

A DIGEST OF PROVISIONS OF ADJUSTED COMPENSATION BILL TO PAY THE SOLDIERS' BONUS

The adjusted compensation bill that has been before Congress since March 1920 offers five choices to the veterans of the World War.

1. Adjusted pay at the rate of $1.25 for every day of home service and $1.50 for every day of foreign service, plus annual retirement allowances for home service and $225 for overseas service, the amount to be made for service in excess of forty days.

2. Adjusted service certificate, in the form of a payable bearer money order payable to the value of $3,000, the amount that would be received if the bill was passed.

3. The last value of the poster would be paid to the veterans of the service for 20 years or, if he dies, to his widow, to his beneficiary. Death benefits are provided.

4. Voluntary savings aid of $1,250 while taking an educational course. This sum thus paid is not subject to any deduction from the amount of each $100 per cent of the amount of funds.

5. Four or five options to the extent of $100 less than the amount due in full.

6. Settlement. Any man who served in the United States during the period between April 1, 1917, and November 11, 1918, will be eligible for compensation.

7. The bill was introduced by the House of Representatives by Joseph C. Crowley of Michigan and into the Senate by Senator Frank J. Murphy of Michigan. It is an attempt with few changes of the bill proposed by Legion representatives.

Michigan has an amendment in the Senate. The Senate has voted to make no bill based on the original bill of the Legion, but it has been amended by the Senate to provide for the payment of compensation to men who have been disabled in the service, but not necessarily in the line of duty, and the amount of compensation is to be determined by the American Legion.

The cash bonus was provided for the benefit of men who would be unable to care for themselves in case of the loss of their relatives. Opponents of the bill have concentrated attack on that feature, forgetting the other features of the bill.

The bill was introduced into the Senate on February 1, 1920, when the national executive committee of the Legion recommended to Congress the passage of a bill providing for compensation for each month of service. In March the House naval legislation committee of the House of Representatives recommended compensation to a man serving in the navy because he was unable to avail himself of one of the four main protective options.

The emergency clause of the bill passed in the Senate and it could stand by many to be the most valuable and most likely to appeal to the average voter. Any man who is not actually in want will make every effort to retain himself of this offer. If he leaves the country in this country and goes to another country his cash compensation would be $300. He could take cash and get an equivalent value of $1,000.

More than a hundred thousand disabled men have availed themselves of the vocational training offered by the government, seeking in it a chance to better their condition in life. The educational feature of the compensation bill is expected to appeal to thousands of veterans who are not physically disabled. They will be given option of accredited schools and will be paid $125 a day while studying, until they have received 100 per cent of the amount due them in cash. The man who has been coming to him to cash would go to school for 200 days, being paid $125 a day during that period.

The same men could apply for the $100 due him, which is 100 per cent of the cash amount due him for his approved farm or city or suburban home. The money also could be applied toward payment of a farm or home already purchased or to pay for improvements.

If the veteran desires to do in settling unclaimed lands, the fifth option of law will give him the right to do so. Provision is made for the establishment of reclamation projects for the development and improvement of vacant land. This may be government land or land purchased by the government. So far as possible, these properties will be located in every state, the state paying part of the purchase price of private lands bought for this purpose. Ex-service men are to be employed on the projects as far as possible. The bill also provides for the sale of farm units on these projects when they are ready for settlement, the sale price to include the purchase price of the land plus the cost of improvements. The term to be paid down and the balance in 20 years at five per cent interest.

The veteran can apply his adjusted pay or first payment on a farm or such a project.

The value of this option alone to veteran, state and nation is sufficient to win approval for the entire bill. In the first place, it goes about reclaiming hitherto unproductive farm lands, benefiting individual states and the nation. Then it provides work in the reclamation for jobless men. Again, it attracts to the farm young men who have the pioneer instinct and enables them to become productive citizens on easy terms. It is the most comprehensive reclamation project yet advanced in the Congress and has won the support of numerous factions that are interested in reclamation projects. The reclamation would be under strict supervision and in no sense real estate speculation.

House and Senate that continued into 1922. Principal attention was paid to the means of raising the money to pay compensation. The Legion has refused to advise Congress how this should be done, believing it is the duty and privilege of Congress to determine how this vital claim shall be paid.

The Legion also has consistently held to the position that the word "bonus" is a misnomer for the bill; that adjusted compensation is something due ex-service men, not as a gratuity for military service rendered, but as an approximate adjustment of the economic losses he sustained by reason of that service. The bill aims to give the soldier, who offered his life with his services, a compensation that will more nearly approach that of the laborer who remained at home, secure from danger, and whose compensation increased from 29 to 300 per cent and measured by the amount of labor actually performed, far exceed the figures.

Before the Indianapolis convention, Legion committee called upon Mr. Findley, the chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, and discussed the adjusted compensation. It was the maximum valuation of Legion members in that time that action should be taken, and by that time fifty-five bills already were pending in the House designed to compensate ex-service men for the complete handicap they had suffered as a result of the service they had rendered their country.

Our late Allies recognized the justice of this claim for compensation Australia, that paid her soldiers 40 per cent more than our men received, and all veterans $10 to $15 a week until they obtained employment. Canada paid an average of $60 extra compensation to each veteran and $75 a month unemployment pay. England and France paid each compensation in a whole lot more than we did. In fact, there are plenty of little bonuses in 1920.

It costs you nothing to be a member of the Legion.

When the question of adjustment of compensation to extra pay for service men and women is now a day's time between the date of the original bill and November 11, 1918, eligible for compensation.

The Legion was taken up at the 20th Legion convention and the following resolution adopted:

"Whereas, the question of adjustment of compensation to extra pay for service men and women is now a day's time between the date of the original bill and November 11, 1918, eligible for compensation;

"Therefore, be it resolved that the American Legion shall not be satisfied for the purpose of advancing legislation to its highest standard unless it recognizes that our government has an obligation to all service men and women to furnish the maximum amount of compensation to each member of the Legion, and that the Legion is equal to the task of the promotion of the cause of the Legion.

WESLEY HALL TO BE DEDICATED

Impressive Exercises Planned for This Afternoon and Tonight at Ann Arbor.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Mar. 8.—Fifteen thousand men and women of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Michigan were here yesterday for an exercises in the afternoon and night that marked the dedication of Wesley Hall, first unit of a series of buildings at the University of Michigan to be erected by the Wesley Foundation of the church. The dedication was made by Bishop Theodore S. Henderson of Detroit while President M. L. Burton of the University delivered the chief address, standing on Holden and the University.

The exercises opened at 3 o'clock in the afternoon with a Wesley pageant in the auditorium of the hall. One hour later a reception in the students of the University and their guests took place in the Wesley Episcopal church. At 7 o'clock a banquet was held in the church parlor.

Among the invited speakers were Dr. James C. Baker of the Wesley Foundation, University of Illinois; Dr. Arthur Hartup of Albion College; Edward T. Kendall, Mr. Thomas, and Fred C. Ling of Glasgow, China—the last two names being University students.

The devotional exercises were held at 8 o'clock in the evening.

Church leaders believe the opening of the new weeks the beginning of a new epoch in the religious activities of Methodist students at the University. The two buildings known as Kendall and McMahan have located immediately north of the Methodist church, both purchased by the church several years ago and have been remodeled and prepared for use in students up the religious education and social program.

The complete plan call for meetings in due time of a new branch designed and equipped especially for larger and more effective meetings in the Methodist student body.

MICHIGAN MEN TO STUDY TAXATION

Experts Going to Washington to Look Over Federal Statistics and Data.

LANSING, Mich.—Mr. A. Hopkins, Representative George Lyon, chairman of the special legislative tax committee, Representative Fred B. Wells, a member of the commission, and possibly one other member, will journey to Washington to study federal statistics and data relative to taxation. They expect to return in time to attend the general tax hearings before the commission in Detroit March 20 and 21.

Shortly after the Detroit hearings the members of the commission will plunge into the task of drafting proposed measures to alter—or to limit, after the taxation system in Michigan. They have no timorous regard of trade with foreign countries.

which to consider their suggested laws. All of the suggestions and recommendations offered in the hearings before the commission are available.

Members of the commission have visited a number of states, talked with tax and state officials, delved into available data and brought back ideas and drafts of laws that have been successfully in other states.

According to members of the commission one of the chief worries is that state taxes are often so comparatively small portion of the burden the taxpayer must bear. It is beyond their jurisdiction to recommend legislation that would limit local expenditures. But all the members are agreed that one of the most beneficial things that could grow out of the investigation into the state's taxation system would be a campaign device in educating county, township, and city administrators to curb local expenditures. The state tax, they estimate, amounts to only about 12 percent of the total tax paid by the property owners. The rest is levied to pay for bills contracted in local improvements. The members of the commission favor local improvement, but it is to be advanced with an eye to economy and discretion.

Maintaining discipline among one's superiors during the war sometimes called for the best quality of the telephone resources available. Peter Lamberti Schubert relates such an instance in "The First Battalion," the story of the 406th Telegraph Battalion made up of men from the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania.

The city of Langres was under strict military discipline and Gallo of E company was left there with Macdonald of D to operate the switchboard. Air alarms kept their hands full. It was Gallo's duty on such occasions to call up different officers to have them put out all lights. As one time in order to prevent the instructions.

"Who are you?" he demanded.

"This is the chief operator. I am instructed to have that light put out," said Gallo.

"Well, who in hell gave you those instructions?" from the officer.

The commanding general, sir. Just a moment, I will connect you with him."

"No, no, never mind! I'll put the damned light out," and up went the receiver.

SALTS IN HOT WATER CLEARS PIMPLY SKIN

Says we must make kidneys clean the blood and pimples disappear.

Pimples, sores and boils usually result from toxins, poisons and impurities which are generated in the bowels and then absorbed into the blood through the very ducts which should carry only nourishment to sustain the body.

It is the function of the kidneys to filter impurities from the blood and cast them out in the form of urine, and in many instances the bowels create more toxins and impurities than the kidneys can eliminate, then the blood uses the skin pores as the next best means of getting rid of these impurities which often break out all over the skin in the form of pimples.

The surest way to clear the skin of these eruptions, says a noted authority, is to get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of hot water each morning before breakfast for one week. This will prevent the formation of toxins in the bowels. It also stimulates the kidneys to normal activity thus coaxing them to filter the blood of impurities and clearing the skin of pimples.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acids of grapes and lemon juice combined with salts. Here you have a pleasant effervescent drink which usually makes pimples disappear. Cleanses the blood and is excellent for the kidneys as well.

Call for your Jad Salts.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 8, 1922

ESCANABA SICK AGAIN.

Escanaba seems to be suffering from a virulent and malignant case, of what may well be termed "Representitis." It's the same old disease by which the city has been afflicted for years.

Under the aldermanic form of government every ward had to have "representation." That large body of citizens which votes and moves and has its being under the generic name of "Escanaba," had to have "representation." The predominating nationalities had to have "representation." Business and finance and professions, as represented by various groups, had to have "representation."

And the record of the past shows that they all got it, to a greater or less extent—and frequently just behind the curtain.

And now the same old tactics are being employed. Each group desires and demands "representation" on the new city commission of five persons. Manifestly, not all of them are going to get it—on the old basis.

Up to this time 20 candidates have announced their aspiration to become members of Escanaba's first commission. It is generally believed that at least five or ten more will be announced before the final hour for filling positions.

Even assuming that only 20 men are running, will it not be possible for voters to select five of these best qualified for the administrative duties imposed by the charter?

Five such men WILL represent every faction and every group and every ward and every nationality, because if they are doing what is best for the city of Escanaba, they are necessarily giving proper representation to all classes and all sections of the city.

It is simply a matter of men, not representation. The men who are big enough and broad enough and who have caught the true vision of Escanaba's needs, don't limitations and her possibilities, regardless of race, creed or occupation are the men who will give the most genuine representation.

Why, then, is it necessary for any group, or faction, or nationality to "get together" on any one set of candidates?

Are the people of Escanaba so far submerged in folly or self-interest that they cannot be trusted to pick from twenty or thirty men; five who will genuinely represent the interests of the city?

Voters, this thing is bigger than ward lines or organizations. The men capable of doing the best job of seeing the best interests of Escanaba safeguarded, are the men who automatically will give that representation which has been such a monomer in the past.

Unhappily we are getting right back to the formation of slates and combinations designed for their vote-pulling power rather than seeking for highly QUALIFIED MEN.

And woe betide Escanaba if she doesn't cast aside preju-dice, get down to brass tacks and vote for Escanaba rather than for some group aspiration which finds its only excuse for existence in the mistaken and misnamed demand for "representation."

DEMANDS CAPITAL PUNISHMENT

The following communication has been received by The Mirror, in reply to its recent editorial regarding the execution of Harvey W. Church, boy murderer. The writer does not agree with the contributor, but the contributor's viewpoint is here-with presented in justice to those who believe as the contributor believes.

The communication follows:

"That a picture was taken of the hanging of Harvey W. Church, is disgusting.

That the father and mother of Harvey W. Church must suffer is just. They must pay their share of the penalty.

If those parents took the entire in the bringing up of that boy, which they should, then their consciences are clear. I believe that the knowledge of any true parent that their boy had committed murder far outweighs everlasting torment and anguish, and the fact that he has paid the just penalty for his crimes.

If Harvey W. Church had been sentenced to life imprisonment, he probably would have been freed in about 12 years. His parents would then be in constant fear that their son would repeat the crime. That crime is for once punished; the strife will profit. Crime will be lessened, life will be safer and the parents of boys and girls will be more careful in the bringing up of their children.

That the present craze for continuous excitement and entertainment is a cause, to some extent, for such crimes is sure.

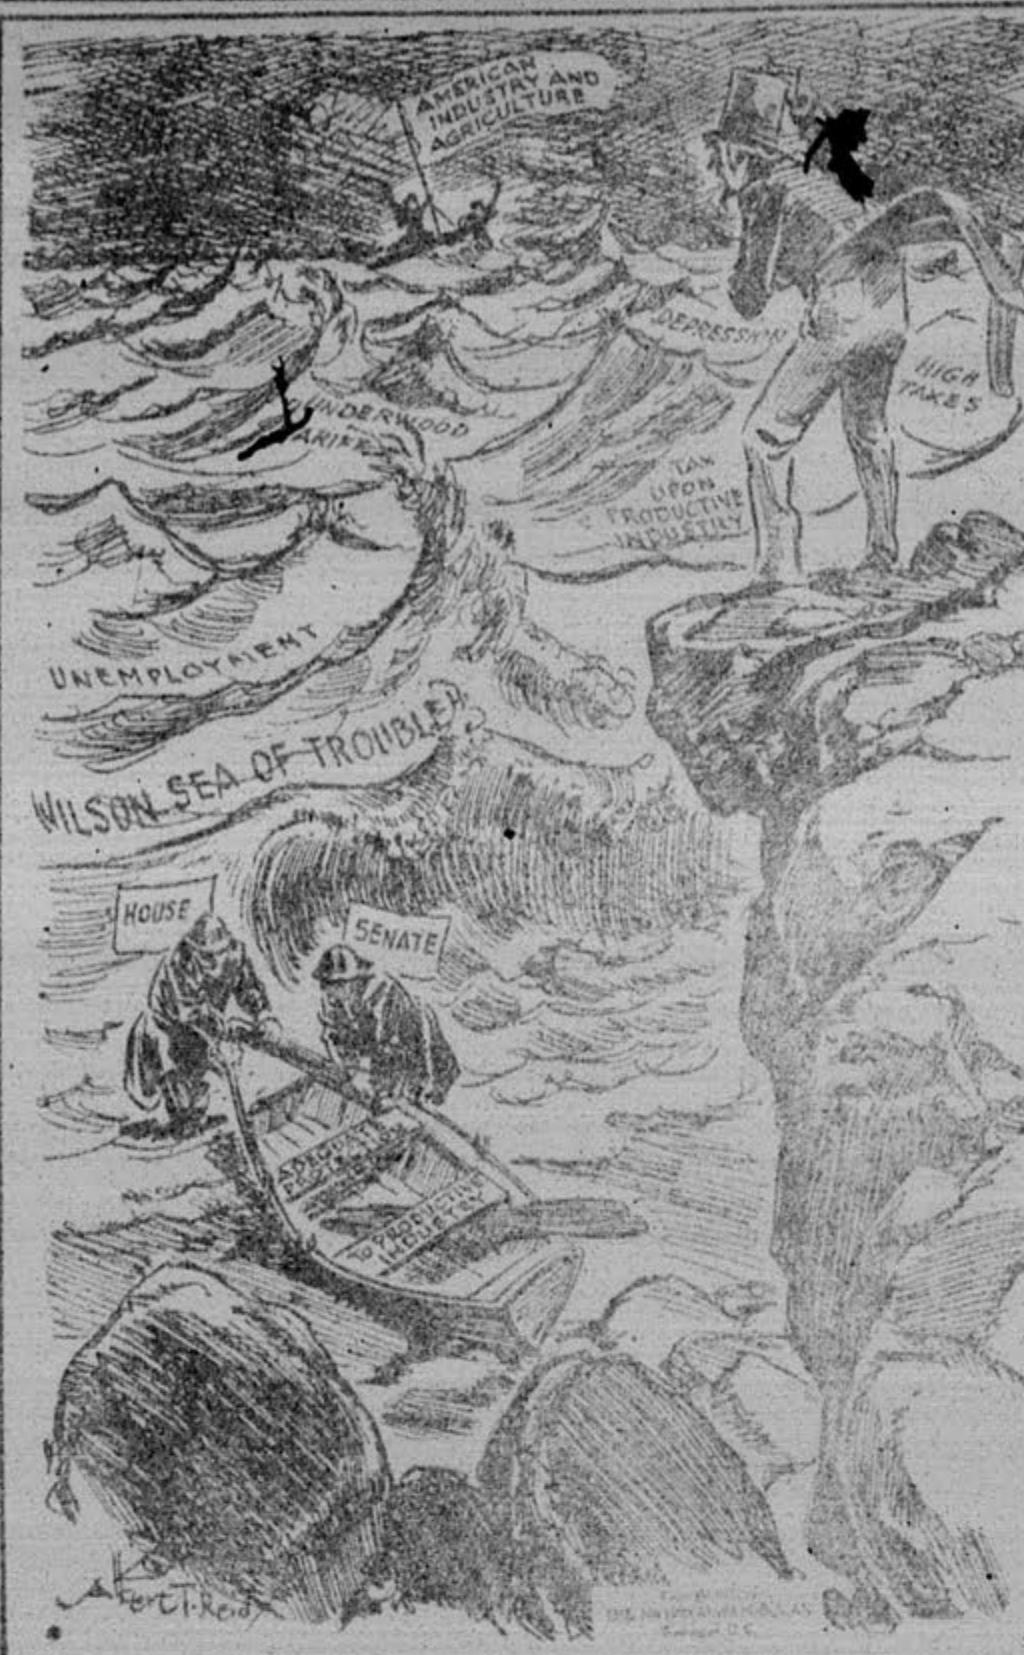

"A murderer, though he be forgiven by God, can never be a trusted or real man on this earth. God tempers justice with mercy but will by no means spare the guilty. Vengeance is Mine and I will repay, saith the Lord." It was not man who meted out justice, but God's law protecting little growing boys and girls, in this case.

"Every human being who keeps silent when the young commit petty crimes, when the old break the ten commandments with its attending debauchery, and our law courts fail to mete out justice, will be called some day to answer for these sorrows to the Judge of all the earth. We are our brother's keeper."

Some sports may die out, but it's hardly probable that swimming will lose appeal to the girls so long as the newspapers print their pictures in swimming-toggs; if so long a word may be permitted for such an abbreviated subject.

Military authorities at Mexia, Texas, have put the ban on the playing of dominoes, and the odd part of it is that the prohibition applies to regular dominoes and not to the galloping variety.

Foreign Scientist Visiting in East Says He Can Resurrect the Dead; He's a Wizard.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Mar. 8.—In the last of his landing on Monday from a Mexican liner from Rio de Janeiro, Dr. Octavio Felix Pedroso, who says he is a graduate of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of London, could recall only those among his recent discoveries in his experimental laboratory at Rio Fausto, Brazil:

He brings the dead to life. He changes the liquid's spot. He prolongs the span of human life. He has a bloodless operation for appendicitis.

Changes Color of Skin

The doctor has changed black to white rate in fifteen days time, and claims that from African to Argentian to be accomplished within three days. There are 100 million cells in the human body and two billion are renewed each day, the Brazilian scientist explained. By a serum process he catches the five trillion of the wing each day, in twenty days with ten days added for Sundays and holidays, the latter being numerous in Brazil.

The reconnection has been accomplished thus far only by freshly dead dogs by massage of the heart and thermal injection, but in theory, it is equally applicable to all species, the doctor says.

Will Sterilize Blood

The longevity treatment is, perhaps, the most ingenious of all. An incision is made in an artery in the left arm and a tube attached. Another incision is made in the right arm. The heart pumps the blood out of the left arm, through a sterilizing revolving chemical bath and back to the right arm, before it reaches the

Negro Prisoner Given a Shot and Comes Through With Truth About Crimes

DALLAS, Tex., Mar. 8.—Texas' new law to have twice its power to paralyze a criminal's will to begin an experiment anticipated by the critics.

Hypodermic doses of "complaints" were given to Ed Smith, a Negro condemned with murder and W. S. Johnson, convicted of post office robbery, after attorney, George L. Smith, said that he would probably die under charges against Smith as a result of the experiment. Johnson is under appeal pending in the federal district court as he was given a death sentence for which he was separated, but gave valuable information concerning other jobs.

Questioned until the negro, who denied guilt, was asked if he had been "tortured" to make him talk. This question was specifically not one intended to expose the military talents of the doctors who conducted the experiments, but that they would come out in direct conflict with well known

CHICKASAW, Tex., Mar. 8.—Buried treasure has been found here for the last nine years, but Robert, times, seems to prove due to a vicinity, and in the early times which the old San Antonio trail, known as the King's Highway, passed.

A sum of treasure was recently unearthed near here by a local resident, but was filled with silver coins, gold to modest and a new piece of old jewelry—all in a perfect state of preservation.

The dates on the coins—1595 to 1812—supplied the only clue to when the pot was buried.

BELIEVE GIRL OF TWELVE IS SOLD AS SLAVE

Indiana Child Disappears Immediately After Getting Off Train at Chicago.

(By Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Mar. 8.—Louise Klem, 12 year old, Evansville, Ind., girl was last seen by police for three days, has been kidnapped and sold into slavery, relatives believe.

The girl disappeared on a Chicago and Eastern Illinois train while enroute to Chicago to visit her uncle, Wm. Klem.

The girl, pretty, attractive and well developed for her age, was seen in company with a woman hastily dressed and after the train left Evansville train men told the uncle.

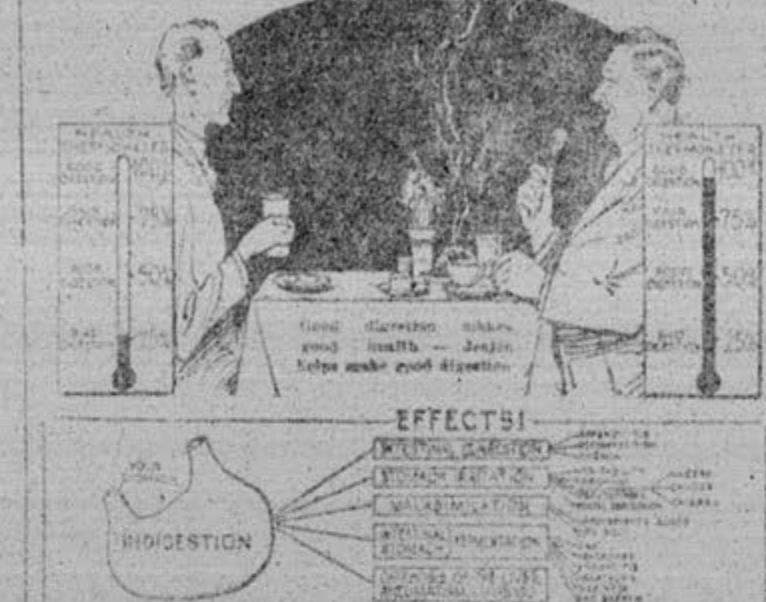

"I believe my niece was kidnapped and sold into slavery by that woman," Klem said.

"Louise was 5 feet tall, weighed 120 pounds had gray eyes, amber hair and mouth slightly cleft and spoke with a slight lisp."

"I had intended to let her off the train, but was a few minutes late in arriving at the station and could not find her. I did not notify police for several hours, believing she would show up at our home as she had one address."

The conductor on the train recalled talking with a girl as they entered Chicago.

The Popular Pathway to Economical Buying

Habit is a great master of our lives. We do many things thru force of habit and not because it is the right thing to do. When we ask ourselves why we did this or that, we do not know.

One of the most detrimental outcomes of habit is that of spending money wantonly at one place without giving even a moment's thought to the possibility that the same or better value might be bought elsewhere for less.

Habit often cheats us away. Money is lost.

THE LAW OF LIFE

We survive only as we learn to preserve. The winter, the nights, the lounge-lizards are eliminated in the struggle for existence. The ditches along the highways of life are filled with the mollycoddles and prodigal sons of the rich.

Only the strong—the thrifty, survive; those who are strong in character and thrifty in money. That loafing on the job of life, set your eye on a definite attainment and work hard. Success comes to the strong.
