TO MAKE THE VISITOR WELCOME.

In Minnesota there has been started a movement of interest to motorists everywhere which should find its way into other states. It has its origin in the pernicious effort of over-zealous officials who go to all sorts of extremes to make motorists conform with petty and oft-times silly local traffic ordinances.

For the present it is merely a defensive organization. Committees of residents of the communities interested have been organized to defend in court the luckless tourist who is charged with leaving offending, and to make sure that he is accorded fair treatment. It has been found in Minnesota, as it may be found elsewhere, that in too many cases the victims of these vexatious officials were tourists from outside of the state, and were thus the more easily penalized.

The Minnesotans happen to be doing what citizens in every forward-looking state should be doing—they are trying to make welcome whoever cares to pay the state a visit. They feel that in doing this they are doing something not only for their respective communities, but for the whole state as well. And finding themselves hampered in this undertaking by local petty officers in certain communities, whose pernicious efforts keep tourists away, these citizens have taken steps, not to curtail the power of the officer in question, but to make them less arbitrary in their use of it.

It is expected that eventually these efforts will result in giving us a uniform system of traffic regulations. Nothing could be more confusing than the great variety of traffic regulations which on one small community or another are thrust upon the tourist. There are some so reasonable that nothing but the most reckless disregard of common sense could result in a violation of them; and then there are others so palpably absurd that nothing but a sense of humor can save the motorist. Between these two extremes there is to be found every shade and variety of local ordinance and regulation.

If we mean to make our own state a mecca for tourists, we can do no better than to adopt throughout the entire state a uniform system of traffic regulation. A diversity of regulations leads easily into a disregard for all of them; by making them uniform and reasonable we can insist the more effectively on having them complied with.

A LIMIT ON DEBATE.

The senate has at last agreed upon a plan for bringing the tariff bill to a vote. Until August 11 debate will be limited to an hour on a paragraph and an hour on amendments. After that fifteen minutes will be the limit for speeches on amendments and 30 minutes for speeches on the bill. In addition to these steps for the conservation of time the senators have agreed that there shall be no speaking on any subject except the bill unless unanimous consent to go outside is granted.

For month after month the tariff bill has been the business before the senate but with wearisome insistence the senators have regarded the state of the wide world as their field. Banking, agriculture, diplomacy, the civil service, prohibition and above all politics, have been dragged in day after day, first one senator and then another taking the floor to deliver a stump speech, while the real business of the senate waited and the honorable members harranged empty chairs.

It is impossible at this late date to pass the tariff bill and set it at work in time to give the people an object lesson in its effects before election. To that extent the senate's determination to devote itself exclusively to the work in hand comes too late but, at any rate, in deciding to shut down upon random talk when there is business to be done the senate asserts a principle which ought to be applied more frequently.

NEWS FROM PARIS.

All the way from Paris comes the news that an American lady who has been rummaging around in ancient documents has discovered a forgotten agreement between France and this country made at the time of the Louisiana purchase which provides that it shall be perpetually lawful for France to send its wines and spirits into the territory conveyed to the United States.

If this should prove true there will be great joy in New Orleans, St. Louis, and other points all the way up to the headwaters of the Missouri, but an examination of the treaties between the two countries give rise to a chilling doubt. The treaty of 1803, under which Louisiana was sold, says nothing about brews or vintages. The only discoverable agreement with France on that subject was negotiated in 1851 when the United States was trying to reach terms of settlement with France upon various personal claims for damages growing out of the Napoleonic wars.

Freedom of debate is desirable but unlimited license to talk about anything within the range of human understanding is not freedom of debate. In the senate it results in parliamentary anarchy tempered by senatorial forbearance.

The new automobile record for 50 miles is 26 minutes and while that is an admirable achievement motorists should remember that there is no occasion for trying to duplicate it on Ludington street.

A Chicago scientist says that the Great Lakes region is tipping up toward the south, but the people will not begin to roll that way until cold weather sets in.

The Washington Star says that Senator Lodge wears the best looking shirts of any man in the senate, and, moreover, he keeps it on.

There certainly is a big difference between talking bravely and acting courageously.

SEAPLANE FOR FLIGHT TO RIO TO BE CHRISTENED BY DAUGHTERS OF NAVAL AVIATORS

Left, little Miss Adelaide Martins; right, Miss Shirley Tribben, the two children who on August 15th at the Columbia Yacht Club will christen the new flying boat "Sampayo Correia" in which Lt. Comdr. E. Pinto Martins, of the Brazilian Naval air forces, and Lt. Walter Hinton, U. S. N., will fly from New York to Rio de Janeiro to attend the Brazilian Centennial Celebration. Adelaide is the daughter of Lt. Comdr. Martins while little Shirley is the daughter of Lt. Tribben of the U. S. Navy air forces. They are both 2 years and 6 months old.

To keep the American navy up to the 50,000 men authorized under the naval appropriation bill, 65,000 men will have to enlist or reenlist during the coming year. In the American army, recruiting has stopped in the coast artillery corps, medical corps, chemical warfare service, quartermaster corps and finance department. The United States navy is converting two battle cruisers into aeroplane carriers. The deck of each ship, with a flying space of two acres, will accommodate 350 planes of the largest type, exclusive of the space for refueling machines.

OFFER OF $100 FOR HUSBAND HAS NO TAKER

Ellis Island Beauty Convinced American Chivalry Weakening.

(By Associated Press) NEW YORK Aug. 11—Miss Rose Poch whose name according to the rules pulchritude ought to be peach was residing temporarily on Ellis Island Tuesday fairly convinced that American chivalry is not what it used to be. Miss Poch offered $100 for a young American husband, after being detained thru some technicality in the immigration laws, and not a man stepped forward. Even the bachelors among the ship news reporters who heard the offer muttered something about the high cost of living and turned away. Miss Poch is a native of Germany but had lived in this country for ten years. She was manager of the dining room at the Hotel Pennsylvania. Her mother in Germany became ill and Miss Poch went back to visit her. She was gone six months. On her return she was detained by immigration authorities because she had not taken out first citizenship papers or some such technicality. They said if she had an American husband that would make her an American and she could enter without question. Hence the offer. Sunday, Feb. 15, 1880, Dr. Alexander Graham Bell is said to have received the first words ever spoken over a wireless phone. The words were heralded by a flash of light through his laboratory window. The words were, "Mr. Bell, Mr. Bell, if you hear me, come to the window and wave your hat!" Charles Sumner Taintor was the man who spoke those words. He was on the top of the Franklin school, 13th and K streets, N. W., Washington. Mr. Bell was in his laboratory on L street, between 13th and 14th, on the north side of the street. The instrument devised by Dr. Bell, by which, he says, for the first time words were transmitted beyond the power of the human voice and without the use of wires for the first time, might have been called a lightphone, was at both at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition and the World's Fair displayed as the radiophone, and without question projected speech on electromagnetic waves, though not, of course, by means of high frequencies or a modern tuned circuit. MARQUETTE TEAM HEADED FOR ROCKS UNLESS RESCUED

Six Rainy Sunday Put Crimp in Finances and Boosters Must save the Pastime. MARQUETTE, Mich., Aug. 11—The Marquette baseball association is fighting for its life in its last financial trench. The gate receipts from the game Sunday with Calumet, the "booster" game, will tell whether Marquette will have a baseball team after that day or not. If Marquette fans turn out in large numbers large enough to put a considerable number of shovels in the baseball association's pocket—all will be well and the Marquette team will be held together through the season and will play the rest of its scheduled game. If Sunday's crowd is not of the bumper variety, the Marquette-baseball organization will be gone goose. In the popular vernacular, there will be "nothing doing." Heavy Deficit That is the situation as it was outlined at the city hall last evening by officials of the baseball association at a meeting of fans. The treasurer's books were opened and figures exhibited to show that the association has a deficit of several hundred dollars, not because Marquette fans have failed to support the team but because rain has prevented the playing of the last six Sunday games on the Marquette schedule. Most of those games were counted among the important drawing cards of the year, but each time the weather man decreed that a game was off, the deficit of the baseball association was made larger. Zero Hour Strikes Now the zero hour is at hand. Marquette must go over the top Sunday when Calumet plays here, or must retreat in disorder with thoughts of what might have been. An effort is being made by the management of the Calumet baseball team to secure the services of Bob Zryd for the Sunday game and, if successful, Marquette will face a twirler who has thrown several games this season for the Goodmanites. Crittenden is due to take the mound and with favorable weather, both twirlers should be at their best, affording fans a pitching duel in the booster game of the season.

APPEAL TO THE SPIRIT OF THE NATION IS CRY

Vice President Coolidge Talks About Enforcement of Law. (By Associated Press) SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 11—Vice President Coolidge, addressing the American Bar Association here tonight declared, "It is time to supplement the appeal to law which is limited with an appeal to the spirit of the people, which is unlimited." "No reliance upon the national character has ever been betrayed," the vice president asserted. "But our countrymen must remember that they have and can have no dependence save themselves. Our institutions are their institutions. Our government is their government. Our laws are their laws. It is for them to enforce, support and obey. If in this they fail, there are none who can succeed." Asserting that the Supreme Court "has stood as the guardian and protector of our form of government, the guarantee of the perpetuity of the constitution, and above all the great champion of the freedom and liberty of the people," Mr. Coolidge, referring to the proposal to give congress power to make valid by reenactment a law declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court declared: "Such a provision would make the congress finally supreme. In the last resort its powers practically would be unlimited. This would be to do away with the great main principle of our written constitution which regards the people as sovereign and the government as their agent, and would tend to make the legislative body sovereign and the people its subjects. It would to an extent, substitute for the will of the people, substitute for the will of the people definitely and permanently expressed in their written constitution the changing and uncertain will of the congress. That would radically alter our form of government and take from it its chief guarantee of freedom." Huge Hail Store Cripples Carrier (By Associated Press) SAGINAW, Aug. 11—George W. Mill brood mail carrier was struck on the knee by a big hailstone during the hail storm Monday and so seriously crippled he was unable to walk.

BELDING CARPENTER ADMITS FIRING HOUSE

PONTIAC, Aug. 11—W. B. Stuart Belding carpenter in circuit court late Wednesday pleaded guilty to a charge of setting fire to a house in which he owns an equity. He was arrested after investigation by firemen showed a quantity of oil soaked papers in the place and that insurance had been taken on furniture there although the house was empty. The court deferred sentence. WOULD LIMIT MANUFACTURE OF FIRE ARMS American Bar Association Told Pistol Is Deadliest Weapon. SAN FRANCISCO Cal., Aug. 11—Declaring that the pistol "serves no useful purpose in the community today the committee on law enforcement included in its recommendations submitted to the American Bar Association tonight one for the prohibition of the manufacture and sale of pistols, and of cartridges or ammunition designed to be used in them, "save as such manufacture shall be necessary for governmental and official use under proper legal regulation and control." "We find that more than ninety per cent of the crimes in this country are committed by the use of pistols," continued the report of the committee of which Judge William B. Swaney of Chattanooga, Tenn., was chairman. "We find that the laws prohibiting the carrying of firearms or deadly weapons are ineffective in that they do not work to the benefit of the criminal rather than the law-abiding citizen." "Deliberate murder, burglary and robbery will seldom be attempted unless the criminal is armed. In European countries the criminals, as a rule are not armed." "On the other hand, in crimes which indicate the dishonesty of the people such as larceny, extortion, counterfeiting, forgery and other crimes of swindling a comparison of conditions demonstrate that the morals of this country are better than in any other of the large countries of the world." "It is our united opinion that the means provided in the United States for coping with crimes and criminals are today neither adequate nor efficient."

STOLEN SAFE FOUND NEAR MT. CLEMENS

$150 Had Been Removed From 500-Pound Strong Box. A safe weighing 500 pounds stolen Sunday night from the near-beer saloon of Frank Blank 9009 Van Dyke Avenue was discovered Tuesday in a ditch on Tower Hill road seven miles from Mt. Clemens. It had been blown open. Blank in reporting the theft said the safe contained $150 in cash and valuable papers. The heavy steel door had been ripped from its hinges by a heavy charge of explosives. Charred papers were found in the safe as well as small articles of jewelry. Residents nearby heard no sounds of an explosion they told the authorities. Tracks in the soft road indicated that the safe had been hauled to the place where it was found on an automobile track.
