TWELVE SHIP BUILDERS ARE INDICTED

CHARGED WITH CONSPIRACY TO DEFRAUD GOV'T

Federal Grand Jury Holds Dozen Men Charged With Crookedness.

Charges Imply False Statements in Sale of Their Plants and Converting Money to Own Use.

Washington, Feb. 27.—Indictments against Charles W. Moore, the ship builder, and his three sons, Benjamin, Harry and Lewis, and Colin H. Livingston, president of the Virginia Ship Building Corporation, and seven others, were returned today by the federal grand jury, which has been investigating the wartime transactions of Moore and his associates in the shipping board.

Two indictments were returned, one charging conspiracy to defraud the government and another charging conspiracy to commit offenses against the government.

Used Money Personally

The conspiracy, as charged by the government, accuses those named of making false statements as to the value of their plants and thereby obtaining loans from the shipping board. They are also charged with having secured money for ship building purposes and using it for personal interests.

It is also alleged that large quantities of material to be used for ship building, and which was the property of the Emergency Fleet corporation, was secured and then sold and the money reverted to the use of the alleged conspirators.

Those indicted were either or are still connected with the Grotton Iron Works, of Grotton, Conn; the Virginia Ship Building Corporation, of Alexandria, Va.; or the United States Transport Company, all of which concerns were known as the "Moore Companies."

LABOR STIMULATED BY MUSIC IS CLAIM OF BIG EDUCATOR

Declares It Cheers the Heart and Enlivens the Mind, Bringing Order Out of Chaos.

(By Associated Press) CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—There is nothing that will stimulate labor, command obedience and bring order out of a chaos like music, President P. E. McClenahan, Des Moines, Iowa, of the National Council of States Department of Education, told the association here today.

"Song produces harmony," he said, "it cheers the heart and enlivens the mind. Music is the basis of our social life. There is no other element in life which so quickly breaks down the habit of reserve and indifference, it has infinite value in the Americanization of foreigners. In the power of music, and especially that of song, lies an influence for this community spirit that should now be fostered as in no other part of American history. Music is both an art and a science, and should occupy a conspicuous place in education."

One War Benefit The war brought into progressive several important features of school work, said Mr. McClenahan, chief among which are the teaching of book-keeping and home garden work for food children.

Work in book-keeping has been modified and correlated with the work at home," he said. "Now girls in the home-making courses are taught that the best part of the work done is that done at home during the morning, evening and vacation periods. The young women in these courses are taught to handle it better than at home. I know from personal experience that a high school girl can be taught to cook food that is wholesome, palatable and delicious."

Home Garden Work Of home garden work, he said, "I have seen garden work for school children may really developed and given importance on account of the war necessities for home food in 1918. Over one million school boys and girls helped with summer garden work. Over a million acres of unproductive land was put into garden by the patriotic home-making association of 40,000 teachers, students and assistants in the production. This work was so important that the government gave $2,000,000 to continue the work. On a scale of this development by the national committee of subject in vacant lot and home garden work has become popular and a valuable part of the education work. Now is the time to plan for the coming summer."

SOO IS 'NOSED OUT' BY ESCANABA HIGH SATURDAY EVENING

Fastest Game of Basketball of Season Ends in Victory for Locals, 18 to 17.

What is pronounced to have been the fastest game of basketball staged in Escanaba this year resulted in a two-point victory for the local high school team over the Soo team Saturday evening. The game, which ended in a score of 18 to 17, with the score tied 17-17 at the end of the second half, was a real contest which is unusual in high school basketball.

Spectators were under the spell of the contest during the entire game and it was not until the last minute of play that the visitors could be detected from the first period. The game was a real struggle and the result of both teams that it was played closely and with the real spirit of true sportsmanship.

The Soo team, which had the game going long, was a real team. The visitors were very hard to score, although it was not a very small margin.

Escanaba High was delighted with the splendid collection of spectators.

SAYS DISC WHEELS ON AUTOS GO FASTER THAN WIRE SPOKE WHEELS

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., Feb. 27.—Dr. A. L. Foley, head of the department of physics and Waterloo research professor at Latham University, believes disc wheels on automobiles will go faster than wire wheels.

While experimenting recently on a means for the measurement of time, Dr. Foley incidentally made the discovery.

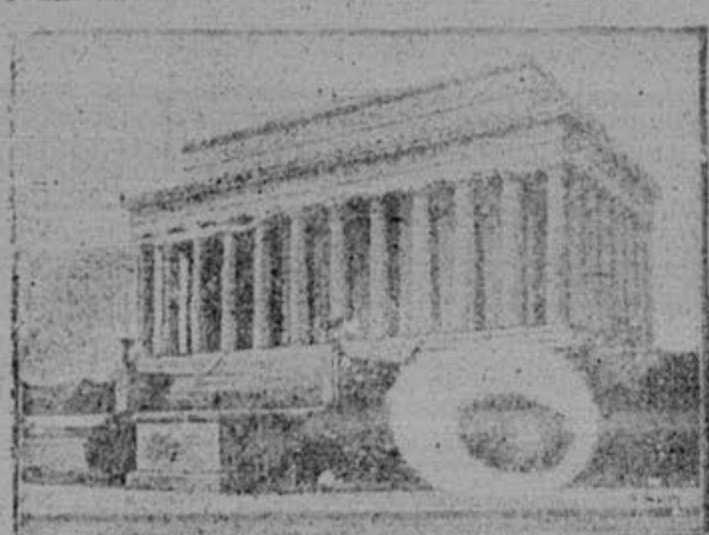

In his experiment, Dr. Foley fitted a 19 horsepower motor to a 28-inch bicycle wheel. At high speed the observation of the spokes in the air was so exact that it was impossible to make the wheel go faster than some 2,800 revolutions per minute. He then fitted a small motor to a 24-inch disc wheel and obtained a speed of 4,500 revolutions per minute, more than twice as fast as the wire wheel.

There is no doubt, he said, that disc wheels will be used on automobiles in the future. At the rate of about 100 miles per hour.

Harding Will Accept Lincoln Memorial on Behalf of Nation

Lincoln Memorial in Washington, D. C.

TEN years of the combined effort of architect, sculptor, artist and the Lincoln Memorial Commission, with the expenditure of more than $2,000,000, has brought to completion the splendid Lincoln Memorial at Washington which will be dedicated soon. The great plan is to have Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes, the 144-foot high memorial commission, President Harding will accept it on behalf of the nation and former President Wilson will make a brief address of Lincoln.

The memorial, a truly splendid achievement of modern art, stands at the head of a wide approach. Within the portico the great statue of Lincoln by Daniel Chester French, is visible from the entrance. From base to top the statue is over thirty feet high. The seated figure of Lincoln alone being twenty-two feet in height. At the structure is open to the action of the elements and subjected to seasonal variations of temperature, the greatest care has been taken to construct the Memorial of materials which will provide resistance to the weather and at the same time lend beauty to the edifice.

Rabbit Sausage Now Beginning To Pall on Taste of Germans

(By Associated Press) BERLIN, Feb. 27.—Germans are getting tired of the use of rabbit sausage as food. Rabbit sausage was a staple of the front-line in wartime and Germans explain its present unpopularity by saying they had too much of it in that "hunger period." Millions of tame rabbits were imported from Belgium and Holland to the states and the municipalities, and sold at a nominal cost to the citizens, who established rabbit hutches and bred them to replenish the beef and pork supply in the war. Berlin alone bought 100,000,000 rabbits.

Old Time Blizzards Disappearing From North Dakota Land

(By Associated Press) PARRO, N. D., Feb. 27.—What has become of the blizzards of North Dakota? The white fibers which roared across the prairies in the eighties, freezing wanderers, cattle and horses? They have none, old time residents say, like the wild Indian and the cowboy. The winters are milder and the storms "have not got the pep they used to have."

Weather men disagree with this saying that there is no definite change in climate year by year. If the winters have been milder for a few years it is a matter of chance.

Weather Bureau figures bear out the "old timers' hazy view. Recent winters have been milder in temperature and have had less wind and snow and rain than the winters of the eighties. According to data compiled from figures given out by R. E. Spencer, in charge of the Moorhead-Minn. United States weather bureau.

These figures are for the winters of the decade of 1881-91 to 1891-2 represented by the early days as opposed to the winters of 1911-12 to 1929-30. Five months of each year are considered—November, December, January, February and March. They show that the average temperature for the winters of the earlier decade was 11.78 degrees above zero while the last decade was 15.39; precipitation, formerly 50.3 inches monthly—recently, 63.3 monthly; and wind velocity averaged 10.37 miles per hour in the older days and only 9.15 miles per hour during the last ten years.

"Weather experts agree that such changes are due largely to chance," said Mr. Spencer. "People remember the worst blizzards they ever encountered and forget the milder ones. This very blizzard which comes along has to bear comparison with the worst blizzard of a lifetime—or with a rather enlarged idiosyncrasy of it."

LOWERING RATES

The national administration now in power promised to lower taxes and governmental expenses, wherever and never possible.

And it is lowering taxes. It is lessening expenses. It is not doing these things fast, nor going as far with them as many persons desire, probably; but, perhaps, it is doing the best it can under adverse and perplexing circumstances.

At any rate, it keeps on the job—and hard at work. We are assured, by those who would know whom to speak, that the new tax law, which the special session congress passed just prior to its adjournment, is going to save the people $855,000,000 a year.

Practically all of the reductions in federal taxes provided for by this law represents savings to the average individual.

The biggest item of reduction is that in transportation. Taxes on passenger tickets have been more or less a burden and something of a nuisance.

These taxes are all to be wiped out. Freight taxes have been more or less burdensome and burdensome.

They are all to go. The new law does away with all taxes which have been paid by passengers in the purchase of tickets, and by shippers, who pay taxes based on freight rates and parcel post rates.

The passenger tax amounted to eight per cent on all tickets amounting to over forty-two cents in value.

The freight tax amounted to three per cent on the face of freight bills.

The parcel post tax was one cent on each twenty-five cent postage, or four per cent.

All told, these taxes alone took out of the pockets of American citizens $300,000,000 a year.

All this stopped on January 1 of this year. Some say that, in saving this money to the people, the administration is not robbing or wronging the transportation companies.

None of the money thus collected went into the treasuries of the railroad and vessel lines.

It was collected by them, but for the government. They simply acted as agents for the government.

Another great saving in taxes is on incomes. And the average head of a family will benefit more from this revision.

Families will be benefited to the extent of nearly 70,000,000.

Hitherto, married men or heads of families having an income of less than $3,000 a year, were allowed an exemption of 2,000. Now the exemption is $2,500. This change goes into effect on this year's income.

Under the old law, heads of families were allowed an exemption of $200 for each dependent; under the new law this exemption is increased to $400.

What is coming, slowly, it may be, but it is coming. The national administration is doing things.

IMMIGRANTS OR FLOATERS?

The house of representatives has voted to extend restrictions of immigration for another year, and in view of the heavy majority favoring this move, it seems likely that the senate will give its assent.

The chairman of the house committee gives it as his belief that the American people will never return to the custom of unrestricted immigration. Perhaps not, though the fact that all present restrictions are temporary shows our reluctance to give up once for all our tradition of liberal hospitality.

Years ago the law merely made a broad distinction between desirable and undesirable newcomers with a view to their availability for prospective citizenship. But since the war this distinction has been modified by other considerations.

We can no longer assume that practically every immigrant coming to our shores has come to stay. We all remember the tremendous influx to Europe at a time when Europe seemed prosperous just before the world war broke out, a reflux that was not checked by the early stages of the war. There is an increasingly large element in immigration that tends to float back and forth with the changing tide of prosperity, immigrants at any time ready to become emigrants. As far back as Roosevelt's time the tendency to make this country a temporary and "polyglot boarding house" was noted.

To escape economic distress, thousands no doubt are ready to transfer themselves temporarily across the ocean. The government says that many are going to Cuba to await a favorable opportunity to slip into the United States. But with those people that permanent and assimilable settlers like the older generation that burned their bridges behind them. Or will they be more transients, eager to return to their native land with American money as soon as Europe has tolerably righted herself?

This country will be slow to commit itself to permanent restrictions. The present instability abroad forces us to adopt precautions for the time being. Whether America will become more liberal in the future or remain stringent in its requirements will depend on the nature and the character of immigrants in the next few years.

We had added proof of the fact that there are all kinds of tastes in this grand old world of ours when a good housewife told us yesterday that creamed carrots are delicious.

To preserve the proportions and keep themselves from resembling pyramids, the girls who wear gossamer might go back to log-cabin diet.

PRINCESS MARY IS GOING TO RECEIVE WONDERFUL GIFTS

Jewels, Money and Hundreds of Costly Gifts Are Now On Their Way to the Bride-to-Be.

(By Associated Press)

LONDON, Feb. 27.—Gifts of all sorts have been shipped up to Princess Mary and Viscount Lascelles in anticipation of their wedding, February 28. An estate, a rope of pearls, jewels, donations of money and a score or more of other splendid presents are among the gifts which are being sent to the bride and her future husband.

The estate, a number of country seats in Yorkshire comprising a fine old mansion, Oldborough Hall, and extensive grounds, was presented to the bride-to-be by the Earl and Countess of Harewood. It will be the future rural home of the Viscount and his bride.

When in London, they will reside at Grosvenor House, a magnificent mansion in Park Lane which for some years has been the property of the bridegroom. It was placed at the disposal of the Japanese Crown Prince during his visit to England a year ago. The rope of pearls was Viscount Lascelles' wedding present to his bride.

Get Lots of "Jack"

Donations of money, most of these to be used in the purchase of gifts for Princess Mary's new residence, have come from the City of London, the City Guilds, British residents of Paris from France and various other nations living in the British Kingdom, from various charitable organizations, Army, Navy and Air Force units, with which the Princess came in contact during her many war-time activities, and one tremendous fund which represents the good will of the people of the British Empire.

Intimate friends of Princess Mary have contributed to the fund. Many of the gifts have been given in honor of the "lost period" of the King's War service, a reference to the fact that the Princess spent some time in the front during the war. The fund is being administered by the Friends of the Princess, a committee of distinguished citizens of the city, and an elaborate program of gifts will be made available to the bride.

Gold-Loving Cup

Near South Woodport a gold loving cup set with Australian diamonds and rubies was a wedding gift to Princess Mary. The cup is a fine example of its kind and is a replica of the one which was presented to the Queen of Scots by King James VI. The Society of Women Artists arranged for the presentation of the cup to the Princess, Mary as a gift from that organization. The King's War Service fund also presented a replica of the cup as a gift to the bride.

how an ancient history. Legend says it was worn by Robert Bruce when the Brothers MacDougal tried to capture him after the battle of Methven. A struggle ensued. The clasp caught, so the brooch remained with the MacDougal.

Mere Trifle

Princess Mary has expressed a liking for an antique brooch of gold and silver which formerly belonged to King George the First. It is now in private hands. The brooch is said to be worth $10,000. The royal crown and medals are in the center of each of the 18 pieces, six of which are fastened, forming one large circular disk when placed together. The brooch was made by a Huguenot refugee in 1714. One of the many funds subscribed throughout the Empire for the purchase of presents selected by the couple will be used in procuring this magnificent relic.

GLASS OF SALTS IF YOUR KIDNEYS HURT

Eat less meat if you feel backache or have bladder trouble. Salt is fine for kidneys.

Meat forms the acid which cures and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to rid it from the system. Regular intake of meat must wash the kidneys clean, usually. You must, in these times, like you, reduce your meat, removing all the acids, waste and poisons, and you feel a dull aching in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or a headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment. The channels are clogged, causing you to get up two or three times during the night.

For a cure, take a table-spoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will thank you and bladder troubles disappear. This famous salt is made from the seed of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and makes a delicious effervescent lithia water which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.

OUTLINES PLAN TO RECLAIM CUTOVER LAND OF MICHIGAN

Would Offer Them to Home-seekers Without Principal or Interest Payments for Five Years.

(By Associated Press)
MILWAUKEE, Wis., Feb. 27.—A national campaign for the reclamation of cutover lands of Wisconsin, Michigan and Minnesota, has been inaugurated under the auspices of the State Development Committee of the Milwaukee Association of Commerce. George L. Wasieleski, chairman of the committee, has stated that there are 40,000,000 acres of available agricultural lands not utilized in the Great Lakes basin of these states.

"These lands cultivated could support one-third of the several million people now unemployed in the United States," Mr. Wasieleski said, and that such a result would stimulate business so that industry would revive and the unemployment situation cease to be a serious problem.

Mr. Wasieleski said that Congress would be petitioned to abandon temporarily the reclamation of 20,000,000 acres of arid land in the West, which work he claimed, "would add millions of dollars of additional taxes to already overburdened taxpayers."

Five Years Free

"All lands in Wisconsin, Minnesota and Michigan available in private ownership, try to be assembled under one control and offered to home-seekers without principal or interest payments for five years," declared Mr. Wasieleski.

"The settler is to be assisted as his needs require, in accordance with the wishes of the controlling organization. At the end of five years, title to the land will pass to the settler. Indenturedness on farms will exist over a period of years under the Federal Farm Land Act.

"The principle involved is simply a repetition of the Homestead law, with a charge for the land based upon the value as fixed by the local officers and Tax Commission of the state.

"The initial financing of the settlers will be undertaken by the business interests of the country, with drawing from the frozen assets of the states the millions of dollars now dormant. This will create liquid assets that will add billions to the taxable property of the Great Lakes basin, thereby relieving a situation that is taxing the ingenuity of political economists throughout the nation.

Asset to Pioneer.

"The Great Lakes basin nature is the greatest asset of the pioneer settler in developing land. Nature contributes more to the fruition of the settler's labor than the value of the labor performed.

"The development of these lands should be financed by the federal government, recognizing the holding companies as a prime factor in agricultural development. These, properly financed should receive the same recognition and support that other organizations financing agriculture are receiving from the government under the Federal Farm Land Act. Why ask the government to provide millions to promote what appears to be a profitable and unnecessary undertaking, when the naturally fertile lands of Wisconsin, Minnesota and Michigan could be developed without government funds at the expense of creating new departments or bureaus of government?"

"Par"

The par value of any newspaper's circulation to the financial advertiser is represented by 100% concentration upon a highly cultivated market where his maximum sales may be developed.

In the case of the Escanaba territory that market is the City of Escanaba and its suburbs. That is where the advertiser transacts the greatest volume of his business. That is where he finds his greatest number of prospects.

And in that market he can reach 8 out of 10 English-reading persons through a SINGLE advertising medium.

94% of The Daily Mirror's circulation is concentrated directly in the city and suburbs of Escanaba—the nearest approach to "par" of any newspaper in the city—or, for that matter, of any in the entire country.

Remember—your BIGGEST sales are made in Escanaba. Your BIGGEST sales in the Escanaba territory are made directly in the city of Escanaba itself. And your BIGGEST returns are made from the newspaper that has the largest circulation IN ESCANABA in the six working days of the week.

Consider the par value of your advertising dollar when you consider Escanaba newspapers, and you will realize why it should be invested in—

An effort made by the governors and attorney generals of both states to adjust the matter failed, and an original bill was filed in the supreme court December 6, 1919, by Attorney General Freeling, alleging that the south bank of the river constituted the boundary between the states.

The bill alleged this was the line set by a treaty between the United States and Spain signed in 1819. It alleged further that the supreme court had previously construed the treaty in this way in deciding the case of Great county (Okla) against Texas, a suit brought to determine the exact boundary at that point.

Injunction Asked

An injunction was asked preventing Texas from maintaining control of the disputed land. The Texas request was then summarily driven out, an Oklahoma claimant. This injunction was granted and on April 1, 1920, Postum A. Deane of Chicago was appointed receiver for the contested lands. He is still serving in that capacity.

BIG PANCAKE ORGY BY ST. STEPHEN'S MEN TUESDAY EVE

Supper Begins Promptly at Six O'clock at the Eagle Hall and Will Be a Wonder.

Tomorrow evening will mark a high spot in the social activities of the men of St. Stephen's parish, who will serve a pancake supper at the Eagle hall beginning promptly at 6 o'clock. Much has been written and said in the way of all pending events, but it is a serious matter with the men who have set themselves the task of serving what they hope will be the largest crowd ever attending an affair of this kind in this city.

Every preparation has been made to establish a precedent. It is called Charles F. Lewis, president. Mrs. J. J. Lewis has been given the honor of preparing the supper. The men have been working out in the kitchen for the last few days while they are still making the supper and are assured that they will not be constrained by a heavy, soggy, slippery and half-baked pancake during the entire evening.

Reputation At Stake
 Commander in Chief A. J. Holloman is on his mettle and he doesn't propose that any part of the reputation he has so carefully built up during the past few years, shall be placed in the slightest jeopardy. Wherefore a first-class rehearsal will be held this evening and the griddles will be fired up to put the right pitch. A guard will be set over the kitchen kitchen to prevent any trifling with the machinery and hang on the ticks of six tomorrow evening, the first volley of pancakes will be fired.

The "food" is for the benefit of the church—it will cost no cents and, all joking aside, it will be a little bit of the best thing of the kind ever piled up in this city.

After drop around and central is done or so at the college youth which is to be led by Richard Hoyle and Andrew Hredahl.
