

MINERS AND OPERATORS ASKED TO CONFER

HOUSE LABOR - BODY URGING QUICK MEET

Lewis Willing to Meet With Operators in Central Field.

Scale Committees of Operators in Three States Indicate They Are Willing to Talk Business.

Interest in the coal strike centered today in the efforts of the house labor committee at Washington to bring about a conference of operators with the miners, looking to a settlement of the walkout, which has effected more than a million of the nation's coal diggers.

Assured by John L. Lewis, president of the miners, that the latter would negotiate with any group of representative operators in the central competitive field, although some could not be included to deal again with the union, Chairman Nolan of the committee invited representative operators of that field to meet Monday with the union leaders.

While awaiting a reply to the invitation, the committee today continued hearing witnesses in the investigation of the coal industry.

Scale Committees Busy

Scale committees of operators at associations in Illinois, Ohio and Western Pennsylvania which are included in the central competitive situation, today announced meetings for tomorrow on which decisions will be made on the invitation of the labor board to a conference.

President Lewis was in New York today to speed up negotiations between operators and miners representatives, which may bring to an end the strike in the anthracite fields where 155,000 miners are now idle.

Union leaders said that there is some doubt that favorable action will be taken on the proposal of certain independent anthracite operators to grant the miners the nineteen wage demands if they would return to work.

Against Policy

The miners scale committee announced that separate contracts and agreements were against the policy of the international union.

Union miners in the bituminous fields are 100 per cent on strike and the leaders say that support given them by the non-union men is still vague.

It is claimed by them that the strike is gaining strength in the non-union district, while the operators claim the mines are operating normally. Anthracite operators have promised to "block violations of the strike order, whereby foremen can be placed on duty to protect mines."

The government will take no action until the public is menaced by a coal shortage, Attorney General Daugherty said, in announcing his determination that "men have a right to quit work and men have the right to employ other men in their places."

Little disorder has occurred since the strike began.

Ovid Valincourt, You Have a Check Awaiting You Here

Ovid Valincourt, who is listed in the city directory as being married and whose address is given as 415 South Ninth street, has some money coming to him in the form of a compensation check, if he will see L. G. Sawdy, secretary of the Escanaba Chapter of the Red Cross.

Valincourt was a sailor during the war. The U. S. Veterans Bureau sent him a check at the above address but it was returned to Ninth District Headquarters in Chicago after local postmen were unable to locate Valincourt at the address given. The Ninth District office then forwarded the check to the secretary of the Red Cross here and Mr. Sawdy takes this means of trying to locate Mr. Valincourt.

If this notice should chance to meet his eye, he can get in touch with Mr. Sawdy at the Escanaba Manufacturing Co. plant, or if any friend knows his present address they will be conferring a favor both on Valincourt and the Red Cross by informing Mr. Sawdy.

POLICE AGAIN RAID 2 ALLEGED MAKERS OF ILLICIT BOOZE

Woman Arrested at Noon Today and Man Apprehended Last Night, Still Being Found.

A combination of watchful waiting and tactical trailing by the local police department resulted in the arrests of two more persons last night and today, charged with violation of the prohibition laws. The "goods" were secured in both cases and both are interesting to a greater degree than most.

A noon today Chief Tolson and Motor Officer Swanson were all set and "mashed" their game upstairs over 300 Ludington street. As a result there is a trail of very fine chicken feed extending half a block up the street, due to the fact that a barrel of mash was hurled out an upstairs window as one of the officers ascended the stairway. However, one of the finest copper stills yet captured was brought to police headquarters, together with two barrels which had been dumped out a window, together with a quantity of mash.

Woman Arrested

Mrs. Mattilda Harmon was placed under arrest on a technical charge of possession of a still. It is understood the woman claims she was not operating the still at the time and that it belongs to a man.

The still itself is interesting, due to the fact that it is copper, equipped with a copper worm and is an exact counterpart of two others which have been taken on previous raids. The three stills unquestionably were made by the same party and according to the same specifications.

Slippery Bird Taken

Last night Chief Tolson, Sgt. Carney and Motor Officer Swanson grabbed off Antime Clairmont at his home, 515 South 8th street, after a long period of watching during which Clairmont changed his residence twice and always under cover of darkness.

Clairmont's case is interesting. Two stills were found and 80 gallons of mash taken. The police have been receiving complaints from time to time about him, but never had him sufficiently "hooked" until last night.

Attention was first directed to him several months ago when he lived up stairs at 511 Ludington street. Police officers attempted to get something on him at that time but failed. He then moved to 1419 First avenue north, but lived there only a few weeks until he took fright and moved again, this time to 513 South Eighth street.

No effort was made to bar the officers search of the premises and today Clairmont came through with a confession.

Clairmont Confesses

He says he is 24 years of age and lives with his wife and five children, the oldest of whom is 12 years of age. He declares in his statement that being unable to secure work along about last September, he began experimenting on the manufacture of moonshine.

He bought two stills from a man whose name he professes not to know. Clairmont says he didn't have much success at first but finally got so he could make salable goods. He estimates that he has made about 75

THREE PROBES INTO KILLING OF AVIATOR

Oklahoma City Society Deeply Interested in Tragedy.

Coroner's Inquest to Be Held Saturday, Will Be Attended by Army Officers and Officials.

PREPARATIONS were made today to launch three separate inquiries into the events surrounding the death of Lieut. Col. Paul Beck, the pioneer army aviator and assistant commander of Post Field, at Fort Sill, Okla., who was killed by Jean P. Day, wealthy oil operator, and prominent attorney in the latter's home early yesterday morning, when according to Day, Beck was found attacking Mrs. Day.

A special investigation by county authorities will determine the charges to be filed against Day in connection with the killing.

A military commission of three army officers will come here from Post Field, and investigate the killing.

Booze Angle

The third inquiry got under way when N. F. Meador, general prohibition director for Oklahoma began to check up to ascertain whether liquor might have had some part in the party which preceded the killing of Beck.

County officials today were sending down various angles of the tragedy for use at the inquest on Saturday. It is not determined whether Day or his wife will take the stand at this time.

In the event that Day and his wife decline to take the stand at the inquest, County Attorney Hughes pointed out he could then file a charge of murder.

Says Killing Unpremeditated

Mr. Day said today that he never thought of killing Beck when he returned to his home and he alleged he saw the army officer attempting to assault Mrs. Day. His only intent, Day said, was to defend his wife from harm.

Day declared that he never thought Beck like a brother, but that he acted in an unprovoked manner, and that he found his confidence abused in his home, his home invaded and his wife insulted and seduced and attacked.

A statement came from Mrs. Day today, giving for the first time her version of the killing. She still will under the case of a nurse.

Gov. Len Small Loses In Fight for Women Jurors

WAKEGAN, Apr. 5—Governor Len Small waived the right to challenge the jury list of Lake county when his attorney, several weeks ago, agreed to the drawing of a jury from the list of names then in the jury box, the state told Judge Edwards today, in reply to the governor's affidavit attacking the jury list because it did not include the names of women voters.

"I agree with you absolutely, if the records show that the defense agreed to that situation," Judge Edwards told Attorney Daily who raised the point for the case.

Mr. Daily also charged that the governor had also failed to allege he had been injured by the failure of women not being on the jury. Any injury done the women by this act could not be made a point by the governor.

Judge Edwards took the attorneys for both sides into his chambers in an effort to get some understanding that will enable the case to proceed.

GAME WARDEN TO GET TROUT FRY APRIL 11TH

Nearly 200,000 to Be Planted in Local Streams.

Herman Lehnner, deputy state game warden, has been notified that Delta county's allotment of trout fry will arrive here the evening of April 11th, for planting in the streams of this county in accordance with instructions issued by the county board of supervisors at its recent session.

The shipment will contain 172,000 brook trout fry, which will be placed in streams between Escanaba and Cooks, and 12,000 brown trout fry to go into Ford river. Mr. Lehnner will personally look after the work of planting and will use every precaution necessary to the preservation of the fry.

Local sportsmen are again reminded of what they regard as a foolish sticking to custom, so far as the northern peninsula is concerned. The planting of brook fry at this time of year, when spring rains are still covered with ice, and when spring floods are still in course, is regarded as something of a lost labor of love. But the state department, having this matter in charge, persists in sending out the trout fry early for this reason, and there is nothing left for the game warden but to plant them.

There are considered one of the best arguments for the establishment of a hot fishery in this immediate vicinity.

CITY MANAGER JOB SOUGHT BY DOZEN EAGER APPLICANTS

Adoption of Administrative Code Council's First Problem Before It Can Function Properly.

Two more applications for the position of City Manager of Escanaba under the new form of government, were received today, bringing total applications on file at this time to 12. Ward of Escanaba's election has apparently penetrated many quarters of the county and applications are on file from men who claim to be highly qualified for the position.

The problem of selecting a manager will come up early in the history of the new administration, but of first and prime importance will be the matter of adopting an administrative code or ordinance, under which all affairs of the city will have to be directed.

Draft of Code

When the city charter was being formulated, one of the chief advisors was Prof. Robert T. Crane, of the Bureau of Government of the University of Michigan. Mr. Crane at that time agreed to draft a suitable ordinance for the purpose of getting the new administration started on the safe and legal course.

Prosecuting Attorney T. E. Strom yesterday advised City Clerk Carl E. Anderson that one of the first actions of the new council will have to be the adoption of a proper code, defining the various departments of the city government, and the duties of each department.

Will Come Here

Mr. Strom said he was in receipt of a letter from Prof. Crane stating that illness had somewhat delayed his working on the code, for a time, but he now had it prepared for submission to the new council, and if council desired, the state would send him here to explain all about it.

Mr. Strom suggested that the clerk bring this information to the attention of the new council at its first meeting, inasmuch as little can be done in the way of getting the new work under way until some sort of code has been adopted.

Therefore it is regarded as quite likely that one of the first actions of the new body will be the adoption of such an ordinance.

VOTE WILL BE CANVASSED BY ELECTION BODY

Council Will Not Perform That Duty This Year.

The Escanaba board of elections will meet at the city hall at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning to canvass the vote cast in Monday's election. This is a provision of the new charter, previously the vote always having been canvassed by the city council. However the council must approve the work and cause to be spread upon the minutes of the council meeting, the result of the vote, so that it is regarded as highly probable that tonight's meeting of the council will be a formal meeting and adjournment until tomorrow evening.

Whether the present council will hold any special meetings previous to winding up the present administrative affairs, has not been fully determined, but if the need arises to clear up any matter before the new body takes hold, special meeting will be called.

"Fatty" Arbuckle To Take Stand in Own Defense Today

SAN FRANCISCO, April 5.—"Fatty" Arbuckle will take the stand in his own defense today according to an announcement made by attorney McNabb, who is defending the comedian on the manslaughter charge.

Cross examination of Dr. George M. Shields, considered the defense's best medical expert was resumed at this morning's session. Shields became widely known as an affidavit in the first trial of Harry K. Thaw, for the killing of Stanford White and was accredited as originating the phrase "dementia Americana" and "brainstorm."

DEBATE TO START AT 8:30 TONIGHT AT HIGH SCHOOL

Public Cordially Invited and Union Labor Especially Should Hear Question at Issue.

When the local debating team of the high school meets the Soo team here this evening, it will constitute an organization which has given three other debates this year, a trio that is regarded as far as the strongest in the open peninsula.

The local team has been working diligently and believes that when it has presented its side of the case, the affirmative, the judges will find that Escanaba is entitled to the decision.

The question is, "Resolved, That American Industries Should Abandon the Principle of the Open Shop."

The local affirmative team is composed of Cecil Landis, Butler Erickson, and Walter Bergman, while Stanley Newton, Leslie Williams and Raymond Rose represent the negative team of the Soo high school. The Soo team arrived this morning and become guests of the host high school for the day.

The debate begins at 8:30 o'clock tonight at the high school auditorium. The high school faculty and staff of both schools extends a cordial invitation to the public to attend, especially union men. The price has been placed at twenty-five cents and it is some of the worth much more than that to find people to find out just what their high school is capable of producing.

DIVORCE CASE OF MOROSCO IS BEING PROBED

Court Hears of Second Marriage Shortly Afterward.

Theatrical Producer in For An Investigation Which Has Been Ordered by the Court.

DETROIT, Mich., April 5.—Investigation at the residence of Oliver Morosco, the theatrical producer who was married to Santa Anna, California, Saturday to Miss Thelma Paley, a Los Angeles actress, but three days after he was granted a decree of divorce from his first wife here, was ordered today by Circuit Judge Harry J. Doughton, of Detroit.

Edward Porkonay, a friend of the court was instructed to make the investigation in an effort to learn whether collusion had existed.

Morosco filed divorce proceedings against his first wife several months ago, using her family name, Oliver Mitchell and giving his residence as Boulevard 1113, a Detroit suburb.

In his bill of complaint he charged his wife with "neglecting him," "leading reflections on his business ability," and "trying to send him to the wall."

The wife filed a cross bill for divorce alleging cruelty and infidelity and naming as respondent Miss Paley who now is Mrs. Morosco.

Morosco married his first wife in San Francisco in 1917. He has a son, Walter 23 years old. It is understood he settled $200,000 upon his first wife in 1919 on alimony.

FLEES HURLEY HOTEL TO GET FREE OF VICE

Minnesota Girl Tells of Being Held a Prisoner There.

HURLEY, Wis., April 5.—How she slipped out of a window of a hotel here to get away from the vice grip of St. Paul, Minn., who she claims to have been held a prisoner in there, is the story told by Stella Anderson to the staff of the Daily Mirror in this city from St. Paul. She worked in a hotel, police have failed to find the man who she says brought her to Hurley to work.

Miss Anderson, who is an attractive girl, said she worked in St. Paul for 10 months, and lived at 374 Cedar street. She had known the man who brought her to Hurley for a considerable time and was induced by him to come to Hurley to work, she said.

She was held a prisoner in the hotel she claims, from Friday until Sunday and finally jumped out of the window and crossed the state line into Ironwood, Mich., where she took refuge.

Her name is somewhat similar to that of the notorious woman from St. Paul, over whom a St. Paul man was killed by an Italian, who later was sentenced to state's prison in Marquette to serve a term for manslaughter.

Goddard's statement will be turned over to the new city commissioners and will advise them of the exact condition of this with reference to all the utilities owned by the city.

Thaws and Freezes Ruining State Roads

LANSING, Mich., April 5.—Michigan roads have been harder hit this spring than for a number of years past, according to state highway officials. A majority of the trunk line roads are in bad condition, and those upon which traffic is heaviest are almost impassable.

Peculiar climatic conditions—intermittent thaws and freezes, accompanied by snow and rain—plus an unusually heavy amount of traffic for this season of the year, are largely blamed for the damage to the roads. On some of the most frequented trunk lines, that running from Detroit to Grand Rapids, for instance, the combination has "knocked the bottom out of the road" for long stretches in several places.

Great Britain Asks Interest Payment on Debts of the Allies

V-gallons of liquor since starting in the game. The last he sold, he got $7.00 a gallon.

The statement declares that this means of making money was resorted to only after he had been unable to secure any work whatever and he did it to keep his family from want and misery and suffering.

The moonshine was sold to hangers on about saloons, whom Clairmont believed to be booze-runners for the saloons.

It is a fact of interest that Clairmont's two stills are the brothers to the one secured at Mrs. Harmon's place today.

Held to Court

Both Mrs. Harmon and Clairmont were arraigned before Justice C. D. McEwen this afternoon, both waived examination and both were held to the circuit court under bonds of $500.

When President Wilson was attending the peace conference in Paris, Note was invited by the French senate to sing at the Luxemburg palace when the senate gave a reception to the American president. Note's singing of the Marseillaise aroused a great enthusiasm.

President Wilson listened with rapt attention and as the song ended he wrote an autograph note and sent it by his French side de camp to Note.

Farm Lighting Plans Being Worked Out

LANSING, Mich., April 5—The recent action of a group of Bay and Saginaw county farmers, in incorporating to buy electricity in bulk and transform it for their own uses, is the forerunner of statewide activity, in the matter of co-operative group farm lighting systems, in the belief of Wm. M. Smith, member of the state public utilities commission. The Bay and Saginaw farmers—46 of them—told the commission they believed they could buy electricity wholesale from a power company cheaper than they could manufacturing it themselves with individual farm plants. They also believed they would receive more satisfactory service. The commission authorized them to go ahead and incorporate for $10,000, under the name of the Harmony Electric Company. They will purchase their electricity, delivered to a transformer station which they will build and conduct co-operatively. From there they will distribute it to the members of the corporation over their own distributing lines. According to Mr. Smith the idea is being discussed in many parts of the state and further applications for permission to organize are expected.

The list is five feet long and is the longest ever received by the bureau. It contains the names, ages and addresses of nine brothers, six sisters, six uncles, six aunts, 23 nephews, 19 nieces, six brothers-in-law, eight sisters-in-law, and one stepmother, 84 in all. Each relative will get $1.92 a month for 24 months.

National Guard. The Michigan Guard is the first in the country to take such a step.

The stations, located at Detroit, Lansing, Flint, Port Huron, Adrian, Grand Haven, Grand Rapids and Ypsilanti, are equipped with sending and receiving apparatus. An effort will be made to bring about rapid broadcasting of information from state and city police, to aid in apprehending criminals, issue storm warning and in other ways help in the work of affording police protection.

Six additional stations are to be located soon in northern Michigan. The equipment for all stations has been furnished by the government, it being taken from government-owned wooden ships and from vessels used as transports during the war. Send log radius of the various stations will range from 500 to 1,000 miles.

An appeal to wireless and telegraph operators to join the guard and serve at the stations has been issued. Twelve years ago Hartwell Lyons, living near Augusta, Me., lost his central watch. While playing pool he turned it up and found that it was as good as ever, but the hands and stem which a jeweler speedily repaired.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 5, 1922

RIGHT UP TO THE DANGER LINE.

John L. Lovett, general manager of the Michigan Manufacturers' Association, gave the people of Michigan and their law makers something to think about when he asserted at the state legislative tax commission hearing that four large factories recently have been driven out of Detroit and two out of Michigan because of the unbearable taxes, and that one other Detroit factory, employing six to ten thousand men is contemplating moving away for the same reason.

This sort of thing takes debate over whether taxes are too high in Michigan, out of the realm of theory. It presents a condition that allows no equivocation but must be met, and it gives significant force to the declaration of E. L. Dale, president of the Lansing Manufacturers' and Jobbers' Association that Michigan is facing a tax crisis, that the question is not what governmental agencies need, but of what the taxpayer can provide.

There must in fact, be a complete reversal of the theory upon which taxes have been levied of late years on the people of our state. If Michigan is to avoid serious trouble, its legislature and the assessing bodies of its counties and municipalities must cease considering solely whether this or that expenditure proposed has merit and is legitimate. The test must be whether it is absolutely necessary to the well being of the community or commonwealth; whether in short the appropriation asked cannot be denied without working absolute harm.

Officials and legislators must quit digging around in the hope of unearthing new possible sources of revenue merely for the purpose of obtaining more money to spend. Their effort must be to diminish the burden on the people at large wherever and whenever possible. And this can be done in two principal ways, by slicing budgets to the bone, and absolutely killing off luxuries, fads and superfluities; and by making wealth, notably tax exempt bonds, which has been going free, contribute its fair share to the public treasury. Frugality and fair readjustment with the abolition of privileged class exemption, these must be the watchwords.

Unless the state of Michigan does right about face and reform its taxation habits and methods, it may read a forecast of what is going to happen to the fine edge of its prosperity and progress, in the warning object lessons furnished to it by Mr. Lovett. We have good hope that it will take warning. The present prospect is that taxation will be the big subject of consideration at the next legislative session. On this account it is up to the people to exercise extra care in selecting the men who represent them there.

A CONTRACT.

Owing to a blunder somewhere in New York's city hall the commissioner of police was led to suppose that the council had passed, and the mayor had signed, an ordinance which forbade smoking by women in public places and made the proprietors of such places criminally responsible for women who smoke. Just how this absurd imitation of law came to be communicated to the police as a genuine one is of no consequence. The interesting point is that without asking a question, or stopping to note the fact that the copy of the ordinance bore evidence of illegality on its face, the commissioner ordered his men to notify hotel and restaurant keepers that they would be carted off to jail if any woman was seen smoking in their establishments. Everybody took the affair seriously and the town was thrown into excitement.

For a contrast with this zeal in the enforcement of a law that was false in content and spurious on its face consider the genuine laws that police conveniently forget. The liquor laws are a good example. They were ignored by the police of New York and most other cities before prohibition law went into effect, and after the Volstead act was passed, officers of the New York police were at a banquet in which the speakers made their funniest jokes about the liquors that were then illegally served.

How did it happen that the New York police were so keen to make the women stop smoking when, despite their guardianship of the law, they break the drinking laws themselves? Was it, perhaps, the influence of the masculine theory which makes women trustees for the good conduct of the world at large but grants the men the right to do very much as they please?

TRUE MEASURE OF SUCCESS

Life is full of misfits. To be happy, men and women who are workers should do that which they like to do. Doing what one likes to do and doing it well—that's success. Men and women who are successes in life have done the things they know best how to do, and usually they liked just what they were doing.

The possession of money can not be termed a true measure of success in the highest sense. Men who have obtained wealth are not truly successful because of that fact. They may be regarded as successes in a business way, but they put something else into their business—an indefinable something that makes for integrity and good reputation. Indeed, as John J. Mitchell, veteran Chicago banker, points out, the measure of a man's success is the proportion in which he has been of value to the world and his fellow men and women during his lifetime. Broadly speaking, one gets out of life exactly that which he puts into it, and nothing more.

Measured by the modern standards, success too often is placed upon the "almighty dollar."

There is this to be said for those jag-producing seesaws about which we are told; they're easier to tote about than lemon essence and hair tonic.

Judge Landis and Owner of Brooklyn Club at the Dodgers' Training Camp

While making his tour of the spring training camps, former Judge Landis, high commissioner of baseball, visited the Brooklyn Dodgers at Jacksonville, Fla. He is shown here chatting with Charles H. Ebbets, the smiling president of the Brooklyn Club.

Farming was the occupation of half the population of France before the war. A compilation of the last census figures show that 50% of the entire population, 19 years of age or over, were engaged in some gainful occupation. In Japan, dresses are often sold by weight.

Growing Great

When he was just A little lad He took to milkin' As a fad And, later, as A husky boy, A glass of it Was Tommy's joy.

Then, growing up To seventeen, He would not give It up, or wean. At twenty, he Was gain' strong, Og milk that was His diet song.

Straight on through life Milk was his drink. He drank a pond Of it, I think. At ninety-eight His health was fine, Said he: "Cow-licker Booze for mine!"

FINDS ALLEGED SLAYER AFTER 7-YEAR SEARCH

NEW YORK, April 4—Seven years' search for the man he accuses of slaying his sister, which carried him into every Greek colony in the United States, ended yesterday when Peter Houvaras, Chicago restaurateur, led detectives and an immigration inspector to a soda water stand in Brooklyn, where they arrested George Mohrigan, 22 years old, on a warrant issued on June 25, 1916.

Houvaras said that on July 21, 1915, Mohrigan, then 15, annoyed his 17-year-old sister, and shot and killed her as she was leaving her home in Spart, Greece, to come to him in the United States.

The prisoner denied that he had intended to kill the girl, saying he had carried the weapon only to frighten her parents.

3,732 handkerchiefs were recently advertised by the Edw. Malley Co. of New Haven, Conn., to sell at 4 cents. It was not stated in the advertisement that the former selling price had been 29 cents. In explanation of this, the Malley Co. stated that "as intelligent merchants, appealing to an intelligent public, we wish our advertisements to have the power of convincing our patrons of our values, without fortifying them with even the truth, when the truth has the outward semblance of falsehood."

Burroughs Farm Bought by Ford For a Memorial

(By Associated Press) KINGSTON, N. Y., April 4—The farm where John Burroughs was born, where he lived many of his years, and where last April his body was laid to rest, has been purchased by Henry Ford, long a friend and vacation comrade of the naturalist and author.

On Monday, the first anniversary of the burial of Burroughs, the farm was dedicated to his memory.

Mr. Ford bought the place on March 19th from Julian Burroughs, the naturalist's son, to whom it was bequeathed and established a fund for its preservation as a memorial.

The John Burroughs Memorial association had been formed to buy the place and preserve it, but when that organization met difficulties in raising funds, Mr. Ford volunteered to see the plan through.

Mr. Ford paid $15,000 for the farm. His added gift will be used to preserve the spots that Burroughs made known to the world through his books.

Mr. Ford, Thomas A. Edison and Harvey S. Firestone, who used to go on vacations with Burroughs, are expected to attend the memorial service.

A bronze plaque will be embedded in the great brown rock over the grave of Burroughs. For the rest, the farm will be preserved as nature has it and as Burroughs knew it.

LADIES! SECRET TO DARKEN GRAY HAIR

Bring Back Its Color and Lustre With Grandma's Sage Tea Recipe.

Common garden sage, brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application of two your hair becomes a beautiful dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant, and you appear years younger.

OBITUARY

DAVID HARWOOD FUNERAL
Impressive funeral services were conducted for David Harwood at his home, 408 South Tenth street, this afternoon, by Rev. A. I. Ernest Boss, Rector of St. Stephen's Episcopal church. The service was very largely attended by old personal friends of the deceased and many members of various fraternal organizations with which he was affiliated. A great many beautiful floral tributes were sent to the home, marking the very high esteem in which Mr. Harwood was held. Burial was made in Lakeview cemetery.

MRS. LOUIS GRENIER
The body of Mrs. Louis Grenier was removed from the Allo Funeral Home to the family residence at 331 South Tenth street, yesterday and funeral services are to be held at nine o'clock Thursday morning at St. Anne's church, Rev. Fr. Jacques officiating. Interment is to be made in the family lot in St. Anne's cemetery. The following pall bearers have been selected: Lewis Savard, Frank De Vost, Phil Dupont, James Pilot, Zoltique Gouliot and Samuel Gouliot.

JOHN FROST
John Frost, 18-year-old son of Mrs. J. P. Frost, 504 South 18th street, passed away at the parental home last night at 8:45, following a long illness. His condition had been serious for the past three weeks, although he has been confined to his bed for nearly ten months.

About 18 months ago the boy was thrown from a bicycle near Wells. It is said he lay in the road for some time before being discovered and given medical attention. Injuries sustained at that time, which several operations had failed to relieve, are regarded as the contributory causes of his death.

The popular young man was born in this city and attended the local schools. He was widely known and was held in high esteem. His father died about a year ago and the boy is survived by his mother, two brothers and two sisters, Henry and George, Marie and Barbara Frost, all residing at home.

Funeral services will be held at the home Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock and at the German Lutheran church at 2 o'clock. Rev. C. A. Doehler officiating. Burial will be made in the Lakeview cemetery.

MATHIAS BECKER
Mathias Becker, 80 years of age, passed away at a local hospital at 2 o'clock this afternoon following about one week's illness from pneumonia. The body was taken to the Allo Funeral Home to be prepared for burial and will be shipped to Massillon, Ohio on the Friday morning train.

Mr. Becker was formerly of Watson, Mich., where for many years he was engaged in the lumber business. He has been a resident of the upper peninsula for upward of 50 years and in that half century has made and retained many warm and sincere friends in this section.

He is survived by a cousin, Mrs. Nick Miller, of Massillon, Ohio, who arrived here yesterday to be with the aged man when he died. Mrs. Miller will accompany to body to the Ohio city, where funeral services and burial will be made.

BETTER TIMES

One of the barometers, which forecast the trend of business conditions, is steel. When the production of iron and steel increases, good times are close at hand.

The production of steel is slowly increasing. This means but one thing: Business is picking up. There is every reason to expect a steady progress toward better times.
