GARY KNOCKS BONUS AS HEAVY BURDEN

SAYS TARIFF SHOULD BE OUT OF POLITICS

Urges Substitution of Sales Tax for Income Tax.
Thinks Tariff Should Be Submitted to Committee of Twelve Non-Partisans For Solution.

NEW YORK, May 26—Elliott H. Gary, in an address as the President of the American Iron and Steel Institute, in session at Hotel Commodore today, advocated that congress take the tariff out of politics, that it play no favorites in regulating things and that it substitute a sales tax for the income tax and that it forget the soldiers bonus until the nation is lifted from its present heavy financial burden.

As to the business nature of America, Mr. Gary declared himself as still "an optimist." "In the iron and steel industry," he said, "the profits are not satisfactory and but few of any of our ought to be doing business at a loss."

"Consolation and Hope"
In a remark which he said was "one inserted as a tone of consolation and hope," the magnate asserted "congressmen are like the ordinary run of individuals—most of them honest and well intentioned but a few of them possessed of less merit."

Says Bonus "Not Ripe"
"The bonus question," he declared, "is not yet ripe for determination, even though there may be two sides to the question as to whether or not the soldiers who have escaped disability, physically or mentally, should be paid or ask payment of a bonus. It would not be useful for us to consider or form opinions on that question at present."

CHILD INJURED WITH "SUCKER" IN HIS MOUTH
Stick Is Shoved Down the Throat of George McEwen While Playing.

The danger of children playing or skating while having "all-day suckers" in their mouths, was illustrated again again yesterday when 10-year-old George McEwen, son of Mr. and Mrs. George F. McEwen, Ogden avenue, was very painfully injured. The little fellow was playing with some companions, when one of them bumped into him and pushed the "sucker" and stick down the boy's throat, breaking the skin so that the injury bled quite profusely, but fortunately the stick did not penetrate the walls of the throat or mouth to any great extent.

Police Pour Liquor, Ministers Look On
PADUCAH, Ky., May 26—Three city detectives "poured" at a function in the downtown streets, at which five ministers were guests. The detectives "poured" seventy-five gallons of confiscated whiskey in a sewer while a crowd looked on.

Andrew Carnegie made his first dollar. When he proudly took his wages home after his first week's work, his good mother advised him to lay aside TEN PER CENT. Much as he wanted to spend the money, Carnegie followed his mother's advice and placed one-tenth of his earnings in the bank.

This one-tenth plus other tenths gave him the capital he needed when Opportunity knocked on his door.

LAND CLEARING AT PERKINS PROVES A WONDERFUL PARTY

About Seventy Escanaba Boosters Drive Up, See Demonstration and Enjoy Fine Dinner.

(By Spectator)

"The show must go on" seems to be the working slogan of the Land Clearing Short Course, at one time that was the impression gained by people of Perkins and vicinity. Well, the land clearing team pulled into Rapid River four hours late, but road delays apparently mean nothing to Larry Livingston and his hunky gang of huns up land clearing agents. Two county road tractors, made available for emergency hauling, due to the foresight of County Agent Joe Turner and the cooperation of R. P. Mason, were the "life savers" that enabled the land clearing school to get to the field ten miles away. Working side by side with the Red "Speed Wagon" the Ford truck and the travel-stained road-wary touring car of the same well known make, the dynamite crew, the stump puller men with their heavy equipment, and all the other paraphernalia necessary for land clearing work was landed on the field and in place by 10:30. And the "show went on!"

Side Lights Stump School The field chosen was quiet typical

GRANDMA USED SAGE TEA TO DARKEN HAIR

She Mixed Sulphur With It to Restore Color, Gloss and Youthfulness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home though is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store, all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

the cooperation of the A. J. Kirstin Company of this city, performed well as usual; the hand power pullers also worked up to expectations, and many during the day "took a turn" on the sweep, commenting afterward on the way these powerful little pullers took out the stumps.

Blast Out Ditch

Dynamite came into play not only for stump blasting throughout the day, but a ditch blast late in the afternoon showed how cheaply, quickly and efficiently ditching work can be done on swampy land by using this new 50 per cent straight low freezing nitro glycerine and firing it with a single cap by propagation. As has been the case at each land clearing school where this feature has been included in the program for the day, ditching in this new way made a strong appeal to farmers who have draining problems to face on their own farms. To them this speedy way of providing an outlet for flood water appears to be the real solution - which it really is.

But we are getting ahead of our story. We almost forgot to mention the fine dinner that was served in picnic style under the spreading maples on the lawn at the John Logan farm. It was here that L. A. Erickson, Escanaba merchant farmer, set a new record in the eating line, winning over every distance from the dashes to the marathon. Others ran him a close second, but the honors were never in grave danger, though Mr. Gasser, of Gladstone, did his little banker's best. Then, with tight belts and a feeling of complete internal satisfaction, everybody went back to the field for the afternoon work.

Attendance Is Large

Farmers came from miles around, Trombley, St. Nicholas, Maple Ridge, Friday, Perkins, Brampton and Rapid River were well represented. Of the 200 or more who attended, at least 75 per cent were real farmers, when there were the city folks who came as spectators, but who allowed their enthusiasm to run wild, and before the day was over more than one pair of hands bore blisters as the proof of honest but enjoyable toil. From Gladstone and Gladstone, where the Chautauque Convention, the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs, and business men at large got behind the land clearing movement and pushed a line turnout of the "go-getters" who look ahead toward community and county advancement went to Perkins and were well rewarded. A beautiful day spent in the open air, watching and taking part in work that is transforming idle acres into farmers' dollars, on an increasingly important scale, no wonder they were contented and glad to go.

Only seventy boosters made the trip to Perkins by car from this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Field of Millton, N. D., also came in the S. R. Billson home in Wells.

Joseph Moroney of Perkins transacted business here yesterday.

THE Seaside Follies of nineteen-twenty-two are here. The show last year was indeed a show of follies in which the leading roles were played by the dainty bathing suit and the fur-trimmed suit. But this year the follies are more sensible, if one may say so, but just as diverting, for we have the little gingham bathing suit as the ingenue and star of the season. Fresh from the country, it is making a big bit at the seashore. It is made as simply as a suit of rompers. A sunbonnet comes with it, and very often a large beach parasol to match. Betty Compton, pretty star in Paramount pictures, in the photo above wears a rubberized cape that is trimmed in applied circles. It is a very effective thing, and she wears it in her forthcoming picture, "The Bonded Woman." The suit is a simple black satin blouse and bloomers without any superfluous fullness. A shirred apron fore and aft gives the effect of a short skirt slit at each side. This little device allows freedom for swimming and fools the censors at the same time, for the suit is practically a one-piece suit, camouflaged to look skirted. There are still many beaches where they demand that women try to swim with as many clothes on as possible.

FRIDAY, MAY 26, 1922

"Let's Make Escanaba A Better City"

THE SENATE CAN SAVE THE ARMY.

Though the senate appropriations sub-committee having charge of the war department appropriations bill would have done better if it had approved the estimate of Secretary Weeks calling for a force of 150,000 men and 13,000 officers, nevertheless in recommending an enlisted force of 140,000 men and 12,530 officers it probably has done all that could reasonably be expected from it in view of the fact that the President has not stood as uncompromisingly behind his secretary's recommendations as he might have done.

Also the sub-committee can find additional excuse for its tendency to compromise a little with the house of representatives destructionists, by quoting Chairman Kahn of the house military affairs committee, a consistent champion of preparedness. Mr. Kahn while holding that the army establishment ought to have the full complement of 150,000 men recommended by Mr. Weeks and General Pershing, has made what is interpretable as a concession, in saying that if congress is determined to direct a reduction of personnel it ought not to go below 140,000.

The sub-committee likewise must be given credit for making a stand for the retention of an officers' corps, substantially of the size urged by General Pershing, which is an important matter when the fate of the training camp and R. O. T. C. movements are considered.

If the senate will accept the report of its sub-committee and will stand firm in conference, it will at least save the army from the dangerous demoralization that would result from the passage of the house bill. And this ought to be relatively easy because the scuttlers among the representatives for the most part have not been acting from conviction but have been playing cheap politics with the military just as they did with the naval estimates, and some of them already are beginning to learn from the people back home that this sort of thing isn't acceptable.

SAPER TO BE GOOD.

The administration speaking through Secretary Hoover appeals to the good citizenship and good business sense of the coal operators in outlining its proposals for the regulation of price and for the allocation of orders throughout the strike period. When the coal men go to the conference in Washington called for May 31, they will go with full knowledge of an admission by the White House that the government is without legal authority to fix the price of coal, and that whatever is done must be brought about through voluntary co-operation on the part of the operators and dealers.

But if this is the formal situation it does not describe the whole of the position in which the operators find themselves. There is something else they must take into consideration. In his statement regarding the conference call, Mr. Hoover remarks pointedly that "charges by wholesalers or retailers of larger commissions than are allowed under the Garfield scale, or the resale of coal for speculative purposes, is not fair to the public, and the government would like to hear from consumers who have been subjected to higher prices than this basis warrants."

This conveys a warning to the coal men that unless they are good voluntarily they will be subjected to a moral duress, which in the present state of the public mind can be made only a little less effective than a legal control. So many operators already have cheerfully agreed to abide by the Garfield wartime price arrangement as a basis for fixing present prices that the government probably will not find it necessary to act along this line, but if it does, operators may feel perfectly satisfied that Washington will have public opinion and support behind it, and that in the end it will be exceedingly poor business to undertake to "kick against the pricks."

A DILEMMA FOR DEMOCRATS.

According to the New York Times, six Democratic senators have expressed themselves in favor of some action which will help Senator Reed in his campaign for renomination. They take this attitude partly because of personal friendship and because they are worried for fear the defeat of Reed will split the party in Missouri and give the Republicans a victory not only in the contest for senator, but also in the congressional election.

But while they desire to allay the dissension among Missouri Democrats, these gentlemen are disquieted by the thought that a defense of Reed is likely to be interpreted as a condemnation of former President Wilson. To anyone in a ringside seat, this view of the matter would seem to be inevitable. How to support a marplot and a plotter at one and the same time is a problem not yet solved, and this difficulty spreads far beyond the borders of Missouri.

Either Mr. Wilson is still inspiring the policies and leading the thought of Democracy or he is not. He seems to think he is, for in his letter discouraging the candidacy of a third aspirant to the Missouri senatorial nomination Mr. Wilson did not hesitate to speak of "my leadership." If that leadership is acknowledged, Democrats cannot support Senator Reed, but, if they desire to give notice that Mr. Wilson is no longer leader, supporting Reed would constitute evidence of the fact.

Possibly the six sympathetic senators will find what they think is a middle path between these alternatives, but if their efforts result in a plausible defense of Reed which does not repudiate Wilson, they will be entitled to all the medals ever struck for adroit pussyfooting.

If the ex-kaiser watch American affairs he may get some encouragement out of the fact that Babe Ruth came back.

Original Stories by Grade Pupils in the Escanaba Schools

"THE LION AND THE GOAT"

Once there was a lion and he was weak and old and could not go out to hunt for food. One day a goat came by. The lion said, "Pray, come in and let me see some pretty meat of yours." So the goat went close to the lion's den and said, "I too think my coat is pretty." But when the goat went into the lion's den the lion ate his up.

CHAPLIN WOULD SAVE MOTHER

Mentally Unsound She Faces Deportation by U. S. Authorities.

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, May 26—Immigration authorities are investigating the conditions upon which Hannah Chaplin, the aged and shell-shocked mother of Charles Chaplin, motion picture actor, and Sidney Chaplin is allowed to remain in the United States.

This became known with the issuance of an order by E. J. Henning, assistant secretary of labor, granting stay to enable Mrs. Chaplin and counsel employed by her sons to present legal grounds for permitting her to be a semi-permanent resident in the United States.

Mrs. Chaplin, herself an actress, it was explained, was mentally deranged by shocks suffered during one of the first German aerial raids on London during the war. After the war ended, her sons desired to take her to California to give her environment and treatment which would ease her condition and possibly, it was hoped, restore her reason. She was after some difficulty, given permission to enter the United States and remain for one year. This time has expired and the question has arisen whether she can be legally allowed a longer period of residence.

The Chaplin brothers, upon her arrival in the United States, gave assurance that she would never become a charge upon public charity, and installed her in a cottage at Santa Monica, California, under care of trained nurses and with expert medical and neurological attention.

The attending physicians report, it was said, that her mental condition has improved steadily, despite her age, and counsel also have presented a statement that Charles Chaplin is worth more than $1,000,000, contending that the extraordinary circumstances justify some yielding in the legal barriers against admission into the United States of aliens either permanently or temporarily mentally unsound.

A decision in Mrs. Chaplin's case, it was said, is expected to be announced shortly by the immigration board of review.

$10,000 IS OFFERED TO TRAP BOMBERS

(By Associated Press) COLUMBUS, Ga., May 26—Rewards totaling $10,000 were offered by the city and county commissioners for evidence to bring about the arrest and conviction of persons, who Saturday night placed explosives on the front porch of Mayor J. Homer Dimon's residence. The city and county boards meeting together each offered $5,000.

Miss Merrie Feblman of Atlanta, Ga., has been admitted to the Atlanta bar at the age of 17. She is the youngest person that has ever passed the bar examination in Georgia.

NEW GERMAN ENVOY CANNOT MEET HARDING

Dr. Wiefeldt Forgets to Bring His Credentials to Washington.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 26—Dr. Otto Wiefeldt, new German ambassador to the United States, has been in a most embarrassing position since his arrival in Washington.

He has been in the capital for more than a week now, and has not yet been received by President Harding. This fact has caused a great deal of comment in diplomatic quarters.

Monday the terrible truth came out. Dr. Wiefeldt left Berlin so hastily that he forgot his letters of credence, and he can not be formally presented at the White House until he has them.

The new ambassador discovered that he had forgotten his papers shortly before arriving in New York. He sent an urgent cable to Berlin to rush them post haste, and they are now enroute to Washington, but until they arrive Dr. Wiefeldt cannot meet President Harding.

The paradoxes presented in Washington's diplomatic set are many. Dr. Wiefeldt has a country to represent, but has no papers. Boris Bakhmeteff, the Russian ambassador, has the papers, but no country.

VETS' CHIEF JAILED ON THEFT CHARGE

WASHINGTON, May 26—Marvin Gates Sperry, national commander of the Private Soldiers and Sailors Legion, was jailed here on complaint of Deputy Marshal George Smythe, a Canadian veteran in charge of the Buddies' club, organized by Sperry, alleged, it was stated, that Sperry had taken $6,000 of the club's funds.

ARMSTRONG A CANDIDATE

DEFENSE OF WEST AT MARQUETTE IS TAKING FORM NOW

Claim That Proof Is Not Established That Shortage Really Existed in Prisons on Accounts.

MARQUETTE, May 25.—The defense of Swan A. West, on trial in circuit court for alleged embezzlement of state funds while bookkeeper at the Marquette branch prison, is taking form, so far as it has progressed, along two lines.

In the first place, N. C. Spencer, attorney for West, is trying to prove that the special audit of prison accounts does not establish conclusively that a shortage existed, and that if there was a shortage, the auditors have not succeeded in pinning on West the crime of appropriating for his own use the funds alleged to be unaccounted for.

Would Shift Responsibility
Second, Mr. Spencer, since the beginning of the trial, has been building a foundation, it appears, upon which to base a final contention that West was not custodian of prison funds, nor in charge of their distribution, but that the late Warden Russell was the responsible officer.

D. H. Edmiston, accountant employed by H. A. Higgins to audit the prison books, was on the stand again yesterday. Mr. Spencer, following what appears to be an intention to "white-wash" West of responsibility for the condition of the funds, asked Edmiston why he charged the alleged shortage to West, inasmuch as all checks drawn on institutional funds, according to the auditor's report, were signed by James Russell, warden.

"Because I supposed Mr. West was custodian of the books and records of the institution," Edmiston answered.

"Bearer" Check System
In testifying to West's alleged issuance of "bearer" checks, which were deposited in the bank and entered on the cash books for tax disbursements in payment for goods received by the person, and later taken up as receipts to the institution, Edmiston contended that the cash book entries, made by West, were faulty because instead of showing receipts for freight discounts allowed on bills, the net amounts were carried as disbursements.

The effect of this alleged system, the auditor declared, was to show disbursements not actually made and to create an inflated cash account.

The auditor asserted that in his opinion West's alleged system of depositing "bearer" checks in the bank as disbursements, and later entering them as receipts, was entirely foreign to good bookkeeping practice and he firmly maintained, under cross-examination, that it would appear by the audit that the alleged shortage reported would be chargeable to West.

The prosecutor asked Edmiston whether all handwriting in the prison cash book and other books of account, was West's. The auditor answered in the affirmative.

Explains $10,000 Error
Mr. Edmiston declared that the $10,000 error found in his audit represented only one item of funds received by the institution for the sale of products, and which, it appeared at the time of the audit, were not credited as being paid to the state treasurer. After the auditor's report was compiled and in the hands of the grand jury, however, Edmiston found, he said, that a check covering this item actually had been sent to the state treasurer, but that it was in transit at the close of business on the last day included in the audit and did not appear on the records until a later date.

Motion Is Argued
M. J. Sherwood, attorney for defendants charged in grand jury indictments with conspiracy, to defraud the state by alleged illegal purchase or appropriation of state property at the prison, argued a motion yesterday afternoon for amended bills of particulars to support the indictments. He contended that charges in the indictments were stated only in general terms and that the prosecution had not yet furnished specifications as to the time of the alleged crimes or descriptions of property alleged to have been appropriated. He declared that men charged with having appropriated "goods belonging to the state" are entitled to know "what kind of goods they are charged with taking, how much they took and when they did it."

Judge Flannigan ruled that bills of particulars containing specifications such as Mr. Sherwood wanted, are not required under the state law, in a case in which the defendants are charged with conspiracy to defraud. He ruled that the prosecution would be held to compliance with the court's previous order, which was that the defendants be furnished with statements showing the approximate dates, or dates between which the alleged crimes were said to have been committed.

In answering Mr. Sherwood's arguments, M. J. Kennedy, prosecutor, asserted that he had furnished all the particulars in support of the indictments which he was able to procure. He said that he would be utterly unable to produce information such as Mr. Sherwood had requested. Mr. West, he said, had promised to give him information which would have enabled him to draft a bill of particulars, but that just before the bill was to be prepared, West refused to give out the information, his attorney announcing that his client would stand on his constitutional rights.

Fishermen Assist in Forestry Drive

TRAVERSE CITY, Mich., May 25.—Every day is Arbor Day with a number of local fishermen who have adopted the plan of carrying shoots of trees on every fishing trip and planting them along the edge of the streams.

The plan was started by the Grand Traverse Conservation League of which Tarold Titus, author of "Timber," is president, and has spread in popularity until the majority of fishermen leave the city with their creels looking like mammoth porcupine, with willow and locust quills sticking out all over.

The willows and high growing locusts are the favorite tree among fishermen, because they are quick growing and hardy, usually taking root when simply stuck into the soil along the bank. In this manner it is planned to have shade and broods shelter along stretches of streams, which are now devoid of trees.

Says Ouija Board Drives Love-sick Girls To Suicide

By Associated Press:
CHICAGO, May 25.—Love-sick girls by the scores are being driven to the point of suicide by the ouija board, according to General Ballington Booth of New York, president of the Voluntary Council of America, a visitor here.

"The ouija board tells a girl her sweetheart doesn't love her," said Booth. "She then decides to end it all."

General Booth declared the ouija board, already abolished in some states, should be legislated out everywhere.

This Thaw woman resides in an apartment on Fifty-second street, west of Broadway, opposite the corner where the defendant parks his car when it is idle.

BRACE UP!

Do you feel old before your time? Is your back bent and stiff? Do you suffer urinary disorders? Don't despair—profit by Escanaba experiences. Escanaba people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Here's an Escanaba resident's statement.

J. E. Erickson, brakeman, 321 South 15th St., says: "In the morning my back used to get pretty lame and stiff and matches held me back from my work. If I stood too long, my back became sore and some nights I was so restless I couldn't sleep and as a result I would be tired and weak during the day. My kidneys were weak and I had to get up frequently during the night to pass the secretions which were badly colored and contained a sediment. I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and bought some at the West End Drug Store. It didn't take them long to strengthen me. I still use Doan's occasionally and always get the same good results."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the name that Mr. Erickson had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y. xx

SALTS IS FINE FOR KIDNEYS, QUIT MEAT

Flush the Kidneys at once when Back hurts or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of swelling, get four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a table-spoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications. xx

GIRLS MEN MARRY

By Laurel Gray

THE deatlier sex, meaning the ladies, frequently possesses virtues which have an appeal to men only. Men marry sensitive girls and find in them a certain chaste virtue which the ladies do not hymn among themselves. Sensitiveness is a surface indication of spiritual refinement, of a certain frailty which men admire. Super-sensitiveness is a vice; just as all virtues may be transformed into vices when over-emphasized and distorted. There must be more than one string to your harp, for even the loftiest virtue becomes tiresome when played upon too often and too long. Men are composed of solid substance—or, at least, they like to fancy themselves of stern composition. Men are as sensitive as women, they consider sensitiveness a strictly feminine affair, and crushing sensitiveness in their own souls, they seek for it in the opposite sex. Sensitive girls are alert to all sensations of their cavaliers. No girl ever uttered the truth when she said: "Oh, this is so sudden!" Not on your life. Every girl knows when a man has fallen in love with her; sensitive intuition has told her. Sensitiveness is inherent but may be developed by refinement. Men love sensitive girls who can "get" them; they are to draw diagrams and make explanations. Men marry sensitive girls.

RETAIL LUMBER TRADE PICKING UP SOME NOW

Volume of Business Reported to Be Encouraging.

In its weekly review of the market the American Lumberman says:

Taking the country as a whole, the volume of retail lumber trade is encouraging, though there are some sections where building is slow in getting under way. In the cities, building is going forward with increased momentum and dealers are enjoying a heavy demand. In the oil fields, business again is active and this is true also of the mining districts except coal producing regions. The agricultural districts are recovering more slowly than any others, but a marked improvement may be seen and the feeling is much better. Retail lumbermen have bought and are buying lumber heavily, but it is not accumulating in the yards, stocks being low; lumber bought by retailers so far this year has gone immediately into consumption and there has been practically no accumulation. The call from industries is increasing steadily as is shown by the recent keen demand for crating stock in the Chicago district. Activity in shipping factory products means that business is on the increase. Money is steadily becoming more plentiful and it is possible to get it at lower rates. Some large builders recently have been financed at unusually low rates.

Lumber production is increasing, not so rapidly as orders. As a result, some manufacturers have withdrawn from the market, and many others are limiting their sales to surplus stock or odd cuttings developed in getting out orders already on hand. The increase in production is well shown by conditions on the Pacific coast. For the week ended May 13, production of mills reporting to the West Coast Lumbermen's Association was one per cent above normal, whereas until a very short time ago production was 20 to 25 per cent below normal. The Southern Pine Association mills have enjoyed a very active business and last week's bookings per mill were the second largest on record for any week since the formation of the Southern Pine Association more than seven years ago.

Prices show an advancing tendency, but apparently recent advances have not halted buying. For the first nine weeks of 1922 the National Lumber Manufacturers Association reports
