collected.

From Florence we took route 14 stopping at Armstrong Creek to attend church. We arrived at Ripon later at noon where we ate lunch which we had taken with us. After lunch we continued on our way still following route 14. We reached Webster where we ate supper and then set out tent for the night.

We arose at 5:30 Monday morning and while breakfast which consisted of coffee, rolls, milk and fruit, was being prepared the tent and cot were packed and loaded and we were on the road by 6:30 o'clock.

Good Roads On 12, 14, 46. We continued on route 14 until we reached Haines where we took route 14 which brought us to route 14 near Hudson the last town in Wisconsin. We found route 12, 14 and 46 to be very good, gravel roads with few hills and no detours.

All Hudson we crossed the St. Croix river into Minnesota over a long toll bridge where we had to pay forty five-cent toll for our outfit. Here we struck the Yellowstone trail.

As we came through Wisconsin we inquired as to road conditions in Minnesota and were told that the roads were very poor, so we were very much surprised to find wide gravel roads in excellent condition.

Reached St. Paul in Morning. We reached St. Paul at 9:00 o'clock in the morning, and passed through crossing over the Mississippi river into Minnesota. We were very much disappointed in the Mississippi as we expected to see a big wide river with passenger and freight boats going up and down instead, we found a river about the width of the Escanaba river at the Soo-bridge, and the only boats were some flat bottom skiffs.

After a short stay in Minneapolis we were on our way reaching Hopkins where we stopped for lunch consisting of rolls, cookies, lemonade and fruit. This over we were on our way again.

The drive through was now between lakes filled with white water rapids and over low hills. We soon left this and were in the flat farming country with fields of grain on either side as far as the eye could see.

Then The Grain Fields. In some fields the grain was already harvested. In others the binders were busy cutting. We reached Hector at 6:00 in the evening where we stopped for lunch. The roads being excellent and the weather fine, we decided to drive further on till dusk by which time we reached St. Leo where we camped for the night.

If we had gone 12 miles further, we would have met friends who had come to meet us. After breakfast at 9 o'clock we started on our last five mile trip to Castlewood, South Dakota which we reached at 9 a. m. We had found the Minnesota roads excellent, gravel, flat, wide with no detours or rough places.

The Dakota country was a sight to us. Miles and miles of rolling prairie covered with waving grain and dotted here and there with small clumps of trees which marked the location of the different farm houses for the only trees are those which are planted and are always planted around the houses.

In the far distance could be seen the tops of the grain elevators which marked the site of a town. Each town has from four to ten elevators. Mostly Flat, Dry Country. What impressed us most was the absence of forests, lakes and rivers. The only trees are those that have been planted and as a rule these are not very thick. Rivers, what few there are, are only ditches and are mostly dry. The lakes are small, having no outlets this becoming slaty muddy. Bathing suits are useless in that country.

The farms are all large, 160 acres and up. The crops are mostly grain with a few acres of potatoes. The work is all done by machinery, all done by six, eight or ten horse tractors being very scarce. The farmers claim that tractors are too short lived in that section as the dust gets into the bearings and makes the upkeep too expensive. There are a few herds of dairy cows, a few pigs and no sheep.

The towns as a rule are well laid out and are very rich looking. Each town, no matter how small, has at least two banks. Slippery Roads On Return. After a five day visit which we enjoyed very much, we started on our return trip. It had rained the night before but we did not anticipate any trouble as the Dakota roads were hard and in fair shape. We had hardly gone a mile when the road became soft and slippery, and after sliding down a hill sideways, we decided to put on chains.

For the next twenty miles we ran on low and had great trouble keeping on the roads, but soon we reached the Minnesota roads and our troubles were over. In a ten hour run we reached Hopkins where we ate supper and camped with friends on the beautiful lake Minnetonka, the summer resort district of Minnesota.

At 7:30 we were again on our way passing again through Minneapolis and St. Paul, crossing the toll bridge at Hudson. From here we took route 12 through Menominee, Eau Claire, Black River Falls and Kilbuck. We found the roads very poor, very stoney or soft, in some places there were many miles of soft sand and hills that were nearly unclimbable.

Backs Up Hit. In one place near Menominee, Wisconsin, the hill was so steep that the gas in the tank of the Ford would not feed the engine, so we had to run up the hill backwards.

We camped that night at Black River Falls. At 6:30 we resumed our trip stopping a few hours at Kilbuck to see the Falls of Wisconsin.

From Kilbuck we took route 29 for Watertown, Wisconsin, where we ate supper with relatives. After this we motored on to Waukesha where we spent the night. At 7:00 o'clock the next morning, we started on for Milwaukee where we visited several parks. After a ride around the city we left on route 15 for home.

We expected the trip home on 15 would be a joy ride, but we were sadly disappointed, for we had six detours between Milwaukee and Green Bay, which we reached at 6:00 o'clock. From Green Bay to Marinette, the roads were good except for a small detour of three miles out of Green Bay.

First Tire Trouble. At Marinette, we had our first tire trouble and from there to Escanaba we were held up three times for the repairs.

On our trip we always stopped to eat and camp at school houses as there is always water to be had, and generally good ground to camp. Many cities in Wisconsin and Minnesota have very beautifully located tourist camp grounds with tables, benches and in some cases a completely equipped kitchen. These spots are easy to find as at the entrance to each town, signs are erected directing the tourist to them.

No Chance To Get Lost. The road markings in Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota are very good, it being impossible to lose the road even after dark. Garage facilities are very good as there is almost a station or filling station every ten miles, also public telephone exchanges which are marked by the blue bell sign on the front of the house. The tourist always is in reach in case of accident.

Our equipment for a party of four which was easily carried on the running boards of our Ford, consisted of an 8x12 wall tent, four folding cots, one roll of bedding, four suit cases. There were also a box containing four tin cups, knives, forks and spoons, a supply of paper plates, a coffee pot, a frying pan and a solid alcohol cooking set, with a dozen cans of solid alcohol.

Our meals were prepared from supplies bought from the best stores passed before meal time. These were generally as follows: Breakfast, coffee, rolls, toast, oranges, dinner, beans, tomatoes, ham, sandwiches, cakes, bananas, lemons, supper, coffee, rolls, cakes, melons. Total Expense Small. Our gas and oil bill for the trip which was nearly 2000 miles was $24.25. Our eating expenses while on the road were about $3.50 per day for the four persons.

Contrary to our expectations, we found the weather in Minnesota and Dakota very pleasant with the nights cool. Some times the nights were too cool for the amount of bedding which we carried.

The four of us had a very pleasant trip, and we expect to make it again another year.

MAKE EVERY HOME
A HEALTH RESORT
SAYS A MAGAZINE

Official Bulletin of American Medical Association Says Why Simple Rules.

Homes Can Be Made a Great Help to Those Who Are in Pursuit of Restoration of Health.

CHICAGO, Aug. 1. "Where can a patient obtain the best care?" asks the current issue of The Journal of the American Medical Association, and its answer is "often right at home."

Many of the advantages which rest, recreation, diversion, outdoor life, relaxation, altered diet, expert medical attendance and proper hygiene secure under rules of a change of climate could frequently be secured at home with less real hardship to the patient, says the journal.

Frequently the home will become a health resort if it can be made a pleasure resort.

In the case of specific diseases such as tuberculosis, we have gradually learned the importance of teaching the patient how to live at home. The burden of recovery is no longer shifted solely to the resort in a far-away place.

Have we not neglected all too often the possibility of taking advantage of local climates? Perhaps it will become more popular in the future to seek health at home."

Circus War Was Profitable to Both Shows at Oshkosh

OSHKOSH—Tuesday was the biggest circus day that Oshkosh ever experienced. So far as this city is concerned, the "circus war" is over. Both the Barnes Wild animal circus and the Sell-Floto circus did a good business here, attracting large crowds to all performances.

The Barnes tent was packed at both performances and while the Sell-Floto big top was not filled to capacity it was a large tent and both shows may be said to have "broken about even" in the attendance. Local street cars carried the largest crowds conveyed on a circus day being estimated at between 19,000 and 22,000 persons.

The shows represented two distinct types: one devoted to wild animal acts, largely and the other to a straight circus program. The acts were given in the morning and four performances were held in the afternoon and evening the ritual shows being within half a block of each other.

Managers of the Sell-Floto circus denied the show is a trust organization, pointing out that it owns only three circus outfits.

Lady Astor Says She Admires the Premiers' Wives

LONDON, Aug. 1.—Lady Astor, at a luncheon recently given by the British Patriotic League to Mrs. Lloyd George and the wives of the Dominion Premiers, replied to a toast and expressed much amusement when she said she had a profound admiration for the wives of the Imperial Prime Ministers. "I admire them for what they have made their husbands," she said, "and I commiserate with them for what they have had to do. I would like to be a Prime Minister's wife, because it would be a glorious chance for getting things done, but it is one of the most difficult jobs in the world."

Prime Ministers rise to such dizzy heights that their wives are the only persons who can speak out flat to them. I am sure Mrs. Lloyd George would agree with me. Never have there lived five less pompous men than our Prime Ministers and we must thank their wives for it. Their wives have kept them straight and told them not to be ridiculous."

Although four telephone poles were burned down by the fire, the Whitefish crew succeeded in keeping communication open for all but four hours.

Emery Dust Placed in Car Done for Spite

To find the crank case of his new 1921 Buick automobile filled with emery dust while enroute from his home in Swanson to Green Bay, was the experience of John Dalsky while stopping in Menominee for a new supply of fuel.

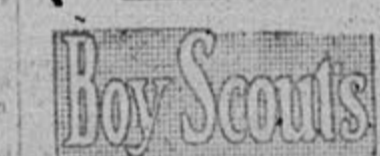

Placing emery dust in the crank case of his car was spite work of some of his enemies, says Mr. Dalsky, and he is quite positive he can identify the miscreant.

According to Mr. Dalsky, the deed was done while the car was in his barn at Swanson. Mr. Dalsky left his home for a trip to Green Bay and stopped at the Barkhausen oil station in West Menominee for fuel. While pouring in a fresh supply of lubricating oil the presence of emery dust was discovered in the crank case.

The car was immediately taken to a garage where more than a half pint of the emery was removed. It is not thought that the engine was badly damaged in the run from Swanson to Menominee, but if the trip was continued to Green Bay without discovery it is believed that the wear on the motor would have entirely ruined the cylinders.

Entertainers At Picnic

Miss Elsie Johnson entertained for her guest, Miss Helen MacNichols, of Oshkosh, at a picnic supper given yesterday evening at Dells river. Miss MacNichols arrived Saturday afternoon motoring here with her father, who went on to Iron Mountain to enter in the golf contests. A party plans to drive to Menominee this afternoon, where Miss MacNichols will meet her father and return to Oshkosh.

OF TO CAMP

Thirteen automobiles left about 9:30 o'clock this morning loaded with sixty Escanaba Boy Scouts, members of troops 1, 2 and 6 for the Scout summer camp at Six Day. The scouts are housed at their own scout headquarters and received in formation to headquarters at 601 Ludington street, where they took the automobiles on the trip to their summer camp. They will be in camp for ten days. The trip of cars was in charge of Scout Executive, H. J. Ziegler.

AT FIRE FOUR HOURS

After the night alarm signal was sent in 9:55 o'clock by order of Fire Chief Johnson, the Escanaba Boy Scouts spent fully four hours in putting out the woods and grass fire south of the city that threatened to burn a number of homes and summer cottages on the north shore and in the vicinity of the old race track. It is known as a fact that one or more Scouts in the vicinity were saved by the work of the scouts. They were not ordered away until early in the morning when a fire chief saw that they might be overcome by the smoke.
