

HARDING WARNS OPERATORS AND MINERS

FAILURE TO REACH SOLUTION WILL RESULT IN GOVERNMENT ACTING FOR GOOD OF PUBLIC

Washington, July 1—President Harding, in convening the congress of bituminous and anthracite coal operators and mine workers, officials, at the White House today, to devise a means of negotiating a settlement of the nation-wide coal strike, advised those present to arrive with promptness at an understanding, "for your mutual good and the country's common good."

President Harding, in addressing the gathering which included about thirty operators and the same number, approximately, of mine worker officials and district presidents, Secretaries Hoover, Davis and Fall, declared the present was not a time for the "militant note of the radical," and he reminded the conference that "toleration, fairness and an assurance of give-and-take and, finally, a sense of the larger obligation, are essential to a successful conference."

Urge Toleration

Coupled with his appeal and admonition, he uttered what was regarded as a warning when he said that "if the operators and miners can not settle this matter in a frank recognition of mutually of your interests, then the larger public interests must be asserted in the name of the people for the common good, which is the first and highest concern."

PLANS COMPLETE FOR CELEBRATION OF GLORIOUS 4TH

Various Committees Have Details Well in Hand and Success Is Assured for City's Great Day.

Details for Escanaba's mammoth Fourth of July celebration and homecoming are now virtually complete. Arrangements were completed yesterday afternoon with former Congressman R. K. Reilly, of Fond du Lac Wis., to deliver the Fourth of July address, which will have been delivered by Patrick H. Martin of Green Bay, whose illness made it impossible for him to come here.

Mr. Reilly is one of the most able and eloquent speakers in the Badger state and Escanaba is particularly fortunate in securing him for the important occasion when this city will have the greatest celebration in its history.

Start Sunday Afternoon
The festivities will really start Sunday afternoon when a band concert will be given in Ludington Park. This will be for the benefit of Escanaba generally and will constitute something of a welcome to those who have come back to the home town to spend the Fourth, as well as to those who are here at that time to spend a few days.

Circus Grounds Ready
The Chamber of Commerce water front, where the John Robinson circus will show, has all been cleared off this week and is in good condition. It is close to Ludington park and will be just a step over to where the fireworks display, flag festival and various sports will be conducted.

The committees in charge of the floats and decorated autos has assurance that this portion of the program will be a big success. Suitable prizes aggregating $100 have been offered and this part of the parade is expected to be the most amazing and spectacular ever staged in Escanaba.

Parade and Line of March
Following is the manner in which the parade will be made up and the line of march as given out by Marshal of the Day, Joseph P. Carney.

Police Department in Uniform Band.

Union Railway Shopmen of Nation Walk Out

Colored Hero Is Modest as to His Saving a Woman

NEW YORK, July 1—Threading the street during Fifth Avenue's most crowded hour, a woman was confused and stopped directly in the path of a swiftly moving automobile.

Crowds on the sidewalk looked on with horror or turned away from what appeared to be inevitable fatality, but one man dashed through the vehicles, crossed the street, seized the woman by the arm and carried her to safety.

Dazed by her sudden and unexpected delivery from death or serious injury, she failed to thank her rescuer, but a traffic policeman was more alert.

He stopped the man after he had started to go on his way and asked his name.

The stranger, who was a negro, turned. "Are you going to arrest me?" he asked.

"No," said the officer, "that was a brave act and I want to report it to headquarters."

"Just say a black man did it," said the man, and turned away.

He was Dr. Robert Moton, the successor of Booker T. Washington as head of the Tuskegee Institute, a major in the American army during the war and one of the foremost figures of his race in America.

Five assembling plants will be operated, located at Boston, Indianapolis, Oakland, Cal., Louisville and St. Louis. Included in the consolidation the following Michigan plants have been announced: The Jackson Motors Corporation, of Jackson, and the Saginaw Sheet Metal Works, of Saginaw, Mich.

LOCAL SCHOOL PLAY PLEASES A BIG CROWD

'Professor Pepp' Proves Fine Success Last Evening.

A most delightful entertainment was furnished to a large crowd last evening by the students of the Cleveland Commercial College, and other local talent, who participated in the staging of "Professor Pepp" at St. Joseph's school hall.

The plot was amusingly complicated and furnished many laughs to the audience.

The first act opened in front of Professor Pepp's home on the campus, on the first day of school. The Professor had just returned from a trip to Russia. C. E. Buttonbuser comes to the assumed name of Howard Green, Buttonbuser falls in love with Betty Gardner, the Professor's ward, and succeeds in obtaining the Professor's consent to marry here, through his knowledge of the Professor having been a member of a secret Russian society.

In the second act, Aunt Minerva, another character in the play, reveals that she has been engaged to Buttonbuser for twenty years. Professor Pepp is surrounded by nihilists, Petunia Muggins, the bird girl, and Sim Hatty, the town constable, fall in love. The scene of the third act opens on the college campus with Petunia Muggins and Aunt Minerva commenting on the recent football game. The plot is at last revealed, and Howard marries Betty Gardner, but Buttonbuser marries Aunt Minerva.

Everybody was so satisfied and delighted with the first production of a Cleveland Commercial College play, that perhaps plays will be put on here after by the school every year.

Much enthusiasm was displayed by the boys over this new project.

Mrs. Isadore Miller arrived home today from a few weeks' visit at Milwaukee and Two Rivers, Wis. At the latter place she visited her father.

MANY FANS GOING TO GLADSTONE TO BOOST THE LOCALS

Baseball fans of Gladstone and Escanaba are promised three big days of the national pastime beginning tomorrow when Escanaba goes to Gladstone for the opening game of a three-game series. And at the same time some of the ordinary baseball is promised. Both aggregations have been keyed up to a high pitch for this series which will be the last until next fall.

Manager Schram has German, Storkermar, Van Gotham as slappers. All of them have been going good. In addition to this, it was announced last night, that "Steiny" Aronson and Haleigh Baum, both high class and well known locals, who are located in Chicago now, would be here for the holiday series.

Over in Gladstone, Manager Mathy has been shooting his team full of pep and with his new hurler, Peters, in good shape, he believes he will be able to hang it on Escanaba, at least for the heavy end of the series.

HARDING WILL BACK UP THE LABOR BOARD

Board "Is the Government When It Speaks" Says Spokesman.

Several Hundred Thousand Men Scattered From Coast to Coast Walk Out at Ten O'clock.

(By Associated Press)

Washington, July 1. The 100,000 union shop workers called out on strike today in protest of the ruling of the railroad labor board in cutting the wage scale, faced the determination of the administration to stand squarely behind the board and uphold its authority as a legal component of the federal government.

The labor board "is the government when it speaks," was the language used by a White House spokesman yesterday in declaring the administration's determination to back up that agency in all its decisions.

BOARD'S EFFORTS FAIL

CHICAGO, Ill., July 1. Last minute efforts of the United States Railroad Labor Board to throttle the impending walkout failed yesterday when E. M. Jewell, head of the shop craft unions, refused to appear at a special inquiry into the strike call.

Subpoena servers failed to locate Mr. Jewell, although it was learned he was closeted with his strike committee at a downtown hotel here until 2 o'clock this morning.

THOUSANDS OBEY CALL

CHICAGO, July 1. Thousands of railroad shop men dropped their tools today to join the nationwide strike call issued by the international president of the six-shop-craft unions.

Early reports indicated that shop mechanics and their helpers from the New England roads to the transcontinental lines, had generally joined the walkout with about 25,000 already reported to have actually quit work by mid-day.

Strike Is General
While there was no way of compiling accurate figures which might be all-inclusive, telegrams from points scattered from Boston to Kansas City showed that the strike had taken effect in shops on nearly all the important roads of the east and the mid-west.

Shopmen in western states were expected to join the movement at the hour of 12 o'clock, in their territory.

Heavy Strike Percentage
The strike call sanctioned blacksmiths, boiler-makers, sheet metal workers, electrical workers, machinists and car men to stop work at 10:30 a. m. local time today, was issued on Thursday night after the ballot of 10,000 shop workers had showed, according to union officials, a 95 per cent majority in favor of striking.

Not more than 25,000 mechanics and helpers were actually at work however, according to the latest payment figures, although the total membership was allowed to vote, many of the unions being temporarily laid off.

Driving Contest On At Golf Club This Afternoon

Members of the Escanaba Golf Club, who have been practicing all week and getting "loosened up," will be ready to contest for honors in the Driving Club contest at the Golf Grounds this afternoon.

The contest will be staged on Tee No. 8, where contestants will endeavor to drive a ball the farthest, and having the greatest accuracy for distance. They will be allowed to shoot three balls each, the farthest to be judged of the three.

236 SHOPMEN IN ESCANABA GO OUT TODAY

Orderly Walkout Takes Place According to Schedule.

North-Western Train Service Will Be Maintained as Usual for the Present, It Is Stated.

Promptly at 10 o'clock this morning 236 men, members of the six shop crafts in the Escanaba shops of the Chicago & Northwestern laid down their tools, stripped off their overalls and walked out, in conformity with the strike order issued several days ago and which was not cancelled.

In the car department 191 men are out, while the remaining 175 are distributed in the blacksmith, boiler, machine, sheet metal and electrical departments.

There was no fuss or flurry about the walkout. The affair was all done in the finest spirit, the men turning in surplus material to the supply room and in every way conducting themselves in a gentlemanly and courteous manner.

Foremen of the different shops were left on the job as a matter of looking after property, so that no damage should accrue to the company through negligence in this regard.

140 Out in Gladstone
Over in Gladstone 140 men in the Sun Line shop went through a similar orderly walkout while at Green Bay 200 employees in the C. M. & St. Paul shops walked out.

Up to this morning there was some belief on the part of some of the men that the strike called might be cancelled but when the whistle blew for work, it was pretty well established that there would be no recall of the order.

Conversation with the shop men throws no light on the probable duration of the strike. The last time they were out two weeks. Whether this strike will be longer, only time will tell.

Many of the men are today preparing to take advantage of this opportunity to take camping and fishing trips. There was no animosity expressed and the boys were in the best of spirits about the entire affair. They apparently cherish no special resentment against the Northwestern as a road, but are simply obeying the will of the majority as indicated by the recent strike vote.

Service As Usual
Supt. Helmer of the Pennsylv. division of the Northwestern, stated this morning that the company anticipated no interference with its regular passenger and freight service for the present. Trains are scheduled to run as usual for the present, and no special allowance was indulged in as to what might eventuate if the strike is continued for several weeks.

The trains will be operated as usual, it was stated this morning, unless something occurs to prevent that operation, and this means that dock workers will continue as usual for the present, at least.

Friendly Spirit
Members of the local shop crafts will meet from time to time to discuss matters of interest to themselves and, as is usual in this city, the men will do nothing to harass or interfere with the company's operation of its business, other than the peaceable walkout.

Maintenance of way employees, as stated elsewhere in this paper, will not strike at this time and that fact will be gratifying to the traveling public.

Naturally, in this city, as elsewhere throughout the country, the general public hopes for a speedy settlement of the controversy, and the public will be pleased to know that locally, there will be no disorder, no attempt to interfere with company property or anything tending to put the men in the attitude of enemies to the company.

Mrs. L. Corning, of Cleveland, Ohio, is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Farrell, First avenue south. Mrs. Corning was formerly Miss Letitia Howlett of this city.

A. M. Russell, of Bellaire, Mich., is visiting his son, Arthur Russell, here for a few weeks.

SATURDAY, JULY 1, 1922

"Let's Make Escanaba A Better City"

MR. LEWIS FACES FACTS.

President John L. Lewis, of the United Mine Workers of America, spoke words of truth and soberness a day or two ago in Washington when he asserted that there is every moral and economic reason why the coal strike should be adjusted at an early date, and added the statement: "The interests of this country and its citizenship dictate such a course; the public is being penalized by the strike and the immediate future is fraught with even greater hazards if the strike is continued."

Thus it becomes plain that the head of the striking organization has a clear realization of the situation developed by the walkout, and what remains to be seen is the amount of effort he and his lieutenants will make to put an end to a condition that is soon going to act as a handicap on the whole national economic recovery unless it is terminated.

But the United Mine Workers do not bear the entire responsibility in the premises. It is equally the business of the operators to show an anxiety to reach a settlement of the walkout. They have just as big a duty to perform in the public interest as their employes have, and if they show themselves stiff-necked or indifferent, they will be held as strictly accountable before the court of public opinion as the union men will be held if they fail to be reasonable.

The people of the United States are not championing either side in the controversy that is causing idleness in the coal fields. It is inclined to be impatient with both parties. And just as Frank Farrington, president of the Illinois Federation of Miners, is correct when he declares, "we are in disrepute in the public mind," so, it is equally true that the operators are not precisely in high favor, and cannot afford to count any on special public indulgence to back them up in an obdurate attitude.

TO MAKE STEADY WORK.

"Unemployment, due to seasonal failures," declared the Federation of Labor convention, "can be minimized by deliberate planning to adjust seasonal work in such a way as to afford full time employment for as many as possible."

There can be no doubt about it. A great deal more could be done to remedy the evils of seasonal employment than has ever yet been done, and the more there is accomplished along this line the less labor trouble there will be, not to mention the incidental benefits to society as a whole of keeping workers continuously employed.

The industries in which there are most labor troubles are, for the most part, the industries that are seasonal in their nature—in which periods of employment alternate with long and improving periods of idleness. The coal and building industries are good examples of this.

It must be recognized, however, that the situation cannot be remedied wholly by the seasonal industries in themselves. There are some lines of work which can never, from their nature, be continued throughout the year. The solution in such cases lies in a combination of trades that will fit into each other, one being taken up as the other is discontinued.

This requires the exercise of organizing brains broader than those of any particular industry. It also requires a willingness on the part of workmen themselves in the seasonal occupations to learn and do more than one kind of work. Until they are ready to do this, as a matter of regular policy, they need not expect much improvement.

THE BIG DIFFERENCE.

The kidnapping of forty-one Americans by bandits operating in the southern part of Mexico, properly challenges the attention of the government in Washington. But while the state department is anxiously seeking information and may be depended upon to take any action that may become necessary, the situation is in striking contrast to the situation which would have developed under similar excitement a few years ago.

When Carranza was running things in Mexico City, the reasonable presumption in Washington, upon receiving news of a bandit outrage, would have been that the Mexican government must immediately be prodded else it would do nothing and probably would connive at the escape of the bandits with their captives and booty. Whereas today the reasonable assumption is that President Obregon is going to do everything possible to rescue the kidnapped Americans and their goods and bring the outlaws to justice.

Here is a big contrast in conditions that it is well to remember when certain hasty or privately disgruntled people go out of their way to roast the Mexican government, and undertake to discount it in the eyes of the American people. So far as the United States is concerned the big thing is Obregon's friendly disposition and his evident desire to do the right thing as far as possible. And whether he has earned formal recognition or not—and we think he has—he certainly has earned a right to immunity from cheap or hasty abuse.

When the members of a party or faction sink to assassination for the furtherance of their ends, it generally means that they have found themselves unable to make any effective appeal to public sentiment. Their crimes are an admission of impotence.

We are becoming more and more convinced that most of the wickedness of the flapper begins and ends in the jaundiced eyes of elderly prudes and prurient has-beens.

The advice to get in coal while the getting remains good, is bound to have a certain popular appeal.

ESCANABA LEGION AFTER 1923 MEET OF UPSTATE BODY

Local Members Urged to Storm Iron Mountain During Next Week's Convention.

"On to Iron Mountain," is the battle cry of the Escanaba Post of the American Legion, which will make a big effort to land next year's convention of the Upper Peninsula organization, for this city.

The following communication has been sent to all members of the local Post:

"We're determined to get the convention here in 1923. That means we've got to storm the town with a large army of soldiers and friends. It's going to be a hard battle, so prepare for the fray, and there's only one way to do it, that is to line up with the rang. Various posts have already assured large delegations. Look at Little Wakefield sending 75 men in 15 automobiles; Iron River, 75 men; Copper Country, a large delegation; and Marquette, 100 men. We've made reservations for 150. Will we get them?"

MacNider Report
"To land the convention here for next year should be an incentive alone, but don't forget our National Commander, Hanford L. MacNider, will be there to give us a live-wire report on the Federal bonus, owing to his recent visit in Washington, on hospitalization for our neglected disabled buddies, and on all matters that are of vital concern to every ex-service man."

"Then, too, think of the time we're going to have—a free barbecue, baseball games, dancing, boxing contests, carnival, etc. etc. Besides, we'll meet some of our old buddies and have a grand reunion."

"So, snap into it and plan for a day of real sport and enlightenment. At the same time jot down the following in your brain book:—"

Register at Once.
"First—Go right down to the Secretary, Gerald Cleary, at the Athletic Shop and register. This is very essential as we want to know how many are going and besides, we are making arrangements for cars for those who haven't any. Whether you have a car or not you should register. If you live out of town, write.
"Second—if you have a uniform that anywhere near fits you, dig it up and renovate it for the occasion. This serves to give a very favorable impression, and moreover, we must get into the parade.
"Third—Don't forget to invite your friends and relatives. All are welcome the more the merrier.
"Fall in line men, and let's get what we're going after."

Fashion Decrees Increase In Use Of Monkey Skins

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, July 1—The dictates of fashion have exerted a strong demand for black and white Abyssinian monkey skins to be used for trimmings, particularly in Paris. The supply of skins is very limited and not more than 15,000 to 20,000 can be obtained in a year, says Consul Grosso at Aden, Arabia, in a report to the textile division of the department of commerce, without unduly raising prices and exterminating the monkey. The price at Aden has been fairly steady, the cheaper grades selling at 45 cents and the more expensive at 50 cents.

EAT LESS AND TAKE SALTS FOR KIDNEYS

Take a glass of Salts before breakfast if your Back hurts or Bladder bothers you.

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.
Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful acroscent fruit-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

Peace or War Real Issue in South American Conference

Taken from Bolivia by Force of Arms, Chile has Extracted Untold Wealth from These Nitrate Beds.

By George Hitzler.
EVERYONE knows that a South American Conference is in session in Washington, but few know what it is about, what its object is, and still fewer Americans know what its objective should be.

Since the disaster in Europe, and the near bankruptcy that prevails over there, our trade with South America has increased by leaps and bounds. Our trade with the Republic south of Panama last year totaled nearly a billion dollars and we loaned to their governments and their municipalities more than $300,000,000. So we have a considerable stake in those countries. If the paths of peace and progress are persistently followed down there, we shall profit by it. If the tension existing between South American states lead to larger military expenditures the result will be a great economic loss.

As we are practically underwriting South American business and finance, we would have to shoulder sooner or later our share of that loss. One of the latest South American loans is that of $33,000,000 for Bolivia, just floated in New York, the bonds of which are now finding a ready market above par.
Americans, therefore, have a real interest in the South American Conference now in progress in Washington. The result of its labors means sooner or later peace or war in South America. The most unsettling factor today is the loss of sea frontage suffered by Bolivia as a result of the war by means of which Chile deprived her neighbors,

Bolivia and Peru, of their maritime provinces, rich in nitrates and otherwise valuable. While Peru suffered territorial mutilation and heavy losses, she remained in possession of a coastline approximating 1,700 miles in length; while Chile extended hers to nearly 6,000 miles.
But Bolivia was entirely shut out from commercial communication with the outside world except through Peruvian or Chilean ports and customs houses. The maritime province of Antofagasta was taken from Bolivia and her claims to the districts of Tacna and Arica were denied by Chile. In those days the claims of Bolivia to a seafront were supported by Peru.

To impartial American observers in Washington it is becoming clear that the labors of the Conference will prove a failure and the future of South America unsettled for many years, unless Chile modifies her policy of territorial expansion by conquest which she introduced upon American soil and unless Bolivia is given access to the sea in harmony with the new canon of nations that all nations have an undeniable right to free and unrestricted access to the sea.

which is crossed and re-crossed many times, to wonderful Brooks Lake, with the world's greatest trout fishing.
Other attractive features of the trip are unequalled views of the Teton Mountains, considered the most majestic of all ranges in the Rocky Mountain Region, and a ride through the Jackson Hole and Lake Region; the greatest big game country in the world.
A new booklet, entitled "Teton Mountain Route to Yellowstone National Park," is just off the press. Ask for a copy. Then you will want to go.

Circus Kiddies With John Robinson Circus, Tuesday, July Fourth.

ROBINSON CIRCUS IS TOPIC OF HOUR IN ESCANABA NOW

Big Show Will Pull in Bright and Early On Morning of July Fourth.

It's the John Robinson circus that's the topic of the hour for small boys of six as well as for those of sixty. The billboards, barns and dead walls are announcing with all the fluency of pictorial art its coming. And already preparations are being made for the one big holiday event of the year. About the time the milkman is making his rounds on the morning of July 4th, the first of the circus trains will be pulling into the railroad yards.

Much is promised by the management of the John Robinson circus this season. The show has reached such a size that it is causing the railroads considerable uneasiness to handle the train, and, in short if they were any longer it would be impossible. European agents have sacked the Old World in quest for novelties. The question of salary was not considered when it concerned the engaging performers of ability, of which more than 400 take part in the big show's program. New acts and faces will tend to eradicate the fallacy that "all circuses are alike."

The riding displays will be headed by such equestrian notables as Joe Hodgini, Madame Hodgini, Mme. Bedini and Irene Montgomery. The famous Nelson family of acrobats—the fourth generation of this celebrated act—will top the scores of stage and ring offerings, while the Nelson Sisters will captivate all with their aerial wire ballet—a series of whirlwind dances on the swaying steel thread. Fifty clowns, will win chuckles and howls of glee from the children and those of us who still cherish youth in our hearts.

SOCIAL NOTES

PRE-NUPTIAL PARTY

Miss Hazel Bloom was the honored guest at a shower party given Thursday evening at the home of the Misses Anna and Esther Anderson and Mrs. A. W. Moberg, 1114 First Avenue So. The young ladies gathered at the home where Miss Bloom had been invited. When she entered the home her surprise was genuine as she had not been given a hint of the plans for the party.

Bunco was the feature game of the evening. The first prize was captured by Miss Olga Hanson, the second by Miss Dorothy Best, while Mrs. Daniel Erickson carried off the "hooby" prize.

The home was artistically decorated for the occasion. White and yellow daisies were used in profusion. The table was daintily set and decorated with poonies in cut glass baskets. The favors were unusually pretty. Miss Bloom was presented with cut glass set of goblets and water pitcher. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostesses. The young ladies voted this one of the prettiest pre-nuptial affairs they had attended for some time. Miss Bloom is to be married in the near future to Axel Anderson, proprietor of the Gross drug store.

PARTY FOR FRIEND

Mrs. Lee Frink of Peoria, Ill., who has been visiting in this city for several days, was the guest of honor at a surprise party given by a number of her friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Tobin, 305 South 11th Street, Wednesday evening.

The ladies played five hundred. Mrs. M. J. Reed captured the prize. A dainty lunch was served. The reunion of old friends was a source of great pleasure to Mrs. Frink, who was taken completely by surprise. All reported having spent a most enjoyable evening.

Mrs. Frink left Thursday evening for Peoria, where she will visit for a few days before returning to her home.

WAR DRIVES LEADER ADMITS $5,000 THEFT

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, July 1.—Jerome A. Beyer, 38 years old, and formerly national director of the Constitutional League of America, received a suspended sentence from Justice Martin in the supreme court upon his plea of guilty to misappropriating $5,000 donated by John D. Rockefeller, Jr., which he deposited in his personal bank.

During the war he was director of 42 war drives, including Liberty loan, war savings and Hoover food economy.

William de Forrest Manice, treasurer of the league, asked for leniency for the defendant. In placing him under probation for a year Justice Martin said he took into his account his past record and the views of his associates in the league.

DARKEN GRAY HAIR, LOOK YOUNG, PRETTY

Sage Tea and Sulphur Darkens So Naturally That Nobody Can Tell.

Hair that loses its color and lustre or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

BOY SCOUT CAMPING ARRANGEMENTS ARE BEING COMPLETED

Other arrangements were made known today by the Camp Committee, as to the Boy Scout Camp that will be held at Fox, from July 29 to August 31.

After careful consideration the Camp Committee has fixed the cost for one Boy Scout camping a week at the Boy Scout Camp this summer.

The cost will be $6.00 one dollar payable with the application, the remaining $5.00 to be paid before the boy leaves for camp. In case something unforeseen should occur which prevents the boy attending camp, the one dollar registration fee will not be refunded. The camp fee of $5.00 will pay for the boy's food and the salary of the cooks who will prepare it. The additional expense will be born by the Local Council.

It was difficult for the committee to exactly decide what would be needed in the form of clothing and other necessities; but it was thought if the boys bring as near to this list as possible, they will be well equipped for the week's stay at camp.

Necessary
 Bathing suit.
 Tooth brush and paste.
 Soap (toilet and laundry).
 Scout Handbook.
 Writing paper and stamps.
 Shoe polish and cloth.
 Comb and pocket mirror.
 Two bath towels.
 Two dish towels.
 Blankets (ten pounds).
 Handkerchiefs.
 Notebook and pencils.
 Needle, thread, safety pins.
Clothing
 Wear Scout clothing to camp; also bring following clothing:
 Rain coat or poncho.
 Two shirts colored, or
 One light and sweater.
 Pajamas or night shirt.
 Pair of overalls or other old work clothes.
 Underwear.
 Stockings.
Desirable
 Extra shoes (heavy).

Rubbers or rubber boots.
 Flash light.
 Camera.
 Pocket knife.
 Haversack.
 Athletic goods.
 Books on nature study.
 Compass.
 Scout ax.
 Signal flags.
 Shoe laces.

Prizes Offered

To have something for the boys to strive for while in camp, the committee will give the honors of "Satisfactory Camper" and "Honor Camper" to those who diligently apply themselves.

A satisfactory camper is one who conducts himself at all times in a manner which meets with the approval of the camp staff.

An honor camper is a scout whose presence in camp is of such value because of the fine spirit of co-operation and service shown by him, that his leaving will be a decided loss, not only to the camp staff, but to the rest of the camp as well.

Letters will be written the parents of scouts who qualify for either honor, at the close of the camp.

"Flesh! Flesh!" he roared in relief; and his big arms gripped Alan. As they struggled, they stumbled and fell to the floor, the big man underneath. His hand shifted its hold and caught Alan's throat; Alan got an arm free and, with all his force, struck the man's face. The man struck back—a heavy blow on the side of Alan's head which dizzied him but left him strength to strike again, and his knuckles reached the man's face once more, but he got another heavy blow in return. The man was grappling no longer; he swung Alan to one side and off of him, and rolled himself away. He scrambled to his feet and dashed out through the library, across the hall, and into the service room. Alan got to his feet; dizzied and not yet familiar with the house, he blundered against a wall and had to feel his way along it to the service room; as he slipped and stumbled down the stairway, a door closed loudly at the end of the corridor he had seen at the foot of the stairs. He ran along the corridor to the door; it had closed with a spring lock, and seconds passed while he felt in the dark for the catch; he found it and tore the door open, and came out suddenly into the cold air of the night in a paved passageway beside the house which led in one direction to the street and in the other to a gate opening on the alley. He ran forward to the street and looked up and down, but found it empty; then he ran back to the alley. At the end of the alley, where it intersected the cross street, the figure of the man running away appeared suddenly out of the shadows, then disappeared; Alan following as far as the street, could see nothing more of him; this street too was empty.

He ran a little farther and looked, then he went back to the house. The side door had swung shut again and latched. He let himself in at the front door and turned on the light in the reading lamp in the library. The electric torch still was burning on the floor and he picked it up and extinguished it; he went upstairs and brought down his shoes. He had seen a wood fire set ready for lighting in the library, and now he lighted it and sat before it drying his wet socks before he put on his shoes. He was still shaking and breathing fast from his struggle with the man and his chase after him, and by the strangeness of what had taken place.

When the shaft of light from the torch had flashed across Alan's face in the dark library, the man had not taken him for what he was—a living person; he had taken him for a specter. His terror and the things he had cried out could mean only that. The specter of whom? Not of Benjamin Corvet; for one of the things Alan had remarked when he saw Benjamin Corvet's picture was that he himself did not look at all like his father. Besides, what the man had said made it certain that he did not think the specter was "Ben"; for the specter had "got Ben." Did Alan look like some one else, then? Like whom? Evidently like the man—now dead, for he had a ghost—who had "got" Ben, in the big man's opinion. Who could that be?

Alan got up and went to look at himself in the mirror he had seen in the hall. He was white, now that the flush of the fighting was going; he probably had been pale before with excitement, and over his right eye there was a round black mark. Alan looked down at his hands; a bracelet was off one knuckle, where he had struck the man, and his fingers were smudged with a black and sorry dust. He had smudged them on the papers upstairs or else in feeling his way about the dark house, as some time he had touched his head and left the black mark. That had been the "bullet hole."

The rest that the man had said had been a reference to some name; Alan had no trouble to recollect the name, and, while he did not understand it at all, it stirred him queerly—"The Mikawa." What was that? The queer excitement and questioning that the name brought, when he repeated it to himself, was not recollection; for he could not recall ever having heard the name before; but it was not completely strange to him. He could define the excitement it stirred only in that way.

Sherrill had believed that here in this house Benjamin Corvet had left—or might have left—a memorandum, a record, or an account of some sort which would explain to Alan, his son, the blight which hung over his life. Sherrill had said that it could have been no mere intrigue, no vulgar personal sin; and the events of the night had made that very certain; for, plainly, whatever was hidden in that house involved some one else seriously, desperately. There was no other way to explain the intrusion of the sort of man whom Alan had surprised there an hour ago.

Of much interest to the people of Escanaba is the marriage of Miss Marjory King, daughter of Superintendent and Mrs. F. E. King, of Marshall, Mich., to Dr. Stanley Brown, of St. Charles, Mich. Rev. Spencer, pastor of the First Methodist church, formerly of this city, performed the ceremony.
Mr. King was superintendent of school three years ago in Escanaba, but moved to Marshall, where W. E. Olds was superintendent, until he accepted superintendency of the local school.
The couple plan to take a trip to this city for their honeymoon, and probably will be accompanied by Miss Helen Reade who was one of the guests at the wedding.

HENRY DOTSCH ANNOUNCES HIS PRINCIPLES

Escanaba Candidate for State Senate Takes Strong Stand On Public Questions.

On May 21st last I announced my candidacy for the Republican nomination for Senator from the Thirtieth District to succeed Dr. W. A. Lemire, who is not a candidate for re-nomination at the primary election to be held September 12th. I informed my friends at a later date I would make known the principles for which I stand in this primary campaign, and which if nominated and elected, I would do my utmost to have those principles become a part of the laws of our State.

PROGRESSIVE
"I pledge myself to sound progressive principles and a just consideration to all classes.

RIGHTS OF LABOR
"I believe any person can work hard enough in eight hours to become fixed. Therefore, the basic eight-hour day should be adopted in industries when reasonably applicable with the return of normal conditions, in order that the welfare of our citizens may be promoted, giving our citizens time for something more than eating, sleeping and working. Wages and working conditions must be fair. Workers should have an opportunity for mental and social improvement and recreation. The welfare of our State depends upon the prosperity and happiness of every class of its citizens.

"If nominated and elected I will introduce a bill in the Senate to amend the Workmen's Compensation Act of this State to meet some of the features of the Wisconsin Act. The employee under the amendment, whether a man, woman or child, who works in the store or factory when injured, will receive larger compensation and have the right when injured, to make the choice of his or her attending physician from a panel of physicians.

"I will support any legislation which in the bound of reason that will lighten the burden of the laboring class.

CHILD LABOR
"I am opposed to child labor, as it is a curse to the State and Nation to deprive a child of an education and allow them to be placed in a sweat shop where their life and vitality is sapped out of them and ruined in health and body, when they should be enjoying God's free air in order to grow up to be healthy men and women.

RURAL CREDITS
"I favor legislation to establish a system of long time rural credits for the farmer.

CO-OPERATIVE MARKETING
"The cooperative marketing of farm and dairy products should be encouraged.

FARM LEGISLATION
"I will support all legislation within the bounds of reason that will help the farmer.

FIRST OFFENDERS
"It is a libel upon Michigan to send young men who are first offenders to a prison or reformatory to mingle with hardened criminals and crooks.

ECONOMY AND TAXES
"I stand for economy in all State departments and will do everything possible in my power to lessen the tax burden.

EQUALITY AND OPPORTUNITY
"Every legitimate occupation and industry should be encouraged by fair laws and given a square deal.

ENFORCEMENT OF LAWS
"I stand for strict enforcement of all laws whether State or National.

FEDERAL JUDGES
"I am opposed to U. S. Judges being appointed to hold office for life. If they must be appointed, make the appointment for a reasonable number of years and then leave the judge ask the people at the ballot box if they wish him to continue in office or be discharged.

GENERAL WELFARE
"I am in favor of any legislation for the betterment of the conditions of living and employment of labor, land settlement, reforestation, education, commercial and industrial to the end that the public welfare may be promoted. This is my contract with the people."

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to express our sincere thanks to all who helped us in our hour of sorrow and in the death of our beloved brother and uncle, John Berens, and also for the beautiful floral offerings.
(Signed) Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Bernes and Family, Mr. James Bernes.

It Was Not Until Five Years After the Declaration of Independence—that "cheque-books" were known. It was in 1781 that the bankers of London began trying out "check-books" in place of the deposit-receipts and goldsmiths' notes which had formerly been used.

But—once "cheque-books" were tried out, it was found that all other methods of transferring money were doomed for the discard.

WAR HERO CALLED BY DEATH AFTER LENGTHY ILLNESS

John Shy Passes Peacefully Away at Mother's Home in This City Last Night.

John Shy, son of Mr. Mary Shy, 127 South 12th street, passed away at 7:20 last evening after a prolonged illness which was contracted while the popular and highly esteemed young man was serving his country in the trenches of France.

His condition has been critical for the past week and his friends and relatives realized that it was but a matter of a few days until the war hero would be summoned before the Great Commander. Hundreds of inquiries were made daily regarding his condition and when his death was announced there was genuine sorrow and grief in hundreds of hearts in this city.

Mr. Shy was 29 years of age and was a home boy, having been born and reared in this city. He had received his education at St. Anne's school and was known to practically every person in the city. He was a member of the firm of Shy Bros. Dray Line and had been in that line of business with his two brothers for years, the boys having taken over the work at the time of their father's death when they were mere lads.

John had seen active service overseas. He was a member of the Mallet Reserve French Army Motor Truck Company 273. He was in eight of the fiercest battles recorded in the World war and was in the battle of Chateau Thierry, also Argonne Forest. He was gassed while in service and from this developed a case of trench throat which gradually grew worse until he was forced to go to Detroit in March, where he was placed in the care of specialists. After being there three months he returned to this city via Chicago, where he stopped for a few days at the home of his sister, Mrs. Eugene Canfield.

After reaching Chicago he was in such a weakened condition his mother went to meet him. She brought him home one week ago Tuesday. He suffered intense pain but up to the last he put up a brave battle for life which was so dear to him. Surrounded by the members of the family, with the exception of one brother, Don, who was away on business, and a sister in Chicago, he passed away very peacefully. He was conscious to the last, but was unable to speak. He died three years to the day from the time he returned from France. He came home June 24, 1919.

The body was taken to the Alto Funeral Home to be prepared for burial and will be removed to the home of his mother this evening, where it will lie in state until the hour of the funeral which will be with all military rites and will be held at nine o'clock Monday morning at St. Anne's church, where he was baptized, made his holy communion and was confirmed. Rev. Fr. Raymond C. Jacques will be the celebrant at the requiem high mass.

He is survived by his mother, two brothers, Don and Albert, four sisters, Mrs. Fred Hobbs, Mrs. Oliver Bergman and Miss Florence Shy of this city, and Mrs. Eugene Canfield of Chicago.
Mr. and Mrs. Canfield, of Chicago; Mrs. T. J. Martin, of Green Bay, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Martin and children of Tomah, Wis., will arrive Sunday morning. Mrs. A. J. Frechette and son, Wallace of Rexton, arrived last night. Mr. Frechette and son, Roland, will arrive Sunday evening to be present at the funeral.

CARD OF THANKS

We want you to know how fully we appreciate your many act of kindness during the time of the death of our beloved son and brother. Acts and expressions of sympathy, such as yours, make our burden of sorrow less heavy to bear.
