RAIL STRIKE NOW TAKES ON A NEW ANGLE

HOOPER'S CONFERENCE WITH PRESIDENT HARDING HOPED TO BRING ABOUT SETTLEMENT

CHICAGO, July 22.—The railroad strike today took a new turn and expectant eyes looked to Washington where Chairman Hooper of the railroad labor board was called for a conference with President Harding, and to the efforts of six leading railroads to make separate peace with the striking shop men.

A conference between W. I. McMenimen of the railroad labor board and Secretary of Labor Davis, at Mooseheart, Ill., also was regarded as a possible producer of a peaceful movement.

Clerks Threaten to Quit
Reports from half a dozen cities that approximately 15,000 clerks and other railroad employees have voted to walk out and new indications that Canada was facing a shop men's strike added to the weight of President Harding's statement that any railroad that refused to meet the committees of maintenance of way men, to adjust wage differences, would face a strike of these workers.

Think Peace in Sight
A new move in the demand of the strikers was made evident by the statement of Daniel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, inviting the government to urge striking coal miners and shop men and their respective employers to begin direct negotiations, coupled with the representatives of the "Big Four" which urges congress to facilitate a return to the direct parity system of setting disputes, leads many to believe the strike will soon be adjusted.

B. & O. Would Settle
WASHINGTON, July 22.—Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad conferred today with members of the senate interstate commerce committee and advised them of a move for a separate settlement of the strike among the road's employees. Conference is to be held Thursday at Baltimore.

Postpone Clerk's Strike
CHICAGO, July 22.—The strike of 7,000 clerks on the Chicago & North Western Railroad has been postponed for the time being at least according to reports reaching the United States Railroad Labor Board this afternoon. The company is reported to have made some concessions.

Claims Boycott
ASHLAND, Wis., July 22.—When Mayor Douglas, at the request of the Chicago & North Western railroad, placed an officer near the round house belonging to the company, strikers and sympathizers notified the mayor that a boycott had been placed on the product of his creamery here. The mayor called a special meeting of the city council last night and after he reported the facts and after considerable discussion the council, by a vote of 15 to 6 sustained the action of the mayor, voting to give him and the chief of police full right to place officers wherever they believed they were needed.

Violence in Milwaukee
MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 22.—Renewed violence in the shop men's strike occurred this morning, when Charles Pable, a boiler maker foreman employed in the Chase yards of the Chicago & Northwestern roads was beaten by five men. The attackers fled.

Hooper in Washington
WASHINGTON, July 22.—Chairman Ben W. Hooper of the railroad labor board arrived here today in response to a summons to the White House and went into conference prepared to give the executive a complete survey of the railroad strike situation and the recent negotiations conducted with the view to bringing about a settlement.

H. L. ROSE REPORTS STRIKE CONDITION SEEN IN CHICAGO

Believes Hooper Conference May Result in Proposals Acceptable to Both Sides.

H. L. Rose, local Chairman of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen & Enginemen, returned from Chicago this morning, having been called there Friday to confer with leaders of that Brotherhood on important business. He reports strike conditions on the C. & N. W. Ry., at other terminals, about the same as those existing here at Escanaba, with no reports of any serious disorder at any point. The ranks of the men remain unbroken, he says, while the company is having considerable difficulty in maintaining their schedule train service. Several trains have been discontinued between Chicago and Milwaukee, and those in operation are from a few minutes to several hours behind their schedule.

Mr. Rose's report continues: "The railroads are meeting with very little success in their efforts to recruit strike breakers to install in the place of the striking shopmen, even though they have been advertising extensively for such men and have had employment agencies using every effort to round up men throughout the country. The Chicago and Alton Ry., is offering $1.00 per hour for boiler-makers, with free board and lodging, to replace men out on strike. This rate is 20 per cent higher than that granted by the United States Railroad Labor Board in their decision.

"The bulk of the repair work and that inspections are being made is being done at most points, as at Escanaba, by officials, foremen and men drafted from the clerical department for that work.

"The locomotives and cars both are reported as gradually becoming in an unserviceable condition. At Belle Plaine Iowa and at one or two other points on the Northwestern, the engineers are making vigorous complaints about the defective condition of locomotives, and at some points they have even requested permission from the service, in a body, until the power is put in a safe condition to operate. Brotherhood officials are making urgent requests on the Division of Safety, of the Interstate Commerce Commission, to send Federal inspectors to such points, as complaints are being received from, with a view of having such engines as are being operated in violation of the Federal Inspection laws, removed from service before it becomes necessary for the men to take any action as intimated for their own safety and that of the traveling public.

"It is predicted by Brotherhood leaders who have been in close touch with the situation, that Chairman Hooper of the Labor Board will have a proposal to offer to the contending parties of the present strike, the fore part of next week, that may be acceptable to both sides. However, if this fails to bring the desired results it is expected that the President will constitute the present group of the railroads of the country, as a 'National emergency' and before the transportation systems become completely paralyzed, the Government will take over the railroads, as was done during the war, and operate them under Federal Control until suitable legislation may be enacted, embodying just and equitable provisions to both the Railroad corporations and the employees. The present guarantee provisions of the Transportation Act guarantee the Railroad corporations rates that will bring a return of 10 per cent on their capital investment, but do not make any guarantee to the railroad employees.

"One freight and one-passenger locomotive of the W. was turned over to the Manitowish Shipbuilding Works at Manitowish Wis., for repairs. This company has done considerable repair work for different railroads since the close of the war. However the mechanics employed at this plant are Union men and they are now unwilling to do repair work on such locomotives as are turned over to them since the calling of the strike, but are agreeable to continuing work on such locomotives as were turned over to them before July 1st. The various Union men interested were to have a meeting at Manitowish last night to determine what action they would take in the matter.

More new books are being added to the Carnegie Public Library from time to time. Sometimes the additions are numerous, at other times small, but as a general proposition the books are selected with a view to meeting the needs of the public as manifested by repeated calls for some certain class of work at the library.

Mrs. Nancy E. Thomas, the new librarian, is especially well qualified to counsel and advise with those who are uncertain as to what sort of reading matter they may desire, and it will be her aim to cooperate to the fullest extent and for the greatest good.

LOOKING FOR OPERATORS TO PRODUCE COAL WITHIN NEXT TEN DAYS UNDER HARDING PLAN

WASHINGTON, July 22.—The federal government concentrated its activities in the coal strike situation today on devising means of distributing to best advantage the nation's coal supply and of adding to it in every possible way.

Indications were that steps along these lines would be continued during the ten days or two weeks period which the government has decided upon as a test of the efforts of operators to produce coal in accordance with President Harding's invitation.

Coal Strike Summary

Development in the coal strike today included the Washington field prepared to give miners and operators ten days in two weeks to try out President Harding's plan before taking any drastic action.

Secretary Hoover expects opinion from Attorney General Daugherty tonight on the legal aspects of his plan for priority orders and price maintenance of coal shipments.

The Philadelphia Public Utilities are now buying coal in Great Britain.

Delaware for ships to carry Washington coal to the United States on behalf of the shipping rate.

PLAN DISTRIBUTION
The commerce and justice departments were at work on a plan for coal distribution through a central committee sitting in Washington and asking local committees aid in the principal producing sections.

The plan was laid before the department of justice today for study as to its legal aspects.

It appeared that there was some doubt as to whether a legal opinion could be formulated today, although Secretary Hoover declared he expected to have it in his hands before night and to start then on working out the details so that it could be submitted to the operators Monday, called by his department.

CONFERENCE MONDAY
WASHINGTON, July 22.—In an effort to bring about resumption of mining operations in the anthracite coal field, a conference in which John L. Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers, is expected to participate, will be held Monday either at Scranton, Pa., or in New York. Low Score Games Indication of Improvement in Pitching

Ruth Writes It Is Either Superior Mound Work or the Absence of "Rabbit" in Ball That Accounts for Absence of Customary Slugging.

BY BABE RUTH

NEW YORK, July 22.—Judging from the unusual number of low score games recently played in the two major leagues, one of two things has happened: Either the manufacturers have taken the "rabbit" out of the ball or continued warm weather has enabled the pitchers to attain a degree of efficiency bordering close upon their best "old-fashioned" form of other years.

For the past couple of weeks, with pitched games in which comparatively few hits and runs have been recorded have been the exception rather than the rule where up to a very short time ago such scores as 5 to 7 or 8 to 6 were so common as to excite little comment.

That the "nifty" ball of 1919-'20 and '21 was in pretty general use throughout the first 16 weeks of the season seems to be conceded. The pitchers and the hitters know it, if the manufacturers did not and so did at least some umpires. The official ball, as related in one of my recent articles, that he never had seen a ball hitting harder than they were this season and that Stanley Harris' homer over the left field fence at Detroit was a case in point.

Shut Outs Were Few

At that time the shut out was just about the rarest thing in baseball, even when good pitchers were opposed by comparatively weak clubs. Grounds of a sort which used to be easy to handle were exhibiting through the month for hits and "hands" hits were carrying into third or over fences for homers. Pitchers and third basemen were ducking every time they heard the impact of the ball upon the ball and fan were beginning to wonder if they'd ever see another "pitcher's duel."

During the past few weeks, however, there has been a noticeable change not only in the volume of hitting but in the character of the clubbing as well. For the first time this year, the pitchers are showing signs of interest ing their old mastery over the batters and low score games are becoming fairly common. Of six games played on one day recently three resulted in shut outs, when none of the winners scored more than four runs.

Consider, in this connection, the recent history of the New Yorks. Prior to June 28 they scored at least one run in every game they played. On the date, however, they collided with Walter Johnson, who previously had pitched seven consecutive shut outs and scored a hand out and a white sock for the first time this season. A hit never was scored from that day on.

Considered Cuban River and absorbed another, but not after narrowly escaping a latissimus of the hand of Ivan Shuster in the first of the two days. He pitched as well then when he pitched in New York.

All Drawing Blanks

That, within a period of less than three weeks, the pennant winners of 1921 and 1922 have shut out, and have scored nothing, where for some three months they never scored a run. Now is their season of "no runs" or other club where but one pitcher has pitched with hits and runs? It is hard to tell up to the date. Even the Giants and the Athletics have succeeded in the record book, a score. The number in which the Cardinals won in the season of these games with the score, respectively, 4 to 2 and 1 to 0.

My own opinion is that the pitchers are something more and better than they are at any other time this season and that their improvement has been evidenced with the passing of the ball in the "old" ball held over the pitcher's mound as well as that during the past few days at least some of the veteran pitchers have shown a tendency to pitch for the first time in a long time, and to pitch in a way that is beginning to prove their real worth to their clubs.

SISLER CAN'T SEE THAT TY COBB IS SLOWING UP MUCH

Considers Him His Most Dangerous Rival for Batting Honors for the Present Season.

CHICAGO, July 22.—(By the Associated Press.) Perhaps Tyrus Raymond Cobb is convinced in his own mind that he is "slowing up" after seventeen years as a star in the American league, but George Sisler, the paralytic player with St. Louis whose batting honors Cobb is threatening today, is positive the "Georgia Peach" will be his most dangerous rival for the 1922 batting championship.

The race between Cobb and Sisler today is narrowed down to a difference of only eleven points, with Sisler setting the pace with an average of .416, a drop of four points within a week. Cobb, continuing his batting rampage, smashed out nine hits in his last five games, bringing his average of .495, while the best Sisler could do was four in as many games.

Sisler, however, is showing his youth in base stealing and scoring, having registered seventy-nine times and taken thirty-four bases, the best base stealing performance in the major leagues.

Clarence "Tillie" Walker, the slugging outfielder with Philadelphia, is having a hard time catching Rogers Hornsby, the National League home run leader. Just when Tillie poles a circuit drive, Hornsby bags one for himself. Tillie smashed two out in one game and has his string up to twenty-three, which gave him a lead of two ahead of Ken Williams, of St. Louis. Harry Bellman of Detroit, has sixteen poked and Babe Ruth has fifteen.

Other leading batters for fifty-five or more games: Speaker, Cleveland, .355; Schanze, New York, .350; Heinman, Detroit, .356; Meusel, New York, .348; Bassler, Detroit, .347; Ed Miller, Philadelphia, .347; Tolin, St. Louis, .342; O'Neill, Cleveland, .339.

A recruit and a veteran are giving National League's something to talk about this week. The recruit is Lawrence "Hack" Miller, the Pacific Coast slugger with Chicago and the veteran is Jake Daubert, first baseman with Cincinnati. They have been widdling

SCHIRAM'S MEN ARE ALL SET FOR FRAY WITH MANISTIQUE

Visitors' Recent Defeat of Gladstone Makes Locals Sit Up and Take Notice.

With not one more excellent practice Schiram's men will be ready to meet the crack Manistique team to-morrow. Yesterday Capt. Perrin sent the boys through out of the practice batting and fielding practice held by the club in the season, in preparation for the hard game to-morrow.

"We are taking no chances," Perrin said, "and if the Schiram line is when it is cracked up to be, we will have one of the best bats in the season on our hands."

The recent training given the Gladstone nine by the crew from Manistique was one of the reasons for the heavy practice yesterday afternoon. The local are teaming with their visitors in preparing for this season's hard one of the season.

Capt. Perrin today was of the opinion that Vasquez or McClellan would appear the local on the mound to-morrow, both of whom are in excellent condition.

Surprises in Store
It is a team that Schiram has built up in his eleven years as well as a very hard and fast team. The club's record in the past few years has been a record of success. The team is now in the best of condition and is expected to be a surprise in the coming season.

CHINESE UNIONS WELDING POWER UNKNOWN BEFORE

Improved Standards of Living Result in Constant Demands for Changed Conditions.

HONGKONG, June 22—The lowly Chinese wage-earner, perhaps the most abject of all the world's toilers, is just learning of the power he is able to wield through the medium of organization, and like a great flood the movement to form various trade guilds is sweeping the country.

It was hardly more than a year ago that China witnessed its first important strike. Since then the larger cities have experienced walk-outs in almost all classes of work, with the result that business is demoralized, and in many cities the public health is menaced thru strikes of street sweepers and water-works employes.

At the present time in Canton the carpenters, painters, school teachers, butchers, street sweepers and city employes are on strike, while the seamen and launchmen, who but recently returned to work are on the verge of another walk-out. The city of Macao is in the thick of a general strike which is almost a stage of siege. The casualties to date have been 40 killed and nearly 200 injured.

The situation in this city is similar to that in Canton, although here even the beggars and thieves have formed unions which they are using for political purposes. The sanitary condition in Foochow, the purely Chinese section of Hong Kong, is said to be deplorable as the street sweepers, garbage collectors and water carriers are out to a man.

The seamen's strike here has had a tremendous effect all over the Far East, as it has given the laborers confidence in their new guilds and stimulated their desire for better living conditions. The seamen have been so successful in forcing their demands that they now talk of going into the shipping business for themselves. The men are being asked to subscribe five dollars each, and judging from the eagerness with which they are responding the backers of the project expect soon to have a steamer running between here and Canton.

BATTLE CREEK—Calthoun county crops this year are said by agricultural experts to be considerably above normal. The corn crop in one of the best seen in this vicinity for several years.

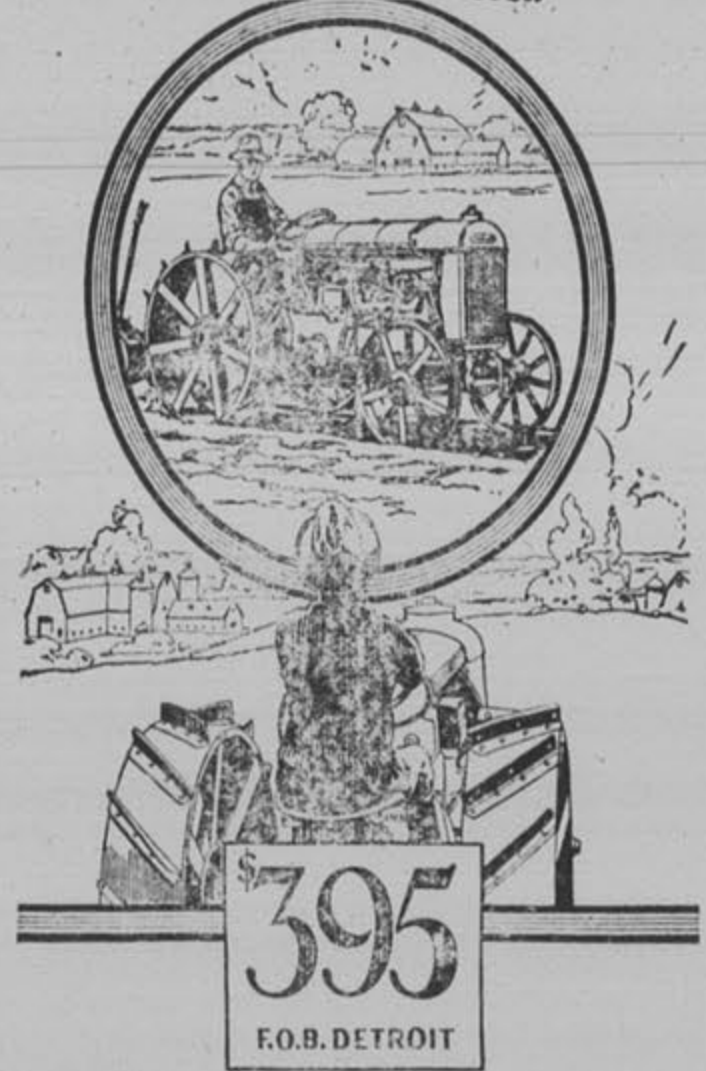

SAULT STE. MARIE—Chippewa county voters are looking forward to a rather quiet primary election. The only race of local interest is that between Edward Thompson and Miss Amy Ramsey for the office of register of deeds.

IRONWOOD—The city council has employed Dew I. Sears, now assistant superintendent of the St. Paul water works as superintendent of the Ironwood water plant. The council also condemned property for a sewer from the Fabst mine to Montreal river.

MARSHALL—The county treasurer has sold 3,800 automobile licenses this year.

BATTLE CREEK—More men can be accommodated at the Citizens Military training camp at Camp Custer, beginning August 1, than at first was believed possible, it is announced. At first it was announced but 2,900 could be accommodated but this figure has been raised to 3,500.

"The four blasts! You hear 'em now? The four blasts!"
Burr was straining as he listened, and Alan stood still too; no sound came to him but the noise of the storm. "No," he replied, "I don't hear anything. Do you hear them now?"

Burr stood beside him without making reply; the searchlight, which had been pointed down, shot its glare forward, and Alan could see Burr's face in the dancing reflection of the flare. The man had never more plainly resembled the picture of Benjamin Corvet; that which had been in the picture, that strange sensation of something haunting him, was upon this man's face, a thousand times intensified; but instead of distorting the features away from all likeness to the picture, it made it grotesquely identical.

And Burr was hearing something—something distinct and terrifying; but he seemed not surprised, but rather satisfied that Alan had not heard. He nodded his head at Alan's denial, and, without reply to Alan's demand, he stood listening. Something bent him forward; he straightened; again he heard something came; again he straightened. Four times Alan counted the motions. Burr was hearing again the four long blasts of distress! But there was no noise but the gale. "The four blasts!" He recalled old Burr's terror outside the radio cabin. The old man was hearing blasts which were not blown!

He moved on and took the wheel. He was a good wheelman; the vessel seemed to be steadier on her course, and, somehow, to steer easier when the

DARKEN GRAY HAIR, LOOK YOUNG, PRETTY

Sage Tea and Sulphur Darkens So Naturally That Nobody Can Tell.

Hair that loses its color and lustre or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair. By morning the gray hair disappears; but want delicate the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

old man steered. His illusions of hearing could do no harm, Alan considered; they were of concern only to Burr and to him.

Alan fought to keep his thought all to his duty; they must be now very nearly at the position where the Richardson last had heard the four long blasts; searching for a ship or for boats, in that snow, was almost hopeless. With sight even along the searchlight's beam shortened to a few hundred yards, only accident could bring Number 25 up for rescue, only chance could carry the ship where the shouts—or the blasts of distress if the wreck still floated and had steam—would be heard.

They were meeting frequent and heavy seas, and Alan gave warning of these by hails to the bridge; the bridge answered and when possible the steamer avoided the seas; when it could not do that it cut through them. The wind roared, the sea heaved and crashing under the bows took strange, distorted shapes. Now another sea appeared before them; where the glare disappeared to a bare glow in the swirling snow, he saw a vague shadow. The man moving the searchlight failed to see it, for he swung the beam on. The shadow was so dim, so ghostly, that Alan sought for it again before he hailed; he could see nothing now, yet he was sure, somehow, that he had seen.

"Something dead ahead, sir!" he shouted back to the bridge.

The bridge answered the hail as the searchlight pointed forward again. A gust carried the snow in a fierce flurry which the light failed to pierce; from the flurry suddenly, silently, spar by spar, a shadow emerged—the shadow of a ship. It was a steamer, Alan saw, a long, low-slung, old vessel without lights and without smoke from the funnel standing up just forward of the after deckhouse; it rolled in the trough of the sea. The sides and all the lower works gleamed in ghostly phosphorescence, it was reflection of the searchlight beam from the ice sheathing all the ship. Alan's brain told him; but the sight of that soulless, shimmering ship, materializing from behind the screen of snow struck a tremor through him.

"Ship!" he called. "Ahead! Dead ahead, sir! Ship!"

The shout of quick commands rebounded to him from the bridge. Underfoot he could feel a new tumult of the deck; the engines, instantly stopped, were being set full speed astern. But Number 25, instead of sheering off to right or left to avoid the collision, steered straight on.

The struggle of the engines against the momentum of the ferry told that others had seen the gleaming ship, or, at least, had heard the hail. The skipper's instant decision had been to put to starboard; he had bawled that to the wheelman, "Hard over!" But, though the screws turned full astern, Number 25 steered straight on. The ferry was blowing before the bow again; back through the snow the ice-shrouded shimmer ahead retreated. Alan leaped away and up to the wheelhouse.

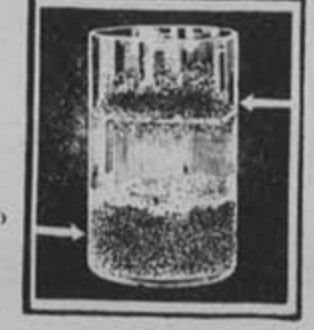

Men were struggling there—the skipper, a mate, and old Burr, who had held the wheel. He clung to it yet, as one in a trance, fixed, staring ahead; his arms, stiff, had been holding Number 25 to her course. The skipper struck him and beat him away, while the mate tugged at the wheel. Burr was torn from the wheel now, and he made no resistance to the skipper's blows; but the skipper, in his frenzy, struck him again and knocked him to the deck.

"Let's Make Escanaba A Better City"

AN ENTIRELY NEW NATIONAL PERIL:

In the annual American number of the London Times, which has just reached this country there is the inevitable article on prohibition. It contains nothing that will bring light to the American mind on any of the questions raised by the Volstead act but an interesting revelation of how one kind of British mind reacts to a dry environment appears in the following:

It is a terrible thing to be expected to eat a dinner which begins with great turtle soup and ends with an elaborate desert and to be given nothing but lead water to drink. Dining (the use of the word is almost absurd) at the generality of New York hotels and restaurants has become a gross and unrefined thing. How many other of the graces of life will disappear with the loss of the art of dining it is impossible to guess; but there can be no doubt that life, and with it manners and character, can hardly fail to be profoundly modified.

One is moved to repeat that famous inquiry addressed to Mabel: "Ain't it awful?" Here we are careening madly back into barbarism. That terrible nameless thing which one can not call dinner is robbing American women of their grace and charm, it is dragging urbane and courteous men into the abysses of vulgarity, it is disintegrating American civilization and not even the penetrating mind of a London Times correspondent can fathom the depths to which the country will sink, because turtle soup and an elaborate dessert are bereft of their snered and saving association with fermented grape juice.

The subject is too painful to be pursued further. Let us seek consolation. In this country of something more than 100,000,000 it may be that a minority of one percent have pursued elegance, civilization and the graces of life by taking wine with their dinners. The rest of them, if they thought of the thing at all, have been of the opinion that beautiful living has rather more to do with the spirit than with the belly and have regarded alcohol as no necessary part of any meal.

Under that devastating doctrine and course of life the country has survived for many generations, finding its presidents and poets, its general and philosophers, its statesmen, prophets and reformers from the very class that knew nothing at all of the refining influence of cream de menthe after the pudding. So the gentleman from the Times is wrong when he thinks that the worst is yet to come. It must have been here a long while.

THE POSTOFFICE AIR RECORD.

Of great importance in its relation to the development of aerial transport is the fact that during the last year the United States aerial mail service was conducted without a single fatality. Pilots covering the regular transcontinental routes turned up 1,750,000 miles without the loss of a life, while the percentage of scheduled miles flown was 94, and the percentage of scheduled trips actually completed 92.5, a material advance over previous showings.

One of the most serious obstacles aviation has had to overcome in its efforts to gain popular favor has been the factor of safety, or rather, its absence. The long list of fatalities among fliers has not been calculated to beget any great degree of confidence in timorous mortals to whom terra firma still is more alluring than sky-scouting. Much of this distrust has arisen because the public did not differentiate between the men who died in the performance of appointed tasks, while pursuing useful experimentation, and the freak aviators who risked life and limb to ascertain for their own satisfaction the limitations of heavier-than-air machines, or to provide thrills for the morbidly curious. It is this latter class, together with inexperienced and reckless operators, who have done more to discredit aviation at its present stage than all other things combined.

Those who have bent their efforts to legitimate development of aerial navigation assert that if safely conducted it is as safe as any other means of transportation. By its performance the mail service has furnished indisputable proof of the practicability of flying for commercial purposes, as well as its reliability if the ordinary principles of caution are observed. The strongest boost aviation has received in America is at the hands of the postoffice department on its transcontinental air lines, where efficiency is the watchword, and freak fliers are not tolerated.

The body of a woman who had been plucked, strangled, shot and stabbed was recently found on a golf course in Baltimore. Had she, perhaps, tried to talk to one of the members just as he was swinging on the ball?

Congress has decided to admit oils used in soap-making free, but if the same kind of oil is used for food it pays a duty. This should enable the self-respecting poor to keep clean even though they go hungry.

One thing Voliva has not yet done. He has not tackled the Chautauqua circuit. But what a hit he would make and what shekels he might carry home.

The new golf champion is an American of Italian descent. As seen in Scotland, nothing worse can happen until a Turk wins the baggage championship.

After observing bathing beaches in out-of-the-way corners, the prospect of going to a revue seems rather tame.

The Kansas City Journal recalls that 45 years ago butter was 11 cents a pound. Yes, and labor got 70 cents a day.

The British having discovered ice cream may in time come to really appreciate American institutions.

COMMERCE BODY HAS NEW PLAN FOR YEAR'S ACTIVITIES

Each Member to Have a Part in Determining What Activities Are to Be Undertaken.

Each member of the local Chamber of Commerce is to have a part in determining the activities to be undertaken by Escanaba's community organization during the second year of endeavor, according to an announcement made at headquarters yesterday. Under the plan to be followed the program of work for the ensuing twelve-month period is to be compiled by mail referendum. Ideas for the program were mailed out today, and members will have until Thursday, July 27th to get back their ideas as to what they want their organization to incorporate in its new year's program.

The ideas submitted are to be used in revising the three-year program at the end of last year's organization campaign. This opportunity is afforded members in connection with the stock-taking activities of the present week in order that the 1922-1923 working document will reflect membership sentiment as it exists today.

The "Dividend Sheet" Suggestions are to be submitted under four headings, members first commenting upon the accomplishments of the past year which are presented upon a "Dividend Sheet" enclosed with the referendum blank. (1) Have you read the Dividend Sheet of the Chamber for the past year? If so, give any constructive comments which you may have on work already accomplished or relative to plans remaining in the program prepared last year. (2) What, in your opinion as a citizen, is the community project of first importance to be undertaken during the ensuing year? (3) What do you expect the Chamber to do for the promotion of your own line of business or activity? (4) What is most important to you?

To enable the Board of Directors to ascertain membership sentiment upon the projects already before the Chamber, the following activities are listed in Part 4 of the referendum with the request that members indicate their order of importance by the figures 1 to 5, inclusive: Additional School Facilities, Adequate Chamber Headquarters, City Band, City Beautification, City Plan, Extension Ludington St. Eastward, Highway Maintenance, Home Trading, Hoisting, Improved Streets, Industrial Survey, Lower Freight Rates, Modern Street Lighting System, Municipal Utility Rates, Palatable Water, Public Market, Taxation, Water Front Improvement.

LESS MEAT IF BACK AND KIDNEYS HURT

Take a glass of Salts to flush Kidneys if Bladder bothers you—Drink lots of water.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly back-ache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, bet about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.

What do you expect the Chamber to do for the promotion of your own line of business or activity?

What is most important to you?

To enable the Board of Directors to ascertain membership sentiment upon the projects already before the Chamber, the following activities are listed in Part 4 of the referendum with the request that members indicate their order of importance by the figures 1 to 5, inclusive: Additional School Facilities, Adequate Chamber Headquarters, City Band, City Beautification, City Plan, Extension Ludington St. Eastward, Highway Maintenance, Home Trading, Hoisting, Improved Streets, Industrial Survey, Lower Freight Rates, Modern Street Lighting System, Municipal Utility Rates, Palatable Water, Public Market, Taxation, Water Front Improvement.

A Far-Sighted Banker's Idea of Advertising
By FESTUS J. WADE
President, MERCANTILE TRUST COMPANY, of St. Louis

DO I believe that a banker considers reputation, as developed by advertising, in extending credit? There probably are bankers who will give a negative answer to this question and believe they are giving the right answer.

But let those bankers be approached by a credit-seeking national advertiser, who has established his name, therefore a market for his goods, and see what happens.

In nine cases out of ten the fact that those goods have become a household "buy-word" will be the greatest factor in granting the credit.

The banker himself will have become subconsciously sold on the firm, through its consistent advertising. He will say, "Oh, yes, that's a big house—well known, good reputation" etc., not realizing that it was advertising that did the work.

The next minute he may be approached by a new company, trying to make its name, and turn down the loan because too much of it is to be spent for the purpose of advertising. In the first application he has helped the big advertiser to cash in on his reputation, and in the second was depriving the newcomer of the right to build a reputation.

This is only a hypothetical case, and I am glad to say it happens as often as it did in the past.

Just as we learn something new every day another banker wakes up to the underlying power and pull of advertising.

Damage done to houses and to the Boston & Maine Railroad at Willimansett, Mass., when two dams broke is estimated at $1,000,000. The dam of Langwald Pond burst. When the water swept into Robert's Pond below, that dam collapsed. The overturned auto shows the force of the water.

Seventeenth Street Repair Job Is About Completed Today

Work of repairing seventeenth street is rapidly being completed by Street Commissioner Garrity and his crew of men.
 The holes in the street are first being dug out with picks and then filled in again with coarse stones which are crushed down by the roller. After that a fine stone is put on top which makes the street as good as newly paved.

 A top coating of tar is planned to be put on the street after the whole road has been repaired, so residents on the thoroughfare need fear no more dust.
 This method of repairing the street has been found by the street department to be the cheapest and the best way for fixing this city's thoroughfares.
 There have been more than 1,000 different varieties of potatoes but only a few of these are worth cultivating.

Ladies Aid of that church held the most successful pantry sale ever held by that organization.

Not Guilty!

If your Ford jars and chatters when you start or stop, it is because the brake bands are glazed. You may think you need new bands. Nine cases out of ten you don't.
 It is not the fault of the bands—it's the oil that's guilty.
 Drain your crankcase and refill it with Havoline F. The chatter will stop in less than a half mile. Havoline F—a new grade of the oldest branded motor oil on the market—Havoline Oil—softens the bands so they will take hold firmly and smoothly.

SEMI-MONTHLY CROP REPORTS

Conditions Seem Fair as General Proposition in Central Western States.

(By Associated Press) INDIANAPOLIS, July 22—Crop conditions over the division comprising Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Wisconsin are favorable, according to the semi-monthly report for the territory compiled by George C. Bryant, agricultural statistician for Indiana. Some storm damage has been reported from various points according to the report, which covered the territory from July 8 to 12. Crops show improvement throughout the territory with the earlier fields led by nights are a little too cool for the best development but prospects are better than the average crop. Winter wheat and rye harvesting is generally completed with only a few fields under way in Illinois, Indiana and Ohio. Some cutting has been done in Michigan and Wisconsin. Yields and quality of that which are available, but more than poor. Rain and cooler weather have materially helped the winter wheat and barley crops. Out in every section. Many fields have been abandoned and stock turned in. Some good fields in north part of territory, but generally the crop is considerably below the average. The yield of clover was very heavy. Corn and haying was accomplished generally under favorable conditions. The timothy harvest is now being pushed in southern Illinois and Indiana. Pastures show considerable improvement over last year. Potatoes generally are in good condition. The average is considerably increased over last year and the prospect is for a much larger crop. The tobacco crop in southern Wisconsin and Indiana was transplanted under favorable conditions and the prospects are good for a heavy yield. Tomatoes, cabbage and other truck crops are considerably improved and expected to be much larger than last year. Apples, peaches and pears are very promising. Small fruits were materially injured by the June drought, but are now showing improvement.

STILL INSISTS COUNTIES LIKE CHANGED LAWS

Man Behind Reorganization Project Says Michigan Timid.

(By Associated Press) DETROIT, July 22—Asserting public comments concerning recent failure of four proposed constitutional amendments to obtain the required number of voters' signatures in many instances have been "wide of the facts," W. P. Lovett, director of the campaign to bring about reorganization of county government, has issued the following statement intended to interpret Michigan conditions: "It may be true failure of four amendments means public indifference to so-called constitutional reforms. There is no doubt the direct legislative devices in Michigan always have been used by the people with a conservatism quite refreshing, in contrast with the wild excesses that have characterized use of the initiative and referendum in some far western states. "But it is a mistake to assume Michigan has reacted in any unusual degree against constitutional changes if the present situation is the basis of judgment. Three facts upset that conclusion. The parochial school amendment of two years ago, coming in a presidential year helped to bring out the largest vote ever polled in the state, more than a million, hence the present ten per cent hurdle for signatures is abnormally high. It will not be so high after next fall. "The business depression has forced every body to attend strictly to private business, to the neglect of the broader social and political reform movements, so that it has been hard to have the work of circulating petitions done on a volunteer basis. Hard-timeliness have made it difficult to procure funds necessary to pay expenses of legitimate and necessary organization work if a state campaign for petitions is to be made successful. Up to two years ago it would not have been hard to get enough signatures in the state to put the county reform measure on the ballot and similar conditions will return in time."

500,000 MEMBERS IS VOGHT'S GOAL FOR SPORTSMEN

Says State Sportsmen Need Numbers and United Action to Put Across Conservation Program.

MARQUETTE Mich., July 22—An appeal for conservation of game fish, forests and public fishing and hunting grounds in all sections of Michigan by getting the united support of 500,000 sportsmen thru the Congress of Michigan Game Association, is contained in a message to the Upper Peninsula Sportsmen's association by E. C. Voght of Escanaba its president. The Marquette Sportsmen's club is affiliated with the upper peninsula body and the latter is one of the units in the Congress of Michigan Game Association an organization formed recently at a meeting in Petoskey when all national organizations in the state were amalgamated. Laying special stress on the need for an organization which will sponsor a state-wide conservation. Mr. Voght, declares that 500,000 is the minimum membership mark to "shoot at." He wants the interest of hunting and fishing in lower Michigan brought shoulder to shoulder with that of the upper state. "We believe conservation of these natural advantages which Michigan has been blessed with means that some day our state will be the center of national interest and famed for its outdoor life. But we cannot expect to arrive at this unless we have the cooperative help of Michigan sportsmen and women," Mr. Voght declared. Favors Rod License Nowhere in the country has better fishing and more beautiful scenery to be found than in the Wolverine state. Nowhere can the sportsman find a more beautiful spot for his outdoor life than in Michigan. Speaking of the trout fishing situation in Michigan, Voght said that the $1 rod license proposed, which is now in the pending will have much to do with the "plumage" of the failure of "Michigan's attempt to place itself in the center of the trout and limit." Want More Hatcheries The up-state men are asking support in the passage of more fish hatcheries in important parts of the state as a means of giving the people the program and bettering future conditions of the streams. The Michigan Congress of Game Associations declared in its organization, made up of clubs throughout the state, founded on a common principle and working on common ground. They would have every man and son in an archery outfit or sports outfit late in the year with this organization. Plant Seed For Future In pointing out some of the new things which are being done, Voght already does Mr. Voght points out a record which shows that an estimate of interest has been shown in assisting the state conservation department in planting fish in streams. Michigan of supplying fish and wild food feed in the woods, giving these study of conditions pertaining to hunting and fishing, of cooperating with local officials and securing national assistance and other means of bettering hunting and fishing grounds.

Use Waste Oil From Gas Plant On City Streets

The street department of this city was busy yesterday experimenting with oil in come to the aid of people living on dusty streets of this city. There is much waste oil not used at the city Gas Plant, and the officials of the street department hit upon the idea of spreading the oil over dusty streets of Escanaba, and thus quell dust clouds that arise every time a vehicle drives over the pavement. As a result yesterday the oil street sprinklers drawn by horses were seen spreading the oil on first avenue south. So far the oil has proved its purpose well, and it is thought that the rest of the dusty streets of the city will be treated in the same manner in the future.

New Citizens Have Hard Time Telling Their Native Land

(By Associated Press) CLEVELAND, O., July 22—Swearing in new citizens in federal court presents puzzling questions arising from the distribution of territory as a result of the world war. "What's my country? I came from Austria, but the town where I was born now belongs to Italy," one new citizen said to Frederick J. Denzler, chief deputy United States court clerk. He sometimes has difficulty convincing the applicants that the new order prevails in old world dominions regarding territory controlled by the present European governments. Folks born in sections of Hungary now belonging to Roumania and Jugoslavia have trouble in realizing they are regarded as subjects of these countries.

Curfew Shall Not Mean Anything In City of Ironwood

(By Associated Press) IRONWOOD, Mich., July 22—The curfew whistle has been blown here each night at 8:30 since 1896 when the ordinance was adopted, but according to Mrs. Josephine R. Washington, protective officer and social welfare worker here "it doesn't mean anything." Children often are on the streets at night without company of older persons and Mrs. Washington announces this is to be changed. Hereafter the law is to be enforced, she says, declaring she has obtained the cooperation of the police department. Arrests will follow failure to observe the law from now on, it is announced. Mrs. Jos. Pryal returned from a brief visit at Ishpeming.
