coal fields.

But the remedy for all this is not Federal control of the coal industry. If the laws now on the statute books are vigorously enforced, and honest and capable men, plus a few positions of responsibility, there will be no need of turning to other means for relief. The coal situation in this country is due primarily to President Wilson himself, and keeping in office men of demonstrated incapacity or unwillingness to exert themselves for the public's welfare.

Perhaps the most notorious of those who have proved faithless in their duty is Attorney General Palmer. An energetic administration of the Department of Justice would have brought sufficient indictments against discharged Federal officials and private coal peddlers to have struck terror to their hearts and brought about a speedy lowering of the price. There are men here and adequate penalties against the abuse of public trust, and there are penal laws against profiting. The weapons were in Mr. Palmer's hands, but his utter incapacity to make them effective is common knowledge.

It has been brought out at the hearings that the War Department paid $9.25 a ton for coal that cost only $3.25 to produce. Not only was that a big direct loss to the taxpayers but the transaction further served to boost the price of other sales. Secretary Baker had complete authority to interfere and prevent such extravagance but he did nothing. Other officials of the Government demonstrated their incompetence when they wanted the country against a fictitious coal famine and stimulated prices accordingly.

A President with more concern for his own countrymen than for the alleviation of troubles in Europe, would have stepped in and personally ordered his subordinates to take the action that would have saved the people from millions of dollars, but he remained in the seclusion of the White House listening to voices in the air and arranging the boundaries of Oldmania, Jugoslavina and Havana, knowing what other man's room republics of the Old World.

The nation must be patient a few weeks longer. Then there will be a President whose thought will be for America first. He will have as his executive assistants men pledged to the execution of the laws, and the people will get the full protection for which they are entitled to demand. Once the new era of law enforcement has had an opportunity to prove its effectiveness, we shall hear but little of Government operation of the coal mine or of any other public utility. Private initiative controlled by impartial law will give the people a maximum production at a minimum cost.

Land Reclamation Schemes. The British board of agriculture has inaugurated a scheme for the reclamation of land on the Lincolnshire shore of the Wash. A bank is being constructed from Wainfleet, a little below Skegness, to Freston, near Boston (Lincolnshire), commencing at the Wainfleet end, and by this means it is hoped to recover about 12,000 acres. The work is in charge of a resident engineer in Wainfleet and will employ a large number of men, who will be selected from demobilized soldiers and sailors, and thus obviate the taking away of labor from agriculture. It is said that in the middle of the last century a reclamation scheme was started, and it was then estimated that a sufficiently large area would be redeemed from the Wash to form a new English county. The enterprise was abandoned, but experts have always maintained its practicability, which is now in the course of being tested.

A bank is being constructed from Wainfleet, a little below Skegness, to Freston, near Boston (Lincolnshire), commencing at the Wainfleet end, and by this means it is hoped to recover about 12,000 acres. The work is in charge of a resident engineer in Wainfleet and will employ a large number of men, who will be selected from demobilized soldiers and sailors, and thus obviate the taking away of labor from agriculture. It is said that in the middle of the last century a reclamation scheme was started, and it was then estimated that a sufficiently large area would be redeemed from the Wash to form a new English county. The enterprise was abandoned, but experts have always maintained its practicability, which is now in the course of being tested.

Land Reclamation Schemes. The British board of agriculture has inaugurated a scheme for the reclamation of land on the Lincolnshire shore of the Wash. The KITCHEN CABINET

(By 1178 Western Newspaper Union) "Give us more to each guest than he's able to digest. Give him always of the prime and but little at a time."

HUNGARIAN STEAK. (Clip one pound of round steak, add one egg, one-half cupful of rice. Scald large sized cabbage leaves, roll a portion of the meat mixture for one serving in each, fasten with toothpicks until five portions are made. Put in a kettle, cover with water and cook one hour. Season with paprika, thicken the gravy and serve.)

Spiced Steak.—Melt two tablespoonfuls of butter, fry one large onion minced in it until a rich brown; take out the onion. Cut one flank steak in pieces, dredge with flour fry in the butter, take out the meat, add two cupfuls of hot water, three tablespoonfuls of vinegar, one teaspoonful of mustard, one teaspoonful of salt and one-half teaspoonful of pepper. Thicken the gravy, put in a casserole and cook one hour. This will serve six people.

Put Balls.—Take one cupful of chopped cold veal, add 12 chopped almonds, one egg, one-half teaspoonful of salt, pepper to taste. Mix and roll into balls, piece in a baking pan and pour over one cupful of rich, highly seasoned tomato sauce. Serve on a platter garnished with water cress.

Tomato Aspic.—Take two cupfuls of tomato boiled with one slice of onion, one teaspoonful of salt, one-eighth of a teaspoonful of pepper, boil 20 minutes and strain. Add two tablespoonfuls of gelatin, dissolve in one-half cupful of cold water, celery salt, salt and leaf may be added to the first mixture before boiling. Strain and pour into a mold and cool.

Celery With Cheese.—Cut the scissor stalks of celery and cook until tender in boiling salted water. Place a layer of the cooked celery in a buttered baking dish, cover with a layer of rich, well seasoned white sauce, sprinkle generously with grated cheese and repeat with another layer of each. Flush the top with buttered crumbs and bake until the crumbs are brown.

Fruit Punch.—Shred four oranges and two lemons. Add two cupfuls of water for each cupful of pulp, and sweeten to taste. Flavor with a small bottle of grape juice.

NEELIE MAXWELL Wool Growers Want Shoddy Goods Marked

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE ONE) To many cloths which the purchasers have a right to believe made not only of virgin wool, but of the best virgin wool. The hoarding of rags during the war gave the shoddy manufacturers an unprecedented supply of raw material, yet their demand more than kept pace with the development of the rag business.

United States Consul Percival Gaskell, stationed at Leeds, England, with access to the statistics of the world's old rag market, has reported that the price of rags arose from 300 to more than 800 per cent between June 24 and December 1
