TOOK REINDEER TO ENGLAND

Attempt to Colonize the Animal Was Not a Success—Marked Intelligence Shown by Them.

A hundred years ago it was thought that the mountains forests of Great Britain might be colonized by reindeer from Lapland, and an account was given in 1821 in an issue of the Observer, London, of the experiment. Sixteen animals were brought to London at the instigation of an eminent naturalist, Mr. Bullock. The herd was accompanied by a laplander, to whom the animals were attached, and a few weeks they were in good health. All went well till they arrived at the place of destination, where the herdsmen noticed the deer to be very tame. What the herd did in the first week to the second he started back to sleep. It was the first time they would not feed. From that time to follow the reindeer and fresh investigations were made. The whole herd, looking on and watching the proceedings, always refused to touch the reindeer, nor attempting to move till he saw them a stamp that all was well. After a time he seemed to be reconciled, and in a friendly manner entered the vessel. There he was fed every day, and carefully examined. When he had satisfied himself that it was possible to get a kind of deer, when the hunters resumed their hunt, and in three weeks all had departed. The account continues that the reindeer was overboarded and the intelligent herd indicated this to his followers. "When we got around at the foot, we could hardly credit it, the reindeer had been." As he had indicated other things, he also indicated this to his followers. No power was there to stop them, but the herd was separated to feed in an other herd.

HOW THE MOLLUSKS TRAVEL

Attach Themselves to Water Fowl and Are Thus Transported for Considerable Distances.

One of the problems that continually confronts the naturalist is to account for the distribution of identical forms of life among widely separated localities. Investigation frequently shows that this has been accomplished in many ways that appear quite simple when once discovered, although one would hardly have thought of them by advance of their actual detection.

Some interesting facts have been brought out concerning the dispersion of freshwater mollusks, accounting for their appearance in remote and isolated ponds. It appears that water fowl play an important part in this work. Ducks have been known to carry mollusks attached to their feet a hundred miles in more. Plaisive mollusks not infrequently cling to the toes of wading birds, and are thus transported for considerable distances. Even aquatic insects have been known to carry small freshwater mollusks attached to their legs.

In such manner does Nature combat the various inhibitors of the earth to assist one another whether they will or not.

It is estimated that out of an economic waste of $2,000,000,000 annually, 10 per cent is due to improper utilization, which means a yearly economic loss of more than $200,000,000.

Michigan Is Paying Debt to Weather Man

DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 7.—Michigan has begun to pay its debt to the weather man. During 1933 the citizens of this state "borrowed" 150,000,000 of dollars. At that time the state was in a financial straits, and the citizens were asked to contribute to the relief of the state. The state has now repaid the debt, and the citizens are relieved of their obligation.

LEE Puncture Proof Tires

withstood this "Torture Test"

TO PROVE beyond question that Lee Puncture Proof Pneumatics live up to their name, a car equipped with four of these sturdy tires was subjected to the "Torture Test" pictured above.

The car, containing four men, was run repeatedly back and forth upon improvised tracks—two planks from which 5,000 thirty-penny nails protruded, points upward.

Twenty-four keen-bladed butcher knives, edge up, formed part of the track. Fifty pounds of broken glass and 100 yards of barbed wire littered the approaches.

The tires used were not "special" in any way, and were not new—they had already delivered nearly 5,000 miles of non-puncture service.

Yet, this record is no more remarkable than the performance of Lee Puncture Proof Tires, year in and year out, in ordinary, every-day use, for the past ten years.

Equipped with Lee Puncture Proof Pneumatics, your car can be driven anywhere and everywhere, without fear—protected by our cash-refund guarantee against puncture.

Esperanto, the only one of all the so-called universal languages that shows any sign of survival, was invented by Dr. Esperanto during his years' captivity in a Polish prison.

Many requests are reaching Dr. Esperanto to adopt one of the puppet horns in his aeroplane while he was studying in a night school.

Coming to Rome, the nationality of these puppets raises an interesting problem. The mother is an English fox terrier. The father is of unknown origin, and the puppets themselves were born in a French aeroplane flying over Italian territory.

Russ Secret Police Have Great System

(By Associated Press) MOSCOW, Feb. 7.—That the Cheka or secret police is no respecter of persons in making arrests, may be set down to its credit. It arrests Communists and Cheka agents as freely as any others.

The method of arrest often incurs the enmity of the persons to be arrested. If the person wanted is not at home a guard is placed inside the door of his home and every visitor is held until he appears. This is to prevent warnings getting to the persons to be arrested.

If the visiting friends are not arrested, they risk being held several days. On one occasion a woman passing a horse-drawn cart was seized, handcuffed and carried to jail and held. She rumbled into a Cheka net and was held in prison for three months, when, finally, her explanation was accepted as to why she had visited the house.

There are months when there are great numbers of prisoners. The Cheka is not bothered by lack of prison space. If a prison room is intended to accommodate two or three persons, it often happens that in fact it is made to accommodate 25 or 30. People are just put in, in layers, and that's an end to the space problem.

MEN GIRLS LOVE
By Laurel Gray

When men are busy with the fair and they and many of their women friends are sitting on the benches in the park, waiting for the start of the race, they are often seen to be looking at the women who are sitting on the benches. This is not because they are interested in the women, but because they are interested in the women who are sitting on the benches.

Iowa University To Celebrate Its Diamond Jubilee

IOWA CITY, Ia., Feb. 7. A Diamond Jubilee celebration at the University of Iowa on Feb. 20 will commemorate the seventy-fifth anniversary of its establishment with an all-day program, depicting the progress made by the institution during three quarters of a century.

A massive gala meeting will be held in the morning marking the fortieth anniversary of the university's founding. These also will be a descriptive and historically impressive program written for the occasion.

The University of Iowa was founded Feb. 27, 1847, by an act of the first general assembly of the state legislature which approved the constitution and location of the institution. The first instruction was given at Des Moines in 1847 when the state capital was moved from Iowa City to Des Moines. Amos A. Phelps of the Albany Law School was its first president. The attendance this year will surpass the $1,000 mark and the faculty numbers 200.

What Do You Think About It?

Should the city of Escanaba purchase the water front purchased by the Chamber of Commerce from the L. Stephenson Company Trustees, for an amount equal to its assessed valuation, and payable in ten equal installments?

This question in some form or other will be submitted to the electorate of Escanaba in the spring election.

In these columns will be given from day to day the opinions of representative citizens as to the advisability of this purchase. In releasing letters for publication, letters opposing the proposition will be shown the same consideration as those favoring it.

January 27, 1922
Chamber of Commerce,
Escanaba, Mich.
Gentlemen:

Repeating 25 years of recent date regarding the question of the City purchasing the waterfront from the Chamber of Commerce, I wish to state that I believe the City should own this property and should make arrangements to purchase this property this coming spring. We are all aware of the fact that the City is heavily burdened with taxes. However, I believe in this particular case, the City would benefit by it later, especially the people of the proposed construction of the Great Lakes waterway. This would place Escanaba one of the leading ports on Lake Michigan.

Yours truly,
F. C. CAYNE,
301 So. 16th St.

January 27, 1922
Chamber of Commerce,
Escanaba, Mich.

The city of Escanaba, situated on the best harbor of which she is so justly proud, should see her own waterway for her own benefit.

There can be no question whether we are to be benefited or not. We must find it somewhere. It must be done or we have our best field in prosperity.

Sincerely,
SANDY ROGER CHENOWETH

CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE PLATE

Now the spirit of Giving Was Manifested in the Churches a Hundred Years Ago.

French-land eggs are frequently deposited in the contribution plate in some of the backwoods Episcopal churches of the South. Which goes to show that the spirit of giving hasn't changed so very much in the hundred years or so of the Church Missionary society. The first report of the society dated May 30, 1823, was dated the other day, and while it shows no contribution of eggs, a score of other articles of merchandise seem to have found their way to the plate from the people who gave "according to their means." This report, for instance, shows that back in 1823 David Shelton gave a basket of groceries for the support of the missionaries; Stephen North contributed a medicine chest; William Rowland, a cross-cut saw; Joe and John Needles, two axes; S. Massey, a coffee mill; Jan and T. Clardy contributed, plus a sturdy empty gill-net; John Hanson came along with a tub, whether bath or wash is not stated; C. Buckley is credited on the books with "bedding on hand" $1.75; John McAllister, doctor, a thermometer. Among other miscellanea are linen handkerchiefs, spades, shoes, trousers, chaps, soap, bottles and tins. Fluffy Tom and Richard Marshall there is a headband of tobacco which encourages the hope that some good missionary of the church in his lonely station, after enjoying a comfortable pipe, says the publicly department of the Protestant Episcopal church.

Bust Shows Two Natures

The United States got its one of London's famous vases in Pitt Mall for officers of the 15th British service, the navy and the army. Busts of naval and military heroes adorn the hall. The duke of Wellington with his stately and aristocratic look gazes down on members as they pass through the main entrance. Honesty, pride and dignity are written there.

But a head of Lord Nelson at the side is more interesting. Each side of the face is modeled differently, so that the impression of a man of the world is given as you look at the portrait from the left, and of a dreamer as you look at it from the right. In the one case the modeling is firm; in the other soft. Even the eyes, for both are shown, are different. The bust is a replica by the famous English artist, Flaxman, the original of which is in possession of the family—Christian Science Monitor.

The Healthy Eskimo

It is said that the Eskimos of the remotest north are the healthiest people you can find anywhere. Clean, with white faces, hair, however, brought deterioration and demoralization. The indulgence of civilization has been bad, and may be worse; it may even result in the extinction of the hardy race. Only when they are left wholly to their own devices are the Eskimos healthy, and this is indeed remarkable, for their devices are few and the hardships of their lives are many.

To prevent a cow from urinating her tail against a person walking her there has been patented a stamp attached to a steel spring to be twisted around one leg.

BARKEN GRAY HAIR, LOOK YOUNG, PRETTY
Sage Tea and Sulphur Darkens 96. Naturally That Nobody Can Tell.

Hair that loses its color and lustre or when it turns gray, dull and lifeless is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. One grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her hair dark and beautiful.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at the drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied.

With the British and local governments cooperating several wells will be bored in 1934 in a search for petroleum.

AH, BUT WHEN IS A DOOR NOT A DOOR? QUICK

CHICAGO - Capt. Miles Sturdish was a Spanish adventurer, magazine writer and Quaker.

Sturdish is located in the West Indies and South China. And good old Plymouth rock is in New Hampshire or somewhere along the coast of Maine.

That's what a reporter found out when he attempted to refute the claim of a university professor here that the average intelligence of Americans was about that of a pupil in the sixth grade.

The questions prepared by Dr. Paul H. Bruner of the Chicago public schools had the answer to which were made known on Monday, when asked of policemen, elevated conductors, chauffeurs, fishermen and others.

The average mark was 57 per cent for ten questions. Thirty-eight answered the queries and a dozen failed to do so.

That's what a reporter found out when he attempted to refute the claim of a university professor here that the average intelligence of Americans was about that of a pupil in the sixth grade.

Vertical high school graduates and university students made creditable showing in the test but when graded their school papers were asked to answer the queries their answers were all given correctly in their class.
