NAVAL RESERVES OF STATE GET A TRAINING SHIP

U. S. S. Dubuque Is Assigned to Michigan Waters.

(By Associated Press)
DETROIT, Mich., May 6.—Action of the navy department in assigning the U. S. S. Dubuque to Michigan waters for use of the United States Reserve Force will make it possible for this state's naval reserves to set a standard of efficiency ranging with that found in any other part of the country in the opinion of R. T. Brodhead, commander of the Reserves in Michigan.
The Dubuque is a sister ship of the U. S. S. Paducah, which has been assigned to the Minnesota Reserves. These vessels will be the finest Naval training ships on the Great Lakes.
Commander Brodhead announces he will mobilize 150 men and 18 officers here Sunday, May 21, and take them to Portsmouth, New Hampshire where the ship will be brought to Detroit via the St. Lawrence river and the canals. As part of the trip will be thru Canadian waters it will be necessary to remove the mounted guns and ship them by rail. It would be a breach of international etiquette Commander Brodhead explains, to take an armed American vessel into Canadian territory.
Enrollment in the Michigan Reserves now is about 1,200 and the commander expects the number will have been increased to about 2,000 by the end of the summer due in a large measure to increased interest in the organization because of the Dubuque.
The vessel, of the gun boat type, is adequate for all the needs of the Michigan Reservists according to Commander Brodhead. On this vessel men may be trained to enter active warfare on any ship in the American fleet in time of emergency.
Michigan is one of the four states in the country with a naval reserve that is functioning properly, the commander says. The other states are Ohio, Minnesota, and New York.
In former years Michigan ranked at the top in Naval Reserve efficiency and the commander believes the organization can reach the summit again as a result of opportunities for training afforded by the newly assigned craft. The Dubuque will reach Detroit about the middle of June, according to the schedule.

Would Exempt Mine Companies From a Tax On Drill Holes

IRON RIVER, Mich., May 6.—Proposed legislation exempting mining corporations of the Upper Peninsula from taxation on diamond drill holes will be introduced in the next state legislature by State Representative Patrick O'Brien of this city. Mr. O'Brien makes this statement in announcing his candidacy for another term in the house.
The representative will propose a tax exemption continuing five or ten years.
"I can remember when seven or eight diamond drill companies were operating in this district but at this time no company is operating," Mr. O'Brien said. "This is because the mining companies are taxed as soon as a diamond drill hole is sunk, before ore is discovered."
"My idea is not to make it possible for any company to escape taxation but to permit the companies to produce something that may be taxed in the future without causing a hardship to mining companies. The present law is acting as a deterrent to mining development."

SOO IS OPTIMISTIC OVER PROSPECTS FOR BIG SHIPPING

Great Increase Over Amount of Tonnage Handled Last Year Fully Expected.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., May 6.—With the opening of navigation for the 1922 season this city, at which is located the Soo locks, among the finest and best equipped in the country, has become a scene of great activity. Indications point, shipping men say, to a decided increase in marine activity over that of last year, a dull season due to business depression. Although no such condition is expected as resulted during the war period, when the tonnage passing through the locks broke all records, a decided increase over last season confidently is predicted. The freight tonnage on vessels locking through in 1921 aggregated but 48,249,254 short tons, against 79,282,496 short tons for the preceding year. The 1921 total was the smallest in more than a decade, the season being described by shipping men generally as the most dull.

from a business standpoint, in the recent history of the lakes.

1916 Record Freight Year
The season of 1916 established a record in freight shipments, 91,888,219 short tons passing through the locks. All figures include the traffic for both Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., and Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., locks being built on either side of the border. The Michigan locks enable lake vessels to pass the rapids in St. Mary's river here and to proceed with but slight delay to the lower lakes to Lake Superior, or vice versa. One hundred steamers pass through the locks each day during a normal season.

The state of Michigan built the first ship canal here, completing the project in 1853. It consisted of two locks, arranged tandem, each with a lift of nine feet.
Then came the Weitzel lock, 815 feet long, completed by the United States government in 1881. In the same year the government assumed control of the entire project.

More About Locks
At the time nationally prominent engineers visiting the Soo declared the Weitzel lock would be large enough to handle the greatest boats ever built on the lakes. Now the Weitzel is too small for 99 per cent of the traffic and is used as a repair basin or drydock.
The Poe lock, 800 feet long and 100 feet wide, was completed in 1886.

This was followed by the Davis lock, 1,350 feet long and 80 feet wide, and the Sabin lock, of the same dimensions as the Davis.

The lock across the river in Ontario is of about the same size as the Poe. Vessels may be locked through the Soo in 25 minutes.

The American locks are surrounded by a beautiful government park, largely designed by L. C. Sabin, resident engineer in charge who built the Sabin and Davis locks.

The traffic through the locks in 1920 was three times the amount passing the Suez canal. More freight passed here in October, 1920, than went through the Panama Canal for the entire year.

Legion Minstrel Men Hold First Rehearsal

An interesting meeting of the talent which will take part in the American Legion minstrel, was held in the Earle hall last night, when parts were discussed and run thru hurriedly for the first time.

The general outlines of the show were explained and arrangements made for a rehearsal Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

PRISON FRAUD TRIAL TO OPEN

Alfred West and Others to Face Jury in Marquette Court May 15.

(By Associated Press) MARQUETTE, Mich., May 6—Trial of Alfred West, former bookkeeper of Marquette branch prison, indicted nearly a year ago for alleged defalcation of prison funds, and others drawn in to the scandal by revelations before the grand jury, will be started at the Marquette court, opening May 15. Witnesses have been summoned to appear May 16, the first day of court being devoted to the arrangement of the calendar. It is probable the trial cases will be among the first tried. Judge Richard C. Flannigan of Norway will preside.

Although the grand jury returned 12 indictments, some have already been quashed, it is understood, and it is regarded as probable that others will be stricken out. Just what cases will go to trial besides that of West is uncertain.

West Made Confession West, it will be recalled, confessed to the legislative investigating committee headed by Representative Geo. Lord of Detroit, that he was responsible for shortages aggregating $12,000. Part of this was in the savings of prison inmates, of which he was banker. Owing to the absence of complete prison records the exact amount involved was never revealed. West cooperated with the auditors in their efforts to straighten out the books and time lost in this endeavor has delayed the trial.

Irregularities were first found by the legislative investigating committee in January of 1921, and the demand was made that the book be untangled immediately. In March, West, a married accountant with the institution many years, was arrested and the legislators, returning to Marquette, found irregularities with so many ramifications that a grand jury was suggested. Judge Flannigan convened the grand jury and Deputy Attorney General O. L. Smith assisted in its investigations.

Michigan Elevator Exchange Showing a Marked Growth

(By Associated Press) LANSING, Mich., May 6.—The Michigan Elevator Exchange, in a 100 less than two years has grown into the largest hay, bean and grain co-operative marketing agency in the country.

The exchange was organized in 1920 with 23 members. It now has a membership of 161 and has, in addition, a reciprocal working agreement with the Michigan Potato Growers Exchange which affects the 129 members of the latter organization. The agreement provides that the potato exchange will market, thru its cooperative channels, potatoes for the members of the elevator exchange, while members of the elevator exchange will place hay, grain and beans for members of the potato exchange. In 1921 the Elevator exchange did a $4,200,000 business and in the first three months of 1922 it placed $1,244,000 worth of produce. The elevator and potato exchanges are members of the group of four commodity exchanges affiliated with the Michigan State Farm Bureau. The other two are the Michigan Milk Producers Association, having a membership of 1930 and the Michigan Livestock Exchange with 112 members. The four do an annual business of approximately $20,000,000.

BUSINESS IN STATE SHOWS STEADY AND SUBSTANTIAL GAIN

Manufacturing Is On Increase and Unemployment Growing Less Each Day.

(By Associated Press) DETROIT, May 6.—Automobile production in Detroit is between 20 and 25 per cent higher at this time than it was during the peak period of 1919 and early 1920. John I. Lovett, secretary-manager of the Michigan Manufacturers' Association announced in his monthly resume of business conditions in Michigan for April, "Grand Rapids still leads all other cities in the state in the percentage of employment, the number with jobs being slightly in excess of the normal rate, while Lansing continues to hold second honors, with Flint a close third."

Manufacturing in Michigan, while whole has not yet reached the normal rate, Mr. Lovett says, although conditions generally are brighter than at any time since the depression began two years ago. Mr. Lovett predicts good business, at least until the first of July. The concern of optimism among manufacturers, he says, is that a falling off in business in the coming July and August especially in the automobile industry. It is pointed out these months ordinarily constitute a dull business period for automobile manufacturers.

The future will depend in great measure upon the crop situation, not only in Michigan but through the country, the association, it is pointed out. The spring market for cotton has been a greater world wide market than those of any other year in the United States. It is pointed out, however, that the market is better after absence of two years. Such a step practically would mean good business through all of next winter, and next spring. Other factors entering into the future trade include freight rate and the tariff situation.

KANSAS STUDENTS URGED TO ADVOCATE CONSTANT CHANGES

William Allen White Regales Student Body with Wealth of Merry Advice.

LAWRENCE, Kan., May 6.—In his speech at the All-University convocation here today, William Allen White, editor of the Emporia Gazette, urged the students "not to accept the order that is."

"The one blessed privilege of youth is to change things. The one virtue of youth is a passion to change. Nothing is as wicked, as a conservatively youth," said Mr. White. "When you get older conservatism may be forced upon you by the logic of events. The insupportable grind of life may take down your enthusiasm for a better world, but your first object in life should be to make this world a better world, and in order to make this world a better world you must instill into your heart's blood the belief that this is not the best possible world. It is, as a matter of fact, a fairly good world, but it is only good because youth like you a generation ago decided it was a bad world and should be made better, and it will be a bad world in another generation unless youth like you, with all the vigor and vision and enthusiasm of youth look upon the faults of this world, and set out to make it better."

The first thing an engineer should do who would improve our civilization is to check it with his laughter. Laugh at it and see what parts need to be changed. Laugh at the ridiculous. The joy of laughing and jesting will not assemble the stone or iron or concrete, but the party and paint and plaster will go. Intentionally youth appreciates a civilization in which it is not the best possible world. The school length of youth is the only thing that will hold down the rate of invention and invention. The past often sets up an institution which men are supposed to live by. It is not constructive, but it is one of the greatest gifts of the high seas. Laughter is revealing. Let youth laugh at it and the world need not be so dark. Only where youth is checked, where it is suppressed, does decay begin to break out. Civilization. When the last has come, then the people come in to get it. They are laughing at it. We have failed and failed to get the old thing up and made it look good and so it stays.

are vastly proud of it. But what do we know? What does any generation know of its own work? Laugh—blast your eyes—laugh while we grit our teeth and glare at you, and so go off stage cursing you. But, Jads, revenge for what we have done is the one awful menace to the structure before you. If it will not withstand your laughter, it will not hold up for all our prayers.

CONSIDERING PLAN TO BROADCAST THE FARM NEWS IN AIR

Michigan Agricultural Bodies Figuring On Possibilities of the Radio.

(By Associated Press) LANSING, Mich., May 6.—A committee composed of representatives of Michigan Agricultural College, the state department of agriculture and the federal state bureau of farm crop estimates is investigating the possibility of broadcasting crop information and market reports by radio to Michigan farmers. The committee is collaborating with Col. Roy Vanderhook, of the state department of public safety, who is looking into the practicability of wireless as a means of communication for the Michigan State Police.

It is the idea of President David F. Day of the Michigan Agricultural College, John A. DuBois, state commissioner of agriculture and Vernon H. Church, state director of the bureau of farm crop estimates, that through dissemination of crop information would be of immense value to the farmer. Some work along that line is now being done from the station at the M. A. C., but it is believed that development will add greatly to the effectiveness of the plan.

One of the plans being considered is to make use of the permission of the state of the radio system that may be installed by the Michigan State Police. The plan for this system called for several antennas scattered through the state. The sending station at the M. A. C. and the State Police station would serve as a sort of trunk line for scattering radio information. From the police station, it would be broadcast to farmers, having receiving sets, and could be made available in other forms in the neighborhood of the stations.

President Friday, who is in charge of the plan, is in favor of the project, and the fact, accurate transmission of agricultural information is one of the things that will aid materially in the advancement of farm profits and methods. The M. A. C. and the state and federal agencies collecting crop information should put their information in the hands of the farmers as fast as it becomes available if they are to function 100 per cent, he believes.

Bathing Beauties Face Stern Judge

(By Associated Press) HONOLULU, T.H. May 6.—Fair damsels violating the ordinance against curtailed beach dress recently adopted will face a stern judge if they are haled into court now. A. D. Larnach, substituting for Police Judge J. H. Lightfoot, let it be known "bargain counter days in this court are over." When asked if he would follow the policy of Judge Lightfoot, who fines violators of bathing suit ordinance 10 cents for each offense.

"Stolen" Pearls Found in Harriman Auto

(By Associated Press) NEW YORK, May 6.—A $25,000 pearl necklace owned by Mrs. Averell Harriman, daughter in law of the late E. H. Harriman, has been recovered after it was missing four days. It was found in the lining of a limousine where it had fallen while Mrs. Harriman was returning from a luncheon. It had been believed lost for stolen. The necklace was passed down to Mrs. Harriman from her grandmother, Mrs. Francis Cooper Laurence.

$3,000 For Bride; Age Is No Object

(By Associated Press) CHICAGO, May 6.—Miss Emily Simons, 18 years old, and very pleasing to contemplate, offers to become the bride of any man who will come up with $3,000 to lift her father out of debt. Simons senior, is a mechanic, out of work. He was into debt buying furniture, clothes and other articles, the family needed, and then lost his job.

"The age of the suitor makes no difference," continued Miss Simons. "He may be as old as Methuselah, but if he is decent and produces the money to clear off the debt, I will marry him. I have lots of friends, but they haven't any money."

STARE COSTS FAME AS YOUNGSTER VOTER

(By Associated Press) LONDON, May 6.—If it hadn't been for an Angela Churchill's curious stare she would have been the world's youngest voter.

Under English law, anyone whose name happens to get onto the register of voters is entitled to vote, regardless of age or other qualifications. So, when Angela's name by accident appeared on the register at Stihney, Cornwall, her mother carried her to the polls.

Her age was given as 18 months, and it was decided she could vote, but when the usual questions were put to her, she only stuck a finger in her mouth and stared.

Choosing to state that the reduction in the number of charges provided for by various charitable, penal and remedial agencies was claimed by the Rev. Edward J. Randall, secretary of the Chicago Bureau of the Protestant Episcopal church, in a statement today.

The Rev. Mr. Randall quoted a letter from Secretary Evans of the Peoria Chamber of Commerce in which it was stated that "concerning the old distilleries and brewing plants at Peoria employ more men and women than in any other city in the United States."

Arrests Decrease. The statement said that arrests for drunkenness increased in the state of Massachusetts from 93,365 in 1911 to 129,455 in 1917, declining to 37,159 in 1920.

A deaconess who was declared to be in close touch with the conditions in the public institutions of Chicago replied to the Rev. Mr. Randall's letter of inquiry as follows: "Regarding the effect of prohibition, as we see it in the institutions we visit, there was a marked change in the prisons and hospitals."

Knows Inside Story Of U. S. Treasury in the Last Sixty Years

WASHINGTON, May 6.—For more than 100 years a bright-eyed, gray-haired man has presided at a desk in one of the rooms of the spacious Treasury building watching billions of dollars in coin, currency and credits march by. He knew national banks in their infancy just after the Civil War, a time when the "inside story" of the American monetary system.

He is Thomas P. Kane, deputy controller of the currency and right-hand man of many "superintendents." He recalled the wheel horse of the administrative machinery which looks after the national banking system. Recently he yielded to the urging of friends and began writing his memoirs to tell "the inside story" of most of the great financial movements of the last 60 years.

MICHIGAN IN DEBT TO WEATHER MAN

"Borrowed" Nearly Two Degrees in Temperature During the Year of 1921. (By Associated Press) DETROIT, Mich., May 6.—Michigan people just can't stay out of debt, to the weather man. During 1921 they "borrowed" 1,529 degrees of temperature, that being the amount of the accumulated excess for the year.

This year Michigan, instead of paying its debts by experiencing a colder season than usual, continues to run into debt. During the first four months of 1922 the accumulated excess amounted to 271 degrees. That means the year so far has been a warmer one than usual despite the chilly blasts last winter.

Of course, as the weather bureau points out, mere humans have no control over the weather, and so must accept whatever is offered them. Consequently the people of Michigan are not becoming wildly excited just because they are running into debt to the Weather Man.

Firing a revolver at Ernest Mills, cashier, the robber jumped over the counter, and grappled piles of currency which he placed in a grip. Confederates in an automobile were waiting. Mills was unhurt. Other bank employees were driven into a vault before a fusillade of shots, but none were hurt. Police chased the robber's car but were out distanced.

Croker's Memory Paid Deep Tribute by New York Poor

NEW YORK, May 6.—Bent and wrinkled women and old men—250 of them and most of them poor—knelt in prayer yesterday for Richard Croker, who died recently in Ireland.

Most of them at some time in their lives had been helped in an hour or more by the hard but often warm-hearted man who ruled over Tammany Hall for many a year.

It was these poor people—not politicians—who prayed for the repose of Croker's soul at a requiem mass in the Church of St. Ignatius Loyola. There was no eulogy, no music. It was simply a low mass.

'END OF RAINBOW' PROVES BIG HIT AT HIGH SCHOOL

Senior Class Pleases Big Audience by Clever Presentation of Enjoyable Comedy Last Night.

Last night's presentation of "The End of the Rainbow" by the Senior Class of the high school, proved all that was claimed for it and the marked historic ability shown by the members of the cast was a pleasant and refreshing surprise to the big audience which turned out to see the youngsters in action.

"The End of the Rainbow" is a three-act comedy story of college life wherein virtue is triumphant over crookedness, the fatlits, follies and general loveliness of a bevy of attractive coeds win the heart and sympathy of the audience, and a stalwart, sturdy intellectual hero who has braved as well as brains finally comes into his own despite the machinations of a tricky minded villain and a college vamp.

Fine Presentation. It was as good a show as it would have been had it been presented by a professional company and the manner in which the young people handled their parts reflects the great credit not only upon themselves, but those who were responsible for their study of the parts.

Plot and comedy, comedy and tragedy mingled pleasantly through the clever little play and the evening was made more enjoyable by the introduction of some specialty numbers, one being a clever-featured dancer in which the Misses Helen Kemp, Isabel Harder, Zorabla Leppa, Harriet Mc Guire, Ethel Finch, Catherine Clark, and Helen Bourke took part.

All in all, the senior class play this year is regarded as being among the most artistic and successful in every way ever given by a high school class.

ESCANABA PASTOR HEADS LUTHERANS

Annual Meeting of Superior Conference Will End Today in Marquette.

MARQUETTE, May 6.—The Lutheran Conference session began yesterday morning at 9 o'clock with devotional service conducted by the Rev. G. S. Olson. After this service the Rev. A. F. Monell, president of the Conference, spoke a few words of welcome to pastors and delegates of the Conference, after which regular business was resumed. Committees were elected, and the annual report of the president was considered.

The Superior Conference consists of sixty-five congregations with a membership of almost 12,000 and many of the congregations are supported by the Mission Board. The president, in his report, emphasized the need of more workers to take care of the large field. He emphasized the laxity of Sunday observance so often manifested, not only by the large majority, but also by members of Conference congregations.

The report emphasized the general support accorded Augustana college and Seminary at Rock Island, Ill. The congregations responded by completing the quota of $16,000, and about two thirds of this amount has been paid in cash. The Women's Home and Foreign Missionary society conducted a successful drive for funds for a woman's building at Rock Island.

The report also referred to the various activities of the congregations. In Brevoort, Mich., a new church building has been erected; the English Lutheran church in Unity, Wis., is making preparations for a new edifice; Wisconsin Rapids has erected a new parsonage; the congregation in Iron River sold its old church and is preparing to build this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Solomon Greenback returned this morning from Florida, where they spent the winter. On the return trip they stopped off in Washington D. C.

Letter of Los Angeles Girl to Her Parting Word

LONDON, May 6.—One of the most amusing letters ever read in an English divorce court was an exhibit in the case in which Wilfred Samuel, London theatre manager, obtained a decree against Grace Clayton Dukeman daughter of a Los Angeles Jeweler.

Samuel married Miss Dukeman in London in 1913. After the wedding the couple lived in the same house but in separate rooms for six weeks. The wife obtained funds from her husband for a trip to America. While aboard the steamship on the way to New York, Mrs. Samuel wrote a letter in which she said:

"I have thrown your wedding ring and locket into the sea with my compliments. Thanks, not follow, for this pleasant little journey and return to America. You are quite an interesting man. Was Not Right Man. I am not returning home, but am going to meet a gentleman whom I love. We will meet in New York and begin the world together; that's my game. This has been framed up for some time so you can get your divorce— you don't I will. There is a bit of sweetness and love in me but it's all for the right man; not for you. What a fool you are. I hate you. Never will I cast my eyes on you again as long as I live. Don't come to America. Americans won't have anything to do with such ignorant simpletons as you. Worse Than Snake. To have you touch me was worse than being stung by a poisonous snake."

Samuel took no action and in April 1916, his wife wrote from Chicago, in this letter she said:

"Please release me. I have had several fine offers of marriage, and another says you will set me free if I ask you kindly." Daniel Tammen was cited as co-respondent and a love letter written by him from Boston in 1915 was tendered in court.
