

MINERS SAY CONSUMER IS OVERCHARGED

RENEW EFFORT TO STOP STRIKE NEXT MONDAY

Assert Wages Haven't Kept Pace With the Other Industries.

Illinois Miners' President to Attend Chicago Conference Wednesday, But Is Pessimistic.

NEW YORK, March 27.—Local members of the anthracite wage scale committee returned from Cleveland today to renew negotiations with the coal operators in an effort to avert the strike called for on April 1st.

Both operators and miners express a desire to confine future sessions to the consideration of the 15 demands which have been made by the workers in which is included a 20 per cent increase in the pay.

Claim Wages Unfair

The miners say they propose to demonstrate that wages in the mine have failed to keep pace with the wages in other industries, especially during the war, and the total increase has only been 65 per cent.

The miners also claim that the mine operators are making an exceptional profit by underpaying labor and overcharging the consumer and that the mines could continue to show a reasonable profit to the operators even with an increase in wages and a good sized reduction in the price.

No Separate Agreement

Springfield, Ill., March 27.—Acting on his promise to coal operators, President Frank Farrington, of the Illinois Miners union, this morning wired the president of the coal operators association that he would meet them in conference on Wednesday morning in Chicago.

When President Farrington was asked if this conference might result in a separate wage scale for Illinois he said "Not at this time I believe."

Illinois Operators Accept

CHICAGO, March 27.—Heads of the Illinois Coal Operators association today accepted the invitation for a conference from President Farrington for a conference next Wednesday. President Adams of the operators announced this today in an interview.

THREE PROBES UNDER WAY IN BOILER BLAST

Police, Government and Coroner's Jury in Action.

PORT HURON, Mich., March 27.—Three investigations are under way here today in connection with the boiler explosion yesterday afternoon, of a boiler on the Port Huron-Sarny ferry the Omar T. Conger, which caused four deaths and injury to seven others and rocking and terrorizing the entire city with damages which are estimated at $100,000.

A coroner's jury, police officials and Capt. Fred Metz, of Detroit a government inspector of steam vessels were conducting separate inquiries today.

The explosion took place on the river at the foot of Port Huron's principal business street where the vessel was tied up at a wharf. The blast came half an hour before the craft was to have made her first trip of the season across the river to the Canadian side.

The four men killed were members of the crew.

Men Arrested For Running Pool Room Without License

Norman Nevius and Ernest Rushford of Masonville township, were arrested Saturday on a charge of operating a pool room in Masonville township without having procured a license in conformity with the state law. The case has been continued until April 4th, when it will be heard in Justice McEwen's court.

Turkey Concedes All Allied Claims Except Adrinanople

PARIS, March 27.—Turkey has conceded all the claims excepting those of Adrinanople and a portion of Eastern Thrace, in the memorandum which the allied foreign minister today forwarded to Athens in view of its adoption in view of the peace settlement.

"Plain Drunk" Has $1169 When Searched by Officer Swanson

Henry Dengler owes the police department a real debt of gratitude. He was picked up by Officer Elmer Swanson Saturday night, badly under the influence of liquor. When searched at police headquarters he had two pocketbooks, one containing 50 twenty dollar bills and the other containing $169 in smaller bills. One of the pocketbooks dropped out of his pocket just as he entered the station.

Officer Swanson called Judge McEwen, who came at once and witnessed the counting out of the $1,169, which was returned to Dengler this morning less $25 which he was assessed as a fine. He was directed to go to the court house and buy some good boots with the remainder of his roll.

FUNERAL OF JUDGE STONE TO BE HELD TUESDAY AFTERNOON

Impressive Services will Mark Final Rites for Noted Jurist in Marquette, Tomorrow.

MARQUETTE, March 27.—Funeral services for the late Justice John W. Stone will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in St. Paul's Episcopal cathedral with the Rev. Cross, of Houghton, officiating. The remains will be placed in the vault in Park cemetery and buried in the family lot there later in the spring.

Services for the late jurist were held Sunday afternoon in Lansing and the remains will be received here tomorrow morning. Pall bearers at the funeral will be A. E. Miller, W. E. Hill, C. F. Button, George P. Brown and M. J. Sherwood of Marquette; Frank A. Bell of Negaunee, W. T. Potter, M. J. Kennedy and T. J. Dundon, of Ishpeming, M. H. Moriarity and F. H. Abbott of Crystal Falls; E. A. Woodward of Iron Mountain and F. J. Trudell of Menominee.

The list of pall bearers includes all living attorneys except three, who practiced law under Justice Stone when he was judge of this circuit. The three not included are Circuit Judge Richard C. Flannigan of Norway and M. J. Doyle and A. L. Sawyer of Menominee.

Thirty-two years a Judge

Justice Stone would have been eighty-four years old had he lived until next July, yet up to the close of the January term of the supreme court the last term in which he sat, his mental grasp of the points in legal arguments was as alert and his memory as keen as at any period of his his thirty-two years' service as a Michigan jurist.

Justice Stone was a resident of Michigan sixty-six years and was a public official fifty-three years, as well as having been, prior to his election to the bench in 1890, recognized as a lawyer of the first rank. His ancestors were of Colonial New England stock. His maternal grandfather was a soldier in the war of 1812. In the 80's his parents came west, locating first in Ohio and then, in 1836, on a tract of wild land in Allegan county.

Before leaving Ohio, and when only sixteen years old, the future justice was a country school teacher at 8 1/2 a month. He followed his parents to Michigan after a few months, walking most of the way to a settlement near Grand Rapids. There the first year he taught a country school for $25 a month, and worked as a farm laborer from spring until late in the fall.

Stork Visits Home Of Father and Son On the Same Day

Ike Schram became a father and a grandfather all in the same day, while his son, Bernard, again became a brother, and a father for the first time. A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Schram at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, making the 11th child in the family, while at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, a daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Schram. Three months ago, Mr. Schram's two brothers, Robert and Louis residing in Chicago, both became the fathers of youngsters with in three hours on the same day.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Bert Leighton, 1126 Stephenson avenue.

Alton Man Shot in Brain; Boy in Lung; Both Live

OSCAR LIND IS SHOT IN BRAIN; STILL LIVING

Claims Murderous Attack Made On Him Saturday Night.

Tells Wierd Story of Being Fired On by Unknown Person While Sleeping in a Camp.

One of the most peculiar cases which the Laing hospital in this city has come in contact for many years, is that of Oscar Lind, a timber jobber residing at Alton, who is in the hospital with a bullet in his brain, and still living. Lind is 44 years of age.

He was brought to Laing hospital yesterday, was able to talk rationally and explain what he claims happened. An X-ray examination shows that the bullet entered his right temple passed thru the front lobe of the brain, just across the eyes. The bullet apparently is shattered, as one piece of considerable size, while a number of smaller pieces appear to be scattered. It is supposed the bullet was broken into parts as it passed thru the skull.

To Remove Bullet

An attempt is to be made this afternoon or tomorrow, to remove the splintered pieces of the ball.

The manner of Lind's shooting is veiled in more or less mystery. According to the story he tells, he was sleeping in a small camp near Alton, where he has some men working, Saturday night, when he was suddenly awakened by some unknown person who attacked him in his bed, beat him and finally placed a revolver at his head and fired.

Shot Saturday Night

Although this happened Saturday night no report of it had been made to the county sheriff or any police official in the county up to this morning so far as could be learned.

Neither did any of the men employed by Lind, or about the camp, see or hear any disturbance such as Lind describes. He stoutly maintains that he did not shoot himself, however.

Lind is a widower and has a home near the camp where he claims to have been sleeping Saturday night.

Chance To Recover

Dr. Laing says it is a most peculiar case. Lind is in a semi-conscious condition today and the fact that he has lived as long as he has, rather indicates that he may be able to pull thru, although no prediction is made by the attending surgeon. It is regarded as a long chance and if Lind survives the operation necessary to remove the splintered portions of the bullet from his brain, there is a probability that he will live.

DAVE HARWOOD IS STRICKEN AT HIS HOME HERE

Suffers Paralytic Stroke While Playing Cards With Family.

David Harwood, one of the best known cooks in this section of the state, who until he was forced to lay off by illness about three weeks ago, was a cook at the Tibbert cafe, suffered a paralytic stroke at his home, 408 South Tenth street, about 10:30 o'clock last night, while seated at a table engaged in a game of cards with his family.

Mr. Harwood's first serious illness came on last November but he has been up and around and working from time to time since then.

His many friends will hear with deep regret of his misfortune. "Dave" through his wide acquaintance in Delta and adjoining counties, has established a reputation of being a big, square, manly man's kind of a man, and news of his illness will cause sincere sorrow among a large number of people.

Two Men Drowned When Cofferdam Gives Way Sunday

WISCONSIN RAPIDS, Wis., March 27.—Two men were drowned and another narrowly escaped the same fate Sunday, when the paper mill cofferdam at Byron which is four miles from here, gave way before a sudden rush of water in the Wisconsin river.

One of the bodies have been recovered and a search is being made for the other. A number of men were constructing a new wheel pit below the dam when it broke.

Rushing water swept ten men into the tail race which cuts off from the mill race. The men caught hold of logs and timbers and were rescued after floating down the river.

The damage to the mill was estimated at $50,000.

FIRE WHISTLE TO ANNOUNCE THE BIG SPRING OPENING

All Window Curtains in Local Stores Will Be Withdrawn at Same Time Wednesday Evening.

ESCANABA MERCHANTS now have all plans completed for the big spring opening which will be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. It has been arranged that all the window displays will be specially decorated for this big event, and displays will embrace a luxurious profusion of special new goods of wide variety and wonderful beauty.

All windows will be curtained until 7 o'clock Wednesday evening, when it has been arranged for the fire whistles to signal the time and all curtains will be drawn simultaneously to the view of the hundreds of Escanabans.

The opening will be given special attention by the dry goods, clothing, ready-to-wear, shoe, millinery, haberdashery and all general stores.

Never in the merchandising history of Escanaba have such a variety of beautiful goods been secured for an opening. The colors this year are simply beautiful and with the special display to be held on window displays it is expected that Lindington street will become a veritable bazaar of beauty.

The big opening is to be heavily advertised throughout the county and Thursday, Friday and Saturday will be big days, if the weather is favorable.

Stores will not open Wednesday evening, but all windows will display new spring goods.

BILL FOR IRISH FREE STATE IS IN UPPER HOUSE

Passes British House of Lords Without Any Trouble Today.

LONDON, March 27.—The Irish Free State bill passed the final reading in the House of Lords here today.

Invitation Accepted

BELFAST, Ireland, March 27.—The Ulster cabinet today accepted the invitation extended by the colonial secretary Winston Churchill, to a conference in London of Irish leaders called in view of the disturbed condition in Ireland.

Premier Sir James Craig telegraphed acceptance of the Ulster cabinet and said that members of the northern government would arrive in London Wednesday.

County Board Will Meet Here Tuesday

The auditing committee of the county board of supervisors is in session this afternoon preparatory to the regular meeting tomorrow. This will be the last meeting of the present board before a reorganization following the spring election.

14-YEAR-OLD BOY IS SHOT IN THE LUNG

Drops Loaded Shotgun While Riding in a Sleigh.

Trout Lake Youth Also Will Lose Right Hand and Shoulder Is Badly Shattered.

FLOYD MORTON, 14 years of age, was brought to the Laing hospital from Trout Lake, yesterday suffering from a gunshot wound which may cause his death. The manner of his injury was peculiar.

The boy was driving a sleigh thru the streets of Trout Lake Sunday, and carried a loaded shotgun on his lap. A bunch of small boys began pelting him with snowballs and in his laughing efforts to dodge the missiles, the gun slipped from his lap, fell thru a crack in the bottom of the sleigh and struck in such a manner as to discharge it.

The charge of shot ranged upward, tearing away the major portion of the boy's right hand, penetrating the right lung and shattering the right shoulder.

Lung Wound Dangerous

He was rushed to this city and is receiving the full benefit of Dr. Laing's skill in the heroic attempt to save his life. He was still living this afternoon although the wound in his lung is causing the greatest difficulty in his breathing.

It was stated at the hospital today that his right hand will have to be amputated, and although all the resources of the hospital are being brought into play, the chances seem to be against the recovery of the unfortunate boy.

An X-ray taken this morning discloses that four shot of the "BB" size had penetrated the lung, while 11 shot of the same size were lodged in the outer walls.

The wound is regarded as extremely dangerous and the case is being watched with the deepest interest by several local physicians and surgeons, who also are watching progress in the case of Oscar Lind who is shot thru the brain.

Though but 14 years of age, the Trout Lake boy is big, weighing more than 150 pounds and it is possible that his great vitality will help materially in pulling him thru the crisis.

Boy Scout Council Sends Representative to National Meeting

L. A. Erickson, president of the Escanaba Council of Boy Scouts of America, will go to Chicago tomorrow night to be present at the Wednesday and Thursday sessions of the National Council which is holding its national convention in that city. Mr. Erickson will represent the local council.

Mr. Erickson is going all the way from California to attend this meeting, having left his family there earlier than he had anticipated when he went west this fall. He is expected to return to Escanaba Saturday morning.

Charles E. Glavin Is Back from Long Trip to South America

Charles E. Glavin has returned to his home in this city after having been absent for two months on a trip to Buenos Aires, Argentina, where he has extensive business interests.

Mr. Glavin sailed from New York on January 20th and arrived in New York on his return on March 20th. The trip south took 20 days. The United States Shipping board now has control of the best fleet of ships sailing the east coast of South America and the ships are of the best construction as well as service.

THE WEATHER

For Escanaba and vicinity—Snow tonight and Tuesday. Colder Tuesday.

Ponzie Faces Score Of Charges After Sentence Is Ended

WASHINGTON, March 27.—Chas. Ponzi, whose financial exploits in Boston resulted in his plea of guilty, on November 19, 1920 in the federal court, to one of the indictments and who was sentenced to prison for five years, will have to stand trial in the Massachusetts court at the end of that time on 22 indictments charging him with crimes under the state laws. It was held today by the supreme court in the opinion of Justice Taft.

ROGERS OUTLINES ROAD WORK IN U. P. FOR COMING YEAR

Hopes to Do a Third More than Was Accomplished Last Year With a Given Amount of Money.

While in session in Iron Mountain the latter part of last week, the Upper Peninsula Road Builders Association had as an honored guest, Hon. Frank P. Rogers, state highway commissioner. In discussing the work to be done in this section during the coming year, Mr. Rogers expressed the department's hope that it could accomplish a third more with a given amount of money than last year, or the same amount of work with three-fourths of the money. Overhead costs have been reduced to a point, he said, where more than 96 cents of every dollar received actually went into the roads.

In taking up the matter of the county allotments, he stated that he had been in consultation with the various county officials, and that a satisfactory program had been decided upon. "I guess that the counties are satisfied except that they would like to see the allotment increased about 50 per cent," he said. "However we must cut our suit to fit our cloth."

Dickinson county's allotment of the state road program as announced by Mr. Rogers amounts to 12.5 miles of road at an estimated cost of $143,000. Of this amount 10.5 miles is gravel surface, and 2 miles asphaltic concrete. This latter portion comprises the Stephenson avenue pavement in Iron Mountain, and Nelson street in Norway.

Other Counties

The other county allotments are as follows:

Alger county—3 miles penetration macadam; 7 miles plain macadam; 1 mile plain grading. Total, 11 miles; estimated cost $110,000.

Baraga county—8 miles clearing and grubbing; 7 miles gravel surface. Total, 15 miles; estimated cost $179,000. This is practically all on the main line south and east of Covington, joining the Iron county system.

Chippewa county—21 miles grading and draining, 4.5 miles macadam; 5 miles macadam base, gravel top. Total, 30.5 miles; estimated cost $215,000.

Delta county—7.5 miles plain macadam; estimated cost $83,000.

Gogebic county—12 miles penetration macadam; estimated cost $152,000.

Houghton county—20 miles stamp sand surfacing; estimated cost $100,000.

Iron county—8 miles gravel surface, 8 miles penetration macadam. Total, 16 miles; estimated cost, $94,000.

Keweenaw county—8.6 miles macadam base; estimated cost, $62,210.

Luce county—4 miles earth road; estimated cost $20,000. The contract for this was let last year, and is not included in this year's budget.

Mackinac county—52 miles gravel surface (48 miles with federal aid); estimated cost, $524,000. Practically all this money will be expended on the chief artery leading to the straits and the lower peninsula, according to Mr. Rogers. Owing to the poor condition of this stretch, traffic between the two sections of the state was seriously impeded, so, notwithstanding the fact that Mackinac was a "poor" county, the expenditure was decided upon.

Marquette county—15 miles penetration macadam; estimated cost, $200,000.

Menominee county—8 miles gravel surface; estimated cost, $80,000.

Ontonagon county—8 miles gravel surface; estimated cost $80,000.

Schoolcraft county—20 miles grading and draining, 7 miles macadam surface. Total, 27 miles; estimated cost $175,000.

REX BEACH IS WITNESS FOR TEX RICKARD

Says He Was Known as "On the Square" in Alaska.

Promotor's Wife Says He Was at Home at the Time of the Crime Allocated Against Him.

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, March 27.—Rex Beach, the novelist, testified today that Tex Rickard was known as being "on the square."

Beach was called as a character witness by lawyers who were defending the sport promoter on the charge of criminal assault upon Sarah Schenckfeld, a 15-year-old girl of the east side of the city.

He said that he had known Rickard for 24 years and that they had striven "pikes" together during the Klondike gold rush. Later Rickard ran a gambling house in Alaska, in which the novelist said he never heard of anything crooked happening.

Asked a hypothetical question on whether he thought gambling honorable, Mr. Beach said that at that time gambling in the far north was not against the law and whether the business was honorable depended on whether or not it was run on the level.

Gambling Approved

The next character witness was Charles E. Heron, the publisher of Anchorage Daily Times, of Alaska, who said Rickard had a good reputation in the north land and as to the ethics of gambling the witness said that while he now abhorred it, at that time while the gold rush was on, everyone was doing it and no one thought anything about it.

The symposium on gambling was continued when Maj. J. L. Drexel Biddle of Philadelphia, for fourteen years the leader in the bible class movement testified he knew nothing against the character of Rickard.

Could Be Honorable

After he said he had met the promoter in Toledo on the day of the Dempsey-Willard fight. He asked what he thought of gambling and replied, "I consider that a man who runs a gambling house in the days of the gold rush may have been an honorable man."

Asked if he taught gambling to his bible class, he answered, "I have never made gambling the thesis of an argument."

Mrs. May Rickard today took the stand in defense of her husband and testified that the sport promoter was at home from about 7 to 8 p. m. on November 12, which is the night the assault is alleged to have been made in a West 47th street apartment.

Witnesses for the prosecution had previously testified that Rickard and the girl had been seen on the street about 7:30.

SCOUT LEADERS MEET TONIGHT AT K. OF P. HALL

Long and Interesting Program Outlined for the Work.

The fourth meeting of the second Scout Leaders Training Course will be held at the K. of P. hall promptly at 7 o'clock tonight. The program is longer, more varied and more interesting than usual and it is desired that every man be present on time.

The meeting will be opened with a discussion of the development, duties, etc., of non-commissioned officers, by L. J. Shaw, Scoutmaster of Troop Two.

Coach A. L. Loucks, of the high school, will discuss and demonstrate physical training, calisthenics, etc.

The use of the knife, the axe, and the proper handling of fires will be explained and demonstrated by Dr. H. A. Johnson, Scoutmaster of Troop Five.

Dr. A. F. Snyder will talk on first aid and give practical lessons.

"The Scout Uniform—How and When to Wear It," will be discussed by Leo McEwen, Scoutmaster of Troop Nine, and R. H. Jennings, Scoutmaster of Troop Seven, will talk on Tenderfoot investitures, their purpose, variety and results.

This will be the most interesting meeting yet held and a big crowd is anticipated.

READY FOR WORK ON TOURIST CAMP SITE NEAR FORD RIVER

Contract Signed Saturday by Chamber of Commerce and Construction Will Begin at Once:

When auto tourists coming this way this summer desire a camp site, they will find one ready and awaiting their pleasure at Ford River, where the chamber of Commerce has secured a plot of ground, beautifully situated and wooded. Saturday the contract was signed and the work of erecting suitable buildings, shelters, etc., will be started at once.

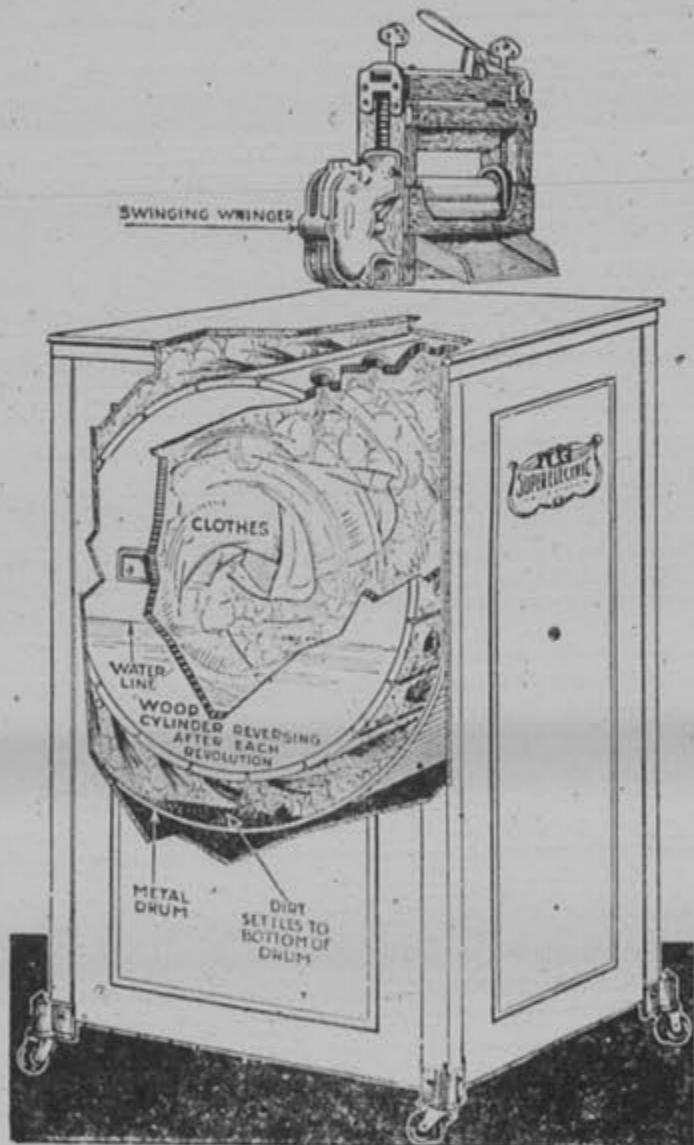

Tourists will find a fine bathing beach and good fishing right at the front door of their camp. There will be plenty of boats for those who desire them. There will be a camp building 19 by 30 feet, completely equipped for the use of tourists, including two stoves for cooking and a place of attractive warmth and shelter during any bad weather that might prevail. The building is to be painted white, with green roof and it will be a snug and inviting nook set away among the beautiful grove of big pine trees; just such a place as a tourist would desire.

Mr. Peterson, who will be caretaker of the camp, has arranged to install a lunch counter at his home just across the road from the camp. He will serve lunches at all hours, carry a line of groceries, canned and bottled goods for camp life and will make a specialty of chicken dinners. Mr. Peterson has told the Chamber of Commerce that his prices will be fair and reasonable and no bad impression is to be created of Escanaba or Delta county as the result of excessive charges.

As a matter of fact, this feature will probably attract many Escanabans to the camp site for a chicken dinner. Spring water will be piped to the camp site from a splendid spring on the Peterson farm and it is believed this will be one of the most complete and popular camps tourists will be able to find in any spot in Michigan.

ITCHING ECZEMA DRIED RIGHT UP WITH SULPHUR

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clear and smooth. It seldom fails to relieve the torment and disfigurement. Sufferers from skin trouble should get a little jar of Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like a cold cream. 33

You Don't Know Nor Can You Tell

WHEN MISFORTUNE MAY COME—Perhaps you may be killed or injured in a Travel Accident tomorrow. Then what would happen to you and to your loved ones? Are you protected? Have you looked to their welfare?

We are all too careless—there's scarcely a day passes that we do not see, hear or read of someone hurt, someone killed in just such a manner, yet somehow or other we never consider that we may be the next unfortunate victim. Don't gamble with fate. Don't delay until it's too late and then have misery made more unbearable with regret.

You cannot avoid travel accidents; you can't stop the pendulum of fate, but you can and should protect yourself and your loved ones. There is now a way provided for you to do so at a cost of but a fraction of a cent a day.

The Daily Mirror

Has contracted with the great North American Insurance Company of Chicago for thousands of travel accident insurance policies. Because we buy these policies in such large numbers we are able to offer them to every reader of this newspaper between the ages of 16 and 70 years for but a few cents a year. Thousands of Mirror readers now have these policies, why should you not protect yourself when you can buy—just think of it—

$1,000.00

TRAVEL ACCIDENT INSURANCE POLICY FOR THE SMALL COST OF 75 CENTS A YEAR

The benefits of this policy are many. It protects you every time you travel on a train, every time you ride on a street car, every time you step in an automobile, and all this but for the one charge of 75c a year.

THE NEW IRISH TROUBLE

An open final break between Ulster and the south of Ireland will be as unfortunate an event as can well take place in Erin. It may conceivably have results more fatal to the new order of things than even a smash between the supporters of the Free State and the de Valera republicans.

However much the champions of Ireland may explain, and however carefully its well wishers may abstain from hasty criticism, those who have been slow to concede anything to Erin, and those who have been skeptical of her ability to run her own affairs without British oversight will see in the formation of a battle front along the Ulster border, an immediate chance to say in tones more or less exultant, "I told you so."

This, however, is the less hopeful side of the picture. On the other hand there is the fact that the relationship of Ulster and the Free State is in an important degree unlike the old relationship. While there is much dispute over the boundary, there no longer is any question of the political absorption of one part of the island as a whole by the other part.

TIME TO "MEASURE."

Every spring, so runs the legend, the first thing a bear does when he emerges from his long period of hibernation, is to "measure himself" against some convenient tree.

This spring Escanaba voters are going to have an opportunity to "measure" themselves. Their mental and moral stature is going to be etched upon the tree of civic government.

It ought not to be a difficult matter to select five strong men from the list offering themselves for the public service. It is begging the question to say there are only five such men in the list.

It is unthinkable that the brains of this city will make a deliberate choice of the weakest men among those offered. But something more than a languid, perfunctory interest will have to be manifested.

It is up to the citizens, especially the newly enfranchised women voters, to turn out in force and make a better showing of civic interest than has been made heretofore. It is no contribution to the welfare of this city to remain away from the polls.

If you remain away from the polls, and men who do not meet with your approval, are selected to guide Escanaba over the necessarily rocky road of its first year under a new governmental form, you will have but yourself to thank.

THE BRIGHTER SIDE OF IT.

A strike in the coal mining industry is now as nearly certain as any future event of the kind can be. A formal call has been issued, government authorities make no pretense that they expect to stop the tie-up and most of the employers have made it clear that the strike is not unwelcome.

It would be utterly untrue to say that the country wishes to see the battle fought or that it is indifferent to the situation, but since the struggle seems inevitable, there can be no harm in looking at the brighter side of things. The United States is well fortified against a coal famine. Stocks are large and production will not be wholly cut off.

It is not expected that industry will badly suffer unless the strike is prolonged and there is a possibility that in the end the country will be the gainer, for a healthy state of industry demands that the coal mining business shall adjust itself to changing times just as other lines of business are doing.

Many a man has assigned his troubles to poor business when, in reality, they are largely due to too much overhead.

Fictionized from the Selig-Rork First National screen version of the famous play

By SCOOP CONLON CHAPTER 7

Bruce could scarcely believe his ears. His little sister, a victim of Kenward Wright's villainy? It was too monstrous to conceive, yet she had attempted to end her life before he could realize that Alice's words were true.

He could not meet Vera's eyes, realizing his utter unworthiness of her love and respect. What a noble sacrifice had been hers, and he had failed her in her greatest crisis!

Once outside, he ran like a madman, his whole being clamoring for revenge upon the dastardly Wright, who had brought ruin and disgrace on his unfortunate sister.

Bruce had scarcely left the house when Skeeters arrived to press his suit, so well started earlier that day. He knew nothing of the near-tragedy, nor suspected anything wrong in Alice's distress when he had been with her.

Vera met him at the door. When she saw the bashful lad she knew that the time had come to decide the happiness of the two young people she loved. Before she allowed Skeeters to enter the room, she took him to one side, and whispered: "You love her, don't you?"

She didn't have to go further, for the boy's light shining in the awkward youth's eyes was one of perfect trust and understanding. Somehow Vera knew that Skeeters was a man, big enough to forgive. He had been through the mill himself.

Skeeters assured her of his love, Vera brought him into where Alice sat in the big arm-chair, her eyes cast down in shame. Gently, Vera took her hand. "He loves you, Alice," she said. "You must tell him all."

She read Alice's reply in her eyes, so she turned quickly and left the two together to work out their future, leaving beside his adored one, Skeeters poured out his devotion in three words: "I love you."

It required the greatest of bravery for the broken little girl to relate the story of her downfall to her lover. She did not spare herself. She had treated Skeeters abominably, and there was nothing she could do to make amends.

He looked into his adored one's eyes with an understanding born of true love. "I've made mistakes, too, Alice," he said. "If you'd have me, I'm sure we could get along together."

Indeed, Father Kelly's work in the village of Sandy Bay had been well done. Mention, Kenward Wright and Donald MacTavish had worked out the most dastardly of plots, one that made certain the complete destruction of Sandy Bay.

Even Wright had no idea when he began plotting that his insane thirst for vengeance would lead him into the depths of crime.

When the imported ruffians arrived in Sandy Bay to carry out Wright's last scheme, which was to prove the culmination of his revenge, he and MacTavish struck like lightning. The superior education of Wright now made him the master. He gloried in it. He snatched up his campaign of destruction like a Hun general.

"Mac, you take your men to the canneries and start a fight. Make it hot, and that will keep their attention null my men take care of their little job."

Having started the counter-attack, Wright now turned his attention to two sinister rogues he had kept behind. To insure success, he gave them each a goodly sum of money, but what they were to get for blowing up the Sandy Bay canneries.

Time the explosion for 6 o'clock sharp," he said. And, as his creatures departed on their errand of evil, he sank back in his chair, with the smile of the devil incarnate on his face.

When Bruce Wilton had fled his home, his conflicting emotions concentrated upon but one determination—revenge upon the man who had betrayed his little sister and wrecked the happiness of the community.

He was only diverted from his course to apprehend Wright by the noise and sight of a terrific fight between his fishermen and Wright's ruffians. Under the guidance of MacTavish, the hirelings had picked a fight with the canneries men who were at work on a floating dock.

Into the canneries office he dashed. A sudden idea had dawned in Bruce's mind. He would call Wright up on the telephone and endeavor to keep him where he was under pretext, and with any suspicion he might have, lulled.

The telephone rang in the office of Wright's new canneries. The man himself answered, and the voice he heard on the line brought him to the height of his triumph. The voice said: "This is Bruce Wilton. I want to see you immediately. Wait there!"

All of Kenward Wright's fiendishness was aroused. He could hardly credit his good luck. He hastily glanced at his watch and perceived with delight that it lacked five minutes of 6 o'clock.

"Are you at the canneries?" he asked. "Yes," came the answer, "but—wait there! I must see you." (At the other end of the line the crated boy was having a hard time concealing his hatred.)

Wright worked smoothly and fast. If he could only keep Bruce talking for five more minutes, his final revenge would be consummated, a revenge far greater than he had ever dreamed possible. The man had been transformed into an utter demon. He stilled, pretending that he wanted Bruce to tell him over the telephone.

His persistence neatly drove Bruce mad, so raging was he to get at the object of his hate. So intent did Bruce become in seeking to calm Wright's possible fears in order that he would wait for him that he failed to hear the noise of a mob outside his own canneries.

Bruce Wilton and Vera Mather, the young lovers, have rescued the little sister from a watery grave. A scene from "The Rosary," with Robert Gordon, Mildred June and Jane Novak.

When Bruce Wilton had fled his home, his conflicting emotions concentrated upon but one determination—revenge upon the man who had betrayed his little sister and wrecked the happiness of the community.

He was only diverted from his course to apprehend Wright by the noise and sight of a terrific fight between his fishermen and Wright's ruffians. Under the guidance of MacTavish, the hirelings had picked a fight with the canneries men who were at work on a floating dock.

Skeeters carried the warning of Bruce's actions to Father Kelly, and the good man hastened to the canneries, hoping to reach the mad youth in time to prevent a tragedy.

On his way, Father Kelly met Vera, her father and Isaac Abrahamson, all bent on the same mission. As they rushed up to the canneries gates they found themselves in the midst of a mob. Father Kelly reached the center of the surging mass of excited fishermen, and discovered two wretches fast in the clutches of the Sandy Bay men.

"We found these devils sneaking off with dynamite," explained the spokesman. "They were up to some mischief."

In the face of the threatening mob, the frightened hirelings broke down. When the spokesman had madly started with his captive into the canneries to find Bruce, the man slunk back in terror.

"Don't go in there," he screamed. "The dynamite is set to explode at six o'clock."

Vera's sudden cry of terror broke the bewilderment. "Bruce is in there!" she cried, but before she could break away, Father Kelly shoved her back into the arms of her father, and ran into the canneries gates. The mob lolled in every direction. The explosion was due any second.

Bruce was still vainly talking, trying to get away from that insidious voice on the line. Father Kelly jerked him free, and pushed him out the first door. Together, the man and boy ran for their lives and they had barely gained the street when there was a terrific explosion which almost knocked them to the ground.

Another and another followed and the canneries of Sandy Bay were no more.

The good people of Sandy Bay stood for moments stupefied by the sudden disaster. And then they awoke as suddenly to the two men they held captive. They would get short work of them. At the first for a rope, the wretches threw themselves on the ground before Father Kelly, screaming their confessions for mercy's sake.

"We were hired by Wright," they cried in unison. And, meantime, at his own canneries, Kenward Wright put down the telephone with a demoniacal smile of exultation. (Bruce was destroyed! Sandy Bay was no more!) He started home.

FORMER CAPITALIST, HUNGRY, ROBS STORE

DENVER, Mar. 25—George Harrison, 72 years old, who claims once to have been a Minneapolis capitalist, yesterday pleaded guilty to robbing a grocery store here recently, saying that hunger, the result of destitute circumstances, had forced him to the act. Sentence was deferred. Harrison told the court he had subsisted on one soda cracker for four days.

LAND CLEARING IS POPULAR SUBJECT IN DELTA COUNTY

More Than Six Hundred Farmers Hear Lectures During the Week and Are Enthusiastic.

That farmers generally, and particularly those of Delta county are keenerly alive to the advantages of attending the land clearing schools which have been conducted here during the past week, is shown by the splendid attendance. The meeting at Schaffer, Friday night, wound up a series of seven meetings which were attended by a total of 616 eager, progressive men.

When the board of supervisors meets tomorrow in quarterly session, one of the questions to be considered will be the matter of holding a series of these schools in this county. It will be up to the board to provide funds if the schools are to be maintained.

It is stated that but three counties of the upper peninsula have failed so far to provide finance for such schools and it is believed those will ultimately take the step which is to prove of such immense advantage to the men who till the soil in this section of the state.

The interest shown indicates that farmers want to go ahead. They realize that thousands of acres can be added to the area of improved land in the northern peninsula if the right methods can be pursued at a proper cost and it is to show how this can be done that the land clearing schools are conducted.

The custom of "saluting the quarter deck" in the navy is a survival of the days when a crucifix stood there, to which every one did reverence.

There have been over 1,000 different varieties of potatoes, but only a few of these are worth cultivating.

SAGE AND SULPHUR DARKENS GRAY HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Restore Color, Gloss and Attractiveness.

Almost every one knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago, the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small stand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.

LOSS OF WHISTLE BRINGS PASSENGER TRAIN TO A STOP

C. & N. W. Flier Has Remarkable Experience Seventeen Miles North of Escanaba Recently.

(Contributed)
Passengers who were on the Iron and Copper Country Express Thursday evening are convinced beyond the point of argument that a locomotive cannot get along without its whistle. If you don't believe it, just ask 'em.

Near Beaver station, about 17 miles north of Escanaba, engine No. 890, pulling the flier, lost the use of a perfectly good whistle, allowing all the high pressure steam from the boiler to escape and bringing the train to a standstill.

A hurry-up call was put into division headquarters at Escanaba for a tow, and engine No. 1598, the relief assigned to pull the train from Escanaba to Green Bay and waiting at the station for her charge, was quickly dispatched north to render assistance. Result: The train arrived in Escanaba as a double-header, and the sight of a monster engine, absolutely helpless, attached to a train, and pulled by a still bigger engine, was very striking.

With the necessity of getting 890 out of the way at Escanaba delayed 102 in getting out until about 10:30. The way 1598 hustled things up was "nothing slow." No. 890 can take courage in the fact that this probably won't happen again in a "thousand years."

An Epochal Event
You can also mark it down in your history that this is the first time any Class E engine has been north of Escanaba. No. 1598 is therefore the first engine of this class over the Escanaba River bridge and the first one to pull 102 into Escanaba from the north. These North-Western class E engines are by far the largest passenger engines in the U. P.

American Locomotive Co. No. 52028 is on 102 north pending the return of 89. No. 52028 is otherwise and ordinarily known as C. & N. W. 2201, a class E1.

With the return to the Peninsula division also on Thursday of Engine 1522, makes a total of five of the big Class E and two of the Class E1, all Pacifics, on the Peninsula division, and the largest number of Pacific type engines in the Upper Peninsula ever "congregated under one roof." By engine numbers they are 1511, 1512, 1522, 1538, 1598, and 890 and 2201.

The North-Western also has the distinction of being the only road using Atlantic type locomotives in the Upper Peninsula. These are primarily high speed passenger engines and have the largest driving wheels of any locomotives in the U. P. They operate out of Escanaba.

Fifty Years' Progress
Fifty years ago this month the North-Western had only 17 locomotives in Escanaba. All of them operated between Escanaba and Negaunee as the road at that time had not been extended from Marinette. On the last day of the year, December 31, 1872, the line from Marinette to Escanaba was opened, making the first through connection from Chicago to Marquette. Many old-time railroad men will probably be interested in knowing the names of the engines operating here then. To save many arguments the engine numbers they carried when the names were discarded are also given following each name. The builders' names are also given.

Tiger 241, McKay & Aldus.
Iron Cliff 139, Hinkley.
Portage 140, Hinkley.
Mississippi 144, Hinkley.

All of these locomotives were brought to Escanaba from Green Bay (then Ft. Howard) by scows during the years from 1864 and 1863, when the Peninsula railroad was built. Of the above locomotives we should like to particularly mention the Maquoketa. Theo. Farrell landed in Escanaba May 13, 1870, with this engine, which he had run from Janesville to Green Bay, there loaded onto the scow and was towed to this city. Mr. Farrell states that it was very stormy and by good fortune arrived safely although they had almost lost their charge.

LYCEUM COURSE FOR NEXT YEAR DECIDED UPON

Contract Expected to Be Closed Definitely Soon.

Arrangements have virtually been completed by the Community Educational Bureau for the next year lyceum course, contracts having been tentatively closed with the Redpath and Emerson bureaus. Escanaba's course this year was far and away the strongest ever introduced in this city and it is the ambition of the bureau to make such improvement each year as may be possible.

At the meeting, which was held Friday, Mrs. Edward Erickson succeeded

Mrs. C. M. Frost as secretary of the organization. As soon as negotiations have been definitely closed, the list of attractions will be available for publication, it is stated.

LAWRENCE HELD TO BE INSANE BY COMMISSION

Was to Have Been Tried in April for Attempted Killing.

Following an examination at the county jail Saturday evening, Charles Lawrence was adjudged insane and committed to the Newberry hospital. Lawrence had been held in the circuit court for shooting Bert Lorenson a few weeks ago, Lorenson's life being saved only by the fact that the bullet struck a heavy hunting case watch, which stopped the deadly pellet.

It was claimed that Lawrence had not eaten anything for several days and that he apparently suffered from the hallucination that he was being pursued by a band of union sailors who accused him of "scabbing." He was taken to Newberry this morning by Deputy Sheriff Ed Gervais.

SOCIAL NOTES

REBEKAH DANCING PARTY
The entertainment committee of the Rebekah lodge has arranged for giving another "old-fashioned" party in the Odd Fellow hall next Thursday evening. Several such parties have been held during the winter and each has proven such a delightful affair, that members of the organization, like Oliver Twist, have asked for "more." Odd Fellows, Rebekahs and their friends will be invited and it is stated that some new and novel features will be introduced to make the gathering more enjoyable than usual this time.

MILWAUKEE PAIR WEDS HERE
A marriage license was issued here Saturday afternoon to George W. Stege and Elizabeth L. Gendron, both of Milwaukee, who came to this city in the morning and were married Saturday evening. They left for Milwaukee on the night train.

MASONIC DANCING PARTY
Invitations have been issued for a dancing party to-Masons and their families, for Wednesday evening of this week. This will be one of a series of parties arranged for the winter and spring.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Cass and daughter of Superior are visiting with relatives here for a few days before leaving for a visit in Ottawa and Montreal, Canada.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Greene of Stonington at the home of Mrs. Charles Groth, 305 Second avenue south.

A Business Statement That Is a Great Human Record

Helping 19,000,000 People

About 19,000,000 people are insured in the Metropolitan—over 16,000,000 under weekly calls of Agents at the policy-holders' homes provide a wonderful opportunity for health and welfare work.

The Company has accepted the opportunity and today is at the forefront of public health work in America.

14,000,000 Visits by Trained Nurses

Free nursing service is given to industrial policy-holders in 2,800 cities and towns. Trained nurses not only heal the sick but teach right living. About 14,000,000 visits have been made—2,116,875 in 1921 alone. Numerous letters tell of lives saved.

Discovering Disease in Time

Free medical examinations often disclosing incipient disease in time to cure it, are granted to Ordinary (annual premium) policy holders, subject to reasonable conditions.

Helping the Employer to Help

Employers issuing their employees under Group policies are advised regarding health conditions and accident prevention, while the employees receive the benefits of nursing service and welfare literature.

238,000,000 Pieces of Literature

Attractive booklets and pamphlets in great variety, dealing with the important phases of health and disease, and prepared by leading experts, are distributed broadcast. So far, 238,000,000 copies have been distributed—25,000,000 in 1921.

In addition, 18,000,000 copies of The Metropolitan, a health magazine, are issued annually.

A City That Is Watched

In Framingham, Mass., the Metropolitan is leading the way in a great experiment, watched by health authorities throughout the country, to demonstrate what proper municipal health regulation can do. Deaths from tuberculosis have dropped from 121 per 100,000 to 40 per annum.

HOW WAS IT DONE?

Records kept by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company show an extraordinary decrease in the death rate among its Industrial, or weekly premium, policy-holders. Comparing 1921 with 1911, for example, there were 55,000 less deaths in 1921 than there would have been if the 1911 death rate had prevailed.

What brought about the great saving of life?
The general public health movement—progress in medical science and sanitation—other causes, perhaps. But a very great factor has been the tremendous health campaign carried on by the Metropolitan itself. This page tells a part of the story.

For the Nation's Health

144 health exhibits and emergency hospitals at county fairs last year; 295 "Clean-up" campaigns; agitation by Agents for health legislation; nationwide campaigns against special diseases; sickness and sanitary surveys; a study of municipal health departments; leadership of practically all American research work relating to influenza—these are some instances of the Metropolitan's activity in the interest of public health.

Homes for 17,744 Families

In the investment of its funds, the Metropolitan is now giving preference to loans which will aid housing. During 1920 and 1921, the Company made and pledged loans of $58,080,017, on new dwellings and new apartment houses, providing homes for 17,744 families.

Great Decline in Death Rates

The death rate among industrial policy-holders reached its lowest point in 1921—31.9%, lower than in 1911. The rate from typhoid decreased 71%; tuberculosis, 49%; Bright's disease, nearly 50%; infectious diseases of children, nearly 37%. The "Expectation of Life" of white males (reckoned from age 10) increased 4 years.

Public Appreciation

The American people have made the Metropolitan the greatest life insurance company in the world, with $1,095,707,839 insurance in force.

It leads not only in industrial but in Ordinary. More than half of its business in force is Ordinary—$3,892,267,274—which is more than that of any Company in the world.

The Future

The Metropolitan will continue its endeavor to offer the best there is in life, health and accident insurance, and to save human life. Continued growth will give the Company still greater opportunities to serve the American people in insurance protection and in the conservation of life and health.

50 Cents

Dollar

When a store makes such a ridiculous Statement

Make Them Prove It

Make them prove to you that they are actually offering goods at fifty cents on the dollar.

It's to our notion, an insult to the intelligence of the trading public to make a statement of this kind—in the face of the fact that regular retail prices of stores along the street are as low, and in most instances lower than ones quoted by a local retailer in a recent issue of a local newspaper, purporting to be 50 per cent under regular.

We'll grant that in most instances prices on nearly every line of merchandise last season were a good deal higher. But—that has nothing to do with this season's prices—and can in no way justify a dealer in making a statement of selling goods at 50 cents on the dollar.

It's about time the Chamber of Commerce appoints a committee to scrutinize "Ads" and other things pertaining to enforcing a higher ethical standard in merchandising—not only as a protection for the public, but merchants as well.

THE FAIR SAVINGS BANK

Escanaba's Big Store, enjoys the confidence of the thousands of people, in Escanaba and all its neighboring territory, in fact, throughout the Upper Peninsula of Michigan, who are making this store their shopping headquarters. These people know that the name of "The Fair" stands for right merchandising, honesty of purpose, and a sincere desire to serve the public well.

Now at spring buying time want you to keep these facts in mind: Whatever you may need, you can get it here, and at a price absolutely right—invariably a little less.

CAPACITY AUDIENCE HEARS BOOK REVIEW

Rev. Harry W. Staver Explains "If Winter Comes" at Sunday Evening Service.

The Book Review of "If Winter Comes," attracted a great crowd that filled the auditorium of the First Presbyterian church last night. The attendance at the first in a series of reviews to be given by the Rev. Harry W. Staver, augurs well for the success of the innovation being tried out at the evening services. Judging from the interest manifested and the comments made the program was most thoroughly enjoyed by all present. After telling the story of the book, the Rev. Mr. Staver proceeded to state what he conceived to be the fundamental lesson and purpose of "If Winter Comes." Declaring that the story has many auxiliary teachings such as the blasting of the idea that marriage is made in heaven; that tragedy comes thru bad choices, and that our system of social ethics which condones what it can see, but condemns that it knows exists but cannot see, is abominable and damnable, Mr. Staver said that the supreme lesson of the book must be found in the character and conversation of Mark Sabre, the hero of the story. Life to Sabre, with all its shadows, mistakes, sin and inconsistency, is a great mystery for which three must be a key. He finds the key ultimately in religion, and in its teaching "plain for a child and clear as day light for a grown intelligence" that Love is the other name for God. Religion for ages has been hiding God behind big theological words which have no meaning for the ordinary man. It has been telling the world about God as a Being who is Omnipresent, Omnipotent and Omniscient, and Nine people out of ten do not even know the meaning of those words. Religion has let men grope and grapple with the mysteries of life, has allowed want to mar men's faces and bleed their hearts, has chased men down into a hopeless hell; has turned men's feet into a blind alley and brot them up against blank wall, and all the while God is trying to get the single truth into our dull heads and dull hearts; that the way to abide fit God, and to have God abide in us is just to live a life of love in the practical experience of everyday relationships. This, said the Rev. Mr. Staver is the fundamental teaching of "If Winter Comes." The review announced for next Sunday evening will be Victor Hugo's book: "The Laughing Man."

Time has tested the HOOVER

Millions more carpets and rugs are regularly beaten, swept and air-cleaned by The Hoover, than are entrusted to any other cleaner.

Thirteen years of such usage has conclusively proved that The Hoover greatly prolongs the life and beauty of all carpetings—as we guarantee.

More, it has served to perfect The Hoover mechanically. Many exclusive inventions now shield from imitation those vital features of The Hoover which make it the best electric cleaner.

Not only is its electrically revolved, floating Sweeping Brush covered by patent. Also the automatic protection of this brush, from being clogged or stopped by hairs, strings or fibres, is similarly patented.

The simple manner in which this soft brush may be lowered, as it slowly wears; the fully enclosed and hence dirt-protected, vertical motor; the accessible, single oil cup; the ability to beat out destructive grit as it sweeps up clinging litter; the way The Hoover may be tilted backward or forward by its handle without tightening any screws; the efficient dirt-bag which is so easy to remove and empty without scattering dust—these are a few of the additional Hoover patented advantages.

Have a free home demonstration of this time-tested, time-perfected cleaner and its attachments.

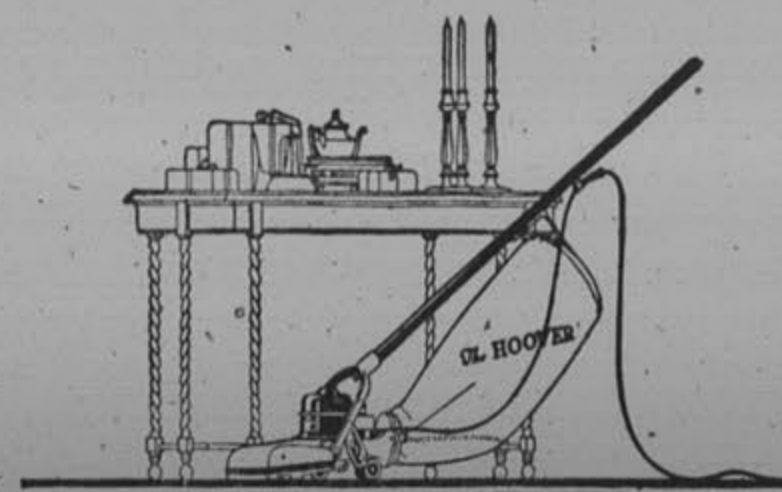

Don't delay another day—call on The Fair Savings Bank, Escanaba, Mich.—our exclusive authorized Delta County dealer—only dealer in this county licensed to demonstrate sell and service Hoovers bearing our guarantee. Offered in different sizes, all moderately priced. Convenient terms is desired.

Pay $6.25 and use The Hoover today. A few monthly payments of an equal amount will soon make it yours—21c a day for a short period—paying for it while you use it! You'll never miss a trifling amount like that. Call at The Fair this week and make arrangements for a Hoover—you'll never regret it. In spending your money, might as well get the best made.

MEN GIRLS LOVE

By Laurel Gray

STRONG men are never a drag or a drag on the matrimonial market. Strong men are not necessarily embryonic Sandows, and dumbbells and quarter-ton weights need not be in their equipment. Strong men are the kind of men who take the world as more or less of a fine, happy adventure, and when the bumps are encountered, they overcome them without fuss or fret. The sensible kind of girl wants a strong, dependable husband. To all women marriage—at the beginning, anyway—is a proposition that contracts for life. A tower of moral and spiritual strength is in prime demand today, just as it was when Samson strode the earth. Only Samsons of this era are keeping a wary eye peeled to prevent any lock-snipping encroaches.
