

LOVE AFFAIR IN TAYLOR MURDER CASE

BULLET VICTIM LIVING A DUAL LIFE POLICE SAY

Famous Movie Stars
Summoned as Witnesses by Officers.

Taylor's Real Name Said to Be Tanner Who Was Twice Married, Although He Posed as Bachelor.

(By Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Feb. 4.—Pan-outs stars of filmdom were summoned today as witnesses in the death of William Deam Taylor motion picture star, soldier and director, whose true name may be William Deam Tanner, thus by a bullet at his residence here last Wednesday night.

A police investigation of the crime has revealed today a maze of complexity in the life of Taylor or Tanner, with whom it seems almost of the heat played an important part.

Mabel Normand, Mary Miles Minter
and Ned Sparks are three of the major picture actresses involved in the police investigation. Reports have come to the police they say, that a love affair at one time or another existed between each of these and the dead.

Mention Picture Actress.

Police say, without mentioning any names, that a motion picture actress is the center of their investigation in view to "revenge" with jealousy as the possible direct cause. This is being analyzed by the police according to a statement that was made this morning in police headquarters.

Edgar Carpenter and Mrs. Douglas MacLean, the former an actress and the latter a wife of an actor were invited witnesses in the case. Major other employees, actresses and directors are scheduled to appear here today at the inquest.

Checkered Career.

The checkered and adventurous career of the slain director-actor, beginning Klondike pioneer, soldier and student of psychology known for years as his most intimate friends here as a homosexual, living alone in a most sumptuously furnished dwelling, and often visited by actresses today, reveals that he has been living under a changed name and has a daughter 13 years of age.

That he was divorced and probably had been married the second time was surmised by the police today. He was formerly known as Tanner, according to the deceased wife of his brother, Mrs. Ade Dean Tanner, of Menominee, near here, who announced last night that the slain man had submitted her by sending checks for 100 dollars every month for the past six years.

Search For Better.

The police are continuing their search for Edward P. Sands, who is reported also to be known as Edward Mitz Strathmore, the missing brother of Taylor, who disappeared several months ago following which Taylor left with the police, charges of grand larceny.

A life in fear of death during the last few days of his existence add to the dramatic mystery of the dual existence of Taylor has been enhanced the police say, by a statement Taylor made to a friend that he had a premonition of death.

Suggest Three Ways
to Finance Payment
Of Soldier Bonus

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Industrials in against several officials and former of fields of Chicago charged with violation of the civil service laws in not getting subscriptions to a political newspaper backed by the administration of the city and also the sale of tickets to a big picnic given by the political faction headed by Mayor William H.
Thompson, were returned today to the special county grand jury.

Evidence submitted to the jury was intended to show that the employes of the city had been virtually forced to subscribe to the newspaper and buy picnic tickets under threat of losing their jobs.

One of the men indicted was said to have sold $5,000 worth of subscriptions to the newspaper.

Slips On Icy Walk
And Is Injured

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Three ways of financing the soldier bonus bill—a tax on 2½ per cent beer, increase in inheritance taxes, and the sale of reduced British bonds were suggested today to the house war-reps committee.

Representative Stafford, representative of Wisconsin reported the use proposed, estimating that a tax of 2½ per cent would yield more than two million dollars a year.

Important Meeting
of Legion Bodies

(By Associated Press)

An important meeting of the executive and building committees of Clever-land Post, No. 12, American Legion, will be held at the Legion office Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Mail has been addressed to Ralph Katal, Robert Wilson and Leslie Moore.
Also the information sought by Patrick Lyons, regarding his Liberty bonds, has been received and will be turned over to him when he calls.

Avalanche Sweeps Down on Train and Over 300 Killed

(By Associated Press)

TOKIO, Japan, Feb. 4.—More than a hundred persons are said to have been killed today in an avalanche which swept down the mountain side and buried a railroad train.

A train load of rescuers including doctors and laborers has been rescued from Nakano to give assistance. It was also reported that several persons were badly injured.

CLOVERLAND POST
SHOWS EFFICIENT
HANDLING OF CASE

Gets Action On Emergency
Case Within 48 Hours
After Hearing Plight
of Former Soldier.

Illustrating the speed with which Cloverland Post of the American Legion gets into action on emergency cases, the handling of the case of Louis Beauchamp is a striking example. Mr. Beauchamp made application through the local government channels several months ago to be sent to a government hospital for the treatment of tuberculosis contracted while in the service.

Due to red tape surrounding the handling of claims, not a word had thus far been heard from the government department looking after these cases. Meanwhile Mr. Beauchamp's health was growing worse rapidly and he easily called his condition to the attention of the American Legion post
in this city.

Within 48 hours after hearing of the case the local Legion post had translation and Mr. Beauchamp transferred to Roswell Memorial hospital at Battle Creek. This hospital was elected by the American Legion post
in this city.

HUGE EFFORT TO RAISE FUNDS BY THE METHODISTS

The Most Thorough-going Campaign Ever Undertaken Has Just Been Launched by Church.

By Associated Press

DETROIT, Feb. 4.—The most extensive campaign for raising money ever attempted by any religious denomination in the history of Christian churches has been opened by the Methodist Episcopal church.

Three hundred thousand American Methodists are now enrolled as Christians, and men and women who are to a sum of the income to missions work," declared the Reverend Dr. Arthur E. Lovett, 40, of Chicago, Secretary of the Stewardship Division of the Committee on Conservation and Missions here today. "The program just announced for 1928 by the Stewardship Division, I believe, will be an immediate enrollment of the number of not less than a full million dollars towards a quarter of the membership of the church.

The plan is for a great thing to continue to be completed on Easter Sunday. After a period of antelope preparation from February and March every member of the church and Sunday school will be asked to give one-tenth of his or her income for the work between Oct. 1 and Easter, and bring it to the treasury of the church on Easter Sunday, as a sort of the program of the day.

Many indications of a church-wide response are coming in. A locomotive engineer in New York, a lawyer, a shirt manufacturer, a furniture dealer, a refrigerator maker and a Michigan music man will present a tenth of their profits for the week. A woman managing a florist will give a tenth of her egg money. The treasurer of one of the largest automobile factories, the manager of a chain of concert stores and one of the largest show manufacturers will turn over a tenth of their income. An Indiana banker will give a tenth of his estate, a New York banker and cheese packer will divide his profits and a Michigan lumber and real dealer is planning a contribution of the same proportion.

This was illustrated at the Grand

Lady Dolora Duncan, after a piano

What Do You Think About It?

Should the city of Escanaba purchase the water front purchased by the Chamber of Commerce from the C. Stephenson Company Trustees, for an amount equal to its assessed valuation, and payable in ten equal installments?

This question in some form or other will be submitted to the electorate of Escanaba in the spring election.

In these columns will be given from day to day the opinions of representative citizens as to the advisability of this purchase. In releasing letters for publication letters opposing the proposition will be shown the same consideration as those favoring it.

I am in favor of the city purchasing the water front and hope it will soon be possible for the city to build a good dock.

Yours truly,

Orpen L. Rolando,
Supt. Chamber of Commerce
Escanaba, Michigan

Dear Sir:

I have your letter of the 16th inst. in which you want me to express my views in regard to the city purchasing the water front recently purchased by the Chamber of Commerce.

I have not given the matter much thought as I probably should before expressing my views, but without going into the matter very thoroughly there are a few reasons which I have in mind why I believe it would be a good policy for the city to purchase the strip of land.

FIRST. The City should have a water front for docking purposes. It may not seem very necessary right now but the day will soon come when it will be necessary.

SECOND. I understand that the cost of this land can be less than is asked for docking purposes.

THIRD. At the amount of land this strip of water front is more than is needed for docking purposes. I believe that our city could pay this additional land at any time just the same for more money than necessary at the present time to purchase the whole water front.

FOURTH. As some future day may want additional land for parking purposes, and as this land is almost situated with no property Parks it could be very easily obtained if the City bought it originally so far as present parking facilities.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) JOHN A. GALT

Prince of Wales Gets Hind Welcome When
He Shoots First Tiger

CALCUTTA, Feb. 4.—The Prince of Wales received an inhospitable Hind welcome when he entered the territory of Nepal where he shot his first tiger. At the Nepal borderline, the Prince passed through a triumphal arch decorated with rhinoceros heads and skins of tigers, bears, black deer and other animals.

On the other side of the arch was written in gold, "Honorable Welcome to Britain's Sporting Prince," and on the reverse side, "Lord Gort Blew the Kaiser's Blood." The Soldier Son.

As he entered the territory of Nepal, men stood on both sides of the road with bows and copper plates in men who were overjoyed at this show.

The tiger shot by the Prince measured nine feet, six inches in length. Three other tigers were shot by members of the Prince's staff.

SENATOR KENYON'S PLAN

Senator Kenyon's plan for setting up a board of mediation and arbitration to stand between coal miners and mine owners which shall endeavor to keep peace in the coal industry, but shall depend solely upon public opinion for the enforcement of its rulings, is at least sufficient to mark the beginning of an effort to solve one of the most difficult industrial problems which confronts the country.

The senator is rigid in rejecting the Kansas plan. Aside from the question of public and private right underlying the Kansas ministerial court, such a court for the whole United States would be impracticable. The Kansas court may possibly be made to work because Kansas is a relatively small community which is not highly industrialized and may be sufficiently interested in government to secure public cooperation in the enforcement of its laws. But if the United States had power to set up a similar court for the whole country, and that certainly theoretical, it would still confront difficulties when it tried to have the law work in the great variety of conditions presented by the various coal mining states.

Moderation and arbitration, however, are possible, and what is more, they are healthily supported except by the few who profit greatly from the present armed strife under which coal mining is carried on.

The law which the senator proposes is obviously based upon the law which set up the railway labor board. He proposes that Congress shall declare what the rights of labor and the owners are in general terms. The right to work, the right to organize or not to organize on both sides, the right to a fair wage are to be set forth, and the right of the public to a sufficient supply of coal at all times is to be recognized as a paramount fact. The law is also to declare the duty of employers and men to settle their disputes by peaceful means. There are, however, to be no penalties for the violation of these rights and duties.

This feature of the proposed law may allow Kansas as a weakness, but besides the impracticability of the other plan good reason for proceeding cautiously may be found in the state of the coal industry, which is over-taxed and over-mined. Shifting may now offer radically as to what ought to be done to set things right in the coal fields.

AROUND THE WORLD

There has never been a time when the demand for some title has not been going up in some part of the world, but it is doubtful whether there was ever more interest in that matter than there is now.

After China won its freedom the West Indies seemed to be wholly content but Cuba and now is the only one of the islands discontented. Porto Rico is talking about its status under the law of Canada. Hayti and San Domingo are both clinging at the very limited and temporary control under which they have come in their governments.

China is protesting against a form of government which gives all of the initiative and most of the power to officials appointed from London while the British West Indies are a colony talking more or less about some sort of federated government. In the Pacific, the Philippines movement for independence continues unabated, while on the continent of Asia there is the last son of unrest.

China is trying to shake off foreign control and at the same time set up a republic. Siberia is after permanent separation from Russia. India is carrying on a bold revolt while the continual currents of change and revolt in Arabia and the Near East are too intricate for the comprehension of any but experts. In Africa, Egypt is held down only by the British army and Spain's powerlessness in the Mediterranean depends upon the outcome of a not very fortunate war.

All of this is in a sense disquieting. Considering the history of the last seven or eight years no one can be blamed for a momentary thought that it would be better if everybody took things as they find them and went to work, but after all it is doubtful whether any subject people ever got self-government by passively waiting for it, and just as long as this country believes in self-government it cannot in principle condemn a world-wide aspiration for it whatever may be thought of the wisdom of some of the spring peoples.

MEXICO TRIES A REFORM

It is announced from the City of Mexico that the government has begun to reckon hours in sets of twenty-four instead of two sets of a dozen each. It has installed twenty-four hour clocks and for the convenience of the public has provided town clocks with two dials placed concentrically so that the same clock shows both the old and new kind of time.

Mexico is emerging from the prolonged period of political disturbance. It has piled revolution on revolution and in doing so has managed to break loose from settled habits.

Revolutions always tend in that direction and on several occasions one result of political change has been an effort to improve the method of keeping time. The French revolution brought a new calendar along with it and the world war was followed by proposals that the year be reorganized so as to speak—with a view to making the same days counted from the beginning of the year fall on the same dates. There is also a milder program about which would fix the date of Easter.

The Mexican idea seems to be the simplest and most feasible current plan for horological reform. Doubtless the present division of time into twelve hour periods dates back to the days when men kept time by the sun and took small note of the dark hours, but for modern purposes the standard practice is awkward and indefinite. It is a cause of confusion and waste in common speech and adds to the bothersome complications of a railway time-table. If it were not for habit, the twenty-four day would have been adopted long ago. But habits are hard to break and revolutions are expensive.

The SANDMAN STORY

TOMMY KIT'S DREAM.

MRS. TABBY sat highly excited one morning when she went into the barn and found five traps placed near holes where the mice lived. "The very idea," said Mrs. Tabby to her four kittens, "just as if I could not attend to this without the traps around."

"Children, I want you to pay strict attention to what I say, for you are now old enough to help, and it may be that I have given more time to playing with you than to my work. Now you must help. I want each of you to catch near one of these traps and when a mouse runs out of its home don't let him get into the trap—CATCH HIM."

After telling her children this, Mrs. Tabby sat down to watch near the fifth trap herself, and soon all were so busy watching for a mouse that they forgot each other.

Tommy Kit, however, grew tired of watching and after staring hard a long time at the hole he was to watch he grew sleepy and, curling up on the floor, soon was fast asleep.

Tommy Kit had the mouse on his mind, though, and so he dreamed about mice, and in his dream he thought two fat mice ran out of the hole he was to watch. Up jumped Tommy Kit and pounced upon them, catching a mouse in each paw.

"I guess none of the others will be as smart as I am," dreamed Tommy

Kit. "I'll run right off to mother and show her what a smart son she has."

"CLICK!" Tommy Kit opened his eyes and there in the trap was a mouse, and of the sound his brothers and mother turned and looked.

Tommy felt very much ashamed, for there was not a mouse in the other traps around.

"Why did you let him get past you?" scolded his mother. "Your brothers have each caught one. I am ashamed that a child of mine should be so stupid."

"But I do catch two," said Tommy Kit, not quite sure he had dreamt it. "I had one in each paw when the trap clicked. I could not catch three more, mother, now—could I, for I have only two front paws?"

"Two mice at the same time!" exclaimed his mother.

Tommy Kit who was very excited "I guess I dreamt it," he said. "I dreamed I caught two mice, one in each paw, and I was just going to show them to you when the trap clicked."

Mr. Tabby quickly toxed her son on the ear. "You fell asleep, did you?" she said. "Now you sit here and catch two mice before you get a drop of milk."

Off trotted Mr. Tabby with his other children, while Tommy sat sadly watching the hole. Out ran three mice and Tommy ran after them. He caught one and then seeing the other hiding behind a barrel he quickly went after that, while a third was frightened off and right into the trap.

"I could not help it, mother," explained Tommy Kit, as he proudly displayed the mice.

"That is all, traps are good for," said Mrs. Tabby, "to catch the third mouse while you are chasing two, and now you children must catch two mice and drive the third into a trap. We will soon clear this place and be rid of these haunting traps as well."

But it was not long before all the mice were sprawled out in the sun fast asleep, for they had cleared the mice from the barn; but Tommy, if he had any more dreams, did not tell them to his mother.

HERMAN GEESNER

HERMAN GEESNER, regarded as one of the Upper Peninsula's foremost authorities on business, being a man who travels a great deal himself, is fully aware of the daily danger to which every traveler is exposed. Liability to accident is not confined to any one class of travel. The railroad man who goes for 20 years without ever being injured while on duty is quite likely to be killed while riding in an automobile.

The store employee may be safe at his work for a score of years, but meet death riding on a motorcycle. Any one of a number of things can happen to lay an employee up for weeks.

Realizing that all of his employees are subject to the common dangers of city life and that all of them will be exposed more or less at all times, and particularly while on their summer vacations, Mr. Gessner has availed himself of The Mirror Insurance Plan to protect every member of his big organization.

Being a careful business man, he carefully scrutinized The Mirror policy himself and then took it to his legal representative for an opinion to assure himself that it was not carrying any "jokers" whereby a company may quibble and crawl out of the settlement of a just claim. After having taken every precaution to make sure that the policy would do just exactly what it specified, he sent for The Mirror Manager and had policies issued to every member of his organization.

What better evidence is needed to convince YOU of the desirability of this great protective accident policy?

To show his appreciation of the value of this insurance, as well as of the intensified efforts and loyalty of his co-workers, Mr. Gessner has paid for a $1,000 Travel Accident Policy, under The Mirror plan, for every member of his commercial family.

These policies go into effect immediately upon their delivery.

A greater endorsement of the soundness of The Mirror Insurance Plan than this, from a man known for his business ability and wisdom, could not be made.

The Fair Savings Bank is one of the live business organizations of this city, which is willing to pay for your Daily Mirror through accepting the coupons with which every Mirror reader will be supplied.

Mr. Gessner declares the idea is a good one and expresses the hope that all Mirror readers will avail themselves of the unusual opportunity of getting a daily newspaper delivered to their home each evening, free of charge.

"Co-operation among the merchants along this line," declared Mr. Gessner today, "is one of the foundations for the success of every retail business house in Escanaba."

The employees at the Fair Savings Bank were enthusiastic when the bulletin was posted about the store, announcing the intention of the management to protect them for the year. It is a nice little gift from employer to employee, and there was an unusual willingness on the part of every employee to sign their names to the policy card when The Mirror insurance crew visited the store.

"I hope," declared Mr. Gessner, "that you will never have to settle any claims for my employes, but I am resting easy in the knowledge that if any of them are injured, they will be protected."

See Bright Future

There was a good number of visitors at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. L. L. Lovell, president, T. J. Hayes, secretary, the speaker, that there will be more business in Escanaba in the future. After the meeting, it will be expected for him to have the "bright future" prediction to a glowing, excited audience. About 250 men are engaged in business and the weekly fares are doing well. The recent committee has had a good deal of work.

Normley in Sight

A return to normal business conditions could come within a week or two if the location is placed on business by the city. High surface traffic has been the greatest hindrance to a more liberal. They are now less inclined to go to Normley, thus keeping it out of the racing enterprises, but also reducing the high tax rate on public schools. So a return to normal is hindered in two ways by the new location.

A month ago Mr. Lovell said he believed he would be able to keep the racing in the city, but he has since given up his idea. The factors in his advice optimistic now. He doesn't expect reflections in prices of racing, which would make it difficult to buy.

Conditions are improving in the racing field according to Mr. Lovell.

WHY?

DO WE BLUSH?

A NY shock or emotion which makes the heart pump an extra supply of blood into the arteries and veins which supply the race will give rise to the reaction which we call blushing. The emotion, of course, may be one of the variety which causes the heart to beat faster than normal. Embarrassment or anger will cause this while fear, which relaxes the action of the heart, will cause the opposite effect, producing a pale white look.

Because the shock or emotion must be one in which we are not accustomed, some persons blush far more readily than others. A person, for example, who is not in the habit of swearing or certain language will blush from embarrassment when he uses it. In fact, the reason for this is that the person is unaccustomed to it. If he becomes hardened, he will lose the ability to blush which is the reason that blushing is considered to be one of the frailties of innocence.

SOCIAL

NOTED SINGER COMING

The North Star Society has just completed arrangements for bringing to this city on March 2nd, Mrs. Lydia Hedberg, Sweden's most celebrated songstress, who is now touring the United States, and who will put on a concert here at the time mentioned. The entertainment is to be held at the North Star Hall and the local society considers itself especially fortunate in securing such a high-class artist for an appearance here. Whenever she has appeared she has packed halls and opera houses and a rare musical treat is in store for the people of this city when she arrives.

RACES AT RINK

Tomorrow night's program at the Coliseum rink will be made more interesting than usual, that is, the fact that the Manager Flath has arranged for two one-mile races. William Egan will race against George Frazier and Glen Reward, the latter two skating a half mile each while Egan does the full miles. Wallace Cobb and Melvin Roberts also are matched for a one-mile race. The winners of these events will be pitted against George Gaspard on Feb. 11 and 12. Gaspard is chairman of the Western championship and some great sport is expected when he arrives.

The home of Walter Jackson, 6 South Fourth street, was the scene of a birthday party Thursday evening when a company of friends gathered to observe his 30th anniversary. The evening was devoted to cards and various social diversions after which nice refreshments were served.

RELIEF CORPS CARD PARTY

Plans have been made by the Relief Corps of the ladies' Relief Corps for a card party, Ruth Northup, chairwoman, and the afternoon of Tuesday, Feb. 12, 1922, 1922. It is anticipated that about 100 ladies and their husbands will be present for this occasion.

Following the session at 8 o'clock, refreshments are to be served and the proceeds of the afternoon's entertainments will be used in preparing and presenting a 1922 Memorial Day program. A general invitation is extended to the public to attend this affair at 8:30 to 10:30 o'clock, and a big crowd is to be anticipated.

SINGING CLUB MEETING

All male voices of the North Star Singing Club are requested to meet at the Coliseum Sunday forenoon, 2 p.m., North Star Ball.

REHEARSAL DANCE

About 100 Rehearsal Club members and their friends thoroughly enjoyed a dancing party at 8:30 last night at the Old Yellow Hall. Music was furnished by Frank Burk's orchestra and the majority of the guests wore the out-fashions kind which have almost disappeared from present day dance programs. The party lasted until about 11 o'clock this morning and is considered one of the most pleasant and successful ever held by this organization. Plans already are going forward for another such affair in the near future.

NOTICE TO AUTO OWNERS

You need your car put in shape for spring. We need the money. Owing to the hard times I have cut the price in two. Call 877-3. Let me know on your next trip. Ned's Garage.

The Second Month of 1922

finds many of us forgetting January's good Resolutions. That's why, if we are to make this a year of accomplishments, each one of February's twenty-eight days call for action.

Down here at this bank there is a brand new pass book waiting for you. Before another day passes come down and set on that Good Resolution to become a regular bank depositor.
