

HARDING PROPOSAL MAY BE REJECTED

PRESIDENT ASKS CONGRESS TO CONVENE NEXT TUESDAY WITH A FULL MEMBERSHIP ON THE JOB

Washington, Aug. 8.—Faced with probable rejection of his latest rail strike settlement proposal by the striking railway shop men and with the reply from the executives as yet uncertain, President Harding today let it be known that he is desirous of having the house reconvene next Tuesday, prepared to not on any legislation which might be deemed advisable with regard to the industrial situation.

The president, it was said, has informed house leaders, he is opposed to any program of three days recess which had been contemplated. He has suggested to the leaders that a full membership be on hand so that congress might function in case any legislation is needed to carry out the administration's plans with respect to the coal and rail situation.

Leaders of the striking shop men have entered further today over the answer to be given to the president's proposal as made yesterday that the strikers return to work, the railroads assign them to jobs and the question of seniority be left for decision to the railroad labor board.

Chicago Ill., Aug. 8.—Acting upon President Harding's new suggestion for ending the rail strike, the United States Railroad Labor board is ready to promptly consider and determine the question of seniority rights—the only remaining barrier to peace on the railroads.

In a majority resolution, which was adopted late last night, the board asserted as much willingness to act on the seniority controversy and to open hearing on the wage and rules hearing as was originally intended in the strike.

A O. Wharton, the only one of the labor members of the board present at the meeting voted against the resolution after an amendment he had offered was voted down. The board offered to hear the seniority question and render a decision on it after President Harding's proposal to rail executives and striking shop men. Both sides in the strike have called meetings for next Friday.

General Tie-Up Imminent
Statements bearing on a sudden tie-up of the railroads were made by Martin F. Ryan, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen, who declared that the big brotherhood will be drawn into the strike within two weeks if a speedy settlement is not made.

Increasing discord marked the progress of the rail strike which is in its sixth week. Howard McDonald, a mechanic's helper in the St. Louis & San Francisco railroad shops at Montreal, Mo., reported that he had been beaten with strands of wire rope. Three men have been arrested and are being held in connection with the attack.

It has been reported that a general state of lawlessness has prevailed at Nevada, California, since the strike started.

J. I. Hubbard, general manager of the Michigan Topinka & Santa Fe railroad says the San Bernardino county, California grand jury will be asked to make an investigation of the strike situation in that territory.

Jewell Against Acceptance
WASHINGTON, D. C.—President Harding's new proposal for settling the railroad strike apparently advances "no constructive program," leaders of the striking shopcrafts men announced Monday night after a protracted conference.

They announced that a meeting of executives of all railroad unions, including the four brotherhoods, would be summoned to consider what action should follow rejection of the proposal. B. M. Jewell, head of the Shop Crafters' Federation, said the president's settlement proposals constituted "a most uncalculated attempt to help the railroads break the strike," and added that "nobody ought to get the idea the shop federation will accept."

"Big Four" Chiefs Join
Previous to this announcement, leaders of shopmen, after having considered President Harding's proposal for two hours in a downtown hotel, transferred their conference to the headquarters of the International Association of Machinists and were joined by the legislative representatives of three of the "big four" railroad brotherhoods.

GREAT WORK BEING ACHIEVED BY CITY COMMERCE BODY

Retiring directors of the Chamber of Commerce today submitted a most heartily and glowing testimonial of their belief in the destiny of Escanaba and the part which the Chamber of Commerce is playing in that destiny.

The retiring directors of the Chamber of Commerce, on this our last meeting, wish to give expression to some things which are very deeply. We should feel guilty of a serious omission were we not to do so.

This is the first official meeting of the old Board of Directors. On nearly all occasions we have met with Messrs. Ryan, Alho, Henderson, Judson and Staak, at a noon-day luncheon to consider matters of importance to the Chamber of Commerce and to our city.

In view of what has been accomplished during the past year we feel a real pride with you and the entire membership of the organization for having played a part in its affairs.

Our close association together and the unselfish nature of the work in which we were engaged has given rise to a feeling of genuine fraternalism among us. We have looked forward to our "get-together" every Tuesday noon with real pleasure, and we can truthfully say that our retirement from office brings with it a sense of regret.

No office which any of us have held in the past has afforded us more genuine satisfaction and pleasure than the one from which we now retire. We shall miss being present at the weekly meetings of the Board but we shall be with you in spirit and stand ready at all times to serve in whatever capacity the new Board may require.

The report follows: "Our term of office has truly been one of benefit to us individually and collectively. Service with you in this office has broadened our vision, has given us a new idea of the possibilities of our city, has brought us to realize as never before the value of concerted action. We are convinced that Escanaba will need a Chamber of Commerce as long as she appears as something better, as long as she truly and sincerely wishes to something which she has not.

To the new Directors, Messrs. Baker, Gendross, Harder, Houston and Smith, we wish to express our complete confidence in your ability to direct the affairs of the Chamber of Commerce. With you on the Board of Directors we feel that we are justified in expecting the second year of the Chamber of Commerce to be one of greater achievement than the first.

According to the plan by which the Directors of the Chamber of Commerce are nominated and elected, the office seeks the man. Your election is therefore an expression of confidence from the entire membership. For you we can wish nothing more than that your term of office will afford you the same degree of satisfaction that ours has us and that the new year will be filled with real achievement for Escanaba.

RAIL STRIKE TODAY

President Harding is reported to have notified Representative Mondell, that full attendance should be present when the House of Representatives meets Tuesday after six weeks' vacation, because of the serious strike situation.

C. DeWitt Cayler, president of the railroad executives declined to comment on the president's latest peace plan until the heads of 14 rail executives meet in New York Friday to consider it.

Chairman Hooper of the railroad labor board announced that C. president had apparently come to a "safe and sane course" and declared the seniority question need not be a factor of the settlement.

The "Big Four" and telegraphers at Cincinnati are considering a strike yet.

HARRY GREENE MADE NEW UNDERSHERIFF

Sheriff Harvey Selects Garden Township Supervisor for Responsible Post.

Sheriff George Harvey last night announced the appointment of Supervisor Harry J. Greene of Garden township as his undersheriff to succeed Louis Denelson, who resigned about two weeks ago.

Mr. Greene's friends today are complimenting him on the selection of Mr. Greene who is well known throughout the county and who by reason of his duties as supervisor is familiar with many phases of county work.

The new undersheriff is 35 years of age. He was born in Fayette and attended the Fayette and Garden schools. He is a successful farmer, a member of the group the farm bureau and has always been deeply interested in road building.

It is stated that Mr. Greene has had the offer of the appointment under consideration for the last couple of weeks and gave his acceptance to Sheriff Harvey last evening. He served as a supervisor from Fairbanks to Garden and last spring was elected township supervisor for that township.

Mr. Greene will assume his new position at once and his friends in this city will be glad to have the opportunity to see him here more frequently than his duties as supervisor make possible.

9,000 TRACKMEN ON ST. PAUL ARE TALKING STRIKE

Grand President of the Maintenance Men Is Being Appealed to.

MADISON, Wis., Aug. 8.—In an answer to a telegram sent to E. F. Grable, grand president of the maintenance of way men, hangs the outcome of a conference here between J. H. Vanderhel, general chairman of the maintenance of way men in the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad and the executive board of the St. Paul system which is meeting here in an effort to avert a strike of 9,000 maintenance of way men on this system.

The telegram which was sent by Mr. Vanderhel, was not made public.

Maintenance of way men contemplated the strike as the result of the road asking them to perform the duties of striking railroad workers. Complaints were being received by Mr. Vanderhel from all over the St. Paul system demanding a settlement of the question.

U. S. MAY ASSIST IN ROAD BUILDING

Federal Representative Making Survey in Upper Peninsula.

The possibility that the United States government may render assistance in the building and improvement of upper peninsula roads next year is seen in the presence in this district of Donald Moore, an engineer from the Chicago office of the United States bureau of roads.

Mr. Moore is making a survey of road work in the upper peninsula and while he said that the object of the survey had not been imparted to him he believed it meant that the federal government was planning a program of federal aid road building which would embrace the upper peninsula.

The federal government, Mr. Moore said had not done much work as yet in the upper peninsula but has spent large sums in the lower peninsula. The United States under this arrangement pays half of the cost of construction of such roads the balance being borne by the state or the county.

ESCANABA PLAYS CRYSTAL FALLS HERE ON SUNDAY

Falls Aggregation Has Undergone Transformation Recently.

It was announced today in baseball circles that the best opposition the locals will meet will be the Crystal Falls nine here next Sunday.

The two teams already met this season, the locals coming out with the long end of a 7 to 1 score. At that time Crystal Falls was at its lowest slump in the season.

Today, however, it is a newly organized team, going through practically the same changes as the Escanaba team, since the last defeat at the hands of Gladstone. At present the Falls aggregation is winning its games regularly, and now stands with the highest in the upper peninsula.

Another fact that makes one doubtful as to the outcome of the game, is the defeat they already suffered at Escanaba's hands which will make them doubly anxious to even up the score.

This week Manager Schram will send the team through the regular heavy practice, in order that Escanaba will again be able to show fans the excellent brand of baseball that has exhibited here last Sunday by them.

EDWARD YOCKEY PLANS CLEAN-UP WHEN ELECTED

Declares There Will Be No Whitewashing of Blackmailers.

The following from the Milwaukee Sentinel, referring to Edward Yockey a former Escanaba boy and a brother of Mrs. H. J. Defnet will be read with interest. Mr. Yockey is a candidate for District Attorney, an office which he has previously held and his many Escanaba friends hope that he is speaking with foreknowledge in the following utterance:

"Immediately after I take office, I will call a grand jury and there won't be any whitewashing either," said Edward Yockey to the meeting of work quarters Saturday night.

"It is about time that we began to clean house. I want to serve notice now that the blackmailers will be taken care of first. We are not going to allow extortion and money grafting methods to be practiced on our citizens and put Milwaukee in the same class as New York and Chicago.

"I hear there is plenty of work to be done and you know me well enough to be confident that it will be thoroughly and quickly handled."

Organization of the Yockey citizens' committee was perfected with Charles Eis as secretary and Henry H. Bostelstab as treasurer.

FOURTH OF JULY COMMITTEE MAKES FINANCIAL REPORT

More Than $300 Left On Hand As Nucleus for Further Celebrations in This City.

A most interesting report of receipts and expenditures incident to Escanaba's 4th of July celebration was today submitted to the Chamber of Commerce directors by the 4th of July committee of which F. E. Houston was chairman.

The report follows: "At the final meeting of the committee held Monday, July 24th, it was unanimously recommended that the surplus be left in the custody of a committee consisting of Herman Gerner and Miles Thomas of the Chamber of Commerce and Harry St. Louis and W. E. Thomas of the American Legion, with the understanding that any bill which might yet be outstanding were to be paid from said fund, and that the balance be placed in deposit in a savings account."

The committee was also authorized to decide for what purpose said fund is to be used in the future, the general understanding being that it is to be used for purposes in connection with celebration. This recommendation was made after due deliberation on the part of the committee.

"Respectfully submitted," F. E. HOUSTON, Chairman Fourth of July Committee

Bridge Washing Out and Would Not Have Been Noticed Had Not Boy Used Head.

Fond du Lac, Wis., Aug. 8.—Only the quick wit and presence of mind of an unknown hero, a farmer boy, saved the speeding Chicago & Northwestern passenger train, carrying many passengers to summer homes at Green Lake, Wis., from going into a deep creek early today.

The big train was drawing near when the boy, who had noticed the washing away of the bridge on the right of way, flagged the train. He then started away, declaring that he "had a date with his girl and had to hurry." Before anyone could secure his name, he had disappeared.

Members of the Powers Grange and Powers business men were busy yesterday getting ready for the annual Regional Grange convention that will be held at Powers today. Between 1000 and 1500 strangers are expected to attend the meeting today, a number which will far surpass any former record. Escanaba contributed more than a dozen men to the attendance.

Powers was fortunate enough to obtain the meeting a year ago, but so well did they display their hospitality that officers of the organization voted to again hold the meeting in Powers this year.

The program that has been arranged by the reception committee will be rendered in Powers Park and the Powers ball. The committee met with much success in planning the program being fortunate to procure the services of Sherman J. Lowell, master of the national grange, and George E. Bishop, secretary manager of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau.

The following is the program that will be carried out today: 1:00 o'clock—Ball game at park. Cleveland Grangers baseball league nominees vs. Iron counties. 2:00 o'clock—Public program. Mrs. C. H. Anderson, deputy state master, presiding. Community Singing—Led by Eustace Grange team.

Address—George E. Bishop, Mayquette, Mich., secretary manager of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau.

Address—Sherman J. Lowell, Fredonia, N. Y., master National Grange. Interspersed with music and short address by Powers residents. 7:00 o'clock—A short literary program, followed by moving pictures at the Powers hall.

91 STUDENTS END COACHING COURSE GIVEN BY YOST

Said to Have Been Most Successful Experiment Ever Attempted at State University.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Aug. 3.—With the recent conclusion of the University of Michigan's first summer school for coaches 91 students completed their courses in what was termed the most successful experiment ever tried out at the Wolverine institution.

Fielding H. Yost, director of intercollegiate athletics headed the coaching school. He was assisted by Kevin Fitzpatrick, head track coach of Princeton; George Little, recently appointed as assistant to Yost and members of the Michigan squad of coaches including Dr. George A. May, gymnastic instructor; Stephen J. Farrell, track coach; Edwin J. Mather, basketball coach; Rev. L. Fisher, baseball coach; Archie Hahn, track coach and trainer; Elmer D. Mitchell, intramural director; Elton E. Weiman, football coach and William J. Fallon, assistant trainer.

The practical side of coaching which was introduced into the course by Coach Yost, is responsible for the success of the Michigan school according to several coaches of prep schools and colleges who had attended other coaching schools in the country before coming here.

"I have learned more about real coaching this summer than I ever knew before," said one coach of a small college in a nearby state. "The actual demonstrations have taught me more than theoretical courses ever could do."

Twenty states and one province of Canada were represented at the coaching school and plans are already being made for the continuation of the course next summer when university credit will be given for work taken here.

SARAZEN TELLS GOLFERS THINGS ABOUT CLUBS

LITTLE GENE Sarazen, the new American champion and at the present time the King of the American links by right of conquest is an enthusiastic chap and has a great head on his shoulders for golf.

Gene was presented with four drivers of a well known make recently and was trying his best to discover which one was the best. At last he solved it. "This one here will send that little pill down the course straight as an arrow. Feel this club head. There is no torsion in it to speak of and one cannot go very far wrong with a club like this. Torsion is the big thing to guard against in golf. If you have a club with too much torsion in it, look out for trouble. The first blow will find the ball sliding off to the right, not exactly a slice, but a pushed out shot the result of the shaft twisting."

"Hard hitting," continued Sarazen "need fear a club with torsion more than a soft hitter because the harder the ball is hit the more likely it is to test the club to its capacity. The club head may turn over so little yet be enough to spoil many a well intended shot.

The steel shaft has great merit in the fact that there is no torsion whatsoever in the head and shaft. It is the same as if it were one piece of solid steel. A club of this kind cannot help but make a valuable addition to the clubby bag and improve one's game.

If a golfer could get no more torsion he would do well to use the club for the simple reason that it will send the ball in a straighter line. The ball will travel exactly where it is aimed and this is something well worth giving consideration.

"PAL" BROWN LEAVES RING TO WHIP FARM

Pal Brown, the star player of five years ago, has developed his old training camp site on a homestead near here into a thriving farm. Staked it with cows, pigs and poultry to the extent he is considered back into running for fame, not as much as a pull-out, but as a sure-enough, honest-to-goodness, farmer.

At a light-weight, Pal Brown faced and defeated one of the classiest pounders in this country and Australia. The record book shows Brown was at his best from 1920 to 1924.

It was in the spring of 1925 that Brown was injured in a motorcycle crash, which forced him to give up boxing.

With a wife and family to support, Brown went to work just as soon as he left the hospital. He liked the idea so he took up a special course. The former pugilist studied his athletic course, while clearing land on the homestead. When the war came he was appointed an athletic director and recreational supervisor at Fort Snelling, Minn.

Returning to Hibbing after two years, Brown was given a similar appointment with the Hibbing village schools. Two years ago Brown gave up his special work and devoted all of his time to his home-stead.

Now "Pal" has a herd of twenty milk cows, some blooded cattle, a collection of prize hogs and several pens of full blooded poultry.

With his wife and five youngsters, "Pal" assisted by a farm hand, is milking cows, raising hay and cultivating crops. This year's crop will be sufficient to feed the livestock this winter, while from the proceeds of the dairy "Pal" expects to finance numerous improvements for his farm.

Brown's farm consists of 120 acres. He has rented an adjoining eighty acres for pasture. Twenty acres of his farm have been cleared and are under cultivation this year. By next spring "Pal" hopes to have twice that much cleared. Brown has already harvested forty-five tons of hay and twenty tons of root crops this year.

WAIVER ROUTE WILL CONTROL

So Opines Ban Johnson in Speaking of Inter-League Changes of Players.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 3.—The waiver route probably will be made the only one by which inter-league changes of players can be effected after the season is under way, according to Ban Johnson, league president, when the American League officials meet next December.

Mr. Johnson conferred with St. Louis American officials here yesterday. He declined to discuss the latest Boston New York deal.

While the subject of the conference here was not announced, it is known that Mr. Johnson discussed general matters in connection with arrangements for a winter's session, such as increasing the seating capacity at Sportsman's park. At present seats can be provided for 19,000, which approximately 1,000 seats could be added by building extensions.

The attendance record for the first year of American League games, Mr. Johnson said, had increased 15,000,000 or that for the same period of last year notwithstanding that the first month showed a considerable loss of attendance as compared with the first month of 1921.

N. Y. Boxing Body Rapped by Mayor

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 3.—In referring to a proposed bill between Johnny Kilbane and Pepper Martin for the feather-weight championship here this summer, Mayor Fred Kohler today took occasion to attack the New York boxing commission. The mayor rebuked his stand against professional boxing, saying: "From my viewpoint professional boxing is not a healthy condition right now. Complaints have reached me in reference to some 'raw stuff' pulled at Clevelands, while the acts of the New York State Boxing Commission in making and unmaking champions at its will has made a joke of the game."

Denies Whiskaway Is For Sale, But

WATERBURY, Vt., Aug. 3.—Harry Payne Whitney, owner of Whiskaway, declared today that reports he has sold the conqueror of Morich were without foundation.

Whiskaway has not been sold, nor is he for sale," Mr. Whitney said. Nevertheless Mr. Whitney admitted that he was considering an offer made by C. M. Clark, Montana sportsman and son of former Senator W. A. Clark, and would reach a decision with in a few days.

CROP CONDITION IS NOT FAVORABLE EARLY THIS MONTH

Reports from five states indicate that season has been subject to variations.

INDIANA POLLS, Ind., Aug. 3.—Weather conditions over Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Wisconsin were not very favorable during the latter part of July, but no serious damage has developed according to the semi-monthly crop condition report from the five states, issued by George C. Bryant, agricultural statistician for Indiana.

The report says little rainfall has occurred, except in a few localities. Livestock is reported in good condition, in nearly all sections, and the farm labor supply is said in general to be equal to the demand.

The following survey of crop conditions is contained in the report: Winter wheat and rye threshing has been completed in the southern part of the territory and is well advanced in the central and north parts. Yields and quality are variable in nearly all localities with the crop as a whole running about average. Marketings are very liberal. Spring wheat is slightly improved.

Oats and barley are all out. Threshing commenced with yields running from poor to fair, although a few localities are reporting some very good yield. As a whole the crop is far below average.

Corn continues to show good prospects but is in need of rain in most places. Earlier fields are all tassel-out but little firing reported.

Hay is practically completed. Yields averaged higher than usual. In most places the crop was quite weedy. Pastures are spotted but generally of little feed value. Clover seed average is much increased with credit on a above average.

Other truck and garden crop show a condition above average.

POLICE OF DETROIT ANSWER QUESTION EVERY 30 SECONDS

Information Booth Has Some Hard Nuts to Crack and Officers Sometimes Think They're Kicked.

(By Associated Press)
DETROIT Aug. 8.—A question answered every thirty seconds. That is the record of J. Wesley Brown and Louis B. Hawkins, members of the Detroit traffic squad, who are in charge of the information booth recently established by the police department in Campus Martius.

The booth is situated in the heart of the business district where thousands pass hourly. It was an innovation launched by Alfred Bartz, lieutenant of police, and Harry H. Hawkins, inspector, during the time it has been made of the facilities it offers for information has justified the belief of the police officials that there was need for such an agency to direct the public.

An average days work is 1,000 questions, according to Brown and Hawkins, who say that prior to the rail strike, when travel was heavy, and the city filled with visitors this number mounted to 1,100 and 1,500 queries daily.

Cover Everything
There is no limit to the range they cover, according to the officers, who work in shifts from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. daily.

A woman drops by and asks where she can purchase a hat. She leaves with the information. Someone else seeks the location of the divorce court. Brown or Hawkins sends them on their way.

Another visitor has a complaint to file about her neighbors. The sight of the uniform assures her she has come to the right place, but the officers are forced to wash their hands of that case and direct her to headquarters.

In general however, the requests are for directions and the long service Brown and Hawkins have seen on the traffic squad makes it possible for them to answer almost instantly, with out having recourse to the various guides directories and other information containers kept in the booth.

Sometimes the questions lead the officers to believe they are being victimized by practical jokers, but they say it doesn't always work out that way.

Here's Queer One
They tell of an instance where a man asked the longitude and latitude of Campus Martius. Pressed as to his reason for wanting this information the questioner explained he was a sailor, and desired to make a sun dial for his nephew. The data was necessary for the work he planned, he said so a telephone call to Norman E. Conger in charge of the government weather bureau sent the seaman satisfied on his way.

When another man came by however, and asked why the three top floors of the First National Bank Building were colored differently than the rest of the structures the best Brown could do for him was "Oh, probably because they like it that way."

Besides the information features, the booth is likewise used as a distributing point for "safety first" literature from the police department.

A box on the booth also carries a sign inviting the public to deposit suggestions for safety rules.

"Let's Make Escanaba A Better City"

NOT MORE BUT LESS LENIENCY.

The renewal of agitation in Europe on the subject of international debt cancellation caused by publication of the Balfour note is causing a little ripple in Washington because the note is being somewhat generally construed, though we think without real cause, as a communication aimed at, though not sent to the American government. However there is not the slightest likelihood that what the Earl of Balfour has said regarding the attitude of the United States is going to have any effect on the financial policies of this country. America is no hard creditor, but it has fully and definitely decided that it will decline to wipe off the debts due from European nations. It does not look upon such a procedure as good business, good sense or real kindness. And in this connection a statement made a few days ago by Frank A. Vanderlip, still following up his studies of European finance seems pertinent.

"Europe's troubles do not lie in her indebtedness to America," said Mr. Vanderlip. "Europe is not giving that obligation the slightest serious thought. The matter hasn't even a psychological weight as no nation is paying even the interest due the United States."

In fact, the question before this country is not whether we ought to be increasingly lenient with old world debtors, but whether in view of the very carefree forgetfulness of some of them—this does not apply to Great Britain—Washington ought not to begin to exercise a little more vigor in looking after the nation's interests, and at least arrive at some definite and final understanding regarding refunding and interest payments. Some moves have been made in this direction, and in due time a conference will be held, but Europe, that is to say continental Europe, evidently has gained the impression that America is not very much in earnest.

"MISS ALICE" WINS.

The success of Miss Alice Robertson, member from Oklahoma in the congressional primary, has a general interest of all proportion to its actual national importance. The country at large has come to know and like "Miss Alice." It respects her as a woman of sense, and as a competent and conscientious member of congress. There would have been a great deal of disappointment if the voters of her own party had turned her down at the end of her first term. There will be more disappointment if she fails of election in November.

Additional interest surrounds the outcome of "Miss Alice's" run in the primary also because of the nature of a part of the opposition she encounters. Until suffrage for women became a national institution, "Miss Alice" did not favor it. She objected to it. Nor is she now identified with any woman's party. On the contrary she has the bitter enmity of the leaders in the feminist political movement.

The National Woman's party has made a "dead set" at her and recently it announced openly its determination to "get her." It tried to do so in the primary campaign, but the attack seems to have been a complete failure, and the inability of the feminists to make any appreciable impression in the Oklahoma contest is exceedingly interesting as a possible indication of the actual influence of this faction in the country as a whole.

A PEACE MOVEMENT.

A delegation which includes the lord mayor of Cork is new in Dublin to initiate a new movement in favor of peace in Ireland, but it is admitted that there is little expectation of peace upon any other terms than complete surrender of the republican army.

Desirable as peace is, it is difficult to see how the Free State authorities could stop fighting upon any other terms. They made a liberal compromise with the republicans before election, and won what ought to have been a decisive victory at the polls. All of the fighting since that time has been part of an effort on one side to repudiate the results of the election that both sides agree to. Making terms with an enemy of that sort is not hopeful business and, even if the republican leaders were less blameworthy, the victorious side in the fighting would still be entitled to insist upon all the fruits of victory.

One of the things needful for peace in Ireland is that the government shall control the only army and all of the arms and military supplies in the country. At present the Free State army is in a fair way to establish supremacy upon that basis, and notwithstanding the destructive tactics of the retreating republicans the cost of triumph is likely to be less harmful to Ireland than an indecisive peace.

PLATINUM AND MONEY.

A message from Europe, which may be true and may not, says that the soviet government has for a long time been accumulating platinum with a view to coining it. Russia produces nearly all of the platinum mined in the world and, if there were enough of it, that metal might make a desirable basis for a hard money system. It has most of the admirable qualities that make gold the world's money metal and though it lacks that metal's universal demand, its use would certainly improve the present Russian system.

But a resort by Russia to platinum as a basic money metal would be hopeless nevertheless because if Russia cornered the world's supply and continued to do so for the next hundred years, it would still have much less in value of platinum than the United States has in gold. In a good year at ordinary prices the total output of platinum is worth about $10,000,000. Russia needs a billion dollars worth of gold upon which to rest a really adequate and sound monetary system.

Did that judge who ruled that poker is a game of skill ever get into a game with a chap who was just learning?

Proud Fire Horse, Hitched to Garbage Wagon, Takes Life

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, D. C., (By Associated Press)—Honorable service as a fire horse rewarded with a job of hauling a garbage wagon broke the heart of old Jack Gallup. He committed suicide in front of a fire-house and his fireman friend says he did it deliberately.

Old Jack for years was one of three plump, sleek boys who whirled a streamer to every big fire in Washington. But the motor finally got old Jack and his pet, and they went the way of thousands of others in an age of progress.

A week ago there were no soot choked down and some tears brushed away among the firemen when Jack and his mates were led away. Jack on Friday turned up hauling an old, smelly, filthy garbage wagon. The day was hot and the job was nasty and the disgrace was worst of all. Nobody knows what Jack might have said to his mate but anyway, he took the bit in his teeth and bolted dragging his teammate with him and heading for the nearest engine house. He galloped full tilt into the brick wall head on and crumpled down in a heap.

Nobody could convince the firemen that Jack Gallup didn't deliberately take his life rather than end it hauling a garbage wagon.

Two Thousand Miles Of Macaroni Going To The Near East

(By Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—More than 2,000 miles of macaroni, enough to provide a meal for 20,000 children will be shipped to the orphans in the near east, it was announced today.

As a result of the recent appeal made by Dr. J. C. Curran, Associate-director of the Near East Relief and Surgeon-Commander U. S. N. before the National Macaroni Manufacturers' convention two Chicago manufacturers are sending a gift carload of macaroni, 20,000 pounds—to help solve the feeding problem of the Near East Relief which is called upon to feed more than 600,000 hungry mouths every day.

Twenty-five ship cargoes have been contributed by the United States to Near East Relief from June 11, 1921 to May 25, 1922.

WILL CART VILLAGE AWAY ON A TRAILER

Cadillac Moves to Relieve the House Shortage.

CADILLAC, Mich., Aug. 8.—Plans are under way to begin Saturday the project of moving the abandoned village of Jennings 11 miles from Cadillac to this city in a specially built 29-ton trailer. The houses in Jennings are practically all vacant and there is an acute house shortage here.

The trailer was built by a truck manufacturing concern here. One house will be moved at a time. The trailer has been tried out with a load approximating the weight of a house. The road between Cadillac and Jennings is hilly and some trouble is expected in places where the roadway was built on swampy grounds. If the first house is moved without difficulty it is understood that contracts will be awarded immediately to move practically all of the other buildings in the village here.

Jennings was once a prosperous lumber town.

Pouring Concrete On Field House at the Michigan "U"

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Aug. 8.—Concrete and steel work for the new $200,000 field house at the University of Michigan is expected to be completed this fall, and the structure will be rushed to conclusion in the spring. Work of pouring concrete has started already and workmen are shortly to begin placing the large steel arches. The steel is being fabricated in Detroit.

The field house will be the most complete building of its kind in the country.

HOME COAL MINE Baffles Miners OF EXPERIENCE

Former Preacher Amazes Old Timers by Success of Venture Which Was Called "Crazy."

(By Associated Press) SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 8.—In the last few weeks persons living near the farm of Lewis P. Fisher, who a few years ago was pastor of the Christian church at Central marveled at the large output of the little family coal mine while no help was available but a "close-up" of operations at this mine, which is ten miles north of Springfield, would have revealed Mrs. Fisher and her twelve-year old son manning the top works firing the engine, pulling the hoisting levers, and weighing the coal, while the former preacher was below digging out the fuel.

Mr. Fisher's story is that of a man who after leaving his pulpit dug a coal mine directly with his own hands, and later offered his mine to the state of Illinois. Friends called his undertaking a "wild adventure." Coal operators told him it would cost $20,000 and neighbors told him plainly he was a fool. On the contrary, Mr. Fisher and his young son, with the occasional aid of a nephew, and with knowledge gleaned from a few library books performed virtually all the work himself at nominal cost.

Killed Dead Time Mr. Fisher retired from the ministry to live on a farm. As the winter of 1918 was a dull-time on the farm, he and his son went into the timber on his property and began to dig a hole six feet square. From an old threshing engine and from parts of a road grader he rigged up a hoisting machine. He bought additional equipment from the profits of his farming, for he had no other funds to invest. In 1920 he began to take out coal.

1921 he shut down recently he had been taking out fifty tons a day. The mine has a capacity of about 100 tons. Mr. Fisher has been using a force of ten men, but in order to get coal to miners he has operated the mine with the aid of his wife and son in the manner described above.

An automatic dump, Mr. Fisher's own invention greatly reduces labor. He built all the upper works himself. There is coal under the entire farm of 245 acres.

In formally offering his mine to the state, Mr. Fisher wrote Acting Governor Sterling that he was "at liberty to take this mine with its equipment and personnel of men and operate it upon any basis that will provide the state institutions with coal."

PRISONERS FACE MURDER CHARGE

Perry, Roberts Are Bound to Circuit Court With "Gypsy Bob."

MARQUETTE, Mich., Aug. 8.—Jasper Perry and Charles Roberts partners of Arthur "Gypsy Bob" Harper in the fatal assault made upon Fred C. Menhennett deputy warden at the time of the gear-riot at the Marquette branch prison December 11 have been bound over to circuit court to answer to charges of murder. This was the decision reached yesterday in the deputy warden's office at the prison. It was the second time since their solitary confinement that they have been permitted outside of their cell except when they were flogged.

Evidence showed that Harper and Roberts were armed with knives at the time of the assault but not Perry. It was proven that the three started the riot approaching from the rear to the front of the chapel. When Charles Anderson guard attempted to protect his warden "Gypsy Bob" ordered "Get anybody that interferes."

The scene of yesterday's hearing was in the room where the late warden made his stand for life for after managing to free himself of the attackers he rushed into the office and fell to the floor bearing his feet against the door to prevent further assault.

Those called to the stand to testify at the hearing were Dr. Harold D. Markham who attended the warden deputy warden and Arthur Menhennett after the encounter; Eugene Johnson former guard Arthur Menhennett son of the late deputy warden and himself the victim of an attack by Jasper Perry and George C. Jackson guard.

At a preliminary hearing last week "Gypsy Bob" waived examination and was then bound over to circuit court by Judge C. F. Burton of the municipal court who also conducted yesterday's session.

If convicted on this count Harper will be serving a triple murder charge as he was first committed to Jackson prison for murdering an aged store-keeper in Detroit. He was transferred to Marquette after killing a fellow inmate and former member of his Detroit gang, who had turned state's evidence at his first trial. Perry has a life sentence hanging over him now for a murder he committed. Roberts, youngest member of the trio is confined for a period of ten to twenty years for robbery while carrying weapons.

WORN NERVES

Nervous troubles, with backache, dizzy spells, queer pains and irregular kidneys, give reason to suspect kidney weakness and to try the remedy that has helped your neighbors. Ask your neighbors!

Mrs. Helena Millon, 621 South 16th St., Escanaba, says: "I was bothered with my kidneys all my life up until I used Doan's Kidney Pills. My back was weak and I couldn't bend on account of the severe pains which caught me. I had a steady ache in my back all the time and it made no difference whether I was working or standing still, my back hurt just the same. I was all worn out and always felt nervous, depressed and irritable. Black spots came before my eyes, blurring my sight and I suffered a great deal with headaches. My kidneys were weak and disordered, but Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended and I got some at the City Drug Store. They entirely relieved the trouble."

His leg and head were badly hurt. Although several tons of grain fell on him, the horses were unhurt. The accident was caused by the breaking of rotten beams in the floor. WILL ASK REPEAL OF BOUNTY LAWS

LANSING.—The first year that the state legislature authorized the killing of predatory animals and birds the payment of bounties amounted to $1,000. That was 40 years ago. Many other legislatures during the past 40 years has seen fit to place other birds and animals upon the list until last year the total paid was $312,316 of which the state paid 50 per cent and the county 50 per cent. In 1920 the total was only $101,125.01.

Fraudulent Methods
John Baird, state commissioner of conservation is strongly of the impression that predatory animals and birds are not increasing but the state and the counties are being defrauded of large sums. One of many instances that Mr. Baird's investigators found is a trapper in the upper peninsula who collected bounties for taking 3287 timber wolves claimed to have been trapped in a 10 square mile area. The wolf bounty, until repealed last year was $35.

Information comes to the Conservation Department that coyote pelts were being shipped from far western states where they were purchased for $3 to $10 to Michigan and worked off on Michigan bounty paying officials as pelts of Michigan wolves.

In one lower Michigan county the department reports that one man collected bounties for 1,500 woodchucks in 12 months.

Kent County Cases
Four men are now awaiting trial in Kent county on charges of fraudulently collecting bounties on woodchucks and crows. Investigations are being made into reports of the trappers in other counties.

All this is why Mr. Baird will ask the legislature, at next winter's session to repeal the woodchuck and crow bounty act, the last of the predatory animal and bird bounty acts on the statute books.
