SINGLE COPIES, FIVE CENTS

34 BODIES CHARRED BEYOND HOPE OF RECOGNITION TAKEN FROM ARMY AIRSHIP ROMA

PLUNGES A THOUSAND FEET TO EARTH A FLAMING MASS WHILE ITS OCCUPANTS ARE TRAPPED

Greatest Catastrophe in History of Army Flying Occurs at Hampton Roads Naval Base While Giant Airship Is Making Trial Flight; Accident Is Said to Be Caused by a Broken Rudder; Purchased From Italy in 1921.

ESCANABA, Va., Feb. 22.—This city, the chief city of the state which...

Leap From Death Ship

Just as the Roma soared the wires two men were seen to leap from high up in her straining hull.

So there was the glare of the gas flames, their rancor was driven back by its terrific heat.

Officers who knew personally many of the officers and enlisted men were unable to identify a single one of the victims.

Only those in the forward part of the operating compartment of the ship had a chance for their lives.

Pilot Escapes

Flight lieutenant who with Capt. Reed was the principal pilot of the Roma was one of the unharmed.

Rescue Work Futile

Many hours after her fall, the ship was still a mass of blackened and twisted metal.

Barely a dozen of these were picked up alive and one of the dead on the way to the hospital.

The bodies were finally brought to subscribers in three fire departments which fought them with streamers.

Accents of survivors and of eye witnesses as to what had happened appeared to agree that the long-structure of the stricken rudder, itself as large as a landing plane, had slipped to one side as the Roma dove some 1,000 feet above the army base.

She was making a trial flight with a new battery of Liberty motors.

For lower priced automobiles a few of them the jump has been combined with a rudder fan.

A machine has been invented to wash the outside of railroad cars as they pass through it.

BURNED AIRSHIP BOUGHT IN ITALY BY UNITED STATES

Cost Over One Million Dollars and Was On Trial Flight With New Engines.

ESCANABA, Feb. 22.—The airship Roma was an Italian built craft, purchased by the United States government from Italy in 1921 for $1,000,000.

The airship was of 12,000 cubic feet capacity. It had long air keels and was fitted with 12 18-horsepower Liberty engines.

It was equipped with six 18-horsepower Liberty engines.

She was taken in her dismantled state to Langley field and reassembled there during the fall and by November she was on the ground.

It was her rudder, which was broken, that caused the disaster.

When the rudder broke the airship was thrown into a spin.

New Bonus Plan Puts Workers on Honor to Turn Out Best Work

By W. J. G. - A bonus system which ultimately will affect all of the city employees has been inaugurated by a manufacturing concern here.

The bonus is in addition to and entirely independent of hourly wages and other materials from the ordinary piece work.

Any plant piece of work that passes right inspection, qualify the workers to earn a bonus. All jobs will be assigned and classified according to the skill required of the operator, every job to be assigned to one of four bonus qualifications.

In addition to a job and bonus classification a standard table of allowances, classified according to the job is adopted. From it is determined the per cent allowance to be made for fatigue and cost, the most liberal applied to work which sets the greatest strain on the worker.

When a job has been studied and classified, a bonus sheet and inspection card is filled out and given to the worker. The instructions card shows the method of which the work should be done, giving explanation, set-up, and all instructions which are of importance to the time allowance for fatigue and the standard time for the job.

The bonus is given the standard time of the standard, which has been set by the bonus sheet, but a man begins to work on it. When he reaches the standard time, the bonus is given. The bonus sheet shows the standard of work which is to be given to the operator.

If an attempt to pay workers is made to their ability.

What Do You Think About It?

Should the city of Escanaba purchase the water from the recently purchased... by the Chamber of Commerce from the Stephenson Company...

January 16, 1922 Chamber of Commerce, City.

This is no estimation will one day, but so far distant, be one it is not the greatest step our city as a whole has taken...

Yours truly, P. E. LARU.

January 17, 1922 Mr. G. J. Brander, Secy Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, Escanaba, Michigan.

Dear Sir: Replying to your letter of January 15th regarding my opinion of the City of Escanaba purchasing the water from the recently purchased from the Stephenson Company...

Yours very truly, JOHN A. BERGMAN

The following are topics of letters which were written by pupils of the eighth grade as part of their English work in the schools.

January 20, 1922 Chamber of Commerce, Escanaba, Michigan.

My dear Sir: The City of Escanaba would be greatly improved by the purchase of the Stephenson land for dog house and parks for the bettering of the same.

First, we would start business up on the east end of town. It is a good water frontage and it would be a good idea for a park and also a good place to build a dock.

Second, it would beautify the city if there was a park built down there. It would also be a good idea to remove some of the little shacks that are there and build some big buildings in their place.

Third, it would bring the ships here thus making the freight rates lower.

It would help the labor situation for warehouse men, watermen, men to work on the dock and people to work in the offices.

Respectfully yours, JOHN HUGHES

Jan. 20, 1922 Chamber of Commerce, Escanaba, Michigan.

My dear Sir: It would be a great undertaking for the citizens of this city to buy the Stephenson dock and land around it. There are a great number of reasons why they should not buy it.

First, the cost is too great for the city and the taxes would be raised so greatly that there would be many objections.

Second, the cost of building the dock and landing and keeping it in the park.

Third, the land around the park would be monopolized as the Humes & Jensen Oil Co. is close by.

Fourth, it may help the land owners near by, and the hotels and stores, but it will not help pay the large amount we must pay.

Fifth, the land on the eastern part of main street will go up in price but does that help pay for the land?

Sixth, even if the boats that come here pay dockage, the dockage would be so small that it would take years and years to pay for the dock.

Seventh, in years to come there must be repairs on the dock.

Respectfully yours, JANET GERDEL

NATIONAL HEADS OF LEGION WILL ATTEND U.P. MEET

Hanford MacNiger and Franklin D'Oliver Accept Invitations to Go to Iron River.

Hanford MacNiger, national commander, and Franklin D'Oliver, past national commander of the American Legion, have both given personal assurances that they will attend the upper peninsula convention of the Legion to be held in Iron Mountain next July, according to a statement of A. T. Roberts at Marquette, executive committee man from Michigan, before the meeting of the executive committee of Legion posts at Iron River yesterday. Mr. Roberts stated that while there had been no formal announcement, both men told that they would be at the convention from statements made yesterday. The attendance at the convention...

ing convention will greatly exceed that at the Marquette convention last summer, and the Iron Mountain committee will have a job on its hands taking care of the visitors. Several delegates stated they confidently predict that 75 per cent of the membership represented by them would attend the convention. Altogether an attendance of over 2,000 is expected.

Park Question Deferred The question of a municipal park for Escanaba at this time has not been taken up, but it was decided to defer the consideration until the next session of the city council.

After the morning business meeting there was an excellent Italian dinner at the new Rocco restaurant. After the dinner, Mr. Roberts gave a lecture on his experiences while accompanying Marshal Foch on his tour of this country, which was illustrated with the motion picture film of the Foch trip and of the national convention of the American Legion in Kansas City. An attempt is being made to get a book of the film here, but no date has been announced yet.

The picture show and lecture will be followed by another business session after which the business of the evening will be the reading of the minutes of the meeting and the report of the executive committee.

Twenty-five delegates attended the meeting. The committee on the proposed dock and water frontage also had a representative, who attended from Marquette. Escanaba and Crystal Falls. In C. W. Walker, president of the association, was the only delegate from Iron Mountain.

NO SECRET UNDERSTANDINGS

President Harding has replied to the senate request for records of the discussions and debates relative to the four power treaty, with the information that no such records are in existence and therefore can not be supplied.

The president supplements this information with the statement that, even if such records were available, he would not deem it compatible with public policy to make them public for the reason that any tentative offers, suggestions and private conversations which eventually crystallized into the treaty could not be given to the world without violation of the sanctity of diplomatic intercourse...

The president, however, assures the senate emphatically that there were no private agreements, concealed understandings or other similar arrangements, and that no commitments were made by any nation which are not clearly expressed in the treaty.

That we take it, is the nub of the entire matter. The only reason for the Hitchcock resolution calling for memoranda and data of the debates and conversations was the fear that some secret arrangement outside the treaty proper or some understanding of its terms not apparent on its face might have been arrived at by the delegates. The assurance of the president, following that of Senators Underwood and Lodge, stood out that suspicion at rest.

The treaty speaks for itself. Its terms are clear and two of three men who participated in its making are members of the senate. There never was less of secrecy in the negotiation of any treaty than obtained in the case of those negotiated at the Washington conference. Even the point made by Senator Hitchcock, that a difference of opinion existed between the president and Secretary Hughes relative to the four power treaty was cleared up when the conference itself adopted interpretations which left no further room for doubt as to the status of the Japanese homeland.

From the outset there appeared to the unprejudiced observer very little point to Senator Hitchcock's resolution. The important thing, it would seem, is not what was said about the treaty, but the treaty itself. The president's statement should clear away any suspicion of secret agreement or understanding and smooth the way to a prompt report of the treaty by the foreign relations committee.

MAKE IT SNAPPY

According to the word that comes from the national capital, the Washington conference treaties are to have the right of way in the upper house once they arrive there until the tariff bill also puts in an appearance, after which the treaties and the tariff question will divide the attention of the senators.

While a certain amount of discussion and debate is inevitable and proper before action is taken on the work of the arms conference, and while it is possible one or two clarifying observations may be harmless, though not necessary, any extended oratory or debate will be superfluous and detrimental. The senate ought to expedite action as much as is possible. It has other very important business that will be delayed if there is any dilly dallying over questions whose merit is perfectly clear and which the people of the country overwhelmingly demand. And if the treaties are shoved aside for any other work the whole world situation will be made uncertain and world reconstruction will be seriously hindered.

In this connection, the senate ought also to remember that while the United States was quite right in rejecting the Versailles treaty and all its works, and while created through acrobatic of affairs than ever could have been created through acceptance of the League of Nations, is now made possible by the achievements of the arms conference, nevertheless it also is true that because of the blundering work of the head of the American delegation at Versailles, world settlement and world economic recovery have been much delayed. When an opportunity to repair an injury unavoidably wrought comes to the senate, advantage should be taken of it without any delay and with no unnecessary flourishes.

AN IMPOSSIBLE SUGGESTION

Breckenridge Long, who was assistant secretary of state in the Wilson administration, thinks a mistake was made when the United States failed to invite Germany to the Washington conference. Germany, he says, was at peace with the United States and is more intimately interested in the question of disarmament than any other country.

If one takes international affairs to be the sweetly altruistic thing they really ought to be, it becomes possible to understand Mr. Long's position but perfection is not attainable in this selfish, suspicious world.

The practical situation which was confronted when the conference was called, included the fact that Germany is a conquered nation working itself out from under the treaty of Versailles, with Great Britain, France, Italy and Belgium superintending the process. Germany's relation to the question of armaments is governed by the treaty under the supervision of those nations and the established rule is that while the victorious powers may arm to suit their own ideas of what is proper, Germany may not arm at all except to preserve order at home.

To invite Germany in for a consideration of the question of armaments would have been to invite France to reconsider the treaty of Versailles with a view to meeting Germany's opinion on the subject, and France would have replied that it talks to Germany about arms from the east side of the Rhine.

The burning question now is how long the coal pile will last and how many more tons must be bought, if any.

TAYLOR IN BRITISH ARMY. This news photo of William O. Taylor, left, shows the major director who was rewarded wearing the stripes of a "major" in the ranks of the English army, in which he served during the war. It will be remembered that Taylor was buried in a captain's uniform and had been reputed to have held that rank and commission during the war—but a search of the British army records reveals that he never rose above the rank of acting sergeant-major.

Use Your Coupons. Be one of the thrifty ones and save money on your Daily Mirror. Merchants are glad to get them. Every time you see some of the coupons in a store, the merchant knows you are reading his advertising in The Daily Mirror. You have proved to him that you appreciate what he is doing for you in helping to pay for your evening paper. AND, did you ever before have so good an opportunity to get a daily paper as you have now. Talk about prices going down. Can you beat it? A daily newspaper and accident protection for a whole year for 75 cents.

"Par" The par value of any newspaper's circulation to the financial advertiser is represented by 100% concentration upon a highly cultivated market where his maximum sales may be developed. In the case of the Escanaba territory that market is the City of Escanaba and its suburbs. That is where the advertiser transacts the greatest volume of his business. That is where he finds his greatest number of prospects. And in that market he can reach 8 out of 10 English-reading persons through a SINGLE advertising medium. 94% of The Daily Mirror's circulation is concentrated directly in the city and suburbs of Escanaba—the nearest approach to "par" of any newspaper in the city—or, for that matter, of any in the entire country. Remember—your BIGGEST sales are made in Escanaba. Your BIGGEST sales in the Escanaba territory are made directly in the city of Escanaba itself. And your BIGGEST returns are made from the newspaper that has the largest circulation IN ESCANABA in the six working days of the week. Consider the par value of your advertising dollar when you consider Escanaba newspapers, and you will realize why it should be invested in— The Escanaba Daily Mirror FIRST IN ESCANABA

Good Roads Would Cut Cost of Living and Do Country Good

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 22.—(U.P.) Roads in the country will do more to lower the high cost of living and to raise the prosperity, comfort, culture and happiness of the people than things fought over in western political contests, according to Governor O. H. Shoup of Colorado, today, in a speech at the Pike's Peak Ocean to Ocean highway association at its annual meeting here.

"The establishment of a road network," he said, "will do more for the prosperity, comfort, culture and happiness of the people than things fought over in western political contests, according to Governor O. H. Shoup of Colorado, today, in a speech at the Pike's Peak Ocean to Ocean highway association at its annual meeting here."

THREE MUSKETEERS CONTINUES TO PACK THE DELFT THEATRE

Fairbanks Wins New Admirers in His Wonderful Portrayal of the Fiery D'Artagnan.

The big audience yesterday at the Delft Theatre, which has been the scene of the wonderful film version of "The Three Musketeers," with Douglas Fairbanks in the leading role, at the Delft Theatre, Manager Jafala has had so many complimentary things said to him about his wonderful performance that he is at a loss to figure out just what is enjoying the greater popularity. "Way Down East" and "The Three Musketeers."

The film is certain and that is that no player has been shown in this city which has evoked more careful attention in detail, to costume, to the proper period atmosphere, and some has ever been shown here which shows such a variety of structure which had to be built for the time. "The Three Musketeers" will be shown this afternoon at 2:30 and 7:30. It is an extremely warm, white picture and one of the big film sensations of the year. Douglas Fairbanks is a character which he is peculiarly fitted to portray.

When Douglas Fairbanks played "The Three Musketeers," he fulfilled the ambition of his life. Undoubtedly an actor is so typically Fairbanksian or offers an fine opportunity to play upon the entire gamut of this histrionic as does this. His star United Artists Production.

The film version of "The Three Musketeers" is based not only upon the famous novel of Alexandre Dumas, but also upon the account of D'Artagnan himself in his own words of the adventures which he lived through in the golden days of the French Revolution. The film is a masterpiece of the art of the camera, and it is a masterpiece of the art of the actor. Douglas Fairbanks is a character which he is peculiarly fitted to portray.

There are many reasons why you should go to the Delft Theatre for "The Three Musketeers." First of all, the picture is a masterpiece of the art of the camera, and it is a masterpiece of the art of the actor. Douglas Fairbanks is a character which he is peculiarly fitted to portray.
